

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. YIARU!

Dedicated as a sign of my sincere esteem to

F. v. W.

INTRODUCTORY.

PERSUADED, a few years ago by some of my Japanese friends to bring my Bibliography of Japan, issued in 1895, up to date I at once gave up the idea suggested to me of preparing a new edition, as it would have greatly increased the size of the book and therefore the cost of production without sufficient advantage. For in these fast moving times the literature on Japan becomes quickly obsolete, and those interested in the older literature on Japan will find copies of my work in many large public libraries or can still purchase second-hand copies. I hope, therefore, that my plan of confining myself in this volume to the literature issued since 1894 will not only meet with the approval of those who possess the first volume, but likewise of all others.

I set to work rather reluctantly notwithstanding my great interest in the Orient, and Japan in particular, for a compilation such as this is not exactly an intellectual distraction for leisure hours, for it requires more labour and a better acquaintance with the subject in all its details than would have been necessary to write a work on Japan "based on personal observation and study of the best authorities," as the phrase goes.

My compilation has no claim to originality, and gives no scope to impress the reader through literary style, new facts or ideas. On the contrary its principal merit consists in being as faultless, as complete and as free from misprints as possible. Further I was quite satisfied that the first volume paid at least my outlay; rather a record for bibliographical works of this nature unless the author receives a subvention. The cost of production of the new volume comes to a great deal more than that of the first, as printing, paper and binding are a third dearer here than they were ten years ago in Europe; further the new volume is over one hundred and fifty pages larger than the first, and in addition I had to spend a large sum on procuring bibliographical material from Europe, and on typewriting the whole MS., etc. The greatest hindrance in the compilation of this work was being so far away from Europe or the United States of America, where the greater part of the literature was published. On the other hand, it was fortunate that I had come out to Japan. For where else would it have been possible to compile such a complete list of foreign books published in Japan, and especially of the periodical publications* which the Imperial Japanese Government issues in foreign languages for the accurate information of the foreign public.

If I had been able to follow my own inclination I would have given a criticism of many books. It is true nobody can be an authority on all subjects, but one can all the same form an honest opinion like a fair judge, who after hearing the expert's opinion and the pros and cons of both sides, sifts the evidence and explains in his summing-up to the jury the plain statement of the case.

But I had to abstain from doing so for want of time and material to go by, and moreover such a task could only conscientiously be undertaken by several.

I wish to call special attention to the Catalogues of Japanese, Chinese and other Eastern books in recent years compiled by the three large Government libraries in Tokyo (for which see my footnote on page 15) as they are still very little known to European scholars; they merit to be in the hands of everyone, as they are far more complete than similar catalogues of the Public Libraries in Europe, which collected their stock of Oriental books more at haphazard. I must ask those who consult my book—when they hear that a work mentioned by me does not exist—not to come to the hasty conclusion that I have drawn upon my imagination to make copy like a journalist, anxious to outdo his more conscientious colleagues and to satisfy the morbid craving of the public for news. To state an example: I had seen at a foreign Embassy in Tokyo a copy of "Lönholm's Condition of foreigners in Japan under the new treaties, 2 vols." [for particulars see page 163]. Remembering the legal maxim "Unkenntnis schützt vor Strafe nicht," I was anxious to purchase a copy for my own use, and ordered a copy successively from three bookselling firms in Yokohama and in Tokyo. One answered me, the book was not yet published, the second, that it was out of print, and the third confessed not to know it. I could not communicate with the author at that time, which in such cases is the best course to take, as he was absent on leave in Europe. A week or two later I happened to go to the Foreign Board of Trade in Yokohama, where the ever obliging Secretary, Mr. J. E.

* For list of the same see Index on pp. 442-444.

Beale, told me that his Corporation had published the book and that I could still purchase about six hundred copies of the same.

I will give another instance how difficult it often is to get correct information. I saw advertised "L. Hearn's Stories and Sketches of Japan, new popular edition." Unable to find or to get anywhere particulars about this work I wrote to a friend of the late author, who answered me that I must be mistaken, as he had never heard of it. At last I ascertained that the American publisher had re-issued under this improvised collective title four works of the same author [for particulars of which see p. 6].

