OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1927

NO. 13

OBJECTIVE PICKED FOR HOMECOMING

Complete Program for Women Arranged; Men's Schedule Nears Completion

ALUMNAE TO PERFORM

Active Participation for All Sponsored by Director

To entertain, to recall memories and to exhibit college activities and equipment to visiting alumnae is the objective of the committeemen planning events for homecoming week. The women have outlined their entire program. A tentative schedule has been prepared by those in charge of men's swimming, rook-sophomore events and polo club exhibition.

Miss Ruth G. Glassow, director of women's physical education, has outlined a program which will allow active participation by alumnae, visitors and students.

Event Scheduled

The first event scheduled is a basketball game between the alumnae and undergraduates at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The success of this game, which was tried for the first time last year, has warranted a repetition as it gives graduates an opportunity to play again.

Between 11 and 12 o'clock, following the basketball game, there will be an exhibition by the members of the swimming classes in the women's pool. Styles of strokes, methods of life-saving and the correct way to use a canoe will be demonstrated.

From 5 until 6 o'clock the women's building will be open for inspection. (Continued on Page 2)

R. O. T. C. MEN COMPETE FOR BERTHS ON SQUAD

Forty-five Men Will Compose Three Teams to Enter in Shooting Matches

Good scores were turned in the first week of rifle practice which began October 3, reports Captain M. A. Gillis, officer in charge. Competition for positions on the rifle team will be keen this year as many freshmen are showing up well.

The period from October 3 to December 5 will be devoted entirely to practice firing. No record firing will be done during this time. The range is open from 9 to 4 daily except Saturdays and Sundays. Several hours a week will be assigned to the girl's rifle team.

Inter-collegiate match firing will begin December 5. Shortly before these matches three teams of 15 men each will be organized. Men will be chosen for the first match in accordance with their firing records during practice period and the judgment of the officer in charge.

The intramural matches will be fired during the week November 14 to 19. One team of 15 men will be chosen from each of the infantry, cavalry, and engineer units to compete. Sweater men are not eligible to fire in this match.

The Oregon State team will fire against five colleges each week, and the scores of each institution will be exchanged by mail. These will be regular four position matches. The ninth corps area match has been won by O. A. C. for the last six years and three teams will probably be entered in the match this year.

HOUSE MANAGERS MEET AT ASSOCIATION DINNER

Fifty-four members of the Co-operative Managers association met at the Phi Delta Theta fraternity last night for dinner. Progress of the association was discussed.

Donald Ford, junior in commerce and president of the association, gave statistics on the dividends to be declared for the fiscal year of 1927. A report on food-stuffs was given by E. E. Selbert, manager of the association. Selbert suggested that the house managers buy more fresh foods in order to eliminate the necessity of buying large amounts of canned goods.

ISSUE OF COUNTRYMAN GOES TO PRESS TODAY

Articles Deal With Treatment of Seeds, Dairying Costs and Vegetable Care

The October issue of the Oregon Countryman will go to press today, announced Floyd Mullen, editor of this issue, temporarily taking the place of Homer Bray, editor, now with the dairy judging team in the east.

Leading articles in this number are "Modern Vegetable Growing" by A. G. Bouquet, professor of vegetable gardening; "The Cost Factor of Dairying" by W. S. Gilmore, professor of agricultural engineering; "Seed Treatment" by D. D. Hill, instructor in farm crops; and "The Cost of Horse Labor" by H. E. Selby, associate in farm management. Short articles written by students majoring in the various departments of agricultural work are also included.

The Oregon Countryman, monthly periodical published by the agricultural and home economics students, has a circulation of 1200. Seven hundred copies are distributed among subscribers and club leaders of the state while the rest go to faculty and agricultural students.

OWL OFFERS PRIZES IN SALES CAMPAIGN

Soliciting Among Social Groups Scheduled for This Week

Prizes will be given the two students selling most copies of the Orange Owl homecoming issue according to Kay Olsen, circulation manager.

The circulation staff decided yesterday to conduct two separate selling campaigns. The first campaign will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, among the fraternities, sororities and halls. The second campaign, beginning Monday, October 18, will be in campus buildings.

PRACTICE HOUSE ADDS MORE BABIES TO LIST

The two home management house babies, Bobby, 6 months, and Jack, 5 months, have arrived. Both are bright-eyed, happy, smiling babies, and fit into the routine of college life well, reports Miss A. Grace Johnson, professor of household administration, and May C. Frank, instructor in household administration, in charge of the two houses.

Both are worthy cases, as each baby has a widowed mother who finds it necessary to have someone take care of her baby while she earns the living for other children. Six young women live in each house, one girl assuming full responsibility of the baby for one week. Bobby and Jack are the eleventh and twelfth babies received at the home management houses.

