Dear Jo, Our letters crossed.

You'll be glad to know I've already ordered Rich's book. I too read the NYT review and smelled something rotten in it. I'll look, or rather dig, around and see if I saved it, and if so and if time permits I'll write. Not that they'll print it, this late. But as you say, to let them know.

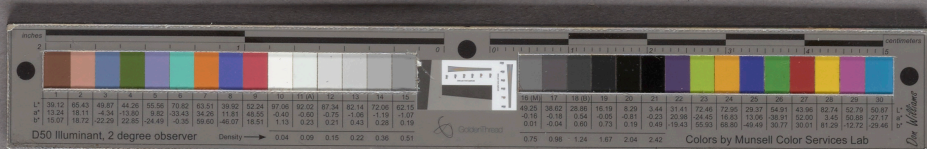

What's "meef?"

Jos.

Now I'll write Geo. Hay to try to look up Saxton. Wish I knew her address. (Not in SFWA.) Tell you what---if you know it send me a card pronto and I'll hold up the Hay letter til a week.

I'm not afraid of male irrelevancy; I believe in it. It was the point of my HOUSTON story.

Love, [Signature]
