

Law School of Harvard University,
Cambridge, Mass.

Feb. 2, 1932.

Dear Mama,

I am inclosing copy of my latest to Mr. Butcher. You will note that I am not finding him easy to deal with. I am trying to be courteous & also to let him realize that I do not think he is dealing frankly with me.

The reason for the next to last paragraph of my letter is that the bank has not been providing that the loans be paid in instalments.

Please do not sign anything without consulting me.

If the situation is such that you need reply to him rapidly, please sign what he asks you to & then send the letter to me instead of to him. Then I can forward it to him unless there is some special reason for not doing so.

I am particularly anxious to know whether he has renewed the loan due Feb. 1, 1932, to which both you & I objected.

Please send me the financial statements you were going to. I have received none since you left Boston.

With lots of love
from Sam.