Fall

Sunshine for a few days and then rain, bewildered freshmen registering for the first time and adjusting to a new living situation, seniors realizing there isn't much time left, the longest term of the year.
Fall term 1971 . . .

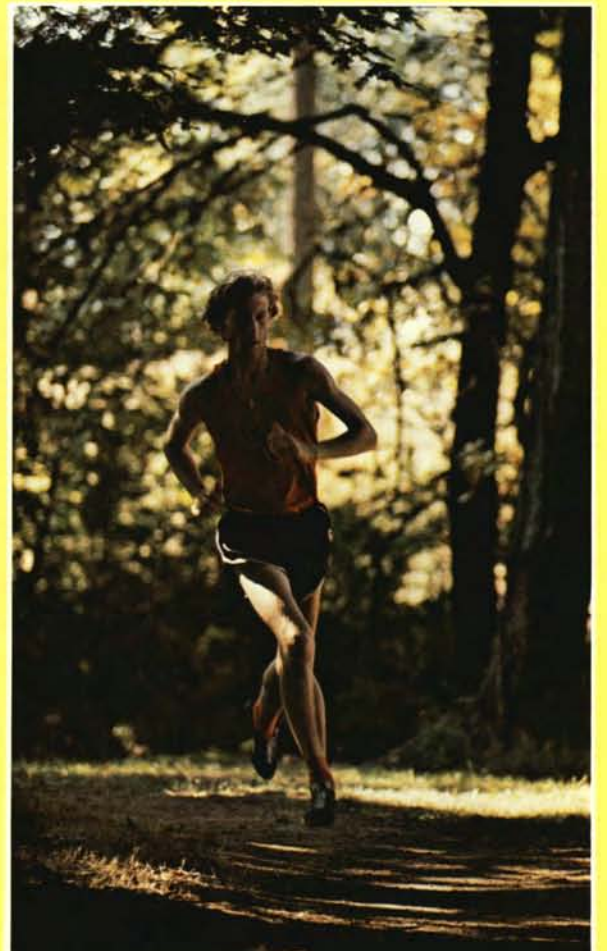

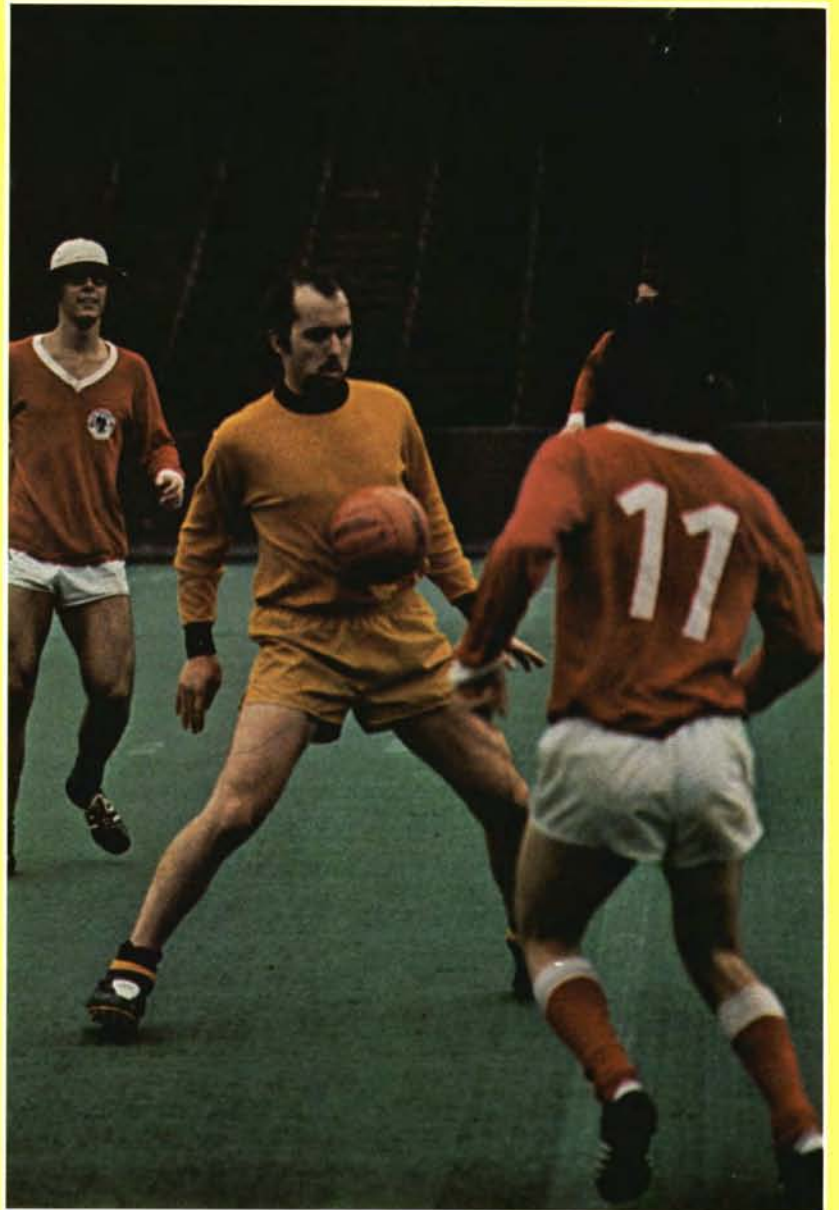

Greek rush begins and for the freshman it means constant smiles and tired feet. When the week is over—zap—50 new brothers or sisters.

Fall Sports

Fall term sports at OSU, consisting of football, cross country, and soccer, were disappointing in 1971, but there were some highlights.

Oregon State's football team suffered its first losing season under the tutelage of Dee Andros, finishing at 5-6. The "big play" killed the Beavers all year as they lost close games to California, Stanford, and Arizona after seemingly putting the contest away. But the big one, the Civil War played against arch-rival Oregon, gave the Orange and Black gridders their chance to salvage some lost pride and they made the most of the situation winning 30-29 in one of the hardest fought battles in the old series.

The cross country team had to compete without its top runner, All-American Keith Munson who had to be red-shirted, but the team managed to come in fifth place in the Pac-8 and third in the tough Northern Division.

The Oregon State soccer team had a successful season finishing with a winning record.

Homecoming

Before a rain soaked Homecoming crowd the Beavers dominated the football game with a 21-14 victory over the Washington State Cougars.

Sharon Glennon, a junior in education, was crowned OSU's Homecoming Queen at half-time. The event was seen by millions via ABC Regional Game of the Week cameras. Homecoming ended with a concert by the Temptations. A damn good concert. . . .

The Memorial Union

Something old . . . . . every year, twice a year, the blood drive comes to OSU. Every year, twice a year, frat men give blood to prove their manhood, the ROTC guys because they have to, and some simply out of sheer morbid curiosity. Every year twice a year.

And something new . . . . . for those not interested in bloodshed, the student organized and operated draft counselling center.

Winter

As the skies darken, there is hope of snow, but the rain comes as expected. With the change of weather so goes the atmosphere; campus life turns to the indoors and with it go the girl watchers until spring.
Winter term 1972 . . .

Skiing; broken legs, slush and ice, hot spiced wine,
a fireplace and friends.

The Student Health Center

May I see your ID card please? The pharmacy is down the hall, through the door on the right and down the stairs. To some students the Student Health Center is a joke because of the red tape involved and the long waiting. But once you get through the hassels and into the doctor's office the care is excellent and inexpensive. Many students use the facilities, especially this winter due to the flu epidemic. On the first day of the epidemic 541 patients were treated and 247 prescriptions filled. Instead of going to the commons to meet with friends, kids would go to the infirmary to visit.

The Student Health Center offers various services including out patient care in the general clinic, after hours emergency care, physical therapy, a birth control clinic, a pharmacy, psychiatric counseling and hospitalization.

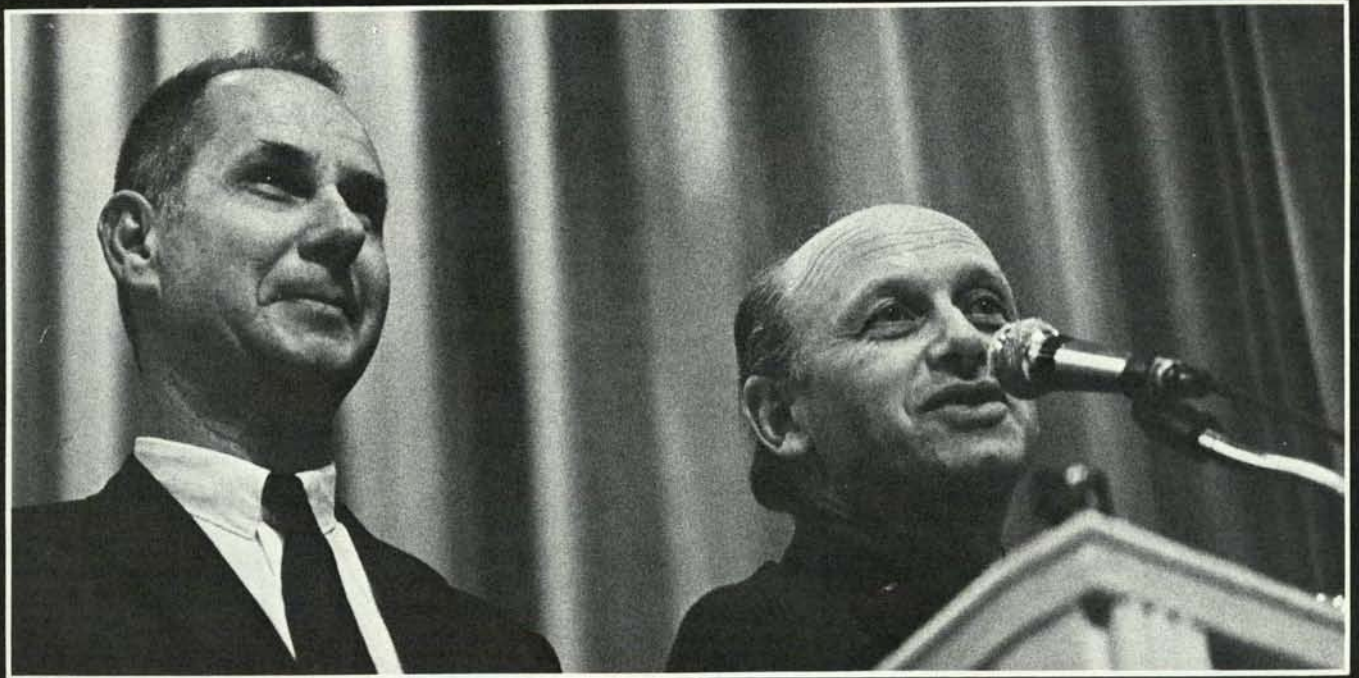

The birth control clinic was started last year as an experiment, but has become a regular service in the infirmary. A gynecologist is available two days a week to examine patients, offer counselling on birth control methods and prescribe the pill or other birth control devices.

Last year the Student Health Center treated 69,378 patients in the daily clinic and filled 29,216 prescriptions. Since many people think the infirmary is a joke, where have all the people been coming from?

Tragedy on Campus: a Coed's Death

History took on a gruesome aspect at Oregon State University during 1972. For the first time in the school's 105 years of existence, a student was murdered in a residence hall.

She was Nancy Diane Wyckoff, an 18-year-old computer science major from Glendale, California, and her death on February 8 touched off a wave of fear never before witnessed at OSU.

The stabbing death of Miss Wyckoff in her third floor room in Poling Hall followed two other assaults the preceding week. One girl was attacked in the basement snack area of Cauthorn Hall. The other was assaulted as she walked toward Sackett Hall. Women students locked their doors, some of them for the first time since they had come to OSU. But men seemed safe, until the night following the murder. A 20-year-old freshman reported being attacked while standing on the Weatherford Hall veranda. He said a man tried to strangle him, but he later admitted the wounds on his neck were self-inflicted.

Living group males offered escort services, and by dialing 754-3661 students could be connected with the Rumor Control Center which was put into operation to confirm or deny reports concerning the investigation. University President Robert R. MacVicar imposed strict security measures throughout the campus. All dorms were locked and only those students with sufficient identification were admitted. There was a 10:30 p.m. curfew for all people on campus. An investigation center was set up in Gill Coliseum where police coordinated the search for the murderer.

Nancy Diane Wyckoff.

But on February 16, eight days after the murder, another girl reported an assault. This turned out to be another hoax, she admitted, and investigators turned their efforts toward solving the murder and the confirmed attacks on the two coeds earlier. A reward was offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for Miss Wyckoff's death.

Y-Round Table: Student Involvement

Established on the Oregon State campus in 1892, Y-Round Table draws more than 550 student volunteers annually.

This fall a pilot program was established involving senior citizens who reside at Samaritan Village. Students read to the residents and organized a song night for all in the village to participate. Another new service of the organization was an abortion information and referral phone. Volunteers provided professional and legal information as well as personal counseling numbers.

Student volunteers help teach swimming to either physically handicapped or mentally retarded children at the local YMCA pool.

These and other activities sponsored by Y-Round Table give students an opportunity to become involved while helping someone else.

Mrs. Judith Dale, executive director for Y-Round Table.

Dad's Weekend

If you were on campus the weekend of February 19, you might have seen the older version of your best buddy. Fathers enmassed on the OSU campus to view the antics of the younger generation and as the weekend wore on they might have found themselves getting caught up in the activities. Dads demonstrated their athletic prowess at the Marble Championships of the World, motorcycle races and a putting contest. Dee Andros, Jim Barratt and Ralph Miller gave helpful hints to Dads about athletics at a teach-in. The Dads could then use the new knowledge when they viewed the wrestling match and basketball games.

Living groups planned a variety of activities such as skits, keggers and luncheons. Corvallis restaurants and bars were filled with fathers, sons and daughters Saturday night. A pancake breakfast Sunday morning completed the organized activities for the weekend and many kids had to hit the books for mid-terms. But the welcome mat will be out again next year when papa's cane may stripe again.

Spring

Waterfights, sun, frisbies: spring brings the release of tensions with hurling water-balloons, bike rides to Avery Park, trips to the beach and impromptu softball games. Studying? What's that? The motto seems to be play now and pray for a lower curve. Spring term 1971 . . .

Rain, rain and more rain. This was the spring term we knew.

Students March for Peace

Approximately 2000 University students and community residents turned out Saturday, April 17, 1971, despite rainy weather, for a peace march through downtown Corvallis. Sponsored by the Corvallis Community Peace Coalition, the march coincided with peace ventures in San Francisco and other cities. Its purpose was to give people a legal and orderly way to express opposition to the Indo-China war.

Spring Sports

Outstanding individual performances and youth were the highlights of OSU's spring sports.

Scott Masingill was the standout performer during spring as he claimed the Pacific-8 championship in golf. Robert Reader was OSU's leader on the track team. Reader was rated as one of the top triple jumpers in the country, setting a new Pac-8 record in the process. Bernie Wagner, who fielded a predominately freshman and sophomore track team, saw future hopes brighten as his cindermen claimed seventh in the conference.

Freshmen and sophomores were also the key to Gene Tanselli's baseball team. The Beavers ended the season missing the Northern Division playoffs by one game. The Pac-8 tennis championships were held at Corvallis, bringing some of the best players in the nation to the campus. Again youth was the highpoint in capturing fifth place for Oregon State. The crew, under the direction of Karl Drlica gained hope for a promising future with a rook team that lost only one outing and saw the junior varsity team finish with a winning season.

Mom's Weekend

The weekend began with a concert and ended with sore feet and an empty pocketbook. Dionne Warwick gave an outstanding performance Friday night before a capacity crowd of 10,000 people at Gill Coliseum.

Saturday, mothers may have watched the turtle races, visited the fair in the MU quad, toured campus or trugged downtown on a shopping spree. Corvallis restaurants were packed Saturday night with mothers, daughters, sons and a few stragglng fathers. Entertainment Saturday night may have included the IFC sing, a tour of the Corvallis taverns or turning in early because of the exhausting day. For many moms Sunday morning was spent with tearfull farewells and handing out their last few dollars after a happy, but expensive weekend.

Outdoor Program Coordinates Outings

Students, faculty, staff or anyone from outside the University, are invited and encouraged to attend the Outdoor Program outings. The program exists to provide trips, ranging from skiing to camping and survival, every weekend. The program acts as a coordinating and advisory facility where people can go to set up trips and receive information about the wilderness. It is the easiest and cheapest way to enjoy the outdoors. As a member of the MU Programs Council, they receive funds to buy equipment and give workshops. The Outdoor Program, through recreation and education, seeks to help educate all on the critical necessity of conservation and preservation of our natural resources.

Celebration

Celebration, a musical fantasy by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, was the first show of the 1971-72 season. Jointly produced by the departments of speech communication and music, it treated in allegorical fashion the conflicts of youth and age, ecology and commercialism, simple faith and plastic cynicism. In dialogue, song, and dance it challenged the audience to re-examine its values and to celebrate life.

Delicate Balance

Delicate Balance, by Edward Albee, is distinguished by critical acclaim and having won the Pulitzer Prize in 1968. "Has all the quality of brilliantly corroding and lacerating wit that has marked Albee's previous work. But there is a sympathetic feeling for the embattled characters that represents an advance in the understanding of human inner-torment. It is a play of thoughtful depths of meaning written with not only the authors characteristic sharpness of humor, but also with the grace and style that gives his work its quality of literary distinction."

