Monday May 10th

Dear Mrs Wernet,

This is Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Your mother is now having breakfast and Mr Jack Bass is calling as he always does every morning on his way to the office.

His grandmother appreciates his trying to do in his way the part his father had done and it pleases her very much.
She is growing to look for his daily visits altho she may not be aware of doing so.

We are going along very nicely indeed. The daily routine of getting up, dressed, meals, etc. fills the days, and the gaps are stopped just now with the selecting of two spring dresses, and a new hat. Mrs John has been such an angel helping out by bringing materials & models & offering lots of suggestions. She has been with Mrs Barr so much while getting her dresses for the past years, she knows just what she likes & what looks well. Her brief visits each day bring real sunshine to our house, for altho I know she does not always feel as cheerful as she acts, the effect is not wasted as she can see and as I always like to tell her. It is good for both Mrs Perkins Bass + Mrs John to be interested in each other as Mrs Daly + I work together to keep your mother as interested in Mrs John as much as Mrs John is interested in her.

The Doctor calls frequently and reports everything in O. K. and his praise of your mother's shouldering of this recent trouble and doing so "like the good soldier she is", as he puts it, is unstinted. He says she shows the good stock she is bred of.

Miss Anna Smith comes to dinner Mrs Daly's day off and stay over night. She bring all the news of the things in Hubbard Woods, then Miss Fordham has been here & is coming soon again, and we are promised a visit from Mrs Edmonds - so you see how nicely everything is going. Really, no time is left for morbid thoughts + Oh! yes the Radio has proved to be a real help. We tune in on the public speaking Home Sunday services, & concert music every Saturday and then too your mother

is enjoying home after fine months in a hotel. She is such a home person she is just enjoying having her own things around her once more. She often speaks of how good it is all to her to be home again.

Mr. Rabb. writes very often;
was some indisposed, but is feeling better now. I was not surprised to hear that,
for he did not get a real night's sleep for a week, before leaving for Chicago. I have not yet heard any thing about Peterborough, the children, or what the plans are, but,

Wassat
Mrs. ~~Wassat~~

You can rest assured that whatever the plans are there one two, ^{persons} in fact. there one more who one looking out for your dear mother and that she will not get an iota of unnecessary worry over children, moving, or otherwise. That is the job we are all together on and should any question arise that I think we feel we should ask your advice I shall do so immediately. I hope you are feeling some rested after your strenuous time leaving Oregon so quickly & all that followed. Kindest regards from my aunt and,
Lillie
