FIFTH EXPOSITION BELIEVED SUCCESS

Enrollment of High Schools at Educational Program Larger Than Usual

EXHIBITS INFORMATIVE

Good Personal Attention Given to Vocational Guidance

The fifth annual Educational exposition was an outstanding success in that the program, exhibits and conferences stayed closer to the central theme of vocational guidance and gave less attention to the showy side, believes E. B. Lemon, registrar. The whole program emphasized what each school had to offer in training for a vocation.

The number of high schools represented in this exposition was 156, one more than last year. The number of delegates in attendance was 645 as compared with 696 last year. This is due to the fact that the number of representatives allowed from each high school has been reduced in order to relieve the burden on the houses and halls of entertaining a large group of high school visitors. The final count on delegates showed 224 boys, 274 girls, 74 faculty men and 70 faculty women.

Courses Represented
The exhibits, as a whole, gave concrete information about the actual work and courses given in the various departments and schools and gave less attention to the showy commercial exhibits, reported Mr. Lemon. The effectiveness of some of the exhibits was injured by the lack of lighting, as the present building program has lowered the lighting efficiency of the (Continued on Page 4)

ENGINEERING GRADUATES RECEIVE HIGH POSITIONS

Porter Martin Manages Ontario Division for Gas Company of Denver, Colorado

Graduates of the school of mechanical engineering are holding many responsible positions—consulting engineers, company managers and executive offices. More than 250 graduates are scattered throughout the United States and Canada to the Philippine Islands.

Percy Cupper of the '04 class, is consulting engineer in Salem, and a member of the executive board of the alumni association. He was practicing engineer for several years in Portland and Salem, and state engineer for more than 10 years.

Porter W. Martin, '17, is with the P. O. Dougherty gas company of Denver, having charge of all the properties in Ontario, Canada. He is living in St. Catherine, Ontario. He was one of the two men selected by the company each year to be sent to Denver.

Philip Gearhart, '06, is working for the Automatic Sprinkler company with headquarters in Seattle and a branch office in Portland. Gordon C. Ray, '06, is manager of the bureau of public relations of the Pacific Gas and Electric company of San Francisco. Herbert J. Elliott, '07, a member of the board of regents, is living in Perrydale.

BUILDING PLANS INTEREST

The exhibit of the Memorial Union building for the Educational exposition is being left on display on the bulletin board on the first floor of the commerce building for a few days, as it has aroused considerable interest. The plans of the building are being left so that the students may see the exact floor plans and become familiar with the proposed contents.

No Paper Thursday Because of Holiday

Because of the holiday there will be no Barometer Thursday. All those wishing to schedule meetings for Thursday are asked to turn in announcements for Wednesday's paper.

TECH RECORD FEATURES NEW PHYSICS BUILDING

Cuts of Seismograph Installed in Department Portrayed With Descriptions

The February issue of the Oregon State Technical Record is off the press. This number features the new physics building and describes the apparatus to be installed.

The new siesmograph recording the north and south and the east and west component of vibration, made by H. R. Vinyard of the physics department, is described with a cut of the instrument.

Neon signs—the latest fad in advertising—are sketched by M. Dornwin Pillars, senior in electrical engineering. The history and manufacture of the lamps are explained.

The Swan island airport of Portland with accompanying pictures receives attention with a story of its advantages from the standpoint of location and absence of obstructions. The field is 6700 feet long and 1220 feet wide, costing less than $500,000. It was first used publicly on Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's arrival on September 14, last year.

The Technical Record staff and the executive board of the Associated Engineers will have their annual banquet February 22 in the Golden Pheasant.

STUDENTS TO ATTEND ADVERTISING MEETING

H. T. Vance Will Be in Charge of College Delegation

More than 30 students will attend the get-together of Willamette valley advertising club members in Salem Wednesday. This group will represent the Oregon State Ad club, Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional fraternity in advertising, and the newly organized women's branch of the Ad club.

H. T. Vance, professor of advertising and salesmanship, will have official charge of the delegation which will leave the commerce building at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Dr. Kate W. Jamieson, dean of women, has given her consent to late permission for all women attending the banquet and conference to be in the Marion hotel in Salem. Transportation will be provided by members of the club. Any one donating a car for the occasion will receive the cost of gas for the trip by applying to George Griffith, transportation chairman.

Irma Coulter, senior in commerce, and temporary chairman of the women's organization has charge of the feature of the college group. Edna Billington, freshman in vocational education, and Marie Hedges, freshman in home economics, will give a negro clog. Another stunt to be given by the club as a whole will remain a secret until the night of the banquet.

Persons interested in attending the get-together and who are not members of the club are asked to call Marian Conklin, delegation chairman, at 39. Club members will meet tonight in commerce 311 to make final arrangements for the trip.

Among the speakers of the convention are Marshall Dana, associate editor of the Oregon Journal, Hal Hoss secretary to Governor I. L. Patterson G. A. Rebenstich, president of the Portland Advertising club, and Robert Mount of the better business bureau.

GILMORE ELECTED CAPTAIN

Vernon Gilmore, sophomore in vocational education, has been elected captain of next year's cross country team. Gilmore, who has run on the winning intramural team for two consecutive years, has won the turkey run for two consecutive years, and was the first Oregon State man to finish in the 1927 meet with the University of Oregon. He established a cross country record last year when he covered the course in 10 minutes and 8 seconds. He also holds the college record for the turkey run, his time being 9 minutes and 38 seconds.

KERRS LEAVE FOR SEATTLE

Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Kerr left late yesterday afternoon for Seattle where they will represent Oregon State college at the inauguration of President M. Lyle Spencer as head of the University of Washington. President and Mrs. Kerr will be dinner guests of the Seattle Oregon State alumni club.