MOTHERS' CLUB PLANNED

Wives and mothers of college students are asked to meet in the women's lobby of Shepard hall at 3:30 o'clock today by Mrs. M. E. Smith, chairman of the college folk club committee backing the meeting. Arrangements will be made for organization of a club of women relatives of students. Need has been felt for such a club to bring about a better acquaintance among relatives of students. Those here for the first year are especially asked to attend.

LINDGREN WILL JUDGE FAIR

H. A. Lindgren, extension specialist in animal husbandry, is leaving October 14 for Polk county where he will judge livestock at the county fair.

GRIFFIN SPEAKS TO INDEPENDENTS

Annual Fumefest Plans Given by George Speros; Sport Events Scheduled

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN

Charles M'Connell Cup Won by Hesperian Group

That fundamental selfishness exists because of the great law of preservation, was the opinion expressed by Robert Griffin, president of the Intercollegiate Independent association, at a meeting of the Roswood association last night.

"College can give men a few fundamental facts through inductive reasoning and personal improvement by deduction of these facts," said Mr. Griffin.

Herbert Gordon, president of the Orion club, urged that all men should get into activities as they are half of a college education. "There are more than fifty organizations on the campus from which students may gain self improvement," said Gordon. Athletics, publications, public speaking and social activities are a few of the many fields open to students.

Officers Elected

Officers elected to fill vacancies are Marion Randall, sophomore in landscape gardening, secretary-treasurer; George Speros, senior in pharmacy, athletic manager; and Robert Cahill, junior in industrial arts, social manager.

George Speros announced plans for the "fumefest" to be next week. Poling hall and the Roswood association will put on a program of boxing, wrestling, snappy talks and music. Smokes will be furnished. The Hesperian club won the scholarship cup offered each year by Charles M'Connell to the club making the highest grade average. Any club winning it three consecutive years will be permanent possessor. The Alpheus club won last year.

FRESHMAN TO DISCUSS HOMECOMING ACTIVITIES

Bonfire Chairman Will Appoint Captains to Build Blaze for Annual Reunion

Freshman homecoming activities will be the main topic of discussion at the freshman meeting this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the women's former gymnasium. Virginia Jones, vice-president of the rook class, will preside at the meeting in the absence of Mark Grayson, president.

W. A. Kearns, director of physical education for men, will outline importance of the bonfire and give helpful hints for a successful one. Glenn Roberts, chairman of homecoming committee, will explain homecoming in general. Hugh Adams, newly appointed rook bonfire chairman, will appoint wagon captains for building of the fire. Chairman of the bag rusing fray has not been appointed.

The first rook dance will be at the men's gymnasium on November 3. Extensive plans have already been formulated.

HEWITT CHOSEN LEADER OF CHARLES ELIOT CLUB

Lavelle M. Hewitt, senior in landscape gardening, was elected moderator of the Charles Eliot club at a meeting of the organization in agricultural hall 327 last night. Nelle Tobias, junior in landscape, as re-elected secretary-treasurer. Max E. Walliser, senior in landscape, and retiring moderator, spoke a few words in appreciation of the cooperation given him by other members of the club before turning the meeting over to the new moderator.

The club decided to have a sketching class each Saturday afternoon, weather and campus activities permitting. Miss Erlene Green, instructor in landscape architecture, and Spencer Sanders were taken into the organization as fellow members.

Pepper in Cornflakes Arouses D. U. Mascot to Pugilistic Venture

Whether or not pepper was in his cornflakes, Gus, the Delta Upsilon dog, was in a bad temper yesterday morning. Just as the whistle blew ending a geology class, Gus leaped at the sleeping body of Boy, Sigma Kappa mascot, also attending the class.

After a short but bloody battle the dogs were separated by students holding lighted matches to Gus's nose. As soon as Gus was out of the room, he scented another battle and raced down the stairs after a black bull-dog owned by members of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. The two dogs fought all the way down the stairs and out on the campus, where a big airedale joined in the encounter.

Members of Delta Upsilon allege that someone put pepper in Gus's cornflakes, spoiling his natural fighting humor. The fraternity affiliation of the airedale does not seem to be known.

COMMITTEES START HOMECOMING PLANS

Welcome Sign Will Decorate One Entrance to Campus

Homecoming committee chairmen met yesterday in library 104 to discuss plans for homecoming. Glenn Roberts, senior in commerce, who presided, stressed the point that homecoming is only two weeks away and work should be done immediately.

Nolan Page, senior in civil engineering, reported on decorations for the campus. One major feature is a Beaver welcome sign to be placed on Jefferson street in front of Waldo hall. Construction on this sign will start today and it will be completed by the end of next week.

