

Russian Poet Scheduled To Lecture Tuesday; First Time A Soviet Citizen Has Toured U.S. As Professional

Andrei Voznesensky, internationally famed as one of the greatest of contemporary poets and the idol of the USSR's young intelligentsia, will speak at Oregon State University Tuesday, May 9.

Voznesensky, who began a tour of the United States on April 21, reading poetry at leading American colleges and universities, will appear at Mitchell Playhouse at 4 p.m.

This is the first time that a Soviet citizen has undertaken a reading tour in the United States under professional auspices.

However, last spring Voznesensky presented several programs in a preliminary tour which included Hunter College in New York, the Library of Congress in Washington, the University of Chicago, and the University of California in Berkeley.

Besides Oregon State, Voz-nesensky is visiting the State University of New York in Buffalo, Brown University, Douglass College of Rutgers University, Colgate University, the University of California, and the University of Oregon.

This tour was originally scheduled for mid-February, but was postponed for two months. At 34, with four volumes of verse to his credit, Voznesensky is one of the most celebrated citizens of the Soviet Union.

His books, in editions of 200-

000 copies, sell out as soon as published. His public readings are attended by stadiums full of eager Russians. Many literary observers and critics say that he is the most notable of the young Russian poets who have jumped the gap between East and West and aided in turning the Cold War into a warm exchange between thought-leaders.

His readings in the United States have also attracted tremendous audiences and his appearance in American colleges have been sought after by leading institutions in all parts of the country.

Two collections of Andrei Voznesensky's poetry have recently appeared, "Antiworlds" by Basic Books and "Voznesensky: Selected Poems" by Hill and Wang, in the United States. Also, Columbia Masterworks recently issued an album of his readings.

Andrei Voznesensky was born in Moscow on May 12, 1933. As a youngster he was introduced to poetry, particularly the works of Severyanin and the great man who later became his mentor, Boris Pasternak. His first poems were published in 1958. His first volume of verse, "Morika," was issued in 1960. The collections, Parabola, The Triangular Pear and Antiworlds, followed.

The U.S. publication of Antiworlds by Basic Books is a remarkable achievement in the art of translation. Six American poets — W.H.Auden, Jean Garrigue, Stanley Kunitz, Stanley Moss, William Jay Smith and Richard Wilbur — were given literal translations and prosodic models of the poems by the book's editors, Max Hayward and Patricia Blake.

Faithful to Voznesensky's meaning and intent, the results are splendid English poems in their own right, as well as a unique tribute by contemporaries and peers to a modern poet of another culture. Another volume of his verse is expected to be published here soon.

Moms Weekend Events To Start; Righteous Brothers Concert Set At 8 P.M.

MU Open House Opens At 9 P.M.

Friday activities to start off Moms in Wonderland will feature a Righteous Brothers, Sergio Mendes and Brasil '66 concert and an MU Open House, carnival style.

The Righteous Brothers, popular recording and concert stars, will set the stage tonight at 8 in the coliseum as a featured part of Moms Weekend.

Specializing in Negro blues and spirituals, this pair put together a distinctive musical sound that has become their trademark — deep, pulsating, gospel-like tones. They are at their best with such songs as "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Georgia," and "Unchained Melody."

Bill Medley and Bobby Hatfield first met each other in 1962 in California where both were appearing as singers with small local groups in Orange County. Currently, Medley arranges and writes much of the music performed and recorded by the duo.

Sergio Mendes and Brasil '66 featured along with the Righteous Brothers, are a unique four-man, two-girl entertainment combination with a catchy new style of presenting Latin music.

Originator of the group, Mendes is a talented pianist, who added drums, bass, percussion, and two singers for a new musical combination of solid experience.

Brasil '66 as presented by Herb Alpert of Tijuana Brass fame, recorded an album and completed a nationwide tour with TJB. Numerous television shows and summer concerts are also a credit to this group a popular concert attraction on their own.

A young singing trio, The Blossoms, is also accompanying the Righteous Brothers on this current concert tour, and will perform in the coliseum.

