It was a homecoming of sorts for OSU alumnus Scott Rueck, who was named the fifth head coach in the history of the Oregon State women's basketball program on June 30, 2010.

Rueck has been the architect of an accelerated turnaround of the women's basketball program at Oregon State, bringing the team onto the national stage.

Rueck has led the Beavers to the NCAA Tournament six-straight seasons for the first time in program history. Oregon State won three-straight Pac-12 titles from 2015-17, and has made the Sweet 16 in four consecutive seasons.

Oregon State went 26-8 in the 2018-19 campaign. The Beavers took home a pair of All-Pac-12 honors, as Destiny Slocum and Mikayla Pivec both received the award. The duo also netted All-America Honorable Mention, while Pivec was tabbed as a Second Team Academic All-American.

The Beavers recorded another 20-win campaign in 2017-18, making the Elite Eight for the second time in program history and finishing the year with 26 victories. Marie Gulich earned All-Pac-12 honors for the second-straight year, and the Beavers had the Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year for the fourth-straight season, as Gulich earned the honor.

Oregon State posted an outstanding campaign in 2016-17, as the team went 31-5 en route to a Sweet 16 showing. Under Rueck's tutelage, senior Sydney Wiese became the 14th player in Pac-12 history to earn All-Pac-12 honors all four years of her career, and the Beavers claimed Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year honors for the third-straight season, as Gabriella Hanson received the award. Rueck took home some hardware of his own as well, as he was named Pac-12 Coach of the Year.

The Beavers enjoyed the best season in program history in 2015-16, winning a school-record 32 games on their way to the team's first ever Final Four. The NCAA Tournament journey was highlighted by a victory over national power Baylor in the Elite Eight and a pair of wins at Gill Coliseum, as Oregon State hosted the first two rounds of the tourney for the second-straight season.

The Beavers also made their mark in conference play, winning their second-straight Pac-12 regular-season title, and notching the program's first Pac-12 Tournament championship. For his leadership, Rueck was named one of four finalists for Naismith National Coach of the Year, joining Geno Aurienna (UConn), Muffet McGraw (Notre Dame) and Dawn Staley (South Carolina), and was the runner-up for AP Coach of the Year.

Under Rueck's guidance, Jamie Weisner was named the 2016 Pac-12 Player of the Year, and was tabbed as a WBCA All-American. Ruth Hamblin notched her second-consecutive Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year honor, while Weisner, Hamblin and Wiese were all named to the Pac-12 First Team.

Rueck's outstanding sixth season came on the back of an impressive 2014-15 campaign, as the Beavers notched 27 wins, en route to a Pac-12 Regular Season Title. For his efforts, Rueck was named Pac-12 Coach of the Year by both the media and the coaches, and earned WBCA Region 8 Coach of the Year honors for the second consecutive season. The Beavers' success on the floor was reflected in the national polls, as OSU was ranked as high as No. 7 in both the AP and USA Today/WBCA Polls during the season, the best rankings in school history, before the team ended the year ranked No. 13.

Oregon State also set a new program-best with a 16-2 conference record, surpassing the mark set in 2013-14. The Beavers went 14-2 at home, extending their home winning streak, which began in 2013-14, to 23 straight games. The historic season led to an increase in attendance, as the Beavers averaged a Pac-12 leading 4,167 fans per game, and welcomed 7,652 fans to Gill Coliseum for the Civil War on Jan. 9, the third-largest crowd in school history.

Under Rueck's guidance, Ruth Hamblin earned AP Third Team All-America, Pac-12 Player of the Year (media) and Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year honors, and was joined on the All-Pac-12 team by teammates Jamie Weisner and Sydney Wiese. The Beavers also led the conference with four Pac-12 Player of the Week awards on the season.

The Beavers finished 2013-14 24-11 overall, and ended the year tied for second in the final Pac-12 standings. Oregon State also advanced to its first NCAA Tournament since 1996 and won its first game in the event since 1995. The Beavers ended the year ranked 25th in the USA TODAY Coaches' Poll, their first time in the national rankings since 1996.

For the second time in four seasons the Pac-12's media tabbed Rueck as Coach of the Year and he was picked as the league's best by ESPN. Rueck was also named Russell Athletic/WBCA Region 8 Coach of the Year and was a finalist for the inaugural Pat Summitt Trophy for the 2014 Russell Athletic/WBCA NCAA Division I National Coach of the Year.

