

Steve Dodson's notes -

First wife goes to groom's house in red sedan chair.

There can never be but one first-wife - i.e. they cannot raise a concubine to the position of first-wife.

If there is only one grandson in a family - (uncles not having sons) This grandson marries 1st wife, uncles can present him with a first-wife (riding in a red sedan chair) whose children will be the heirs to the uncle & worship the family ancestors of the uncles - & to carry on the name -