Authors and especially those in Europe and in America would greatly facilitate their writings on Japan becoming better known in the East, if they would present at least one copy of the same to the Imperial Library, Ueno Park in Tokyo, or to the Asiatic Society of Japan, Ginza in Tokyo, or to the German Asiatic Society (Deutsche Gesellschaft für die Natur- und Völkerkunde Ostasiens) 8, Itchome, Imagawakoji, Kanda in Tokyo. The latter Society has built a fire-proof three-storied brick building with iron doors and windows, especially for its large library.

If one copy at least was in one of these three libraries, it would be possible for any resident in the Far East to ascertain what new books have been issued or to find out the publisher's name, if he does not know, and where to get the book as in the above-mentioned cases.

In other ways I trust that my work will become useful for reference. For instance it is a fruitful source of annoyance that so many English works are re-issued in the United States of America under another title to protect them better and to comply with the American Copyright Acts. To give an example:

Mrs. Hugh Fraser, "A diplomatist's wife in Japan. Letters from home to home," is re-issued in New York under the title "Letters from Japan. Record of modern life in the island empire" [see page 348]. Many a busy librarian, anxious to purchase all works of this clever authoress for the library in his charge, will order one after another, two, three or even four copies, when he reads references to it, namely under the title of:

A diplomatist's wife in Japan,

Letters from home to home,

Letters from Japan, and

A Record of modern life in the island empire.

For it often happens that reviewers and other writers are so careless as to quote titles of books inaccurately, or to refer to a work by a subtitle. While in cases like this all four titles of a work are not to be found in a Library-Catalogue, any one, after having read and enjoyed the "Letters from Japan" will complain about the neglect of the librarian in not having purchased the "Letters from home to home."

The majority of the English books which have been reprinted in the United States cost there more than in England, viz :

Aston's Shinto 6s. in England, in the U.S. $2.

Hearn's Japanese Miscellany . . 5s. in England, in the U.S. $1.60.

while I do not remember having noticed a case in which a book of an American author is dearer in England than in the U.S.A. It is true there are some cases in which American books are sold even cheaper in England, but in nearly all these cases the unsold remainder stock was sold out in Europe. This is another proof of the old truth, that the consumer in a protective country has to pay for, but neither the middleman nor the producer, both of whom are only hampered through a diminished turnover.

I owe respectful thanks to His Excellency Mr. N. Makino, Minister of Education, for the interest taken in my work ; to Mr. Masatarō Sawayanagi, Vice-Minister of Education, and before all others to Prof. Sanji Mikami, Superintendent of the Institute of Historical Compilation of the Imperial University in Tokyo, without whose untiring assistance, I am afraid, I should never have finished my task.

Further to Mr. Mankichi Wada, Director of the Imperial University Library, Mr. I. Tanaka, Director of the Imperial Library, both in Tokyo, and Mr. Bunjiro Shima, Director of the Imperial University Library in Kyoto, for the special facilities afforded to me and the advice and help which they and their chief assistants so willingly rendered.

In addition to Prof. Joji Sakurai, the Chief of the Japanese Section of the International Scientific Cataloguing Committee, for donations of the set of titlecards, issued since the beginning in 1901. The collation of the same with my lists on Natural History and Science enabled me to correct a number of errors and omissions.

Furthermore to the Chiefs of the Zoological, Botanical, Agricultural, Geological, Seismological, Anthropological and other sections of the Imperial University in Tokyo, who all assisted me in many ways.

I am indebted for the greater part of the literature on Economics to Mr. S. Mori, Private Secretary to His Excellency the Minister of Finance, to the Foreign Consuls in Japan, and to Mr. J. E. Brate, Secretary of the Foreign Board of Trade in Yokohama, and to Mr. Takuzi Ogawa, Ph.D., of the Imperial Geological Survey in Tokyo, for the accurate details of the publications of his Office.

Last but not least I have to mention in Tokyo Herrn R. Lehmann, of the German Asiatic Society, who besides many other Europeans in Japan's capital rendered me valuable help, and my colleague here, Herrn A. Hahn, Ph.D., who compiled the index to the Select Relics of Japanese Art by S. Tajima for me.

In the United States Mr. H. M. Lydenberg of the Public Library in New York has put me under special obligation by sending me an advance copy of the catalogue of their large collection of books on Japan; Mr. W. D. McGuffey, Secretary of the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C., for a copy of their catalogue of books and periodicals on Japan, specially typewritten for me, and Mr. Melvine G. Dodge, Assistant Librarian of the Stanford University, California, for a list of all American magazine articles on Japan; Mr. Bashford Dean, of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, and several others.

