It was a homecoming of sorts for OSU alumnus Scott Rueck, who was named the fifth head coach in the history of the Oregon State women's basketball program on June 30, 2010.

Rueck has been the architect of an accelerated turnaround of the women's basketball program at Oregon State, bringing the team onto the national stage.

Rueck has led the Beavers to the NCAA Tournament in four-straight seasons for the first time in program history. Oregon State won it's third-straight Pac-12 title in 2016-17, and tallied the second-highest win total in OSU history with 31.

Under Rueck's tutelage, senior Sydney Wiese became the 14th player in Pac-12 history to earn All-Pac-12 honors all four years of her career, and the Beavers claimed Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year honors for the third-straight season, as Gabriella Hanson received the award. Rueck took home some hardware of his own as well, as he was named Pac-12 Coach of the Year.

The Beavers enjoyed the best season in program history in 2015-16, winning a school-record 32 games on their way to the team's first ever Final Four. The NCAA Tournament journey was highlighted by a victory over national power Baylor in the Elite Eight and a pair of wins at Gill Coliseum, as Oregon State hosted the first two rounds of the tourney for the second-straight season.

The Beavers also made their mark in conference play, winning their second-straight Pac-12 regular-season title, and notching the program's first Pac-

12 Tournament championship. For his leadership, Rueck was named one of four finalists for Naismith National Coach of the Year, joining Geno Aurienna (UConn), Muffet McGraw (Notre Dame) and Dawn Staley (South Carolina), and was the runner-up for AP Coach of the Year.

Under Rueck's guidance, Jamie Weisner was named the 2016 Pac-12 Player of the Year, and was tabbed as a WBCA All-American. Ruth Hamblin notched her second-consecutive Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year honor, while Weisner, Hamblin and Sydney Wiese were all named to the Pac-12 First Team.

Rueck's outstanding sixth season came on the back of an impressive 2014-15 campaign, as the Beavers notched 27 wins, en route to a Pac-12 Regular Season Title. For his efforts, Rueck was named Pac-12 Coach of the Year by both the media and the coaches, and earned WBCA Region 8 Coach of the Year honors for the second consecutive season. The Beavers' success on the floor was reflected in the national polls, as OSU was ranked as high as No. 7 in both the AP and USA Today/WBCA Polls during the season, the best rankings in school history, before the team ended the year ranked No. 13.

Oregon State also set a new program-best with a 16-2 conference record, surpassing the mark set in 2013-14. The Beavers went 14-2 at home, extending their home winning streak, which began in 2013-14, to 23 straight games. The historic season led to an increase in attendance, as the Beavers averaged a Pac-12 leading 4,167 fans per game, and welcomed 7,652 fans to Gill Coliseum for the Civil War on Jan. 9, the third-largest crowd in school history.

Under Rueck's guidance, Ruth Hamblin earned AP Third Team All-America, Pac-12 Player of the Year (media) and Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year honors, and was joined on the All-Pac-12 team by teammates Jamie Weisner and Sydney Wiese. The Beavers also led the conference with four Pac-12 Player of the Week awards on the season.

The Beavers finished 2013-14 24-11 overall, and ended the year tied for second in the final Pac-12 standings. Oregon State also advanced to its first NCAA Tournament since 1996 and won its first game in the event since 1995. The Beavers ended the year ranked 25th in the USA TODAY Coaches' Poll, their first time in the national rankings since 1996.

For the second time in four seasons the Pac-12's media tabbed Rueck as Coach of the Year and he was picked as the league's best by ESPN. Rueck was also named Russell Athletic/WBCA Region 8 Coach of the Year and was a finalist for the inaugural Pat Summitt Trophy for the 2014 Russell Athletic/WBCA NCAA Division I National Coach of the Year.

Oregon State propelled itself into the national conversation following a late-season 11-game win streak, which matched the second longest in school history and was the best in 31 years. Each win during the run was by at least 10 points, three came by 20 and the average margin of victory was 16.1 points.

Oregon State's 2012-13 campaign was highlighted by another stalwart defensive group and a young crew of five freshmen that produced more than any other collection of first-year players in the conference.

The Beavers finished the season 16th in the nation in field goal percentage defense, holding opponents to a school-record low 34.6 percent. OSU also was 11th in the country in blocks per game (5.5) and was the only team in the nation that boasted seven different players with at least 10 rejections. Oregon State's promising freshman class scored more than 46 percent of the team's points, the highest ratio in the Pac-12.

With another young squad in 2011-12 picked to finish last in the Pac-12, Rueck and the Beavers defied the odds, finishing fifth in the conference with a 9-9 mark, 20-13 overall, and made the third round of the WNIT. In ending the year seven spots above where they were picked at the beginning of the season, Oregon State made the largest jump between expected finish and actual result in conference history. Those achievements earned Rueck a pick as the Pac-12 Coach of the Year, as voted on by the conference media.

In his inaugural year as head coach of the Beavers, Rueck led an inexperienced squad, with only one player possessing NCAA Division I experience, to a 9-21 record.

Oregon State lost some close games to open Pac-10 play before earning its first conference win over Washington at Alaska Airlines Arena. Shortly after, the Beavers claimed their second Pac-10 victory at home in Gill Coliseum in what is believed to be the biggest come-from-behind victory in program history, overcoming a 20-point deficit to defeat Oregon, 61-59, in the Civil War.

