Beaver Fever

Hi Rookesses! Did you know a bug is going around? It is the common disease known as Beaver Fever. This time of year it is especially contagious and since all new Beavers usually catch and have it for four years, we thought this little first aid booklet would be helpful in guiding you.

The following victims, being "sold" authorities on Beaver Fever, have compiled this booklet for you.

Just What Was the Cause

It all began in 1858 when a community academy was incorporated as Corvallis college. In 1868 the state of Oregon began its system of higher education and designated Corvallis college, Oregon Agriculture college. The state took over complete support of the institution in 1885 from the Methodist Episcopal church, South. In 1889 OSC moved to what was the beginning of the present campus. The entire college was in Benton hall, now the music building and campus traffic court. In 1926 we were called Oregon State college and our school became accredited by the American Association of Universities.

Traditions

Certain traditions have been upheld by many before you and you will be expected to hand them down to your successors.

1. Whenever the Alma Mater is sung or played, the students stand. Oregon Staters traditionally stay until the end of a game and remain in the stands to sing the Alma Mater.

2. Everyone who sits in the student section wears a white blouse or sweater to football games when the weather permits and always to basketball games.

3. There is no fussing (dating) at athletic events.

4. Students stand in the presence of President Strand.

5. High school pins, sweater, insignias, etc., are not worn by OSC students.

6. All students may attend a regular series of Wednesday 1 p.m. convocations which are both educational and entertaining. No classes are scheduled during this hour.

7. No corsages are worn to all-school functions with the exception of the Mortar Board Ball, when the women create elaborate corsages for their dates.

Certain long standing customs apply specifically to freshmen and you will be expected to uphold them.

1. Freshman women wear green ribbons in their hair every Wednesday.

2. All freshmen should be familiar with the campus regulations and should know all the songs and yells in the Rook Bible.

3. During spring term a day is set aside for the Rook-Sophomore picnic. The festivities are climaxed by the traditional burning of the green if the Rook men win the tug of war against the sophomore men.

Exposure

Your exposure to "Beaver Fever" will be a special series of activities planned during New Student Week. It is the first week of school before classes begin, and is set aside for you to make friends and get acquainted with Oregon State.

CONTAMINATION

After arriving in the Corvallis contaminated area you first should settle yourself in the living group to which you have been assigned. To help you find your way around and answer your questions will be members of Talons and Thanes in white sweaters with orange emblems. The dormitory sponsors will also be there to help you get settled and to find things.

YOU CAN'T GET AWAY FROM IT

Your Rookess counselor, who contacted you during the summer, will be ready to discuss any problems you may have. She will further expose you to Beaveritis. Phone her if any problems arise before she gets in touch with you.

Convocations during the week will introduce you to President Strand, the dean of women, AWS officers, and AWS activities.

AND YOU WON'T WANT TO TRY

Placement tests at the beginning of the week are to aid you in finding your place for the first year of your college program. The best preparation for these is a good night's sleep.

A faculty adviser will assist you with class schedules and academic problems. The schedule you arrange will be used later in the week for registration in the coliseum.

HI BEAVER!

Strictly fun is the Freshman Mix on Coleman field in the middle of the week. You'll remember promenading and you will feel the after-effects of picking up paw-paws for days after this traditional mixer.

The most inspirational event of New Student week is the night you formally enter Beaver ranks when you pledge to your Alma Mater "your loyalty, your love, and your devotion."

Probably your first acquaintance with your church on campus will be a church party during the week. These can be noted in the directory on page 35.

AND AWAY YOU GO

You will elect your freshman class officers about four weeks after college starts. Your exposure will end with an all-school dance Saturday night. When you come home from the dance, you'll share your varied experiences of the whole week with your friends and together look forward to catching and keeping "the fever" in the years ahead.

Your Home Away From Home

For the first year at Oregon State you will select a cooperative house or a residence hall. If you have applied early, you may live with the friends of your choice.

WELCOME

On hand to welcome you to your new home will be the housemother, president, sponsors, and other students. The social chairman will collect $5 for the yearly social fee and will then show you your room.

CALLERS

Not long after you have moved in you will receive telephone calls and perhaps visitors. You will be notified by the buzzer in your room if you have a caller either downstairs or on the telephone. The roommate whose last name begins with the letter nearest the beginning of the alphabet will get one long buzz for the telephone and one long and one short buzz for downstairs. The second girl will have two longs for a telephone call and two longs and one short for downstairs. Third and fourth roommates, if you have them, will have three and four buzzes.

HOUSEMOTHER

The housemother is on call at night as well as in the daytime in case of illness or any emergency. She tries to be available during the day to answer questions or just to have a friendly talk.

SPONSORS

Among those participating in the program will be the student sponsors. These girls act as your big sister throughout the year. Always feel free to ask them about local customs, traditions and where to go for help with your problems. (Often they can help solve these problems.) The girls are eager to know you well, and they want to answer your questions. You will find they are an invaluable aid as you try to find your place in the various phases of college life.