New York Post

"It is a beautiful play, easily Albee's best and most mature . . . probing, tantalizing comedy . . . Filled with humor and compassion and touched with poetry."

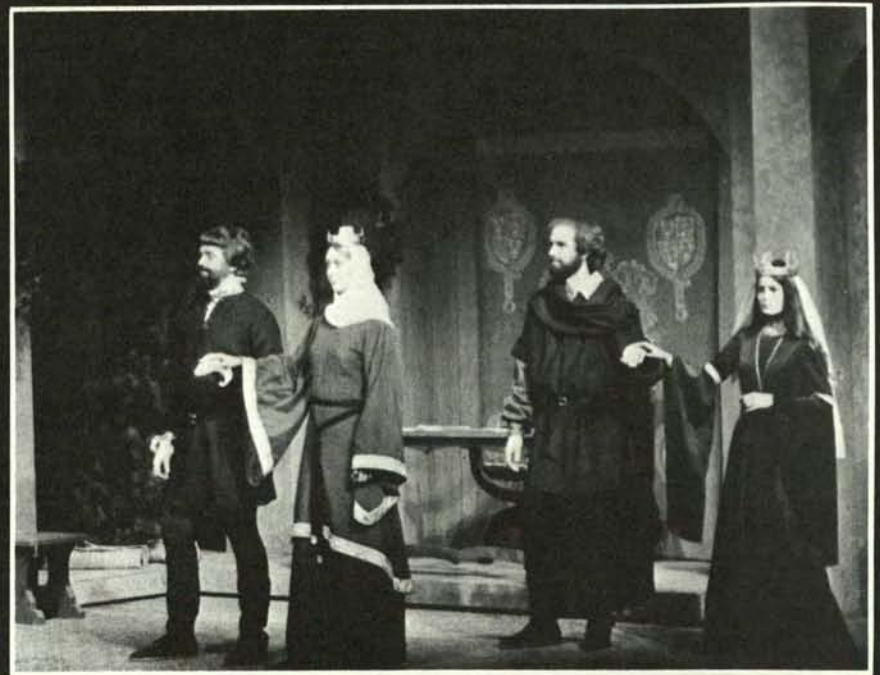

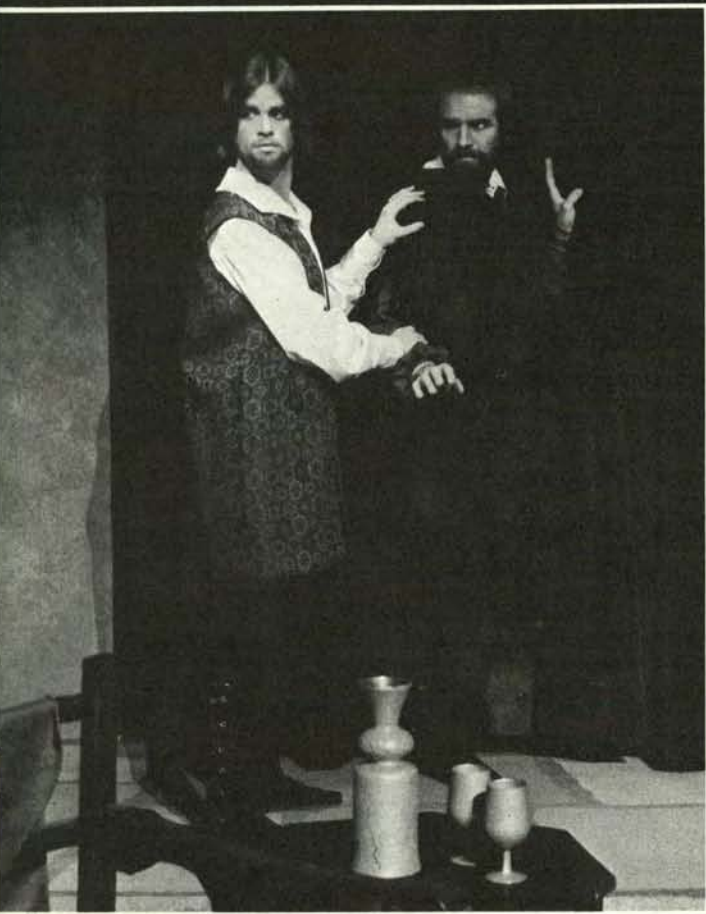

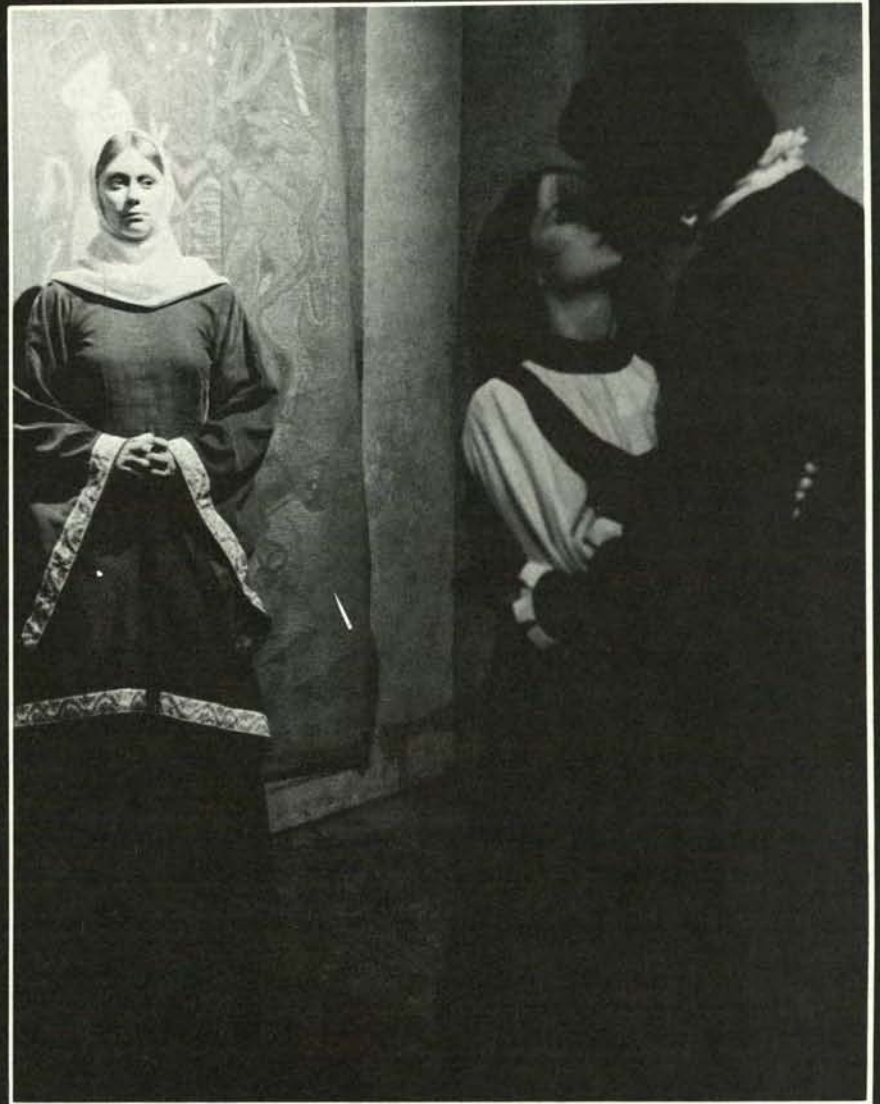

New York Daily News

Lion in Winter

"Lion in Winter, which was made into a successful film, proved to be one of the most intriguing and absorbing plays that I have directed at OSU. It was full of sparkling wit and had an excellent cast and proved to be a worthy presentation of the University Theatre."

Studio Theatre

The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife, by Anatole France, and The Doctor in Spite of Himself, by Moliere, were an interesting experiment in how two playwrights were able to develop quite different plays from the French novel Gargantua and Pantagruel, by Rabelais. These plays, directed by Mr. Everett S. Cortright, were the first in a series of studio theatre productions by Mitchell Playhouse staff.

Reynard the Fox

A children's play adapted and translated from French folklore by Arthur Fauquez. It shows the familiar animal characters being duped by the wily fox. His pranks get him into repeated crises, but he finally teaches all that one mustn't make judgments on appearance, and that hypocrisy never pays.

Our Town

Our Town is a simplified staging of the love-life story by Thornton Wilder. Our Town is a satire on life in three acts: daily life, love and marriage, and death. It could be any town USA, any time and has no scenery or curtain.

Madrigal Singers

Madrigal Singers, a music group that performs most of their vocal selections a cappella, this year gave performances for the Corvallis Women's Club and OSU Faculty Women's Club. Those fortunate enough to be in the Memorial Union during the evening of December 5, were treated to the resounding voices of Madrigal Singers performing selections for Christmas.

University Chorus

University Chorus, open to all students on a try out basis, performed for the Elk's Club annual memorial service in the fall. They also gave a Christmas concert, Ron Nelson's "The Christmas Story," with a brass ensemble and organ.

Marching Band

The OSU Marching Band has been acclaimed by critics across the land as one of the finest marching bands in the nation. Over 150 musicians strong, they mark a seasonal tradition at OSU with their thrilling music and thundering drums. Each half time show presented by the band is televised the following day throughout the Northwest.

This fall the entire band traveled to Seattle to perform at the game between Oregon State and University of Washington and were nationally televised when they performed at the OSU-WSU game in Corvallis.

Chorolaires

"We would all agree it was the greatest thing that could have happened to us."... "From morning to night, day to day, we were in a constant learning situation."... "The greatest experience of my life."... "We all have gained. Best of all, I can see the U.S. as the bright new penny it is and I thank all the stars that I live here... What a plus for education! An individual could not spend a summer in a more fruitful way. You have to come away with a priceless experience."... "Traveling with a musical group is a very good way to experience Europe, because it gives you so many opportunities for contact with the people you otherwise wouldn't have."... "The most valuable part of this trip, besides successful concerts, was the fellowship and intimacy the group developed. This group turned into a close family unit which will forever be a memorable experience."

Meeting of sophomore class officers.

Jim Wiggett, first vice president.

Much controversy recently has centered around the changing role of the university in today's society. Given that the university possesses an authority derived from the support and financing by the whole of the community, what therefore is to be expected of it in terms of supplying the needs of that community.

Traditionally the role of the university has been primarily one of education. More recently however, many major universities have begun to involve themselves in activities which stray farther and farther from that basic role. Stanford University is engaged in the building of low-rent housing, not even for students. Some students at the University of Michigan are now demanding that the University provide "free" health care to all the children of the community in which the University is located. Sometimes specific services are a by-product of the teaching and research function of the university—but are they to be thought of as part of its mission?

Many have charged that the university seems to have taken on a general willingness to perform any task anyone or any group in society at large imposes on it—that it is fast becoming a general purpose institution aimed primarily at the solution of social problems, the alleviation of misery and misfortune, the reformation of character and the transformation of culture. The university has lost a sense of its proper purpose—simply to educate.

Has the university lost sight of its primary function as educator? What is its role in today's society?

Public service is one of the important functions of a Land-Grant University — but service to whom and for what purpose is less clearly defined. Oregon State University has traditionally served the rural components of the state more fully than its urban citizens. It has served those in agriculture and forestry more extensively than those in commerce and industry. These were not choices made within the University so much as policies determined by state and federal governmental actions and financing.

This pattern is gradually shifting to placing greater emphasis on a broader program of service to all who can benefit from the information and skills available from the faculty of the University. Greater emphasis is being placed on services to other agencies of government, to business and industry, and to individuals not related directly to agriculture or forestry.

The University does not perceive itself to be properly omniscient or omnipresent. Rather, it must select those target groups and respond only to those appeals when its particular expertise can be effectively used.

It is not another social service agency, but an institution of higher learning. It may render some specific service incidental to its educational mission but it must not become other than an institution with educational and research objectives as central to its reason for continued existence.

Without disregarding or repealing its historic commitment to agriculture, forestry, and the mechanic arts, Oregon State University must continually seek to serve all those who can benefit from its programs. Only then can it continue to be a vital force in the continued development of the state that supports it and to which it owes its primary allegiance.

Oregon State University President

In a day when students are asking questions about many traditions and institutions in this country, the role of Oregon State University is also being questioned. A sincere concern about the relationships of research, public service, and teaching is being expressed. Only the teaching function seems of much value to most undergraduates, thus they cannot understand why large amounts of money go to support the other roles.

As a Land-Grant University Oregon State is given as one of its charges that of public service, directly through its extension service and indirectly in many other ways. Since the facilities and personnel of the University accommodate themselves to research, OSU can certainly serve the individuals who support it, through research. It is important, however, that the type of public service and research that the University provides is in line with the general mission of the institution and is spread in a manner as to benefit as many people as possible.