LEADERS CHOSEN TO RAISE FUNDS

Memorial Union Building Drive for Lower Two Classes Scheduled Next Week

TWELVE TEAMS WORK

Money Pledged Will Be Spent in Decorating Interior

Leaders for the Memorial union drive the week of February 26 to March 3 were announced yesterday by Victor Johnson, senior in agriculture and head of the Memorial union drive.

The drive will be carried on primarily among the two underclasses, the junior and senior classes having already subscribed in previous drives. Complete class organization plans are ready for the drive which will be carried on similar to previous ones with a colonel at the head of each class. Each colonel will have two assistants to aid him as chairman of the class organization. Twelve teams of 10 persons each will do the soliciting among the members of their respective classes. Each team will be headed by a captain, the workers being known as lieutenants.

Funds For Decorations

Money raised from subscriptions to the fund during the drive will be used to decorate, furnish and equip the building. The building proper is scheduled for completion in September and will appear from the exterior as is shown by the architect's colored (Continued on page 4.)

SIGMA DELTA CHI GIVES SUGGESTIONS TO EDITORS

High School Annual Managers Get Pointers on Writing Exposition Articles

The special conference for high school annual editors and managers under the auspices of the Oregon State chapter of Sigma Delta Chi attracted 35 students as one of the closing features of the educational exposition. Speakers were Frank L. Snow, professor of industrial journalism, John C. Burner, instructor of industrial journalism, and Albert Bates, athletic editor of the Beaver annual.

Several students remained after the close of the session to get special pointers on writing articles about the exposition for the high school and home town papers. The Corvallis Chamber of Commerce supplied Sigma Delta Chi with a handsome loving cup to be presented to the winner of this contest.

Several hundred high school visitors inspected the annual entered in the Sigma Delta Chi high school annual contest last year. Editors are making plans for the 1928 contest.

COUNTY AGENT LEADER TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

F. L. Ballard, state county agent leader, is making a two-week trip through eastern Oregon to attend the economic outlook conferences. He will be in Malheur county today and tomorrow, in Union county Friday and Saturday and in Deschutes county next Monday and Tuesday. In Umatilla county he will confer with the county court regarding employing of another county agent assistant. Mr. Ballard will also meet with the Crook County Wool Growers association. One day will be spent in Boise, Ida. in consultation with the officers of the Idaho Turkey Marketing association.

MARIS ATTENDS MEETINGS

Paul V. Maris, director of extension, is in southern Oregon attending a series of meetings to discuss extension work. He met with the Kiwanis club of Medford yesterday and in the evening spoke before a meeting of the farmers of the Bellevue district near Ashland. Today he is in Grants Pass.

Beaver Knight Shield Arouses Curiosity of Exposition Delegates

"What are those fellows with orange shields on their sweaters?" asked a high school delegate.

"They are Beaver Knights," answered his companion.

"And what do they do?" the delegate further inquired.

"You have seen part of their job already," explained the other. "They met you at the trains. They took you to your rooming place and showed you something of the campus. The ushers at the exhibits are Beaver Knights too."

"Not only do they usher at all college events, but they instruct freshmen in the traditions and rules of the college. Their job is not to torture the rookies and make life miserable for them but to assist them whenever possible. At one time there was a vigilance committee which did nothing but instruct freshmen but after the group became a national organization of collegiate knights, they took over the work of ushering and assisting visitors. All visiting athletic teams are met and assisted by the Beaver Knights."

VARSITY DEBATERS DEFEAT ARIZONANS

Returns From Baylor Contest Have Not Been Received

The Beaver debaters met Baylor university at Waco, Tex., last night after defeating the University of Arizona Friday night 3 to 0. This victory evened the score for the varsity men with two wins and two defeats on their 14-meet schedule. Returns on the Baylor university debate have not been received.

The men are having a fine trip John West, manager, reported, with railroad officials giving them special attention, because of advance preparation made by J. W. Gaines, local agent of the Southern Pacific. The team visited a number of old Spanish missions Saturday, one of which was founded in 1692.

Victories have now been won from University of California at Los Angeles and University of Arizona, while the men dropped meets to the law school, Southwestern university and University of Southern California. In each debate the local men are taking the negative on the question, "Resolved, that American investments in foreign countries should receive only the protection of the government of the country in which they are made." Roger Ball and Robert Griffin debated for Oregon State at the three universities in California.

ROCK SPECIMENS RECEIVED

Specimens of rocks embossed with palm leaves have been received at the college museum of natural history from Miss Nellie Gilliam of Dallas.

"These specimens, found near Heppner, are interesting because they indicate that palm trees grew in eastern Oregon and that a tropical or sub-tropical climate prevailed in this country," said Dr. John B. Horner, chairman of the committee on museum. "Other specimens of the kind will be welcome because of their educational value."

SWEATERS GIVEN VARSITY PLAYERS

Nineteen Men Receive Awards Saturday Evening; Coach Congratulates Group

PAUL SCHISSLER TALKS

Eighteen Veterans Will Return for Next Year's Team

Nineteen men were presented varsity football sweaters by W. L. Kaddler, Saturday evening in the men's gymnasium. Coach P. J. Schissler congratulated the men and spoke on the prospects for next year.

With eighteen lettermen returning next year a better team is expected. The men are much improved over the material that turned out last year at this time for spring practice. The system being used this year in practice is giving the men experience and confidence that they would receive in regular games, and is proving successful in teaching fundamentals.

