

August 14th, 1933.

My dear Perkins:

I have just received the enclosed letter from the Oregon Tax Commission.

It is possible that you may not have this information and by noon Sam will be 24 hours across the Atlantic. I suppose they are wanting us to prove that the losses in the bonds were legitimate. If you do not have the information please write them that Sam will arrive in New York about the 22nd of September.

I decided that the automobile trip, that Sam and Helen were going to take along with the sight seeing connected with it, was a little too strenuous for me at present and so I insisted that they should go without me.

Your affectionate cousin,

August 14th, 1933.

My dear Perkins:

I have just received the enclosed letter from the Oregon Tax Commission.

It is possible that you may not have this information and by noon Sam will be 24 hours across the Atlantic. I suppose they are wanting us to prove that the losses in the bonds were legitimate. If you do not have the information please write them that Sam will arrive in New York about the 22nd of September.

I decided that the automobile trip that Sam and Helen were going to take along with the sight seeing connected with it, was a little too strenuous for me at present and so I insisted that they should go without me.

Your affectionate cousin,