PATRICK WAYNE VALLEY FIELD

One of the nation's most modern track and field facilities is Patrick Wayne Valley Field, which was dedicated March 30, 1974. The facility includes the first international track (400 meters) to have been built in the United States. The track itself is a Chevron 440 surface, possibly the most resilient surface ever produced. The entire layout of Patrick Wayne Valley Field is one of the nation's most imaginative and modern in terms of surface and provision for electronic aids. The track was named in the memory of Patrick Wayne Valley, a former student-athlete who died in 1969. His father, Wayne Valley, was also an Oregon State graduate who made numerous contributions to the OSU athletic program. Wayne Valley is a highly successful businessman in the San Francisco Bay Area. At one time he was the principal owner of the Oakland Raiders of the NFL. Patrick Wayne Valley was a lineman on the OSU football team from 1964 to 1966 and a member of the 1964 Rose Bowl squad. He died in a drowning accident in 1969.

OREGON STATE MEN'S OUTLOOK

SPRINTS: Oregon State's sprint corps will be heavily dependent on members of the Beavers' football squad for any success. Three members of the sprint corps come from the football squad, and as a result, will not be available for full time track duty. The lone exception to that is Darvin Malone, a senior, who has no more football eligibility. Robb Thomas (10.83) and Erick Montgomery (10.75) are two football players doubling in track. Senior Babajide Akanbi (10.6) and freshman Tod Witzel (10.6) are the other available sprinters, along with long jumper Guy Oekerman. OSU will be hard pressed to score in the sprints.

400: This will be a very weak event for the Beavers with no proven runners available at this distance. Junior Jeff Tressler (47.4) has the best time which he recorded in junior college at Clackamas CC. Other available athletes for the 400 include Marc Stewart (49.88), Brad Carman (50.9) and Tod Witzel (NT) and Tod Perkins (NT).

800-1500: Once again, OSU has no proven quality runners at either distance, except Karl Van Calcar, the Beavers school record holder in the 3,000 meter steeplechase who is questionable this season due to achillis tendonitis. Van Calcar has run 1500 meters in 3:46.81. Senior John Warinner is the top returnee at 800 (1:53.0) and 1500 (3:50.6). The rest of Beavers available in the middle distances have had no experience at the Pac-10 level--freshmen Willy Hewson and Lew Barnes, transfer Brian Fagerberg (1:55.9), Donn McAdams (1:54.5); Aaron McKee (1:54.69); Dave McCormick (1:56.0) and Jeff Tressler (1:56.0).

DISTANCES: This is an area of strength if Van Calcar is able to compete as he is the OSU record holder in the steeplechase (8:28.25) and the Pacific-10 champion at 5,000 (13:52.55). However, OSU does not have much to go along with Van Calcar as all other Beaver runners are untested.

HURDLES: OSU will be depending on freshman recruit Jim Millager (14.30) to carry the load in both the high hurdles and intermediate hurdles. Brad Carman (55.1) will help in the intermediate and highs (15.87). Transfer Barrington Lewis (14.4) should also help in the high hurdles as well as Dave Collins (14.8 and 56.24). Once again, this event has inexperienced people.

JUMPS: OSU probably has more depth in the long jump and triple jump than any area on the squad. Guy Oekerman (24-2), Babajide Akanbi (23-8), Robb Thomas (23-1) and Dave Turnbull (22-10 1/4) are the long jumpers and Barrington Lewis (51-10 1/2) is a transfer who gives the Beavers a quality triple jumper to replace graduated Kenny Taylor. Turnbull (45-4 1/2) will return for his second year as a triple jumper and he should improve in 1986. The Beavers have depth in the high jump with Turnbull (7-0 1/4), Dan Franklin (6-10), Scott Franklin (6-8) and Thomas (6-9) available.

POLE VAULT: Another position of strength with Greg Likens (17-6), one of the better vaulters in the Pacific-10 returning, along with Nick Till (16-5) and Dave Collins (14-6).

SHOT PUT: The loss of Chris Waltman via graduation has left the Beavers hurting in this event. OSU has only two shot putters who have gone over 40 feet--freshman Corey Warren (45-6) and John Thomas (43-6).

DISCUS: Like the shot put, the discus will be totally inexperienced and with only one person who has thrown over 160 feet--John Thomas at 161-5. The only other competitors available are Corey Warren, Glenn Hamilton and Bill Morrow, none of whom have registered a collegiate mark in the discus.

JAVELIN: Senior Mike Pedersen has a best of 245-6 in this event and is capable of improving that mark if he can stay clear of injuries which have hampered him the past two seasons. Only two other competitors are available in the javelin--Brad Bales (208-0) and Mike Twist (172-4).

HAMMER: John Thomas threw the hammer 190-8 last year as a freshman and he could very well break the school record of 207-2 this year. John's improvement has been remarkable and he is easily the most improved athlete in one year's time on the OSU squad. Once again, John Thomas will have no experienced teammates to join him in the hammer ring. Other competitors scheduled to throw the hammer this year include Corey Warren, Glenn Hamilton and Bill Morrow.

Inexperience is the key word in describing the OSU Men's track team. Coach Chuck McNeil can point to only three athletes--Karl Van Calcar, Greg Likens and John Thomas--as athletes going into the season capable of scoring big in Pac-10 competition. McNeil must depend on several youngsters and newcomers developing quickly for the Beavers to be a competitive dual meet team.