That same year, Rueck was also inducted into the George Fox Sports Hall of Fame.

Rueck came to Oregon State after spending 14 highly successful seasons as the head women's basketball coach at George Fox, compiling a career 288-88 (.766) record. Under his watch, the Bruins recorded winning seasons each year and claimed the Division III National Championship in 2009 with an unblemished 32-0 record. Rueck led his squads to five Sweet 16 appearances, three Elite Eight contests, six NCAA Division III Tournament appearances and seven Northwest Conference Championships.

During his time at George Fox, Rueck coached four NAIA All-Americans, four NCAA All-Americans and 33 All-Northwest Conference honorees. Individually, he was named the NCAA Division III National Coach of the Year in 2009, was a three-time NCAA Division III West Region Coach of the Year (2008, 2009, 2010) and a seven-time Northwest Conference Coach of the Year (2000, 2001, 2005, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010).

Rueck got his start coaching while an undergrad at Oregon State. He served as assistant coach at Santiam Christian High School for the boy's basketball team from 1989-93. He then became a women's basketball assistant at George Fox under former head coach Sherri Murrell, helping the Bruins to a 37-23 overall record and two NAIA post-season appearances. Additionally, he coached the women's tennis team in 1995-96.

Basketball runs in the Rueck family. His sister, Heidi, was an NAIA All-American point guard at George Fox, setting the school records in career, single season and single-game assists and was eventually voted into the school's Sport Hall of Fame in 2005. His father, Marv, was a part of the coaching staffs at Hillsboro and Glencoe High Schools and was the inaugural head coach at Glencoe when it opened in 1980.

Rueck earned a bachelor's degree in exercise and sport science from Oregon State in 1991, while adding a master's in physical education in 1992. He is married to the former Kerry Aillaud, and the couple has three children, Cole, Kate and Macey. Kerry played basketball for George Fox from 1993-95, while serving as assistant coach for the program from 1998-06.

JONAS CHATTERTON

Associate Head Coach
4th Year
Utah, 2000

Jonas Chatterton, is in his fourth season with the Beavers in 2017-18, and his 14th year as a Division I assistant.

Chatterton's first three seasons with the Beavers proved to be the best years in school history. Chatterton has coached Oregon State to three-straight Pac-12 regular season titles, and the three highest win totals in program history. Oregon State's 31 victories in 2016-17 is already the second-highest total for an OSU squad, and senior Sydney Wiese was named to the All-Pac-12 Team for the fourth time in her career.

The assistant coach helped guide Oregon State to its first ever NCAA Final Four in 2015-16, as the team went 32-5 and defeated national power Baylor in the Dallas Regional to make it to the final weekend of the season. The Beavers also notched Pac-12 Regular Season and Tournament titles, and ended the year ranked No. 2 in the WBCA Coaches' Poll.

Chatterton helped Oregon State players to a number of individual honors as well, as guard Jamie Weisner was named an All-American and Pac-12 Player of the Year. Weisner was joined by teammates Ruth Hamblin and Sydney Wiese on the All-Pac-12 Team for the second-straight season.

Oregon State tallied 27 wins, won its first ever Pac-12 title and earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament in 2014-15, Chatterton's first year with the team. Along the way the Beavers also earned a number of impressive victories, including a road win over No. 6 North Carolina, a pair of wins over No. 12 Arizona State and a victory over California to lock down the conference championship.

The Salt Lake City native came to Corvallis by way of Colorado, where he was on staff for four seasons, including the last as associate head coach. During his time in Boulder, the Buffaloes won 83 total games and made post-season appearances each year, highlighted by an NCAA Tournament run in 2013. Chatterton played integral roles in recruiting, opponent scouting, post development and putting together Colorado's offensive and defensive schemes.

He helped the Buffaloes to WNIT quarterfinal appearances in each of his first two seasons and a trip to the third round in 2014. The 2011-12 squad enjoyed its first 20-win season in eight years (21-14) and also marked the first back-to-back winning seasons for Colorado since 2003-04. In his first year at CU, the Buffaloes were 18-16, including wins over a pair of ranked teams.

One reason for Colorado's upswing was the development of its front court. Among many, Chatterton helped forward Arielle Roberson to 2013 Pac-12 Freshman of the Year honors.

He was valuable on the recruiting trail for CU as well, helping the Buffaloes acquire the 27th best recruiting class in the nation in 2012, according to ESPN.com's HoopGurlz, a class that included a pair of national Top 100 recruits.

Before heading to Colorado, Chatterton spent eight highly successful seasons as an assistant coach at BYU (2001-09). While in Provo, the Cougars compiled a 157-89 record (.638), won two Mountain West Conference regular-season titles (2006-07), one MWC Tournament crown (2002) and went to the NCAA Tournament four times.

Chatterton's success has garnered the coach national recognition and he has been part of a select group invited to Nike's renowned Villa 7 Consortium each of the last two years, which brings together university athletics directors and the country's elite assistant coaches in an effort to prepare the next generation of college basketball leaders. Less than 10 percent of women's basketball assistants from the nation's nearly 350 Division I programs have received invitations to the exclusive event the past three years, which has grown to become one of the most respected gatherings for professional development and networking in the country.