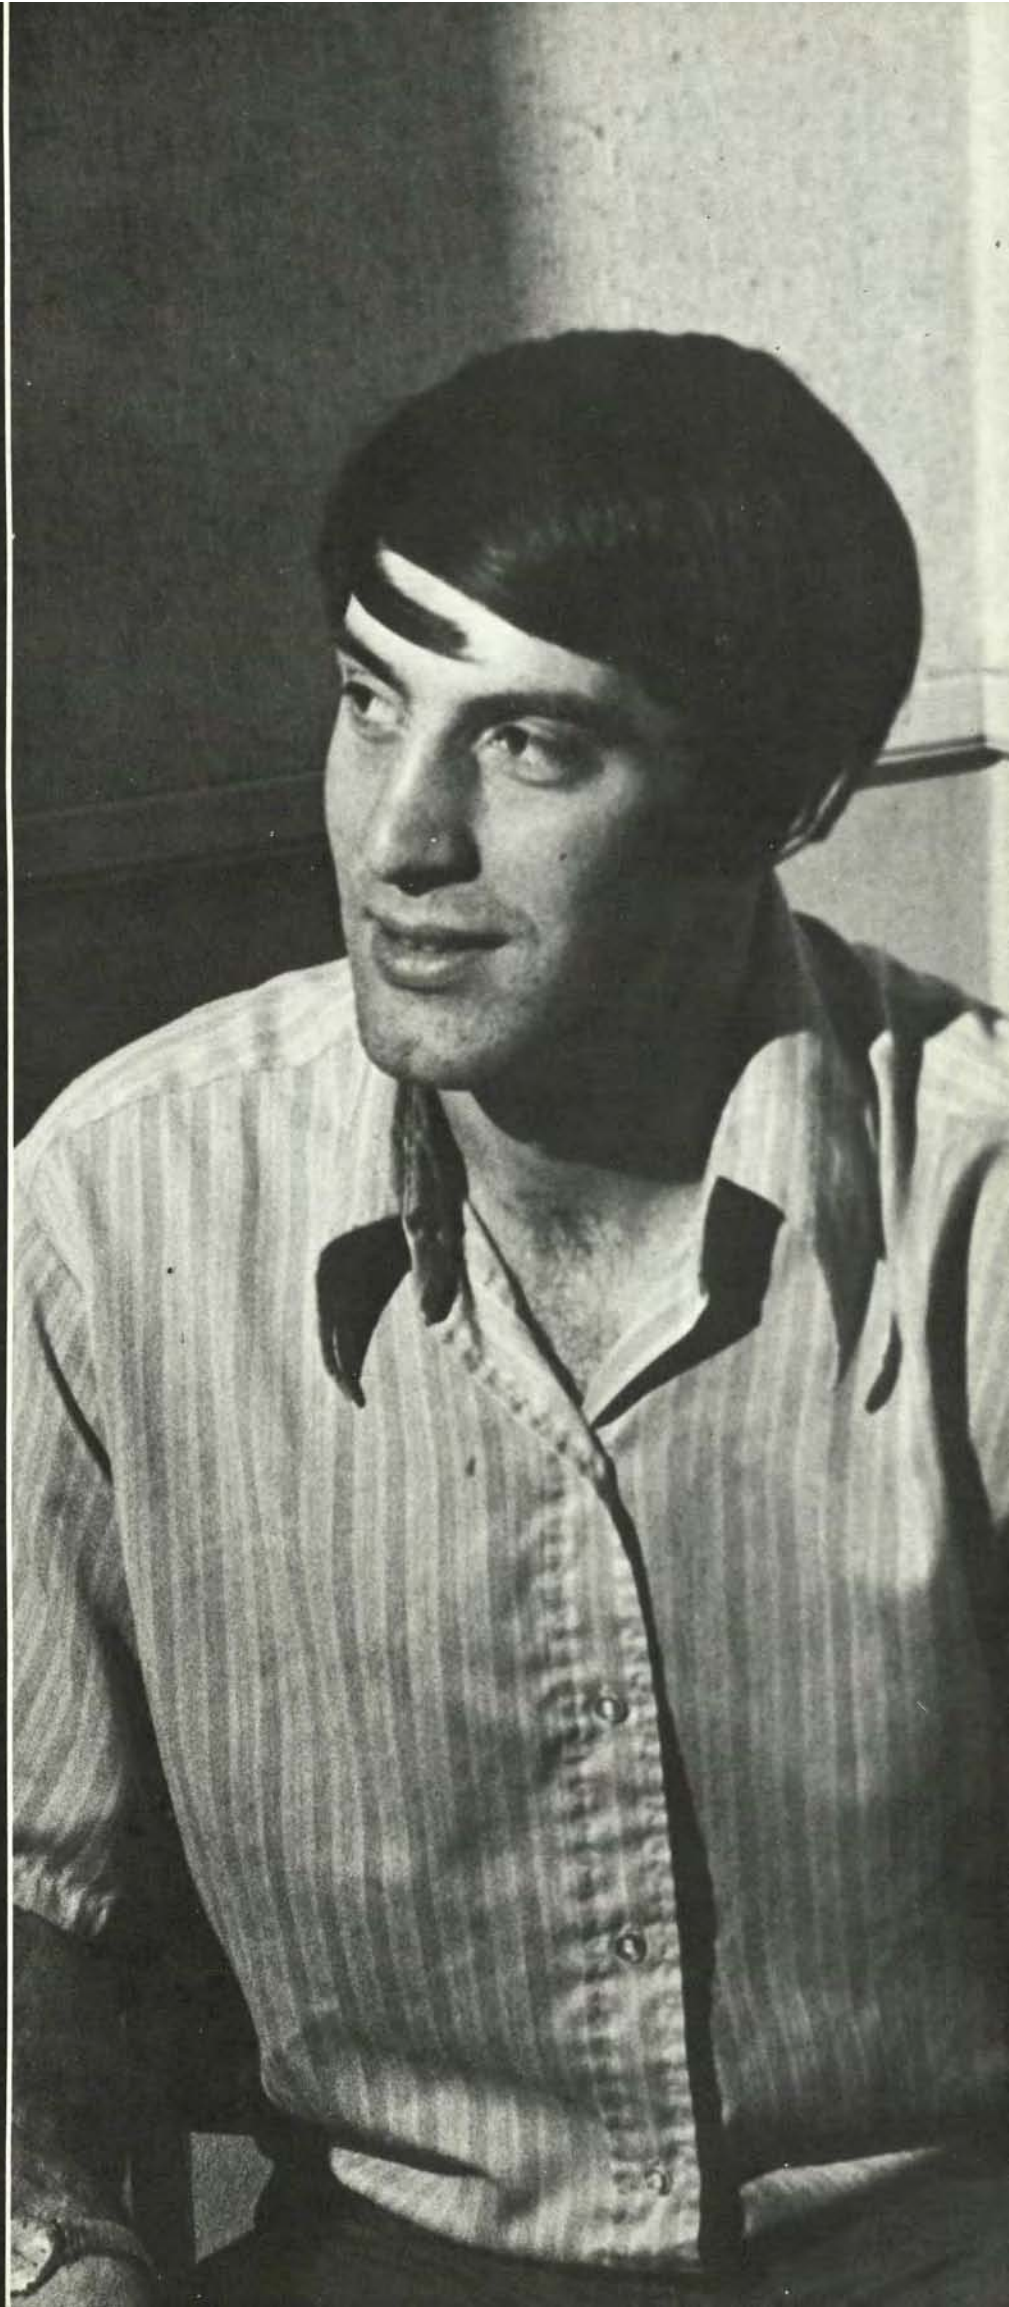

Although Oregon State has responsibilities in areas of research and public service, its greatest responsibility lies to its students with its instruction and counseling. The students of today will be the future leaders of this country. The training and counseling they receive during their formal education will shape their opinions and philosophies with which they will lead.

Programs for constructive involvement such as the Experimental College, Volunteer Services, State and City Affairs, and OSPIRG initiated and run by students, are examples of how those student opinions and philosophies are being manifested within the University. These programs can be assets to the quality of education available at Oregon State. The University must continue to provide room for such programs as it fulfills its responsibility to teaching.

As Oregon State University continues to meet the challenges of the society that it serves through public service, research, and instruction the greatest challenge may be adjusting to the educational needs of an increasingly younger populace.

ASOSU Senate School Councils

The problem of unequal representation of students on senate was one which plagued ASOSU during winter term of last year. Previously, senators were elected from schools, living groups and other interest groups resulting in representation of some students by as many as five or six senators and others by only one.

An attempt to resolve the problem came with the passage of a bill calling for reapportionment of senate to elect senators only from the schools. In this way, most of the overlap would be eliminated.

Agriculture Council.

Under such a system school councils would become the basic means by which the senators would confer with their constituents. Although the councils have been relatively unorganized and ineffective in the past, many have predicted that the new apportionment will result in the strengthening of the councils to become effective means by which students of various schools on campus can work with their representatives.

Class Government

A multitude of activities ranging from concerts to fund raising drives for charity this year proved that the class governments still perform an important function for the class members. No longer functioning in the actual governing of ASOSU since the reapportionment of Senate last year, the classes have devoted all of their time sponsoring such activities as the Association Concert, keggers and a beer tasting class.

A Great Race was conducted by the sophomore class just before the annual Civil War game this year for the purpose of raising funds for Muscular Dystrophy. Local businesses and living groups purchased mileage at $30 a mile to be run by members of track teams from Oregon State and the University of Oregon. The race resulted in the collection of over $1200 for the charity.

The Memorial Union is not only a center for main activity and recreation on campus but it also involves an extensive staff and a student Program Council coordinating a diversified program of activities from movies to Mom's and Dad's Weekends.

Led by a student elected president, this council is divided into various subcommittees all working together to provide art displays, forums, coffee houses, Christmas parties, and other programs which it is hoped will prove meaningful to students. One of the latest endeavors is the Outdoor Program which is now one of the fastest growing programs on campus.

Students interested in karate, organic gardening, songwriting, or geodesic dome building, may enroll in such classes by participating in the Experimental College. ASOSU created the Experimental College in 1970 to expand the educational environment. All classes are originated by student or community interest. Classes are offered which differ significantly from regular University courses, and provide a testing field for possible additions to regular course offerings. The Experimental College provides an opportunity for the entire University and community to come together.

School of Agriculture

We depend on agricultural science . . . . for maintaining a healthy environment and continuing the life on this planet. Learning more about our vast natural resources, controlling and managing them, and putting them to new and better uses requires the heads and hands of many skilled scientists and technicians.

This, an environmental concern, is not new to the School of Agriculture. It began in 1888 when the Oregon Agricultural Experiment Station was organized.

Agronomist John A. Yungen conducts a study of sunflower seeds. The individual flowers must be covered to protect them from birds.

Lambs are used in nutritional studies by Dr. Paul H. Weswig to provide information for infant nutrition.

Dr. James E. Oldfield, head of Oregon State University's animal science department, testifies at a legislative hearing on faculty salaries.

New varieties of strawberries are being tested.

Today, the program includes a central station in Corvallis and 12 others throughout the state, which serve as valuable resources for the developing of new ideas and methods in agriculture.

Communicating these ideas and methods to the community is one of the tasks of the Extension Service, the second of a trial program emphasis in agriculture.

The third and most basic function of the school is the instruction and training of students enrolled in agriculture, a field which offers some of the most relevant and rewarding career opportunities of the next decade.

School of Business and Technology

Students enrolled in Dr. Arthur Stonehills' Minority Entrepreneurship Seminar conduct a study to identify potential markets for Neighborhood Bill's sausage products. Neighborhood Bill's is a minority enterprise based in the Albina district of Portland, Oregon.

The age-old problem of "putting the theory to work" is a vital challenge in the School of Business and Technology. Students soon find that the study of business administration has expanded well beyond the confines of the university campus as they are increasingly exposed to the "real world" through participation in research projects.

Projects associated with classroom work might typically include aiding local businessmen to evaluate and solve current administrative problems, working in groups on development of minority ventures, or participation in the implementation of regional and national studies and surveys for major corporations and government agencies.

Participation in these research ventures enables the business administration student to integrate theoretical knowledge with "real world" experience in the solution of business problems. Typical research projects provide for student exposure to top management personnel and the opportunity to study the intricate workings of their organization. After research into the various problem areas of the organization is completed, conclusions are made, reports are written, and recommendations are presented to management.

The 25 OSU students find this reading practicum a necessary and rewarding experience.

The OSU reading methods program provides application of reading skills instruction on a one-to-one basis.

School of Education

Take an elementary student with a problem in reading and an OSU student instructor; place them in an individualized learning situation at an elementary school and the basis for a reading methods class has been established.

Oregon State University is currently engaged in a pilot reading methods program which provides discussion sessions in addition to the classroom situations. The 25 students involved find the on-site teaching very practical, exciting and applicable to subsequent classroom teaching. A personal confidence in the ability to communicate reading skills is also developed. And reward is attained for student instructor and youngster when reading performance improves. The student instructor diagnoses his individual student's reading performance, plans the reading lesson, teaches the lesson and finally does an evaluation. Supervision includes an OSU professor and a member of the elementary school faculty.

Educators are becoming increasingly concerned with the preparation of future teachers. The School of Education is using this methods reading program to prepare their undergraduates for actual classroom teaching.

Barbie Roberts, like other education students, spends hours going through placement books in search of teaching positions.

For those students majoring in education, it is difficult to go through one week without being reminded of the over-supply of teachers. And the reminder becomes a reality when teacher candidates search for jobs.

The Office of Educational Placement on Oregon State's campus assists students in making career choices and in becoming aware of opportunities in education. They help students arrange placement credentials and prepare for interviews. Teacher candidates begin interviews in January and continue until early May. Schools and school district officials visit the campus at the end of the day enabling everyone an opportunity to meet the representative. A personal interview is scheduled for another time.

The placement office again this year sponsored a program where students hosted visiting superintendents and principals for luncheon days. This provided a good opportunity for education students to exchange ideas about teaching with those who meet the everyday problems of education.

School of Engineering

The schools of engineering, science, and agriculture annually present the Carter Award, a plaque presented to a professor for outstanding and effective teaching. Established in 1945 by OSU alumnus Lloyd Carter, the award recipient is selected by student evaluation and faculty vote.

This year's winner, Prof. A.O. Jarvi of the general engineering department, has been at OSU since 1960 after having taught at the University of Washington. He has completed engineering assignments in 24 of the United States and all continents except Australia.

In addition to the Carter Award Professor Jarvi won the Dean's Award, established from contributions of industry.

School of Forestry

Problem-oriented research and instruction, and emphasis on practical experience and observation by the student are basic teaching methods in the School of Forestry — teaching methods which produce a valuable, relevant education with the needs of the community and its environment in mind.

The school is closely related with industry and public forest agencies and makes good use of these facilities for student benefit. Field trips and laboratories afford the student an opportunity for firsthand knowledge of engineering management and utilization processes. Thus, students are assured of a quality education relevant to the needs of the community it serves.

The School of Forestry offers three major fields of study: forest engineering, forest products, and forest management. In addition to the standard forest management program, there is an option provided for students who are research or recreation oriented.

School of Home Economics

There is a lot more to home economics than what usually meets the eye. It is the study of every aspect of home life ranging from planning a house to relationships between family members and the community. The old stereotype of just "cooking and sewing" is constantly being disproved as the School of Home Economics continues to grow and change.

Many courses have been added and others altered to better meet the challenges of today's world. For personal reward and in preparation for a career the home economics major finds a choice of several areas of concentration; child development and family life; education; communications; institutional management and dietetics; household management and housing; food and nutrition; clothing and textiles; extension work; and general home economics.

Home Economics Conference

The program for the 1971 Home Economics Conference on "The Home and the Environment" November 5 and 6 featured an interior designer from Brigham Young University, and an architect from the University of Oregon.

This year's Jessamine C. Williams Lecturer was Dr. Milo Ray Bauthman, Jr., chairman of the Department of Environmental Design at BYU and noted furniture designer. Emphasizing human and social implications of interior design, his talk drew several hundred townspeople, faculty and students.

The home as environment was the subject chosen by Dr. Robert S. Harris, Dean of the School of Architecture at the U of O, who spoke at the Saturday morning session.

The 1971 conference marked the formation of a new group, the OSU Home Economics Alumni Organization. Purposes of the group will be to promote the growth and development of home economics at OSU, to sponsor post collegiate assemblies, and foster fellowship among the members.

Religious Studies

Dr. C.W. Hovland, chairman of religious studies, received the Distinguished Professor Award for outstanding teaching. Candidates for this award are nominated by students, faculty, and alumni, and the award is presented by the Alumni Association.

The department regards religious study as an essential part of liberal, humane learning and seeks to assist students in understanding the role religion plays in human existence. The instruction is nonsectarian and seeks an open analysis of all points of view.

Art

On display this year as part of the International Exchange Exhibition were 100 contemporary prints from Norway. These prints were loaned to OSU for exhibition by Mrs. Anne Breivik, a printmaker from Norway, and current president of the Norwegian Society of Printmakers.

Various areas of concentration within the art department include printmaking, ceramics, photography, sculpture, and art history.

Speech

New in the speech department this year is the people room in Shepard Hall.

The room has carpeting, posters, and no furniture. The students sit on the floor in an informal group which permits the instructor to become closer to his students without the formality of a seating arrangement.

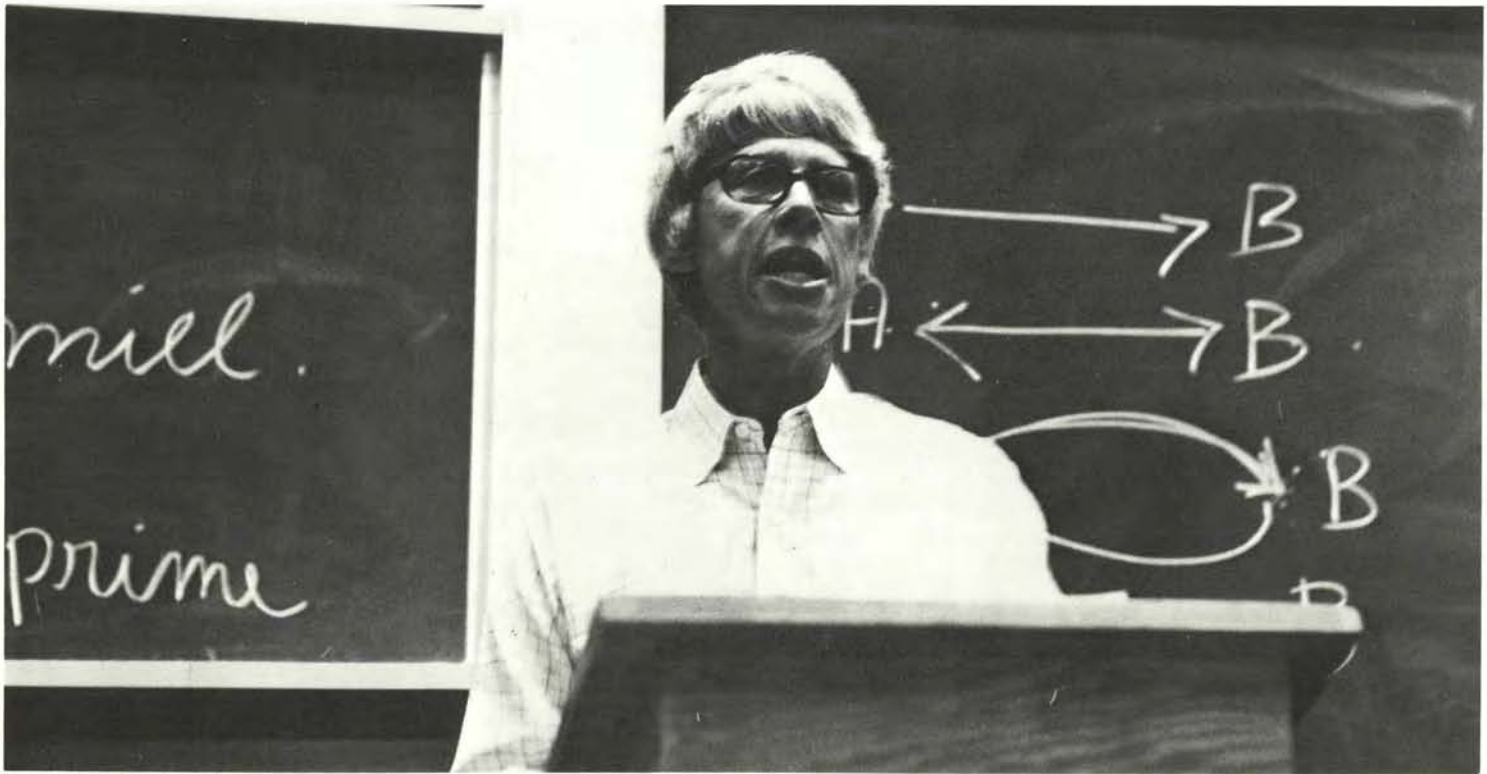

This new idea has resulted in greater inter-personal relations, one of the main factors contributing to speech development.

Geography

This year the geography department conducted its introduction to geography course in a new manner. In order to create an informal atmosphere, the department divided the three-hour course into three separate sections to add variety to its teaching methods.

The first hour of the week is spent in a lecture which sets the theme for the week. The 650 students enrolled in the course are divided into four groups. The second hour is a television broadcast shown five times a week, featuring slides, maps, graphs, and numerous visual aides. The third hour concludes the week with a workshop dealing with approximately 25 students who learn concepts in geography in an informal class atmosphere.