The stage will be located at the west end of the basketball court in front of the organ area to provide for maximum capacity. Proper attire for the concert will be dressy.

Beginning at 9 p.m. MU activities will include a fish pond, cake walk, dart throw, lemonade booth, skitcher, and cake decoration demonstration in the MU Ballroom. A fortune teller will also be on hand.

Polaroid pictures at two for 70 cents or one for 45 cents will be taken of OSU moms and their sons or daughters.

A talent show in the Commons from 10 to 11 p.m. is also scheduled. Elsewhere in the MU will be a bingo tournament, golf putting, bridge tournament, MU Photo Salon, and the MU Flower Show.

The movie "Flower Drum Song" will be shown twice in the Home Economics auditorium at 7 and 9 p.m.

Specializing in Negro Blues and spirituals, the Righteous Brothers, Bill Medley (right) and Bobby Hatfield will perform at 8 tonight in Gil Coliseum as part of Moms Weekend. Also appearing in the concert will be Sergio Mendes and Brasil '66 and The Blossoms. There are still many good tickets left for the concert. Reserved seats are $1.50 and $2.00 and general admission tickets at $1.50 are still available. Attire for the event is dressy.

OSU Housing To Help Pay Telephone Bill

Thomas F. Adams, director of housing, has announced that as of this spring term the Housing Department will begin providing one telephone per floor in the residence halls and pay for this from operational income.

Previously student social fees have paid for all floor phones. This measure is to reduce the cost of service to OSU students and to help them use the money spent on phones for other activities, keeping social fees to a minimum.

Before students with a private phone paid for their own service, as well as contributing part of their social to cover the cost of the hall or residence phone.

This undertaking by the Housing Department will cost $1,250 annually.

Private phones are now available in Poling, Wilson, Cuthorn, Callahan and Buxton halls.

OSU Drill Teams To Vie In Weekend Competition

Moms Weekend Drill Competition for the Phil Small Trophy will be held in Gil Coliseum on Saturday, May 6 at 8:30 a.m. Participating in the morning exhibition will be teams from Oregon State University's Army, Navy and Air Force ROTC units.

The Navy ROTC unit, last year's winner, will be hosting the meet this year. The team will be vying for a trophy donated by Phil Small. Any team who receives the trophy three consecutive years retires it permanently. The Navy team is the only team to do this, in 1955, 1956 and 1957.

Besides winning last year's Moms Weekend competition, the Navy team has won the City of Seattle Invitational Drill Meet for the last two years and the 1966 Northwest Drill Championship, between Navy ROTC units of OSU, University of Washington and the University of Idaho.

The Navy team practices from 10 to 12 hours weekly to prepare for the drill competitions. The Midshipmen marched in six high school exhibitions last winter along with the Albany Veterans' Day Parade. The team is commanded by Midn. Ensign Dean H. Hattan. Members of the NROTC Drill Team are Midn. 3/c Kenneth

Ninomiya Announces Openings On Council

Rod Ninomiya, newly elected MU President, announces applications are available through 5 p.m. Monday for positions on the MU Program Council.

Program Council is a body of students which plans and carries out all programming within the MU. According to Ninomiya, "Positions on MU Program Council are challenging to students and at the same time very rewarding."

In the social area, the following chairmanships are open: Dance, Hospitality, and Tours. Within the recreational area are Games and Recreation, Movies, and Craft Center and in the cultural area are Art, Forum, and Entertainment.

In promotional work, chairmanships available are Barometer representative, Photography, Posters, Public Relations and Television Programming. The Special Events Committee is also for co-ordination of all MU activities.

Other positions available on the MU Program Council include secretary and treasurer. Students should fill out pink application forms by Monday at 5 p.m. in the Activity Center.

KBVR Radio Sets Specials For Weekend

Weekend specials for broadcast on KBVR, May 6, include the Oregon State University track meet and the Intrafraternity Council Sing.

Saturday's OSU-University of Oregon track meet will be broadcast live on KBVR at 1:30 p.m. Coverage on the progress of the OSU-U of O baseball game will parallel reporting of the track meet.