Prior to joining BYU, Chatterton spent two years as an assistant men's coach at Westminster College, an NIAA school in Salt Lake City (1998-2000) where he helped revive a program that had been discontinued in 1979.

He received his bachelor's in exercise and sport science from the University of Utah in 2000. He played one year of basketball for Rocky Mountain College (Mont.) before transferring to Utah.

Prior to arriving in Boulder, Chatterton took one year off from collegiate coaching (2009-10), working as the Director of Sales and Marketing for OrthoRx Inc, a medical supply company in San Diego. He remained involved in basketball as a coach for the Cal Swish Basketball Club of Orange County.

Chatterton has a daughter Josie and he and his wife Cami have two daughters, Celia and Jada, and a son, Hudson.

Western Washington, 1999

Brian Holsinger joined the Oregon State coaching staff in the summer of 2016.

In his first season with the Beavers, Holsinger helped lead Oregon State to its third-straight Pac-12 regular season title. OSU has already tallied the second-highest win total in program history with 31, and Holsinger helped guide guard Sydney Wiese to All-Pac-12 recognition.

Holsinger came to Oregon State with 16 years of coaching experience under his belt, including eight years at Washington State. The Western Washington graduate was promoted to Associate Head Coach in 2014-15, his final year with the team, after spending the prior seven seasons as an assistant. During his time at Washington State, Holsinger was heavily involved in the team's recruiting efforts, helping the Cougars lock down some of the best signing classes in program history. His 2007-08 recruiting class was ranked No. 16 in the nation by Blue Star Basketball.

Holsinger helped guide Washington State to WNIT berths in 2013-14 and 2014-15. The 2014 appearance was WSU's first trip to the postseason since 1991. Holsinger also coached guards Lia Galdera and Tia Presley to All-Pac-12 honors in 2015.

The 2012-13 campaign saw the Cougars advance to the Pac-12 Conference Tournament quarterfinals for the second straight season, beating Arizona State in the opening round before falling to top-seeded Stanford. WSU produced some notable wins while playing one of the toughest schedules in the country, beating No. 20 Ohio State, posting a road victory over regional rival Gonzaga and sweeping the season series with Arizona State. The Cougars, which contained a roster with six freshmen and three sophomores, also posted a four-game winning streak during Pac-12.

Holsinger also made his mark on the Washington State defense, as the Cougars set the school record for blocks with 114 along with the sixth-most steals in in single-season history. Holsinger oversaw the defense that made the fourth-most steals in the Pac-12, led by Galdeira's conference-best 86.

In 2009-10, WSU was the only school to place two individuals on the five-member Pacific-10 Conference Media All-Defensive Team. Then-freshman Carly Noyes became the first player in school history to lead the conference in blocks and she went on to cap her career as WSU's all-time leader in blocks, games played and starts. The 2009-10 and 2010-11 Cougar teams produced two of the top block totals in program history, recording 98 in 2009-10 and 100 in 2010-11, the second-best mark in the Cougar single-season record book.

Prior to entering the Division I coaching ranks, Holsinger spent two years as the head coach of NAIA program Montana Tech. During his tenure, he guided the Orediggers to the program's first Top-25 ranking. Holsinger also engineered the biggest turnaround in Montana Tech history, taking the team from three wins in 2005-06 to 16 wins in 2006-07.

Before coaching at Montana Tech, Holsinger served as the head assistant coach at The Master's College in Santa Clarita, Calif., from 1999-2005. During his tenure, the Mustangs posted a record of 132-58 and were a perennial top 10 nationally-ranked team. The squad also made four NAIA national tournament appearances.

Holsinger graduated from Federal Way High in Federal Way, Wash., in 1994. During his college career, he played his freshman season at Pacific from 1994-95, before transferring to Western Washington to complete his bachelor's of science degree in biology.

Holsinger is married to Stacey, and the couple have two girls, Brooklyn and Quinn, and one son, Kellen.

KATIE BAKER

Assistant Coach
2nd Year
Montana, 2013

Katie Baker joined the Oregon State staff in the summer of 2016.

One of the most impressive young coaches in college basketball, Baker has helped guide Oregon State to a 31-4 record in 2016-17, as well as a Pac-12 regular season title. Working primarily with the posts, Baker helped junior Marie Gulich earn All-Pac-12 honors for the first time.

Baker spent the 2015-16 season as a graduate assistant coach at Wisconsin. Her tenure with the Badgers was highlighted by notable wins over Purdue and Penn State. Baker helped foster the growth of seniors Nicole Bauman and Michala Johnson. Bauman ended her career as the Wisconsin's all-time leader in 3-point percentage, while Johnson is the Badgers' career record holder for field goal percentage.

Prior to joining the Wisconsin staff, Baker spent a year as an assistant coach at the University of Colorado-Colorado Springs. Her year with the Mountain Lions was one of the most successful in program history, as the team went 26-7 on the year, and made a run to the Sweet 16 in the Division II NCAA Tournament.

Baker is one of the greatest players in the history of Montana women's basketball. The Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, native was the Big Sky Conference Player of the Year as a senior during the 2012-13 season. She finished fifth all-time in scoring at Montana, 10th all-time in rebounding, and fifth all-time in blocked shots. Baker led Montana in scoring all four years of her career and was given All-Big Sky honors every year.

