O.A.C.-ALBANY MIX SCHEDULED FRIDAY

Rooks and Third Team Play Benefit Double Header to Aid Mount Angel

FIRST GAME FOR BABES

Roy Richert, Ex-Aggie Guard, New Corvallis Mentor

The date of the benefit game for Mount Angel has been changed from Saturday to Friday. Albany college will play the Beaver second team, the game beginning at 3 o'clock. The second string will consist of the regulars not taken on the trip to Montana and enough players from the third string to make a team. Several of the men who were in the Mount Angel game will be in the lineup that will face Albany.

Playing Time Shortened
Following the Albany-second team struggle, which will be shortened by cutting the playing periods down from 15 to 10 minutes each, the Beaver babes will try their newly-found strength with the Corvallis high school squad. Playing periods in the rook game will also be shortened that the two games may be finished in good time. The rooks will be playing a team well versed in their own Schissler style of play—huddle and all. Roy Richert, a star on the Beaver varsity last year, is leading the high school lads this year.

O. A. C. is one of several schools planning to give aid to the stricken prep school. Mt. Angel had completed its football schedule and grid plans for the coming season and was started on a year that promised to be a successful one, when the entire school plant was wrecked by fire. Coach Schissler and Carl Lodell, graduate manager, immediately started negotiating for the benefit games, which are both assured for Bell Field, Friday.

JOURNALISTIC HONORARY ELECTS VICE-PRESIDENT

Regular Programs to Be Broadcast From KOAC Under Supervision of Sigma Delta Chi

Loring G. Hudson, senior in vocational education, was elected vice-president of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, at a meeting yesterday in the college tea room. He will replace Carl Thelan who failed to return to school this term.

Tentative plans were laid for a series of regular programs to be broadcast from KOAC under the supervision of the chapter. The programs are intended to consist of humorous skits and other student talent. The chapter believes there is sufficient talent available on the campus to warrant regular programs of high quality.

Discussion of possible changes in the scoring process of the high school annual contest, annually conducted by Sigma Delta Chi was the feature of the meeting. A committee was appointed to prepare a letter to be sent to all high schools of the state asking them to enter their annuals in the contest and urging them to ask any questions concerning the contest or the publication of annuals.

INSTRUCTOR IN PHYSICS RETURNS FROM SEATTLE

J. C. Garman, instructor in physics, in charge of the photography section of that department, has returned from Seattle where he attended the 1926 convention of the Pacific International Photographer's association.

Mr. Garman reported that the unusually large delegation was well entertained in Seattle. The entertainment included a photography excursion to Mount Rainier, in which prizes were offered for the best picture taken. Both commercial and technical work were discussed in the business sessions of the convention. At one of the banquets, Mr. Garman told of the photography courses at O. A. C., which ranks high in comparison with similar courses in other coast universities.

EDWIN REED TO ADDRESS BAKER COUNTY INSTITUTE

Edwin T. Reed, college editor, left today for Baker where he will give an address at the Baker county institute September 30 and October 1. He addressed the Linn county teachers' institute at Albany yesterday on "The High School Honor Society and Expert Service."

Mr. Reed will take part in the Clatsop county institute at Astoria, October 14 and 15, and later in the month he will appear at Prineville, Bend, Madras, and Moro.

ATHLETIC SWEATERS GIVEN EIGHT CO-EDS

Points On Orange "O" Awards Given in Several Sports

Eight co-eds completed the 800 points required to earn the Orange "O" sweater award during spring term. Of these women, six are from the junior class and two from the senior class. The juniors comprise the largest group who have ever earned this award within two years.

Those receiving sweaters are Myrtle Klamp and Carol Chapman, seniors in vocational education, and Katherine Murphy, Clarabel Mintonye, Eudora Mitchell, Louise Ketel, Alice Joy, and Vera Kearns, juniors in vocational education. This makes a total of 11 co-eds now on the campus who are wearing athletic sweaters.

Hockey, volleyball, basketball, and baseball are the major sports of the year. One hundred points are given for places on the first class teams of these sports. Individual sports of the year are swimming, rifle, tennis and track. Formerly, points were given in these sports according to places taken in meets, but this system has been changed to class squads, and the points awarded uniformly to the members of the squad. The constitution of the Women's Athletic association was revised and amended this spring and changes will go into effect this year.

O. A. C. EXHIBITS CENTER OF ATTRACTION AT FAIR

Much interest is being centered around the O. A. C. exhibits at the Oregon State fair, reports E. N. Bressman, associate professor of crops, who has just returned after spending the last few days at the Salem fair grounds. Exhibits representing the schools of agriculture, home economics chemical engineering, industrial arts, and military science and tactics are being shown.