Wing Men Show Well

Striff, Essman and Whitlock are being groomed for the wing positions and all three show promise of being able to take care of his position. With five lettermen tackles back the coach does not have much worry as all these men are coming along better every day. The guards are also well taken care of with such men as Eilers, Carlson, lettermen; Cochran, Peterson and Sloan, from the reserves; and a good bunch coming up from the rooks. Two lettermen are back for center. (Continued on Page 4)

SEEKERS WILL PRESENT EIGHT VAUDEVILLE ACTS

Magic, Comedy Stunts, Movies Constitute Entertainment Included in Program

Eight acts including magic, comedy stunts, "movies" and musical numbers will constitute the vaudeville to be given by the Seekers, a student organization of the Congregational church, in the recreation hall of the church at 8 o'clock tonight.

The numbers include the Lion's club quartet in harmony and fun; Rowland Hager, the double-jointed dancer and song man; a motion picture comedy "Are Brunettes Safe?" starring Charley Chase; John Spong in magic and mystery; Mrs. L. H. Murdock in popular song hits; "The Triple Threat" by the comedy producers; tumbling by the Chapman brothers; and Ernest Beals, wizard on the accordion.

This is the first big program the Seekers have sponsored this year. The members of the Seekers, under Earl Dibble, dramatic chairman, and Louis Pelley, acting chairman, have been working on the program for six weeks. An invitation is extended to both students and townspeople.

STORE PROFITS TO MAKE FRIENDSHIP FUND QUOTA

The international student friendship fund quota of $50 for the campus will be obtained from the International store profits. The fund supported by universities and colleges of all countries, is not used as charity but as a loan fund to those deserving an education. In the last six years more than 125,000 students and professors in 15 different countries were helped.

The International store in Shepard hall is open from 2 until 5 o'clock Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and from 2 until 6 o'clock Friday. Articles recently received by the store include sterling cuff links, hammered sterling, Czech and Italian mosaic pins, Persian brooches, a green set bracelet, colored straw table mats, a Chinese hearth brush, an Italian raffia bag, Kutani pitcher and a Japanese crackle jar.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

The marriage of Margaret Decker, ex-'31 in vocational education, to David Stuart of San Diego, Cal., has been announced at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

LEADERS TO TELL AIM OF VETERAN MEMORIAL

Discussions at Meals Planned for Educational Campaign Among Living Groups

All campus leaders have volunteered to act as an educational committee to visit the living groups on the campus and explain to them the purpose and plans of the Memorial union. The visits will be made during meal hours at noon and night this week.

Edward Locke, senior in chemical engineering, is chairman of the committee. Others who will make the visits are Betty MacMillan, Velma Morgan, Sallie Rogers, Evelyn Jacobs, Ridgway Foley, Victor Johnson Howard Rich, John Duffield, John Lavinder, Gene Rapp, Glenn Roberts, Carl Thelan, Kernan Markuson, David Tucker, Floyd Swan and Delbert Stokesbary.

A stunt committee was appointed by Victor Johnson, president of the Memorial union, to handle publicity features during the campaign. James Goss, senior in agriculture, is chairman of this committee.

THREE CO-EDS LEAVE ON DEBATE JOURNEY

Contests Scheduled With Five Colleges and Universities

The three women chosen to make the northwestern debate tour of the Oregon State women's debate team will leave the Corvallis Southern Pacific station at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The trip, considered one of the most extensive debate tours ever taken by an Oregon State women's team, will include debates with five colleges and universities in the Pacific northwest. The team will return to the campus March 7.

The team will go directly to Walla Walla, Wash., where the first debate on the tour will be with Whitman college Wednesday. The question will be "Resolved, that mass education in American colleges and universities should be condemned." The Oregon State team will uphold the negative side.

The schedule for the rest of the trip includes debates with the universities of Idaho, Wyoming, Utah and California at Los Angeles. At each of these colleges the women's team will take the negative side of the question, "Resolved, that too many people are attending our colleges and universities." Plans have been made to entertain the debaters in the sororities and halls at the colleges where the team debates. Oregon State alumni along the route of the tour have been notified so that the team will be well supported.

The three women chosen to take the tour are Dorothy Williams, senior in home economics, Helen Woodward, sophomore in vocational education, and Effie Wagner, senior in vocational education and manager of the tour.

The members of the team not taking the tour will meet the University of Idaho debaters here Thursday, upholding the affirmative side of the question for debate to be used by the touring debaters at the University of Idaho later in the tour. February 28, the other members of the debate squad will meet Whitman college. The schedule of debates for the tour is as follows:

Feb. 22—Whitman college.
Feb. 23—University of Idaho.
Feb. 27—University of Wyoming.
Feb. 28—University of Utah.
Mar. 5—University of California at Los Angeles.

FOLK CLUB TO OBSERVE WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

The College Folk club all-staff party, an annual event in college circles, will be tonight in the women's building. In commemoration of Washington's birthday, an atmosphere of colonial days will be featured, and colonial costumes will be in order for those who wish to appear in fancy dress.

Mrs. Nathan Fasten and Mrs. A. A. Hull are joint chairmen in charge. Hostesses for the occasion are Miss Mary McIntyre, Mrs. Jeanne M. Brewer, Mrs. J. P. Brumbaugh, Mrs. W. A. Jensen, Mrs. G. R. Hyslop, Mrs. J. Leo Fairbanks, Mrs. E. V. Vaughn and Mrs. Gertrude E. McElfresh.

GRIZZLIES DEFEAT BEAVER HOOPERS

Montana Basketeers Nose Out Oregon Staters 44 to 43 in Thrilling Battle

SCORE CLOSE AT HALF

Burr and Matthews Lead List in Registering Tallies

MISSOULA, Mont., Feb. 20.—(Special to Barometer)—With the University of Montana Grizzlies leading by 10 points mid-way in the last half, Oregon State made four basket to come within one point of tying the score when 25 seconds of play remained. The Orangemen lost, 44 to 43, to Montana, but only after a spirited battle. The Grizzlies were on the long end of a 22 to 21 count at half time.