While at Montana, she appeared in two NCAA tournaments, was awarded four All-Academic Big Sky honors (2009-2013), one All-Region Select Team honor (2012-13), and one WBCA All-American Honorable Mention (2012-13).

Baker continued her playing career with a professional season in Europe, heading to Luxembourg for the 2013-14 campaign.

Baker graduated from the University of Montana in 2013 with a bachelor's degree in exercise science.

ERIC ELY

Assistant Athletic Director For Women's Basketball
8th Year
Northwest Nazarene, 1982

Eric Ely is in his eighth season with the Oregon State women's basketball program, and second as Assistant Athletic Director for Women's Basketball. Ely spent his prior six seasons as an assistant coach.

In his new role, Ely helps with campus outreach and coordinates the team's practice players. He has also been instrumental in creating a partnership between the team and Corvallis Southside Outreach, a group that reached out to underprivileged kids in south Corvallis.

During his time on head coach Scott Rueck's staff, the Beavers have seen a dramatic turnaround, culminating in a Final Four appearance in 2016. Ely has helped guide the Beavers to a pair of Pac-12 titles, as well as a 32-win season in 2015-16.

In his six years in Corvallis, Ely has mentored some of the best post players in the Pac-12, highlighted by a trio of Pac-12 All-Defensive Team centers who own four of the top eight best single-season shot block totals in conference history.

The lineage started with El Sara Greer in 2010-11, who swatted what was then a school record 92 shots and averaged 9.2 points and 8.1 rebounds while shooting 56 percent from the field. One year later, Patricia Bright eclipsed Greer and tallied 115 rejections, converted 57.9 percent of her attempts from the floor and put up 8.7 ppg.

The run on dominant centers culminated most recently with Ruth Hamblin, who set a school and Pac-12 single-season record with 141 blocks in 2013-14, before setting the Beavers' career record for rejections in 2014-15 and the Pac-12 career record in 2015-16. The Canadian became the Beavers first All-American in over a decade in April of 2015, when she was named to the AP All-America Third Team. Hamblin also earned Pac-12 Player of the Year (Media) honors, and back-to-back Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year honors. She also produced the first triple-double at Oregon State in 30 years on Jan. 13, 2014 against Oregon with totals of 23 points, 12 rebounds and a school-record 10 blocks.

Ely owns over 15 years of Division I coaching experience, with nine coming from stints at Oral Roberts (1998-2004 and 2007-10) and Missouri (2004-07). He helped Oral Roberts to four postseason appearances, including three NCAA trips under head coach Jerry Finkbeiner. At Missouri, Ely served as the recruiting coordinator and worked with post players under head coach Cindy Stein.

In just his first season with the Golden Eagles in 1998-99, Ely helped coach the team to the Summit League title and the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. When Ely rejoined the Oral Roberts staff, the Golden Eagles repeated as Summit League champions, winning 23 games en route to the school's first ever regular-season Summit League title and a trip to the Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT).

Before joining Oral Roberts, Ely was the head coach at Mt. Vernon Nazarene University in Mt. Vernon, Ohio from 1996-98. He guided the Lady Cougars to a 31-36 overall record in two seasons, improving from 12 wins during his inaugural year to 19 in 1997-98. In his final season at MVNU, Ely was honored as the National Christian College Athletic Association East Region Coach of the Year and also received votes from the Ohio Coaching Association as one of the top women's college coaches in the state of Ohio.

Ely started his coaching career at his alma mater, Northwest Nazarene in Nampa, Idaho, where he served as assistant coach from 1987-1996. He was instrumental in the recruitment of several NAIA All-Americans and helped the Lady Crusaders to a NAIA Division II runner-up finish during the 1994-95 season.

As a player, Ely spent time in NBA training camp with the Detroit Pistons and played in the Los Angeles Lakers' summer pro league. He played professionally for one year in France, where he was tabbed as the Outstanding American Player by the French media during the 1980-81 season, and four years in Brazil, earning a lifetime contract and garnering all-star status in 1984 and 1985.

Ely earned a bachelor's degree from Northwest Nazarene in 1982, adding a master's degree from Albertson College of Idaho in 1995. He and his wife, Regina, of Belo Horizonte, Brazil, have two children, C.J. and Rachel.

Prior to joining the Beavers, Rissmiller spent seven seasons as the head coach of Pacific (Ore.), leading the team to back-to-back winning seasons in 2012-13 and 2013-14. The University of Portland graduate also led the program to one of the best seasons in school history in 2008-09, when Pacific finished third in the Northwest Conference en route to its first appearance in the league's postseason tournament since 1996.

During her time with the Boxers, Rissmiller coached six All-Northwest Conference players, including a pair of two-time honorees.

Prior to taking over at Pacific, Rissmiller spent three seasons as head coach of Tacoma Community College, heading up a substantial turnaround in the program, as the team finished 18-11 in 2006-07 after going 1-19 in her first year with the squad. In her time at Tacoma, Rissmiller led the team to an NWAACC Playoff Tournament appearance, and saw a pair of players selected to the NWAACC All-West Region Team.

