AWS Nominates Girls For 1945 Oregon State Barometer

Misses Green, McPherson Vie For Presidency

Election Wednesday At 1 at Assembly In Museum Building

Candidates to fill the offices of Associated Women Students during '44-45 will be introduced at a special assembly Wednesday at 1 o'clock in the museum building. Nominees for president will give campaign speeches and nominations for officers can be made from the audience. Those selected for officers are as follows:

Eris Green, Virginia McPherson, president; Helen Harstad, Cleo Belle Wakefield, vice president; Marge Olsson, Lois Richards, treasurer; Joanne Leonard, Phyllis McMahan, secretary; Florence Sims and Joyce Birkmeier, sergeant-at-arms; Donna Rae Hill and Margaret Buswell, publicity.

Sponsored by etiquette board, Ernestine Cotta, Ann Fleming, Beth DePenning and Jean Peterson will present a skit. Virginia Steed, accompanied by Kay Ross, will sing several selections.

Ballots for voting will be distributed before convocation. All girls must have dues receipts to vote. Women who have not paid their dues for fall and winter terms may do so in the AWS office from 4-6 today.

The assembly is under the direction of Mary Alice Richardson, senior in home economics.

Reception to Honor Baxters, ASTU Glee

Cleo Belle Wakefield General Chairman

Bishop and Mrs. Bruce R. Baxter and the ASTU Glee club will be honored with a reception held in Wesley hall immediately following the vesper service Sunday night, March 19. Bishop Baxter will give the service, beginning at 5:30 in the sanctuary of the First Methodist church. The program will include music by the ASTU Glee club and the combined church choirs.

Cleo Belle Wakefield, sophomore in home economics is general chairman for the reception and open house. Assisting her are Betty Stutz, tea tables; Carol Thorton, hall decorations; Mary Belle Walker, food; Etha Morris, hosts and hostesses; Ann Beckius, name tags; Gladys Beckendorf, publicity; Maxine Brohl, publication; Stella Spears, special music; Barbara Sweeney, favors; Elaine Leonard, servers; Bessie Davies, guest book.

All students are invited to come and meet Bishop Baxter who is known as a youth leader here in the Northwest, and also as the former president of Willamette university.

ROTC's To Battle ASTU's For Basketball Championship

Two Teams Win Chance to Play On Army Day

Ex-Oregon Staters Lose Key Players To Ft. Benning

By Alice Howard

It will be the former ROTC boys against Co. E, ASTU team, clashing for the Oregon State soldier basketball championship at 3:30 Army day. Tickets are 25 cents and will be on sale at the ticket office in the MU building Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 1 to 5 o'clock, according to Bill Markel, business manager. Proceeds from the game will be given to the Red Cross.

The former OSC team decisively won the first battalion championship by trampling all opposition. They ran up big scores in defeating their opponents.

Co. E Wins Privilege

Co. E won the right to play in the final game by winning the championship of the second battalion.

Although the ROTC team lost some of its key players when the infantry men were sent to Ft. Benning, Ga., they have not lost any of their finesse and scoring power that mark them as the team to be watched Saturday.

Many people have no doubts about the outcome of the game when these former Oregon State men meet the relatively inexperienced Co. E team.

"We Won't Be Beaten"

The Co. E men, however, tell us not to be too sure of the outcome. "The winner isn't decided until the game is over," said Bud Hasse, Co. E representative. "If those ROTC men think this will be an easy game for them, they are in for a big surprise. We haven't been beaten yet, and we don't intend to be," continued Hasse.

Playing for the ROTC team are Densley, forward; Carey, forward; Harper, center; McClusky, guard; Meyer, guard, and Verling, substitute. Playing for Co. E are Cooper, forward; Singer, forward; Muscett, center; Reid, guard; D'Attilio, guard; Osman, Whittier, Powers and Cook, substitutes.

Concert Series To Star Pinza

Ezio Pinza, basso of the Metropolitan Opera company, will be heard in a recital on the Oregon State college concert series, under auspices of the educational activities board, Tuesday night, March 21, at 8 o'clock in the men's gymnasium. Students will be admitted upon presentation of student identification cards.

The program presented by Mr. Pinza will consist mostly of operatic numbers, but he will also sing popular numbers as encores. Pinza, who has been hailed as the world's greatest basso, is said to be at the peak of his art today. His voice is said to be as warm and flexible as a tenor's, yet deeper and richer than a baritone's.

Debate Squads Go To Linfield College

Inter-college Tourney March 13 to 15

Dr. Earl W. Wells, director of oratory, and Paul X. Knoll, assistant speech professor, left yesterday with the speech squads to participate in the 14th annual northwestern inter-collegiate forensic league tournament. The tournament is held at Linfield college and will last three days.