Persons unable to attend the IFC Sing at the Coliseum can tune in the event at 7:20 p.m. Traditionally, the IFC Sing has proved a popular event among students and Moms. Last year all available seats for the sing were filled.

TGIF Plans Abortion Talk

"Anyone who wants an abortion should be allowed to have it," the Rev. Phil Calf, University Pastor at Christian House, will defend this statement at the TGIF luncheon.

Calf has stated that the Oregon (and most other states') laws on abortion are antiquated. Current proposals before the legislature to liberalize Oregon abortion laws are given little chance of passing, despite the endorsement and support of church organizations.

TGIF is an open forum luncheon held in the Southwest room of the commons each Friday noon. Students and staff are urged to bring their lunches and join in the discussion sponsored by the MU Forum committee and moderated by John Conner, University Pastor.

Ballots Due Today In Forestry Elections

Today is the last day to cast ballots for the 1967-68 Forestry Club officers.

Presidential candidates are: Rich Irish, Dan Greene, David Hann and Rod Green. Tom Beck, James Jess and Fred Robison are vying for first vice-president.

Running unopposed are: Dick Hardman, second vice-president; Dick Knudson, secretary; Ernie Wilson, treasurer; and Lou Torgeson, A.W.F.C. vice-president.

Students can vote in the Forestry Building.

OSU Modifies Parking Rules

The hours for parking on Oregon State University campus have been modified to permit all vehicles with parking permits to park in all parking areas from 4 p.m. to 2 a.m. daily.

This applies only to vehicles displaying parking permits, not "registered only" stickers.

Parking is permitted all vehicles with "registered only" stickers from 5 p.m. to 2 a.m. on week days and from 6 a.m. to noon on Saturdays in the Armory parking lot or the Sackett parking lot.

Parking from noon on Saturdays until 2 a.m. on Sundays and from 6 a.m. on Sundays and Holidays (if Information Booths are closed) until 2 a.m. the following day is permitted all "registered only" vehicles in all parking areas provided posted signs are observed.

The right to speak out and present an opinion is sacred in the American tradition of journalism. The editorial columns of the Barometer represent the opinions of the members of the editorial board and is a tool of no faction of this university. "Use your best to present yourself unto God as one approved, a workman who has no need to be ashamed rightly handling the word of truth." (1 Timothy 2:15).

Student Power

The OSU student body has been deluged over the last few weeks by comments and campaigns for more "student power." It was the campaign slogan of one of the ASOSU presidential candidates, has been advocated through letters to the editor, and was the topic for several discussions.

The MU Forum held Wednesday afternoon on the MU steps was the most recent example of the campaign, and typified the problems of achieving more student power on this campus. While the turn-out was large and indicated a good deal of student interest, the discussion and solutions offered were disappointing in many ways.

Almost every person to speak favored an increased role for the student in his education but there was virtually no agreement on how this role should be obtained. Speakers urged students to demonstrate and protest, to work through the proper channels, establish new channels, work through ASOSU, and establish a new "student union" to

Who thought-up the "Oregon State University — the 'Scholarly & Friendly Campus' promotional slogan? b.d.r.
Credit for this slogan should go to Mr. Sam Bailey who is head of the Oregon State University News Bureau and a professor of journalism. According to Bailey, the slogan was first devised as a theme for the first special publication of the Gazette-Times, which is issued to incoming freshmen during the summer, preceding the 1961 school year. However, its use soon expanded to other university publications until it has come into extensive use when referring to Oregon State University.

How much rent does the OSU Bookstore pay the MU for each year?
I.r.f.
George F. Stevens, director of the MU and student activities, stated that the OSU Bookstore pays rent at a rate of 2 1/2 per cent of their gross sales. This probably amounts to about $50,000 during an average year.

What has happened on the proposal to switch Dad's Weekend from winter to fall term?
r.j.s.
For an answer to your question, Focus contacted Dave Smith who was student chairman of the Dad's Weekend committee. According to Dave, a committee has been created by the Dad's Club, is currently looking into the proposed switch and will submit its recommendations at a later date. But as it now stands, Dad's Weekend will still be held during winter term for at least one more year.