Not more than three points separated the teams in the first half, the Grizzlies finally nosing in ahead. Although Montana opened the second canto with a spurt and drew away from the Orangemen, the game, aside from this high run, was a nip and tuck affair. Oregon State's rally in the latter part of the second half fell short by the smallest of margins, the Grizzly defensive tightening to hold its meager lead for the remaining 25 seconds of play.

Mathews Tops Scorers

DISCUSSIONS THIS WEEK TO COVER WIDE SCOPE

Present Day Moral Standards Among College Students Subject of Lecture

The final after-dinner discussions will be given this week by faculty members and pastors under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. The most discussed topics have been "Thinking—Its Influence on Personality," "Making a Living or Making a Life," "What Constitutes Good Character" and "Present Day Moral Standards Among College Students." The discussions will be continued in six living groups this evening.

"What Religion is and Why?" will be discussed by Mrs. Daniel Bryant, student director of the Baptist church, with members of Kappa Alpha Theta. Rev. M. G. Everett, student pastor of the Presbyterian church will lead the discussion in the Sigma Phi Sigma house on "Present Day Moral Standards Among College Students." H. T. Vance, professor of advertising, salesmanship and secretarial training, and Dr. J. F. Bursch, assistant professor of education, will talk on "Can a Person Find Time in College to Educate Himself?" to members of the Alpheus club and of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, respectively. "What Constitutes Good Character" will be the topic of Rev. A. B. MacLeod, pastor of the Presbyterian church, in the Phi Sigma Kappa house. Rev. G. F. Leining, pastor of the Evangelical church, will speak on "Present Day Moral Standards Among College Students" to members of Omega Upsilon.

STUDENT HANGS DRAPERIES

Fred Gates, sophomore in commerce, and a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, writes that he is padding a stairway for Thomas Meighan to fall down. Gates is hanging draperies at the Lasky studio in Hollywood.

Senior Announcements Ordered Through Co-op

Senior announcements will be on sale this week at the student's Co-op. The orders must be placed this week to insure their completion before commencement.

Just Explanation

In preparation for the coming drive for funds to furnish the Memorial Union building, a group of students last night began making the rounds of the various groups on the campus giving short talks on the rapidly growing building. During the course of this week they will cover every organization on the campus.

The talks given by these students are by no means the "high-powered" salesmanship which is often put across under the same plan. Instead they are the reverse—merely a plain statement of pertinent facts regarding the Union designed for the information of those to whom its purpose is not well known. The talks are based on the belief that to be good owners the students must be well acquainted with their building.

The speakers do not conclude their presentation by asking for money or even for pledges. Their purpose is rather to show what has been done already and what remains yet to do. They are rewarded if by their talks they are able to clear up any points of uncertainty regarding the whole enterprise.

We Know Spring Is Here

Last week would have been the propitious time for an editorial comment on spring or spring fever but the exposition commandeered most of the space. Though the weather is somewhat cloudy we believe that there is a strong feeling of spring prevalent on the campus which needs elucidation.

In the olden days, robins were the first heralds of "le printemps," but golf knickers have usurped the robin's place as spring harbingers. The only occasion when robins beat the spring knickers is when the south experiences a hard winter or new earth tremors. Campus signs of spring, the romantic observer will note from time to time, include the clink of horseshoes in back alleys, the thud of the baseball, a dry lower campus, collegiate Fords with half-mast tops.

roller skaters and the increased activity of the campus constables.
An old saying has it that one robin doesn't make spring. The sage was right. He might have added that we can have spring without any robins if we have instead the curious-shaped limbs displayed by some of the wearers of the spring plus fours.—E. L. A.

Well-Travelled?

Not long ago a group of books of humor edited by Thomas W. Jackson were popular on every news stand. One of them, "See the United States with Jackson," led to the slogan "See America First." Popular as the slogan has become during the last 10 years there is a club in New York City that evidently is ignorant of the slogan's existence.

The requisite for membership in the Navigators' club, as it is known, is the completion of at least one trip around the globe. Recently Frank Branch Riley, publicity man for Oregon, spoke at a club banquet where more than 800 of its near 1000 members were present. Possessing a fair share of the curiosity with which most publicity men are endowed Riley began to question his listeners. First he asked the number of these globe-trotters who had visited Oregon or Washington and he found that six had. His second question asked the number that had been north of San Francisco and there were 30 in this class.

The results are really remarkable. With all of its membership of nearly 1000 the purpose of the club, if it has one, seems to have failed. Less than three-fourths of one per cent of these world travelers had ever been in the northwest, a part of the country rated as one of the scenic spots of the world. For this reason, if no other, the club would do well to revise its constitution to include persons who know their own country and live up to the slogan of "See America First."—D. H. B.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The library will be closed Wednesday. Reserve books may be checked out from 7 to 9 o'clock tonight.

Members of the Oregon State Ad club will meet in commerce 311 tonight at 5 o'clock to make arrangements for the trip to Salem.

Delbert Stokesbury, chairman of the honor council, will outline accomplishments made by the system.

A luncheon for the University of Washington alumni will be this noon in the college tea room. Those who have been connected with the university are to call 1039-R for reservations.

Band members will not meet for rehearsal tonight.

Evening classes will not meet in the women's building tonight.

CANNERS HEAR LECTURES
Problems in the production of vegetable crops for canning purposes have been discussed in four lectures to students enrolled in the short course canner's school, now in the fourth and last week of session. The relative value of different strains of carrots, beets, tomatoes and squash were shown in three demonstrations. "Canned vegetables have increased in popularity and volume during the last eight years and short course canners are unusually interested in the vegetable phase of their work," said A. G. Bouquet, professor of vegetable gardening.