Dinners to Be Thursday Night At Sororities

Houses to Exchange Twelve Girls Each In Rotating Style

Sorority exchange dinners will take place from 6:15 to 7:30 Thursday night, Helen Wright, junior in education and chairman, announced yesterday. Dress for the occasion will be dressy sport.

Exchanges will be alphabetically according to houses, Miss Wright explained. Twelve girls from Alpha Chi Omega will go to the Alpha Delta Pi house; twelve Alpha Delta Pi girls will visit the Alpha Gamma Delta house, etc. Listed in alphabetical order the houses are Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Alpha Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Zeta, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Kappa.

Bert to Take Lead In Term Comedy

Jack Bert, senior in engineering, will take the part of Chester "Bud" Norton, male romantic lead, in the term play, "Personal Appearance," to be given in the museum building at 8:15 Friday and Saturday nights.

Bud Norton is really quite a genius when it comes to mechanics, but he can't seem to manage his love life nearly as well. He has invented a machine to synchronize sound and pictures, Carlo Arden, the movie actress, says it will revolutionize the motion picture industry. Hoping to lure Bud to Hollywood, Carole promises him that her husband, Benjamin Z. Fineberg, well-known producer, will see that his invention is put on the market. Joyce Struthers, Bud's fiancée, objects forcefully to the outlandish movie that is about to take place. This revolves the merry triangle.

JUDGES OF THE AFGHAN DRIVE include Bill Gibson, Dorothy Gerling, Jerry Sall, Lucille Johnson and Jean Butler.

Red Cross Fund Drive Receives $5317 from OSC

Oregon State college campus has donated $5317.08 to the Red Cross nation-wide war fund drive, Betty Saum, junior in home economics and chairman of the drive, announced yesterday.

This sum includes the faculty's present sum of $3850. E. C. Allworth, manager and secretary of the Memorial Union, and Theo. Yarian, professor of secretarial science, are in charge of the faculty drive which will close March 31. Any future proceeds will be added to the fund at that time.

The remaining amount of $1167.08 is composed of the contributions of the ASTU; the student body and the proceeds of the Associated Women Students production, the Beaverette Burlesque. The students gave $883.38. The ASTU council turned over $443 after the March 1 payday. The Beaverette Burlesque proceeds were $140.70 which were also added to the general total.

To fill the quota for the campus, the Victory center representative of each living group was instructed to collect a $1 contribution from every student. On payment of the $1, a membership card and a Red Cross pin, in the form of a red cross on a white banner, were given to each contributor.

"Thanks to the cooperation of the students," Miss Saum said, "the results of the drive have exceeded all expectations."

Working with Miss Saum, were Lorelei Keep, junior in home economics; Lucille Vaughan, sophomore in home economics; and Harriet Avery, freshman in education.

Army Day Programs To Be Sold Friday

Souvenir Army day programs will go on sale in the Memorial Union on Friday, announced E. J. Dryden, ASTU, editor.

The programs will include the complete schedule of the day's events, all committees, committee members, rosters of the fancy drill platoons, co-ed drill squads, singing sections, members of the basketball teams, officials and many other interesting items in connection with Army Day, said Dryden.

George Peters 4-H Agent for Klamath

George D. Peters, '43 in agriculture and football player of the Rosebowl game, was recently appointed county 4-H club agent of Klamath county, L. J. Allen, assistant state club leader, announced Wednesday.

Peters succeeds Clifford C. Jenkins, 1934 graduate of the school of agriculture, who has resigned to engage in farming in Klamath county. Jenkins has been club agent in the county for the past six years.

5 Co-ed Teams Will Compete On Army Day

Finalists Selected In Eliminations Held Yesterday

The five co-ed drill teams to compete for the girls' drill championship of Oregon State college on Army Day are Phi Gamma Delta, Chi Omega, Linden hall, Sigma Kappa and Kappa Kappa Gamma. Marion Carl, junior in home economics and chairman of the judging committee, said yesterday.

Finalists were selected in an elimination contest held yesterday at 5 o'clock behind the women's gym. The judges were Captain George S. Phillips, Lieutenant Lyle R. Layman and Lieutenant Frank N. Stacey. Trophy to Be Given

The winning team will be awarded a trophy by the ASTU council. It will be on display in the Memorial Union building this week, Miss Carl said.

OSC Faculty In Convention

Seven Oregon State faculty members will participate in the program of the northwest divisional convention of the western association of teachers of speech in the Marion hotel in Salem, March 15, 16 and 17, Dr. Earl W. Wells, professor of speech and president of the association, said yesterday.