The display of the experiment station is the largest of any exhibit at the fair. It represents the work of every department in the station incorporated in a model farm home.

The O. A. C. Dairy club has a booth in which ice cream made on the campus is sold. The proceeds of the ice cream sales will be used to defray the expenses of sending a judging team to the Pacific International Exposition at Portland.

OFFICES OF GYMNASIUM UNDERGO MANY CHANGES

Many changes have been made in the office quarters in the men's gymnasium. The office of Carl Lodell, graduate manager, has been enlarged. Arthur Taaffe, athletic publicity manager, has a new office on the first floor.

By rearrangement of the offices on the first floor each coach on the athletic staff has a private office. Margaret Hanlon, ex-'28 in commerce, is working in the offices of Coach Schissler and Manager Lodell.

COACH OBTAINS PERMIT TO TAKE MEN ON TRIP

The board of control granted permission to Paul J. Schissler, football coach, to take 28 men on the football trip to California and also to Washington at a meeting yesterday. Permission to take the entire squad to Portland for two games was granted. The first trip to Portland will be to play the University of Idaho, October 30. On the second trip the O. A. C. players will meet the University of Southern California November 11.

RULES ANNOUNCED FOR POINT SYSTEM

Students Required To Petition Chairman of Committee in Special Instances

LIMITATIONS VARIABLE

Activities, Record and Ability Receive Consideration

Students having activities in excess of 100 points are asked to obtain petition blanks requesting permission to carry this amount of work, reports Wallace Ingle, chairman of the point system committee. These blanks may be obtained at the student body office. The committee expects them to be filed in the office within the next few days. After the petitions are filed they will be passed on by the executive council which will take into consideration the amount of work the student has in activities and classes, the year of the student in college, the previous record of the student and his general ability.

Limit to Prevent Overwork

"The purpose of limiting the number of points the student may carry," says Ingle, "is not to keep him from activities but rather to prevent him from taking more work than he is capable of carrying."

Organization secretaries are requested to submit their lists of officers to the point system committee as soon as possible. Publication managers and editors are asked to appoint someone to file their staff lists with the committee at once. The complete lists are due in the student body office before Monday night. Any delinquent group or publication will be fined $5.

FIRST STUDENT MEETING SCHEDULED OCTOBER 13

The first convocation of the year will be October 13, at which time Dr. W. J. Kerr, president, will address the student body. Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, Col., the outstanding juvenile court judge, has been obtained as convocation speaker for October 20. The first student body meeting of the term has been scheduled for October 27. The usual convocation the first week of college is being dispensed with this year as the freshmen were given the opportunity of hearing many speakers during freshman week.

INDEPENDENTS SCHEDULE MEETING FOR TOMORROW

Plans for the Independent Men's association meeting at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening in the "Y" but were made at the executive council meeting in the "Y" but last night. Tentative outlines of the social schedules of each club for the fall term were presented by the presidents of the clubs. A "rumormongering" for all independent men has been planned for Thursday, October 13. Athletics, social events and all college activities will be discussed at the association meeting Thursday evening.

EXTENSION DEPARTMENT JUDGING FAIR EXHIBITS

Several members of the extension staff are in Salem attending the state fair this week. They are judging some of the exhibits, attending conferences of various county workers and assisting with the college exhibit at the fair. Some of the specialists attending are Mrs. Jessie D. McComb, state leader in home economics extension work; H. C. Seymour, state boys' and girls' club leader; H. A. Lindgren, extension specialist in animal husbandry; F. E. Price, soils specialist; N. C. Jamison, dairy specialist; Helen Cowgill and L. J. Allen, assistant boys' and girls' club leaders; U. S. Burt, assistant in charge of information and exhibits; and W. L. Kaddery, chairman of the O. A. C. exhibits committee.

ENGINEERS ATTEND COAST CONVENTION

Stanford University Professor Presented Edison Medal

O. A. C. was represented at the first convention held on the Pacific coast of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at Salt Lake City September 6 to 9 by F. O. McMillan, associate professor of electrical engineering, and F. D. Crowther, senior in electrical engineering.

Dr. J. H. Ryan of Stanford university was presented with the Edison medal, considered one of the two greatest honors obtainable in the engineering field. Dr. Ryan is noted as one of the outstanding scientists in the world.

The representatives attended an official recital at the Mormon tabernacle. A tour of inspection was made of the tabernacle, University of Utah, Fort Douglas, and the Magna works of the Utah Copper company.