Prior to her stint in Tacoma, Rissmiller spent one season as the head women's basketball coach at Clark College in Vancouver, Wash., and one season as the head junior varsity coach at Sunset High School in Beaverton, Ore. She also spent one season coaching Team Concept, a northwest AAU program.

CAROL MENKEN-SCHAUDT

CAROL MENKEN-SCHAUDT

NATIONAL SCOUTING ASSOCIATION ALL-AMERICAN, 1980

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NEWS SERVICE ALL-AMERICA HM, 1980

KODAK ALL-AMERICAN, FIRST TEAM, 1981

Oregon State's first All-American, Carol Menken, earned three letters for the Beavers from 1979-81. A native of Jefferson, Oregon, Menken transferred to OSU after playing one season at Linn-Benton Community College. She was named Kodak All-America after guiding her team to a 22-6 record her senior season when she led the nation in field goal shooting with an incredible .750 percentage. She is second all-time at OSU for scoring (2,243) and rebounding (901), first in field goal percentage (.692), and leads in per game averages for both scoring (27.7) and rebounding (12.5), after playing just 81 games. Menken also holds the school mark for single game scoring, with 51 points against Alaska-Anchorage in the 1979-80 season. She shares the single game rebounding high of 20 boards with Brenda Arbuckle and Natalia Mattick. During her career at OSU, Menken was a three-time Northwest College Women's Sports Association All-Conference selection (1980-82). She went on to win the gold medal in the 1984 Olympic Games as a member of the U.S. team and played professionally overseas for several years. In 1988, Menken was named to the OSU Athletic Hall of Fame.

JUDY SPOELSTRA

JUDY SPOELSTRA

KODAK ALL-AMERICAN, SECOND TEAM, 1983

Judy Spoelstra played two seasons for the Beavers from 1982-83, and was chosen Kodak All-America at the end of her senior year in 1983. A native of Wenatchee, Washington and a transfer from Washington State, Spoelstra held the single season (1983) assist record at Oregon State for 10 years and now ranks fifth with 173. For several years, she also ranked 10th on the all-time career chart for assists after playing just two seasons at OSU. Her 14 assists versus Santa Clara in the 1982-83 season stands second on the OSU single-game assist chart. Spoelstra earned first-team NorPac All-Conference honors her senior season and in 1994, she was named to OSU's Athletic Hall of Fame.

JULI COLEMAN

JULI COLEMAN

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NEWS SERVICE ALL-AMERICAN,

FIRST TEAM, 1985

OSU's third All-American, Juli Coleman, lettered at Oregon State from 1982-85. She was selected Women's Basketball News Service All-America her senior year. A native of Issaquah, Washington, Coleman was Oregon State's all-time leading free throw shooter with a 77.4 percentage after four seasons. She still holds the single game record for steals with 10, set in the 1983-84 season. Coleman was named to the NorPac All-Conference team three times, including first-team honors twice. She also excelled academically and is one of only three OSU players to ever receive CoSIDA Academic All-America honors. Coleman received honorable mention Academic All-America accolades twice, and second-team honors her senior year. She was inducted into the OSU Athletic Hall of Fame on September 13, 2003.

TANJA KOSTIC

TANJA KOSTIC

CONSENSUS ALL-AMERICAN, 1996

Tanja Kostic became OSU's fourth All-American following the 1996 season. She was a consensus All-American, having been named either first or second team on every squad that was announced after the 1995-96 season. She was selected first team by United Press International Basketball America and College Sports Magazine, second team by the Associated Press and honorable mention by WBCA/Kodak. Kostic finished her OSU career as a four-time All-Pacific-10 Conference pick and a two-time selection as Player of the Year. She was named Pac-10 Player of the Week eight times in her four seasons, tied for second in conference history. Kostic scored 2,349 points and hauled down 1,001 career rebounds, both OSU records. She is the third-leading career scorer in the Pac-10, behind Stanford's Candice Wiggins (2,629) and USC's Lisa Leslie (2,414). Kostic set OSU and Pac-10 records for free throws attempted (903), free throws made (608), and an OSU record for field goals attempted (1,773). She ranks 12th in Pac-10 career rebounding.

FELICIA RAGLAND

FELICIA RAGLAND

KODAK ALL-AMERICAN, HONORABLE MENTION, 2001, 2002

Felicia Ragland became the first Oregon State player since Tanja Kostic (1996) to earn Kodak All-America honors after a stellar season in 2001. A native of Tulare, California, Ragland led the Beavers in scoring with 19.7 points per game and rebounds with 7.4 boards per outing. The junior guard tallied seven double-doubles on the season and reached double figures in scoring on 27 occasions. Ragland was named Pacific-10 Conference Player of the Year and garnered honorable mention Associated Press All-America status as well as District VIII Kodak All-America honors. She also collected honorable mention Kodak All-America honors, honorable mention Associated Press and District VIII All-America honors for a second consecutive year at the completion of her senior season in 2002. Ragland led the Beavers and the Pac-10 in scoring with 19.9 points per game while pulling down a team-best 6.6 rebounds. She tallied 20-plus points 13 times and was the only Pac-10 player to surpass the 30-point barrier on four occasions. Ragland finished her stellar career as the OSU leader in 3-point field goals made (178) and ranks in the top 10 in 14 career statistical categories. She is only the third player in Oregon State history to score 1,500 points (1,803) and pull down 600 rebounds (739). Ragland was selected by the Seattle Storm with the 28th pick in the 2001 Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) Draft.

