Dear Gertrude:

I want to acknowledge receipt of yours of January 8th containing the list of contributions for the year 1935. The auditors for the Government nowadays are extremely technical, but I don't see how they can possibly find the necessity for asking for anything more than you have given here.

I don't know of any news that I can give you. I hear frequently from both Robert and Sam but their communications are mostly confined to business. Abba went South to spend Thanksgiving and has evidently decided to spend the whole winter. In any event, I have heard nothing from her about her plans.

Sincerely yours,

HCE:F

Dear Sirs:

I want to acknowledge receipt of yours of January 8th containing the list of contributions for the year 1923. The solicitors for the Government are extremely technical, but I don't see how they can possibly find the necessity for asking for anything more than you have given here.

I don't know of any news that I can give you. I hear frequently from both Robert and Sam but their communications are mostly confined to business. I had some doubt as to what to do in any event, I have heard nothing from Sam since.

Sincerely yours,

MEC:R