A Painted Wall

Several weeks ago a Barometer editorial suggested an idea that could have easily been picked up by the committee in charge of the Fine Arts Festival. That idea was that a contest be sponsored for serious campus painters, the medium being the construction wall on north campus around the newest addition to our campus.

There haven't been many new inscriptions on the wall lately, but certainly an art contest could have nailed the proverbial two birds with one swipe of the brush. The Fine Arts Festival goes unnoticed by too many students as it is; such a contest could have added some color to their week and served as cover for some of the more distasteful obscenities which now greet the Monore Street passer-by.

Oregon States need not feel too badly, however; the same type of fence got about the same reception at Washington State University. One group on that present the student view to the administration and faculty.

Each of these views has merit and should be discussed fully. But instead of arguing the merits of the different suggestions, discussion switched to specific campus issues such as no closing hours and pass-fail courses. While these points are of immediate interest to the student, the discussion certainly did not bring the idea of student power into clearer focus.

While we do not advocate any one of the particular proposals presented, we do favor an increased role for the student on campus. We urge the forum committee to hold more discussion on student power, thus enabling the students to decide the most equitable way of achieving the goals they desire. Through such discussions, a unified student position can be established whereby the student body can work together to see that the educational opportunities available here at OSU are extended and improved.

Love Candidate Enters Prexy Race

NEW YORK (AP) — A delegate with a banana skin stuck on his nose was walking down the aisle of the Village Theater as Louis Abolafia spelled out his campaign platform for the presidency of the United States.

"I want to spread love through art," Abolafia was saying between bites of a banana. "If I become president, I will set up cultural centers throughout the country.

"People's tastes would be improved," he explained. "Eventually love would spread all over the world and wars would become impossible because everybody would love everybody else."

Launching his campaign, Abolafia, 25, had the theater alive with a semi-psychedelic East Village happening billed as a "Cosmic Love Convention, a 72-hour Freakathon for Hippies and Saints."

The delegates were met in the lobby by a sign reading: "Help a beatnik in his humble attempt at an honest living. Buy a banana."

Harold Chizman, seated on a mat covered with bananas, said they cost 15 cents apiece but added, "You get three cents back if you return the peel."

Inside, granny-dressed and miniskirted teeny-boppers danced to the amplified dissonance of a rock 'n' roll group while projectionists played movies and slides on the ceiling, walls and floor.

"The idea is to have the audience and the band become one in the same," explained Abolafia. "There is no split between performing and looking."

A blonde beating a tambourine ran up the aisle crying "Love, Love, Love," as Abolafia explained his campaign strategy.

"I am asking supporters to write in my name. Of course, a lot of my supporters are too young to vote, but it's healthy that they should be interested," he said over the din.

"Later we'll have lots more entertainment. We'll have poetry reading and singing and more groups playing. We haven't really gotten warmed up yet," he concluded and strode off to be with his supporters.

Campaign manager Andrew Kent explained outside that his candidate does not really expect to win the presidency.

"However," he added, "it's a sign that Abolafia is emerging from the underground."

Feathers Fly; Lynda Bird Grabs Scoop

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Men accompanying Lynda Bird Johnson scuffled with newsmen at Barranguilla Soledad Airport Wednesday night as the President's elder daughter arrived on assignment for McCall's Magazine, the Bogota newspaper El Tiempo reported today.

The newspaper said members of Miss Johnson's party "attacked our photographer and our Barranguilla correspondent and hit them with their fists and kicked them."

The newspaper offered no explanation of the incident. The U.S. Embassy was closed for a Colombian religious holiday and American officials were not available for comment.

Newspapers said Miss Johnson was en route to Cartagena, a resort on the Caribbean coast, to work on a story about the American hospital ship, Hope. The ship has been at Cartagena four months providing free medical services to thousands of poor Colombians.

Barricades Constructed To Preserve Beaches

By Matt Kramer
Associated Press Writer

Fences and barricades on the Oregon beaches?