Representatives were sent from the California Institute of Technology, University of California, University of Idaho, O. A. C., Stanford, University of Utah, University of Washington, and the University of Montana.

NEXT ISSUE OF ANNUAL BOOK CALLED VOLUME 21

Classes no Longer to Put Out Yearly Publication; Six Oil Paintings Are Special Feature

The next issue of the Beaver will be called volume 21 instead of the 1928 Beaver. It is no longer a class publication. New appointments will be made for two departments where vacancies were left by students not returning to college.

A special feature of this year's publication will be six oil paintings on ivory tinted paper in the opening section. Individual pictures will be used for the men's groups instead of group pictures as used in the 1927 Beaver. An index will be made for all portraits.

The dummy for volume 21 is already made up with a chart showing every page in the issue. This year a new filing system has been installed in the office enabling a closer check on all material turned in.

Acacia announces the pledging of Archie Marvel, Dufur; Claude Sumpter, Lebanon; Wayne Robertson, Halsey; Oscar Arnberg, Corvallis; and Francis Nielson, Mosier.

VACANCIES FILLED BY APPOINTMENTS

Three New Professors and Four Assistants Chosen by President Kerr

LARGER COLLEGE STAFF

Resignations This Year Prove Below the Average

Appointment of 45 new members of the faculty, 31 of whom have rank of instructor or above, is announced by the president's office in a summary of faculty changes for the present year. Resignations from the staff this year have been below the average, the president announced.

Only three appointments with the rank of full professor were made. One of these appointees is Ruth B. Glassow, new head of the department of physical education for women. Miss Glassow is taking charge of the department as it moves into the new $300,000 women's building nearing completion. She has had extensive training at the University of Wisconsin and Columbia Teachers' college, coming here from a position at the University of Illinois.

Dr. Nelson Head of Economics
Dr. Milton N. Nelson is now head of the department of economics. Dr. Nelson received much of his advanced training at University of Illinois, later taking a position at Ohio university. Miss Melissa Hunter, formerly on the home economics staff here and who has since completed advance work in the east, is the new director of dormitories and professor of institutional economics. She comes here from a position of advisory expert in institutional economics at Miami university, Ohio.

Four new assistant professors include Elias T. Arneson, English, who returns after taking advanced work at University of Washington, and Beatrice Geiger, foods and nutrition, who received her training at University of Chicago and Columbia. Harry R. Lewton, University of Nebraska, and Ralph E. Terry, University of Southern California, are new assistant professors of pharmacy.

Miss Beas R. Green, Universities of Illinois and Chicago, will be assistant professor of zoology, to replace Dr. Florence Hague.

Of 23 new instructors, four are in physical education for women. These are Miss Helen Burtis, University of Iowa, Miss Elsie Jacobson, former head of the department at Sargent college, Miss Laura C. McAllister, former head of department at University of Idaho, and Miss Josephine Garvin, to be critic teacher in the local high school.

Two Added to Athletic Staff

Physical education for men has two appointees. Amory T. Gill and Grant Swan, both graduates of this college with experience in California. Home economics school will have Miss Georgia C. Bibe, institutional economics, University of Washington; Miss May Frank, University of Nebraska, who will have charge of second home management house; Miss Sue Blundell, household arts, Oklahoma A. & M. college and Mrs. Merle Davis, Oregon Agricultural college, critic teacher at local high school.

In the school of vocational education Axel Rude, Teachers college, Columbia university, and Miss Ruth Slottee, graduate of this college have been added. W. H. Dahlberg, University of Michigan, and Arthur W. Shepard, University of Iowa, are new instructors in public speaking. The latter takes the place of Earl W. Wells, assistant debate coach, on leave of absence.

Kimber C. Kuster, University of Michigan, is added to the zoology and physiology staff, Russel L. Perry, University of Wisconsin, agricultural engineering; Earl D. West, University of Washington, mathematics, and W. H. Beldou, Ohio university, economics. Andrew R. Castle, of the University of Chicago, and for years a commercial geologist, has been made instructor in the school of mines. Russel H. Ewing, Universities of Minnesota and Colorado, has been appointed as instructor of political science.

ROOK CLASS OFFICERS ASSUME DUTIES TODAY

Officers of the freshman class will be installed at a meeting of the class in the men's gymnasium at 1 o'clock today. Officers to be installed are Ezra Webb, commerce, president; Irene Blasing, home economics, vice-president; Leta Kent, home economics, secretary; Ransom Meinke, commerce, treasurer; and Warren Coffeen, engineering, yell leader.

