CO-ED DEBATERS WIN FROM IDAHO

Ruth Bennett, Mabel Winston

in Oratorical Meet

DECISION BY CRITIC

Local Traveling Squad Downs
Whitman at Walla Walla

The Oregon State women's debate team won from the University of Idaho team last night by critic vote. The question was "Resolved, that too many people are attending our colleges and universities" with the Oregon State debaters upholding the affirmative side.

The debaters representing Oregon State in the debate were Ruth Bennett, senior in vocational education, and Mabel Winston, senior in commerce. Charlotte Smith and Pauline Brown represented the University of Idaho. Lester Thomsen, debate coach at Pacific University, acted as critic judge. Dr. F. A. Magruder, professor of political science, presided.

Critic Judge Gives Decision

The critic vote was made upon the organization of material, information, reasoning, refutation and adaptation, formal rebuttal and general effectiveness. The affirmative team won the decision in each of these decisions with the exception of refutation and adaptation, and general effectiveness which were considered draws.

The affirmative argued that many of the students now attending American colleges and universities are not fitted for college work and that fairness to the students themselves and to the taxpayers demand that some method of elimination be introduced. They also pointed out that under the present system the student seriously working for an education is held back by the large group of non-studious persons. The prestige built up by society in favor of college graduates was blamed to a certain extent for (Continued on Page 3)

ROGERS WRITES ARTICLE IN NATIONAL BULLETIN

Modern Engineering Education Should Supply Knowledge of Business Affairs

H. S. Rogers, dean of the school of engineering, is author of the leading article in the February "Wiley Bulletin," the national monthly publication of John Wiley & Sons, publishers of scientific text and reference books. "A Progressive Program of Engineering Education" is the title of the article which was written at the request of the publishing firm.

Summing up the conclusions of industrialists, engineers and educators regarding the requirements of a modern engineering education Dean Rogers says in the article that such education should train broadly for the general needs of the industry; that it should provide knowledge of business and affairs; and that it should supply culture and a command of English.

Engineers are divided from the standpoint of functional responsibilities, he says, into engineering technicians, engineering administrators and professional engineers. Training for these various classifications involves the fundamental questions of unified or divided educational processes and that of length of engineering curricula.

Dean Rogers presents the case of unified instruction as opposed to the divided plan where non-engineering studies are grouped before or after the intense technical period of study. "The unified curricula offers a plan in which strong hands of engineering technology and applied science and of mathematics and physical science may supply the assimilative materials through which power and mastery are developed," he concludes. "It offers opportunity for rigorous, intensive and continuous coaching and training. It also offers an opportunity to introduce sequence of business and cultural subjects."

COLONELS FOR MEMORIAL UNION DRIVE

EZRA WEBB

We, the sophomore class, will have our first opportunity to do some material good for the union by subscribing 100 per cent in the coming campaign February 29. This will be the first time we have had a chance to contribute to the building fund. We know what it is going to mean to us next fall if our drive goes over the top. Let's make it our aim to have a 100 per cent subscription in the sophomore class!

Ezra Webb
Colonel of the sophomore class.

MILTON LEISHMAN

Freshmen! February 29 is the opening day of the Memorial Union drive. Our class together with the sophomore class will raise a quota of $120,000 to be used in decorating and equipping the union building. It is up to us to put this drive over—the eyes of the campus will be centered upon us. This is the first opportunity that we, as a class, have had to show what we can do. Our motto should be: Every freshman a member of the Memorial Union.

Milton Leishman
Colonel of the freshman class.

E. J. KELLY TO GIVE FIVE FACULTY TALKS

Shortened Afternoon Classes
Will Permit Attendance

Plans for the week of faculty lectures by Dean F. J. Kelly, president-elect of the University of Idaho, have been completed with approval by the administrative council of a schedule of shortened afternoon class periods for the week of March 5 to 9.

Under the schedule as now arranged all faculty lectures by Dean Kelly will begin at 4:40 o'clock and continue until 6 o'clock on each of the five days he is on the campus. By making this change it has been found possible to eliminate the proposed evening lectures first announced.

Dr. Kelly, who is at present dean of administration at the University of Minnesota, is recognized as probably the most outstanding man in the country fitted to deal with the general problem of college instruction and administration in a manner most helpful to a college staff.

Four books on educational subjects have been written with Dean Kelly either as author or co-author. These are "Teachers' Marks—Their Variability and Standardization," "The Kansas Silent Reading Tests," "Educational Tests and Measurements," (with W. S. Monroe and James C. DeVoss), and "The American Arts College."

Topics to be covered by Dean Kelly while here are "The Variety of Valid College Objectives and Consequent Variety of Student Motives," "Evaluating the Results of Instruction," "Recognition of Individual Differences Among Students," "College Curriculum," and "Recruiting and Strengthening College Faculties."

Wide interest in the coming of Dean Kelly was aroused by public announcement of plans several weeks (Continued on Page 2)

JUNIOR CLERK OBTAINS LEAVE FROM POSITION

Ora Hawkins, freshman in commerce, obtained leave of absence from the United States department of agriculture from her position as junior clerk for the Deschutes national forest district in Bend before coming to college. She expects to return to her position next summer.