The first ones are there already, several witnesses told the House Highways Committee earlier this week.

They failed, however, to convince the committee that a bill is needed to ensure continued public use of the land above the high tide line.

The committee voted 5-3 against a bill intended to preserve the status quo — to let the public continue to use the dry sand above high tide without taking title away from property owners.

This would be accomplished by giving the public a right-of-way to use the beaches seaward from the natural vegetation line.

Witnesses said the public is entitled to the use of all the beach, but actually property owners can claim title down to the high tide line.

"Unless this bill is passed, the day will come when barbed wire fences will keep the public out of the area it has been using for years. It will be just like the east coast," asserted Kenneth Fitzgerald of coastal Tolovana Park.

He said there were barricades already in the Cannon Beach area.

Another supporter of the bill,

Student Responsibility

To the Editor:
This past year the leaders of the student body have been struggling for a larger voice for the students in the policy decisions of the University. Most of the individuals involved in the fight are mature and well respected by the faculty and administration. If the entire student body consisted of men and women of this caliber, I am quite sure that the resistance by the administration and faculty would decrease considerably, if not diminish entirely.

Unfortunately, the student body does not consist of mature men and women, but rather of immature boys and girls. Such actions as defacing and destroying university property, getting drunk every week-end, destroying the MU.U. Quad Art Structure, stealing from the university and other students, ad infinitum, are not actions of responsible individuals. The student leaders cannot be expected to successfully breach the walls separating the students and the faculty while the administration can point to the activities of the rank-and-file students and say, "Are these the actions of your constituents who want to help run the university?"

We, the student body, must first demonstrate that we have the maturity and sense of responsibility to deserve a share in running the university. There is nothing inherent about the right of the students to assist the administration. We pay such a small cost in tuition as compared to the actual cost of our education that this argument for a voice is ludicrous. If we hope to have any real say in the policies of the University, we must first learn to walk before we can even hope to run.

Bruce MacHaffie
Senior, Pre-Med.

The Vandals

To the Editor:
The elections are now a week old and the various candidates have been hashed over, the election procedures criticized, and the actions of various student groups appraised, but there is one group of students seemingly forgotten. It is to this group that I address this letter. I will refer to them as the Various Numbers of Destructive And Looting Students, the VANDALS.

The VANDALS, caught up in the election fever, would work late at night and even early in the morning altering and adjusting campaign posters that the candidates had already put much time, energy, and money into constructing. Their efforts could readily be recognized the following day as the reworked posters were unveiled to the students. Yet, not only were the students the sole receivers of their work, but also visitors to Oregon State who could look and appreciate the attitudes displayed by the OSU students to a democratic election procedure.

The VANDALS are to be congratulated on their outstanding performance. This non-apathetic, active group is a stand-out all through the two-week campaign.

We on the outside, observing your actions, can only hope you think as highly of yourselves as we do.

Don Laird
235 N. 25

Editor's Note: Laird was a winning candidate for the office of Pharmacy senator.

Harsh Punishment

To the Editor:
We are writing this letter protesting women's closing hours and dorm rules. Recently we received the wonderful news that a dorm can completely eliminate our social life.

Every mother sends her daughter to college with the hope that she will grow up and learn to handle her own social affairs, but on the OSU campus, as the rules are now, a girl has no chance against a house mother and outdated policies.

One weekend we had the misfortune of getting in 20 minutes late due to automobile difficulties. Soon after that night we were invited to appear before the judicial court, a "just and democratic" organization, dedicated to the psychological and physical destruction of all campus coeds. Let us explain exactly how judicial court is operated.

We were asked to wait outside the room until the eight girls comprising the court had sufficiently discussed our case and then we were asked to come in and tell them what had happened. We were again asked to leave until a verdict had been reached. Our verdict was that we would be confined to the dorm (campused) for five weeks ends and would have study table in the cafeteria two nights a week for five weeks also. Being campused meant that we had to stay in our room from 7 p.m. to midnight, in campus dress, and sign in at the desk each hour. We were not allowed to play the radio or record player, receive any phone calls or have any visitors.