Freshman-sophomore olympics will be discussed at the meeting. Freshmen are urged to be present.

O. A. C. INSTRUCTORS MAKE TRIP ABROAD

Mrs. G. McElfresh Represents Corvallis at Convention

Many O. A. C. instructors spent their three months vacation traveling in Europe, combining pleasure and business.

Mrs. Gertrude McElfresh, assistant professor of English, was a delegate representing Corvallis to the International Federation of university women in Amsterdam, Holland, July 27 to August 2. Mrs. McElfresh was one of 118 delegates from the United States to attend the convention. A high light of her trip was an airplane ride from London to Paris. Mrs. McElfresh visited England, Scotland, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, and France. The low status of women caused by class distinction, according to Mrs. McElfresh, is deplorable on the continent.

Dr. A. C. Schmidt, professor of finance and administration, toured Europe as a member of the Sherwood Eddy party. It visited Paris, London, Berlin, Vienna, Prague and Geneva studying the economic conditions of Europe.

Miss Alice Margaret Bowers, professor of institutional economics, sailed in May for Spain and neighboring countries. Miss Edith Carter Kunev, assistant professor of modern languages, studied at the University of Paris and toured France.

G. W. Peavy, dean of forestry, was a delegate to the national convention of foresters in Rome. After the convention he traveled over France, Germany, Norway, Finland and Sweden.

Other faculty members spending the summer in Europe were Miss Blanche W. Stevens, instructor of clothing and textiles, Miss Lella Hay, secretary in commerce, Miss Ellen Flook, extension service, and Jacob Jordan, assistant professor of physics.

RALPH E. TERRY FILLS PLACE OF J. L. POWERS

Ralph E. Terry has been appointed assistant professor of pharmacy. Mr. Terry was graduated from the University of Illinois, and this summer completed his work for the degree of master of science from the University of Southern California. For two years, Mr. Terry acted as assistant instructor in pharmacy and pharmacognosy at the University of Illinois, and for the last three years as assistant professor with the University of Southern California. He is a member of Kappa Psi, honorary in pharmacy, and of Phi Kappa Phi, scholastic honorary. Mr. Terry will have charge of courses formerly taught by J. L. Powers, assistant professor of pharmacy, who has accepted a position with the University of Michigan, where he will complete requirements for the degree of doctor of philosophy.

TRIP INTO MIDDLE WEST TAKEN BY F. L. BALLARD

F. L. Ballard, state county agent leader, returned Sunday from a trip into Minnesota, Kansas, and Montana. In Kansas and Montana he interviewed applicants for positions on the college extension staff attended the Kansas state fair at Hutchinson, Kan.

Mr. Ballard visited C. C. Calkins, '16 graduate in agriculture. Mr. Calkins, formerly a member of the extension staff, invented a wheat seed treating machine for treating wheat seed with copper carbonate to kill smut. Mr. Calkins is manufacturing these machines in Spokane, Washington, and in Hutchinson, Kan., and has been unable to fill the demand.

DEBATE TRYOUTS DATE ANNOUNCED

Aspirants Will Match Abilities October 7 in Competition for Forensic Squad

SIXTEEN TO BE CHOSEN

Australian Group On Schedule of Arranged Contests

Tryouts for the men's varsity debate will be Thursday evening October 7. Sixteen members for the squad will be chosen.

W. A. Dahlberg, coach from the University of Michigan and a former varsity debater at University of Illinois and Chicago university, is the new coach. He is highly recommended by the best coaches of the east.

Coach Dahlberg Optimistic

"Judging from my own experience and from information received while in the east regarding O. A. C. achievements in the field of debate, I feel optimistic in the endeavors of this department," says Coach Dahlberg.

The question for the tryouts will be, "resolved, that foreign nations should immediately relinquish their control over Chinese concessions. Material on the question is already in the debate seminar, room 307 library and Mr. Evans urges that those who desire to try out should start studying on the material immediately as there is only a short time until the tryouts. Men who have earned sweaters in debate will not try out at the same time as aspirants.

Chinese Question Debate Topic

Coach Dahlberg intends to use as many men as possible and will give every one making the squad an opportunity to debate.

The Chinese question will be used for varsity debates with University of Southern California, Willamette university, Washington State college and a team from Australia.

Professor C. B. Mitchell, former coach, is to be in charge of the intramural debate this year. He plans to develop the interfraternity debate into an intramural activity in which three or four hundred students may take part.

