The Stabilization of Peace

September 28, 1934

To the Members of the Academy:

The Academy of Political Science is devoting its Annual Meeting on November 9th to the topic of "The Stabilization of World Peace". This meeting will also be an Armistice celebration and will be held under the joint auspices of the Academy and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. With the world in travail after sixteen years of uneasy peace and with much of the world's industrial population standing idle, waiting for acts of statesmanship that will permit the nations once more to resume the march of civilization, this joint meeting has been planned with the hope of influencing public opinion regarding the necessary adjustments for real world peace.

Experts, scholars and other persons of national prominence will participate in the daytime sessions. Undoubtedly many of your friends would like to attend the daytime sessions. Guest cards and programs will be sent direct from the Academy office if you will send names and addresses on the enclosed blank.

For the Annual Dinner program the speakers include Mr. Owen Young, President of the Academy, presiding, Peter Molyneaux, editor of The Texas Weekly and a Trustee of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and the Honorable Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War.

A dinner reservation blank is enclosed for your convenience in subscribing. Please note that the price of the dinner to members and their personal guests remains as heretofore at $5.00. The dinner is open to non-members by subscription at $6.00 per cover. Private tables of ten may be reserved. Checks must accompany all reservations; guests' names may be sent later on.

I hope to have the pleasure of seeing you at some of the sessions of the Annual Meeting.

Sincerely yours,

Ethel Warner
Director

To the Members of the Academy:

The Academy of Political Science is devoting its Annual Meeting on November 9th to the topic of "The Stabilization of World Peace". This meeting will also be an Aristotelian celebration and will be held under the joint auspices of the Academy and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. With the world in travail after sixteen years of uneasy peace and with much of the world's industrial population standing idle, waiting for acts of statesmanship that will permit the nations once more to resume the march of civilization, this joint meeting has been planned with the hope of influencing public opinion regarding the necessary adjustments for real world peace.

For the Annual Dinner program the speakers include Mr. Owen Young, President of the Academy, presiding, Peter Molynaux, editor of the Texas Weekly and a Trustee of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and the Honorable Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War.

A dinner reservation blank is enclosed for your convenience in subscribing. Please note that the price of the dinner to members and their personal guests remains as heretofore at $8.00. The dinner is open to non-members by subscription at $8.00 per cover. Private tables of ten may be reserved. Checks must accompany all reservations. Guests' names may be sent later on.

I hope to have the pleasure of seeing you at some of the sessions of the Annual Meeting.
