Unenforced...

Rooks wearing tuxedos have been prevalent; flowers and corsages have been noticeable at the last two or three all-school formal dances. There seems to be some dissent concerning these two problems, which are traditionally prohibited at Oregon State college.

The reason behind the tradition of freshmen not wearing tuxedos is essentially that many beginning rooks do not have enough money to invest in this expensive item. Undoubtedly if tuxedos were the style for freshmen, many of them would not attend formal dances. With the advent of restrictions on cloth for double-breasted coats tuxedos are going to rise in price in the future, or a new style will be adopted.

First Lady to Save Rubber

BOSTON, Mass.—It's back to the horse—and the bicycle—at the president's Hyde Park home. Mrs. Roosevelt disclosed today that she has practiced a girlhood sport—bicycling—around the Hyde Park estate. "I discovered," Mrs. Roosevelt said, "that I could ride a bicycle as well as ever."

Air Crash Takes 7 Lives

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—Three scattered air corps accidents involving four planes have taken the lives of seven fliers in Oklahoma. Four men were killed and two escaped by parachute when two bombers of a three-plane squadron collided near Norman, Okla. Three others were killed in two separate training plane crashes.

'Weather Foils Attack,' Say Japs

NEW YORK.—The Japs say that the battle of Coral sea didn't turn out the way they had hoped, because of the weather. The Jap version—as broadcast by the Nazi radio—contends that bad weather prevented Japanese warships from closing in to polish off the Allied naval fleet. But, Nippon's version makes no reference to the crippling losses inflicted on her naval squadron by Allied sea and air power.

Supply Line in Danger

A new threat to the American-Australian supply line is seen tonight in reports that the Japs are reinforcing their bases off northeast Australia. Allied bases in that region are preparing for air raids, like those directed against Port Darwin two months ago. Australian Air Minister Drakeford says the Allied airmen are "confidently awaiting the zero hour."

Drastic New Restrictions Placed on Gasoline, Fuel

WASHINGTON.—The war production board last night imposed new and drastic restrictions on deliveries of gasoline and fuel oil in widely scattered states. It has extended to the Pacific northwest its order slashing east coast fuel oil and motor fuel deliveries to 50 percent of normal and it has prohibited deliveries of fuel oil in 15 midwestern, southern and east central states if it is to be used in equipment installed after June 15, with the exception of new stoves for domestic cooking. However, the board has formally exempted 93 counties in New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia from the east coast curtailment and rationing area.

Russians, Germans Seek Control Of Kerch Peninsula

The Russians and Germans are battling furiously for control of the skies over the Kerch peninsula tonight. Powerful Russian air forces have swarmed to the support of the Red army land troops, who are holding off the first big German offensive of the spring. In one raid the Russians say they attacked a German airdrome, leaving 19 grounded planes on fire and damaging 22 others. While on all fronts the Soviets claim they destroyed 102 planes Sunday and Monday alone.

700-MILE Dim-Out Successful

SAN FRANCISCO.—The first dim-out of a 700-mile section of California coastline has been described by official sources as "satisfactory under the circumstances."

Freight Car Storage Valued at $25 per Day

WASHINGTON.—If Senator Reed of Kansas has his way, it's going to cost more money to store goods in freight cars needed to move war supplies. Reed introduced a bill that would cost shippers up to $25 a day if they fail to empty freight cars two days after they arrive at their destinations.

Tourists in East Worried

WASHINGTON.—Tourists from the west who are on the eastern coast with empty gas tanks, probably will get enough gas to go back home. The office of price administration says it is considering an order permitting the tourists to obtain gasoline for the return journey.

Patriots Blast Hotels

LONDON.—The most serious challenge to German authority in Paris since 1940 has thrown the Nazi overlords into a fever of activity. Six hotels and restaurants, favored luxury spots of the Germans, have been blasted by French patriots. Twenty hostages were shot at Rouen for sabotage there. Adolf Hitler has ordered his officers to suppress any attempt to revolt in occupied France.

Axis Sub in St. Lawrence River

NEW YORK.—For the first time in history, a submarine has carried out an attack in Canada's St. Lawrence river. Navy Minister MacDonald announces that the enemy submarine sank a freighter in the river, but does not give the exact location of the sinking. He adds that the navy is putting into effect long-prepared plans to protect shipping on the vital river.

Australian Army Minister, Who Says the United States and Australia are Building "the Greatest Striking Force Ever Assembled in the Pacific."

Part of that force, he pointed out, already has opposed the enemy with courage and brilliance.

S.F. Has False Air Raid

SAN FRANCISCO.—An "unfortunate mistake" is blamed for an air raid alarm that caused confusion in San Francisco today. An attendant at the central fire alarm station pushed the wrong button at the end of a 21-minute alert.

Nazis Massacre More

BEHIND THE FIGHTING LINES — In Occupied Europe.—Nazi leaders have their hands full with rebellious patriots of conquered nations. The bombs of French patriots blasted six Paris hotels and restaurants which were the favored luxury spots of the Nazi overlords. At Rouen, in France, 20 hostages were shot for sabotage. The Dutch News agency reports that 24 more Dutchmen have been shot, raising to 96 the total number of victims in Holland.

MOSCOW.—The Soviet's number one economist says the Germans are so hard up they're using olive oil to lubricate their war engines.