FOR YOU

The sewing room with machines, tables and full-length mirrors are ready for emergency mending and general use. The laundry room contains automatic washers and dryers with plenty of extra drying space. You will find there are small kitchenettes for your personal use

Dormitory Sponsors

Sponsors are upperclassmen who aid freshman women in adjusting to dormitory and college life. They work with them in promoting good study habits and in meeting personal problems.

Student Board of Reference

In every phase of life, the individual lives within certain regulations which are necessary for the welfare and harmony of the group, be it the family, the community, or the world. In the college community, closing hours and other regulations are made and observed in the best interests of the health and welfare of the women students and to meet the expressed wishes of parents for social supervision.

The Student Board of Reference is the over-all judicial body of AWS.

This group is responsible for formulating, defining, and interpreting AWS legislation; for administering AWS regulations through the house and hall councils; for acting as a referral board for serious or habitual breach of AWS regulations; for considering requests for exceptions to standing regulations; for recommending changes in women's regulations to AWS.

Recommendations for changes in the regulations should be presented in writing to the Student Board of Reference who will in turn present its recommendations to the AWS "Lege."

The Student Board of Reference is ready at all times to listen to cases of women who feel they have been unjustly treated as a result of the administration of any rules concerning women.

It is the responsibility of the girl who violates an AWS ruling to submit a petition before the next Student Board meeting.

1. Procedure for Petitioning

When petitioning or appealing, the following procedure is followed: obtain petition from one of the Student Board boxes which are located in the AWS office and the dean of women's office. Fill out the form in detail giving all pertinent data. Insert the petition in the box by the time designated on the box. Women filling out petitions are expected to attend the Student Board meeting at which their petition is being considered.

2. Meetings

Meetings are held in the AWS office. Meeting time will be determined at the beginning of each term and will be posted on the Student Board boxes. Members of the Board are as follows:

Karen Porter, chairman
PL 3-7383

Betty Juckeland
PL 3-7363

Carlene Inman
PL 3-3613

Shirley Kononen, secretary
PL 2-3311

Sharon Beauvais
PL 3-5367

Marilyn Somerville
PL 3-6687

Judy Finell
PL 3-4455

Mary Lou Nichols
PL 3-4819

3. Penalties

The Board may administer the following penalties when it is necessary:

- a. Warning: If the student is again referred to Student Board, the second misdemeanor will be considered more serious.

b. Campus:

1. A campus is confinement to the living group for one evening beginning at 7 p.m. During this time the student may not receive callers or phone calls (exception: long distance phone calls).
2. A campus will be taken on the following Saturday night if the student is late on Saturday night. The campus will be taken on the following Friday night if she is late any other night of the week. Student Board may assign campuses for other nights.
3. Further stipulations may be administered by the individual living groups.
4. An elected officer approved by the house executive council will administer and record the campuses.
5. The date of a campus given by Student Board may not be changed except by Student Board.

c. Student Board Probation:

1. A statement that the student has received a Student Board Probation will be entered on her permanent record.
2. Any further breach of rules during probation period will be referred to the Student Board; for example: any lateness, improper signout, etc.

3. If the student is referred to the Student Board during the probation, the Board has the authority to administer further penalty or to refer her to the Office of the Dean of Women.
4. The duration of the probation will be determined by the board.
5. The case will be reviewed during the probation period and discussed with the housemother, house president, and student concerned.

4. Appeals

In the case of undue hardship worked upon any woman student by the rules, or in case of undue punishment inflicted upon her by her living group council, she may appeal to the AWS Student Board of Reference.

5. Referrals

All cases of habitual breach of AWS regulations, all cases of serious misconduct, and all cases of extreme lateness (over 30 minutes) must be referred by house councils to the Student Board of Reference. For procedure see page 14, number 1.

6. Exceptions

Any exceptions to AWS rules will be made by the Student Board of Reference unless otherwise stated.

ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS

The following regulations are formulated for the benefit and protection of the OSC women students. Any exceptions to these rules will be made by the dean of women's office or appropriate committee, such as Student Board of Reference.

1. Housing

- a. All single undergraduate students under twenty-five years of age must live in approved housing (Hotels, motels, and apartments are not approved housing for unmarried undergraduate students.) Housing in private homes will not be approved for unmarried undergraduate women under twenty-five years of age except for those living with immediate relatives or those working for room and board. In either case, prior approval must be obtained from the dean of women.
- b. A graduate or married student, (or anyone not a regular full-time student) normally lives in private housing. Official approval is required if such students are to live in any type of college housing. The college is not, in general, responsible for the housing of married students or graduate students.

All living arrangements in acceptable housing are for one full college term. Prior to any change of address or residence, approval must be obtained from the dean of women.

