My dear Frances:

Your letter of March 12 has been waiting a little time for its turn. By the atmosphere of your letter I judge that you have regained lots of your zest for living and your courage.

To answer your questions as they come in your letter - The Library has not yet been moved into the Museum. Of the three books you ask me about; it is possible we may have the Japanese Temples and Their Treasures. The others we have not.

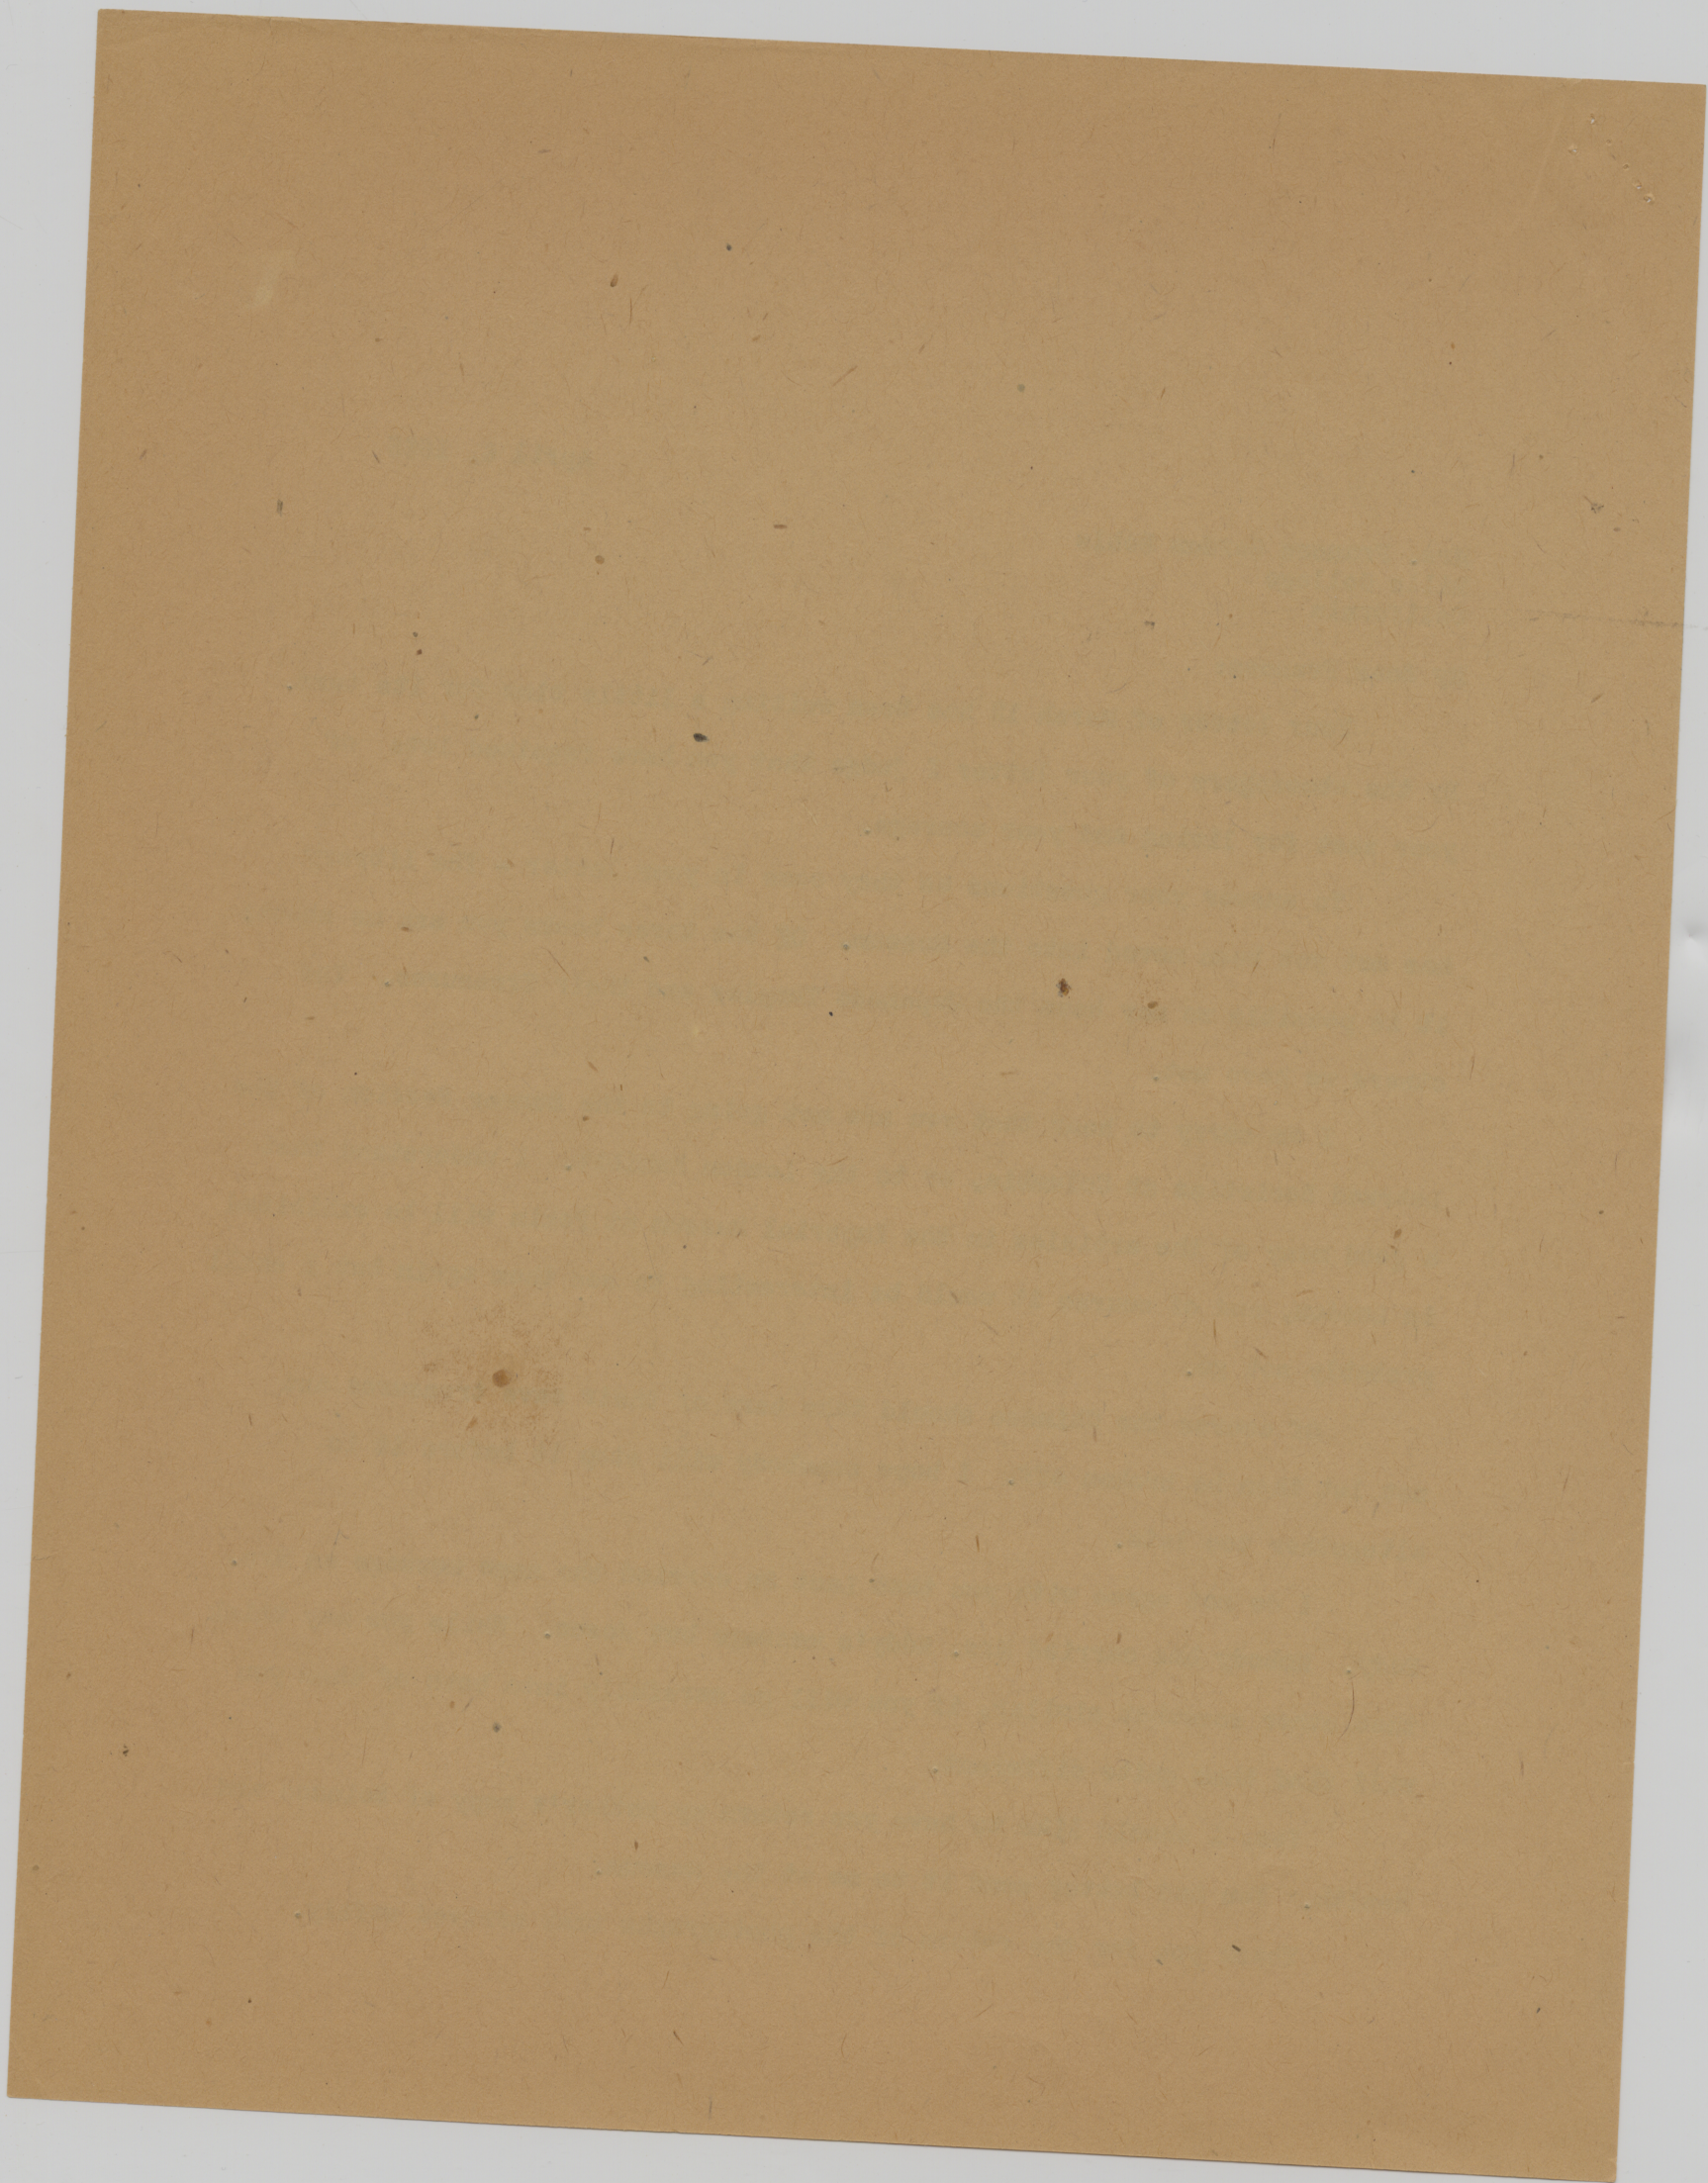

I am sorry to hear that you are not going to the Summer Session of The Learned Societies at Columbia, or to the London Exhibit. I understand that a good many of the articles in the Imperial Museum at Pekin will be exhibited in London, and of course it would be interesting to see them again but I shall probably not go.

Of course the Chinese should take care of their cave treasures and not let them be broken off. I hope somebody will stop it before it is altogether too late.

I do not agree with you that Laot Su carried the same message as Mrs. Eddy. Nobody has carried Mrs. Eddy's message but Jesus. While you may think that other somewhat similar, if you will go carefully into both of them you will find them quite different.

Yes, I should like to have you return my Mother's copy of Science and Health. You had better send it to me at the Museum.

Thank you for the return of the photographs that arrived safely.

2 - Mrs. Noble

We are to have the Portland Art Class with us before long, and another time Mr. Fuller is coming from Seattle to lecture to the Eugene Oriental Art Class at the Museum, so I am going back to Eugene presently to be there for awhile.

Hoping that you will find some work to do this summer that you will enjoy and that will help you along your way.

Yours with love

Gertrude Bass Warner
