SEVEN SERENADERS PLAY

Student Executive Committee Frowns On Attempts at Impromptu Rallies

Homecoming plans and other important matters, in connection with the event will feature the student body meeting at 1 o'clock this afternoon in the men's gymnasium.

Committees Report

Reports from the chairmen of several homecoming committees are to be given and all are urged to attend. Wayne Davis as chairman of the Greater O. A. C. committee will report on the plans for the week-end. Mervin Good will explain about the new stunt and jazz show to be held in the armory on Friday evening and Gus Hixon, chairman of the "Pep" committee, is to give some sidelights on the big parade and rally.

Observe Ruling

The student body executive committee requests that there be no more impromptu rallies until further notice. "It is of the utmost importance that this ruling be observed," says John Alexander, student body president. "Gus" Edwards, instructor in public speaking, has consented to be present and give a short talk. The fact that Oswald's Serenaders will furnish music promises some good entertainment for the large number expected to attend.

HORNER GIVES LECTURE

Talks Before Teacher's Institute; Many Old Students Present

Following Professor Horner's lecture on "Oregon" before the Washington County Teacher's Institute last Friday an O. A. C. luncheon was served at the Washington Hotel in Hillsboro.

The following were present: O. A. C. Regent, State School Superintendent Churchill; H. E. Lafsky '20; Olive C. Bennett '19; Alice Gilstrap '22; J. B. Horner; Ivan R. Metzler '20; James H. Jack; Ellen O. Johnson '21; Henry Jones; Tolbert Stevens; Vida Young, '17; Thos. L. Smith; Elmer Thompson; T. E. Price; Geof. W. Kable; V. A. Davis 1880.

In the course of the toasts State Superintendent Churchill spoke very encouragingly of the Oregon Agricultural college and placed considerable stress on the need of young men who will prepare themselves as teachers under the Smith-Hughes Act. All discussed "Home-coming Week" with a smack of enthusiasm that was somewhat remarkable.

HONOR SYSTEM AIMS HIGH

Miss Livingstone Favors Adoption of These Rules by Students

"The honor system is worthy of much thought and grave attention," is the opinion of Miss Edith Livingstone, acting dean of women.

"The aim is a high one and I would like to see it given a place on this campus. The honor system is farther reaching than preventing cheating in examinations and copying notebooks. It is establishing a rule of life—a rule of honor which everyone would wish to follow; it is establishing honor in personal conduct."

"When a person is dishonorable in one thing, however small, one seldom trusts him in other matters."

Miss Edith Livingstone, acting dean of women, spent the week-end in Portland, returning Sunday night.

"ASIA" WILL BE TOPIC OF Y. W. C. A. PRAYER WEEK

Miss Taylor Stresses Urgent Need of Relief for Strife Torn Countries of the East

"Asia" is today's subject for the week of prayer conducted by the world's committee of the Y. W. C. A. "I think to everyone there is a fascination about the Orient and the picturesque of much of the life, but in addition there is a sordidness and distress among masses of people that we seldom comprehend," said Miss Gladys Taylor in announcing the subject. "The women of the Orient have been coming into power and position by leaps and bounds. The geisha girls, factory workers, and students are all finding a new power which is expressed in different ways."

In China, the Christian forces are organizing the Christian Church of China which will be a native church mission boards for authority. In India, the country is torn by the non-cooperative movement against the rule of Great Britain.

The prayers of women in nearly every country of the world today are in behalf of the women in these countries who are struggling for greater freedom and joy in living.

NEW STUDENT HANDBOOKS NOW ON SALE

SPECIAL FEATURES ADD TO ATTRACTION OF BOOK

Copies Limited so Everyone Urged to Buy Theirs Early; Being Sold in Lobby of Library

The student handbook, a vest pocket compilation of general campus information, is on sale this afternoon in the lobby of the library. Every one is urged to buy his copy as early as possible as the supply is limited. The price is 25 cents.

A special feature of the book is an envelope in the back cover which provides a place in which to carry the student body ticket. The publication is securely bound with covers of black and stamped with a brilliant "O" on the cover.

The opening feature of the book is an article by President W. J. Kerr. Other features of the book are surveys of student activities on the campus, as the associations, publications, organizations, and honor societies.

Information in Book

Beaver songs and yells, athletic schedule, 1922-23 calendar, addresses and telephone numbers of the sororities, fraternities, and clubs, addresses of the churches, class and college traditions are useful parts of the publication.

