Dear Sirs:

Please do not crate my furniture at the present time,
but hold it as it is in storage.

With regard to the china, glass, silver and vases: please have them packed in barrels ready for shipment but hold them also.

In thinking it over, it has seemed to me that it would be desirable to leave them with you for a while and I will write you when to send them. In the meantime, please send me my bill for the packing and a monthly bill for storage.

Thanking you for your kindness, I am

Very truly yours,

Dear Sirs:

Please have the china, glass, silver, and vases packed in barrel and hold ready for shipment. But please hold the furniture in its paper wrappings for the next couple of months or until I write you to send them and the barrels.
And please send me approximately bill for the storage and packing. In thinking it over it seemed to me that it would be desirable to leave them with you for a while.

Thanking you for your kindness, I am