"My supervisor, R. L. Fromme, of Bend, had to be convinced that I was coming to college for work and not for play," said Miss Hawkins. "The department of agriculture also had to be sure I would take work in college that would make me a more efficient employee. I waited from August to December to obtain permission to come here. The formalities were necessary because I am under the civil service. All leaves of absence must be obtained from the government."

WORK ABROAD TO PROXY JUNIOR, SENIOR YEAR

Dean Smith Receives Circular
With Suggested Change in Four-year Course

Substitution of a year's study abroad for either junior or senior year in an American college, is suggested in a circular letter to Dr. M. Ellwood Smith, dean of the school of basic arts and sciences.

The letter, accompanied by a booklet "The Junior Year Abroad," sets forth as the purpose of this opportunity "the study of a civilization other than one's own as intensively as is possible in one year, that one may gain the ability to compare his own nation and its institutions with another nation and its institutions."

"Students should be acquainted with the idea early in the college course," reads the booklet, "preferably in the freshman year. This gives plenty of time to get ready. The authorities of the college should be consulted, the plan should be explained to them in detail and definite arrangements should be made for giving full credit for the work done."

Delaware university offers accommodation in its groups already organized to individuals from colleges where it is not feasible to organize special groups.

FORMER COLLEGE MEN APOLLO CLUB MEMBERS

Former members of the Oregon State Glee club will sing with the Apollo club of Portland in its concert at the First Methodist church Saturday. Paul Petri, director of music, considers the club one of the best male singing organizations in the country and urges all students who can to attend.

"William H. Boyer, conductor, is a man of wide experience who always puts on an interesting program," said Professor Petri. "The music will be such as everyone can understand and the wide variety of soloists to be presented should insure a most enjoyable evening. The event should be of particular interest to members of the Glee and Madrigal clubs."

CO-ED MAKES DISCOVERY
"I never had noticed that man trimming his toe-nails before" was the exclamation of a senior co-ed as she glanced at the statue in front of the men's gymnasium. But upon closer observation, she found that the figure was a runner tying his shoe string.

REPAIR SCHOOL ATTENDED
W. J. Gilmore, professor of agricultural engineering, attended a Pontiac and Overland car service school in Portland. This school was to instruct the repair men in the latest repair work.

EX-STUDENT SECRETARY HERE
Margaret Watt, '27, is a visitor at the Sigma Kappa house this week. Miss Watt, who is supervisor of physical education at Tillamook, is observing that department at the Corvallis high school.

ORANGE HOOPMEN SET FOR COUGARS

Victory Over W. S. C. Will Put Beavers in Third Place
Among Northern Teams

VANDALS WIN CONTEST

Three Hard-fought Contests
Lost by Hager's Men

Oregon State will close its conference basketball season when it plays the Washington State college Cougars in Pullman tonight. The Orangemen have a chance to finish in third place in the northern division, Pacific coast conference standings, by winning from W. S. C. Idaho Vandals must be beaten by the Montana Grizzlies, to give the Orange quintet undisputed possession of that honor. Oregon State is tied with Idaho for third place with four victories and five defeats.

Unless the unforeseen happens, the Orangemen are hoped to finish their schedule with a victory over the Cougars, who have not won a game in thirteen starts. The Oregon Webfoots easily defeated the Washington State team, 42 to 18 in their last start. The Crimson and Gray team is expected to face the Orangemen with "blood in their eyes," bent on breaking their string of losses.

Idaho Wins Close Game

The Orange five lost a third heart-breaking game of a disastrous road trip Wednesday night when it was beaten, 22 to 20, by Idaho in the last four minutes of play. Idaho took an early lead in the first period. Just before the final whistle Coach Bob Hager revamped the Oregon State team to close the gap and forge one point ahead of the Vandals.

Idaho held the Orangemen scoreless for the last ten minutes of the first half while the Vandal offensive rolled up a 12 to 6 score over Oregon State. After a few minutes of play in the second period Idaho increased the (Continued on Page 3)

WASHINGTON DEPICTED OUTSTANDING LEADER

Speakers Characterize Genius
at Triad Club Meeting

A man of constructive genius, of character, of outstanding qualities of leadership—and withal intensely human. This was George Washington as characterized by Judge Wallace McCamant of Portland, formerly of the Oregon state supreme court, who spoke in the Hotel Benton, Thursday noon, before the members of the Triad faculty club and many guests. C. E. Ingalls, Corvallis postmaster and editor of the Gazette-Times, described the speaker as "one of Oregon's most distinguished citizens, recognized as an eminent jurist and an authority on history."

"Washington was always and everywhere a gentleman," said Judge McCamant. "He was always to be relied upon for the courtesy and the chivalry which are the earmarks of the gentleman. He was extremely human—a lover of pleasure and sports."

"I have never found a single thing that would lessen my respect for Washington. To me he is the greatest man who ever lived."

Dr. D. V. Poling of Albany, formerly secretary of the college Y. M. C. A., led in mass singing. J. E. Simmons, associate professor of bacteriology and president of the Triad club, presided.