Robert Moser, senior in electrical engineering, outlined plans for the homecoming dances. No programs or decorations will be used. The dances will be in the men's gymnasium, women's gymnasium and College Gardens. Thursday night rally dances will be given in four houses, to be announced later.

Alumni luncheon plans were announced by Marian Van Scoyoc, senior in commerce. The luncheon will be in Waldo hall, and the dinner in the tea room Saturday night.

Alfred Thulean, senior in engineering, is in charge of decorating Bell field. The Varsity "O" parade will be preceded by the gilded Beaver which will be placed on a platform at the north end of Bell field.

Underclassmen are to be appointed on committee to meet guests at trains and to convey them in special cars, announced Leonard Moss, junior in commerce and chairman of the reception committee. Registration will be from 9 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night.

Carl Thelan, senior in commerce, told of the noise parade plans. Entrants will be judged on appearance. (Continued on Page 4)

ANNUAL BANQUET HELD BY CHINESE STUDENTS

"Double 10," founding anniversary of the Republic of China, was celebrated by Chinese students on the campus at a banquet.

Sixteen years ago the empire in China was overthrown and a republican form of government set up. The anniversary of this event is celebrated by Chinese all over the world on October 10 much the same as Americans commemorate the Fourth of July.

Speeches on the responsibilities of Chinese students to China and to the world are given by students attending.

CARL THELAN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF HONORARY

Carl Thelan, senior in commerce, was elected president of Alpha Kappa Psi, honorary in commerce, at a meeting of the organization yesterday in the college tea room. Edmund Gurney, senior in commerce, was elected corresponding secretary.

E. B. Bosworth, associate professor of accounting, and faculty advisor, spoke on the Adolphe Wolfe prize essay contest. He urged all members to take part.

YEAR BOOK SALES RAPIDLY INCREASE

Alpha Pi Delta First Group to Go Over Top in Drive for Beaver Subscriptions

SEVERAL NEAR MARK

Robert Montgomery and Vivian Shriver Lead Contest

Alpha Pi Delta fraternity is the first living group to go over the top in the Beaver subscription drive now under way. Other groups nearing the 100 per cent goal are Sigma Kappa, Alpha Chi Omega, Theta Delta Nu and Tau Kappa Epsilon. Several houses have not reported yet and a check-up later is expected to reveal others not far behind.

Montgomery Leads

Salesmen leading the contest for the most Beavers sold are Robert Montgomery, sophomore in chemical engineering, first, with Vivian Shriver, junior in home economics, and Pearl Horning, sophomore in vocational education, close behind. A list of the salesmen with their contest standing will appear in Saturday's Barometer.

"Sales are going forward much more rapidly than in former years," said Marian Conklin, circulation manager. "With more than 900 subscriptions already turned in, and some of the houses not yet reported, a new high mark for the sales is assured."

Copies numbering more than 2200 were sold last year. Although no tentative quota has been set this year, the circulation staff is expecting to push sales far past any previous year.

Subscriptions may be obtained from salesmen, at the Beaver office in Shepard hall or in the lobby of the library from 8 to 5 o'clock each day. Receipts are obtained by payment of $3 now and the remainder of $2 is due when the Beaver is distributed.

HONEST SALESMANSHIP THEME OF NEW COURSE

Lectures by Visiting Druggists Planned as Aid to Local School of Pharmacy

Honest salesmanship is to be emphasized in a new course for students in pharmacy. The model drug store will be used as a laboratory with the customer's welfare of prime importance in drug store operation.

This is one of a number of features outlined yesterday by a representative conference of Oregon druggists called in to assist local faculty in formulating the most practical and up-to-date material to be included in the new course.

The visiting druggists frowned on forced sales, advised more display of stock, declared salesmen must know stock well, and advocated modern methods of filling and recording prescriptions. To continue the close contact between instruction and commercial work in this course, the druggists offered their services as non-resident occasional lecturers on various phases of the course. Instruction will be only in ethical lines with no emphasis on such sidelines as soda fountains, tobaccos and similar goods.

The men here yesterday were favorably impressed with the model drug store. They also inspected the new drug laboratory recently established by the state board of pharmacy and considered plans for the spring drug trade conference here.

Those present were Dan F. Fry, Salem; A. W. Allen, E. R. Williston, S. A. Mattieu and John R. Leach, Portland; J. R. Hughes, A. R. Paris, G. W. Davis and L. R. Stevenson, Eugene; Calvin Ingle and D. P. Mason, Albany; Robert Hunter, John F. Allen, T. R. Graham, L. F. Millhollen and A. R. Livingston, Corvallis. All members of the school of pharmacy staff attended the "round table" discussion in the model drug store.

DEAN TO ATTEND MEETING

Dr. Kate W. Jameson, dean of women, will be in Portland Thursday and Friday to attend the state convention of the deans of women.