JOURNALISTS SCHEDULE RALLY THIS AFTERNOON

Many Aspirants and Staff Members Expected to Report at First Gathering of Term

Interest in campus publication work is so great this term that room 9, commerce building, is expected to be filled to capacity at 5 o'clock today at the first mass meeting of industrial journalism students for the school year. Prizes and honorable mentions will be awarded to 26 students.

The following is a list of students asked to report at the meeting to receive awards or honorable mentions:

Mildred Nye, Thurlow Weed, R. I. Pinkerton, Robert Kist, Louise Keta, James Goss, Philip Sowersby, Alfred Trimble, W. G. Scott, Herbert Gordon, Helen I. Carpenter, Ruth Bede, Stewart Hardie, Agatha Harding, Marian Van Scoyoc, Velma Morgan, Alva McMillan, Alice Kunev, John Hanlon, Freeman Fike, Albert Bates, Blanche Hurd, Richard Glasscock, Cathrine Davis, Dorothy Steinfelt and Thelma Lampkin.

WORTHY GRAND MASTER INSPECTS KAPPA SIGMA

Dr. W. W. Wycoff, Worthy Grand Master of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, and wife visited the O. A. C. chapter yesterday afternoon. Dr. Wycoff has been visiting chapters all over the country, coming from his home in New York through the northern states. While in the west he installed two new chapters.

From Corvallis Dr. Wycoff plans to go to the University of Oregon and to California chapters and then back to New York through the southern states. Dr. Wycoff was much impressed with the college here.

A prize of $5 will be given for the best homecoming slogan welcoming the graduates back to the campus, and expressing the spirit of the football game.

The slogan is to be used under the cut pictured above. The cut will be displayed on the homecoming envelopes. Slogans must be turned in to the homecoming committee at the student body office, room 108 commerce building by October 9.

A Chance to Help

The benefit football game scheduled for Friday afternoon on Bell field between Albany college and the varsity second string is deserving of the patronage of every student as well as citizens of Corvallis and nearby towns. The entire proceeds of the game will be presented to Mt. Angel college to assist that institution in rebuilding from the disastrous fire last week.

Corvallis business men are backing the enterprise to the limit and are making preparations to have an appreciable representation present for the game. Sam Delan, professor at the college, is in charge of ticket sales. Thus it may be seen that preparatory activities are being cared for by other than college students.

All that is asked of the student body is whole-hearted support in talking up the game and its purpose, and a full attendance at the game. The desire of the promoters to make the affair convenient for everyone is demonstrated by the shifting of the date from Saturday, when the O. A. C.-Montana game will be received here by wire, to Friday, when nothing should interfere with a large attendance. Students are requested to consider themselves in the place of their unfortunate fellows at the neighboring institution and back this benefit game. Value received, in action and satisfaction is guaranteed by those in charge of the program.

Just a Suggestion

A few institutions throughout the country have found it necessary to ban automobiles from their campuses. Others have forbidden students from possessing cars while attending the school. Such regulations have grown out of disregard, carelessness, and misconduct on the part of the students at these colleges or universities.

Extreme measures are necessary only when students take advantage of, or abuse, privileges granted them by the ruling bodies of the schools. No doubt the various institutions which have found it necessary to make strict regulations did so only after less severe attempts were overlooked and trampled upon.

The students at this college enjoy what might be termed unlimited privileges as regards automobiles on and off the campus. From time to time these privileges have been abused to more or less serious extent and cautions and threats have not been unheard of. O. A. C. is proud of the democratic condition which now exists and which, it is hoped, may continue to exist. Strict adherence to campus regulations on driving and parking, and restraint from poor conduct should prevent any need for drastic steps by the officials of O. A. C.

A word to the wise should be sufficient.

Chose Wisely, Freshmen

A man is stamped by his fraternity during his collegiate career. He must associate with a certain type of men who sooner or later will influence his character, good or bad, depending upon the associations.

With more or less meager knowledge of the fraternity gained during freshman week, the new student is extended a bid to pledge by members of the house. Blindly, sometimes with no thought for the future, he allows the pin to be placed on his coat lapel.

Whether or not one will fit in with a group of men or women will largely determine future happiness. College and its associations should be one of the happiest experiences in any person's life. Rash judgment may mean only a partial realization of these happy times or none at all.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Cavalry juniors are asked to report to Major Dixon before Saturday to sign up and have measurements taken for tailored uniforms.

Faculty men interested in volleyball meet at the men's gymnasium at 4:30 Thursday for practice.

The business staff and members of the circulation and advertising department for the O. A. C. Directory will meet in commerce 313 at 4:45 o'clock.

