Dear Mrs. Warner,

You have been in my thots almost constantly of late and sometimes it has seemed to me that you you are sending me questions. I'll answer them right off. I do my reading religiously; I feel that I cannot do without the help of the Principles of C.S. I do not go to church however as Sunday seems the day when I am of most use to your mother from morning till night.

About your mother. She is ever so much better than I have ever seen her. Your brother John told me a few weeks ago that she seems more her normal natural self, happier and stronger, than he has known her to be in a number of years. Even Mary (Irish) told me it did her heart good to see how Mrs. Bass seems to be picking up and acting her old self. at any rate she is full of pep and energy.

I was almost discouraged when I returned to find an old bill, ten years old, facing me which it seems my father never paid while I was at college. Then there was the dentist for more work, a few clothes and lastly Dad took sick and I had an S. O. S. from my cousin. After a little thinking, I realized I was very fortunate to be able to meet the emergencies and should have a thankful spirit rather than anything else.

There are a great many things you spoke of in our walks during the summer which you said I would understand better somewhat later. I assure you it has been coming home to me. I am really very, very grateful for your kindness to me and for leading me to a helpful way of thinking. It is a peace of mind which is a "pearl of price".

Your mother donated a corner of the living room to a piano for me, then sent Mrs. John Bass + me after it, and then got Mrs. Waters to read to her between 2 and 3 so that I would have ample time to practise + take a walk. Wasn't she lovely about it?

I found a very good teacher, an Italian woman named Arimondi and I am ridiculously happy

once a week while I take a lesson and have much pleasure in practising. My voice
has developed considerably
even in this short time.

I believe that when it
brings me so much joy,
it would be foolish to give it up for surely it is wealth of spirit and I give "le bon Dieu" thanks
for it.

Everyone is lovely to me.

Your letters sound very busy and very happy.

Your mother's correspondence is somewhat disrupted by her Xmas shopping.

My grateful affection

Adèle Breaux

my love to you.

P. S.

All seems to go well. The suite is most comfortable + has such pretty furniture. It doesn't look like hotel furnishings at all. Your mother is in raptures over the pretty little tables, I sing in the radio-room between 7 + 8 in the morning absolutely by myself. Every morning + evening I read + memorize helpful parts to keep by me during the day. I