MANY STUDENTS AIDED BY COLLEGE LOAN FUND

Principle Increased by Fines From Late Registrations and Change Slips

The student loan fund, established to help students who would not be able otherwise to complete their college course, is composed of funds set aside by national and by campus organizations.

Among the special off-campus funds is the Crawford fund, established by the wills of Edward and Ida Crawford and available for young men only.

The Harmon fund, a New York foundation, is open to colleges chosen because of their need, educational standards, type of school, geographical distribution and desire to cooperate in developing student aid on a scientific basis. The amount given this year is $3,000. Loans from this fund are made to juniors and seniors only, repayment being made after the students leave college.

All money received from late registration fees, change slip and transcript charges is added to the local student loan fund.

MISS MOOR GIVES HINTS ON COLLEGE ETIQUETTE

That etiquette means a consideration for the rights and comforts of others was stressed by Helen Moor, secretary to the dean of women, in her talk on etiquette hints at a meeting of the Orion club last night.

"When a man meets a co-ed he knows on the campus he should say 'hello,'" explained Miss Moor. "If he wishes to talk to her he should turn and walk with her. In an introduction the correct form is 'Miss Jones may I present Mr. Black?' In acknowledging an introduction the one and only correct form is to say 'how-do-you-do' and not 'pleased-to-meet-you.' It is perfectly correct for a lady to shake hands with a man when being introduced, but the man should never offer his hand first."

A theater party was announced to be given at the Whiteside Friday night at 7:30, followed by a luncheon at Wagner's cafe. The party will be either fussing or non-fussing. Tickets may be obtained from the president or the various captains.

HAROLD SMITH TO GIVE WORK IN STENOGRAPHY

Harold H. Smith, educational director of the Gregg Publishing company, who will be a member of the summer session teaching staff, will give special work in methods of stenography and typing for commercial teachers. Mr. Smith is not only an expert typist and shorthand writer but is also a student of the psychology of teaching. His demonstrations in typing are educational, being an analysis of the whole typewriting process with emphasis on the outstanding fundamentals. Mr. Smith has spent two years directing teaching methods and general education of the British public to higher standards of stenographic proficiency in the Gregg schools of the British Isles.

FIRST-YEAR DEBATERS BEATEN AT MONMOUTH

In the debate with the Monmouth varsity, Oregon State freshman debaters won the negative side yesterday afternoon at the library and lost at Monmouth in the evening. Charles White and George Knutson debated for the freshmen at Corvallis. The question at both places was, "Resolved, that American investments in foreign countries should receive only the protection of the government of the country in which it is made." The judges were Rev. Edward J. Harper, Rev. Dan Poling of Albany and J. O. McLaughlin, superintendent of Corvallis high school.

Adrian Palmquist and Jack Spong defended the affirmative side at Monmouth. They cited many abuses of the policy of protection. The negative showed that the United States intervened in the Latin-American nations for other reasons than to protect investments, and that the plan of the affirmative carried abuses with it as objectionable as the abuses that exist under the present system.

Why Ban Automobiles at College?

By DEAN MAX MCCONN OF LEHIGH

More than forty colleges have banned student automobiles. Other college administrations are considering similar action. They advance seemingly adequate reasons but are these reasons really logical? If automobiles can be banned, why not other things? Are the professional supervisors of our morals and habits already at work in our Colleges?

HANDBALL GAMES SET FOR TONIGHT

Hard Fought Games Predicted for League Championship Intramural Battles

Semi-finals of the intramural handball tournament will be played tonight in the men's gymnasium at 6 and 7 o'clock. More than 100 games have been played to decide the champions of the different leagues. The final games will be close battles, believes R. O. Coleman, director of intramural athletics.

In the first series of games to be played tonight at 6 o'clock on court one, Theta Chi, winners of national league C, will play Delta Upsilon, champions of national league A. Phi Delta Theta, winner of national league B, will play Phi Sigma Kappa, winner of national league E on court two. At 7 o'clock Alpha Pi Delta, winner of local league A, will play Theta Nu Phi, winners of local league B on court one. Orion club, winner of independent league A, will play Tri-V, winners of independent league B on court two.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Pi Kappa Phi of the national league drew byes. The winner of the Phi Delta Theta-Pi Sigma Kappa contest will play Pi Kappa Phi and the winner of the Theta Chi-Delta Upsilon game will play Sigma Alpha Epsilon on Thursday night to decide the champion of the national leagues. The champions of the local and independent leagues will play the winner of the national league for the college championship.

Winners of each group will receive plaques. The college champions will win a cup donated by Winkley's creamery.

ROWERS TO COMMENCE RECONDITIONING SHELLS

The Oregon State Rowing club shells will be moved tomorrow afternoon from Bell field to the shell house by members of the club. Work will be started to recondition them for spring practice. The usual Wednesday afternoon classes will be held in the morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Seniors are urged by Bob Young, president of the rowing club, to turn out for practice. Other classes are well represented, the senior class being the only class that has not turned out enough men to form a class crew. It is hoped by the club that each class will be represented in the interclass meet next spring.

RADIO OPERATOR TRAVELS

Working as radio operator at shore stations and on board ships gave Neil Ashla, sophomore in electrical engineering, a chance to see many parts of the world. He operated shore stations in Alaska and traveled on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts for some time. Two years were spent on the steamer "West Jena" running from Portland to Japan, China and the Philippines. His experiences ranged from the Bering Sea ice floods, in which the vessel was held for a week to the tropical typhoons off the south China coasts. The wind often traveled more than 115 miles an hour tearing the heavy deck awnings as though they were paper.

