Oregon State University is Oregon's oldest state-supported institution of higher learning, dating back to October 27, 1868. It was established as one of the nation's land grant colleges, receiving federal land grants to help launch its public education-service program.

On September 7, 1971, OSU was designated as one of the nation's first four Sea Grant Colleges, charged to help advance man's wise and orderly use of ocean resources and to provide teaching and research programs related to marine sciences. The Oregon State University Marine Science Center at Newport has become OSU's important "Campus on the Coast." The 177-foot, all weather Wecoma and smaller research vessels operate from there in studying the ocean, estuaries and rivers.

From an initial graduating class of three in 1870, OSU has grown to the point that it now confers about 3,500 degrees each June. Student enrollment during the regular school year is about 16,500; summer term enrollment now tops 5,000.

The main campus covers nearly 500 acres on which there are 100 major buildings. Experimental farms, an arboretum and teaching-research forests, all located within just a few minutes drive of the campus, make up an additional 18,000 acres.

Oregon State provides the research base for Oregon's two largest industries, forestry and agriculture. In addition to university research facilities and forests, a federal Forest Science Laboratory is located on campus. The Agricultural Experiment Station operates a number of branch stations throughout Oregon for work on specialized, regional problems. Coastal research units, in addition to the Marine Science Center, are the Seafoods Laboratory at Astoria and a fisheries culture station at Netarts Bay.

Water, key to the future, is getting special attention, including work in water resource management, water quality and reuse, pollution control, oceanography, fisheries and irrigation. One of the three major National Environmental Research Centers operated by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency is located on campus, and considerable cooperative research is underway. Important additions to the research and training facilities of the Northwest are the OSU Radiation Center, Computer Center, Environmental Health Sciences Center, Air Resources Center and the International Plant Center. Other research units include the Engineering Experiment Station, and the Genetics, Nutrition, Science, Water Resources and Nuclear Science and Engineering Research Institutions. The State Fish and Wildlife Commission's Research Division is headquartered at OSU.

Oregon State University is "extended" into every one of Oregon's 36 counties through the Extension Service. Extension agents in each county help interpret, adapt and disseminate research findings for practical use and assist in such programs as human and natural resources development. The 4-H Club program, which enrolls approximately 50,000 young Oregonians annually, is a part of the OSU Extension Service. The 4-H program is open to all Oregon youth, ages 9-19.

1990-91 OSU SWIMMING OUTLOOK

As good as the Oregon State women's swim team was during the 1989-90 season, the Beavers are looking to improve in 1990-91. OSU has currently a second in the Halloween Invitational, a fourth in the Husky Relay Meet in Seattle, and is 1-1 in dual meets.

Oregon State was 6-2 in dual meets last year and set 15 school records, 14 in the Pacific-10 Conference Championships. Seven different swimmers on this year's squad were involved in record swims last season.

"Our women competed very strongly last year and beating University of Puget Sound, two-time defending NAIA Champions, was a big step for us," said second-year Beaver coach Julie Saunders. "We also pressed the University of Washington and were actually ahead of them for two days at the Pac-10 meet, which is something we had never been able to do. In the third day of the Pac-10 meet, UW swam extremely well and we kind of sputtered out, which was very unfortunate for us because we had an excellent chance of beating them. I feel we have a much stronger team than last year with the combination of our returning swimmers and the incoming women. We definitely have a team that is going to surprise a lot of people this year."

Three swimmers on this year's squad, Lisa van Loben Sels, Tammy Scott, and Julie Ahrendt, set school records in four separate events last year. Senior Lisa van Loben Sels has OSU's top marks in the 50 (23.69) and the 100-yard freestyle (51.57); Julie Ahrendt, a junior, has the top time in the 100-yard breaststroke (1:07.47); and Scott holds the record in the 200-yard freestyle (1:53.15). Last season, the Beavers also broke school records in the 200-yard freestyle relay (1:38.06) with current members Bev Duvall, Julie Hockett, Samantha Holloway, and van Loben Sels; the 400-yard freestyle relay (3:33.77) with Scott, Hockett, Kelly Kaplan, and van Loben Sels; the 200-yard medley relay (1:50.20) with Ahrendt, and van Loben Sels; and the 400-yard medley relay (3:59.28) with Ahrendt, Scott, and van Loben Sels.