HOMECOMING ALUMNUS FEATURES GRADUATES

Chamberlin Officially Credited for Downing Three Planes During World War

The lives of two Oregon State men—one a graduate, the other a professor—are the main articles in the homecoming issue of the O. A. C. Alumnus which will be off the press by the end of the week.

Walter Keck, '11 graduate in chemical engineering, is believed by many to be the greatest all-around athlete, and one of the four greatest punters the college has turned out. While here, he starred in football, baseball, basketball and track. A cartoon of him is shown, drawn from a photograph in the 1912 annual.

W. J. Chamberlin, assistant professor in entomology, is also featured. He is considered an unusual professor, being as handy with the "stick" of an airplane as he is with a microscope. As an author of note, he has had one book on forest entomology published, with a second on the press. During the World War he was officially credited with downing three German planes. The past two summers he has served in the forest service as observer and pilot.

PROFESSOR BRANDON SUMMONED BY DEATH

Campus Flag Flies Half Mast Until After Funeral

Henry Clay Brandon, head of the department of industrial arts, died at his home 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon after a lingering illness that began more than two years ago with a severe attack of influenza. In his fight against ill health, Professor Brandon received treatment at the famous Mayo hospital but his condition was beyond the power of science to cure.

Professor Brandon was born in Indiana 51 years ago last April. He received his A. B. and A. M. degrees from Indiana university, later taking graduate work at Columbia, where he was elected to Sigma Xi, science fraternity.

He began his teaching career at Indiana university in 1905 and remained there four years, later joining the staff of Columbia university. In 1912 he came west and became principal of Benson Polytechnic school in Portland, where he remained until coming to Corvallis.

Professor Brandon is survived by his wife, formerly Vera Haskell of Forest Grove, and three children: Ruth, 12; Dorothy, 9; and Margaret, 7. Of his immediate family, his mother, two brothers and a sister survive. Funeral arrangements will not be announced until word is received from the relatives in Indiana.

The campus flag will remain at half mast until after the funeral.

LIBRARY RECEIVES COPY OF FRENCH PERIODICAL

The October number of the French magazine, "L'Illustration," just received in the college library is devoted to the American Legion convention in Paris and to general aspects of American life. It contains the history of the American Legion and shows a double page picture of its convention. Other pictures shown are the capitol at Washington, D. C., Abraham Lincoln's Memorial, and George Washington's home at Mt. Vernon.

Another feature of the magazine is a section devoted to American architecture and includes several pages of pictures of New York buildings and of the homes and gardens of American millionaires. One page features pictures taken from Princeton, Pittsburg, and Colorado universities.

SELBY STUDIES WILD HAY

A study of the cost of wild hay is being carried on by H. E. Selby, associate professor of farm management. It is probably the only study of its kind in the United States. Professor Selby just returned from eastern Oregon where he has been in charge of the forage cost project, and has been making a study of costs of wild hay production. Professor Selby reports excellent cooperation from the stockmen.

GRIDSTERS INTRODUCED

John Duffield Outlined Plans for Midnight Matinee

Students became more intimately acquainted with the varsity football team, and with Coach Paul J. Schissler at the student body rally meeting yesterday afternoon in the men's gymnasium. Coach Schissler, after introducing the varsity men, gave a spirited talk on Oregon State fighting spirit.

"There is a lack of pride and fight in Oregon State," said Coach Schissler. "Get into the spirit of the proposition and support your college with all you have. We accept the defeat at the hands of the University of Southern California this year but will go back next year and beat them—if we can."

Narver Thanks Classes

Ursel Narver, student body president, thanked the classes for their cooperation in making institution night a success and expressed the gratitude of Dr. W. J. Kerr, president of the college.

Announcements were made by committee chairmen of future events that need continued support. John Duffield, chairman of the greater O. A. C. committee, reported plans for a midnight matinee in Portland the evening before the Oregon State-Stanford game. (Continued on Page 3)

TEN DEBATERS CHOSEN FOR FRESHMAN SQUAD

George Knutsen Appointed Rook Forensic Manager; Team to Barnstorm State

Ten men were selected out of the 20 candidates for the freshman debate squad last night in library 100. Each aspirant gave a five minute speech on "Resolved, that a modern college education is not worth the time and money it requires." Selections were made by the judges Leland M. Ross and W. A. Dahlberg, instructors in public speaking, and C. B. Mitchell, professor in public speaking.

Rook orators will have many debates this year. Their schedule includes a triangle meet with Willamette university, Linfield college and a barnstorming trip which includes almost every institution in Oregon. Every speech in the freshman debates will be extemporaneous.