OREGON STATE HISTORY

Women's basketball at Oregon State actually got its start before organized competition began. The first women's game was played in 1898; the first men's contest in 1901.

That game bore little resemblance to modern day basketball, however. The court was divided into three zones, each containing two players from the two teams. The divisions included areas for guards, centers and forwards. A center jump was held after every basket and no one was allowed to leave their zone.

Scores were low in that era - in 1914, for example, Oregon State beat Oregon by a 10-8 score.

By the 1930's, there was a change in philosophy in women's sports. Competition, per se, was discouraged. On the other hand, mass participation via class instruction and intramurals was encouraged. That philosophy prevailed until the early 1970's although women's basketball was organized as an extramural and club sport in the late 1950's.

1899-1900 Oregon State women's basketball team

No school in the Northwest was quite as successful as Oregon State University. Competing against clubs from other schools, Oregon State teams went undefeated from 1959 to 1966.

Basketball became an intercollegiate sport for women in 1972, when the newly organized women's athletic department started competition as a charter member of the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW). Teams competed in the Northwest College Women's Sports Association (NCWSA), Region 9 of the nine-division AIAW. Accurate records, however, were not kept in women's basketball until the 1976-77 season, when Mary Covington coached the Beavers.

The women's program joined the Pacific-10 Conference in the 1986-87 season and has remained a member ever since.

GILL COLISEUM

Legendary Gill Coliseum is the home of the Oregon State men's basketball, women's basketball, women's gymnastics, wrestling and volleyball teams. The arena can handle crowds of 9,604 for competitions on Ralph Miller Court, and the building also includes a weight room, equipment center, locker rooms and offices for the athletic department and its teams.

Named after the late Slat's Gill, who was Oregon State's head men's basketball coach for 36 years, the Coliseum is an excellent facility spanning more than an acre.

Gill Coliseum was recently renovated with improvements totaling more than $3.5 million. The renovation included sandblasting, sealing and painting the exterior shell and new exterior windows and doors. Additionally, an elevator was installed to increase access for students and fans with disabilities.

Gill Coliseum also has a state-of-the-art sports medicine center, located on the lower level, that provides leading-edge injury prevention and rehabilitation services. The center includes cardiovascular equipment and improved training facilities.

The renovation project also upgraded Gill's locker rooms. While a new men's basketball locker room was already completed, a new women's basketball locker room is now open with improvements to the volleyball and soccer locker rooms also being done.

With the improvements, Gill Coliseum continues to be an integral part of the heritage of Oregon State athletics. Since its opening in 1949, Gill Coliseum has been part of more than 3,000 victories, more than 150 Oregon State All-Americans and more than 25 individual and team titles.

OREGON STATE TRADITIONS

NICKNAME -- THE BEAVERS

In the early days of the institution, Oregon State University's athletic teams were known as the Aggies. When orange uniforms replaced the drab sweatshirt gray and tan jerseys, the teams were referred to as the Orangemen. In 1916 the school yearbook was renamed "The Beaver" and the name Beaver became associated with the school. It is believed the press also had some influence in changing the name, particularly L.H. Gregory of The Oregonian newspaper. The name gained instant popularity among alumni and students. The Beaver is the state's official animal.

THE MASCOT -- BENNY

Benny Beaver was adopted as Oregon State University's mascot in 1952 after the school had a reported three previous mascots. The first mascot in 1893 was a coyote named Jimmie, owned by M.M.H. Kriebel. In 1909, a second mascot appeared on the scene. Dr. John Bell, a Corvallis pastor and former regent of Corvallis when the college was taken over by the state and became Oregon Agricultural College, became the OSU mascot. In the early 1900s, "Doc Bell" was considered to be the varsity football squad's "mascot" because of his steadfast attendance and advising. In 1921 there was an attempt to make a live Beaver, "Bevo", into the school mascot, but with little success.

Benny Beaver, OSU's current mascot, was introduced to the student body by the school's rally squad on September 18, 1952, in an effort to pick up sagging school spirit. "Benny Beaver, the rally squad's candidate for handsomest man in school, has never been on campus before," according to The Barometer (student paper), at the time. "The animal stands six-feet tall, wears vivid orange knickerbockers, a black jersey, and his familiar orange and black rooters lid." Adopted as the official mascot in 1952, Benny Beaver still fires up the crowds at OSU athletic events today.

Benny Beaver, while officially accepted as the school's mascot in 1952, actually can be traced back to the 1940-41 school year. A statue of a beaver named "Benny" appears in the school's yearbook, and later a Barometer sports columnist used the pen name "Benny Beaver."

TEAM COLORS -- ORANGE & BLACK

Oregon State was known as Corvallis College until the mid 1890s and the school color was navy blue. A faculty committee appointed by school President John Bloss voted to replace blue with orange. Not long after, black was selected by the student body as a background color. A local tailor named J.H. Harris donated black uniforms for the baseball team in this time frame, and it is believed to be where the black color scheme began in athletics, although that is debatable. An article in the local Corvallis Gazette-Times in 1892 describes the use of orange and black in commencement ceremonies, nearly a year prior to orange becoming the official color.

