ACADEMIC COSTUME

ACADEMIC GOWNS represent a tradition which comes down from the universities of the Middle Ages. At that time they were a common form of dress and were retained by the clergy when the laity adopted more modern styles. The caps, originally round, later became square mortar boards. The hoods attached to the gown were originally cowls which could be slipped over the head for protection from the weather.

The significance of the costume is indicated especially by the sleeves and hoods. The bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves; the master's gown has long, closed sleeves; and the doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves and velvet trimmings.

The colored velvet border of the hood indicates the field of study to which the degree pertains as do the tassel colors. (See Processional, Page 2.)

The colorful lining of the hood indicates the institution from which the wearer received his or her degree. The lining of the Harvard University hood, for example, is crimson; Yale, blue; Wisconsin, bright red; California, gold; Washington, purple above gold; Oregon, lemon yellow and dark green; Stanford, cardinal; Oregon State, burnt orange.

Epaulets (honor cords) may be worn on the right shoulder by those candidates who have been designated as recipients of Senior Honors.

Commencement Committee

Flowers in the auditorium are Eremurus, commonly called Desert Candle or Fox-tail Lily.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARDS

Upon recommendation of the Faculty Recognition and Awards Committee, the Faculty Senate of Oregon State University has selected the following recipients of the Oregon State University Distinguished Service Award:

JACKSON GRAHAM . . . dedicated and decorated military leader and distinguished public servant . . . 1936 Oregon State engineering graduate who chose the Army Corps of Engineers as a career . . . served with two engineer combat units in Europe during World War II and commanded two engineer aviation groups in the Korean conflict . . . later was district engineer in Portland and then brigadier general in charge of all civil and military construction for 14 states . . . became a two-star major general in 1966 and retired in 1967 after 30 years of often dangerous and always demanding active duty . . . within a month after Army retirement, however, General Graham was named general manager of the Washington, D. C., Metro Transit Authority, a multi-billion-dollar project that succeeded largely because of his tremendous skills as an administrator and his determination to overcome technical, financial, and political obstacles . . . the Washington Post summarized his nine "crucial years" this way: "Jackson Graham was the right man at the right time for a monumental undertaking . . . he can embark (into second retirement) with the community's gratitude and respect for his lasting contribution to the nation's capital."

JAMES HERBERT JENSEN . . . distinguished scientist, university administrator and adviser to governments, here and abroad . . . member and chairman of scores of state, regional, and national committees and advisory councils . . . professor, head of plant pathology, and provost for three other leading Land-Grant institutions—University of Nebraska, North Carolina State University, and Iowa State University . . . president of this university from 1961 until 1969, guiding the growth of the institution from 9,000 students to nearly 15,000 and conferring 19,167 degrees from this platform . . . believer in Oregon State University and the building of men and women . . . president of the prestigious National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges . . . president too of the American Phytopathological Society, evidence of colleague esteem and contributions to science and education . . . accepted foreign assignments after retirement here out of lifelong interest in global agriculture and urgent concern over world food production . . . served with distinction in Thailand, India, Iran, and Indonesia . . . saluted by the Oregon State Board of Higher Education earlier for educational statesmanship and intellectual honesty . . . recognized this day by students, staff, and grateful Oregon citizens for his warmth, wit, and wisdom and his love for both truth and youth.

CHARLES JAMES MEECHAN . . . 1951 graduate of Oregon State University in physics, who is currently vice president for research and engineering of the world-renowned Rockwell International Corporation . . . brilliant and ambitious, he made significant contributions early in his career in the study of radiation effects, electronic properties and thermal diffusion of defects in metals and alloys, a topic both of fundamental and practical importance . . . pioneer of successful new concepts in research administration . . . fellow of the American Physical Society . . . member and former chairman of the National Academy of Sciences Evaluation Panel for the Institute of Materials Research . . . member and leader in numerous professional societies, including the Research Society of America, American Geophysical Union, Society of Automotive Engineers, Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers . . . honor student at OSU graduation 26 years ago . . . honored this day with the highest award given by a proud alma mater for distinguished scientific accomplishments and service to society.

PHILLIP WILLIAM SCHNEIDER . . . pioneer leader in scientific management of wildlife and one of the truly influential and effective conservationists of our time . . . his broad interests and great energy have prompted active involvement in such vital and diverse efforts as public land use policies, monitoring of the Alaskan pipeline impact on the environment, and Western energy evaluations and development . . . 1940 Oregon State University graduate in fish and game management . . . Oregon State Game Commission staff member for 29 years, including service as director from 1951 to 1969 . . . Northwestern Regional Executive for the National Wildlife Federation for the last eight years . . . president of the International Association of State Game and Fish Commissioners and of the Pacific Flyway Council . . . tireless in his efforts to conserve and wisely use the natural resources of the Northwest . . . willing to share his expertise with regional, national, and international scientific and educational organizations . . . enthusiastic, able, and aggressive, his mark in enlightened management of wildlife will endure for decades . . . today is, and tomorrow will be, better because of "Phil" Schneider's devoted and determined administrative leadership.

Oregon State University Library

GIFTS AND MEMORIAL BOOKS

Gift books, memorial books, and cash donations play an important role in the Library's acquisition program. Through the OSU Foundation, the Library received $7,187.97 from gifts, memorial book funds, and endowments. Memorial books constitute an enduring tribute from individuals and groups to deceased relatives and friends. During the last year, 151 volumes memorializing 25 persons were added to the Library. Each of these books has a special bookplate recording the name of the person memorialized and that of the donor.

In addition, the Library's collection was enriched by 1,643 gift books from individuals, groups, publishers and firms, with an estimated value of $17,130.32.

The Memorial Book Plan, originated in 1943 and originally sponsored and promoted by the Friends of the Library, Oregon State University, has grown over the years and is now directed through the OSU Foundation for greater ease of administration.

Memorial Union

The Memorial Union acknowledges the gracious cooperation and generous support of the many friends who have made its cultural and educational programs for the entire campus community possible.

Horner Museum

The Horner Museum gratefully acknowledges the gifts received this year. Special thanks to the Corvallis Woman's Club, our life-long member, Mrs. Curtis Holt, and 1977 benefactors: Mr. D. L. Belshee, Jean B. Coughlin, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ritchie Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin A. Hoy, Mary E. Pitney, Frances L. Province, Eva M. Seen, and Marie M. Smith. Appreciation for special help to Ivan Mertes, King's Martinizing, Maynard Kirkellie, Corvallis Moving and Storage and Bob Henderson, Photography.

ALMA MATER

Within a vale of western mountains,
There's a college we hold dear.
Her shady slopes and fountains
Oft to me appear.
I love to wander on the pathway
Down to the Trysting Tree
For there again I see in fancy,
Old friends dear to me.

(Chorus)

Carry me back to OSU,
Back to her vine-clad halls;
Thus fondly ever in my mem'ry
Alma Mater calls.

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY CREED

I believe in Oregon State,
Builder of men and women,
Seeker after truth,
Organized for the service of a great commonwealth.

I believe in her traditions,
A heritage from the deeds and dreams of yesterday;
In her sportsmanship and honor,
A reality with the students of today;
In her aspirations and ideals,
The assurance of a magnificent tomorrow.

I believe in her democracy
And her far-reaching bond of Beaver brotherhood;
And I realize that since she has accepted me as a Beaver,
I too am a guardian of the Beaver spirit.
If I degrade myself, I degrade her,
As I honor myself, I honor her.

I therefore pledge to her, my Alma Mater,
My loyalty, my love, and my devotion.