COMPLEX DESCRIBED

"The so-called inferiority complex is not general," asserted N. M. Irbay, assistant professor of psychology, in a general psychology class. "A person may have an inferiority feeling in some one thing. It is an extreme form of self-consciousness."

Tall Freshman Sextet On Basketball Squad Scores Many Markers

The "six-foot sextet" on the rook basketball team this season has accounted for more than 70 per cent of the total points chalked up by the squad of 22 yearling tossers. Milton MacLeod, the "Big Munn" of the team, is the tallest and heaviest player, towering 6 feet 4 inches from the floor and weighing 195 pounds. The average height of the group of six players is 6 feet 1 inch.

A stack of basketballs nearly 40 feet high would be needed to equal the combined length of the sextet if the spheres were piled one on top of the other. Again, 824 regulation basketballs would be required to balance a set of scales on one side of which the six players were standing. The sextet has a combined weight of more than half a ton.

The high scoring trio of Ballard, Drager and MacLeod is included in the sextet. These three players averaged, jointly, 17.5 points a game during the season just completed in which 14 games were played. In addition, they have looped better than 92 per cent of the baskets tossed by the "six-foot sextet."

Rod Ballard, forward, 6 feet in height, leads the tall tossers as well as the entire team with 114 points. Next on the list comes Bob Drager, guard, who has scored 62 markers. Milt MacLeod, the 6-foot-4-inch behemoth, reached the half-hundred mark in points scored during the last game.

Other six-footers on the sextet include Tel Baleom, center; Mark Grayson, guard; and Albert Freeman, guard. The sextet has tallied 245 points of the total 354 amassed by the rook team this year.

EXPOSITION VISITORS TRANSMIT RADIOGRAMS

7AJR Swamped With Messages;
Relay of Communications
Aided by Amateurs

More than 300 radiograms were transmitted by Oregon State college radio station 7AJR for visitors and students during the Educational exposition. Free radiograms proved so popular the station was literally "swamped" with messages Saturday. Since only 25 messages an hour could be handled, many of the messages could not be handled promptly. The last message was sent Monday evening.

Two messages for Australia, two for Germany and two for the Philippine islands were started on their long journeys. Direct communication was established to Kentucky, Minnesota, Texas, Illinois, Alaska and southern California stations. Messages were relayed to their points of destination by members of the American Radio Relay league, an organization of amateur radio operators. Much of this relay work was handled by station 7AEC, Portland, operated by Lloyd Simpson, a victim of tuberculosis who spends much of his time in amateur radio work. Simpson operates an active station.

Many students and visitors expressed a desire to send messages but were afraid the recipients would be frightened by a radiogram. In a message to her father a small girl assured him that "everything was O. K. and he need not be frightened."

Students acting as operators during the exposition were Ben Griffith, John Hertz, Oliver Perkins, Neeland Ashle, George Critser, Wesley Mock and Harold De Voe.

PROFESSOR A. BOUQUET TO SPEAK AT MEETING

A. G. Bouquet, professor of vegetable gardening, will speak to vegetable growers of Coos county February 24 and 25 at Marshfield, Myrtle Point and Coquille. These meetings have been arranged by county agent Harvey S. Hale.

County agent L. P. Wilcox has made arrangements to have Professor Bouquet speak at two meetings, one at Gold Hill and the other at Ashland, February 27, to vegetable growers of Jackson county.

CHAIRMAN ANNOUNCED DATES FOR MEMORIAL UNION DRIVE

Underclassmen Given Three Days to Reach $120,000 Quota; Milton Leishman and Ezra Webb, Class Colonels, in Charge of Campaign Activities

The exact date of the coming three-day Memorial union drive has been set for February 29 to March 3 by Victor Johnson, president of the Memorial union and chairman for the campaign.

At this time members of the two underclasses will have the opportunity to become members of the union by subscribing to the Memorial union fund. The quota to be raised during the drive has been set at $120,000.

Three years ago the present junior class conducted a drive and subscribed $88,500. This was a $13,500 over-subscription of the $75,000 quota set for it. In this drive practically every freshman subscribed, there being only 14 members of that class in the college who have not subscribed to the fund. The average subscription among the freshman class that year was $101.

Enthusiasm Shown by Workers
"The executive committee," said Victor Johnson, feels that in view of the fact that the present junior class subscribed $13,000 more than its quota of $75,000 during its campaign, that the combined freshman and sophomore classes should have no trouble in going over-the-top on their quota.

The cooperation and enthusiasm shown by the class committees in charge of the drive during their preparation has led the executive committee to believe that, with the support of the individual classes, the record of the present junior class will be broken.

The class teams have been meeting this week to learn the actual work required of them during the campaign. Milton Leishman, freshman, and Ezra Webb, sophomore, are the colonels of their respective classes. During the drive they will be in charge of the activities of their classes and will work with Johnson in managing the campaign.

The actual painting and designing will be done by Orville Ortell, a former student. This will include the construction of large wind mills and other decorations in keeping with the "Night in Leydon" idea. Care is being taken to see that decorations will not interfere with the ventilation of the gymnasium.

