

PS It's true the phone co deliberately miswires so you can't easily add on... Do you ^{too} unscrew things - or only, at, screw?
 JAMES TIPTREE JR. 6037 Ramshorn Place McLean, Virginia 22101

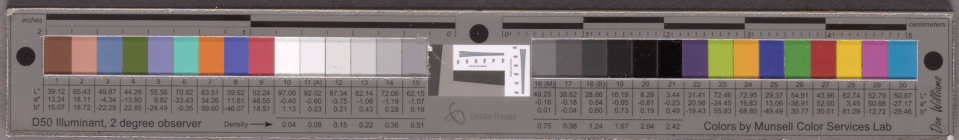

17 Apr 79

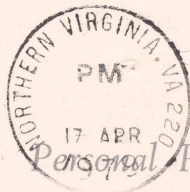

To, rummating on our converse while rewiring my illegal and extensive telephone ^{network} ~~wiring~~ (all 11m fit for) this occurred:

(Still full of chemist's crap, I should shut up)

Re "stream of consciousness" communication. Yes - in theory. But in practice, if I find that if anyone else ^{expressed} ~~had~~ the same thoughts, feelings, symptoms & diseases, rip-offs, glories, etc., that fact kills it for me as a topic - even for thought, if possible - unless I can somehow find some new aspect. (New to me anyway.) I know I am "sub sp. aeternitatis" condemned to rise only to rediscovering soap.) ... Anyway, this is my axeman, my censor-within. Never realized, far less spoke of it betw. How say you?

JOANNA RUSS,
3956 * 2d Ave. NW,
Seattle, WA 98107

Commo #2,
in case Po lumps it... * And by the way, why do some people put a hyphen between street # and street name?? I thought it was a Western affectation 'til you started.