School of Pharmacy

Active involvement and practical experience in the community are an essential part of the pharmacy student's education. Not only do OSU students work in the Student Health Center and the pharmacy, but they also work with doctors in the Corvallis Clinic and Good Samaritan Hospital. Pharmacy students operate the Drug Abuse Speakers Bureau that provides panel discussion groups for people interested in drug abuse. These experiences not only provide training, but promote good relationships between the community and the school.

OSU pharmacy students worked with U of O medical students in diagnosing cases.

Miss Dar Thelin, a pharmacy student from Oregon State University, and ten medical students from the University of Oregon participated as staff members in the Stayton Migrant Health Clinic. Medical students made initial diagnosis with a doctor's approval and prescribed the necessary medications. Miss Thelin, a pharmacy student, filled the prescription with donated medicines. The majority of the 1,033 patients that sought medical help at the clinic were suffering from the typical complaints of ear infections, stomach aches, and poison oak.

The clinic operated for nine weeks during the summer with office hours from five in the afternoon until nine o'clock at night. Hopefully the clinic will become a year long operation.

Preparation for the clinic began spring term, 1971, with funding through university, commercial and private donations.

School of Physical Education

The Division of Physical Education at Oregon State University offers much more than classes for physical exercise. Recognized in 1971 as a degree-granting division, Physical Education provides four-year basic and five-year standard programs, the preparation for non-teaching professional careers, and the basic instructional program in physical education for all OSU students, as well.

Enrollment in the four-year basic and the five-year standard programs leads to certification in either physical education or health and physical education are also available in the division, and include emphasis in such areas as physical therapy, sports communication, and human performance.

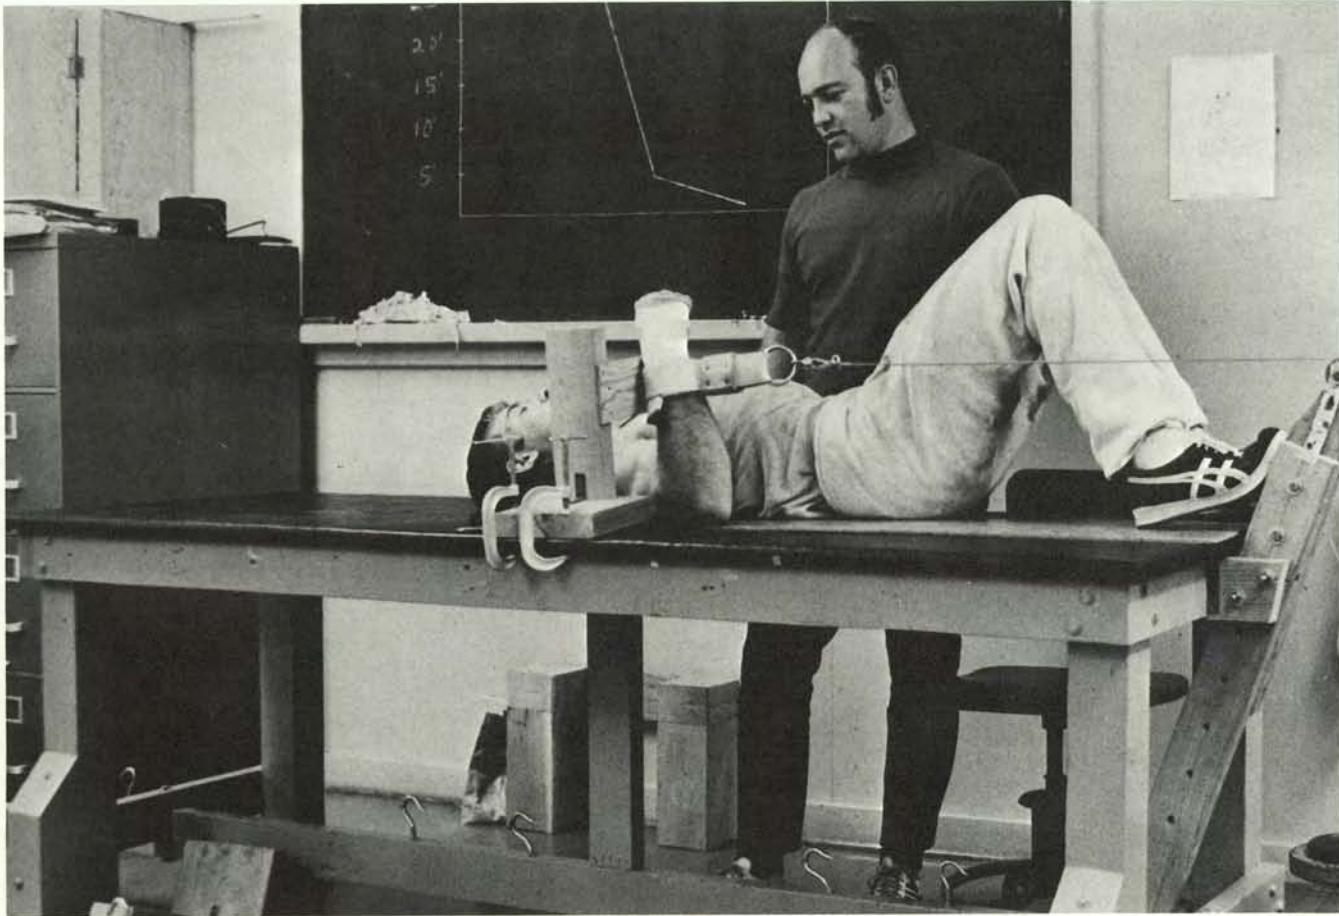

The division is widely known for its attempts in meeting the needs of all students on campus, not only those enrolled in their program. Physical education-sponsored intramural sports and recreational activities receive great participation by students in all fields.

School of Science

For its second year, Oregon State University will be involved in a unique program of environmental education. The Malheur Environmental Station is run and staffed through the combined efforts of a consortium of 18 Oregon state universities and colleges, private colleges and community colleges. This summer the station will again offer four three-week sessions of field-oriented classes relating to environmental study.

The Malheur Environmental Field Station is located 32 miles south of Burns, Oregon. The station is on the eastern edge of the Malheur National Wildlife Refuge, the oldest and one of the largest in the United States. Comfortable dormitories, full food service and laundering facilities are provided, and a full size gymnasium, pool tables and a student-run recreation building are available for relaxation purposes.

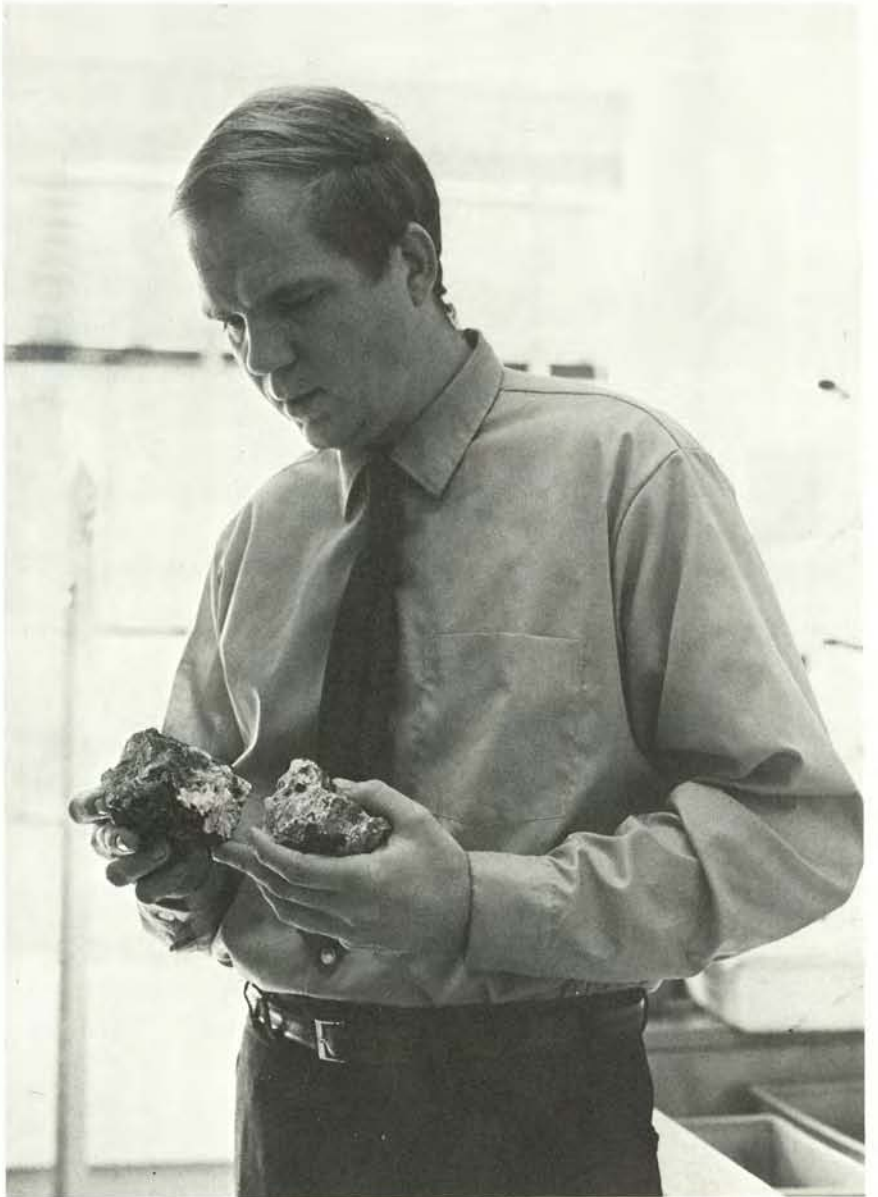

Class structure is generally relaxed and liberal and allows much personal interchange between instructor and students.

A wide variety of field study opportunities exist within a reasonable driving distance from the station.

Cordley Hall Learning Center

The Cordley Hall Learning Center, a resource center for science students, began to function on October 6, 1971, when the first student employee taped an open sign on the door. The audio-visual equipment sat in its shipping containers, paper and pen had to be found with which to make the sign, and the attendant had no desk. One student visited the center the first day. In three weeks necessary furniture had appeared, usable material for students had begun to accumulate, and on some days over 50 students used the facility.

Today the center provides supplementary materials such as film loops, textbooks, article reprints, old examinations, tape recorders, and lecture recordings.

Air Force ROTC

The students who are cadets of the Air Force ROTC program at OSU are prospective leaders of this nation's primary source of deterrent strength. These cadets are better educated, more versatile, and have a higher degree of professionalism than ever before.

Many OSU students join the Air Force ROTC program because it offers a rewarding flight training curriculum and is a way in which these young men feel they can best fulfill their service obligation.

Angel Flight

The women's Air Force honorary forms an auxiliary organization to Arnold Air Society known as Angel Flight. This organization promotes the Air Force ROTC program and participates in civic, patriotic, educational, and charitable undertakings. Angel Flight contributed by sending letters and food to men fighting in Vietnam.

Arnold Air Society

A basic requirement for membership in Arnold Air Society is the cadet's desire to promote the traditions and aspirations of the Air Force. OSU is one of the 163 detachments across the nation which offers memberships to outstanding cadets in this national honorary.

Arnold Air Society sponsored a Boy Scout merit badge program and visited high schools throughout Oregon to promote the Air Force ROTC program on campus.

Army ROTC

The Army ROTC program at OSU provides training and experience for cadets in the art of organizing, motivating, and leading others. The cadets develop self-discipline, stamina, and personal confidence, all qualities important in leadership on field maneuvers.

Army ROTC sponsors such extra-curricular activities as a precision drill team, a drum and bugle corps, and a small bore rifle team.

At OSU, Navy ROTC cadets are enrolled in naval science classes, receive instruction and experience each summer at sea on training cruises, and are involved in drill activities. Their training is instrumental in preparing them for leadership in command positions. Navy ROTC members sponsor the Navy Ring Dance, a formal military ball held in the spring.

Promoting good relations between cadets and other students is the phrase to remember when you see a member of Scabbard and Blade. And these are the young men who can do it, for of the juniors and seniors in the ROTC programs they represent the top five percent who excel in leadership, academic achievement, and participation in extra-curricular and civic activities. This tri-service national military honorary sponsors the annual Military Ball and Mom's Weekend drill competition.

Raiders

Spirit and concern are the by-words of the Raiders as they receive training in the basic arts of soldiering, navigation, weapon marksmanship, hand-to-hand combat, and guerrilla and counter-guerrilla warfare. To test these skills cadets make a 12 mile run with field gear and are given a compass and map to navigate. The Raiders' year is ended with a three day field training exercise where they are dropped by helicopter at three different localities and are expected to navigate to a central objective.

Publications

Mr. Irwin C. Harris and Mr. Fred C. Zwahlen serve as advisors and co-ordinators to the Beaver and the Barometer. Both are former University students and past editors of the Beaver. Mr. Harris is the manager of all campus public events from concerts to convocations. He also advises Encore, a student organization which coordinates concerts. Mr. Zwahlen is head of the journalism department and an instructor of photo journalism. He is also chairman of the Publications Committee, which sets policy guidelines for the Barometer and Beaver. The committee also selects the editors for business managers for student publications.

Fusser's Guide

In the old days, "fussing" on the Oregon State campus meant getting a date. Many University students are still "fussing" and the campus telephone directory, appropriately titled the Fusser's Guide, is a valuable tool. The phone directory contains the names, majors, telephone numbers, home and school addresses of all University students. Faculty phone numbers and addresses are also listed.

Beaver

A yearbook is many things. It's a review of the past year, a series of clubs and activities and most importantly it's a complete picture of the Oregon State personality. This year the Beaver tried to portray all student-oriented activities from football games to voter registration.

In a time when college yearbooks are losing revenue and readership, the Beaver is a successful publication because it still focuses on the student in the past year, his role in activities, and his contribution to the University personality.

Beavers Finish Season 5-6 But Secure Second Place in Pac-8 Play

GEORGIA—The 1972 season started on anything but an optimistic note as a physically and mentally unprepared group of Beavers were whipped 56-25 by Georgia. "Our worst game we've had since I've been here (seven years)," were the words of Dee Andros. The first quarter ended 7-7, but what happened in the second and third quarters is anyone's guess, as the Bulldogs mounted 42 points to OSU's 0. Recovering two onside kick-offs in the fourth quarter, the Beavers scored twice as Steve Endicott broke single game passing records for completions (20), attempts (40), and yards gained (280).

IOWA—In their home opener, the Beavers took it to the Iowa Hawkeyes, 33-19. Despite an unbelievable 10 turnovers, it was basic OSU ball control football. The Beavers racked up 448 yards, 342 on the ground and 97 passing while setting a school record for first downs with 31. Dave Schilling led the charge gaining 100 yards on 18 carries as 10 Beaver ball handlers saw action. The defense, doing a noteworthy job compared to the week before, held the Hawkeyes to 187 total yards offense.

MICHIGAN STATE—The Beavers now 1-1 traveled to Big Ten country to take on a strong Michigan State team at East Lansing. Before a record crowd of 62,184, the largest crowd to see the Staters play during the year, the Beavers started slowly and trailed the Spartans 14-0 at half. But the Orangemen came fighting back, putting together two long scoring drives to make the score 17-14 in the fourth quarter. The Spartans exploded for two quick scores to win 31-14 even though the final statistics favored the Beavers in all categories.

UCLA—In their Pac-8 opener, the Beavers defeated the Bruins in their first victory at the Coliseum under Dee Andros. Led by senior quarterback Steve Endicott, the Beaver offense totaled 353 yards and 34 points while the home team Bruins were being held to 17 points. Endicott hit a phenomenal 10 of 10 passes which won him honors as the Pacific-8 back of the week. Ray Tarvoli also showed his potential with a 100-yard kickoff return.

CALIFORNIA—Fresh off a great performance against UCLA, the Beavers returned south to meet the Bears. What happened in this game was a foreshadowing of things to come later in the season. After the Beavers had seemingly wrapped up the game, as Steve Endicott and Jeff Kolberg clicked on a 25 yard score with 54 seconds remaining, disaster struck. Within four plays the Bears were on the OSU seven with time remaining for one play. A diving catch saved the day for Cal and the Beavers fell 30-27. Kolberg, even in defeat, enjoyed one of his finest games, hauling in eight passes for 132 yards and two touchdowns.

Senior Co-captain Jim Sherbert.

Fred Hauck.

Butch Wicks and Scott Woods.

ARIZONA STATE—After the heart-breaker in California, the Beavers had to prepare for the quick and powerful ASU Sun Devils, who invaded Portland with a 21 game winning streak on the line. The Beavers utilized ball control and a gang tackling defense to turn away the Sun Devils 24-18. Dave Schilling was again the offensive key, rushing for 157 yards in 47 carries. For his performance Schilling was named Offensive Player of the Week in the Pac-8 and his coach Dee Andros was honored by the UPI as Coach of the Week.

WASHINGTON—Following the impressive win over ASU, the Beavers appeared ready to do battle with the University of Washington and Sonny Sixkiller at Seattle. The Huskies, coming off two conference defeats, took away the Staters' ground game and used their own mix with Sixkiller's passes to smash the Beavers 38-14. About the only thing Beaver fans had to cheer about was a pass interception by Butch Wicks of 58 yards which resulted in a score.