BILL BURR INCREASES TOTAL IN HUSKY TILT

Chances for All-Star Position Strengthened by Showing

Bill Burr, captain of the Oregon State basketball team, came a step closer to clinching a place on the 1928 all-coast team by his playing against the University of Washington, northern division champions, Saturday. Captain Burr accounted for 16 of the 26 points scored by his team. All of Burr's points were made from field goals. In a previous game with the Huskies he was also high point man, scoring 10 of the 22 points made by the Beavers.

Captain Burr was high point man of the Orange squad in the pre-season barnstorming trip through the middle west having gained 97 points. So far this season he has scored 267 markers or 33 per cent of the total scores made by the Beavers. This is considered an unusual record as Burr is called the "marked man" of the conference.

FROSH DEFEATED BY ROOK PLAYERS

Freshmen Win Fourth Contest and Capture Series From Oregon Basketeers

The rooks took the fourth game of the series from the Oregon freshmen Saturday night in one of the best games played in the men's gymnasium this year. The score was tied five times during the game. At half time the Webfooters led 15 to 10.

Anderson of the rooks was high point man with 9 points to his credit. The all around playing of the whole team was the big thing for the rooks. Each man did his part and the fighting spirit of the boys took the freshmen off their feet in the early moment of the second half. Drager and Ballard tossed two baskets in quick succession just before the final whistle.

DUAL REGATTA PLANNED WITH U. OF CALIFORNIA

Number Reporting for Practice Almost Equal to Oarsmen in Golden Bear Crew

BERKELEY, Cal., Feb. 21.—A dual regatta between the University of California and Oregon State college crews looms as a possibility in the near future, as a result of the spurt in interest and increase in number of oarsmen turning out at the northern institution.

One hundred and fifty students—almost as many as turn out here for the Golden Bear crews—have joined the Oregon State Rowing club, and are working out on the Willamette river course under the direction of coaches W. A. "Bud" Kearns and J. C. Othus. In addition to the two racing shells donated last fall by the University of California, a new training barge was delivered and christened last week. "Rhodamit-rho" was the name chosen as most appropriate for the craft where novice crewmen will get their elementary training.

Since last fall, the Oregon Staters have made great progress in crew, having acquired in addition to their floating equipment a shell house, training quarters, a float and two coaches. First races will be held later in the spring when the inter-collegiate regatta is run off, and the University of Washington is planning to send down a crew for a special dual race later in the season.

The proposal has been made that one or more of the California crews might stop off at Corvallis on the way back from their regatta with Washington in April. If such a race with Oregon State should take place this spring it would be simply a practice contest, but prospects are that in 1929 the Beavers will be in a position to afford some genuine competition.

GRIZZLIES DEFEAT BEAVER HOOPERS

Tommy Mathews, forward, was high point man in the contest with six field goals and four free throws to net 16 points. Captain Bill Burr was close behind with 15 tallies, including seven baskets. Cloyse Overturf, Montana forward, led the Grizzlies attack with 14 points, including six field goals and two foul shots. Ed Chinske, his teammate, accounted for five baskets and three gift tosses.

The Orangemen left here immediately after the game for Moscow, Ida., where they will play the University of Idaho Vandals Wednesday night. Oregon State will be relegated to third place in the northern division standings unless it wins both its remaining games and Oregon loses to Washington and one other team.

The Orangemen lost their chance at premier honors when they were beaten, 29 to 26, in a hard fought battle by the University of Washington Huskies in Seattle. The Huskies clinched the northern division championship and earned the right to meet the University of Southern California Trojans March 3 in Los Angeles for the Pacific Coast conference title.

Oregon State's defeat at the hands of Montana was the second time in as many years that the Orangemen have been beaten by the Grizzlies in Missoula. The Beavers have three games left on their schedule. They play the Idaho Vandals in Moscow tomorrow night, Washington State Cougars in Pullman Friday night, and non-conference game with the Whitman college "Missionaries" Saturday night in Walla Walla, Wash.

The Holland Tunnel

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

THE HOLLAND TUNNEL is one of engineering's greatest triumphs, because——it is twice the size of any tunnel ever bored beneath the bed of the Hudson River.

—it is over a mile and a half long.

—it is designed for automobiles to use. Because they generate poisonous carbon monoxide gas, motor cars create an entirely new need for tunnel ventilation. Yet even when the Holland Tunnel is filled to capacity and 2000 motor cars are passing through it in each direction, the air is fresh and pure.

This is a type of engineering undertaking with which young men in an organization of the size of Westinghouse frequently are brought into intimate contact. Opportunities to work on the stupendous, the never-before-undertaken, are not rare here. Hence young men of capacity, of enterprise, of genius, find much to challenge their imaginations and abilities.

A battery of 56 fans driven by Westinghouse motors pump fresh air into, and foul air out of, the Holland Tunnel. Twenty-eight more Westinghouse-motored fans are a reserve. Westinghouse planned the lighting system in the tunnel; also the system of remote control.

drawing being displayed in the commerce building.
However, unless the drive goes over the top, the interior will not be finished at this time. If sufficient funds are available at the time the building proper is completed, according to Johnson, interior work can start immediately afterward and the building will be ready for occupancy during the fall term.

Colonels chosen for the drive are Milton Leishman, freshman class, and Ezra Webb, sophomore class. Vice-chairmen for the freshman class are Mary Sinclair and Weldon Kirk. Dorothy Henning and Walford Johnson will act as vice-chairmen for the sophomore class.

Captains appointed by Johnson, who will head the teams of the freshman class are Alice Steele, Raymond Mays, Wilma Cooney, Hugh Adams, Robert McCook, Edward Novell, Grant Rinehart, Betty Robley, George Knutsen, Joe Peaper, Rosalie Jones and George Duffield.

