

Monitored Radio Report

Delhi, Information Service of India, in English Morse to Asia and Australia
July 17, 1954

Proceeding, the paper (Hindustani Standard) quotes from the U.N. Economic Commission's report of January 1952 that "when a waterway crosses two or more territories in succession, each of the states concerned possesses rights of sovereignty and ownership over the section flowing through its territory," and thus answers Mohammed Ali's claim for "co-riparian rights" in the international waterway.