Senior Kelly Kaplan was the Beavers' top 1,000 (10:36.54) and 1,650-yard (17:29.92) freestyler a year ago and senior Becky Curtis had the best time in the 400-yard (4:50.97) individual medley. As well as 14 returners, Oregon State brings in 12 newcomers.

"The newcomers who will help us the most are Amy van Loben Sels, Julie Himstreet, Tori Eisenbeis, and Christy Ryerson," said Saunders. "Amy was highly recruited out of high school and we were glad to have her come to OSU. They (Amy and older sister Lisa) will be a tough combination to beat. Julie Himstreet, a transfer from Puget Sound, will add a lot of depth and experience to the team. I am looking for freshmen Tori Eisenbeis and Christy Ryerson to fill empty spots in the backstroke events.

"Last year, we broke 14 school records at the Pac-10 meet and I think we will drop times in some events this year also. The Pac-10 teams didn't expect much from us last year, but this year we hope to surprise some teams with our new girls. We have three or four women who nobody knows about and they are going to open a lot of eyes this season. We have a lot of experienced women returning with eight seniors and five juniors. Experience is something we have not had much of in the past. Our top returners are Lisa van Loben Sels, Kelly Kaplan, Tammy Scott, Julie Hockett, and Bev Duvall, who are all seniors and will need to provide the leadership for the team. Juniors, Julie Ahrendt, Debbie Fagan, Tina Kondo, and Kristen Sprecher, will help us out a lot and also add some good depth."

Up to this point of the season, Lisa van Loben Sels has the Beavers' top times in the 50 (24.64) and 100-yard (53.69) freestyle and the 100-yard butterfly (1:01.51). Tammy Scott has the top times in the 100-yard breaststroke (1:10.49) and 200-yard freestyle (1:57.72), Kelly Kaplan has the top times in the 500 (5:09.96) and 1,000-yard freestyle (10:45.49), Julie Himstreet has the top times in the 200-yard butterfly (2:15.26), the 200 (2:16.19) and 400-yard individual medley (4:46.85). Freshman Tori Eisenbeis has the top times in the 100 (1:02.06) and 200-yard backstroke (2:15.35), and Becky Curtis has the Beavers' top time in the 200-yard breaststroke (2:32.45).

OREGON STATE HEAD COACH

JULIE SAUNDERS

Year at OSU: Fifth (second as head coach)
College: Oregon State (1986)

The Oregon State women's swim program continues to improve, and this is a credit to head coach Julie Saunders, who took over for five-year coach Laura Worden a year ago. Last season, the Beavers finished with a 6-2 dual meet record and their highest ever point total at the Pac-10 meet.

Julie Saunders, an excellent swimmer for the Beavers as an undergraduate, was to enter her fourth year as an assistant coach before accepting the job as Interim Head Coach in 1989. The ex-OSU star still holds the school record in the 200-yard butterfly (2:07.65).

Saunders was a great asset to the Beavers, helping the 89-90 squad to the second best dual meet record in six years. Her excellent organizational skills, recruiting background and coaching ability have expectations high for the future of Oregon State swimming.

Saunders, formerly Julie Skowhede, was married in July of '89, after receiving her teaching certificate from Oregon State in the spring.

OSBORN AQUATIC CENTER

BUILT: 1979

OPENED: May, 1979

COST: 1.8 million dollars

DIMENSIONS: Main pool is 50 meters (Olympic sized) by 56 feet (eight lanes that are seven feet wide each)

Gallons: 1/2 million gallons.

Depth: gradual slope from 3 1/2 feet to 13 feet.

Temperature: 83 degrees

Small pool is 40 feet by 22 feet. Gallons: 20,000. Depth: gradual slope to 4 1/2 feet. Temperature: 93 degrees.

SEATING CAPACITY: The balcony will seat 500 spectators and the pool deck will accommodate another 150, plus up to 550 swimmers. The Osborn Aquatic Center annually hosts a U.S.S. Invitational which draws over 500 swimmers and 500 spectators for a 2 1/2 day meet.

EQUIPMENT: The Osborn Aquatic Center is fully equipped with an electronic timing system by Colorado Timing, including an eight lane electronic scoreboard.

There are two, one meter diving boards and one, three meter diving board made by Duraflex.

There is a moveable, stainless steel bulkhead with plastic grates that can be positioned to create a 25-yard, 25-meter or 50-meter competition course.
