

THE MIYAKO HOTEL, KYOTO.

Kyoto, 191

Our so-called Saki temple private shrine originally -

was

Miya-jinja near here - Onamuchi no mikoto - specially revered as god of medicine as Saki was used as stimulant he was also revered as god of Sake, Matsuno - prob. built by naturalized Chinese dates back to Nara time - not certainly known -

rice sewing - for farmers to wish for good crops - ded to Oyanakuni - as ~~temple~~ mikoto the same as at Hiei-jinja -

THE MIYAKO HOTEL, KYOTO.

Kyoto, 191

Our 20-cottled 2000 bottles bottle bottle originally -

was

Miyako-finger near here -

Document on subject -

Specialty named as part of our a bottle was used as the subject it was also named as part of bottle

Motomura - part built by archeological Chinese date back 2 more here - not as - level tower -

rice leaving - for farmers to work for poor crops -

at the top of tower - on tower subject the same as at Hei-finger -