Oregon State propelled itself into the national conversation following a late-season 11-game win streak, which matched the second longest in school history and was the best in 31 years. Each win during the run was by at least 10 points, three came by 20 and the average margin of victory was 16.1 points.

Oregon State's 2012-13 campaign was highlighted by another stalwart defensive group and a young crew of five freshmen that produced more than any other collection of first-year players in the conference.

The Beavers finished the season 16th in the nation in field goal percentage defense, holding opponents to a school-record low 34.6 percent. OSU also was 11th in the country in blocks per game (5.5) and was the only team in the nation that boasted seven different players with at least 10 rejections. Oregon State's promising freshman class scored more than 46 percent of the team's points, the highest ratio in the Pac-12.

With another young squad in 2011-12 picked to finish last in the Pac-12, Rueck and the Beavers defied the odds, finishing fifth in the conference with a 9-9 mark, 20-13 overall, and made the third round of the WNIT. In ending the year seven spots above where they were picked at the beginning of the season, Oregon State made the largest jump between expected finish and actual result in conference history. Those achievements earned Rueck a pick as the Pac-12 Coach of the Year, as voted on by the conference media.

In his inaugural year as head coach of the Beavers, Rueck led an inexperienced squad, with only one player possessing NCAA Division I experience, to a 9-21 record.

Oregon State lost some close games to open Pac-10 play before earning its first conference win over Washington at Alaska Airlines Arena. Shortly after, the Beavers claimed their second Pac-10 victory at home in Gill Coliseum in what is believed to be the biggest come-from-behind victory in program history, overcoming a 20-point deficit to defeat Oregon, 61-59, in the Civil War.

That same year, Rueck was also inducted into the George Fox Sports Hall of Fame.

Rueck came to Oregon State after spending 14 highly successful seasons as the head women's basketball coach at George Fox, compiling a career 288-88 (.766) record. Under his watch, the Bruins recorded winning seasons each year and claimed the Division III National Championship in 2009 with an unblemished 32-0 record. Rueck led his squads to five Sweet 16 appearances, three Elite Eight contests, six NCAA Division III Tournament appearances and seven Northwest Conference Championships.

During his time at George Fox, Rueck coached four NAIA All-Americans, four NCAA All-Americans and 33 All-Northwest Conference honorees. Individually, he was named the NCAA Division III National Coach of the Year in 2009, was a three-time NCAA Division III West Region Coach of the Year (2008, 2009, 2010) and a seven-time Northwest Conference Coach of the Year (2000, 2001, 2005, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010).

Rueck got his start coaching while an undergrad at Oregon State. He served as assistant coach at Santiam Christian High School for the boy's basketball team from 1989-93. He then became a women's basketball assistant at George Fox under former head coach Sherri Murrell, helping the Bruins to a 37-23 overall record and two NAIA post-season appearances. Additionally, he coached the women's tennis team in 1995-96.

Basketball runs in the Rueck family. His sister, Heidi, was an NAIA All-American point guard at George Fox, setting the school records in career, single season and single-game assists and was eventually voted into the school's Sport Hall of Fame in 2005. His father, Marv, was a part of the coaching staffs at Hillsboro and Glencoe High Schools and was the inaugural head coach at Glencoe when it opened in 1980.

Rueck earned a bachelor's degree in exercise and sport science from Oregon State in 1991, while adding a master's in physical education in 1992. He is married to the former Kerry Aillaud, and the couple has three children, Cole, Kate and Macey. Kerry played basketball for George Fox from 1993-95, while serving as assistant coach for the program from 1998-06.

Jonas Chatterton completed his fifth season with the Beavers in 2018-19, and his 15th year as a Division I assistant.

Chatterton's first five seasons with the Beavers proved to be the best years in school history. Chatterton has coached Oregon State to five 20+ win seasons, including three-straight Pac-12 regular season titles (2015-17), and the five highest win totals in program history. He helped pace the team to its fourth-straight Sweet 16 in 2018-19, as the squad finished 26-8. Destiny Slocum and Mikayla Pivec both earned All-Pac-12 honors in the campaign.

Chatterton helped the team to a 26-7 mark in 2017-18, including a third-place finish in the Pac-12 and the Beavers' second ever Elite Eight appearance. Marie Gulich earned All-America honors for her outstanding senior campaign.