Information on the college and student administration, student loans and college prizes may be found in the handbook.

Besides imparting information of various kinds this book may serve as a date book for girls or a diary for men.

LUNCHEON PLANS LAID

Scribe Society to Honor Wives of Prominent Newspaper Men

Plans for a luncheon to be given during home coming week-end in honor of the wives of prominent newspaper men were discussed at the Scribe luncheon in the tea room Tuesday.

Mrs. Edgar B. Piper, wife of the managing editor of the Oregonian, Mrs. Elbert Bede, wife of the president of the Oregon State editorial association, and Marguerite "Scoop" Gleason, formerly an O. A. C. journalistic now on the staff of the Salem Statesman are among those who will be present.

The Scribe luncheon will be given Saturday at noon in Cauthorn hall while the members of Sigma Delta Chi are entertaining the editors at Poling hall. Thirty persons are expected to be present.

ELLA AULD ON CAMPUS

Ella Auld, a freshman last year in the school of commerce spent the week-end visiting on the campus. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi.

OREGON'S FUNERAL PYRE IS GOING UP

Army Truck, Driver, and Five Wagons to Aid Rooks in Getting Materials

ALL FRESHMEN TO WORK

Members of Class Expect to "Raise Biggest Smoke Ever Started"

When the college whistle blows at 5 o'clock Thursday, the foundation for the blaze that is to mark Oregon's swan song will be started by the class of '26, according to Herbert McCoy, chairman of the rook bonfire committee. The men working directly under him, and equally responsible for its success are George Lance, B. Lawson Smith, Willard Lehy, and George Handerson.

Four Poles Cut

Much has already been done during the last week-end, says McCoy. Four poles for the corners have already been cut and are hidden near town. They are 30 feet long, and will be set in the ground west of the armory, the location of last year's fire.

An army truck, a chauffeur, and five wagons have been obtained to aid the rook's in scouring the surrounding country for inflammable material. A captain has been appointed to take charge of each wagon, and the entire squadron is in charge of George Handerson. Three loads of construction material have already been gathered.

Not Excused from Classes

McCoy expects his men to work all night Thursday, and freshmen are not excused from any classes. Shifts have already been arranged so that every rook will bear his share of the burden.

The pyre is to be 24 feet square and 30 feet high, with an ornamental head-piece to top it off, is the report. Two barrels of oil will be used to "raise the biggest smoke ever made," say members of the class.

Work Starts Tomorrow

"The building begins at 5 o'clock Thursday," says E. B. Beaty, freshman advisor. Every rook with the proper Beaver spirit will be just west of the armory ready to do his part in building the fire.

"Freshmen are expected to attend classes, but those with vacant hours should report for work at once. We want to rush this thing through with a bang, and build the best bonfire in the least time ever taken by any freshman class."

Work slips will be given out to those who work on the bonfire. These must be signed by the chairman of the bonfire committee, according to Robin Reed, vigilance president. All rooks should get these slips and keep them, because a check will be made soon after the bonfire, and those who cannot produce conclusive evidence of hard work will have a little session with the paddle wielders, says Reed.

ARMY OFFICER ASSIGNED

Word has been received by the College military department of the assignment of Captain Arnold R. C. Sander to this institution. Captain Sander has been with the forty-seventh infantry stationed at Camp Lewis.

SEATS FOR GAME ARE SELLING FAST

Big Throng of Visitors To Be on Campus for Annual Gridiron Classic

SPECIAL TRAIN BEING RUN

Students Must Obtain Tickets at Library Immediately Says Carl Lodell

Every ticket in the grandstand will be sold by to-morrow evening, thinks Carl Lodell, manager of student activities. Portland, Eugene and Salem have sold out their entire number, Albany and Corvallis have a few of the end seats left and Manager Lodell has less than 100 at his disposal. From all indications the largest crowd that ever saw a football game will be on hand when the whistle blows next Saturday. Temporary bleachers will be erected at both the south and north ends of the field to take care of as many of the general admission spectators as possible. The Orange "O" men will be seated on the special bleachers in front of the grandstand as of last year.

Special Trains Coming

The Southern Pacific will run a special that will leave Portland at 11 a. m. arriving in Corvallis at 1:40. This train will return after the game. The Oregon Electric will also run a special arriving here at approximately 2 o'clock.