Samples of the programs were received and are believed to be more artistic than any ever used on the campus. The regular order will arrive this week-end and the exchange for tickets will start the early part of next week.

Interest in this major social function has been shown by the steady sale of tickets. Advance sales are far ahead of previous records in years past. No more tickets will be sold after the program distribution begins.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE TAKES ORANGE PLAYERS

Three former Oregon State athletes reported to spring training camps with Coast league nines yesterday. Wesley Schulerich, captain and center fielder of the Orange team last year is playing for Los Angeles. Jimmy Jenks, manager and third baseman last season, reported to the Seals at Monterey, as an outfield candidate. Dick Young, southpaw pitcher of the Oregon State championship nine three years ago, reported to the Oakland "Oaks" at Myrtle Dale, Cal.

Carl "Red" Bouten, third baseman, was "farmed" by the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast league to Peoria of the Three-Eye league. Art Escalier, captain and center fielder of the Oregon State team two years ago, was changed from the Terre Haute, Ind., nine to the Texas league.

ALUMNI BANQUET PLANNED

A banquet honoring alumni members of Delta Psi Kappa, honorary fraternity in physical education for women, was planned by the organization at a meeting Wednesday. Invitations to the banquet, planned for April 1, will be sent to more than 50 alumni. Committee chairman appointed by Flora McCoy, president, were Rowena Beach, invitations; Louise Ketel, housing; and Edna Blomstrom, banquet.

ALASKAN IS VISITOR

Mrs. Edith P. Sheelor of Juneau, Alaska, was a dinner guest at Tau Delta fraternity Tuesday night. Having recently spent several months touring Europe, Mrs. Sheelor told of many interesting incidents that occurred on her trip. She is a sister of the Scott McClanahan, junior in civil engineering.

CAROLINE CHEN AUDITS COURSES IN NUTRITION

Columbia University Graduate Holds Club Scholarship for Next Quarter

Caroline Chen, home economics education graduate of Columbia university, is on the campus auditing courses in home economics, particularly in nutrition. Miss Chen completed the requirements for a master's degree in home economics education last quarter at Columbia university.

The home economics club scholarship for next quarter is held by Miss Chen, who will be registered for further work here before returning to China in June. She will assist Miss Camilla Mills, '21 graduate in home economics, who is head of the department of home economics in Yanching college, Peking, China. At present Miss Mills is on a leave of absence in the United States, taking graduate work in home economics in Columbia university.

Mrs. Homer T. Lew, formerly Irene Ho, who earned her master's degree in home economics here, is also assisting Miss Mills at Yanching college.

THEATER VIEWS SENT TO ENGLISH PROFESSOR

A letter from the secretary of the another Shakespeare club at Stratford-upon-Avon, containing views of the proposed Shakespeare Memorial theater, has been received by Frederick Berthold, professor of English language and literature.

The plan of Miss Elizabeth Scott of London was accepted in preference to those submitted by three American architectural firms. Miss Scott spent months at Stratford-upon-Avon studying the setting for the theater before drawing her plans.

ALPHA ZETA PLANS PARTY

A social get-together was planned for the second week in March by Alpha Zeta, national honorary fraternity in agriculture, at a meeting yesterday. All student and faculty members of the fraternity will gather at the Delta Upsilon house to become better acquainted and have a good time.

Always the New

Whatever else may be said for or about it, modern education is always seeking new and practical methods of teaching. Having found a new method, it does not cease looking about but is ever ready to discard the new for the newer.

A case in point is the method which the Stanford university graduate school of business has adopted for the presentation of a course in retail merchandising. Briefly, the plan is a weekly series of lectures given by members of the retail merchants association of San Francisco. Each of the speakers is selected as being an expert in a particular phase of management and the talks are arranged in logical order to give them the greatest educational value.

The merit of this plan obviously is in the chance it gives the student to temper his theoretical knowledge by the light of the practical experience of the speakers. And then, too, it keeps the student abreast of the new tendencies in the business world. The field of retail merchandising, for instance, is not static. Rather, it is constantly moving ahead in response to the urge of competition and demand factors. The new methods are naturally found first in the actual employ of business and are later reflected in texts.

But is this really a new departure, even in the field of business administration? The same system, though in a less matured fashion, has been used unofficially here at Oregon State for some time. Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional fraternity in commerce, conceived the plan of having merchants and business executives as speakers at its meetings, the same as the Stanford plan now works. The success found in this plan by Alpha Kappa Psi seems to be borne out by the reception given its grown-up cousin at Stanford.

Approbation for Once

At times, after riding over some of the well-known local byways, we are inclined to think that Corvallis is a most unprogressive little city. And after being reprimanded—or fined—for innocently doing something in opposition to one of a multitude of little-known city regulations, we often deem city ordinances to be a low form of humor indulged in by the city fathers. But now we aren't so sure of either conclusion.

We are busily engaged in mining across the wet and muddy grass to enter the rear door of the commerce building because some men were tearing up the old board walk and replacing it with new planks. Our speculation on the time it would take the workers to finish the job was interrupted by the comment of a bystander that such a proceeding was against the law in Corvallis.