In Europe I am greatly indebted to Miss Valfrid Palmgren, Ph.D., First Assistant Librarian of the Royal Library in Stockholm, who compiled the Swedish bibliography on Japan for the purpose, which she gratuitously put at my disposal out of interest in things Japanese.

I shall feel amply rewarded for having spent my summer vacations and my leisure hours during the last three years in this compilation if my work will have the effect that writers on Japan will in future be able to ascertain more easily what has been written on the particular subject of their study and make use of this facility too, and if readers, interested in Japan, will take the trouble to consult books written from different points of view before they form an opinion of their own.

It still remains for me to apologize for all the shortcomings, for as Longfellow said in his "Bird of Passage":—

Labour with what zeal we will, something still remains undone.

In excuse, I can say that most of the slight errors and omissions would have been avoided if it had not been quite indispensable to bring a reference work like this as much up-to-date as possible to be of any practical value.

Kumamoto (Kyushu).

Vol. II. chapter 9: Littérature du Japon.

Classified Catalogues (with periodic supplements of the new accessions) of the books in Japanese, Chinese and other Far Eastern languages in the libraries of the Imperial Cabinet, the Imperial [Public] Library, the Imperial University Library, and of other institutions in Tokyo and the provinces have been issued during the last decade. They are of great value to foreign scholars and librarians, but as they are entirely written in the Japanese language they are outside the scope of this Bibliography.

For Catalogues of books in European languages in the public libraries in Japan see chapter XIV. on "Education."

Worth mentioning is also the "Toshosō moku-roku" [i.e. Catalogue of all books], published by the "Tōkyō shoseki-shō kumiai in" [i.e. Tokyo Publishers and Booksellers Club] in 1906 [price ¥2.50], which is the first General Catalogue of the current Japanese Literature ever issued. It contains on over 1800 pages, in 8vo., a list of the modern Japanese books, at first in alphabetical order, secondly the same systematically arranged, and thirdly a collection of the latest Japanese publishers' catalogues.—Added are a rather incomplete list of books in European languages, published in Japan during the last decade or so, and the Japanese Copyright Acts in Japanese language.

III. — PERIODICALS.

Transactions of Societies, Newspapers, Magazines, etc., devoted solely to Japanese matters or containing numerous articles referring to Japan.—(Periodicals on special subjects as Missions, Agriculture, Medicine, Seismology, etc, are not enumerated here, but under the respective heading).

through the executive documents from the 31st congress to date. From the 31st to the 37th congress the only indexes in print to this correspondence are the index in Ben: Perley Poore's descriptive Catalogue, and that found in the congressional documents themselves. The New York Public Library has a manuscript index on cards covering 1828-1861. From this time the diplomatic correspondence was regularly published in annual volumes by the State Department. In 1898 the State Department published a detailed index to these annual volumes."

Select Relics of Japanese Art. A printed or colotype reproduction of the best Art Relics from the Earliest Times up to the End of the Tokugawa Era, from the rich Collection in the Buddhist Temples in Nara and Kyoto, folio, Tokio.

The work is to be completed in twenty volumes, of which twelve volumes were issued from 1899-1906. (Price of all twenty volumes ¥390.00, bound in silk, ¥490.00; price of the first series viz. vols. I-X. ¥200.00, bound in silk ¥250.00).

The titles are arranged chronologically according to the dates given in the "Relics." Where the particulars given in the "Relics" were not sufficient for this purpose they have been supplemented in the chapter on "Japanese Paintings," from the best Japanese works, viz. the "Kōwabikō," "The Fusōmeigwaden" a.o. Dates taken from these books have been put between square brackets. All the names of the artists have been arranged according to the year of their death, whenever this date was exactly known. The names of the paintings of which only the century of their production is known, have been placed at the end of the respective century. The dates given after single works of art refer always to those works only and are likewise based upon those in the "Relics." Whenever possible the ordinary first and the family-names of the artists have been given first. The names in larger type are those, by which the artists were better known. The word "called" before the name of an artist means, that the name was his "go" i.e. his pseudonym. A name after an equation mark is the monastic name of the artist or any other kind of pseudonym of the same, except the afore-mentioned "go." A question mark before the name of an artist means, that a slight doubt exists in regard to his identity; if the question mark has been bracketed, it expresses a strong doubt or merely a tradition.

