Dearest Gertrude,

I was glad to hear from you & to know you were well; but very sad over the contents of your letter. I know all is well— your unselfishness & generosity cannot be wasted or lost.

Please do not feel that you are bound in any way to buy any of the sketches, prints, or pictures sent. I quite understand.

I have at last begun to work— it was & is still— to mortal sense a very trying experience.

I am beginning with Korea - the country I love so well.

I am so glad you have Mrs Willard so near you — she is the finest Practicioner I have ever met. She is really loving — which I

Yours affectionately
Sigismund

be a long time 2nd! much much love from

think is the most important thing of all.

Yes, you are quite right if we all only read & thought & talked Peace there could not be any war anywhere.

Funnily
enough I was saying just that remark to a non C.S. friend before your letter came she had to agree with me.

The Spring has been so beautiful here - I wish I could run in to see you & go out with you & Mrs Willard & drive such as she took us, when we were in Portland.
The snow was on Mount Hood, but Spring was just beginning or promising. I could never forget the beauty.

Forgive a short scrappy letter as I am busy; but I must send you my love & assurance that you are not bound in any way to buy anything. I shall send you my new Etchings when they are ready which will