Interested, we inquired and found that by city ordinances all board sidewalks torn up must be replaced with cement ones. Our estimation of the city's progressiveness and of the use of ordinances in general soared considerably.

But that ruling doesn't apply to the college property, more's the pity. If it did we might slowly be rid of the slippery boards which now serve, often with nice puddles of muddy water lurking under them ready to seep through at slight pressure. Of course, we realize that cement is costly, but it would be nice to have good walks and they would outlast several replacements of the present material.

Even So

A communication to the Barometer today expresses what one may assume to be the disdain of a student for the proposed "commercializing" of the Memorial union building. The comment is interesting in that it shows that the series of talks being given this week on the building were really necessary to clear up some misapprehensions.

The correspondent is evidently bothered by a misunderstanding of the basic principles of the union building, even though they have been told over and over again. He cannot reconcile the thought of a concession in the building with the idea of memorial, probably because he does not understand the principle of a student union. He does not see that in service may be found the most adequate of memorials.

The correspondent devastates the idea of "commercialization" by carrying it to the ultimate. But then there is reason and a limit in all things and he might find that even the best of plans may be made to appear ridiculous if carried far enough. That is the method of the critic who has no valid criticism. In another breath C. P. F. expresses the idea that the negligible amount of rent which would be received from the proposed barber shop would mean but a few cents a year to each student. The assumption seems to be that each student should have a sum added to his registration fee, for instance, to pay the maintenance of the building. One may well feel that such a suggestion was merely the result of thoughtlessness on the part of the correspondent when he realizes the barriers against further increase of the student fees as well as the general student howl at any increase to the burden.

If the ashes on the marshmallows for the correspondent is that he will be compelled to use the barber shop—assuming that one is installed—he may rest assured that he will be under no obligation to go there in preference to any other shop. Such concessions would not be for competition but only for service and convenience.

As You Wish

HOW MUCH FOR HOT-DOGS?

With all this talk about putting a barber shop in the Memorial union building, one begins to wonder just what concession charges will be made in the case of hot-dog stands. Most any enterprising student could afford to pay a goodly sum for a small concession at the main entrance. Even in this day of memorial sacrifice to the gods of commerce, students must have their hot-dogs as well as clean faces. And then, since there is included a barber shop, perhaps the Co-operative Manager's association might be induced to move in a grocery store opposite the student body office, in order that the enticing aroma of onions might perfume the clothes of the student body president throughout time immemorial and thus remind all, who do not have colds, that the idea of a cow-colicth have been more nearly approached.

It hardly seems possible that a building can long remain a memorial when it no longer serves that purpose, but has become an effective advertisement for a few well-favored business men. The argument that the rent received from the proprietor of the barber shop will help finance the upkeep of the building is hardly sound unless it is carried to the ultimate end, and put in both grocery store and hot-dog stand. The small amount of rent received from the barber shop would mean but a few cents a year to each student.—C. P. F.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Cosmopolitan club will meet at 8 o'clock Saturday in Shepard hall. Members are asked to be there as important business will be discussed.

Members of the Corvallis branch of the American Association of University Women will meet next Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in Margaret Snell hall. Dr. Aurelia Henry Rinehart, president of Mills college, will speak on different phases of international relationship. Eugene, Salem and McMinnville branches are invited.

All industrial arts students will report in front of Apperson hall at 12:50 o'clock today for Beaver pictures.

The condition examination for students receiving "E" in chemistry 101 will be given in room 105 science building at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The all-college swimming meet will be Tuesday night in the men's gymnasium at 7 o'clock. All men except those ineligible at the beginning of the season are eligible for this meet.

All members of Oregon State Rowing club are asked to be at the shell house at 9 o'clock Saturday morning to sandpaper and varnish the shells.

Students of Wesley Foundation will give a Washington's birthday party in the men's room of the Methodist church at 8 o'clock tonight.

Tickets for the Orion club theater party at the Whiteside theater tonight at 7:30 o'clock may still be obtained from Clifford Cornutt, social chairman, or from club captains. Tickets will be 50 cents instead of 35 cents as previously announced. The entire lower balcony will be reserved for members of the club and other non-affiliated men. After the "show" there will be dancing and refreshments in Wagner's cafe. The affair will be fussing or non-fussing.

Members of Cap and Gown will meet in the tea room at 12 o'clock today.

Members of the American Society of Civil Engineers will meet in front of the pharmacy building at 11:50 o'clock for a Beaver picture.

ago. Educators from as far away as Idaho have written to ask if they might attend the special lecture series.

"Dean Kelly is being brought to the campus primarily for the benefit of our college staff members," said W. A. Jensen, executive secretary, in announcing plans for the lecture series. "It is the expectation that every member of the staff with the rank of instructor or above will attend the lectures. While there are some classes regularly scheduled between 5 and 6 o'clock, arrangements have been made to have these placed in charge of fellows or advanced students.

"In addition to his regular lecture schedule, Dean Kelly will retain certain conference hours for meetings with departmental or school staffs, or individual men. Such special meetings should be scheduled with this office at an early date."