George A. Knutsen has been appointed manager of rook debate. Freshman debate squad selection includes Leland Fryer, Martin Redding, Lawrence Francis, George Knutsen, Gordon Winks, Virgil Dunkin, Robert DePriest, Howard Borch, Jack Spong and Gabriel Grew.

The rook debate team will meet every Tuesday and Thursday night in library 100 at 7 o'clock. It is understood, that a fine will be levied on rooks not appearing for practice.

FORESTRY CLUB MEETS AT PEAVY ARBORETUM

The forestry club met at the Peavy arboretum seven miles north of Corvallis on the Ninth street highway last evening. A kangaroo court was held. Seven recently engaged men were tried and sentenced to pass out cigars to the club. The jury consisted of twelve men and Jean Fry, O. S. C's only woman foreman.

Sophomore members were paddled for not supplying sufficient fire wood last year. A short business meeting was held and refreshments were served.

The first Arboretum day of this year will be next Saturday. George Fry, president of the club, will be in charge of the party. Repairs will be made in the lob cabin and on the grounds.

Illustrating "Dynamic"

Everyone who attended the student body meeting yesterday afternoon found out one thing that may not have been clear before. That thing was the origin of a great deal of spirit that always seems to inspire the Orange eleven in their grid battles.

Coach Schissler in his short talk at the student assembly showed the characteristic terse language and nervous energy that has earned for him the favorite description by sports writers over the country—dynamic. Many who have never had personal contact with the coach may have wondered just exactly what this term meant when applied to a person. They found out.

What the coach said would lose too much in the retelling to try to put it over again here. It needs the background of the man himself to give the full force of his words. Those who failed to attend the meeting are just that much the loser.

One may not agree with everything the coach said about criticism and its place here on the campus, but one fact he expressed cannot possibly be disputed. That fact is that the team needs unified support of the entire student body and senses somehow any shift of support in whatever direction. That the attitude of the student body has any direct bearing upon the team's morale has not been apparent to many persons. There can be little doubt of the fact after hearing "the big little man" say so himself.

One View

There are thousands of individuals in this glorious country of ours who are attending colleges and high schools, many of whom are puzzling over a problem that seems to perplex the most astute minds. These hapless persons are pondering over what constitutes an American, whether there is such a thing, and if so why.

To enlighten the trend of modern thought on the subject, it might be suggested that the present day group of Americans consists of a diversified collection of peborists, stoics, optimists, pessimists, eclectics, romanticists, mystics, symbolists and what not. As it takes all kinds and degrees of individuals to make the world go round, so does it take a like group of people to make this country what it seems to be.

Facts brought to light by history gave rise to the problem of Americanism. One of the strong points used against the possibility of there being such a thing as an American in existence is that the present day persons came from all corners of the globe and all of them go to make up the American citizen. One case is cited, for example, in which a man from England married a girl from Holland; they had four sons who married girls from four different countries finally to produce—What?

To settle the dispute, both the pros and cons might go back into history and American literature to St. Jean de Crevecoeur, who defines an American as he saw him in the days of 1776 and whose definition may well be applied today.

"An American is a new man, who acts upon new principles; he must therefore entertain new ideas, and form new opinions. From involuntary idleness, servile dependence, penury and useless labour, he has passed to tools of a very different nature, rewarded by ample subsistence.—This is an American."—D. H. B.

Mounted wrestling, acrobatic and trick riding will complete the club program.

FIVE FRESHMEN CO-EDS SECRETARIES SELECTED

New secretaries for the Greater Oregon State committee are Dorothy Cassidy, Mary Edwards, Carolyn Dreesen, freshmen in commerce; Katherine Miller and Betty Kirsch, freshmen in home economics. Members are chosen each year to take charge of correspondence with prospective students. Those named are asked to report at 5 o'clock at the student body office today.

PUBLICATION PLANS DRIVE

Plans for increasing the circulation of the Oregon Countryman, the official publication of the school of agriculture, were discussed at a meeting of agricultural students last night. A campus-wide drive will be launched and it is expected that 66 per cent of the agricultural students will be solicited this week. Floyd Mullen, assistant editor, spoke briefly on what is expected of the student who intends to make the staff.

LARGE ENROLLMENT IN CORRECTIVE GYM

Equipment for Special Cases Included in Department

Restricted gymnasium work is looked upon as one of the most important phases of physical education at Oregon State college by W. A. Kearns, director of athletics and physical education. Every man entering must take a physical examination, and all who are found to need corrective exercises are assigned to the restricted classes.