While orange was originally the official color, over the years black has become more universally accepted as one of the official colors. Today, nearly all of OSU accepts black and Pantone 165 orange as the official colors.

THE FIGHT SONG

*OSU our hats are off to you,
Beavers, Beavers, fighters thru and thru,
We'll cheer thru-out the land,
We'll root for every stand,
That's made for old OSU.
Watch our team go tearing down the field;
Those of iron, their strength will never yield.
Hail! Hail! Hail! Hail!
Hail to old OSU*

OSU BASKETBALL CENTER QUICK FACTS

Built: 2013

Size: 34,500 square feet

Cost: $15 million

Amenities: Opened in the summer of 2013, the OSU Basketball Center is the most recent addition to Oregon State Athletics' facility portfolio. It is complete with two regulation basketball courts, which occupy the first and third floors of the building, along with locker rooms, satellite training and medical areas, and service and mechanical spaces.

The alternate floors -- second and fourth -- consist of 2,000-square-foot partial floors containing coach and program staff offices. These spaces run the length of the building and offer panoramic views of the court below. Together, the court and program space create a "home" where the sense of family that is the distinctive edge for every Oregon State team can be fostered.

A two-story glass atrium, strikingly illuminated at night, serves as the main entrance and feature a Basketball Hall of Fame highlighting the greatest achievements and players of Oregon State's past -- and future. A mural stretching to the height of the atrium celebrates the legacy -- and the terrific student-athletes and coaches -- of Oregon State Beavers basketball.

STUDENT SUCCESS CENTER QUICK FACTS

Built: 2012

Size: 30,000 square feet

Cost: $14 million

Amenities: The three-story complex, opened in the summer of 2012, is adjacent to athletic facilities and numerous residence halls. It features classroom space, a computer laboratory, study lounge and commons area, as well as counseling offices, meeting rooms and tutorial spaces.

SPORTS PERFORMANCE CENTER QUICK FACTS

Built: 2008

Size: 20,000 square feet

Cost: $16 million

Amenities: The Sports Performance Center opened in 2008. The home of the Beavers strength and conditioning center features 46,000 pounds of weights and a 60-yard four-lane sprinting track. In addition, the SPC includes a state-of-the-art video and sound system, including individual portals at each conditioning station, a cardiovascular area, 24 lifting platforms with 24 self-contained power racks, and adjustable benches.

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY

Oregon State University has always been a place with a purpose — making a positive difference in quality of life, natural resources and economic prosperity in Oregon and beyond. Through discovery, innovation and application, we are meeting challenges, solving problems and turning ideas into reality.

Founded in 1868, Oregon State is the state's Land Grant university and is one of only two universities in the U.S. to have Sea Grant, Space Grant and Sun Grant designations. Oregon State is also the only university in Oregon to hold both the Carnegie Foundation's top designation for research institutions and its prestigious Community Engagement classification.

As Oregon's leading public research university, with $263 million in external funding in the 2013 fiscal year, Oregon State's impact reaches across the state and beyond. With 12 colleges, 15 Agricultural Experiment Stations, 35 county Extension offices, the Hatfield Marine Sciences Center in Newport and OSU-Cascades in Bend, Oregon State has a presence in every one of Oregon's 36 counties, with a statewide economic footprint of $2.06 billion.

Oregon State welcomes a diverse student body of over 26,000 students from across Oregon, all 50 states and more than 100 countries. They can choose from more than 200 undergraduate and more than 80 graduate degree programs, including over 30 degrees online offered through Oregon State Ecampus. Oregon State increasingly attracts high-achieving students, with nationally recognized programs in areas such as conservation biology, agricultural sciences, nuclear engineering, forestry, fisheries and wildlife management, community health, pharmacy and zoology.

Oregon State also ranks high in sustainability, fourth among universities nationwide for using renewable energy and first in the Pac-12 Conference. And our students literally help power the university: 22 exercise machines at Dixon Recreation Center are connected to the grid.

The 400-acre main campus in Corvallis includes a Historic District, making Oregon State one of only a handful of U.S. university campuses listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The district includes such icons as Weatherford Hall, the Memorial Union and Benton Hall, the oldest building on campus.

Oregon State is located in Corvallis, a vibrant college town of 55,000 in the heart of Western Oregon's Willamette Valley. Corvallis consistently ranks among the best and safest cities to live in the U.S., as well as among the most environmentally responsible.

Dr. Edward J. Ray became president of Oregon State University on July 31, 2003. He received the 2013 CASE District VIII Leadership Award.

Under his leadership, OSU has completed and updated a visionary campus-wide strategic plan that has served as the framework for the university's development in profound and historic ways. Annual research awards and contracts have increased substantially and totaled nearly $263 million in fiscal year 2013.

President Ray partnered with the OSU Foundation to launch the university's first comprehensive fundraising campaign. The public phase launched in October 2007 with a goal of $625 million. By the end of March 2014, the campaign total reached $1.021 billion, including $173 million for scholarships and fellowships, 77 newly endowed faculty positions, and funding for key scientific and learning facilities like the Lois Bates Acheson Veterinary Teaching Hospital, the Hallie Ford Center for Healthy Children and Families, The Linus Pauling Science Center, the International Living Learning Center, a renovated Furman Hall for the College of Education, the Graduate Studies Center at the OSU-Cascades Campus and four new cultural centers. Because of the campaign's tremendous momentum and success, it has been extended to 2014 with a goal of $1 billion.