Abbreviations used:

Or. = Original; R. = Reproduction; col. = coloured; pl. pla. = plate(s); a Roman figure, viz. II, IV, VI, etc., before the word "folding-screen" expresses the number of leaves of the same; G. = God; Gs. = Goddess; B. Ba. = Buddha resp. Buddhas.

Vol. 26 was issued in 1905.—Written in Japanese language; only the title and list of contents are in English.

Journal of the College of Science of the Imperial University of Japan in Tokyo 4to.

Vol. I, part 1, containing pp. 1-112, with 12 plates (one of which coloured). 1886. (Yen 1.)

Contents.—C. Sasaki, On the life history of Uglimya Sericaria, Rondani; I. Ijima, Notes on Distoma Endemicum, Bälz, with a plate; S. Sekiya, Comparison of earthquake diagrams simultaneously obtained at the same station by two instruments involving the same principle, and thereby proving the trustworthiness of these instruments, with 4 plates, large folio; H. Muraoka, Ueber die Deformation der Metallplatten durch Schleifen; B. Koto, A note on Glaucothane, with plate; E. Divers and T. Shimidzu, Mercury Sulphites, and the constitution of Ozygenous Salts; E. Divers and T. Haga, On the reduction of Nitrites to Hydroxyamine by Hydrogen Sulphide.

Vol. I., part 2, containing pp. 113-209, with a plate, 1887. (50 sen).

Contents.—D. Kitao, Beiträge zur Theorie der Bewegung der Erdatmosphäre und der Wirbelstürme, part I.

Vol. I., part 3, containing pp. 210-336, with 11 plates, 1887. (yen 1.)

Contents.—K. Mitsukuri and C. Ishikawa, On the formation of the germinal layers in Chelonia, with 4 plates in folio; S. Watase, On the caudal and anal fins of goldfishes, with 3 coloured plates; D. Sasaki, Some notes on the giant salamander of Japan, [Cryptobranchus japonicus Var. der Hoeven]; A. Tanakadate, A pocket galvanometer; B. Koto, Some occurrences of Piedmontite in Japan, with a plate; S. Sekiya, The severe Japan earthquake of the 15th of January, 1887, with 3 plates in folio; C. G. Knott, Notes on the electric properties of Nickel and Palladium; A. Tanakadate, Note on the constants of a lens.

Vol. I., part 4, containing pp. 337-384, with 5 plates (one coloured). 1887. (50 sen).

Contents.—I. Ijima, Über einige Tricladen Europas, with plate; S. Sekiya, A model showing the motion of an earth-particle during an earthquake, with 2 plates; H. Yoshida, On Aluminium in the ashes of flowering plants; T. Haga, The effects of dilution and the presence of Sodium Salts and Carbonic acid upon the titration of Hydroxyamine by Iodine; C. G. Knott, Notes on a large crystal sphere; K. Mitsukuri, The Marine Biological Station of the Imperial University at Misaki, with 2 plates.

Vol. II., part 1, containing pp. 1-75, with plate, 1888. (30 sen).

Contents.—R. Fujisawa, Über die Darstellbarkeit willkürlicher Functionen durch Reihen, die nach den Wurzeln einer transcendenten Gleichung fortschreiten, 16 pp.; E. Divers and M. Kawakita, On the composition of birdlime, 14 pp.; Y. Kikuchi, On Anorthite from Miyakejima, 18 pp., with plate; I. Ijima, The source of Bothriocephalus latus in Japan; S. Sekiya, Earthquake measurement of recent years, especially relating to vertical motion, 19 pp.

Vol. II., part 2, containing pp. 76-162, with 4 plates and coloured map. 1888. (60 sen).

Contents.—B. Koto, On the so-called crystalline schists of Chichibu, with 2 plates and a map; S. Okubo, On the plants of Sulphur Island; I. Ijima, and K. Murata, Some new cases of the occurrence of Bothriocephalus liguloides, Lt. with a plate.

Vol. II., part 3, containing pp. 163-262, with 6 plates and 4 maps. 1888. (70 sen).