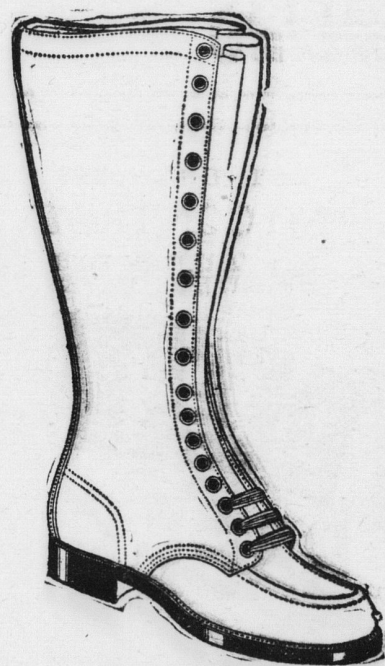

"We use the term 'restricted' because it is more than corrective work," says director Kearns. The average college student wants to do more than he should do, and we have to follow medical advice in restricting certain individuals to a limit in gymnasium work. Everything a student does in our department we want to be a contribution to his health, not a detriment. We are gradually increasing the equipment in this department and in the near future we hope to give even better attention to each special case."

Grant Swan, instructor in restricted gymnasium work, reports that more than 75 students are taking corrective work this term. Individual cases include lateral and inward curvature of the spine, flat feet, fallen arches, protruding abdomen, weak hearts, and general poor posture. Mr. Swan also gives corrective work for outward goiters, muscular development after operations, recent fractures and for strengthening injured joints. He was added to the staff because he has had special training and experience in this type of work in the Los Angeles school system.

ATHLETES WASH TOWELS

Four varsity basketball players are making their way through school by washing towels for the men's gymnasium. Approximately 500 towels a day are washed in the laundry furnished by the physical education department for men. A new Conlon electric washing machine, bought this fall, has speeded up the washing of the towels. The laundry has other equipment such as stationary tubs and a steam sterilizer.

game and for the dance the next night at Multnomah hotel.

Jack Bowman, chairman of the pep committee, gave tentative plans for the parade in Portland before the big game. House and club presidents will be given further instructions regarding methods to be used for a big turnout. Several Portland officials, including Mayor George L. Baker, will be in the parade.

Glenn Roberts, chairman of the homecoming committee, outlined homecoming plans and explained rules for noise parade and house signs. James Goss, student body social chairman, announced the dance program for fall term.

Songs were led by W. A. Kearns, director of physical education for men, and yells by Tom Stead, varsity yell leader. Art Ewell's Oregon Staters played.

CROSS-COUNTRY RUNNERS MAKE FAST TRIAL TIME

Time trials for intramural cross-country have been officially taken every night this week. Vernon Gilmore, Sigma Pi, is tied with Paul Young, Theta Chi, for the best time. They have both covered the course in 10 minutes and 44 seconds. Ted Klein, Pi Kappa Phi, is second with 10 minutes and 45 seconds. Ronald Johnson, Theta Chi, is third with 10 minutes and 49 seconds.

Team averages will be totaled and posted next Saturday in the men's gymnasium. The 20 men who turn in the best time will be selected as varsity for the University of Oregon meet.

COLLEGE FOLK CLUB REVIEWS NEW BOOK

"The Next Age of Man" Critic by Mrs. M. J. Whaley

"The Next Age of Man" by Albert Edward Wiggam, was reviewed before the literary section of the College Folk club by Mrs. Mercy Jane Whaley, instructor in economics and sociology. The next meeting will be jointly with the homemaker's section November 8 when Dr. A. B. MacLeod, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will discuss "Teaching Religion in the Home in the Light of Modern Thought."

The program for the remainder of the year will be as follows: December 13, "Proverbs as Interpretation of National Character" by Frederick Berthold, professor of English language and literature; and "Vacation Reading in the Magazines" by Mrs. J. F. Brumbaugh. Features for January 10 are "Review of some Recent Biographies" by Mrs. William E. Lawrence; and "What to Read in the Magazines for the New Year" by Bertha A. Herse, reference librarian.

On February 14, "The Time of Man" by Elizabeth Maddox will be reviewed by Mrs. E. B. Mittelman; and "Some Phase of the Modern Novel" by E. T. Arnesen, assistant professor of English. March 13, talks include "Experiences and Contacts at Columbia University the Past Year" by Mrs. C. E. Ingalls; and "Worth While Magazine Articles of the Month" by Miss Lucia M. Haley, assistant librarian.

The April 10 program includes "Literature for the High School Student" by Miss Lubov Krichesky, head of the English department of the Corvallis high school and a book review by Mrs. George W. Peavy. On May 8 John Kierzek, assistant professor of English, will give "Resume of Expressionist Plays."