2. Student Conduct

Oregon State College accepts students of good moral character who provide evidence of suitable preparation for work at the college level. In order to pursue the development of character—a primary aim of the college and one emphasized at all the State Institutions of Higher Education—students are expected to show mature attitudes toward respect for good order, morality, honesty, and integrity. Students who fail to show these attitudes are subject to suspension or other disciplinary action as outlined below:

a. Social Conduct

The students and staff of Oregon State College recognize the importance of an adequate campus social life. A student is expected to develop in social maturity while obtaining a formal education. As a member of Oregon State College, a student is expected to dress and conduct himself at social functions in accordance with standards of decency. The social actions of a student either on or off campus shall be of concern to the College while the student is enrolled at Oregon State College.

b. Alcoholic Beverages

Possession and/or use of alcoholic beverages (including beer) is prohibited to all persons at all times while on college property, in students' living groups or in other College-approved housing, and also to all student organizations affiliated with Oregon State College. This prohibition also applies to all social functions held under the auspices of College-sponsored organizations or groups, wherever held, or to any other event in which College students participate where such possession, serving, or use may reflect on the good name and reputation of the College. In keeping with the laws of the State of Oregon, students of the college are subject to disciplinary action for illegal possession of liquor, for improper behavior caused by intoxication and/or for supplying alcoholic beverages to minors.

Penalties—Suspension or social probation for the individuals involved, dissolution or withdrawal of College recognition of the offending student group, social probation for the group, or social probation for the officers of the group with possible mandatory removal from office.

c. Theft

Any student who steals is subject to immediate suspension.

d. Falsification of Records

Any student who willfully falsifies official records or documents is subject to immediate suspension.

e. Business Integrity

Business integrity shall be required in the fulfillment of agreements and in the prompt payment of bills by individuals. Any student willfully or repeatedly negotiating an invalid check or checks is subject to immediate suspension.

f. Hazing

Any practice by a group or individual that interferes with class attendance of any student, degrades him, endangers his health, or in any way jeopardizes his safety is prohibited and subjects offenders to disciplinary action.

g. Vandalism

Any Oregon State College student who commits an act of vandalism is liable for the cost of repairing such damage and is subject to disciplinary action including the possibility of immediate suspension. In any case where action by an individual, a group, or groups of Oregon State College students results in property damage, illegal entry of student living quarters, or general disturbance, the students or organizations that participated in such action are liable for the damages and are subject to immediate suspension or other appropriate disciplinary action.

h. O.S.C.—U. of O. Agreement

Oregon State College has the following agreement with the University of Oregon with respect to vandalism:

a. Any Oregon State College or University of Oregon student who commits an act of vandalism to State property on either campus shall be liable for the cost of repairing such damage.

b. Any such student apprehended in an act of vandalism will be subject to severe disciplinary action, including the possibility of suspension from the institution.

c. Any student directly or indirectly responsible for removing and/or transporting a student of the other institution against his will shall be subject to suspension.

3. Signing Out

These regulations are essential in case you must be contacted by your family for an emergency. If you forget to sign out, call your living group office and report. Never ask another girl to sign out for you.

a. Daily Signouts.

- 1) You must sign out at the desk when you leave if you are to be out of your living group after 7:30 p.m.
- 2) On Saturdays and Sundays, you must sign out if you are to be away after 2 p.m.

b. Out of Town Trips

- 1) Before leaving Corvallis for the day or longer, you must have on file in the dean of women's office a permanent permission slip signed by your parents for a specific permission for your trip.
- 2) Sign out with your housemother between 8 a.m. and closing at least the day in advance of leaving for an out-of-town absence.
- 3) Make your plan so that you will arrive at your destination before midnight. No permission will be given to leave Corvallis after a dance.
- 4) When leaving Corvallis or staying overnight at another campus residence, complete your sign-out card and file it in the proper place.

c. Overnight Absence.

- 1) Any irregularity in overnight absence from a student's living group on the part of a woman student makes her subject to dismissal from the college.

2) To stay overnight in Corvallis, other than in her own residence, a student must have either a permanent permission or special letter filed in the dean of women's office. This permission is given only when a student is visiting with her relatives or in the residence of an undergraduate woman town student whose parents are at home. College closing hours must be adhered to.

4. Signing In

- a. When you return to your campus home, sign in at once.
- b. If, because of unavoidable circumstances, you are unable to be in by closing hours, phone your housemother before closing hours. In planning a return trip, time must be allowed for emergencies such as car trouble, etc.
- c. If you are late in returning, ring the front door bell and wait for the housemother to open the door. Students are not to open the door after closing hours.
- d. If you have not returned to your residence one hour after closing, or notified the housemother of your delay, your parents will be notified for assistance in determining your whereabouts.
- e. When a later permission is granted for a school group activity, it is understood that you will return to your residence as soon as possible.

5. Walk-Outs and Walk-Ins

Walk-outs are "sneaks" taken by various classes away from their living groups for a day or for overnight. These are arranged previously through the dean of women's office. In planning a walk-out, the following points must be observed:

- a. One chaperone is required for groups of women up to 10 in number, two chaperones for groups of 11 to 24 women and three chaperones for 25 women or more.
- b. No walk-out can be planned with a men's living group. If a men's and a women's living group have made arrangements for overnight accommodations at the same place, one group must change plans. The proprietor must be informed of this rule.
- c. There is to be no property damage to individuals or to the house. The line between a prank and a destructive act is a narrow one. Oregon State college women are expected to know the difference and govern their actions accordingly.
- d. All college rules apply on walk-outs and good conduct and regular closing hours should be observed. There are to be absolutely no alcoholic beverages.
- e. All walk-outs must be registered in the dean of women's office with name, address, and phone number of the place the group is going. Other requirements for registration are the same as for campus social functions.
- f. Walk-ins must comply with 1 a.m. closing hours. The housemother of the sorority should be notified in advance. Arrangements are also to be made with the office of the dean of women.