The assistant coach helped guide Oregon State to its first ever NCAA Final Four in 2015-16, as the team went 32-5 and defeated national power Baylor in the Dallas Regional to make it to the final weekend of the season. The Beavers also notched Pac-12 Regular Season and Tournament titles, and ended the year ranked No. 2 in the WBCA Coaches' Poll.

Chatterton helped Oregon State players to a number of individual honors as well, as guard Jamie Weisner was named an All-American and Pac-12 Player of the Year. Weisner was joined by teammates Ruth Hamblin and Sydney Wiese on the All-Pac-12 Team for the second-straight season.

Oregon State tallied 27 wins, won its first ever Pac-12 title and earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament in 2014-15, Chatterton's first year with the team. Along the way the Beavers also earned a number of impressive victories, including a road win over No. 6 North Carolina, a pair of wins over No. 12 Arizona State and a victory over California to lock down the conference championship.

The Salt Lake City native came to Corvallis by way of Colorado, where he was on staff for four seasons, including the last as associate head coach. During his time in Boulder, the Buffaloes won 83 total games and made postseason appearances each year, highlighted by an NCAA Tournament run in 2013. Chatterton played integral roles in recruiting, opponent scouting, post development and putting together Colorado's offensive and defensive schemes.

He helped the Buffaloes to WNIT quarterfinal appearances in each of his first two seasons and a trip to the third round in 2014. The 2011-12 squad enjoyed its first 20-win season in eight years (21-14) and also marked the first back-to-back winning seasons for Colorado since 2003-04. In his first year at CU, the Buffaloes were 18-16, including wins over a pair of ranked teams.

One reason for Colorado's upswing was the development of its front court. Among many, Chatterton helped forward Arielle Roberson to 2013 Pac-12 Freshman of the Year honors.

He was valuable on the recruiting trail for CU as well, helping the Buffaloes acquire the 27th best recruiting class in the nation in 2012, according to ESPN.com's HoopGurlz, a class that included a pair of national Top 100 recruits.

Before heading to Colorado, Chatterton spent eight highly successful seasons as an assistant coach at BYU (2001-09). While in Provo, the Cougars compiled a 157-89 record (.638), won two Mountain West Conference regular-season titles (2006-07), one MWC Tournament crown (2002) and went to the NCAA Tournament four times.

Chatterton's success has garnered the coach national recognition and he has been part of a select group invited to Nike's renowned Villa 7 Consortium each of the last two years, which brings together university athletics directors and the country's elite assistant coaches in an effort to prepare the next generation of college basketball leaders. Less than 10 percent of women's basketball assistants from the nation's nearly 350 Division I programs have received invitations to the exclusive event the past three years, which has grown to become one of the most respected gatherings for professional development and networking in the country.

Prior to joining BYU, Chatterton spent two years as an assistant men's coach at Westminster College, an NAIA school in Salt Lake City (1998-2000) where he helped revive a program that had been discontinued in 1979.

He received his bachelor's in exercise and sport science from the University of Utah in 2000. He played one year of basketball for Rocky Mountain College (Mont.) before transferring to Utah.

Prior to arriving in Boulder, Chatterton took one year off from collegiate coaching (2009-10), working as the Director of Sales and Marketing for OrthoRx Inc, a medical supply company in San Diego. He remained involved in basketball as a coach for the Cal Swish Basketball Club of Orange County.

Chatterton has a daughter Josie and he and his wife Cami have two daughters, Celia and Jada, and a son, Hudson.

BRIAN HOLLINGER

Associate Head Coach
4th Year
Western Washington, 1999

Brian Holsinger joined the Oregon State coaching staff in the summer of 2016.

During his three seasons with the Beavers, Holsinger has contributed Oregon State on the floor as well as the recruiting trail. The Western Washington graduate has helped the Beavers win 26 games in 2018-19, and earn its sixth-straight trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Holsinger helped Oregon State win 26 games in 2017-18, as the Beavers finished tied for third in the Pac-12 with a conference mark of 14-4 and made their second ever Elite Eight.

In his first season with the Beavers in 2016-17, Holsinger helped lead Oregon State to its third-straight Pac-12 regular season title, as tallied the second-highest win total in program history with 31.