MINOR "O"'S AWARDED SIX WOMEN ATHLETES

COACH HAGER BREAKS HAND WHILE TUMBLING

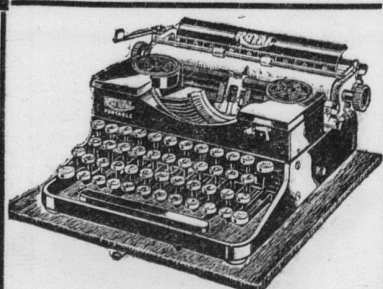

Coach Bob Hager, varsity basketball coach and instructor in tumbling, broke his hand and wrist while demonstrating an aerial tumbling act to a class.

The act required a hand balancing feat on one of the students' shoulders. The student wavered and Hager fell with his wrist bent. Although Coach Hager has played in strenuous athletics all of his life and was in naval aviation during the World war, this is the first bone he has ever broken.

DANCING CLASS STARTED
Fifty women were present at the first social dancing class in the women's building yesterday afternoon. Fundamentals, technique and a simple fox trot were taught by Miss Josephine Garvin, instructor in physical education for women. The waltz turn, step pivot and one step will be stressed in the class next Wednesday at 5 o'clock.

Association of Names and Personality Aids Employment Secretary

Do you have a hard time remembering names? The little woman behind the desk in the Y. M. C. A. doesn't. Mrs. Lulu Howard, Y. M. C. A. employment secretary, is credited with remembering more names than any other person on the campus. More than 900 students are now signed up for employment. She remembers them all. Each year the "Y" helps approximately 1800 new students find room and board.

"I associate names with personality as well as with faces," said Mrs. Howard. "I have sometimes mistaken one person for another but it is usually because these two persons have similar personalities."

"I have never made a specialty of remembering names. It just seems natural that when I see a person his name should come to me. I remember the names of all foreign students who come in contact with the 'Y.'"

"Y" GIRLS GIVE FIRST TEA AT SHEPARD HALL

The first Y. W. C. A. tea of the year given in Shepard hall was well attended. Dorothy Chaney, junior in home economics, chairman of the social committee, assisted by Elaine Decker, planned the tea. Hostesses were Margaret Holmes, Helen Rhoades and Ada Camp. Mrs. Laura Olsen, Gertrude Skow and Betty Luttrell poured. A delightful musical number was given by Miss Chaney and Miss Rhoades. The tea will be given again next Tuesday. All girls on the campus are invited. Big sisters are asked to bring their little sisters and get acquainted.

A. G. LUNN TO RETURN
A. G. Lunn, professor of poultry husbandry, who has been serving as judge at various poultry shows in California and Hawaii, will return to the campus October 24. During Professor Lunn's absence, F. E. Fox, associate professor of poultry husbandry, has been conducting his classes.

No Matter How Much You Learn

YOU KNOW ONLY SO MUCH AS YOU REMEMBER. Your mind will obey you just in proportion to the requirements you place upon it if you give it a chance. You can always remember if you train your mind to serve you when and as you want it to serve. You can think and talk better and clearer with training that will take but a few minutes of your time. Prof. M. V. Atwood, formerly of the N. Y. College of Agriculture at Ithaca, now Editor of Utica Herald-Dispatch wrote: "I have all memory courses and yours is best of lot. You owe it to the public to publish it in book form." REGISTRATION BEGUN FOR ESSAY CONTEST

Wolfe Prize to Be Presented to Winning Upperclassmen

Registration of students intending to enter the Adolphe Wolfe prize contest, established here last February by Adolphe Wolfe, pioneer Portland merchant, started yesterday. This is the first time the prize has been offered and is established to promote business leadership, scholarship and research.

Juniors and seniors intending to participate will register with Dr. M. N. Nelson, professor of economics and sociology and chairman of the committee, not later than Friday, October 21. The essay is to be handed in to the committee not later than January 1. Committee members are Dr. U. G. Dubach, dean of men; Dr. A. C. Schmitt, professor of finance and administration; and H. T. Vance, professor of advertising and selling.

Selection of winners will be based on scholarship, leadership and on the merits of a 2500 word essay that all candidates must enter. Subjects for the essay contest are divided into two groups, one for junior and one for senior contestants. The junior subject is "How to Increase Merchandise Turnover in Retail Stores" and the senior subject is "Budgetary Control as Adapted by Retail Merchandising." Details as to contest rules will be furnished by Dr. M. N. Nelson.

A prize of $60 will be given the senior in commerce and $40 to the junior in commerce who in the opinion of commerce faculty and committee members gives the greatest promise of business leadership.

Applicants will register for this work under one of the commerce seminars and all who hand in an approved essay will receive two credits. In addition to cash prizes there will be first and second honorable mention. Sophomores who have not less than 102 credits and an average of 85 per cent may participate, even though they do not have their junior certificate.

Grades will be determined on the following points: essay, 50 per cent; leadership, 25 per cent; and scholarship, 25 per cent.