Mindful of OSU's commitment to the people of Oregon, Dr. Ray has overseen the expansion of dual-enrollment agreements to all 17 of the state's community colleges, making it easier for students to complete four-year degrees. He has also taken a leadership role in fostering a more seamless P-20 system, working with area school superintendents, community college leaders and university colleagues to strengthen institutional connections and enhance the student experience. Dr. Ray has also helped to usher in a new era of partnership and cooperation between Oregon's public universities. In Central Oregon, an effort to expand OSU-Cascades by 2015 to a robust four-year branch campus of Oregon State has begun, thanks to strong state and community support and financial investment.

In addition to his work at OSU, Dr. Ray's leadership extends to many organizations. He serves on boards of the American Council on Education and the Association of American Colleges and Universities. He was elected vice-chair of the board of directors of the AAC&U for 2014 and will chair the board in 2015. Dr. Ray also is involved with leadership in intercollegiate athletics and recently served as chair of the CEO Group of the Pac-12 Conference and the Enforcement Working Group for the National Collegiate Athletic Association. His nearly three-year term as the NCAA's Executive Committee chair ended in August 2012.

Dr. Ray was a member of the economics faculty at Ohio State from 1970-2003, serving as economics department chair from 1976 to 1992. He served as associate provost from May 1992 until May 1993, senior vice provost and chief information officer from 1993-1998, and executive vice president and provost from 1998-2003.

His research interests include the history of protectionism in the United States, the determinants of U.S. foreign direct investment and foreign direct investment in the United States, the structure of tariff and non-tariff trade barriers in the United States and abroad, and the adoption of Social Security. His work has been published in The American Economic Review, The Journal of Political Economy, The Quarterly Journal of Economics, The Review of Economic Studies, The Review of Economics and Statistics, and other leading journals. He has co-authored a principles text, and his book, "U. S. Protectionism and the World Debt Crisis," was published by Quorum Press in 1989.

Dr. Ray received his undergraduate degree in mathematics from Queens College (CUNY) in June 1966, graduating cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa. He earned his master's in economics from Stanford University in 1969 and his doctorate in economics from Stanford in June 1971.

Dr. Ray's wife Beth passed away in March 2014. He has three children and three grandchildren.

“Scott (Barnes) has demonstrated, everywhere he’s been, that he is committed to helping student-athletes be among the very best at whatever they chose to do academically and on the field. It was clear to me as we moved forward the person we needed to lead us where we aspire to go is Scott Barnes. He is a proven performer in exciting fans and alumni.”

That statement was delivered by Oregon State University President Dr. Ed Ray as he officially introduced Barnes as the Beavers’ Vice President/Director of Athletics on Dec. 22, 2016.

In Barnes’ relatively short tenure, OSU Athletics has already made significant strides academically and athletically. A school-record 149 student-athletes were selected to the Pac-12 Academic teams in 2016-17, the department registered a record cumulative GPA in the spring, the Valley Football Center officially opened, the popular Fan Experience Committee was created, he has made several popular coaching and staff hires, has put an increased emphasis on fundraising and developing a sustainable business model that will ensure Beaver Athletics continues to progress and thrive, and is in the midst of creating a comprehensive strategic plan to guide the program forward for years to come.

“We are building for stability and sustainability in all of our programs, and to create a vision that excites and inspires everyone in Beaver Nation,” Barnes said.

Barnes has spent 28 years in athletics administration, 18 as an athletics director. He arrived back to his native Pacific Northwest from the University of Pittsburgh, where he served as the Panthers’ Director of Athletics for nearly two years.

Prior to Pitt, Barnes headed the Utah State University athletics program from 2008-15 as Director of Athletics and was promoted to Vice President in 2012. The Aggies experienced unprecedented success under Barnes, including multiple bowl trips with then USU head football coach Gary Andersen.

“Student-athletes are No. 1 with Scott,”

Andersen said. “There is no hierarchy of sport ... everybody is involved and everybody has a voice. He’s fair, he’s honest, and student-athletes are No. 1 to him.”

Barnes has also served as the director of athletics at Eastern Washington University and Humboldt State University. In addition, he has held various athletics roles at the University of The Pacific, the University of San Diego, Iowa State University and the University of Washington. He also has experience in corporate business and professional basketball.

Barnes, who has twice been honored as the Far West Region Athletic Director of the Year, is active in numerous NCAA and conference committees, and recently spent five years on the NCAA Men’s Basketball Committee (Chair for 2014-15).

The Spokane native graduated from Fresno State with a bachelor’s degree in 1986 and a master’s degree in athletics administration and physical education in 1993. A basketball letterman under coach Boyd Grant, he helped the Bulldogs advance to two NCAA Tournaments and two NITs. Barnes was a second-team all-conference player as a senior.

He and his wife, Jody, have two children: Daughter, Milanna, and son, Isaac, a member of the Beaver men’s basketball team. In addition, the family dog is appropriately named Benny.