What we consider even more unfair is the fact that campuses and demerit systems vary greatly from dorm to dorm and even floor to floor. For example, in Hawley Hall, a girl receives a one night campus for five late minutes or for ten accumulated late minutes. In Snell, the same amount of late minutes is punishable by a two night campus. Other rules far exceed those of this hall. Furthermore, demerits in Snell Hall for such things as running in the hall after 7 p.m. or failing to answer the telephone if you are near it or yelling out of the window, are now changed into late minutes. That is, one demerit equals three late minutes.

Is it really fair to punish girls on such trivial matters, especially when such incon-

Facts Given

To the Editor:
This is in response to Mr. Michael Jones, chairman of the fine arts festival committee, who said: "I feel that it is my job to explain the series of events concerning the arts festival structure in the MU quad."

Perhaps Mr. Jones should keep to the job he is trained for and not try to enter the field of reporting, for several of his "facts" were very false.

First, he gave the credit to some "Cauthorn Marksmen." The project did not contain anybody from Cauthorn, but instead six industrious students from Poling fifth. Second, it was not at 2:30 a.m. but at 4:30 a.m. when it was finally erected. Third, we assembled it in almost identical condition as when it was in the quad.

Fourth, and one of the little known facts is that we sat out and guarded the structure until 7 in the morning to make sure it was not burned. Fifth, when the truck took away the first box, then is when the "Cauthorn marksmen" got in the act. They converged on the remaining boxes like vultures and removed them.

For the last point, Mr. Jones mentions numerous places. Perhaps he doesn't know that when the truck tried to remove a box from our quad, they wedged it under the stairwell and completely smashed it!

Those are the true facts. Anonymous for obvious reasons

On The Town

ON THE TOWN
By BRUCE MAHCAFIFE
Arrivederci, Baby, now at the State Theater, illustrates a new method for getting rich, quick. Instead of stealing a million dollars, one simply marries it. However, Tony Curtis, as the Bluebeard in the film, decides that if marrying one fortune is good, marrying several must be better. Thus, Tony spends the entire film marrying, and then disposing of, some of the most beautiful women in Hollywood. The film is mildly entertaining.

The second feature, Warning Shot, casts David Janssen as a policeman, but still behind the eight-ball. Janssen, while on an assignment to watch a house, sees a man approach the house under surveillance, and shouts a command to halt. The man turns, draws a gun, and Janssen kills him. However, when the scene is examined, the gun has disappeared, and the dead man is a respected physician in the community. Janssen discovers that missing guns are almost as hard to find as missing one-armed murderers. As the comic opera writer W. S. Gilbert wrote, "A policeman's lot is not a Happy One."

At the Whiteside Theater is Walt Disney's The Adventures of Bullwhip Griffin. This film, set in the Gold-rush days in California, reminds one of the picture Flubber, since many of the gags and tricks date back to that film.

Church Notes

Christian House
A trip to the Albany Nursing Home is planned for this Saturday, May 6. The students will leave Christian House at 1 p.m. and will return at about 3 p.m. Guitar music and folk singing are planned for the nursing home residents.

This Sunday at 6:30 p.m. the students are going to the Methodist Church to see "Zorba the Greek," a recent film starring Anthony Quinn, Alan Bates, Irene Pappas and Lila Kedrova, which asks the question, "What is the meaning of life?" Everyone is invited.

Gamma Delta
This Sunday Gamma Delta will be attending the Campus Ministry film, "Zorba the Greek," at the Methodist Church. Those attending should meet at Zion for transportation. There will also be a no-cost supper before the film.

Sunday, May 21, there will be a student service at 8:15 p.m. as a trial to see if student services will be incorporated in the group's Christian fellowship program for next year. The service is especially for Missouri Synod Lutheran students.

Inflation Causes Deflation Of Ego

What happens to a stewardess wearing an inflatable bra when the cabin of her jet plane is depressurized?
Just what you're thinking, Herman. Inflation.