6. Examinations

After examinations a student may not remain in residence longer than twenty-four hours following her last examination except by permission of the office of the dean of women.

Symptoms of Beaver Fever

Some of the first symptoms of Beaver Fever are good spirit, philosophy, and attitude.

The "Hi Beaver" policy is traditional on OSC campus. While we are at school we meet many new people, some who will be lifelong friends. To be friendly is one of the most common symptoms, having much to do with this disease being contagious. Remember, to smile at someone is to get a smile.

To truly have Beaver Fever at its best, one must have a good philosophy. "Just why am I here?" "What do I expect to get out of college?" You'll find that having a real purpose and a high goal toward which to work will leave you with a real satisfaction and mastery of your future.

One other symptom, attitude, is one of the most important. This is what really tells others about you. Evidence of this symptom may be the "others first," policy, practice of the golden rule, doing 51% of your share, and just being your best self. As far back as we can remember, we were taught just what was right and what was wrong. College is just the place for us to practice what we know is right. We are learning to live with people from all ways of life. Our attitude of tolerance is of utmost importance.

Memorial Union

A favored treatment is free to all in the huge brick building located in the center of the campus, the Memorial Union, commonly know as the M.U. It is the hub of campus activity, and as you become a part of OSC, the M.U. will become part of you, for in it are staged many services and activities.

The impressive building is home to the Co-op Book Store, campus post office, a ballroom, a music room, lounges for men and women, a game room, and the "O" club, the gathering spot for those wishing to "yak and snack."

AWSC OFFICE

Also in the M.U. are the alumni office, the publications' offices, educational activities office, and most important, the ASOSC Student Body Office.

M.U. services consist of movie equipment rentals, Western Union telegraph service and the lost and found department. Individuals and groups have the use of duplicating machines, tape recorders, coffee kitchens, and meeting rooms.

Membership in the M.U. activities is open to every student. To keep the M.U. going smoothly, there is a president, committee chairmen and their committees.

M. U. COMMITTEES

Hospitality—Members welcome M.U. visitors and help with convent'on registrations, open houses, and coffee hours. Each year they sponsor the annual M.U. Christmas party.

Games and Recreation—Committee plans a program of movies and provides a game room equipped with billiards, ping-pong, chess, checkers, and cards. They often sponsor informal get-togethers on Friday nights.

Music—This group is in charge of the special music room which contains a hi-fi phonograph and radio. The library of records ranges from Mozart to Dixieland music. The committee also sponsors jam sessions.

Dance Instruction and Social Dance—Here is an opportunity for those of you who claim not to be able to dance. Dance instruction is provided by student instructors. The committee also sponsors a year-around program of mixers and ASOSC dances.

Public Relations—Promotes the M.U. through all media of publicity, including M.U. calendars, pamphlets, posters, newspapers, and radio programs.

Arts—Sponsors exhibits in the M.U. concourse, lectures, and a spring flower-arranging contest.

Photography—For photography enthusiasts here is an opportunity for developing skills. This also provides experience in working in the darkroom.

Toastmistress and Toastmasters Clubs—Opportunities are provided for training and practice in public speaking techniques.

Radio—A weekly program is sponsored by the M.U. which publicizes campus news, sports, and music.

Posters—Poster-making services are offered to the different campus organizations by this committee.

*We suggest you try the Co-op Book Store. Bedspreads and curtains may be planned with your roommates after you have seen the color scheme of your dormitory room.

Study

A good treatment for Beaver Fever is studying. There are several phases of this treatment. The first phase is to be a good roommate. Remember you must learn to live and cooperate with someone else. A good incentive for studying is a quiet, neat, well-lighted room with all the study materials you need handy.

Remember to be quiet during study hours so others can get something done too.

The next phase of the treatment is concerned with how well you budget your time to study. It is a good plan to make a chart with certain hours set aside to do certain things such as going to classes, homework, extra-curricular activities, and coffee hours. It is a general assumption that two hours outside work should be spent for every hour in class; however it is the way you study that counts, not the time you spend.

A third phase of the treatment concerns the hours you keep. It is great fun to stay up at night to talk, but it is hard to make it to class the next day. And, you don't feel like getting your assignments done so by the end of the term you have to stay up all night studying for a final. This is bad for your health and your grades. Always try to get a good night's sleep.

Phase four of your Beaver Fever study treatment: take complete and legible notes in class. Write down your assignments and read them carefully. If you don't understand everything, write down questions to ask your instructor about or to look up yourself.

An excellent place to look for answers to these questions and to study in is the college library. The staff is always glad to help you locate what you are looking for.