Art Ewell and His Orchestra
Will Furnish Dance Music
at Afternoon Frolic

Invitations for the annual chamber of commerce dance, tomorrow afternoon in the college gardens from 2 to 5 o'clock, are being sent to all chamber of commerce members, making it possible for the women to take advantage of leap year privileges. A limited number of non-members will be admitted at 50 cents a couple. Art Ewell and his Oregon Staters will play.

Plans for the dance have been made by Wallace Christenson, chairman, and Isabel Peuthert and Harold Porter, seniors. The dance will be a strictly informal, non-program affair, fussing or non-fussing. Patrons and patronesses are Miss Adelaide Head, instructor of secretarial training; J. A. Bexell, dean of commerce, and Dr. U. G. Dubach, dean of men.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS SCHEDULE HORSE SHOW

Program Includes Exhibitions
in Riding, Pair Jumping, and Six-line Driving

A horse show, to become an annual event, will be given by the advanced course students of the R. O. T. C., together with the department of animal husbandry and the faculty riding classes in the armory at 7:15 o'clock March 17. Although this date is on a closed week-end, Dr. Kate W. Jameson, dean of women, has given co-eds permission to attend.

The program will consist of such events as an exhibition ride by selected women members of the faculty riding class, a driving contest with six-line teams, an exhibition by a sheep herding dog, and women's and men's jumping events. Other features will be pair jumping by women and men, women's road hacks, a jumping championship contest, and a polo pony contest.

An admission charge of 25 cents will be made to send the polo team to Salt Lake City. The show will be carried out in regular horse show style. Riders and horses outside of the college will be entered.

Monthly Consumption of Bread and Butter High in Co-eds' Halls

Yes, sir! College students eat!
If all the loaves of bread eaten by students in a month in the three women's halls Cauthorn, Snell and Waldo, including the men's cafeteria in the latter, were placed end to end they would form a row of bread stretching half a mile. The butter for this bread would weigh more than half a ton. More than 2 1/2 tons of meat are consumed in the same period, by the hungry inhabitants of the halls.

A month's milk requirement would demand the services of a herd of 53 cows, each animal parting with a gallon of milk every day. The demand for eggs would keep a flock of 170 hens laying at 100 per cent efficiency daily.

Three tons of vegetables and nearly three tons of fresh fruit, including apples, bananas, oranges and grapefruit, provide the necessary vitamins, while 61 sacks of potatoes top off the menu.

Coach P. J. Schlusser has some good material this year for his backfield. The returning lettermen are George Scott, Ralph Twitichell and Carl Metten, halfbacks; Howard Maple, Roger Montgomery, quarterbacks; Carl Gilmore, fullback. The reserves are Buerke and Drynan, quarterbacks; Nicholson and Stovall, halfbacks. The rooks coming up are showing promise of beating out some of the veterans and among them are Hughes, Kerr, Sherwood, Nolan, Doty, Taylor, Guglioma, McKalip, Williamson and Hagen at halfbacks; Thompson and Brumback at fullbacks; Anderson, Weinle, Parker and McLaughlin as quarterbacks.

"Stanford" and "Washington" play tomorrow to see which one is to be in the cellar on the percentage column. This game is creating much interest as the teams have both lost two games and are nearly on a par.

FIFTH EXPOSITION BELIEVED SUCCESS

campus 20 per cent under last year at this time.

The faculty staff this year giving personal attention to vocational guidance was better than has ever been available in previous expositions. Dr. James C. DeVoss, the principal speaker of the exposition; Dr. J. R. Jewell, dean of the school of vocational education and the principal speaker at the exposition last year; and J. F. Bursch, assistant professor of education, who was at Stanford university last year earning his A.M. degree, are all authorities on the subject of vocational guidance. For this reason, the delegate and faculty conferences were well above the average in value of previous expositions.

"The success of the exposition is due entirely to the fine co-operation and planning of the school managers in adhering closely to the central theme of the exposition—vocational guidance," declared Neil Burdick, senior in civil engineering and general manager of the exposition.

DR. JOHNSON PRODUCES IMMUNITY IN CHICKENS

Veterinary Medicine Discovery
Economically Important to Poultry Raisers

What is believed to be a new development not only in veterinary medicine but also in general medical science has just been completed and reported on by Dr. W. T. Johnson, noted poultry disease specialist of the Oregon Experiment station.

Dr. Johnson has succeeded in producing artificial immunity at will in chickens against avian coccidial infection. Aside from the economic importance of this discovery as a method of controlling the important poultry disease, coccidiosis, medical men here say this is the first time so far as known that artificial immunity to a parasitic disease has been produced at will.

Station bulletin No. 220 entitled "Immunity or Resistance of the Chicken to Coccidial Infection," by Dr. Johnson has just been issued by the experiment station. It contains the complete account of the experiments conducted here in the control of this disease with the special poultry disease investigation funds obtained from the legislature by the Oregon Poultrymen's association.

"While immunity to parasitic disease frequently develops naturally, there is no record of it having been produced artificially at will," said Dr. B. T. Simms, head of the department of veterinary medicine and member of the state livestock sanitary board. Although Dr. Johnson's work has not progressed to the point where he is able to announce definite commercial control measures, the discovery of this method of producing immunity is the basic step in such further work.

While Dr. Johnson's bulletin is highly technical, it is available for free distribution to any citizen of Oregon desiring it.

LIBRARY INTEREST TABLE FEATURES ART DISPLAYS

Portfolios of Reproductions,
Photographs and Designs
Will Be Exhibited

Art is the subject treated on the interest table in the library this week. Portfolios of color reproductions by the great masters, a collection of photographs showing examples of architecture, mostly of cathedrals, and samples of conventional designs in colors are in the group for inspection.