- Journal of the College of Science Imp. Univ. Tokyo (continued).
Contents.—C. G. Knott and A. Tanakadate, A magnetic survey of all Japan, carried out by order of the President of the Imperial University.
- Vol. II., part 4, containing pp. 263-328, with 9 plates, 1888. (60 sen).
Contents.—K. Yamagawa, Determination of the thermal conductivity of Marble; H. Nagaoka, Combined effect of torsion and longitudinal stress on the magnetization of Nickel, with 3 plates; H. Nagaoka, On the magnetization and retentiveness of nickel wire under combined torsional and longitudinal stress, with 6 plates; M. Kuhara, Specific volume of Camphor and of Borneol determined with proximate accuracy.
- Vol. II., part 5, containing pp. 329-412, with 2 tables, 1889. (40 sen).
Contents.—D. Kitao, Beiträge zur Theorie der Bewegung der Erdatmosphäre und der Wirbelstürme, part II., with 2 tables; J. Sakurai, Note on the specific volumes of aromatic compounds.
- Vol. III., part 1, containing pp. 1-89, with one plain and 14 coloured plates, 1889. (Yen 1).
Contents.—M. Yokoyama, Jurassic plants from Kaga, Hida, and Echizen, with 14 coloured plates; Y. Kikuchi, On pyroxenic components in certain volcanic rocks from Bonin Island, with plate.
- Vol. III., part 2, containing pp. 90-172, with 5 plain and 2 coloured plates, 2 maps and illustrations in the text. 1889. (Yen 1).
Contents.—S. Sekiya and Y. Kikuchi, The eruption of Bandai-san.
- Vol. III., part 3, containing pp. 173-229, with 3 plates. 1889 (30 sen).
Contents.—C. G. Knott and H. Nagaoka, On magnetic lagging and priming in twisted iron and nickel wires, and on the effect of twist on the magnetization of nickel and iron, with 3 plates; E. Divers and T. Haga, Oxyamidodisulphonates and their conversion into Hyponitrites.
- Vol. III., part 4, containing pp. 230-384, with one coloured and 2 plain plates, tables and illustrations in the text, 1890. (80 sen).
Contents.—M. Kuhara, On a condensation product of Acetone and Aldehydammonia; K. Ikeda, Capillary attraction in relation to chemical composition, on the basis of R. Schiff's data; S. Hirayama, Determination of the elements of the sun's spin, 19 pp. with 2 tables; Y. Koga & O. Yamagata, On the fineness of the One Yen silver coin, with 2 figures; Y. Kikuchi, On Cordierite as contact mineral, with one plate, partly coloured; H. Nagaoka, Transient electric currents produced by twisting magnetized iron, steel, and nickel wires, with 2 plates and 7 figures.
- Vol. IV., part 1, containing pp. 1-237, with 17 plain and 14 coloured plates, 1891. (Yen 3).
Contents.—K. Mitsukuri, On the foetal membranes of Chelonia; K. Kishinouye, On the Development of Aranea; A. Oka, Observations on Fresh-water Polyzoa; S. Goto, On Diplozoon nipponicum, n. sp.; N. Tanaka, A new species of Hymenomycetous Fungus injurious to the Mulberry tree; M. Miyoshi, Notes on the irritability of the Stigma; M. Inaba, Notes on the Development of the suprarenal bodies in the mouse.
- Vol. IV., part 2, containing pp. 127 with plates, 1891. (70 sen).
Contents.—M. Yokoyama, On some fossil plants from the Coal-bearing series of Nagato; S. Sekiya, Comparison of Earthquake Measurements made in a pit and on the surface ground; C. G. Knott, Laboratory notes; H. Nagasaka, Diffraction phenomena produced by an aperture on a curved surface; H. Nagaoka, Effect of magnetization on the permanent twist of Nickel wire; C. G. Knott, On certain thermo-electric effects of stress in iron; M. Yokoyama, On some Cretaceous fossils from Shikoku.
- Vol. V., part 1, containing pp. 1-147, with 14 partly coloured plates. 1892. (Yen 1.20).