This is the last phase of your treatment. You should always know the correct title to use when speaking to your instructors. Only full professors and associate professors are referred to as "professor". Any faculty member with a doctorate is called "Doctor". All others are correctly called "Mister", "Mrs.", or "Miss". If you are in doubt, it is best to use these titles.

Home Ec. Club

The Home Economics club meets in the Home Economics building every second and fourth Thursday. It is a club for girls in home economics and is part of the Oregon and National Home Economics associations.

Some of the activities include the freshman and transfer dinner, coffee sales at registration, the honors luncheon, state convention in the spring, honor banquet, silver tea, and the Spring Thaw with the Forestry Club. Every year they give a scholarship to a deserving foreign student in home economics. Each fall a membership drive is held and all major students are urged to buy membership cards. They are also furnishing the lounge in contemporary style.

INTER - HALL RULES

AWS and administrative regulations apply directly to all women students at OSC In addition to these, rules are also formulated for the special needs of the individual living groups. The following rules were passed by the Interhall council to promote more enjoyable and organized dormitory living:

1. Quiet Hours

- a. During the day it should be quiet enough for anyone wishing to study. Enforced quiet hours extend from 7 p.m. until morning with a break for meetings, parties, and closing time. Be considerate of those studying, and the courtesy will be extended to you as well.
- b. Bedroom slippers which do not make any noise are to be worn after 7 p.m. If you plan to type, do it before 11 p.m. so it won't bother your neighbor. A towel folded under the typewriter will help muffle the sound.
- c. Talking out of the windows is in bad taste and is never acceptable.

2. Recreation Hours

The piano and the radio in the lounge may be played during the following times: Monday through Thursday, 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Friday, 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; 4 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday and Sunday, 9 a.m. to closing.

3. Closed Weekend and Final Week Hours

The purpose of closed weekend, which precedes final week each term, is to study for final exams. To further this purpose men may not remain in the halls after calling for the residents during this time. This practice continues through final week. Hours for phone calls and callers may be further determined by individual living groups.

4. Room Care

You are responsible for keeping your room neat and orderly. You are also asked not to move the furniture from one room to another. Scotch tape, masking tape and thumb tacks are not to be used. Anything you wish to hang may be placed on the bulletin boards in each room. Insignias are out of place on dormitory furnishings.

5. Smoking

Since smoking is permitted in the student rooms of Sackett, Waldo, Cauthorn, and Coed Cottage, it is up to the student to decide whether or not she wishes to allow smoking in her room. Every effort will be made to see that a girl who objects to smoking will not be asked to room with a girl who smokes. There are other designated places where you may smoke so check your hall for this information.

To insure fire safety, you are asked to use a metal waste basket and provide your own glass or metal ash trays.

In Azalea House, smoking is limited to the recreation room.

6. Pets

If you feel you must have a pet, be sure it is a goldfish, guppies, snails, or a miniature turtle. No other pets will be permitted in the halls.

7. Fire Drills

Fire drills are held each term. It is the responsibility of your fire chairman to plan and hold them. Follow her instructions carefully.

8. Dress

- a. The times and places in the hall where jeans, shorts, pedal pushers, thongs, etc. may be worn will be determined by your individual hall council.
- b. In general, pedal pushers and jeans may be worn in the dining room for breakfast and for Saturday lunch. Slippers are never worn in the dining room.
- c. Friday dinner through Sunday breakfast and at all breakfasts, scarves, or other head coverings may be worn. Curlers or conspicuous bobby pins are never worn in the dining room.
- d. Coeds dress for Sunday dinners and at other designated times. This means "hose and heels."

9. Penalties

- a. Standardized rules for coming in after closing hours are listed under Penalties in the AWS section of this booklet.
- b. The penalties for late minutes will be as follows:
  1. First late 5 minutes ..... One campus
  2. Next late 10 minutes ..... one campus
  3. Next late 10 minutes ..... one campus
  4. Next late 5 minutes totals 30 minutes so the girl automatically would appear before Student Board of Reference.
- c. Any additional minutes are accumulative. After three campuses a girl is required to appear before the hall executive council.

- d. An elected officer approved by the executive council will administer and record the campuses.
- e. Any girl who feels she had a legitimate reason for being late is urged to appeal to the hall executive council.
- f. If, having appealed to the executive council, the girl is dissatisfied with their decision, she may appeal to the Student Board of Reference.
- g. If a girl is over 30 minutes late she must appear before Student Board of Reference.

10. Student Responsibility

All students in the residence halls are responsible for knowing the contents of the Co-ed Code, the student handbook, for attending all house meetings and section meetings, and for reading all official notices on the bulletin boards.

It is the responsibility of every student to take an active interest in student government. Any girl wishing to ask questions, offer suggestions, opinions, or discuss student legislation or regulations is urged to contact the Inter-hall council president, who will be happy to hear from you, and represent you.

Round Table

Round Table is the student YM-YWCA and the international student Christian association, and sponsors many campus-wide events each term.