BEAVER OFFICE CHECKS FINAL GROUP PICTURES

February 29 Set as Deadline for Greek Organizations

Lists of names for fraternity and sorority regroup pictures for this year's Beaver are being sent out to be checked by the various houses. All new pledges are placed on this sheet as it will be the final check for the regrouping of pictures.

When names and pictures are checked, the secretaries of groups will bring their complete list to the Beaver office and be able to identify their members accurately for spelling as well as by countenance. To speed up the work of checking all organizations, the Beaver office requests that each living group send its secretary down on the day called.

The dead line date for all photographs is February 29. Any students having proofs out will turn them in at Ball's studio. Copy has been completed on football, baseball and track, leaving only basketball to complete the athletic section.

As most of the group pictures have been taken, it will only be a matter of another week before the regroupings will be the only photographs necessary to complete the Beaver.

FIRST YEAR DEBATERS SET FOR SECOND MEET

Two Oregon State Squads Vie in Oratorical Contests Linfield Opponents

The second dual contest for the rook debaters will be at 7:30 o'clock tonight in library 100 when Martin Redding and Virgin Dunkin will uphold the negative of the question, "Resolved, that the effort in America to give college education to the masses should be abandoned," against a team from Linfield college. At the same time Leland Fryer and Gordon Winks will uphold the affirmative against a team at McMinnville.

The rook squad is working under a new system this year. Instead of developing a few debaters to their best ability and working toward present victories, the squad is being handled so as to prepare varsity material for next year. Leland M. Ross, coach, and George Knutsen, manager, have arranged a schedule which will give every member of the squad a chance to take part in at least one contest.

The rooks divided a dual meet with the Oregon Normal school varsity squad last Friday when George Knutsen and Clarence White won here and Jack Spong and Adrian Palmquist lost a close decision at Monmouth.

Judges for tonight's contest will be J. L. Lewis, Corvallis attorney, Rev. C. W. Reynolds and Rev. F. R. Morrow, local ministers.

BLENDING OF EMOTIONS DECLARED IMPOSSIBLE

Assistant Professor Compares Psychological Reactions From Fear and Anger

A person is never partly angry and partly afraid in the opinion of Nolan M. Irby, assistant professor of psychology, who spoke before one of his classes on emotions. Mr. Irby, "but the stimulus which causes the emotion of fear is different from that which causes anger. Also the outward reactions caused by them are strikingly different, as one caused us to "Anger and fear cause the same inward changes of the visceral organs of the body," declared Mr. Irby, "but the stimulus which causes the emotion of fear is different from that which causes anger. Also the outward reactions caused by them are strikingly different, as one caused us to

You Need Pay No More—You Need Never Buy Another Pen

Parker Duofold writes more easily because of Pressureless Touch. The light weight of the pen itself starts and keeps it writing. No effort, no fatigue. There is Jeweler's Precision in its making, so it stays accurate if you use good ink and keep it clean.

Non-Breakable
Then Parker Permanent Barrels (28% lighter and 100 times stronger than the rubber formerly used) make the Duofold Non-Breakable. Thus Duofold features are protected against damage.

Six graduated points, three sizes of barrels, five flashing colors, give man or woman wide selection to suit hand and taste.

Look for "Geo. S. Parker—Duofold" on each pen (pencils to match) to be sure of the genuine.

COURSE OUTLINED BY ROWING CLUB

Members of Crew Complete Search for Obstructions on Three-Mile Route

Mapping of the three-mile rowing course was completed Wednesday morning when 30 members of the Oregon State Rowing club took a three-hour trip down the Willamette in the training barge. The crew nearly took its spring swim when the barge dodged and slipped over a shoal at the end of the course near a bank.

"Oregon State has a wonderful opportunity for the development of rowing," said Dr. J. F. Bovard, director of physical education at the University of Oregon, and a recent visitor on the campus. "The Willamette is an ideal site for water pageants."

The men left in the training barge at 11 o'clock to inspect the course. "Ready all!" and "not too deep there five port!" were common commands heard during the morning. While zig-zagging across the river in search of obstructions one shoal was found unexpectedly near a bank at the end of the course. Prompt action prevented a disaster. The shoal will be marked.

"Time out" was taken on shore for lunch, which assumed the aspect of a picnic. George Lindauer, freshman in commerce, celebrated the spring weather when he accepted a dare to jump in. He reported same as "not so hot!" Plans are under way for similar trips Saturday mornings.

Earlier in the morning two shells—the Bib C and the Beaver were moved from Bell field to the shell house where they will be reconditioned for

It is hoped by the club that each class will be represented in the interclass meet this spring. Seniors are being urged to turn out for practice, their class being the only one not turning out enough men for a class crew.

UNEVEN GAMES FEATURE HANDBALL SEMI-FINALS

Theta Chi and Phi Sigma Kappa
Win Contests Last Night;
Victors Show Class

National fraternity league intramural handball semi-finals were won last night by Theta Chi and Phi Sigma Kappa. These teams will play in the national league finals next week. The winner of this game will play in the all-college meet.