OREGON STATE WOMEN'S OUTLOOK

Oregon State's women's track team has taken a step beyond rebuilding. The Beavers though still young, have the numbers and experience to improve in 1986. And it is very likely that Chuck McNeil's team could start its move up the ladder if things go just as planned.

To be competitive, Oregon State must remain healthy and helping keep people on the track in every event is the fact that for the first time in several years, Oregon State can boast a depth chart. Numbers have been a problem, particularly in the last two seasons when OSU stumbled to the bottom of the NorPac Conference. But this time around, McNeil and his assistants Mike Chriss and Gary Sievers have a roster full of names to call upon.

It is indeed a beginning. And what makes it more promising than in year's past is the fact that the depth chart is laden with several proven athletes. The Beavers have 12 letter winners returning to the fold for the 1986 campaign and that includes several contenders for top honors in the league by the end of the season. What makes OSU's prospects even brighter in the NorPac is that the Beavers will host the league championships in May.

Returning to make things look bright are five seniors and all five will be counted on to make major contributions to the Beaver cause. Leading the way is three-year letter winner and last year's team MVP, Kari Weston, who will be one of the premier hurlders in the conference this season. Weston was second at the NorPac's in the 100 hurldes at 14.14 and fourth in the 400's at 1:01.15. The school record holder in the latter event, she will also be a factor on the Beaver sprint relays and has even long jumped for OSU.

Weston's all-around talent and leadership are important to the Beaver success as is the return of Kam Johnson in the weight events. Johnson qualified for the NCAA Championships two years ago in the shot put and then red shirted last season. She is the school record holder for shot at 50-0 and has been equally valuable in the discus.

The senior leadership will also be visible in the javelin, one of OSU's best events last year and certainly one of the deepest. Connie Peterka and Monica Witt both return for OSU to bolster an outstanding group of javelin people. Peterka was eighth in the NCAA's last season and the only OSU entrant at nationals. She too holds the school mark at 171-3 and with Witt and returnee Julie Waage behind her, she leads an extremely powerful lineup in that event. Witt has lettered three years and has a best of 149-9, while Waage, a junior, threw 161-8 last season. Making things even stronger in the javelin is the addition of Beth Nygren, last year's Oregon State AA champ. She is also expected to compete in the shot and discus for the Beavers.

On paper, the weights and hurdles are OSU's main strengths mainly because of experience and depth. Johnson will have support in the shot and discus from Nygren, and Hawaii state record holding shot putter Sarah Bryant as well as sophomore letter-winner Kristi Wreath. Wreath had bests of 42-01/4 in the shot and 145-0 in the discus in her first season with the Beavers in '85.

For Weston, help will come in doses. The first dose is of experience. Behind Weston's talents will be Vicki Anderson, another senior, and lettermen Kelly Kaser and Jennifer Stark. Anderson will run both the 100's and intermediates for the Beaver team and Kaser and Stark will likely specialize in the intermediates and 100 respectively when they compete in that event.

Dose two of hurdlers is brimming with freshman promise. Lynn Wolf, Karma Groth and Shawn Bishop-Walker are all first year hurdlers, who make the Beaver depth chart an impressive one.

The Oregon State distance team should also help provide points to the Beaver cause. Cross country stars Sue Martineau and Peggy Murri help beef up a distance crew somewhat depleted by the loss of Kathy Knowlton and Karen Mathison. Martineau will run everything from the 1500 to the 3000 and Murri will handle distances ranging from the 800 up. It is a formidable one-two punch but there is not a great deal of depth or experience in support. Transfer Heather Cusack and sophomore Alison Ernst along with frosh Kristine Schaefer will add some dimension to the cast which could develop into a solid group by the season's end.

Kaser is OSU's top returnee in the 400 and will probably run the 800 as well this season. Schaefer, who was fourth at state in the AA 1500 last year, will also be counted on for depth in the longer sprints. Stark could also figure in the 400 for the Beavers but will likely be one of the Beaver mainstays in the 100 and 200. Weston can also be an effective sprinter when needed and McNeil has beefed up his depth chart in the sprints with some new faces.

Freshmen Lisa Byhre, Cathy Strong and Monique Walters give the Beaver team more sprint depth than it has seen in several years. That trio should help make up for the loss of premier prospect Pam Qualls, whom the Beavers seemingly had in tow but who opted for WSU instead. All three are in the 12.0-12.5 range in the 100 and Walters had a 25.5 200 time in high school in Millersville, Maryland. Byhre was an All-Stater at Beaverton and Strong was her teams' captain and MVP at Wilson.

Walters will also be used in the triple jump, where she joins letter winner Jean Lee, OSU's top returning triple jumper. The long jump could be a much improved event for the Beavers. Lee and Weston bring experience to that event and Byher, frosh Heidi East out of Crescent Valley High School and Karissa Pedersen should contribute.

Anderson is the main OSU force in the high jump but again, new faces will be a factor before the season is through. Jessica Cortell, Kim Fenton and Liz Hoyt join with transfer Kathy Sanders to give McNeil a strong nucleus in that event.

A big blow to the Beaver team was the loss of Meredith Howell, who won the NorPac heptathlon title two years ago, red shirted last season but failed to return to the team this year. She will be hard for the Beavers to replace in an event that has seen OSU win two of the last three NorPac championships.

The Beavers placed a distant sixth at last season's NorPac Championships and the emphasis will be on upward mobility in terms of standings this season. The experience and numbers would indicate that the Beavers have an excellent shot at moving up and should the climb begin in 1986, then McNeil figures that will only mean brighter things for the years to come.