The Round Table office, located in room 214 of the Memorial Union, provides every student with the experience of working with others on the campus United Fund Drive, International week, and other projects of the Christian association. One of the most important projects is the work done with the children's home each year. The Round Table supplies Sunday school teachers, recreational leaders and athletic coaches.

Discussion groups, retreats, conferences, and informal get-togethers make the Round Table program a vital part of your college life.

Campus Services

LIBRARY

Books for all purposes, research or recreational reading, are found at the Oregon State college library. It contains 275,000 books and has seating accommodations for nearly 1000 readers. The material is located in several different rooms for the convenience of the library users. William H. Carlson is the director.

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE

Medical aid for students is provided by the health service. It is located in a separate building which is a modern, well-equipped hospital. Before a new student registers at OSC his certificate of medical examination by a private physician is placed in the health service files.

General medical attention and advice may be received by students during dispensary hours. Students needing attention outside of office hours must call a private physician and assume the responsibility for the expenses. Fifteen days is the maximum hospitalization period for a student during any academic year.

HOURS during which the student health is open are as follows:

Monday—Friday ..... 8 a.m.—12 noon, 1—5 p.m.

Saturday ..... 8 a.m.—12 noon

COOP BOOK STORE

Supplying of textbooks and other items needed by the students is done by the Coop book stores, one located in the east end of the Memorial Union, the other on Monroe street. They are student owned and controlled and supervised by a board of directors.

STUDENT LOAN FUND

Student loan funds are available to students in good standing who have attended Oregon State college at least one term. Applications and information concerning loans are available at the student loan office, M.U. or the dean of women's office.

EMPLOYMENT FOR WOMEN

Many women students earn part of their expenses while attending college. The most plentiful jobs consist of secretarial, library, waitress, baby sitting, and house work. To have some feeling of security a girl should have sufficient funds to carry her through the first quarter and part of the rest of the year. It is unwise to try to earn too much money while attending classes. If a girl works more than ten hours per week, she should carry less than a normal load. For further information write or come in to see Mrs. Bower, in the dean of women's office.

MUSEUM

The Horner Museum of the Oregon Country contains collections of historic, scientific, industrial and artistic interest. The museum is located in the basement of the coliseum.

Named for the late Dr. J. B. Horner, who was instrumental in the museum's foundation, the museum was opened in 1925. The collections were previously housed in the basement of what is now the college playhouse.

Among the collections in the museum are mounted animals, zoological and geological specimens, war trophies, oriental fabrics, and the famous Hank Monk stage-coach. The museum is open during the week and is of interest to many campus visitors. Bring mom and dad down sometime.

ASSISTANCE

There are several good after effects that follow your treatment of Beaver Fever. If you have money problems, there are scholarships available for women who have maintained a good scholastic record. Some of these are as follows:

Associated Women Students scholarship
Bash Scholarship
Delta Delta Delta scholarship
Interhall scholarship
Leonora H. Kerr-Folk Club scholarship
Mortar Board scholarship
Oregon State Mothers Club scholarships
Sackett Hall scholarship

These are a few of the many scholarships offered. Applications for the majority of these must be filed in the registrar's office. If you want further information concerning them, see your faculty adviser, dean of your school, office of the dean of women, or the registrar's office.

HONORARIES

More for You

AWS activities are mentioned on page 58 of the Code. Freshmen often find that in addition to these, a good way to participate in AWS is to serve as a secretary in the AWS office. Just drop by the AWS office and let them know you are interested.

Other organizations and their activity opportunities which appear in the Code are WRA, page 52; Interhall, page 40; M.U., page 31; Round Table, page 44, and church groups, page 35.

MUSIC

If yours is the aspiration to make beautiful music then a good place for you to visit would be Benton hall which houses the music department. There you can find out about the OSC band, the college orchestra, and the various singing groups.

SPEECH

For extempore speaking and debate, drop by the forensics office in Shepard hall 209. If you are interested in dramatics, be sure to watch for try-out notices, or visit the college playhouse.

CLUBS

Almost every school and department on campus has a club of its own. For future Florence Nightingales there is Lamplighters, the pre-nursing club; for those of you who have a desire for teaching, there is the Future Teachers of America; and if you are an aspiring secretary, don't forget the B and T club. Representatives of these clubs will be around registration day.

Hui O Hawaii is an organization just for Hawaiian students on campus to get together, Cosmopolitan Club is open to anyone interested in international relations among people and countries represented on the OSC campus.

If you have excess energy to burn, the rally squads are for you. For freshmen, there is the Rook Rally, and for the upperclassmen, there is an organized women's rooting section whose members are known as Beaverettes. Of course, varsity rally girls will need to be selected next spring term too!

PUBLICATIONS

The publication staff of the Barometer (student newspaper) and the Beaver (student yearbook) also require staff and secretaries. The Baro offices are M.U. 204, 205, and 209; and the Beaver offices are M.U. 202 and 203.

CLASS ACTIVITIES

Opportunities for your class offices and committees for your class functions are available. Freshmen class elections take place about four weeks after school starts whereas other classes usually elect during the spring term.