Oregon State students will present their first production of "Personal Appearance" as a special part of the program. "Speech in War and Reconstruction" is the theme for the convention. Luncheon to Open Convention

The annual banquet, with Dr. Wells presiding, will open the convention program Wednesday. Greetings will be extended by Dr. G. Herbert Smith, president of Willamette university, and Dr. V. D. Bain, assistant superintendent in the state department of education of Oregon. The final round of the after-dinner speaking contest of the college tournament will make up part of the dinner program.

Keane to Take ASME Presidency

George R. Keane, ASTU, was elected president at the meeting of the American society of mechanical engineers last Friday.

Charles W. Brister, ASTU, is vice-president; Blaine C. Watts, ASTU, treasurer; Homer C. Glover, ASTU, secretary; and Miles Patrick, ASTU, publicity chairman.

An inspection trip to Portland March 25 and 26 to visit shipyards and other industries of mechanical nature is planned, A. D. Hughes, associate professor of mechanical engineering and honorary chairman of the club, said yesterday.

Herbert C. Brodahl, ASTU, gave an informal talk on "Art as a Vocation." "Sales Engineering" was the subject of a discussion by G. E. Morris, ASTU.

Dance to Present Pin-up Finalists

A rally dance will be held in the Memorial Union ballroom Thursday at 4:30 o'clock. The rally dance will be under the direction of Lyn Mockbee, sophomore in secretarial science.

Give Gypsy Dance

"A Gypsy Jive" dance was given by the girls of the Phi Gamma Delta house Friday night from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock, it was announced by Jean Peterson, freshman in lower division and social chairman of the house.

YANKEE DOODLE DANDIES

SECOND LT. INEZ MARGARET BLAUVELT, '43 in education, recently received her commission after completing eight weeks of officers training at Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C.

SECOND LT. REGINALD H. SMITH, '43 in engineering, graduated from the signal corps officers candidate course February 21. Lt. Smith has been sent to Harvard for a six-months' course after which he will go into active service.

SECOND LT. BOB BEASON, '43 in engineering, has received the purple heart award for a wound received from a sniper's bullet somewhere in Italy. A paratrooper for awhile, Bob was transferred to the infantry after suffering a broken ankle in a jump. He was a member of the national guard when called to active duty and he has been overseas for a year.

ENSIGN STEPHEN BESSE, '44 in agriculture, is serving active duty in the Pacific.

PVT. RICHARD MAX PECK, '43 in science, is stationed at Aero Medical Laboratory, Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

ENSIGN CHARLES BECKER, USNR, '43 in education, is supervising the women's industrial work in the Mare Island Navy yard, Vallejo, Calif.

LT. KIRK VERNON BELL, '43 in engineering, received his commission after finishing OSC earlier this year.

meet the president . . .

Dorothy English
Our personality this week is very definitely versatile. Her name is Dorothy English; address, The Pines; eyes, brown; hair, black; height, 5 feet 7 inches. What is especially interesting (to the fellows) she has, and I quote: "No heart interest worth quoting." She did, however, agree that the ASTU's will certainly be missed spring term.
This little lady manages to keep herself busy. As president of Independent Student Council she has several important jobs. These include being on the Student Body Judiciary board and being a member of the Student Affairs committee.
She is now a senior in Home Economics, but even with her class work she has many activities on the campus. President of Women's Athletic association, treasurer of the Home Economics club, and vice-president of Westminster are a few of these. She also has taken her share of honors and is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, education honor society; Omicron Nu, Home Economics honor society; Parthenia, physical education honor society; and Orange O, girls' athletic letter club. An excellent athlete, she enjoys such things as bicycling and badminton. Good music has its part in her life, too.
Dot plans to teach school and would like a position that included both physical education and home economics. One of her ambitions is to conduct a cross-country youth hostel tour on bicycles. Her pep and her power to get things done should put her on your "must know" list.

Penniless Girls, Queer Corsages At Shu Shu Swing

By Lois O'Donnell
Well, girls, how does it feel to be on the paying end of the deal? Of course this question refers to "Shu Shu Swing," Mortar Board's annual ball held Saturday night in the Memorial Union ballroom.
Co-eds found out the hard way how much it costs for dance tickets, dinners, cokes, cigarettes, corsages and after-the-dance feeds. With money running short, some girls had to beg, borrow or steal to pay the mounting bills. One co-ed was overheard approaching a friend saying, "Man to man, could you lend me a dime? I have to buy this fellow a coke."
Corsages of every variety of green garden vegetables adorned the fellow's lapels. The corsages were not of the usual floral design. Cigarettes, cigars, and corn-cob pipes were hidden among the green leaves of the vegetables in some corsages. One ingenious arrangement was centered around a lemon. A couple of girls really splurged and bought orchids for their dates.
For one evening, dancers in the Memorial Union ballroom were transferred into a Chinese atmosphere. Dragons in all their glory glared down from the walls. For buddha worshippers an altar had been erected against one wall. Black curtains with Chinese writing were draped across the entrances to the ballroom. All of the signs were written in Chinese characters of black, gold and red.
Girls had their chance to show the fellows the little courtesies they expect and want, as each girl did the honors for a change. Holding open doors, ordering food, offering and lighting cigarettes—the girls did everything but lead their dates on the dance floor.