Holsinger came to Oregon State with 16 years of coaching experience under his belt, including eight years at Washington State. The Western Washington graduate was promoted to Associate Head Coach in 2014-15, his final year with the team, after spending the prior seven seasons as an assistant. During his time at Washington State, Holsinger was heavily involved in the team's recruiting efforts, helping the Cougars lock down some of the best signing classes in program history. His 2007-08 recruiting class was ranked No. 16 in the nation by Blue Star Basketball.

Holsinger helped guide Washington State to WNIT berths in 2013-14 and 2014-15. The 2014 appearance was WSU's first trip to the postseason since 1991. Holsinger also coached guards Lia Galdera and Tia Presley to All-Pac-12 honors in 2015.

The 2012-13 campaign saw the Cougars advance to the Pac-12 Conference Tournament quarterfinals for the second straight season, beating Arizona State in the opening round before falling to top-seeded Stanford. WSU produced some notable wins while playing one of the toughest schedules in the country, beating No. 20 Ohio State, posting a road victory over regional rival Gonzaga and sweeping the season series with Arizona State. The Cougars, which contained a roster with six freshmen and three sophomores, also posted a four-game winning streak during Pac-12.

Holsinger also made his mark on the Washington State defense, as the Cougars set the school record for blocks with 114 along with the sixth-most steals in in single-season history. Holsinger oversaw the defense that made the fourth-most steals in the Pac-12, led by Galdeira's conference-best 86.

In 2009-10, WSU was the only school to place two individuals on the five-member Pacific-10 Conference Media All-Defensive Team. Then-freshman Carly Noyes became the first player in school history to lead the conference in blocks and she went on to cap her career as WSU's all-time leader in blocks, games played and starts. The 2009-10 and 2010-11 Cougar teams produced two of the top block totals in program history, recording 98 in 2009-10 and 100 in 2010-11, the second-best mark in the Cougar single-season record book.

Prior to entering the Division I coaching ranks, Holsinger spent two years as the head coach of NAIA program Montana Tech. During his tenure, he guided the Orediggers to the program's first Top-25 ranking. Holsinger graduated from Federal Way High in Federal Way, Wash., in 1994. During his college career, he played his freshman season at Pacific from 1994-95, before transferring to Western Washington to complete his bachelor's of science degree in biology.

KATIE FAULKNER

Assistant Coach
4th Year
Montana, 2013

Katie Faulkner, nee Baker, joined the Oregon State staff in the summer of 2016.

She has completed three seasons with the Beavers. Faulkner helped Oregon State to 26 wins in 2018-19, and its sixth-straight NCAA Tournament berth. Working largely with the posts, Faulkner was instrumental in the development of Oregon State's bigs, including 2018-19 senior Joanna Grymek.

In her second season with the Beavers, OSU went 26-8, finished tied for third in the Pac-12 and earned a spot in the Elite Eight for the second time in program history. Faulkner was instrumental in the development of center Marie Gulich, who proved herself as one of the top post players in the nation. In 2017-18, Gulich was named a Lisa Leslie Award semi-finalist, and earned All-Pac-12 First Team honors for the second-straight season. The center was also selected as Pac-12 Media Defensive Player of the Year, and was selected by the Phoenix Mercury in the first round of the WNBA Draft.

One of the most impressive young coaches in college basketball, Faulkner has helped guide Oregon State to a 31-4 record in 2016-17, as well as a Pac-12 regular season title. Working primarily with the posts, Faulkner helped Gulich earn All-Pac-12 honors for the first time.

Faulkner spent the 2015-16 season as a graduate assistant coach at Wisconsin. Her tenure with the Badgers was highlighted by notable wins over Purdue and Penn State. Faulkner helped foster the growth of seniors Nicole Bauman and Michala Johnson. Bauman ended her career as the Wisconsin's all-time leader in 3-point percentage, while Johnson is the Badgers' career record holder for field goal percentage.

Prior to joining the Wisconsin staff, Faulkner spent a year as an assistant coach at the University of Colorado-Colorado Springs. Her year with the Mountain Lions was one of the most successful in program history, as the team went 26-7 on the year, and made a run to the Sweet 16 in the Division II NCAA Tournament.

Faulkner is one of the greatest players in the history of Montana women's basketball. The Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, native was the Big Sky Conference Player of the Year as a senior during the 2012-13 season. She finished fifth all-time in scoring at Montana, 10th all-time in rebounding, and fifth all-time in blocked shots. Faulkner led Montana in scoring all four years of her career and was given All-Big Sky honors every year.