Graap and Fellman playing for Theta Chi romped away with their first game against Burr and Tibbets of Sigma Alpha Epsilon by a score of 21-0. Service changed only twice in the entire game. The second game was more evenly contested to the 14 point mark. Theta Chi rallied and finished the contest 21-14.

Phi Sigma Kappa overcame Pi Kappa Phi in three serves by a score of 21-2. Erickson and Smith of the Phi Sigs walked away from their opponents—Moore and Upton—in the second game by a score of 21 to 7. Because the winners of both games showed up very well last night the final game is expected to be close and exciting.

OREGON STATE MERMEN WILL MEET MULTNOMAH

Jourdan and Sherman, Divers, Leave for Portland Early to Try Out Boards

Final tryouts were held yesterday for the varsity swimmers in preparation for the meet tomorrow evening with the Multnomah club in Portland. About 15 men will be chosen to make the trip.

Edgar Jourdan, junior in commerce, and Edric Sherman, sophomore in electrical engineering, divers for the Oregon State team, are leaving early to become accustomed to the club diving boards before the meet. The meet with the Winged M squad is expected to be very close as the club has a strong team preparing for the Pacific Northwest association tryouts for the Olympic competition. A match was held here with Multnomah February 11 and the Portland team lost by a small margin. Since that time the club coach has arranged a stronger team.

"We are in a little better shape than before," said W. A. Kearns, swimming coach. "The boys are improving gradually. I expect the sprinters to do especially well."

GRADUATE HAS OFFICE
Dr. Helen L. Miller, '27 graduate in home economics, who is a specialist in the diseases of women and children, has opened an office in New York City, according to an announcement received by Miss A. Grace Johnson, professor of household administration, and one of Miss Miller's former instructors. During the war Miss Miller did milk testing. Two years ago she was graduated from the Medical school in Portland. She then went to New York City to do her senior internship in the Women and Children's hospital. Miss Miller is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Miller of Corvallis.

ORANGE HOOPMEN SET FOR COUGARS

lead to 17 to 10. Captain Bill Burr and Don Hartung each looped in two field goals from long range, raising the Beaver score to 10. The Orangemen made it 20 to 19 when Burr sank his last basket. Burgher of Idaho looped in the winning counters shortly afterward.

MacMillan, forward, starred for the Vandals with five field goals to lead the point column. Burr, with three, Torson, Savory and Hartung with two each, and Patterson with one basket, accounted for the Orangemen's points. Coach Hager used eight players in an effort to stem the Vandal tide. Carl Aase going in for Savory at center, and Cotton Whitlock seeing action at guard.

The loss eliminated any chances the Orangemen had of finishing the season in a tie with the University of Oregon five for second place. Oregon now has seven victories and two defeats for a .778 rating, and no matter how they fare in their final game of the season against the champion University of Washington Huskies to-night in Seattle, they have clinched the runner-up position.

After tonight's game against the Cougars, the Orangemen will trek to Walla Walla, Wash., to meet the Whitman college "Missionary" five in the final game of the 1928 season. Whitman took the northwest conference basketball championship from the College of Puget Sound, coached by C. Hubbard, former Oregon State athlete and coach.

The northern division standings follow:
	W. L. Pct.
Washington	9 0 1.000
Oregon	7 2 .778
OREGON STATE	4 5 .444
Idaho	4 5 .444
Montana	3 6 .333
Washington State	0 9 .000

DATE FOR TRACK MEET CHANGED TO MARCH 31

All Men Registered in School
Eligible for This Event;
Relays Start Soon

The date for the all-college track meet has been changed from April 21 to March 31 in order that the coaching staff will have the opportunity to discover any promising material before the season is too far advanced. All men attending the college and all organizations are eligible to enter this meet. Next year a novice meet will be held as well for which those on the track squads will not be eligible.

The intramural relays will start Saturday April 7 and intramural track meets will be held throughout April. The relay is an 880 yard, four man event, each man running 220 yards. Varsity and rook tryouts will be run Saturday April 7. One week later the varsity and rooks will hold their annual dual meet. The five weeks between now and the all-college meet is being used by the varsity and rook track men to get into condition. Taking it easy for the first few weeks is a continuation of the training policy practiced by M. H. "Dad" Butler, former track coach.

CO-ED DEBATERS WIN FROM IDAHO

the crowded condition of the American colleges.

The University of Idaho debaters maintained that the American standards of democracy demand that every one be given a chance to obtain a college education, showing that the economic and educational progress of the United States is in direct proportion to the number of students attending colleges and universities. They held that while college trains leaders, an educated public must be present to constitute an efficient government.

This contest is in the nature of a return debate with Idaho as the touring women's team met the University of Idaho squad at Moscow last night supporting the negative side of the same question.

The same Oregon State team will meet the Whitman college squad in a return debate on this campus Tuesday, supporting the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that mass education in American colleges and universities should be condemned."

WALLA WALLA, Feb. 23—(Special)—The traveling Oregon State college co-ed debate team composed of Effie Wagner and Dorothy Williams defeated the Whitman college team here last night by a 2-1 decision. Agnes Clarke and Harriet Ahern, who represented Whitman, argued the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that mass education in American colleges and universities should be condemned." H. G. Osgood, head of the language department, presided.