As Los Angeles Times columnist Matt Weinstock told it Friday, this set of potentially explosive circumstances occurred recently on a Los Angeles-bound flight. He gallantly withheld the identity of girl and airline.

"When she had, ahem, expanded to about size 44," Weinstock wrote, "she frantically sought a solution. Somehow she had found a woman passenger who had a small hatpin and stabbed herself strategically."

"However, another passenger, a man of foreign descent, misunderstood. He thought she was trying to commit hara-kiri the hard way. He grappled with her trying to prevent her from punching the hatpin in her chest."

"Order was quickly restored, but laughter still is echoing along the airlines."

Weinstock says it really happened.
Good thing they don't make these bras puncture-proof.

Here's how it works: The new Honda Trail 90 offers a standard equipment auxiliary transmission and automatic selector lever which enables the rider to change from street gearing to trail gearing without ever changing sprockets or chains, as an virtually all other trail bikes. You simply flip a lever and ride away—that's all there is to it! And this exclusive Honda feature makes the Trail 90 the most versatile machine of its type. Other features include: smooth throttle response, even at high altitudes; full engine protection via a rugged steel skid plate; bigger, brighter rear brake lights for safety and a USDA approved spart arrester/muffler. Best of all, you get traditional Honda reliability with the Trail 90's powerful four-stroke OHC engine.

Alumni Game Ends Drills

By TOM GREERTY
Sports Writer

The traditional Alumni football game, to be played this Saturday at 4 p.m. on the Corvallis High School field, concludes 20 days of intensive spring training.

Prognosticators use this game as a prediction of the teams fall performance.

Out to challenge the merit of Dee Andros stalwarts are the likes of Paul Brothers, Bob Grim, George Carr, Skip Diaz, Rocky Frietas, and many others who report their eagerness to clobber their gridiron successors.

It can be expected that their replacements will be out to demonstrate their capacity to bring another winning season to O.S.U.

Particular attention will be focused on the ball moving talents of quarterback Steve Preece and his backfield mates Bill Enyart, Don Summers, and Jerry Belcher.

On defense, tackle Ron Boley has been consistent while J. C. transfer Fred Milton and defensive back Mel Eastly have had a good spring. Tackle Gary Neal, ends Harry Gunner and Mike Foote, and defensive back Mark Waletich have all turned in good spring championships.

Head coach Dee Andros, completing his third spring practice, promises an all out effort. "The boys have yet to demonstrate their full potential, but I look for them to break through any day now and it could be this Saturday."

The Alums will use basically a 5-3 defense with a monster man in the middle. On the offense you can expect to see anything from a shotgun to a wide slot. With Brothers playing quarterback and Grim at split end, a concentrated aerial attack can be anticipated.

The starting Alum offensive unit will be Hoyt Keeny at center, Jim Wilkin and Bill Stellmacher at guards, Rich Koper and Ken Brusven at tackles, Mike Sullivan at tight end and Grim at split end. The backfield will be set with Brothers, fullback Booker Washington, flanker Oliver Moreland, and halfback Dick Jones.

On the defense for the Alums will be Skip Diaz at middle guard, Dennis Rozario and Dave Gould at tackles, Dick Ruhl and Russ Kuhns at linebackers, Tom Coccione and Greg Hartman at defensive ends with George Carr playing monster man.

In the defensive backfield Scott Eaton will be at safety with Tim Osmer and Lew Scott at halfbacks.

Tickets will be available at the gate.

Pistol Squad Scores Third

The Oregon State University Pistol Club captured two third places in the National Collegiate Postal League, according to results received from the National Rifle Association late Tuesday.

Firing at both conventional and international targets the club took third in both divisions. Members participating were Robert Grogg, Merry Holland, Mike Johnson, Tom Johnson, Ray Kiste, Andy Paul, Ed Robertson, King Sargent, Glen Tabor and Mack Zirges.

By BOB ALLARD
Oregon State University track squad takes on traditional rival, the University of Oregon, Saturday on OSU's Bell Field.

The Ducks are coming into the meet with a two win and two loss record this season.