STANFORD—The visiting Indians set the stage for the key game of the Beaver season, for the winner was in the driver's seat to the coveted Rose Bowl. To the surprise of all, the newly installed Veer-T offense ran all over the famed Thunder Chickens and had the Beavers ahead by a 24-3 count minutes before the half. However, in those few minutes a Don Bunce bomb cut the Beaver lead to 14 and stopped the predominate OSU momentum. Three second half Indian scores handed the Beavers a frustrating 31-24 defeat. Junior middle linebacker Steve Brown played one of his finest games of the season and was recognized as the Pac-8 Defensive Player of the Week.

ARIZONA—Recovering from the bitter defeat to Stanford, the Beavers lost to Arizona 34-22 in what was termed by Dee Andros, "the worst officiated game I have ever seen." Ahead at one point 22-7, the Beavers again gave up the big plays as Arizona rallied to win. Quarterbacks Steve Endicott and Jim Kilmartin enjoyed fine passing nights hitting 10 of 19 for 148 yards and eight of 15 for 113 yards, respectively. Jeff Kolberg had another great night, snaring eight passes for 106 yards and two scores.

WASHINGTON STATE—Before a rain-soaked Homecoming crowd the Beavers gave the Cougars a lasting definition of Power-T football. Completely dominating the game, the Beavers ran 95 plays to the Cougars 39, with Roger Smith doing most of the damage in the 21-14 victory. The blockbusting fullback carried the ball 45 times in gaining 210 yards and two scores. Cougar running threat Bernard Jackson was contained most of the afternoon, but managed to break loose a 95 yard kickoff return.

OREGON—In classic Civil War style the Beavers handed the Ducks their eighth straight defeat, 30-29. As one dejected Oregon fan put it, "God must be a Beaver." For Oregon State the victory erased the pain and frustration of the first losing season under Dee Andros. For the 43,000 fans that jammed Autzen Stadium it was a game few will forget. The lead continuously changed hands through the second half with the Ducks passing and the Beaver ground game dominating offensive play. Behind 24-29, the Beavers mounted their final drive which saw Billy Carlquist score on the option from Steve Endicott with less than two minutes left in the game. For the 22 graduating seniors it was an emotional climax to their football careers—"it's got to be our greatest win ever."

1971 could be remembered as the year of frustration with the last-second loss to California or the tragedy against Stanford, or in a different sense, a year of reward with the upset of 10th ranked Arizona State and the thriller against Oregon. Nevertheless 1971 was the year to rewrite the record book as 31 new records emerged.

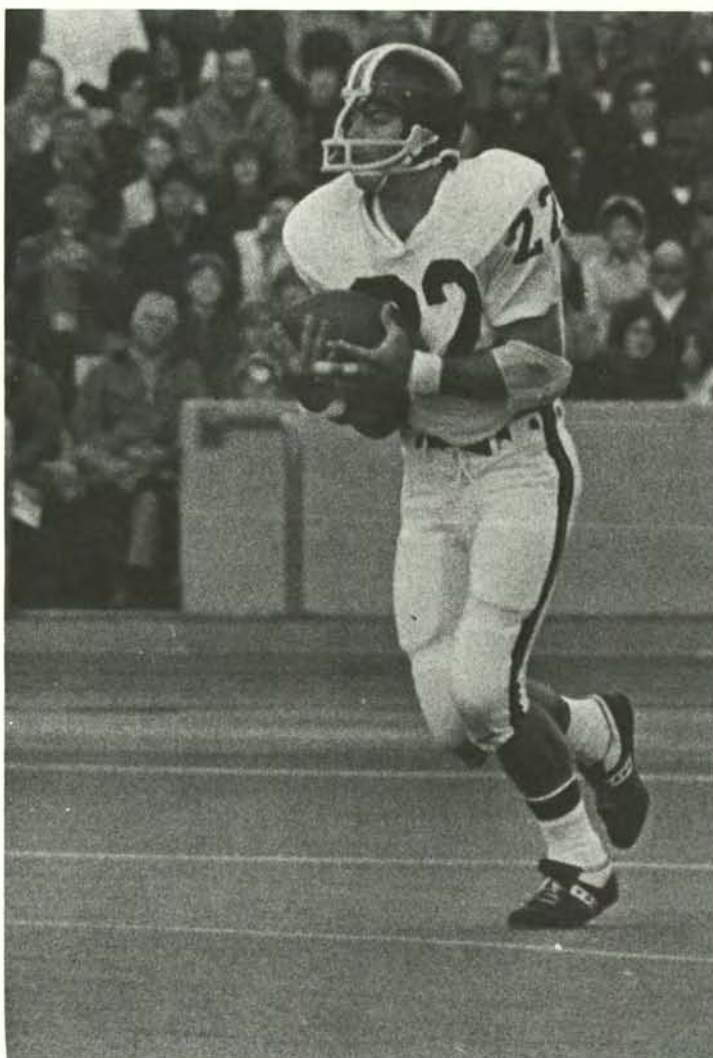

In single game performances Steve Endicott broke passing records in attempts — 40, completions — 20, percentage — 1.000, and yards gained—280. Steve Brown intercepted four passes against Stanford, while Jim Lilly returned six punts against Washington to establish new records.

Ray Taroli broke individual season records for kick-off returns with 32 for 908 yards which established a new OSU record. Lynn Boston also moved into the record book with a season record of 48 points for a kicker.

Individual carrier records were set by Dave Schilling as he rushed 641 times for a total of 2,562 yards, and Steve Endicott who threw 24 touchdown passes.

Season records were broken by the offensive team in the fields of most pass-rush plays—891 which emasses—4,028 yards, most first downs rushing—147, total first downs—228, and field goals kicked—nine.

Rook Football

Plagued with key injuries and numerous errors, the Baby Beavers finished with a winless four game season. Hope for future football success was generated by impressive individual efforts.

Scott Spiegelberg showed potential at the quarterback position, while speedy running back Wilson Morris scored three touchdowns, two of which were kick-off returns. Defensive back Greg Wickert won the Outstanding Rook award.

Crosscountry Harriers Take Fifth in Pac-8

The Beavers, minus the services of All-American Keith Munson, who was red-shirted this year due to injury, finished fifth in the Pac-8 Conference and third in the Northern Division behind the number one and two teams in the nation, this year, Oregon and Washington State.

The young team posted a 29-92 victory over the Mad River Track Club from California, with Rook Hailu Ebba setting a new freshman course record. The team, running as the Staters Track Club, also went to the National AAU meet in San Diego, where they finished 11th out of 29 teams.

Boyd Leads OSU to Pac-8 Third

Behind senior guard Freddie Boyd, the Beavers finished the 1972 season with a 18-10 record and tied for third in the Pac-8 with the University of Southern California.

In the Far West Classic OSU fell one point short of defending their title, losing to nationally ranked Florida State 72-73.

The Beavers finished Pac-8 play with a record of 9-5. Defeating Washington State, Stanford, California and Oregon on both outings, the Beavers split with Southern Cal. After losing earlier at home, the Beavers came back with a 65-61 victory in Los Angeles. The Orangemen held top-ranked UCLA in tact before falling 71-78 before a crowd of 10,500 at Gil Coliseum. Freddie Boyd proved his All-American potential by scoring a career high of 37 points. The fight for second place climaxed in Corvallis against Washington. A second half comeback effort fell short and the Huskies moved ahead of the Beavers with a 70-69 victory.

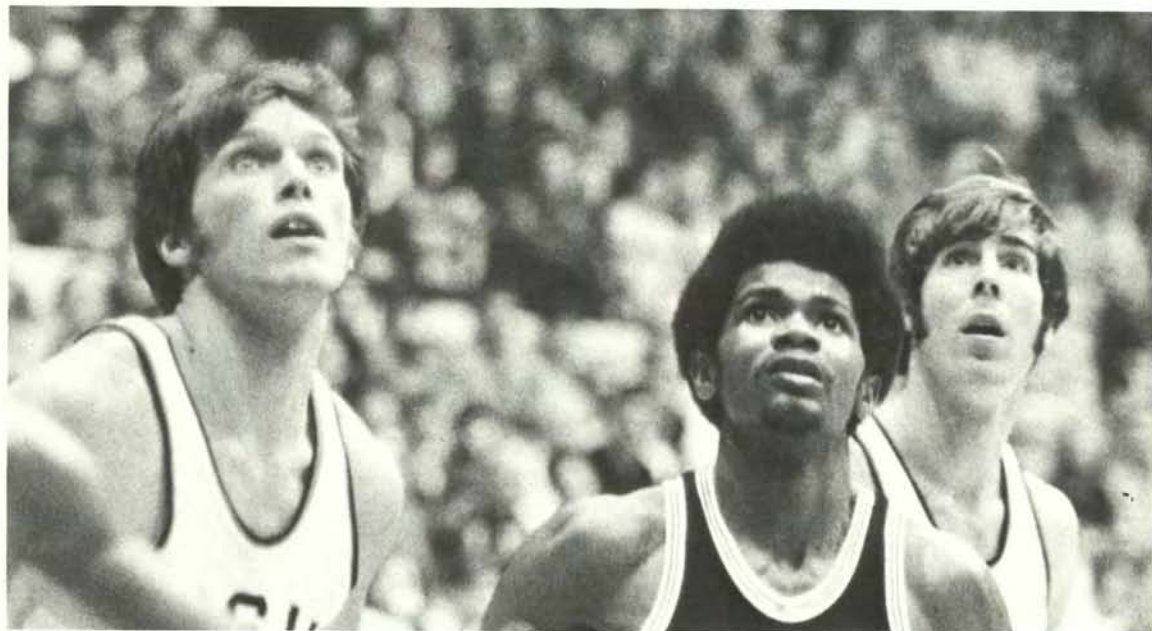

In Civil War play the Beavers came from behind, winning the last two games of the year to tie the series 2-2, thus claiming six months worth of the Chancellor's Trophy.

Freddie Boyd ended his impressive career at OSU scoring 554 points for an average of 19.8 per game, along with 185 assists. For the other graduating seniors; Jeff Haller, Tom Phipps, Billy Nickleberry and Larry Webber, the season itself held a proud note on which to end their careers.

Wrestlers Place Sixth in NCAA

"Its been a great season," said Coach Dale Thomas.

Great might be the perfect adjective as the Beavers compiled a season record of 23-3-1, tied for first in the Pac-8 conference meet and secured sixth place in the NCAA.

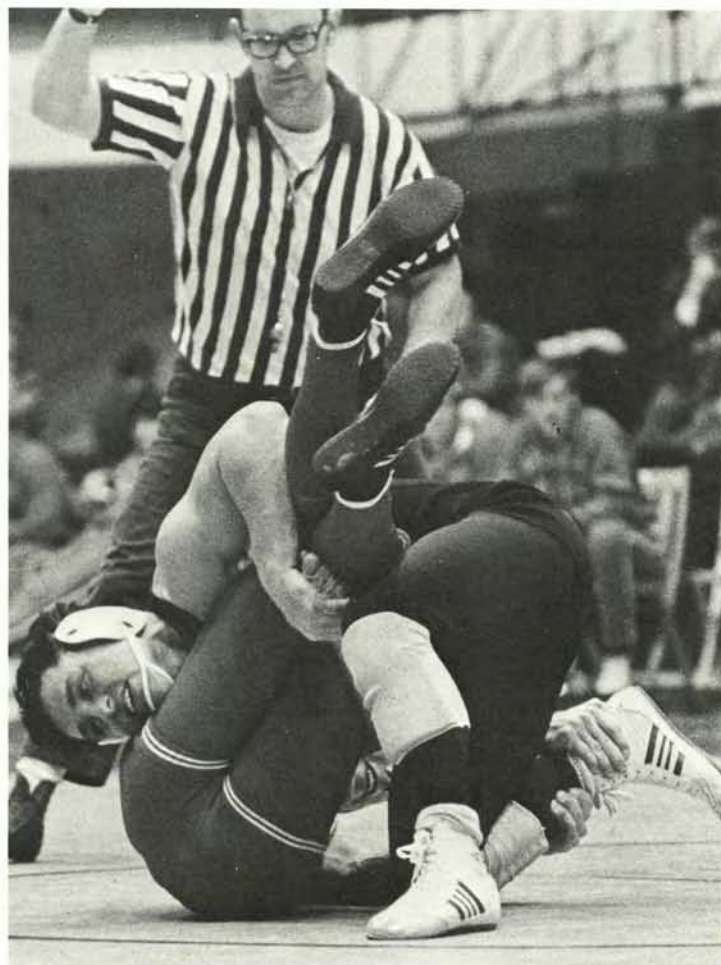

The Beavers highlighted their challenging schedule with victories over Washington and Cal Poly, while dropping two of their matches to the top two teams in the nation, Iowa and Oklahoma. In the hope of recapturing the conference title, the Beavers tied for first with Washington. Tom Phillips, 118 pounds; Mike R. Jones, 158 pounds; Greg Strobel, 190 pounds; and Jim Hagen, heavyweight came away with individual titles. Mike A. Jones, Rob Brown, Ken Thomas and Ron Sather qualified for the NCAA.

The Beavers left the NCAA meet with sixth place and three new All-Americans in the persons of Greg Strobel and Tom Phillips, each of whom took fifth place, and of Jim Hagan, who placed sixth.

Sophomore Tom Phillips supported a 20 match winning streak before moving up a weight division and losing. He also had eight four point decisions. Greg Strobel, another sophomore, led the team in pins with 12. He became the first wrestler in Oregon State's history to score over 100 team points during a dual meet season. He finished with 106. Jim Hagan, a junior, was acclaimed as the "Giant Killer" in his exploits at the heavyweight position. At 190 pounds Hagan proved his ability finishing the season with a respectable 30-4-1 record. With one senior graduating, Ken Thomas, there will be a lot of returning talent for the 1973 season. But then who's to argue with tradition.

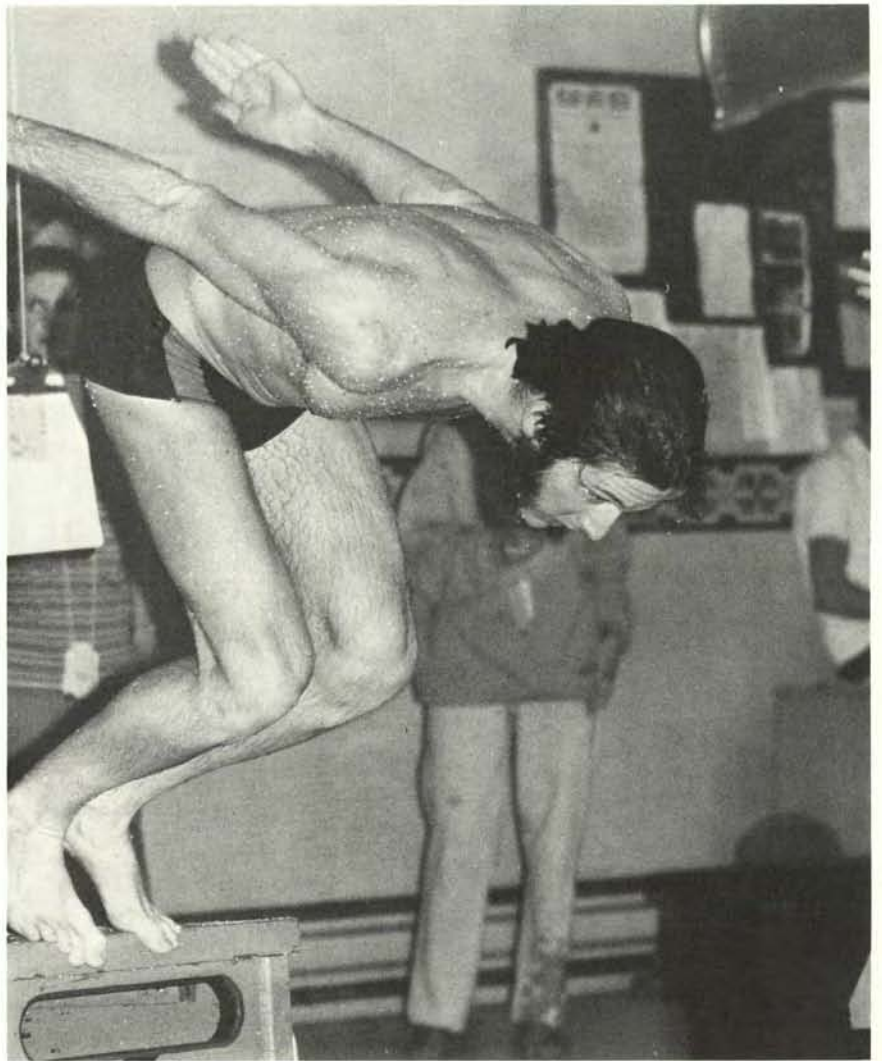

Rob Brown (7-2-1), second in the Pac-8.

Beavers Send Seven to NCAA

Competing in the strongest swim conference in the nation, the Pac-8, the Beavers again finished seventh.

However, the long season has as its goal the qualifying of swimmers for the NCAA championships. Seven Beavers reached this goal, qualifying in 12 events, with Rook backstroker Brent Webb becoming the first Beaver to reach qualifying standards before the conference meet. The Beavers will also send Buz Elgin, Dave Castner, Bill Shawver and Pete Raykovich, along with two relay teams to compete in the NCAA championships.

OSU Finishes Fourth in Pac-8 Dual Competition

The Pac-8 is one of the strongest conferences in the nation from any sporting point of view. Track is no exception. In the last 14 years Pac-8 teams have taken 11 NCAA championships.