Dedicated to Men . . .

If you smile at one, he thinks you're flirting.
If you don't flirt, he thinks you're an iceberg.
If you let him kiss you, he wishes you were more reserved.
If you don't, he seeks consolation somewhere else.
If you flatter him he thinks you're silly—and he's probably not wrong.
If you don't, he's sure you don't understand and appreciate him.
If you talk of love and romance, he jumps to the conclusion that you're asking him to marry you.
If you don't, he thinks you're hard-hearted and just leading him on.
If you're a good girl, he wonders why you are not human.
If you're not, he's disgusted.
If you smoke, he doesn't want you to.
If you don't, he thinks you're a poor sport.
If you drink, he thinks you're cheap.
If you don't drink, he'll get one that does.
If you go out with other men, he thinks you're fickle.
If you don't, he thinks no one else wants you.
MEN, God bless them.
THEY DON'T KNOW WHAT THEY WANT.

TETE-A-TETE— Woman's Page . . . RH . . .
Since the army is pulling out so soon . . . and all of them, too, how sad . . . we must yield to their wishes while they are still here . . . they want this page for a big Army Day issue Friday, so we now have another Women's Page almost before the last one is finished.
Speaking of ARMY DAY, the boys are really making plans for a big flourish on Saturday, as their official farewell to school days at Oregon State . . . we'll bet our last dollar that the DRILL TEAMS will get a big turnout from the male populace . . . from the sounds of "Hut two" from various coaches, there should be a lot of good prospective sergeants among the ASTU.
And a lot of good prospective glamour boys . . . "The Voice" is getting nosed out for first place by our PIN-UP BOYS, at least until Saturday . . . what a lot of stamp and bond buying they should inspire.
Opinions seem to agree that MORTAR BOARD BALL was a big success, dragons and all . . . probably those Chinese characters baffled even the Chinese students . . . too bad, fellows, another year's wait before you get the bills paid for you again.
For a few days at least, sprig seemed to have sprug to the point where jackets were replacing coats . . . result, —sniffles, acute Kleenex shortage, and snow and ice appearing to dampen the spirits . . . ah, well, just remember that we'll be here in June to enjoy the sunshine . . . but they've shortened the term a couple of weeks, oh happy day.

Sam Sweeps Up

May I start with a plea to you lads and lassies? Please—let's create some scandal for me to dig up. Oh, my achin' back! I've been trying to excavate the stuff for days, and this is all I have to offer—
If you want to see a "ringed" house, just look at the left hand of a Tri Delt. They're all doing it. Another one was added last week when PAT HIGGINS blossomed out with a sparkler. It also came from a Portland Med student. Medical school must do something to these lads, the way they are half-hitching themselves now-a-days.
Another ring is the beauty JEAN ANN PASLEY, Pi Phi. Has to show from Sig Ep BRENT NYDEN. The pony express again came through in fine style, because it came via mail from New York.
And now let's turn from rings to pins. I'd like to know where these girls find those loose fraternity pins a few of them have been collecting lately. The Kappas' MARY LOU TALCOTT had to go up to the University of Washington for the Phi Sig pin she now is wearing. It belongs to DON DEEKS who left it here on a trip through Corvallis weekend before last. By the way, is it true that Don came down that weekend for the Chi O dance? I'd say he got a little sidetracked.
ELLY MARTINSON, Gamma Phi, must have reconsidered, because she again is being protected by the Phi Delt sword and shield of BILL MCINNIS. Are you sure this time, Ely?
Some interesting things were seen and heard by old Sam at the Mortar Board Ball last Saturday. Seen? Well, you couldn't overlook the lads that bedecked the khaki dates of some of the Chi O's and the Sigma Kappas. Also, no one probably overlooked the white midriff dress that DON HECTOR was with. Just a passing thought that came into my mind when I saw PAT MACKAY with ED HENDRICKS, yell leader, whirling around the floor—where is that ATO pin she acquired last term? Did it leave with the shipping orders?
And now for what I heard. Someone should start checking on a few of these picnics that have been going on. They haven't been exactly "dry deals," and I'm not speaking of the weather. Hmmm—could bear investigating.
For a closing thought and shock, may I be the first to let you know that JEANETTE ROSS, Theta, has traded her last year's SAE in on a Sig Ep heart. If you are wondering what convinced her last Friday night, just look at the 1st Looie it belongs to. He's none other than our BOB ROWE, one time BMOC at Oregon State, who is now stationed at Camp Adair. And with that, I quit (period).