Students Get Tickets

Manager Lodell has announced that the special student ticket will be available every afternoon beginning today. Every student is expected to get his ticket as soon as possible. They can be had by presenting the student body ticket at the library between 1 and 5. Manager Lodell explains that this is necessary to get an accurate check on the student attendance at the game and he urges that everyone get his ticket before Saturday. These are absolutely necessary to be admitted to the game.

INDEPENDENT HOOPERS MIX

Last Week of Season's Intramural Basketball Schedule Comes

Three intramural basketball games were played in the independent league Monday night. This is the last week of the season's schedule and games will be played every night except Friday.

Group four defeated Western club 24-5. Tippery of Group four was high man of the club with 13 points. Group three won over Willamette club 16-10. G. Mercer of Group three made the most number of points having 10 to his credit. Group one defeated Miami club 17-10. Malone of Miami was high man of the game with 8 points. Wolf of Group one was high man of his team with 5 points.

PLAN STUDENT SUNDAY

Special Addresses Will Be Given at all Corvallis Churches

"The World Student Sunday will be observed in Corvallis November 26 in recognition of the University Day of Prayer for Colleges which is a day set apart by the World Student federation. The Universal Day of Prayer is being observed November 19 by other colleges but owing to homecoming week-end the day has been postponed one week.

Through the cooperation of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. all churches of Corvallis are devoting the morning services on November 26 to the interests of the students of the world. Special addresses will be given by the pastors and in many of the churches students will assist in the services.

In recognition of this day members of the faculty and the student body are urged to attend the church of their choice on that day.

Fight, fight, fight, for dear old O. A. C.
Fight, fight, fight and bring us victory,
Come on boys and yell with all your might,
For there's a hot time in the old town tonight.

Seven to nothing for dear old O. A. C.
Seven to nothing which brings us victory,
Come on boys and yell all your might,
For there's a hot time in the old town tonight.

Clip and bring to student assembly.

CO-ED ATHLETES ELECT MANAGERS OF SPORTS

Absent Members Will Lose Points and Membership from W. A. A. if Without Excuse

Sport managers for the coming year were elected at the last meeting of the women's athletic association. Ethel Swartz is sport manager for volleyball; Marie Tonseth, basketball; Lenore Preston, swimming; Josephine Goldstaub, hiking; Mildred Rogers, hockey; Alice Nielson, tennis; Ruth Harvey, baseball, and Ruth Wilson, track.

Any member of the association who is absent for three consecutive meetings without submitting a good excuse to the president or secretary loses 25 points and membership. When the 25 points are made up, she becomes an active member again.

Lenore Preston presided at the meeting in the absence of Eline Anderson who is attending the Women's league convention.

SHAKOPEAN TRYOUT PLANNED NOV. 22

MOCK TRIAL MAY FEATURE PROGRAM OF SOCIETY

Open Meetings Will Give Students Opportunity to Learn Work Club Accomplishes

Students interested in debating, parliamentary drill, or public speaking are eligible to try out for the Shako-pean Literary society at Shepard hall November 22 at 7:30. A speech or reading from 3 to 5 minutes long on any subject should be prepared. It may or may not be original.

A more extensive program than has been previously carried out is being planned by the club for this year. The club is going to keep in touch with the work done by literary societies on other campuses over the United States and also with the national organization. Study of parliamentary drill is to be taken up at the monthly meetings.

All students on the campus will be given an opportunity to become acquainted with the work of the club at open meetings to be held throughout the year. The first program of this nature will be December 6. Wilma Dohell, Sonia Wilderman, and Donald Sroat will have charge of this open meeting. The full program has not been announced but a mock trial will be one of the features.

DELEGATES ARE BACK

National Convention of Women's Leagues Held at Salt Lake

Frances Benson and Eline Anderson have just returned from the national women's league convention held at Salt Lake City, November 8, 9, and 10.

A round of entertainment was furnished these two representatives from O. A. C. while they attended the convention. They enjoyed speeches of welcome, luncheons, and sight-seeing trips. The program ended Friday night with a dinner and dance given at the Utah hotel by Chi Delta Phi, honorary literary society.

A report of plans for the following year will be given at the next women's league meeting.

AGGIE TEAM KEEN TO FIGHT OREGON

Every Man in Shape for Big Contest According to Coach Rutherford

OPPONENTS PLAN VICTORY

Lemon-Yellow Backed to Win by 14 Points; "Can't Be Done," Say Beavers

"All of the men will be in shape for the first time this season," says Coach R. B. "Dick" Rutherford.