While at Montana, she appeared in two NCAA tournaments, was awarded four All-Academic Big Sky honors (2009-2013), one All-Region Select Team honor (2012-13), and one WBCA All-American Honorable Mention (2012-13).

Faulkner continued her playing career with a professional season in Europe, heading to Luxembourg for the 2013-14 campaign.

Faulkner graduated from the University of Montana in 2013 with a bachelor's degree in exercise science.

ERIC ELY

Assistant Athletic Director For Women's Basketball
10th Year
Northwest Nazarene, 1982

Eric Ely completed his ninth season with the Oregon State women's basketball program in 2018-19, and third as Assistant Athletic Director for Women's Basketball. Ely spent his prior six seasons as an assistant coach.

In his new role, Ely helps with campus outreach and coordinates the team's practice players. He has also been instrumental in creating a partnership between the team and Corvallis Southside Outreach, a group that reached out to underprivileged kids in south Corvallis.

During his time on head coach Scott Rueck's staff, the Beavers have seen a dramatic turnaround, culminating in a Final Four appearance in 2016. Ely has helped guide the Beavers to three Pac-12 titles, as well as a 32-win season in 2015-16.

In his six years as an assistant coach, Ely mentored some of the best post players in the Pac-12, highlighted by a trio of Pac-12 All-Defensive Team centers who own four of the top eight best single-season shot block totals in conference history.

The lineage started with El Sara Greer in 2010-11, who swatted what was then a school record 92 shots and averaged 9.2 points and 8.1 rebounds while shooting 56 percent from the field. One year later, Patricia Bright eclipsed Greer and tallied 115 rejections, converted 57.9 percent of her attempts from the floor and put up 8.7 ppg.

The run on dominant centers culminated most recently with Ruth Hamblin, who set a school and Pac-12 single-season record with 141 blocks in 2013-14, before setting the Beavers' career record for rejections in 2014-15 and the Pac-12 career record in 2015-16. The Canadian became the Beavers first All-American in over a decade in April of 2015, when she was named to the AP All-America Third Team. Hamblin also earned Pac-12 Player of the Year (Media) honors, and back-to-back Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year honors. She also produced the first triple-double at Oregon State in 30 years on Jan. 13, 2014 against Oregon with totals of 23 points, 12 rebounds and a school-record 10 blocks.

GILL COLISEUM

Gill Coliseum is the competitive home of the Oregon State men's basketball, women's basketball, women's gymnastics, wrestling and volleyball teams. The arena's capacity is 9,301 for competitions on Ralph Miller Court, and the building also includes a weight room, equipment center, locker rooms and offices for the athletic department and its teams.

Named after the late Slats Gill, who was Oregon State's head men's basketball coach for 36 years, the Coliseum is an excellent facility spanning more than an acre.

Enhancements are being made to Gill Coliseum heading into the 2018-19 sports seasons, headlined by the installation of a center-hung video board. The display features two 14.5-foot-high by 26-foot-wide displays facing the sidelines and two 9.5-foot-high by 16.5-foot-wide displays facing the ends of the arena. The project also includes all new LED lighting.

Gill Coliseum also has a state-of-the-art sports medicine center, located on the lower level, that provides leading-edge injury prevention and rehabilitation services. The center includes cardiovascular equipment and improved training facilities.

With the improvements, Gill Coliseum continues to be an integral part of the heritage of Oregon State athletics. Since its opening in 1949, Gill Coliseum has been part of more than 3,000 victories, more than 150 Oregon State All-Americans and more than 25 individual and team titles.

OSU BASKETBALL CENTER

Opened in the summer of 2013, the OSU Basketball Center is complete with two regulation basketball courts, which occupy the first and third floors of the building, along with locker rooms, satellite training and medical areas, and service and mechanical spaces.

The alternate floors -- second and fourth -- consist of 2,000-square-foot partial floors containing coach and program staff offices. These spaces run the length of the building and offer panoramic views of the court below. Together, the court and program space create a "home" where the sense of family that is the distinctive edge for every Oregon State team can be fostered.

A two-story glass atrium, strikingly illuminated at night, serves as the main entrance and features a Basketball Hall of Fame highlighting the greatest achievements and players of Oregon State's past -- and future. A mural stretching to the height of the atrium celebrates the legacy -- and the terrific student-athletes and coaches -- of Oregon State Beavers basketball.