OSU finished what could be termed a successful rebuilding year with a six-three dual meet record. However, the 1971 team suffered many setbacks before the season started as 14 potential point getters were sidelined by illness, injury, and ineligibility. Using mostly Rooks and sophomores, the Beavers were able to finish fourth in dual meet competition, but the lack of manpower and experience took its toll and the Beavers took seventh place in the Pac-8 Conference Meet.

Senior sprinter Robert Medlock had times of 9.6 sec for the 100 and 21.6 for the 220.

Lowell Harris and Leon Johnson were consistent in the high hurdles.

Keith Munson set an OSU record of 28.42.4 in the six-mile run.

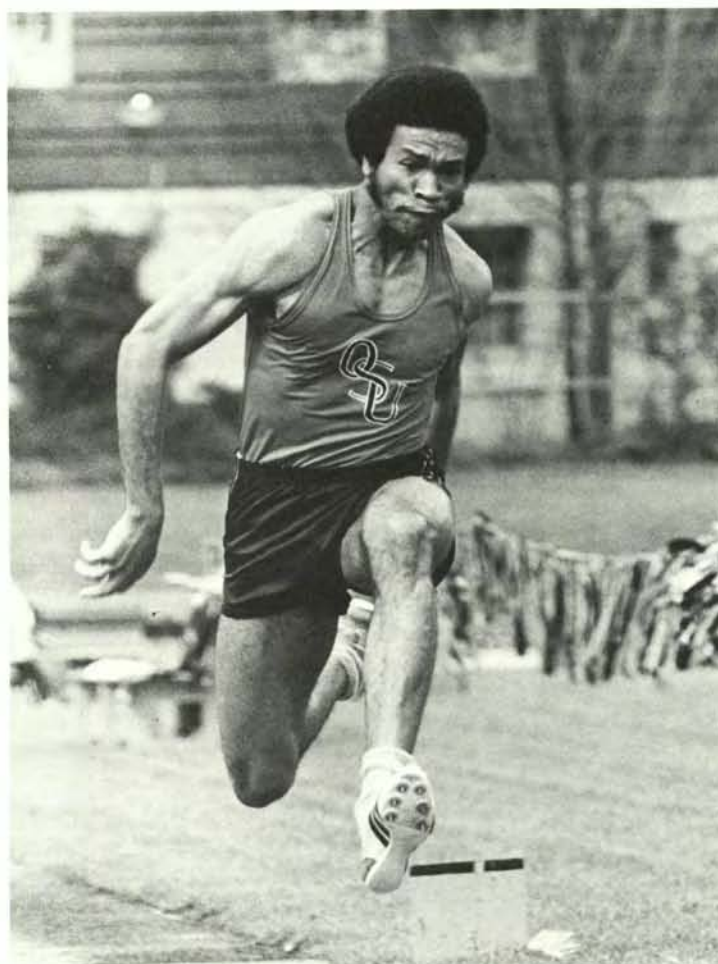

Seniors Leon Johnson and Robert Medlock.

Robert Reader Sets Triple Jump Record

It was a year of personal bests and broken records. Most outstanding was Robert Reader's 53 ft. 10½ in. effort in the triple jump, which now stands as a Pac-8 record. Keith Munson lead the team in the distance events, running the mile in 4:00.7 to take third in the NCAA. Consistent performances were also turned in by Don Pedrick in the 440 and Ron Borden and John Svoboda in the 880. In the field events Steve Norris went 16 ft. in the pole vault, while Steve Athay threw the disc 178 ft. 5 in.

Freshmen records in the six-mile and the steeplechase were broken by Leonard Hill. Weightmen Butch Schmidt and Doug Cramer also set marks in the shot put and the hammer throw respectively.

Beaver's Top Northwest Competition

The Beavers had trouble with their Pac-8 Conference opposition, but handled Northwest competition very well in the '70-'71 season. The Beavers finished the season with an 18-17 overall record. They were 2-5 at Riverside, 2-1 in the Kirsch tournament, 8-1 against Northwest competition and 6-10 in Pac-8 Conference play.

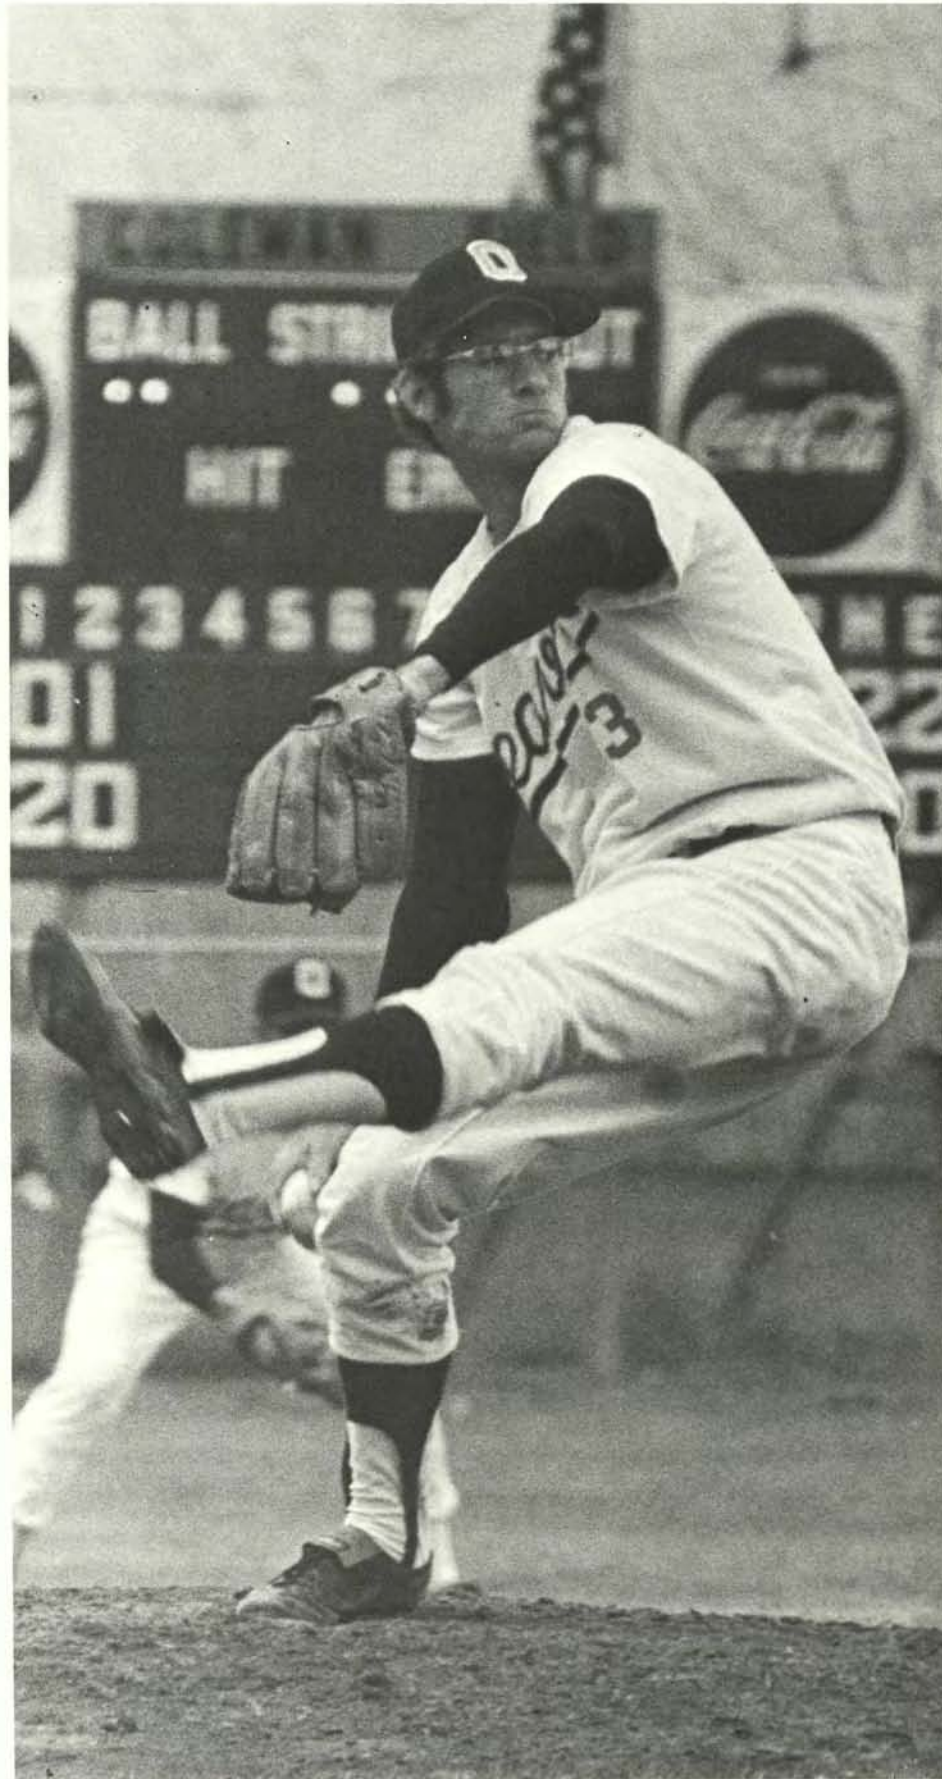

Jim Beal.

Cunningham Stands Out in Season

Sophomore third baseman Dan Cunningham finished a successful season with an average of .405. His 53 hits for the year set a school record and in scoring 27 runs tied another record. Cunningham also tied for the lead in home runs with Mel Cuckovich. Doug Miller and Dave Hummel were among many standouts that will be back this year. Keith Gentz and Gary Lebeck finished their impressive seasons with E.R.A.'s of less than 3.00. Having been impressive at times, the Beavers hope to put together a more complete season this spring.

Keith Gentz had an E.R.A. of 2.24.

OSU Hosts Pac-8 Tennis Tournament

For the first time in Beaver history, OSU hosted the Pac-8 Conference Championship. The OSU netters finished fifth. In other matches, the Beavers proved to be powerful in the Northwest. OSU defeated Oregon twice, University of Washington and Washington State once. In the California tour, Oregon State swept four of its six matches. Coach Paul Valenti has several reasons for expecting a better record in the '72 season. All lettermen but two, Steve Sansone and Raul Hernandez, will be returning. With the addition of new indoor tennis courts, the team will be one of the few in the Northwest to practice all year around. These improvements will make the Beavers a tough, competitive team to contend with in '72.

Crew Strokes Through Rough Waters

Oregon State Crew opened the season with a victory in British Columbia and another in their home waters against Pacific Lutheran. But they soon rowed to defeat in Seattle against the University of Washington and came home to be defeated again by the Husky rowers. The victory over the Ducks in the Willamette was probably the highlight of another mixed season. Coach Karl Drlica made many experimental moves in the past season. With increased experience and knowledge in the sport, added to the large number of returning rowers, the crew team looks promising for the future.

Scott Masingill, winner of the Pacific 8 championship, was rated third on the Oregonian's amateur golf rankings for the year. Masingill and Randy Bojanowski will be expected to head the team next year under the new leadership of Coach Jim Ferguson.

Rugby Team

The highlight of the OSU Rugby Team's season was its landslide victory over Oregon with a score of 9-0. Hope for the Devine Cup was generated by this game as it gave the team a one game lead in the race. The OSU Ruggers competed in the Northwest Intercollegiate Rugby Conference, with competition in Washington and Canada, as well as their regular games with the Bay Area teams.

Men's Volleyball Team

The Men's Volleyball Team, consisting of an AA, A and B team compete with various volleyball clubs throughout the Northwest. The AA team travels to Seattle, Washington, in the spring to participate in a regional tournament. The top teams later compete in the Far West Regional Tournament held in San Francisco, California.

Ski Team

The OSU Ski Team competes in meets in the Southern Division of the Northwest Collegiate Ski Conference. Members are chosen by team tryouts to select the best skiers in each division. The usual events include competition for men and women in slalom, giant slalom, downhill and crosscountry skiing. The advisor, Mr. Richard P. Cramer and Coach Dave McClain led the team through competition at ski areas as far south as Reno and throughout this state. The Ashland Ski-esta, and the conference championship at Crystal Mountain are probably the biggest events of the season.

Pistol Team

The Pistol Team competes in the Willamette Valley Pistol League competition plus a postal type of national competition. The postal competition is governed by the NRA who receives the team's individual high scores. The teams are then ranked on a nation-wide basis. ABOVE LEFT: Clyde Dietz takes careful aim on the fieldhouse range.

Athletic Board

Control and policy-making for intercollegiate athletics at Oregon State University is vested in a committee which includes students, faculty and alumni. The chairman is Mr. Wallace E. Gibbs. Recommendations from this group are passed on to the president of the University for final approval. The administrative head of the department is Mr. James G. Barratt, aided by Mr. Comm G. Hennes, Mr. Dennis Hedges, and Mr. Paul Valenti.

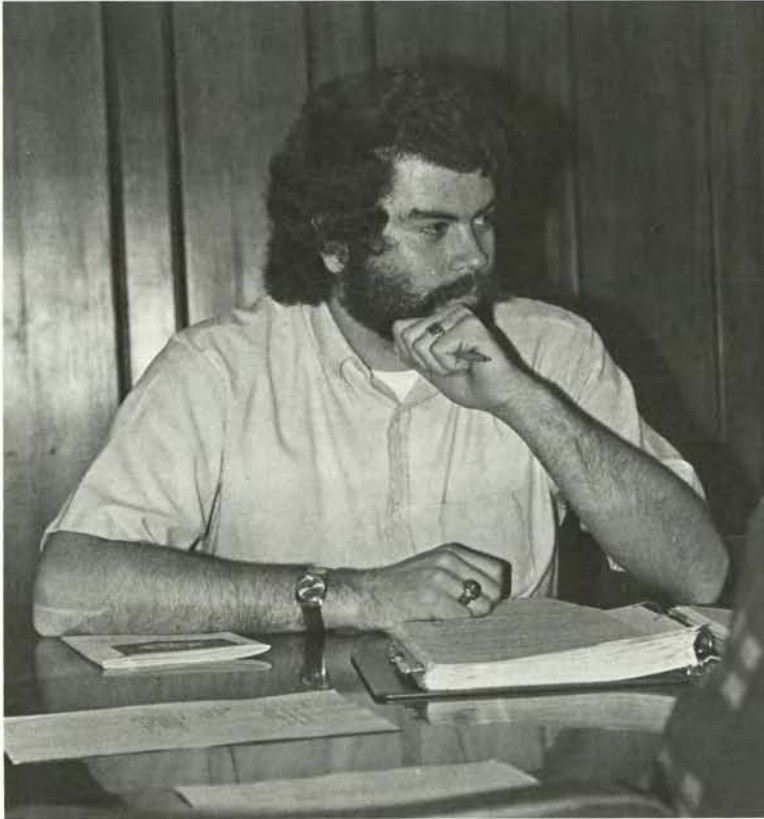

Intercollegiate Athletics tries to operate in the best interest of the student body in the administration of 10 major sports programs. It also finances half of the costs of 19 other recreational sports on the campus.

Recreational Sports Committee

The recreational sports program at OSU presently consists of 19 sports clubs for men and women. Membership in the program is open to all students at Oregon State. Each club participates in inter-collegiate league competition and travels to other campuses on the west coast.

The program is administered by the Recreational Sports Committee which is a University committee consisting of five students and five faculty members. This committee is responsible for the establishment of policies and procedures, funding and safeguarding the interests of each recreational sports club.

Outdoor Program

Now I see the secret of making the best persons,
It is to grow in the open air and to eat and sleep
with the earth.

Walt Whitman

Oregon State students join rally in Eugene to help save the French Pete Wilderness Area.

Soils Club

Acquainting soils students with faculty members and providing further information about soils are the aims of Soils Club. The group makes pH kits used for testing acidity of soils, which are sold to the Bureau of Land Management and the Soils Conservation Service. Funds from this project are used to sponsor dinners and guest speakers. Spring term, the members plan a picnic to honor graduating seniors in soils.

Christian Science

The Christian Science Organization strives to help students meet their everyday challenges in a spiritual sense by offering guidance and a chance to give personal testimony at weekly meetings. An annual university lecture is sponsored by the group. The speaker is chosen from the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

IEEE

IEEE, the student chapter of the Institute for Electrical and Electronic Engineers, provides ten programs during the year with speakers of interest to both engineering majors and the public. IEEE is applying for the Vincent Bendix Award grant of the International IEEE to fund research and development of a traffic controller to check danger areas on the highways. Social functions include the spring term picnic and engineering student-faculty golf tournament.

Poultry Club

Monthly meetings of Poultry Club feature speakers actively engaged in the profession. Slide shows and movies are also used to illustrate advancements in poultry. Club activities include holding barbecues for state organizations such as the Boiler Commission. Two barbecues are normally held by the group at the advisor's home as social functions.

Dick Schaertl.

Forestry Club members cut trees to send to Vietnam for "Operation Christmas Tree."

Milton Rocke.

Forestry Club

Providing social and scholarly interaction between students and faculty, members of Forestry Club promote character, leadership, and fellowship. Their main objective is to inform students of current practices and events within the profession by providing guest speakers at club meetings. Social functions range from Christmas tree cuts to log rolling during the Spring Thaw to tug-of-wars with the varsity football team.