Dr. E. V. Vaughn, associate professor of history, will not have charge of his classes until Monday, due to the death of his father.

Office of Dr. J. B. Horner, professor of history, is changed from library to room 310, pharmacy.

Alumni Notes

Mrs. F. C. Kent, formerly in charge of the calculating machines in commerce mathematics, has resigned because of ill health.

Statistics on Varsity Men Reveal Dickerson as Giant

The heaviest man on this year's varsity football squad is also the tallest. Louis "Hip" Dickerson wins both honors, being 6 feet, 6 inches tall and weighing 220 pounds. Howard Maple, quarter, takes the short man prize, being 5 feet 6 inches. E. J. Greiner and Bernard Hafendorf, quarter-backs, who weigh 150 pounds, are tied for the lightest.

For the benefit of all students especially freshmen, this list has been made. It includes the entire varsity team with weights, experience and numbers.

Paul J. Schissler, head coach, is assisted by Cecil W. King. Richard W. Newman is the new freshman coach and Clifford C. Stetson and George Plumb are assistant freshman coaches.

Carl A. Lodell is general manager and Nate Morse is student football manager.

TEAM TO TRAVEL NORTH FOR GAME

Stopover Arrangements Made at Pasco Where Players Will Hike in Hills

The Aggie football team under Paul J. Schissler, head coach, will leave tomorrow for Missoula, the scene of its first conference game with the Montana Grizzlies. The team will go in an auto bus to Portland, where it will take a train to Missoula.

Coach Schissler has arranged for a two hour stop in Pasco, Wash., where the team will exercise by means of a hike in the neighboring hills. The train is scheduled to arrive in Missoula in time for a short workout Friday afternoon.

While Schissler and the regulars are on this trip, the men at home will fight for the Orange and Black in a benefit game to be played here Friday afternoon against Albany college. The receipts from this game are to be given to Mount Angel college, aiding them in their rebuilding program. The coaches and other fans expect this game to unearth hidden material for the first string squad.

The list of those taking the Montana trip has not been announced. After last night's workout and another light one today, the coach will have selected his squad and will announce it tomorrow.

The Beavers downed the Grizzlies in the come-coming game last year and fans believe they will repeat the victory this season, although Montana still has the fighting all-coast quarter, Bill Kelly. Reports are that Kelly's speedy associate in the backfield, Russell Sweet, is not in school this term.

track team may tour the Orient next season. The general athletic committee is considering an invitation for next summer. The offer comes for 15 men to compete with native teams in Japan and Manchuria, and the tour in the Orient will be for 20 days.

University of Nevada
Dr. J. R. Young, professor of psychology, has almost completed his book entitled "The Psychology of War" on which he is working. The volume will be ready for the printers about Christmas, according to Dr. Young.

University of California
"Nibs" Price, head football coach, may set a new fad. He wears a baseball cap with his coaching uniforms. Don Nichols and "Fat" Clark, assistant coaches, have already fallen under the sway, and probably the rest of the coaches on the staff will follow suit before the season is finished.

University of Southern California
An entirely new chapel policy has been put in effect for this semester by the administration. Under the new arrangement, services are to be held five times a week, between 9 and 9:15 o'clock, during which period all classrooms will be closed. These assemblies will be purely voluntary and of a strictly devotional nature under the direction of Dr. Bruce Baxter.

The University of Nevada is the first western university to use a new system of strength tests in its physical education department for men. In this test the instructor is able to establish the status of any student and determine the points on which he needs special attention.

For this work a new type of chart has been developed to list individual measurements and tests. On the chart measurements including stature and muscular developments are listed together with the results of the strength tests.

LIBRARY MAKES CHANGES IN CIRCULATION DETAILS

Special Chutes for Returned Books Eliminate Former Congestion by Using Loan Desk

Various changes have gone into effect in the circulation department of the library this fall. The card catalog has been moved into the hall and a new desk is to be used for handling the regular circulation of books from the stacks, while the main loan desk is to be used for reserve books only. Chutes have been made for returned books and no book is to be laid on top of the desk when returned by a borrower. Reserve books are to be returned in the chutes at the reserve desk and stock books in the chute at the new circulation desk.

Reserve books, the books set aside for use in the library, are handled in the same way as formerly. When a reserve book is taken out over night the student must bring it to the desk to be recharged. The following rules govern the use of reserve books—students are asked to read them carefully as they will be held responsible for knowing them.

1. Persons desiring to use a reserve book must sign a card at the loan desk when the book is secured, and return the book to the desk as soon as they have finished using it, or before leaving the room.