LIBRARY REQUESTS AID TO REDUCE CONGESTION

To improve the traffic situation in the college library, students reading reserved books are asked to use the west end of the reading room between the hours of 7 and 10 in the evening. This will cause less disturbance to those consulting the reference collection in the other end of the building.

Those who bring their own textbooks for study, and who do not wish to consult library books, are asked to use the downstairs technical reading room. Owing to congestion near the card catalog, students are asked to hold conversations in the lower hall instead of obstructing passage in the upper lobby.

COMMERCE GROUP LISTS APPOINTMENTS

Harry Roberts Outlines Plans for Annual Exposition

Activities of the O. A. C. chamber of commerce were discussed in its first meeting of the year last evening. Ward Davis, president, announced appointments on standing committees for the year.

"The Coordinators" college orchestra opened the meeting with musical numbers following which the treasurer and committee chairmen gave brief reports. Harry Roberts, exposition committee chairman, outlined the plans for the annual O. A. C. exposition to be later in the year. J. A. Bexell, dean of the school of commerce, spoke on the importance of supporting the chamber of commerce.

The appointed committees are as follows: program, Dan Poling chairman, Vera Kearns and Ralph Hudson; finance, Edmund Gurney, chairman, Monroe Smart and Warren Rolph; membership, Anna Vesta Williams, chairman, Myrtle Caswell, and Eva Schneider; commerce exchange, Ernest Poore, Helen Dreesen and Donald Ford; exposition, Harry Roberts, chairman, Arnold Johnson and John Albert; publicity, Wallace Ingle, chairman, Walter Neill and John Caldwell; social and attendance, Wallace Christenson, chairman, Isabel Peuthert and Harold Porter; commerce magazine, John Warren, editor, staff to be chosen later.

COMMITTEE STARTS HOMECOMING PLANS

as well as noise created. Moving pictures will be taken by four different picture firms.

The house signs, which are to be up by 6 o'clock Thursday and taken down Monday, will be judged by appearance during both time and at night, according to David Tucker, senior in commerce and chairman of the sign committee. The Gazette-Times has promised to replace the silver loving cup won by Pi Kappa Alpha for the last three consecutive years.

Distribution of posters, stickers and envelopes has been planned by Delbert Snider, senior in commerce. Students may procure these at the student body office.

Ted Wetzel, senior in electrical engineering, is in charge of publicity, and Howard Towers, senior in commerce, the traffic for homecoming. John Henderson, junior in forestry, is in charge of stunts planned by the polo men.

Theater Briefs

What goes on behind the gates of a girls' finishing school comprises an important part of the story of "Naughty But Nice," Colleen Moore's latest starring picture, being shown at the Whiteside theater today and Friday.

It is the story of a plain, long-haired, and freckled "dumbbell" who gains freedom from her indulgent uncle's Texas ranch when an oil discovery makes him a millionaire. The metamorphosis of this comical person into the most stunning girl in an exclusive eastern school was a severe test of Miss Moore's acting ability.

"No Control," a new and novel Metropolitan comedy featuring Harrison Ford and Phyllis Haver, is being presented at the Majestic theater today. It is the story of a young circus girl who becomes pinched for money and has to get a different job. The fruitless search and complications are finally overcome by a position in John Douglas's firm. Through the friendship of Douglas and Nancy, the circus girl, the circus is re-financed and becomes a success.

"Y" DISCUSSES PURPOSE

The proposed statement of purpose of the national Y. W. C. A. which will be presented for adoption at the national assembly in Sacramento next April was read and discussed at a Y. W. C. A. council meeting. Gertrude Skow, president of the local Y. W. C. A. and member of national executive council, served on the committee which drafted this at the national meeting in New York September.

A committee was appointed to draw up a program of study for the council. Mable Chin Qong gave a brief report on world news.

STUDENT HAS RARE BOOKS

"Huttons Edition of Recreation," a rare set of old books, is the property of Leonidas Vernon, senior in chemical engineering. The five-volume set deals with chemistry, astronomy, navigation, mathematics and all the natural sciences of the early nineteenth century. The books were published in Whitefriars, England, in 1803. Vernon obtained them through an English book agency.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS WILL CHECK NAMES

Students to Determine Rating of Pictures for Beaver

Juniors and seniors will check their names in the library sometime next week to determine their class ratings for pictures in the Beaver. Students having completed five terms of work and registered in school this term will have their pictures in the junior section.

Senior rating will be given those who have placed their application for graduation. Activity lists will be turned in next term.

Much discussion has arisen regarding the disposing of cap and gown section, according to Harold Ingle, senior in pharmacy, in charge of the class section. Many eastern universities as well as Stanford university and University of Washington, have changed from this section to regular pictures.

The proposed change will be taken up before Inter-fraternity council, Pan-hellenic council and the next senior class meeting.