"Oregon is backed to win by at least 14 points but, believe me, she will know she has gone through some battle when she has made them against the Aggies," he continued.

Oregon made an excellent showing against W. S. C. which should have pleased Coach "Shy" Huntington very much. Huntington in a statement to the press before the Cougar game said, "The W. S. C. game will be the hardest and the most important game on our schedule this year."

Oregon Expects Win

Oregon won the game by a good margin and if it was the hardest game on their schedule she should be confident of her ability to humble the Aggies Saturday, in the opinion of sideline fans.

The Aggies, it is thought, will be able to stop the Oregon backs in their attack on the line and will force Huntington to show a more diversified attack to put over the 14 points Oregon has set as the minimum amount she will be satisfied with.

Practice Strictly Secret

Coach Rutherford does not seem so sure of Oregon's ability to drub his team so decisively. Monday and Tuesday nights the team scrimmaged until long after most of the people on the campus had their dinner. If long hours and hard work count for anything the men should be able to give a good account of themselves even against the lemon-yellow wonder team, say experts.

None except those on the football squad will be allowed near the football field or in the armory while the team is practicing. It is impossible to get a line on how the various men of the team are showing up but no one seems to be unduly worried about the battle Saturday.

SET RULES DRAWN UP FOR BAG RUSH

ROOK FOOTBALL MEN ARE DECLARED ELIGIBLE

Annual Inter-Class Struggle Planned for Saturday at 11 O'clock on Football Field

The annual rook-sophomore bag rush will take place on the rook football field at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The rook football men have been declared eligible for the fray, and rook stock is taking a jump.

The committee appointed to draw up a set of rules has adopted the following which are to be strictly observed. Each class will have eleven teams composed of seven men each. Each team will take its position back of its own goal and remain there until the referee's whistle is blown.

When a bag is carried over the opponent's goal line one point is given, the team securing the most points being the winner. Rubber soled shoes will be required and no wearing of any sort of football equipment or padding will be allowed. Rook's faces must be blacked and there will be no slugging nor profane language tolerated.

THE BIG GAME VS. STUDY

Now that the good news has been broadcast concerning Friday, it is up to every student not to break faith with the administration in granting this privilege. With the thorough understanding that no impromptu rallies are to be staged at night, that all business will be conducted in an orderly manner up to the proper time, any attempt by misguided ones to violate the agreement would amount to downright treachery.

The new plan will meet with approval from every source, particularly the faculty. In years past the efficiency of students has been cut down to about 30 to 40 per cent because of preparations for the Big Game.

Under the new arrangement sleepy-eyed students in classes will have no excuse to offer, and none will be accepted. In fact, everyone should function 100 per cent efficiently until the day of preparation.

TO OUR HOUSEMOTHERS

Nothing is too good for our housemothers! No act of courtesy, no mark of respect is too great, by which we may honor and dignify their position on this campus.

The housemother links up the home with the college. She must play the role of mental, social and spiritual adviser to those in her care. Nothing so cleanses the atmosphere for a student, than a good old heart-to-heart talk with someone who understands. And this, be it known, is an endowment for which our housemothers are loved—for their ability to "understand."

More and more the citizens of the state are recognizing the responsibility of housemothers in molding the lives of their sons and daughters at college. The housemothers themselves, are daily coming into contact with problems which require greater tact and sympathy. Those in charge of women's organizations meet regularly at various houses for a sort of round table discussion of these various problems.

No official recognition has yet been made of the housemothers in men's organizations. While it is optional with the organization whether it has a housemother, her responsibility is none the less great. And certainly they would profit by an exchange of ideas, even if they be but few in number.

Here's to our housemothers! They smile at our pranks, advise us when we are puzzled, sympathize with us when we're grieved, and make college life more worth living.

AT LAST

The hectic career of the iron lady is soon to end. Firmly and immovably will she be "sot" upon her pedestal at the main entrance of the campus, either today or tomorrow.

No longer will nocturnal marauders seek to kidnap the fair damsel, for, loaded with concrete and heavy metal, nothing short of a blast of dynamite will dislodge her.