Contents.—Studies on reproduction elements: I. Spermatogenesis, oogenesis, and fertilization in Diaptomus sp., by C. Ishikawa; Further studies on the formation of the germinal layers in Chelonia, by K. Mitsukuri; On the development of Limulus longispina, by K. Kishinouye; On the lateral eyes of the spider, by K. Kishinouye; Notes on a collection of birds from Tsushima, by I. Ijima; On the formation of the germinal layers in Petromyzon, by S. Hatta.

Vol. V., part 2, containing pp. 149-196, with 7 plates, 1892. (50 sen).

Contents.—A. Tanakadate & Nagaoka, The disturbance of isomagnetism attending the Mino-Owari earthquake of 1891, with 7 plates; K. Takizawa, Optical note.

Vol. VI., part 2, containing pp. 114-149, with 4 plates, 1893. (35 sen).

Contents.—B. Kotô, The archæan formation of the Abukuma plateau.

Vol. V., part 4, containing pp. 295-353, with 8 plates, 1893. (80 sen).

Contents.—B. Kotô, On the cause of the great earthquake in Central Japan in 1891.

Vol. VI., part 1, containing pp. 1-113, with 2 plates, 1893. (40 sen).

Contents.—J. Sakurai, Determination of the temperature of steam arising from boiling salt solutions; J. Sakurai, Notes on an observation by Gerlach of the boiling point of a solution of Glauber's salt; J. Sakurai, Modification of Beckmann's boiling method of determining molecular weights of substances in solution; K. Ikeda, A simple experiment in chemical kinetics; E. Divers and T. Haga, Iminodisulphonates.

Vol. VI., part 2, containing pp. 114-149, with 4 plates, 1893. (35 sen).

Contents.—S. Matsuda, On the anatomy of Magnoliaceæ.

Vol. VI., part 3, containing pp. 150-226, 1893. (25 sen).

Contents.—R. Fujisawa, Researches on the multiplication of elliptic functions.

Vol. VI., part 4, containing pp. 227-385, 1894. (Yen 1.80).

Contents.—K. Mitsukuri, Process of Gastrulation in Chelonia, with 3 plates; K. Kishinouye, Eyes of Cardium Muticum, with a plate; K. Kishinouye, Cælotomic cavity of the spider, with a plate; C. Ishikawa, Noctiluca miliaris, its division and spire formation; S. Hirota, Ser-amniotic connection and the foetal membranes in the Chick, with 3 plates; I. Ijima and T. Kurimoto, A new human tapeworm, with a plate.

Vol. VII., part 1, containing pp. 1-108 and plates 1-3, 1894. (38 sen).

Contents.—E. Divers, The Manufacture of Calomel in Japan with plates I-III.; E. Divers and T. Haga, Oximidodisulphonates or Sulphazotates; J. Sakurai, Constitution of Glycocoll and its derivatives (Appendix: General theory and Nomenclature of Amido-acids).

Vol., VII., part 2, containing pp. 109-200 and plates 4-19, 1894. (85 sen).

Contents.—F. Omori, On the after-shocks of earthquakes.

Vol. VII., part 3, containing pp. 201-243 and plate 20-29, 1894. (83 sen).

Contents.—M. Yokoyama, Mesozoic plants from Kôzuke, Kii, Awa, and Tosa, with a plate; K. Nishiwada, On some organic remains from the Tertiary Limestone near Sagara, Tôtômi, with a plate.

Vol. VII., part 4, containing pp. 244-292, and 7 tables, 1895. (39 sen).

Contents: S. Hada, Mercury and Bismuth Hypophosphites; E. Divers, The Acid Sulphate of Hydroxylamine; M. Chikashige, Decomposition of Sulphates by Ammonium Chloride in analysis according to Fresenius; M. Chikashige, Ewart Johnstone's way to prepare Nitric Oxide; T. Haga and Y. Osaka, The acidimetry of Hydrogen Fluoride; M. Tsukamoto, On the poisonous action of alcohols upon different organisms; O. Sudo, Formulæ for sn 9u; E. Tokyo Sugaku Butsurigakkwai Mokoku, from vol. II., No. 7 onwards called "Tokyo Sugaku Butsurigakkwai Kiji-Gaiyo." [Proceedings of the Tokyo Physico-Mathematical Society], 4to.

This serial is not identic with the previous one, although the name is very similar.

Vol. I. (1901-3) bears the title in Japanese language only.