WRA OFFICERS FOR 1958-59

Let's go to the Women's building where the Women's Recreation association's home is located. Women students of OSC relax and have fun participating in various sports activities. The only requirement is a desire to have fun and enjoy the activity—skills and ability take a back seat.

The building's two gyms are open for use after classes between 5 and 6 and Saturday mornings when they are not being used for scheduled activities. The pool is open every day except Wednesday at 5 for recreational swimming. A life guard is on duty at all times.

WRA membership is gained by participation in an intramural activity, by joining an interest group, by working on a WRA committee, or intramurals.

ACTIVITIES

The top activity fall term is the W.B. Jubilee which is a preview of activities offered for new women students at OSC.

Sport days play an important part in the WRA program. As many as nine colleges and universities are invited to participate in the programs. Fun and an opportunity to meet women from other schools are the main objectives of the sport days.

The Seahorses water pageant is always a big event for winter term. Group water ballets and individual numbers are combined to make a spectacular show.

INTRAMURALS

An important part of the WRA program is intramurals, which offer recreation, fun, and an opportunity to meet new friends. Coeds participate in both individual and team sports by signing with their living group intramural manager.

Fall term intramurals include volleyball, swimming, tennis, hopscotch, skittles, darts, and billiards.

A few winter term intramurals are basketball, skiing, and badminton.

Spring term activities such as softball, kiteflying, bicycling, croquet, tennis, and crew are practiced.

CO-REC

About once a month on Friday nights, men and women gather for a couple of hours at the Women's Building for an evening of free fun and recreation.

During football season, the evenings are often after a game and music, fun and laughter plus a gay theme climax the game festivities.

The whole building is used as students relax and meet new people in a strictly informal atmosphere.

Games offered include table tennis, volleyball, card games, badminton and shuffleboard. Square and social dancing are also quite popular.

The swimming pool is open to both men and women. Suits, caps, and towels are supplied in the basement "cage".

WRA HONORARIES

An important phase of the WRA program is three honoraries that give recognition to women who are outstanding in serving WRA.

ORANGE O is the honorary for coeds giving outstanding service to WRA. To be eligible for membership you must be either a junior or senior and have worked actively in the WRA program. Sophomore women are also tapped for the honorary during spring term. Members appear on campus each Wednesday wearing navy blue blazers and gray skirts.

ORCHESIS is an honorary for men and women who are interested in dance as a creative art. The group presents several concerts throughout the year. A student who has had one course in dance composition or is currently enrolled in one is eligible to try-out for membership.

AQUABATS is a swimming honorary. The group specializes in rhythmic swimming. Sophomore, junior, and senior women who are outstanding members of Seahorses are tapped for membership.

ACTIVITY INTEREST GROUPS

The activity interest groups are all a part of WRA and have been formed as a result of the interest of the girls in furthering their knowledge and skill in a particular sport. The groups elect their own officers and conduct their own meetings and activities in accordance with the purpose of the group.

Archery

The club name is "Three Feathers," and it is open to both men and women interested in the year-round program, which includes inter-collegiate telegraphic meets.

Camping

Coeds interested in furthering their skills and knowledge in camping meet bimonthly to plan cookouts, hikes, canoe trips, ski weekends, pack trips, mountain climbs, and campfire sings.

Hockey

Membership is available to any coed who plays hockey or to any girl who wishes to learn. They participate in the Northwest hockey tournament and challenge many Oregon schools.

Riding

Membership is open to students able to pass riding qualifications in the group. There is a small fee, as horses are cared for by the college.

Riflery

Students who like to shoot for practice and to improve their skills may join the riflery club. Top shooters compete by mail. There is no expense, as all equipment is furnished.

Seahorses

Seahorses is open to girls especially interested in rhythmic swimming, who can pass certain elementary swim tests. The group sponsors the annual water pageant held winter term and swim clinics. Members officiate at swimming intramurals.

Tennis

Any women student who wishes advanced instruction and team play may join this club which is active spring term. Members participate in six matches with other schools.

Tumbling

The group, named Chintuckers, is open to any girl interested in tumbling and able to pass elementary requirements. The club performs for many special events and sponsors a high school clinic.

AWS FEVER CATCHER

To help get a real dose of "Beaver Fever," let's look at the organization and the activities of the Associated Women Students of Oregon State college. The AWS is the strongest and largest women's organization on campus, and it has a place for you. We hope that you will be proud to be a member.

A good place to contract AWS fever is in room 213 of the Memorial Union. This office is a meeting place for officers, councils, and committees. It is also an inviting place to study, visit with a friend, or just to relax.

FEVER CARRIERS

Let us introduce you to some of the carriers of the fever and the AWS program. This organization is made up of the executive council, legislative council, and student board of reference.

"Exec" council consists of five elected officers and five appointed chairmen and the IAWS Representative. This group suggests measures to be acted upon by the "Lege" council which is composed of the AWS officers and the presidents of representatives of each women's organization.

Student Board of Reference suggests campus social policies and regulations which are then voted on by the "Lege" council. All AWS regulations put forth in this Coed Code have been made by the members of these organizations which represent you—the women of Oregon State college.

