

AMERICAN CONSULAR SERVICE

Tunis, Tunisia, June 30, 1926.

Mrs. Gertrude Bass Warner,
Women's Building,
University of Oregon,
Eugene, Oregon.

Madam:

I was very glad to receive your letter of June 14, 1926, and to think that our meeting in Saigon had not been forgotten.

Tunisia does not offer a great field for rare old things and the few that remain mostly emanate from Syria, or other countries that are greater in arts. There exist, however, many colorful native things of modern manufacture which I should think would be interesting in your museum, such as : the native clothes, jewelry, leather goods, carpets, brass, pottery, furniture etc..

An illustrated booklet is being sent you under separate cover which will give you an idea of the country and its customs.

I am at your disposal to purchase any quantity of curios for the University of Oregon Museum, if you decide not to make the trip, which is best in the winter

AMERICAN COMMERICAL SERVICE
Seattle, Wash., June 20, 1922.

Dr. Carlisle Ross
University of Oregon
Eugene, Oregon

I was very glad to receive your letter of June 12, 1922, and to think that our meeting in London had not been forgotten.

Carlisle has not other a good field for your kind things and he has been really anxious to see you at other occasions that are nearer in time. These things, however, may suggest native things of modern manufacture which I should think would be interesting in your museum, such as: the native articles, jewelry, leather goods, carpets, brass, pottery, furniture etc.

An illustrated booklet is being sent you under separate cover which will give you an idea of the country and its people.

I am at your disposal to purchase any quantity of articles for the University of Oregon Museum, if you prefer not to wait the time which is best in the winter time. However, at that spot, the country is full of tourists and prices are triple. At the present rate of exchange, 35.00 francs to the dollar, for two or three thousand dollars, a very complete exhibit of Tunisian products could be secured. During the summer months, a collection could be purchased very reasonably.

Thanking you for your expressions of regards to my wife and myself, I remain

Sincerely yours,