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY

Oregon State is an international public research university that draws people from all 50 states and more than 100 countries. We go wherever the challenges are, push ourselves to the very edge of what's known and keep going. We are determined to forge solutions. We are diverse and welcoming. We embrace our responsibility to Oregon and the world, building a future that's smarter, healthier, more prosperous and more just. We see what could be and have worked relentlessly to make it so since 1868.

Oregon State is Oregon's largest public research university with 11 colleges, 15 Agricultural Experiment Stations, 35 county Extension offices, the Hatfield Marine Science Center in Newport, OSU-Cascades in Bend and new academic programs in Portland. We have a presence in each of Oregon's 36 counties, a statewide economic footprint of $2.371 billion and an impact that reaches across the state and beyond.

ACADEMICS

Oregon State University's outstanding faculty and academic programs consistently attract more high achieving students than any other school in Oregon. We offer more than 200 undergraduate and 100 graduate degree programs through our 11 colleges, the graduate school and the Honors College, one of only a handful of degree-granting honors programs in the U.S.

- The Center for World University Rankings places Oregon State in the top 1 percent of degree-granting institutions of higher education in the world.
- The Princeton Review lists Oregon State among the top 125 colleges in the western U.S.
- Oregon State's programs in forestry, oceanography, marine biology, natural resources, agriculture, computer science and robotics are ranked among the best in the U.S. and the world.
- U.S. News & World Report has ranked Oregon State's Ecampus in the top 10 for online bachelor's degree programs the last five years in a row.

RESEARCH

Oregon State University earned $441 million in external research funding in 2017, a third consecutive year of record-breaking growth and an increase of more than 67 percent since 2013. Oregon State is one of only two land, sea, space and sun grant institutions in the U.S. and is the only university in Oregon to have earned both Carnegie Classifications for Highest Research Activity and Community Engagement. We are recognized for both scholarly achievement and the direct impact of applied development, fulfilling the land-grant mission to serve the public good.

The OSU research agenda, integrated with our strategic plan, guides faculty inquiry in three signature areas:

- Advancing the science of sustainable earth ecosystems
- Improving human health and wellness
- Promoting economic growth and social progress

Oregon State's researchers are top-ranked in their fields, hold leadership positions in international and national professional organizations and have earned prestigious honors.

Dr. Edward J. Ray became president of Oregon State University on July 31, 2003. Dr. Ray is OSU's 14th president and is Oregon's longest-serving public university president. He has announced that he will step down in June 2020, and a nationwide search for a new president is underway.

Under Dr. Ray's leadership, OSU has completed and updated a visionary campus-wide strategic plan that has served as the framework for the university's development in profound and historic ways.

President Ray partnered with the OSU Foundation to launch the university's first comprehensive fundraising campaign. The public phase of the campaign was launched in October 2007 with an initial goal of $625 million. By the end of the Campaign for OSU on December 31, 2014, its total reached $1.14 billion, including nearly $189 million for scholarships and fellowships, 79 newly endowed faculty positions, and funding for key scientific and learning facilities like the Lois Bates Acheson Veterinary Teaching Hospital, the Hallie Ford Center for Healthy Children and Families, the Linus Pauling Science Center, the International Living-Learning Center, a renovated Furman Hall for the College of Education, the Graduate Studies Center at OSU-Cascades and four new student cultural resource centers.

Mindful of OSU's commitment to the people of Oregon, Dr. Ray has overseen the implementation of dual-enrollment agreements with all 17 of the state's community colleges, making it easier for students to complete four-year degrees. He also has taken a leadership role in fostering a more seamless PreK-20 system, working with area school superintendents, community college leaders and university colleagues to strengthen institutional connections and enhance the student experience from kindergarten through college. Dr. Ray also helped to usher in a new era of cooperation between Oregon's public universities. In Central Oregon, OSU-Cascades moved to its own campus in 2016, creating a robust four-year branch university campus, thanks to strong state, community and philanthropic support.

Dr. Ray's leadership extends within many organizations. He has served on boards of the American Council on Education, the Association of Public Land-grant Universities and Oregon Special Olympics. In recognition of his contributions to higher education regionally, he received the 2013 CASE District VIII Leadership Award.

Dr. Ray was a member of the economics faculty at The Ohio State University from 1970 to 2003, serving as economics department chair from 1976 to 1992. He served as associate provost from 1992 to 1993, senior vice provost and chief information officer from 1993 to 1998 and executive vice president and provost from 1998 to 2003.