SPECIAL TREATMENT PROGRAMS

AWS offers a variety of entertainment and diversion to anyone who is interested.

AWS sponsors a New Student convocation for freshmen and transfer students during New Student week. The convo will help you to begin your acquaintance with the campus and activities. It is something you certainly won't want to miss.

Added spirit will come from the AWS Transfer ~~tea~~. It is a get acquainted affair at the first of the year for transfer students. AWS also sponsors a scholarship convo to help you get off to a good start, academically, in your college career.

ACTS AND ACTIVITIES

AWS believes that scholarship is one of the best ways to get into the swing of being a good Beaver. Fall term the emphasis is placed upon the establishment of good study habits and scholarship. AWS does welcome anyone with a few extra hours to devote to activities.

Winter term, AWS presents a special program introducing student leaders who will help the new students find their place in OSC activities.

MORE BEAVER ACTIVITIES

Worthwhile activities of benefit to the campus and community are a part of the AWS program too. Included here are radio shows and Mothers' weekend.

Fun activities, Nickel Hops and the AWS carnival, in which all women's living groups participate, are money making projects. They help finance AWS activities and a full tuition scholarship which is awarded each year to an outstanding senior women.

A Gracias party is held each year for all who have worked with AWS during the year. A Christmas party is given for the AWS secretaries who work hard behind scenes to keep the office running smoothly.

The Honor convo is perhaps one of the most impressive convos of the year. Mortar Board taps new members, new members of other women's honoraries are introduced, scholarships are awarded and dormitory sponsors and Panhellenic counselors are announced.

JOIN IN THE FEVER

The wonderful thing about AWS is that it is your organization and it needs you to make its program complete. Join and get in the spirit for a broader education and lasting friendships. Let's all begin working now for a bigger and better AWS program.

Main Events and Social Life

You will find that Beaver Fever spreads quickly among all who take part in the many social activities that are planned for the coming year. Everything from football games to formal dances prove to be excellent carriers for this "Fever."

During the fall much excitement comes from the football games and the climax of the season comes when the Beavers play their arch-rivals, the University of Oregon Ducks.

Formal all-school dances include the Military Ball, the Sophomore Cotillion, Junior-Senior Prom, and the Mortar Board Ball. The "no flowers" tradition at school dances is a practical way to help the boys cut their expenses.

AWS-sponsored Nickel Hops, when the fellows visit the women's living groups and pay a nickle for each dance, is the time that freshman women get acquainted with the larger segment of the OSC ratio. House dances, costume and formal, account for lots of preparation and good times. And of course, there is the annual Mortar Board Ball when the women take the men and foot all the bills.

Exchange dinners, picnics, and coffee hours with the men's living groups are an informal means of getting acquainted and relaxing after a day of classes. Dates are arranged by the social chairmen who often pair up the couples by such devices as matching torn playing cards or finding the owner of a necktie or sock.

During spring term "Beaver and Spring Fever" combine to make picnics and Sundays at the beach casual ways of enjoying the warmer weather. In the fall and winter the open houses and firesides are comparable to these.

Other firesides, just for girls, are held after closing hours. There are also firesides at faculty homes where students participate in lively discussion groups.

Coke dates, concerts by famous and popular artists, and plays are among date activities on campus. Six plays a year are presented by the speech department. The art department also brings the students a wide variety of exhibits and lecturers. Distinguished men and women from all over the world are invited to speak at the Wednesday convocation hour.

During Mothers' Weekend and Dads Weekend, we have the chance to show our parents our college home, and expose them to this fever that soon becomes so much a part of us. We give them a whirl of excitement by taking them to luncheons, teas, dinners, games, tours, and exhibits.

Dress for all Occasion

When it comes to dress OSC's little coed is really smart. She knows that expense or quantity does not determine the quality of a collegian's wardrobe. She suggests that when you buy, select moderately priced and well-made clothes. A small wardrobe, well chosen, wears longer and feels better than lots of "cheap" apparel, or (in equally poor taste) clothes that are extravagantly priced.

In buying, these two pointers are suggested: (1) watch for quality in materials and construction, even if it means stretching that budget or pay check a little further, (2) buy versatile clothes which will serve for several types of occasions. Any girl can make her limited wardrobe look larger by adding a few accessories. And the girl who sews, can save by making her own clothes.

Most girls find it necessary to have at least two coats; a heavy winter coat for those snowy winter days and a slicker or a winter coat that is rainproof (often the most used article of clothing in your wardrobe) for the many days when it is raining. It is also advisable to have a pair of rain boots, snow boots, or wooden shoes. Often these may be purchased more easily after arriving at school.

Traditionally, play clothes, such as jeans, shorts, Bermudas, pedal puhers, etc., are not to be worn in campus buildings or on campus at any time unless specifically designated as required dress for class or other campus or living group activity. Coats must be worn over play clothes worn between houses except when weather is too hot.

On the following page is a suggested wardrobe chart. It may help you in making that big impression.

Don't forget the cottons and peasant skirts and blouses for the late Indian summer and early spring. A swimming suit may come in handy too, for those free afternoons.