The best of the paintings of Rembrandt, Corot, Whistler, Millet, Michael Angelo, Da Vinci, Titian, Daubigny, Courbet and the newer Monet and Degas are in the collection. Each picture is accompanied by a short criticism of the work of the artist. Rouen, Rheims, Notre Dame, and several views of the interior of the Vatican are among pictures of architecture.

The exhibit is only a part of a large collection owned by the library. Some of the pictures are bought by the library, others being given from private collections or clipped from magazines.

FEBRUARY BIRTHDAYS CELEBRATED AT SNELL

Miss Georgia Bibee, assistant director of dormitories, and 11 Snell hall girls having birthdays in February, were entertained at a birthday dinner last night. Decorations in keeping with the idea of Washington's birthday consisted of red, white and blue favors, napkins, "dance programs" with the names of those having birthdays and the date of birth, and a tree with a hatchet in it.

Students having birthdays this month are Laura Deck, Rosina Gallatin, Joy Pierce, Eunice Boyles, Mildred Elrod, Mildred Davis, Roberta O'Rourke, Margaret Callan, Thelma Drake, Irma Mae Wilson and Marjorie Ingle.

GROVER TO GIVE COURSE

C. C. Grover, assistant director of the bureau of curriculum development, research and guidance of the Oakland, Cal., public schools, will give a course in counseling in the summer session. The course, which will take the place of character education given former years, will afford expert guidance for advisers or deans of boys, principals and coaches. Courses in measurement in education and elementary educational psychology will also be given by Mr. Grover, who is assistant director in charge of tests and measurements in the Oakland public schools.

CLUB GIVES BRIDGE PARTY

Members of the Spokane Oregon State club who met for their annual social event—a bridge party, were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Calkins, '07, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kenyon, '24, Mr. and Mrs. Warren V. ## JUNIOR ESCAPES DEATH

Hans Wolf, junior transfer from Citrus junior college of California, had a narrow escape last summer when he was "gassed" while fumigating orange trees to earn money to attend Oregon State college. Wolf earned $700 during the summer vacation and cleared $550, of which $500 was made in the last seven weeks.

AT THE THEATRES

"The Private Life of Helen of Troy," featuring Lewis Stone, Maria Corda and Ricardo Cortez, is showing at the Whiteside theater today and Wednesday. The picture is the screen version of John Erskine's novel of the same name.

Menelaos was a peace-loving king. His three generals—Ulysses, Ajax and Achilles—were professional soldiers, however, and consequently needed a war so they could have work to do. The Spartan clothing trade was in financial straits, due to the fact that Helen bought all her clothes in Troy and the other women of the kingdom followed her example. Menelaos had managed to stave off war, even with his generals constantly urging it, but the arrival of Paris, handsome prince of Troy, made matters more delicate.

Helen falls in love with Paris, and the triangle which develops causes Menelaos to declare war on Troy. The rise of presenting the wooden horse to Troy, with soldiers concealed inside, was successfully carried out. The city was captured and Paris was slain.

"Getting Gertie's Garter," starring Marie Prevost, is showing at the Majestic theater today. This is the screen version of the musical comedy by the same name.

STUDENTS TO PRESENT COMEDY AT MAJESTIC

Elizabeth M. Barnes Directing Years Major Production;
for March 2 and 3

"The Rivals," an old comedy by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, will be presented at the Majestic theater March 2 and 3. The cast was chosen from the advanced students in dramatics by Miss Elizabeth Barnes, associate professor of dramatics and director of the play. This production is the major production of the year. The cast has been working on its parts for several weeks.

While Miss Barnes is getting the actors ready, D. Palmer Young, technical director, and Miss Mary Ann Peterson, instructor in art, are working on stage settings for the play. There will be three interior and two exterior scenes, which makes the play one of the most pretensions that has been offered for several years.

An interesting part of the play will be the costumes, which are being made by Miss Madeline Brumbaugh, '24 graduate in home economics, who has been doing research work in period costumes, especially for this play. They will be similar to those worn in the latter part of the eighteenth century.

OLD STORY RETOLD

"Girls, there are two things that I have never had around my waist—a corset or a man's arm," was the assertion made in a hygiene class years ago by Miss Margaret Snell who was the first head of the school of home economics.

"Oh, Miss Snell, you don't know what you have missed," spoke up one of the girls.
The story was told by C. L. Son the owner of the lower campus shoe repair shop when he was talking about the early days of the college. Miss Snell believed in wearing loose clothing. She constantly warned the women to be careful in their selection of clothes.

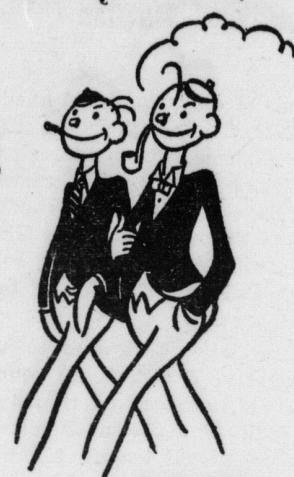

Of course the Mississippi valley should pay part of the cost of flood control. Didn't the West build its irrigation dams?

People who think the next Democratic convention will drag on as the last one did never saw Houston in summer.

LEATHER GOODS MADE

Truman Cummings, sophomore in agriculture, wanted a first baseman's mitt seven years ago. Money to buy it was lacking, so Truman made one. The experience interested him so that he began making other leather articles, and now has an investment of $200 in tools and materials. Bill folds, cigarette cases, purses, leather jackets and leather vests are only a few of his products. Much of his work is hand dyed and hand tooled. The income from the sale of his leather goods defrays a large part of his expenses.