The first six parts are written in Japanese only; parts 7-20 contain the following articles in English, besides several articles in Japanese language, which are left out in this list:

No. 7. pp. 39-41, K. Honda, S. Shimizu and S. Kusakabe, On the effect of magnetization upon the rigidity of ferro-magnetic substances.

No. 8. pp. 45-50, Yoshiziro Homma, The distribution of electricity in the atmosphere.

No. 9. pp. 52-56, S. Sano, On magnetostriction of crystals; pp. 56-58, T. Takagi, On the Weierstrass' proof of the fundamental theorem of algebra; pp. 59-61, H. Nagaoka, On some special cases of lines of force due to a homogeneous body of rotation.

No. 11. pp. 70-73, K. Honda & S. Shimizu, Wiedermann effect in ferromagnetic substances;—pp. 73-76, S. Sano, Note on the magnetization of cubic crystals.

No. 12. pp. 79-87, S. Nakamura, On the temperature of inversion in Jaule-Thomson experiment.

No. 13. pp. 97-100, H. Nagaoka & S. Kusakabe, Magnetization of iron, nickel, cobalt and steels near the critical temperature.

No. 14. pp. 102-103, T. Takagi, On the "zweigliedrigen Modul";—pp. 103-111, S. Kusakabe, On the modulus of rigidity of rocks.

No. 15. pp. 115-123, S. Nakamura & Y. Yoshida, On the "seiches" of lakes Biwa and Hakone;—pp. 123-126, S. Nakamura, On a portable mercurial tide gauge;—pp. 126-136, H. Nagaoka, On destructive sea waves (Tsunami).

- No. 16. pp. 138-143, T. Hayashi, Class numbers of the transcendental integral functions, whose zeros are given by polynomials of many integers;—pp. 143-148, F. Omori, A horizontal pendulum thermometer;—pp. 148-165, F. Omori, Note on the seismograms of distant earthquakes.
- No. 17. pp. 176-177, T. Takagi, A simple example of the continuous function without derivative;—pp. 178-184, S. Shinjo, R. Otani, S. Shimizu, T. Shida, & Y. Homma, On the relative measurement of the force of gravity at the ten stations in Tokaido.
- No. 18. pp. 187-190, T. Hayashi & K. Kato, An elementary method for examining the convergency of the multiple series $\sum \&c.$ (first article); pp. 191-194, S. Kaba, On pseudoperiodic function, in which the index of e is a rational function.
- No. 19. pp. 197-206, K. Honda & S. Shimizu, Change in length of ferro-magnetic substances under high and low temperatures by magnetization;—pp. 207-217, F. Omori, The transit velocities of the seismic waves deducted from the observations of recent Japanese earthquakes in Tokyo and Central Europe;—pp. 218-220, F. Omori, The velocity of transit of the Caracas earthquake of Oct. 29th, 1900;—pp. 221-231, F. Omori, Notes on the character of earthquake motion;—pp. 232-239, S. Nakamura, On the diffusion of liquids;—pp. 240-242, H. Nagaoka, Extension of Bridge's theorem.
- No. 20. pp. 243-246, M. Kuniyeda, Note on the multiple series and multiple integrals;—pp. 247-259, T. Hayashi, On the question proposed by Mr. Darboux, to find the four roots of an equation of the fourth degree to form a quadrilateral figure.—pp. 261-277, A. Imamura, Notes on Milne horizontal pendulum seismograms.
- Vol. II. called after No. 6: Tokyo Sugaku-Butsurigakkwai Kiji-Gaiyo. (1903) part 1, contains no articles, only title and index to vol. I.

d.—Hydrography, Charts and Navigation.

Admiralty Charts, Plans, Sailing Directions etc. of the coasts of Japan have been issued by the:

British Admiralty in London.

Service Hydrographique de la Marine in Paris.

United States Hydrographic Office in Washington, D.C.

Complete lists of the same have been omitted in the present volume, as they become too quickly obsolete and as detailed catalogues of these charts etc., brought up to date, are issued by these offices at the beginning of every year.

Admiralty Charts published by the Hydrographic Office [Suïrobu] of the Imperial Japanese Navy; on sale at all offices of the Nippon Yusen Kwaisha in Japan.

The names on these charts are all printed in Chinese or Katakana, but as the international nautical signs are employed, every mariner will be able to read them.