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association works to coordinate class reunions between some 77 different classes. The 52,000 grads representing these classes hear about the University and the Association through the "Oregon Stater." Three sets of reunions are held during fall term for eight different classes. This year these occasions were coordinated with away football games in Atlanta, Georgia; East Lansing, Michigan; and Tucson, Arizona.

Food Technology Club

Food Technology Club gives the food technology student a chance to acquaint himself with the industry by touring food processing plants in Southern California. Other activities include pizza feeds, steak fries, and participation in New Student Orientation. Money for these activities is raised by the annual cider sales.

Crop Science Club

Monthly meetings are used by the Crop Science Club as a means of bringing students and crops faculty together. The organization is sponsoring a field trip during spring term to the Southern California and Arizona areas.

Circle K Club

The Circle K Club functions as a part of the International College Men's Service Organization involved in campus and community activities. Community service projects include working with a mentally retarded Boy Scout troop sponsored by a Corvallis elementary school. Members teach scouts basic skills, provide hikes, campouts, Halloween and Christmas parties, and help with summer camping programs. Campus activities include working on campus civil defense locations for Benton County.

Mounted Drill Team

Weekly practices help to prepare the Mounted Drill Team for performances at invationals throughout the state and competition in the state drill team finals. Sponsoring the annual horse show is a major event of the organization. This year the showing was held at the Benton County Arena during winter term.

American Society of Civil Engineers

As a student chapter of the professional organization of the American Society of Civil Engineers, this group works toward advancement of its field. Technical functions featuring guest speakers and social events are held on a monthly basis. As a benefit to the campus, slide rule classes are taught once each term by the members. In service to the community this year the group made the property survey for the 4-H campground facilities located near Salem.

American Society of Agricultural Engineers

Members of the student branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers sponsored guest speakers for the public to stimulate concern for environmental problems. The club also investigated open field crop burning processes throughout the state.

Collegiate 4-H Club

The Collegiate 4-H Club on campus assists the Extension Service with the 4-H programs throughout the Willamette Valley and provides guidance and leadership for high school 4-H members.

An honorary member of Sea Beavers this year is Orville Octopus who resides at Hoodport, Washington. Pictured above is Orville giving the official Sea Beaver handshake to six club members simultaneously.

Dick Yost, president.

Organized dives to such places as Monterey, Canada and Los Angeles are offered by the club along with regular weekend dives to some of the closer coastal areas. Scuba classes taught by a certified NAUI instructor are also available.

Sea Beavers

Sea Beaver—not by John Masefield

I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and sky,
And all I ask is the rest of the club and a dive plan to try,
And my wet suit and my mask clear and my regulator working,
And my tank full on a bright day and a weekend beginning.

I must go down to the seas again, for the call of the underwater
Is a wild call and a clear call that beckons son and daughter;
And all I ask is a planned trip to Canada or Monterey,
Hoods Canal or Los Angeles, even Newport or Coos Bay.

I must go down to the seas again, to the varied marine life,
To the flora's place and the fauna's place where it's silent and without strife;
And all I ask is the company of a "buddy" fellow diver,
And a bracing drink and long rest when the weekend's over.

Judo Club includes a membership of 35 men. Ten of these members compose the team which competes with as many as 20 teams in each tournament throughout the Northwest. The club is affiliated with the Japanese Kodokan form of judo, and their ranking instructor, Harou Kato, holds a third degree black belt. A minimum of five years of constant practice is usually required to attain a black belt. Three other black belts and five brown belts are also in the group.

Horticulture Club

As a service to staff and students of the horticulture and extension departments, the Horticulture Club publishes the Horticulture Extension Annual. During winter term the club attended the three day Northwest Agriculture Show in Portland, Oregon. Members sponsored a plant sale during Beaver Open House in order to finance their trip to California over spring vacation.

Future Farmers of America

Presenting student views of the new educational materials is one way the Future Farmers of America can apply their leadership training in vocational education for agriculture. Membership is organized for students interested in agricultural education. Members are planning a city park clean-up in the spring as well as volunteer work at the Farm Home.

Whithycombe Club

Open to any student interested in animal science, Whithycombe Club is a chapter of the National Block and Bridle Club professional fraternity. Several opportunities are available to acquaint students with industry through field trips to production livestock ranches, quarter horse farms, sheep ranches, and packing houses. The club participates in the Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland and also hosts the Whithycombe Alumni Breakfast, presenting an annual honorary Whithycombe Club award to an outstanding contributor to the Oregon livestock industry.

American Institute of Chemical Engineers

The AICE, a student chapter at OSU, is affiliated with the national organization of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. The club sponsors speakers from various industries and the academic community to promote professional approaches to chemical engineering.

Italian Club

Organized last year for students interested in Italian, most members speak the language. The club membership includes anyone interested in Italy's culture, or those who are of Italian descent. Films are shown during meetings to acquaint members with Italy and travel opportunities. The club also sponsors dinner parties, many of which are Italian in nature.

Ski Club

Ski Club, one of the largest clubs on campus, traveled to the slopes of Mt. Bachelor every weekend during winter term. Ski Club members also participate in an annual trip to Mt. Ashland for the Skiasta and a spring term trip to Sun Valley or Aspen. The club's main objective during the skiing year is to provide inexpensive transportation to the slopes for members.

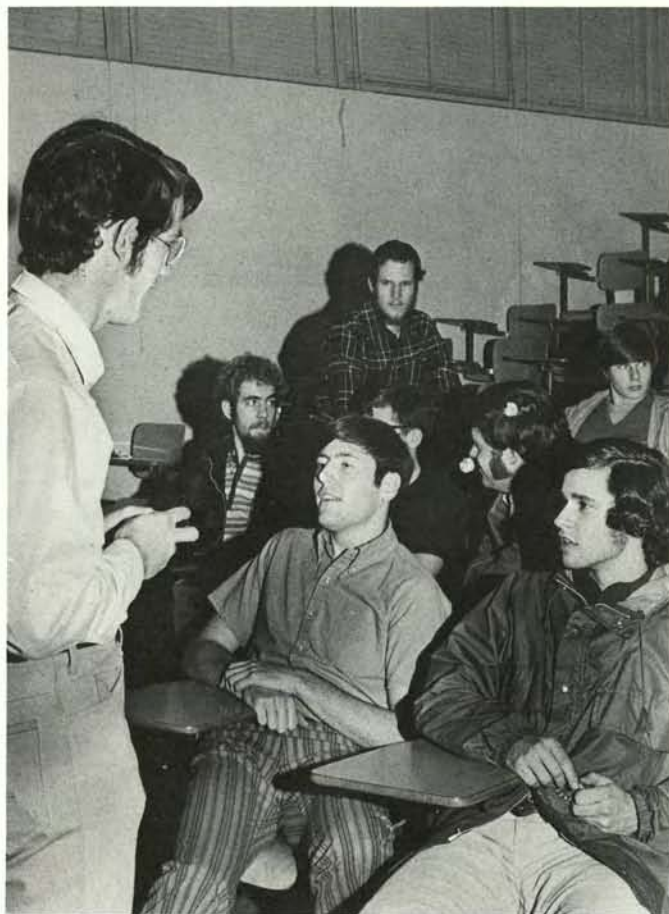

OSU Mountain Club members display the club flag on top of Mt. Shasta.

Members practice snow climbing techniques at the Santiam Pass.

Mountain Club

Originated in 1948, the Mountain Club provides opportunities for outdoor activities to students interested in climbing and camping. The OSU Mountain Club is the only college mountain club to have the club flag flying on top of Mt. Everest. Club activities include mountain climbing, winter camping, snow shoeing, and skiing. Meetings are held to discuss climbing techniques and available outdoor camping equipment.

Model United Nations

The Model United Nations this year is hosting the regional conference in March for 20 colleges from Oregon, Washington, and Canada. Serving as representatives from Albania and Mongolia, the group arranged all mock committee meetings which parallel those of the United Nations. Later in the year the participants attend the Far West Conference sponsored by Seattle University for 130 colleges, involving 1,200 students from throughout the Western states.

Dairy Club

A field trip to modern Northern California dairies and processing plants highlighted Dairy Club functions this year. Other club activities included sponsoring guest speakers and offering tours through the OSU dairy.

American Institute of Industrial Engineers

The American Institute of Industrial Engineers, a professional society with membership open to all industrial engineering students, organizes field trips, sponsors social functions, and provides guest speakers to discuss job opportunities with club members.

Society of Automotive Engineers

Maintaining close association with the National Society of Automotive Engineers, club membership is open to anyone interested in transportation. Mr. Art Poland, a professional race car driver, and Mr. William Lear, speaking on steam cars, were among several of the club's guest speakers this year.

Christian Athletes

Christian Athletes is an organization providing fellowship and opportunities for all athletes to assemble for discussions relating to Christ and scripture readings from the Bible as it relates to sports. Meetings are open to all interested athletes.

Sky Divers

Promoting sport parachuting, fun jumping, enjoyment, improving parachuting skills and acquainting members with professional jumping techniques are the aims of the Sky Divers Club. Membership is opened to any interested student and experience is not needed. The club sponsors parachute meets with other schools, contest jumping for experienced jumpers, and trains members to parachute.

Orange O

Orange O is a recreational service honorary open to any woman on campus. Members usher at OSU athletic events. This year the group sponsored a tea for retiring instructor Miss Betty Lynd Thompson.

Eta Kappa Nu

Eta Kappa Nu is a service honor society for junior and senior students majoring in electrical engineering. Members publish the Electrical Engineering Directory annually. They also organize a picture panel honoring graduating seniors.

Raindrops

Raindrops, OSU's dance team, performs at various home football and basketball games during the year. Girls are selected in the spring on the basis of interviews and try-outs. They are planning to travel to Mexico City with the basketball team on a cultural exchange. In order to raise money for the trip, they acted as shopping guides for downtown merchants for the Christmas holidays.

Encore

Encore, an ASOSU committee, is in charge of organization, selection, staging, and ushering of all campus concerts, and any paid entertainment at Gill Coliseum. People from every class are on the committee.

Little Sisters of Minerva

These girls assist with Beaver Open House, blood drives, and act as hostesses for Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Providing service and true sisterhood to their big brothers is the main objective of Little Sisters of Minerva.

Lambda Kappa Sigma

This women's honorary recognizes outstanding junior and senior I and II students in pharmacy. Members assist in organizing publicity for cancer drives, decorating and serving for pharmacy banquets, and they also sponsor a spring tea for pharmacists and women associated with pharmacy. This summer members will be represented by their delegate in St. Louis at the national Lambda Kappa Sigma convention.

Mortar Board

These senior women, chosen for their leadership, service, and activities on campus and the community, work throughout the state scheduling speaking engagements in an effort to inform and improve relationships between OSU and the public. Planning an advising program was organized for this purpose.

Tau Beta Pi

Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary, recognizes outstanding engineering majors. Membership selection is based on distinguished scholarship and character. Formulation of a scholarship from club funds is being organized to honor outstanding engineering students.

Sigma Delta Chi

Upperclassmen who show promise and ability for professional journalism is Sigma Delta Chi's, national journalistic society, main criterion for selection. Yearly activities include selection of editor and manager for publication of the Fusser's Guide and organization of sales. Representing Sigma Delta Chi at the National Convention in Washington D.C. were members, Christian Anderson, Jim Edmundson, and Claudia McKinnon.

Pi Tau Sigma

Founded to foster high ideals in the engineering profession this chemical engineering honorary stimulates departmental sponsored activities, promoting mutual welfare of its members.

Beta Alpha Psi

Beta Alpha Psi, the honorary for accounting students, plans several events to help further the members' studies. Field trips to public accounting firms and various speakers come and talk to the members during the year.

Phi Eta Sigma

Phi Eta Sigma, a freshman scholastic honorary for men, selects members who have attained a 3.5 grade point average or better. This year members headed management of the arrangement committee for the MU Christmas Party and also sponsored a dance.

Alpha Zeta

This organization recognizes outstanding male students in the field of agriculture. Members work on curriculum adjustments and evaluation. They advise students in the school and recognize outstanding advisors. This year a study was conducted on exchange students with New Zealand.

Alpha Phi Omega

This year Alpha Phi Omega, a service organization, and their auxiliary, Phettes, donated games and radios to the infirmary. Other campus activities included painting ballot boxes and sponsoring the Ugly Man contest for Dad's Weekend.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA—L TO R: Jim Heidenrich, Karen Kelly, Karen Fullaway, Jamie Emerson, Will Eastman, Rick Sauer, Glenn Eaton, L.B. Ortmeier.

Famacs

Serving as hostesses for Phi Kappa Sigma, this service honorary contributes to the house activities. As little sisters, members attend meals every Tuesday night, sponsor candied apple sales on Halloween and organize caroling for local hospitals at Christmas.

Crescents

Crescents are hostesses for Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Chosen in the fall the girls remain with the organization until they graduate. They serve as big sisters to the pledge class, and organize various activities for the house throughout the year.

Euterpe

Selection for membership in Euterpe, women's music honorary, is based on the individual's interest in music and scholastic achievement. Members sponsor a recital annually and usher for formal campus concerts, Friends of Chamber Music and Corvallis-OSU Music Association.

Kappa Delta Pi

Members of Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary for upper classmen, are planning for an education center and are working on revisions of educational programs. Teacher evaluation forms have been formulated by the group to help students. Membership is based on previous scholastic achievement in the field of education.

Beaver Belles

As the official hostesses for the athletic department, Beaver Belles provide service at training tables and recruiting banquets, and greet visiting teams. Members attend all sports events and attempt to hold the big "O" the team runs through at football and basketball games.

Omicron Nu

Junior and senior women are selected for Omicron Nu, home economics honorary, on the basis of leadership, scholarship and activities. Members serve sponsored activities as hostesses and ushers. They promote home economics and international fellowship with a "Meet the Dean Night", a dessert honoring outstanding sophomore home economics students and an annual alumni breakfast.

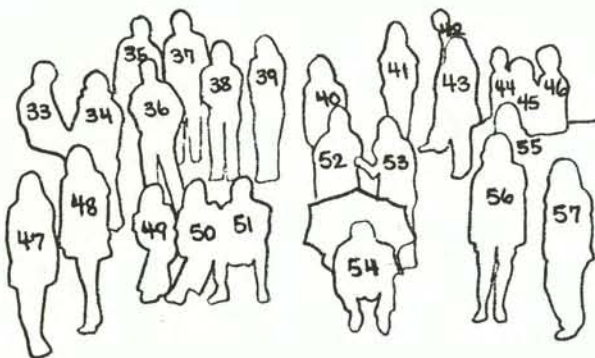

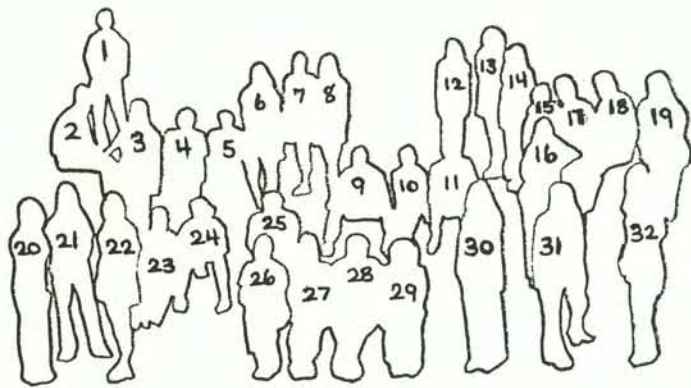

OMICRON NU—L TO R: Sharon Brown, Kathleen O'Conner, Sue Warrell, Sue Parker, Roxie Entriken, Susan King, Connie Weaver, Joyce Hayes, Karen Barnard.

Talons and Thanes

Members of this sophomore service honorary are selected from each respective living group on the basis of leadership, character, and scholarship. They provide service in a wide variety of campus activities which include Mom's and Dad's Weekend, registration, Homecoming, and convocations. They also give campus tours during Beaver Open House, and this year helped with a campfire girls group of mentally retarded children.

Blue Key

As juniors selected for membership spring term, Blue Key is a scholarship and leadership honorary for senior men. Participation in Beaver Open House, Administration Open House, and Chancellor's Tours are service projects for the year. Recognizing good teaching methods is also a sponsored project which the group encourages through teacher evaluation ballots.

Iota Delta Pi

Members of Tau Tau Tau chapter, a branch of the National Union honorary, contribute to both Memorial Union and all-campus activities. Candidates are chosen on the basis of their work with the Memorial Union Program Council and continued participation in campus activities.

Composed of 40 freshmen women who work with the rally squad to promote spirit, Rook Rousers attend both Rook and varsity basketball and football games. The girls act as guides for Beaver Open House and help organize and participate in Dad's Weekend activities.

Theta Sigma Phi

Spring finds the members of this journalism honorary busy formulating plans for Matrix Table, a banquet they sponsor which recognizes outstanding women on campus and in Corvallis. These sophomore, junior and senior women help publish the Fusser's Guide and write a newspaper column for the Gazette Times.

Mu Beta Beta

This national 4-H honorary recognizes service in 4-H and scholarship among its members. Students go on speaking tours. This year they spoke for the new 4-H foundation in Oregon.

Sigma Tau

This honorary is open to all students in the field of engineering. Membership is based on scholarship. A banquet is held each year in honor of new initiates.