2. Reserve books must be recharged at the loan desk at 12 o'clock noon and at 6 in case the borrower wishes to use the book during the noon hour or from 6 to 7. Books must be returned to the loan desk before the library closes at 10.

3. One reserve book may be taken out of the library at 9 p. m. Monday to Friday evenings, and additional reserve books at 9:30. On Saturday evenings one reserve book may be taken out at 7 p. m. and any additional reserve books at 9 p. m. Overnight loans must be recharged at the loan desk and are due at 8:15 the following morning (except Sunday and holidays), when they are returned at 8:15 a. m. of the first morning the library is open).

DOPE GIVES AGGIES STRONG GRID TEAM

Many Lettermen and Members of 1925 Freshmen Squad Report to Coach

O. A. C. compares favorably with other teams, in a recent check-up of football material in the schools of the Pacific Coast conference. With 19 lettermen and 27 from last year's freshmen squad, Coach P. F. Schissler is bettered by only one team—Washington with 29 lettermen—Washington is minus both Wilson and Tesreau, stars in every coast game last year.

Southern California is doped by nearly every sports writer on the coast, to be the 1926 champions. The Trojans under Coach Howard Jones demonstrated their ability Saturday, by trouncing Whittiers college 74 to 0, the only score on the coast which bestered the O. A. C. Multnomah score. With 19 veterans and 24 numeral men, Jones is said to have a great team to match O. A. C. in its annual game November 11, at the Multnomah Stadium in Portland.

With 11 lettermen missing, California got away in a half hearted manner. The strong Santa Clara team held the Bears to a 13 to 6 score, outpassing, outpunting, and holding every advantage except in the score. California's second touchdown resulted from a fumble which proved disastrous to the Santa Clara cause. Stanford came out little better, for the husky Nevaders out of the lineup, the Warner backfield showed little power and was forced to extend itself to beat California Tech 13 to 6. The second team showed considerable strength in its 44 to 7 victory over Fresno Teachers college. Both opponents were rated as weak teams.

Both the University of Washington and Washington State have powerful squads. The Huskies trimmed the strong Seattle Navy team, 21 to 0, in their opener Saturday. The Cougars have nine of the 11 men who started the victorious game against U. S. C. last fall. Three additional lettermen and a wealth of brilliant sophomore players make them a feared team.

The University of Montana, this week's opponents for the Beavers, are in good condition with 12 lettermen, lead by their spectacular captain, Bill Kelly. Kelly is going better than ever and is out for a record year, according to reports.

Idaho is expected to prove a tough opponent October 30, when both the Vandals and the Beavers will go to Portland. Last year, O. A. C. revenged a previous defeat by a 16 to 7 score and Idaho is pointing towards this game. Twenty-three from last year's varsity squad furnish a strong nucleus for the 1926 season.

The 44 to 0 defeat administered to Willamette removed all doubt as to the capability of the Oregon team. Coach McKwan has uncovered a new star in Ord, a sophomore halfback who made a 72 and 84 yard run, each time for a touchdown. A veteran backfield and only four holes to fill in the line leaves the Emerald outfit in great condition for a successful season. The first big test for Oregon will come when they meet the W. S. C. Cougars October 10. Both teams are on edge for their annual struggle and the outcome of the game will have considerable bearing on the 1926 season.

Against this array of reports, Coach Schissler, has a squad of 44 men who out for victory. In their first demonstration the Beavers showed power which brought much comment from leading sportswriters.

Twenty Eight Horses From College Military Department Booked in Equestrian Events

Several members of the O. A. C. Polo club took part in the riding events at the Linn County fair last week, winning a number of prizes. Twenty-eight horses belonging to the college military department were used. Lieutenant H. M. Woodward and Sergeant H. G. Crocker, instructors in cavalry had charge of the local horses.

Riders taking part were Louise Jo. Fischer, senior in commerce; John Peacock and Harold Boon, sophomores in commerce; Wellington Gault, junior in commerce; Fred Sagnet and John Kenny, seniors in commerce; Stanley Riley, Lorence Nolte and Leo Beckley, seniors in agriculture; John Henderson, junior in forestry; Frank Huffman; Sergeant and Mrs. H. G. Crocker and W. C. Campbell.

Lieutenant Woodward and Sergeant Crocker are in Salem at the state fair this week in charge of several college horses that will be ridden by students.

