Mr. Paul S. Bachman
Director of Graduate Studies
University of Hawaii
Honolulu, T.H.

Dear Mr. Bachman:

I understand that Mr. Bruce Rogers has applied for one of the graduate scholarships in Oriental Studies offered by the University of Hawaii, and I should like to say a word in his behalf.

Mr. Rogers has worked for me as a student assistant in both the Business Administration Reserve Library and the Museum Library, during the last two school years. I have found him an exceptionally dependable assistant, a willing worker at any task, quick to learn, and most pleasant in dealing with the public. He has also served as a guard in the Museum (which is a Museum of Oriental art, only), and has taken a keen interest in the Institution.

In addition to his work in the Museum, Mr. Rogers has found time for many hours studying in the library, and, wholly on his own initiative, has undertaken the mastery of the Japanese language. I believe he is also familiar with quite a few Chinese characters.

His interest in the Orient as a whole, and Japan in particular, is enthusiastic and most sincere, and I believe it would be very hard indeed, to find a person who would be more appreciative of an opportunity for further study, and I am confident his diligence would make the most of that opportunity.

Mr. Rogers is spending the summer in Japan and will be in Honolulu for two weeks in June, en route. I hope that you allow him an interview, and I very much hope that you will find him as deserving of a scholarship as I believe him to be.

Very truly yours,

Librarian
Museum of Art
University of Oregon
Eugene, Oregon.