The Oregon girls were entertained here in the new girls' dormitory, Prentiss hall. They left today for Moscow.

The first of the two final interclass swimming meets will be tonight at 5 o'clock in the women's building. The events will be a two, three and four length free style race, a one and two length back stroke, a tandem race and a relay race. The dives for form include the swan, jack-knife, back jack-knife and one optional dive. Other events are plunge for distance, the crawl and back stroke for form. A girl may enter two form, two speed events and the relay race. No speed event will be longer than five lengths.

Official for the swimming meet are Miss Elsie Jacobsen, Miss Madge Burt, and Miss Natalie Reichart, instructors in physical education for women.

AD CLUB MEMBERS ATTEND CONFERENCE

International Meeting Planned in Honolulu Next June

More than 30 members of the Oregon State Ad club heard what professional clubs are doing to foster community enterprises at a get-together of the Willamette valley advertising clubs in Salem, Wednesday, at which delegates from the University of Oregon, Eugene, Albany, Portland and Salem were present. The international convention will be held in Honolulu early in June, it was decided. Plans are being made to give students reduced rates.

The work of the Portland Advertising club in fostering the Pacific International Livestock exposition, and advertising the upper Columbia river highway, was told by Grover A. Rebenisch, president, who spoke on "The Value of the Advertising Club to the Community." Other speakers were Hal Hoss, secretary to Governor L. L. Patterson, and Robert Mount of the Better Business Bureau.

Oregon State Ad club members were introduced by Delbert Snider, president, who gave a brief sketch of their activities. Members attending were Marian Van Scoyoc, Phil Thurman, Jack Foley, Leslie Anderson, Thurlow Weed, Leslie Lewis, Jack Spong, Ezra Webb, Ray Bonesteel, Herbert Gordon, Margaret Holmes, Vesta Beckley, Dagny Rudback, Sue Billington, Carolyn Joy, Marian Conkton, Marie Hedges, Walden Burtner, George Griffin, Arnold Johnson, Myron Day, Earl Johnson, Mable Eastman, Professor and Mrs. H. T. Vance, Irma Coulter, Elayne Searing, Hugh Fitzgerald, Bob Kist, Kenneth Howell, Weldon Kirk, Dick Verry, Edwin Kale, Betty Allen, Erskine Sandys and Anne Peterson.

PROFESSOR TO SPEAK

D. C. Livingston, professor of geology, will speak today before the Sigma Xi honorary scientific fraternity at the University of Oregon on the geological features of eastern Oregon. Sigma Xi members are men who have contributed something original to science or who have done considerable research work.

AT THE THEATRES

"Shanghai Bound," starring Richard Dix and Mary Brian, is showing at the Whiteside theater today for the last time. Edward S. O'Reilly is the author of this screen story. For several months O'Reilly, an adventurer, soldier and writer, was a member of the international police force at Shanghai, from where his duties took him up and down the Yangtze river, the locale of the picture. Then he became drill-master for the Chinese Imperial army, returning several years ago to America to write of his experiences.

O'Reilly's observations, set down in the scenario of "Shanghai Bound" were verified in a production by Tom Gubbins, known as "King of Los Angeles' Chinatown," who acted as technical director.

Monte Blue in "One Round Hogan" is coming to the Whiteside theater Saturday. It is the story of a champion fighter, the son of a champion. James J. Jeffries, once world's heavyweight boxing champion, is seen as Monte Blue's father.

The cast is composed entirely of famous fighters and figures of the fighting ring, with the exception of Leila Hyams, who plays the feminine lead. Members of the cast are Frank Hagney, heavyweight boxer and winner of the recent row-boat race to Catalina, and Tom Gallery, matchmaker for the American Legion stadium in Hollywood.

"The Rawhide Kid," Universal western film starring Hoot Gibson, is playing at the Majestic theater today and Saturday. Georgia Hale plays opposite Gibson. This picture was adapted from Peter B. Kyne's novel "The Lion and the Lamb."

EX-STUDENT VISITS

Earl Torney, ex-'29, who has returned to the campus for a few days is visiting at the Sigma Chi house, of which he is a member.

ART CLUB SPONSORS TRAVELING EXHIBIT

Eastern School Displays Work in Agricultural Building

An exhibit of students' work from the New York School of Fine and Applied Art will be on display in the agricultural building in the third floor hall until February 25. The exhibit is sent on its western tour to show the type of work the students are doing. Not only is the American school represented, but work from its branch school in Paris is included in the exhibit. Interior decoration schemes, costume studies, industrial art projects and posters depicting designs, advertisements, lamps and civic interests are shown.

"America is becoming art conscious," states Frank A. Parsons, president of the school. "Art is a quality to two elements popularly known as fitness and beauty. The first is practical, the second is pleasing; one is intellectual, the other aesthetic and emotional. Consciously, the American public is grasping the necessity for a national recognition of the money as well as the cultural value of art as a national asset. An apt national slogan—Taste, a commercial asset—is being crystallized."

This school aims to fit students professionally to create practical and beautiful things only." The exhibit is sponsored by the Art club and is open to anyone wishing to visit it.