ROOK GRID TURNOUT LARGEST IN HISTORY

Quantity and Quality Features of 1926 Freshman Squad

One hundred sixty five freshmen reported to R. W. Newman, freshman football coach, in response to the first call issued by Coach Schissler for rook football Saturday morning. This is the largest rook turnout in the history of the college and should contain some valuable material for future varsity teams according to the coaches.

All of the men out were issued equipment and went through the first workout last night on the rook field. Drills and fundamentals constituted the practice last night, the first scrimmage being Wednesday or Thursday evening. With such a large number out fighting for positions on the team it is hard for Coach Newman to pick a team to call his first string. By the end of the week it is expected that the number out will dwindle to about 75 or 100. From then on there will be occasional cuts made to get the squad down to about 40 or 50 men.

Newman is being assisted by C. C. Stetson of Lombard college, and George Plumb, guard on last year's varsity team, who are both well trained in the Schissler system of football.

The Rooks will have their first scrimmage game Saturday with Corvallis High as a preliminary to the varsity game with Albany college. Five other tentative games are on the season's schedule for the yearlings. These are Columbia university of Portland, Monmouth normal, Albany college, Oregon fresh, Pacific college of Newberg, and Linfield college of McMinnville.

Bright Prospects Foretold For Coming College Years

By JOHN C. BURTNER

"Indications are for the best year in the history of the college," is an expression much heard in the last few weeks. Every one from the president down to the newest rook—unless that rook be homesick—seems to see a bright future in the months ahead.

The year past, however, was itself a year of achievement, the eclipsing of which it is agreed, will require the best efforts of the enlarged student body and faculty. Scholastically, socially, and athletically the year just passed saw new marks established.

Early in the fall of 1925 President W. J. Kerr, after a year's illness, was able to resume partially his active work as head of the institution which he has so largely directed to its present position. Steadily regaining strength permitted him to fully resume his old place before the close of summer school.

Organization of independent students, begun in a more intensive manner in the fall, permitted all to enter more fully into the life of the college and resulted toward spring in the formation of a national independent students organization with the president a student of this college. Meanwhile additional national fraternities and sororities had recognized the standing of O. A. C. in the scholastic world by granting chapters to local groups. All of the 16 sororities on the campus are now national but one.

Athletically the year saw the Beavers emerge undefeated in the Northwest conference football race, saw the basketball team finish second in the northern division of the coast conference, saw the wrestlers take the coast title and then the national title in the amateur meet held here in April, and saw the four-mile relay team invade the east and come home with the most coveted trophy obtainable—the championship at the Drake relays.

Baseball, swimming, tennis, and polo, teams performed in a manner creditable to the college while the intramural season extending through the entire year saw more men than ever before in campus athletics.

In debate and oratory O. A. C. won more than her share of victories and the musical organizations again made successful tours of the state and, with the dramatic organizations of the campus, appeared at home in programs exceeding in excellence those of former years.

The annual educational exposition attracted more high school students than ever before and more firmly entrenched itself into the year's schedule as a major event of statewide importance. Typing contest, band contest, and the annual Smith-Hughes week-end for high school students in agriculture brought scores more to the campus.

The second campaign for the Memorial Union building through which the members of the class of 1929 were given opportunity to pledge support, was a distinct success with subscriptions exceeding the mark set, carrying the gross subscriptions above the $500,000.00 mark.

Summer school, following commencement, brought, as usual, some of the great leaders in the educational world to the campus. The enrollment, though not as large as the year previous when special conditions brought several large blocks of students for that year alone, nevertheless was made up of more men and women than ever before from more distant states, attracted here by the excellence of the work.

The summer school maintained its position as the leading center for coaching instruction on the coast, by bringing such authorities as Knute Rockne and Major John L. Griffith to add to the resident staff, already of recognized excellence.

Boys' and girls' club members were here early in the summer to the full capacity of facilities for their entertainment and later men of the surrounding counties made their annual pilgrimage to the home experiment station.

While this is but a partial recounting of the many activities centering about the O. A. C. campus in the year just closed, it serves to indicate the standard set for the new year in becoming "bigger and better than ever."

to know that the column is open to students in general, not to Scrollers only. Last year fully half the contributions came from talent outside the club, usually from those who were aspiring to membership.

No really good piece of writing will be rejected if it is under 500 words in length. Contributors are advised to keep their work even shorter, because Barometer space is limited.

Book reports on good modern literature, essays, sketches, or verse are acceptable. The offerings should be interesting, pointed, and if possible, clever. No anonymous contributions will be considered, and the initials of the author will be printed.

A box will be placed in the main lobby of the library, to receive the contributions of anyone who wishes to see his work in print. Papers may also be submitted to the editor.