Here Are The Pin-up Boys Bonds Will Choose King

Well, girls, have you recovered from last week's review of the pin-up boys? If you have, I'm afraid these last 15 will put you in a stupor again.
Jitterbugging seems to be BOB COOTE'S hobby. Anyway, he has become so accomplished at the art that he won the jitterbugging contest at the Homecoming dance. Tall, dark and handsome describes this Fiji candidate for pin-up boy.
The palm trees and warm surfs of Hawaii gave LARRY RICHARDS many an opportunity to acquire an all-year tan until Uncle Sam nabbed him. And now you see he only can get a tan once a year—it's lucky. The Pi Phi certainly chose a personality plus boy in Larry.
Unlike most football players JOHNNY LEWKOVITZ is really a smooth dancer. But the Delta Chis also think that Johnny is not only one of the friendliest but one of the best looking of all the candidates.
"Easy to get along with" is one of the ideal characteristics of a really good man and these were the exact words spoken by one of ARTHUR MCCARTHY'S Sigma Nu admirers. Of course, he's tall, dark and handsome, too.
LEN WALLACE has been causing the girls of East Hall to swoon for sometime. Len's wavy brown hair and friendly smile, plus a quiet but charming manner, have been main factors in attracting these girls.
"Boy, when he breaks loose!" This was the statement of one of the girls of West hall about rugged PAUL LANE. At first Paul impresses people as the quiet type, but if they really want to find out about his personality just have him play the piano.
From Ohio State come the Kappas' choice. With a cheerful smile and twinkling brown eyes, DON MATHEWS is not only a popularity boy but also active as a member of Round Table.
Blonde, five foot nine, and loads of fun is how the Pi Kap's describe DON MORE, their candidate for pin-up boy.
"Tall, dark and handsome," is the way The Pines picture DON GUGER. He is also very friendly and a wonderful dancer.
The KVKs call him "Pete"; his real name is KENNY BENSEL. "Pete" has brown hair, a nice grin and a "wonderful personality." He's also an ROTC boy.
He may be short, but with all his pep and wittiness ELDON SHAW, Hazel Rae's pin-up boy is not to be taken lightly.
"Cute" is the word the ATOS claim ELMER SCHUBERT is. They say he looks like a typical "Joe College" and is darling with a pipe.
"A certain something" is the description tagged to MORRIS JACQUES by the DU girls. They may stutter and stammer trying to describe his charm but they're not in doubt about his being charming.
He has a sleepy look, this boy from Ohio, but the Sig Eps aren't worried about JIM HOENIE. He's blonde with blue eyes and dimples.
The Jameson girls like the beautiful smile of their candidate for pin-up boy, EDDIE ROBERTS. Eddie has curly hair, is very friendly, and besides that, they say he's "cute."

NANCY MINER'S dress was a new spring print of maroon and white flowers on a background of light blue taffeta—with the new narrow skirt and straps that gave the illusion of being bows as the interesting features. Very bouffant looking was PAT CORRADO'S formal of pink tulle skirt over which was tacked small black bows and top of black velvet.

Dear Ned:
Amazing what these fellows in Uncle Sam's drawing-room army do for amusement. I ran across a little fellow today who had been reading "How to Win Friends and Influence People" all day and really enjoying it, strangely enough. And then what did he do but try to show up my ignorance in regard to the Russian revolution. Wanted to know what I knew about Lenin, and I guess I surprised him, as well as myself, by giving forth with the right answer. Do you know anything about Lenin? He must have done something for the language and area students. This little fellow was really impressed, but frankly, I think he missed one of Carnegie's chief points. Russian (Continued on page 4.)

Phi Chi Theta To Give Dinner

Founders' day will be observed by Phi Chi Theta at a dinner meeting tonight at 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Bertha Stutz, associate professor of secretarial science, Violet McKee, junior in secretarial science and recently installed president of the group, said yesterday.
Since this secretarial science honorary's lounge was taken over in the rearrangement of the dean of women's office, the possibilities for securing some other room will be discussed.
This will be the group's last meeting of winter term and new officers will be assuming their elected positions.