His research interests include the history of protectionism in the United States, the determinants of U.S. foreign direct investment and foreign direct investment in America, the structure of tariff and non-tariff trade barriers in the U.S. and abroad, and the adoption of the Social Security system. His work has been published in The American Economic Review, The Journal of Political Economy, The Quarterly Journal of Economics, The Review of Economic Studies, The Review of Economics and Statistics and other leading journals. He has co-authored a principles text, and his book, "U. S. Protectionism and the World Debt Crisis," was published by Quorum Press in 1989.

Dr. Ray received his undergraduate degree in mathematics from Queens College (CUNY) in 1966, graduating cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa. He earned his master's in economics in 1969 and his doctorate in economics from Stanford, in 1971.

Dr. Ray's wife, Beth, passed away in March 2014. He has three children and three grandchildren.

“Scott (Barnes) has demonstrated, everywhere he’s been, that he is committed to helping student-athletes be among the very best at whatever they chose to do academically and on the field. It was clear to me as we moved forward the person we needed to lead us where we aspire to go is Scott Barnes. He is a proven performer in exciting fans and alumni.”

That statement was delivered by Oregon State University President Dr. Ed Ray as he officially introduced Barnes as the Beavers’ Vice President and Director of Athletics on Dec. 22, 2016.

In Barnes’ relatively short tenure, OSU Athletics has already made significant strides academically and athletically. In his first two full years at OSU student-athletes have been selected to the Pac-12 Conference Academic teams 288 times, the department continues to register record cumulative GPAs every term, the Valley Football Center officially opened and the popular Fan Experience Committee was created. In addition, he has increased the emphasis on fundraising and developing a sustainable business model that will ensure Beaver Athletics continues to progress and thrive, and debuted the BUILD THE DAM Strategic Plan to guide the program forward for future years.

Facilities has been the forefront of Barnes’ leadership at OSU. He has spearheaded facility projects that include a $3.5 million refresh of the Sports Performance Center, completion of phase II of the Valley Football Center, a remodel of the women’s basketball locker room, and the construction of Casey Corner at Goss Stadium at Coleman Field, among other projects.

Barnes has made numerous strategic hires with the Beavers’ intercollegiate programs, including head football coach Jonathan Smith, head men’s soccer coach Terry Boss, head women’s rowing coach Kate Maxim, head track and field/cross country coach Louie Quintana, head baseball coach Mitch Canham, and head women’s soccer coach Matt Kagan.

“We are building for stability and sustainability in all of our programs, and to create a vision that excites and inspires all of Beaver Nation,” Barnes said. proaching 20 years as an athletics director. He arrived back to his native Pacific Northwest from the University of Pittsburgh, where he served as the Panthers’ Director of Athletics for nearly two years. Pittsburgh achieved high success academically and athletically that included bowl trips, conference titles and record academic achievements.

Prior to Pitt, Barnes headed the Utah State University athletics program from 2008-15 as Director of Athletics and was promoted to Vice President in 2012. While at Utah State, the Aggies experienced unprecedented success that included multiple bowl trips in football, 20 league titles and a successful transition to the Mountain West Conference.

Barnes has also served as the Director of Athletics at Eastern Washington University and Humboldt State University. In addition, he has held various athletics roles at the University of The Pacific, the University of San Diego, Iowa State University and the University of Washington. He also has experience in corporate business and professional basketball.

The Spokane native graduated from Fresno State with a bachelor’s degree in 1986 and a master’s degree in athletics administration and physical education in 1993. A basketball letterman under coach Boyd Grant, he helped the Bulldogs advance to two NCAA Tournaments and two NITs. Barnes was a second-team all-conference player as a senior before playing professionally in Germany.

He and his wife, Jody, have two children: Daughter, Milanna, and son, Isaac, a member of the Beaver men’s basketball team. In addition, the family dog is appropriately named Benny (OSU’s mascot is Benny Beaver).

Barnes’ accomplishments as the Vice President and Director of Athletics at Oregon State:

inspires all of Beaver Nation,” Barnes said. As part of the overall university administration, Barnes serves on several key committees and represents OSU at the Pac-12 Conference and NCAA levels. The two-time Far West Region Athletic Director of the Year recently spent five years on the NCAA Men’s Basketball Committee (Chair for 2014-15).
