

2101 CONNECTICUT AVENUE, N. W.
WASHINGTON 8, D. C.

December 2, 1949

MRs Mabel Garner
North Bend, Oregon

Dear Mabel:

You remember that when you were here last May I drew for you at the request of my mother a check for $1,000 to pay for photographing the Gertrude B. Warner Collection at the University of Oregon. That check has never been returned to the First National Bank of Peterboro, New Hampshire, on which it was drawn. Please let me know what happened to it. I am anxious to know so that I can close my accounts and file a proper accounting for the year.

Everything is going nicely here. All the family are well. Murray is enjoying his work for the Watson Laboratory at Red Bank, New Jersey, and Samby is on the last lap of graduation from college. The hunting season is on here. It makes me think of Louis. I wonder if you are tramping through fields with him.

Sincerely yours,

Sam B. Warner

Sam B. Warner

2101 CONNECTICUT AVENUE, N. W.
WASHINGTON 8, D. C.

December 2, 1949

Miss Mabel Garner
North Bend, Oregon

Dear Mabel:

You remember that when you were here last May I drew for you at the request of my mother a check for $1,000 to pay for photographing the Gertrude B. Warner Collection at the University of Oregon. That check has never been returned to the First National Bank of Peterboro, New Hampshire, on which it was drawn. Please let me know what happened to it. I am anxious to know so that I can close my accounts and file a proper accounting for the year.

Everything is going nicely here. All the family are well. Murray is enjoying his work for the Watson Laboratory at Red Bank, New Jersey, and Sam is on the last lap of graduation from college. The hunting season is on here. It makes me think of Louis. I wonder if you are stamping Canada fields with him.

Sincerely yours,

Sam B. Warner

Sam B. Warner