The Beavers, who were barely beaten by the USC Trojans last Saturday in a dual meet 79-66, appear to be slight favorites and are entering the meet with a five and one record.

The Ducks hold a wide edge in the overall series with 45 wins to 17 for Oregon State. Last year Oregon won both meetings by 90-55 and 89½-51½ scores.

Steve Davis, OSU's ace sprinter, faces his Duck counterparts with optimism. After suffering a leg injury that pulled him from competition for two weeks, Davis looked strong against Southern Cal last weekend and appears ready for a peak performance.

Davis will run the 100 yard dash for the Beavers with a best time of 9.7 to his credit and will be opposed by Oregon's Mike Deibele, also a 9.7 sprinter.

Deibele will also be entered in the 220 with his best effort being 21.6. He will be contested by the Beaver's captain Steve Pancoast who has run a 21.5 this season.

Pancoast, the best 440 man on the coast this year, will run his specialty against the Ducks Leon Lincoln. Their best times this season are 46.4 and 49.4 respectively.

Oregon will send Wade Bell to the starting line in the 880 yard run with a best time of 1:48.2. Coach Berny Wagner of the Beavers will have Terry Smith opposing Bell. Smith's best is a 1:49.2.

In the mile run OSU's Smith, with the lowest time on the coast this year, will contest the Duck's Roscoe Divine, a 4:03.2 miler. Smith has a best of 4:02.0.

The two mile run will pit the Beaver's Lew Dahlin with a best of 9:04.4 to his credit against Oregon's Arne Kvaleim who has run an 8:48.0.

Bob Blum of the Ducks will face OSU's Craig Sonnicksen in the 120 yard high hurdles. Blum has a windaided best of 13.9 as compared to Sonnicksen's 14.5. The 440 yard intermediate hurdles should be a close race with the Beaver's Bob McLaren and Jim Lockard, both with best times of 32.9, against the Duck's Dean Southam who has a 33 flat to his credit.

The shot put event should be a big point getter for the Ducks where they have Neil Steinhauer and Bob Foskett with respective bests of 69-11½ and 59-10. OSU will counter with Don Tollefson who has done 56-1¼.

Steinhauer, with a best of 187-3 in the discus will go against the Beaver's Tim Vollmer and Tollefson. Their bests are 176-1 and 173-2½ respectively.

Roger Stalick and Phil Lowry both got off their season's best heaves last week in the javelin event and should give Oregon's Bill Heikkila, who has a best of 239-2½, some trouble.

Stalick and Lowry have respective bests of 233-5 and 233-2. OSU's Dennis Phillips with a best of 16-4½ to his credit in the pole vault will be trying to get back to his usual form after a couple of bad meets.

Bob Varley will oppose him with a best of 15-6. The Beavers should take the high jump where they have Steve Kelley and Dick Fosbury who have both done 6-10 or better. The Ducks best is Larry Sangaras at 6-4.

The Orange and Black are heavy favorites in the long and triple jumps. Three Beavers have done over 24 feet in the long jump, led by Charlie Olds at 24-6½ and George May at 24-5. The Ducks will come back with Sangaras whose best is only 23-2.

Olds leads the Beaver triple jumpers with a best of 48-7½ as compared to Oregon's Steve Steveson at 45-5½.

Oregon State's 440 relay team of Davis, Greg Marks, Bob Mayes and Pancoast should win as they have recorded a 40.8. Oregon's best quartet has done no better than 41.4.

The mile relay looks to be a field event. Running events will begin at 2:00.

OSU's Dennis Phillips with a best of 16-4½ to his credit in the pole vault will be trying to get back to his usual form after a couple of bad meets.

Bob Varley will oppose him with a best of 15-6. The Beavers should take the high jump where they have Steve Kelley and Dick Fosbury who have both done 6-10 or better.

The Ducks best is Larry Sangaras at 6-4. The Orange and Black are heavy favorites in the long and triple jumps.

Three Beavers have done over 24 feet in the long jump, led by Charlie Olds at 24-6½ and George May at 24-5.