Translation of the terms: bana or hana = point; byōchi = anchorage; fukin = neighbourhood; hakuchi = anchorage; jima or shima = island; kaikyō = straits or channel; kaiwan = bay or inlet; kō = harbour; nada = sea; nanwan = southern bay; seto = channel or water way; shima = island; shobyōchi = small anchorage; shokō = various harbours; suidō = channel; ura = sea port village or land boarding the inland sea; wan = bay; zaki or saki = point; zengan = sea front; zentō = front head; whole island.

Official Catalogue [in English language] corrected to January 1st, 1907, 57 pp., 8vo. (20 sen).

a.—GEOLOGY.

Geological Survey of Japan [Chishitsu Chōsajo] founded in 1879, attached to the Ministry of Agriculture and Commerce in Tokyo. [The Tōyōdō Publishing Company, Tōrishinkokucho, Kanda, in Tokyo is the official agent for the sale of these publications].

1. Survey Map, [Shōsazu] in course of publication since 1884, scale 1:200,000, size of each sheet $11\frac{1}{4}:17\frac{1}{4}$ inches [=56:40 cm.] with the exception of the sheet for Ogashima, which has only half the size. Topographical issue [chikeizu]. All published, except No. 1, 4; II, 1, 4-8; IV, 4; V, 6, 7; VII, 6; IX, 10, 12, 13; X, 10, 11; XII, 14, 15; XIII, 20, 21; XIV, 18, 19, 20, 21. (35 sen each sheet).

Geological issue [chishitsuzu]. The same with the further exception of sheets III, 1, 3; X, 13; XIII, 15, which are not yet geologically coloured. (45 sen each sheet).

An explanatory text to the geological map, in Japanese language only, has been issued separately in book form for each sheet.

2. Reconnaissance Map [Yosatsuzu] according to original surveys and designs, scale 1:400,000, issued in five sheets, size of each about 24:38 sun [=73:110 cm.=30 $\frac{1}{4}$:40 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches] (the size of the sheets differ a little).

First edition, in two issues, one topographical, [chikeizu] (Yen 2.60 sen each sheet), the other geologically coloured, [chishitsuzu] (Yen 3.20 each sheet), 1884-94.

New revised edition, only the first section of this edition has been published up to date, viz. the topographical issue in 1900, and the geological issue of the same in 1902.

3. Index Map, to the Survey and Reconnaissance Maps in one sheet in folio, (gratis).
4. General Map, [Zenzu], scale 1:1,000,000 in 15 leaves, size 6:5 feet. Topographical issue with special maps of the outlying islands (scale 1:2,000,000), another map of Japan with division in "ken" [i.e. prefectures] (scale 1:10,000,000) and a hypso-bathymetric map, (scale 1:5,000,000) issued in 1899 (Yen 3.50 sen). Geologically coloured issue, with a special geotechnic map, scale 1:5,000,000, issued in 1902. (Yen 7).

Outlines of the geology of Japan, being the descriptive text to accompany the geological map of the empire (scale 1:1,000,000), compiled by the officials of the Imperial Survey, 251 pp., large 8vo., 1902. (¥1.50 sen).

Contents: Topography pp. 1-16.—Geology pp. 17-122.—Economic geology [metallic and non-metallic deposits, petroleum, etc.] pp. 123-end.

N.B.—Pages 1-122 were issued separately at first in 1900 and are incorporated in this complete work.

5. Geological and topographical maps of the oilfields of Japan. The following sections were published up till now, in different scales from 1:10,000 to 1:30,000, each section in several sheets, viz:
 - Section I: Higashiyama oilfield, Echigo, 1902. (¥8).
 - „ II: Kita-akita oilfield, Ugo, 1903. (¥2.50 sen).
 - „ VII: Ojiya oilfield, Echigo, 1905:
 - „ VIII: Kubiki oilfield, Echigo, in the press.

Each section is accompanied by smaller sheets, geologically coloured, showing the horizontal and vertical sections of the respective districts in English and in Japanese. An explanatory text for each section has also been issued, but in Japanese language only.

Bulletin of the Imperial Geological Survey, written in Japanese language throughout, only the title and list of contents are in English.—Vol. XVIII. was issued in 1905.—An English resumé of Mr. Inouye's paper is appended to vol. 18, issued in 1903.