Life in a Co-op: give-and-take, petty hassles, rough housing, and good times

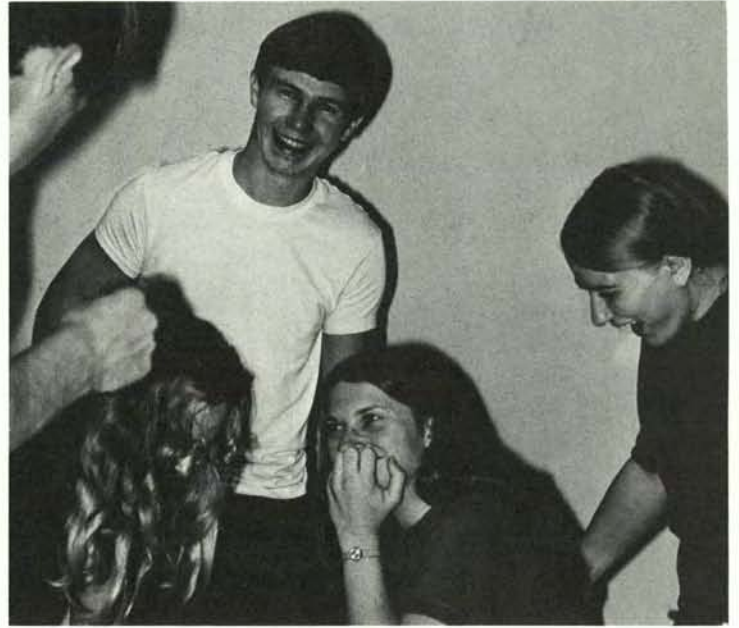

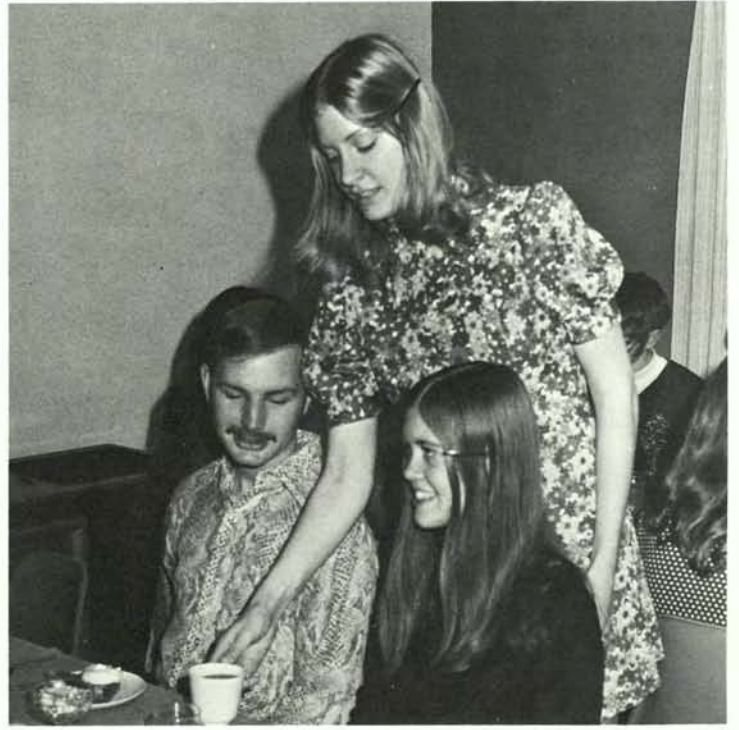

... "Glory, glory and salvation, fifteen days 'till our vacation, 'till we leave this Beaver station for the land of civilization! (pound, pound, pound, rattle, rattle, pound, rattle, pound, pound)" ... "Candle passing! Tonight? It's just gotta be Felicia Farkwire! She and Arnold haven't been around much lately - hmmm - if she can do it, I can do it!" ... "Hey! Can anyone take my duty this weekend? No?!? - Aw shit, I'll just leave it!" ... "Has anyone seen the second floor toilet lately?" ... "Oh God! Who hasn't done the showers?" ... "Will everyone please report to the living room - we are being serenaded" ... "Phone call on line three" ... "Isn't there ever a phone on this campus that isn't busy!" ... "Is there a twenty-oner on the floor?" ... "An all-house clean-up at five o'clock in the morning? Sorry, I can't make it. Class conflict" ...

Inter-cooperative Council

ICC is the primary governing body of the co-op system. The organization's duties vary from regulating social functions and visitations policies, to acting as an advisory board for any problems the co-ops may have, and serving as a publications committee for the system as a whole. Officers to the ICC are elected at the end of winter term, with each house electing one representative. The ICC's role in overseeing last year's recycling project was carried through to this year also, though on a more limited scale.

Greeks: a unique living experience

Frat rats ... prestige cliques ... BMOC snobs ... conceit ... presenting Miss Susie Sorority ... OR ... unity ... awareness ... brotherhood ... caring ... pride ... Panhellenic ... chapter ... firesides ... pre-functions ... pinnings ... exchanges ... the IFC Sing ... formal dinner ... rush ... snap pledging ... initiation ... legacies ... phone duty ... ding ... memories ... lasting friendships ... and always Friday night!

Panhellenic

Seeking individualism, striving for self improvement, yet working for unity and equality among sororities are the goals of Panhellenic Council. Members are selected from each house and work to resolve issues concerning the Greek system. Delegates organize and evaluate rush activities and indirectly supervise initiation, house and scholastic policies. Officers comprise the executive board and manage the Panhellenic office. Activities include organization of an annual Panhellenic luncheon, providing visitation programs to acquaint high school students with the Greek system, and working on service projects for the community.

Inter-fraternity Council

The governing body of all national fraternities on the OSU campus is the Inter-fraternity Council. Representatives, elected from every fraternity, work jointly in establishing rush and scholastic policies and handling problems common to all houses. Scholarships are awarded by the council to students who have made outstanding contributions to IFC. The council also sponsors a foreign student program whereby three foreign students have the opportunity to live in several fraternities throughout the year. Fraternity Review Day, an orientation day to Greek living on campus for high school seniors, is held in the spring.

Junior Panhellenic

Members of Junior Panhellenic, selected by each sorority pledge class, meet to evaluate rush policies and to discuss pledge activities within the sorority system. The 30 representatives work jointly with Junior Interfraternity Council planning all pledge social and service functions. Activities include selling Santa Grams during the Christmas season for their annual money making project and organizing programs to acquaint others with the Greek system. Members are working with other living group councils in orienting high school seniors with living situations on the Oregon State campus.

Residence Halls: towering buildings of windows

Nine by ten, two hard beds, two closets, two desks, a picture window of a parking lot, one roommate . . . and with that roommate comes an assortment of boy or girlfriends, his pet lobster in a pickle jar on the window sill, and eating soda crackers and pretzels until 3:25 a.m. . . your roommate uses your wardrobe and never studies but holds parties in his half of the room the night before your midterm . . . he gets a 3.12 while you slave to pull out a 1.5 . . . buzzers going off, poker games, and parties accompanied by cries of "shut up" and the ceaseless banging on walls by the few who study . . . water fights in the stairwells, down the halls, out the windows . . . the sense of adventure riding the elevator and not knowing whether you'll make it to your floor or whether you will be stuck between second and third . . . rolling over in the middle of the night and seeing two bodies in the bed across the room . . .

Winter term finds the thermostat stuck at 50 degrees while spring term the heat comes on full force ... the drinking buddies and friends you sat up and gossiped with all night who you'll never forget ... a towering building of windows, plastic furniture and experiences that few can't help but remember.

Residence Hall Council

Residence Hall Council serves as a coordinator of activities common to the 12 separate residence halls on campus. This year RHC initiated an interhall paper, The Residence, in order to facilitate better communication between residence halls. The paper is published bi-weekly with information regarding scheduled events within the halls. Providing films, copy machines, personal property insurance, and evaluation of coed living and visitation policies have also been major projects for RHC this year.

Seniors: what now

That perpetual question becomes a reality. Four years of the "friendly and scholarly campus" and for what purpose?

You are confronted with the fact that this is your last year to decorate for the MU Christmas Party; listen to Reverend Hubert in the Quad; sit in the commons between classes with a warm cup of coffee; sleep in the music lounge; hoard bookstore receipts; play the Oregon State game—registration; and meet your friends for a bring your own; your last year to procrastinate . . .

Independent living: leftovers and Goofy's every night

Scattered in the corner of your world, between books and dishes, you can find the comfort of your own independence. To be an independent — it's a great feeling to suddenly see four old walls becoming your life.

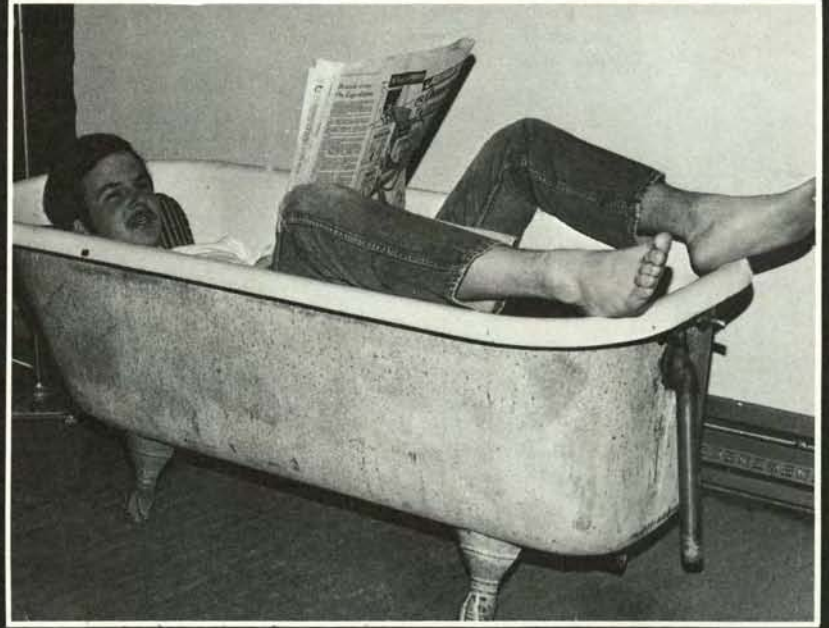

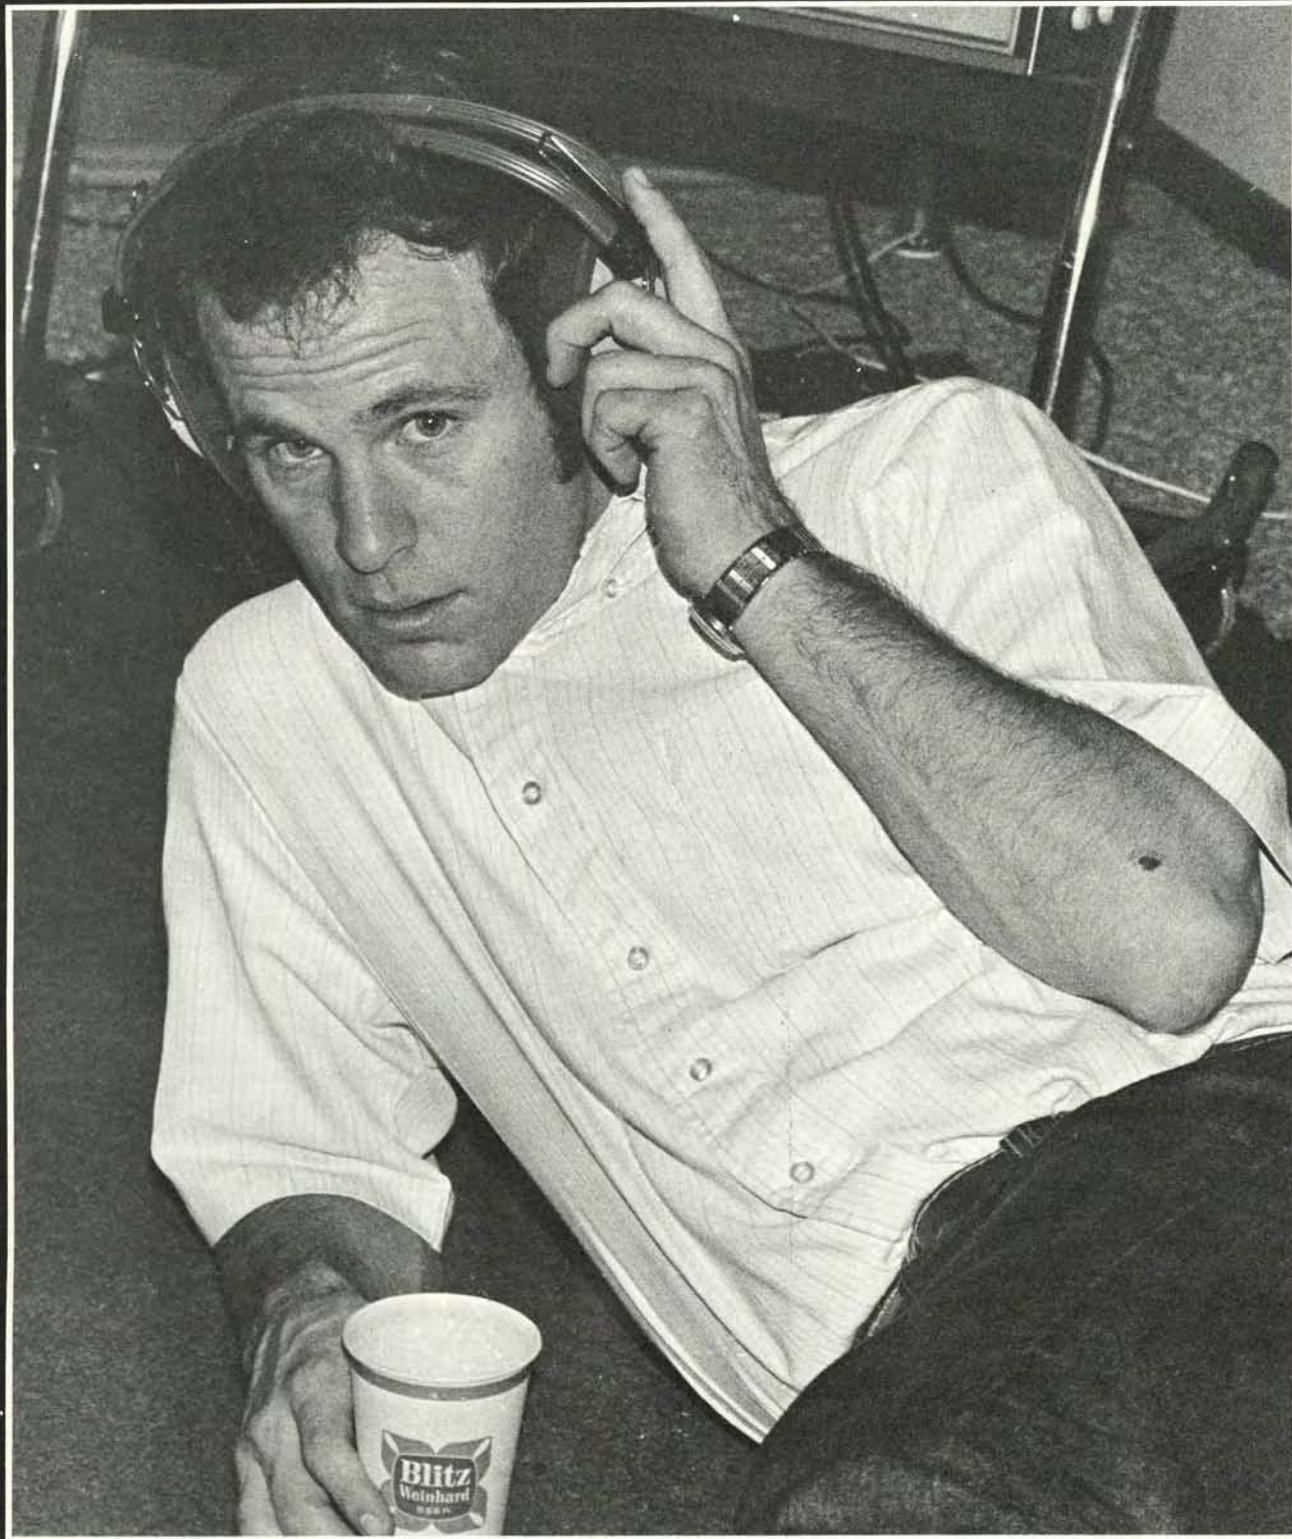

The typical college apartment. You know the one I'm talking about. You probably live in it. A garbage disposal that disposes of rags and silverware; living room furniture that is unrelated not only in color scheme, but era as well; lumpy mattresses; gliding toilet seats, a freezer that needs to be defrosted three times a month in order to store a minimum of four days supply of meat; lots of orange warped linoleum; from your scenic sliding doors in the living room, you have a lovely view of someone else's scenic sliding doors into their living room and the guy upstairs must be a 500 pound tap dancer. How else could he make that much noise?

But it's home and as the rain drowns out the noise of pots, pans and bickering you forget about all the lonely things and that time you watched the cake you spent two hours making crumble in your tears. Here you sit again with the same old four walls. Yet, you have your freedom, you can make your own rules. So the hell with loneliness anyway, the kegs are here! It sure feels good to be back home.