Many years ago Sir Walter Scott penned an inscription that well might be carved upon the pedestal of the goddess. It is "This rock shall fly from its firm base as soon as I."

general gym for exercise and credit. After they are through with their workouts and are taking their shower, they apparently forget that there is a football team still out on the field, drilling for them and for the BIG game, because when the football men come in to take their shower what do they find? cold water. Now then, put yourselves in the places of the football men. How would you like to turn out for football every day, take all the hard knocks and bruises, get all hot and sweaty, and come in to a cold water shower? Hot water is the greatest cure for bruises and sore spots on the surface and just beneath the skin of the human body. Cold water has a stiffening property about it that the men do not like and simply will not take. They have to take all the hard knocks and bruises for the men who rob them of the greatest helper they have: hot water. So we football men ask of the men taking gym and other gym work just before the team comes in, to be conservative with the hot water. Make it go around as far as it will. Help put the men in condition for that BIG game. You can do it. The team will certainly appreciate all the hot water they can get. Put your shoulder to the game and help put a victorious team on Bell field.—A Player.

Dear Editor: An article appeared in this column yesterday about girls wearing roofer caps. The chief objection to this was that it would develop a type of "rah-rah" co-ed who would discredit the institution. May I ask, do the girls in hundreds of other institutions throughout the country bring discredit upon their college because they make an outward showing of college spirit?

The other reason was because it was considered unwomanly by the Woman's league. As far as that goes, it is not very gentlemanly for college men to swim around in a sea of mud for 2 hours a night 3 months in the year to perfect a football machine that will bring credit to the institution.

Neither is it very gentlemanly for a Yell leader to roll around in the mud in an attempt to get noise out of a crowd of onlookers. But they do it because they are interested in the school and have that real Aggie fight that cannot be expressed by waving a pom-pom or bringing an O. A. C. blanket to the game (to keep them warm). Why should the women of the college be so dignified that they cannot express their college spirit in a real American way?

The opinion also seemed to be that the few girls who are wearing the college colors are wearing them to attract attention. It should be that the few Co-eds who do not wear the college colors are the ones who attract the attention.—Another Upper-classman.

RUBY CAMPBELL ENGAGED

Announcement of the engagement of Ruby Campbell, '21 graduate from the school of home economics, to Edward Finney, a former O. A. C. student and a member of Theta Chi fraternity, has been received at the Alpha Xi Delta house. Miss Campbell is teaching domestic science in high school at Astoria. Mr. Finney is also working in that city.

BEEZLE PROPOSES NOVEL SCHEME

Dear friends:—The other day a feminine friend of the oppos. sex unfolded a plan which looks to me like it would save many a housemother and preceptress an anxious moment or two. I won't mention the gal's name for fear she might get indutch with her sisters.

This idea works out like this. Down in the barometer office they has got a rubber stamp which says the time on it and which they stamps news stories with when they is turned in. Well the idea is this. Provide every preceptress and house mama with one of them stamps and an ink pad and then when some gal says, "Please, Miss Informed, may I go out with Mr. Turner Handspring tonight?", why the poor woman don't have to argue about being back ere the lights blink. All she does is take her rubber stamp and stamp it on, say, the gal's arm for convenience and then she can turn in. Well the gal goes out and then when she comes back they have another rubber stamp on the door knob and when she takes hold of it, it automatically stamps the time on her lily white hand.

Well folks I see no reason why this good idea wouldn't go over big. It would revolutionize things around here and knock all the females for a row of peruvian parsnips. Of courses if some ill-advised maiden, which has snook out, should try to sneak in with some other gall it might be necessary to put in turnstiles. If you hear of any outfit which craves to try this scheme just send them around and I will sell all rights in the matter for a nominal fee, but I think it would be better to leave my name out of it for diplomatic reasons.

Yours for reform,
Beezle.

FANS WATCHING BEARS

California Eleven Victorious Over Trojan and Cougar Varsityies

University of California, Berkeley, Nov. 9.—(Special to the Barometer)—This year's Bruin Varsity still seems to be the unknown quantity in Pacific Coast football. A week ago Saturday the Trojans held them to a surprisingly low score. This caused numerous pessimistic reports on the Bears. Then last Saturday the Bears trounced the Cougars 61 to 0. This game, just as the Olympic Club game, was rated a tough battle and now praises are again in order just as they were following the Olympic Club surprise.

At any rate, suffice it to say, the Bears have two conference victories tucked under their belts and will give everything they have to cop off the third which is considered by Coach "Andy" Smith the deciding one. If they can come out on the long end of the score at Seattle on Armistice Day, the Golden Bear will feel pretty confident of again heading the list.

It is true that Washington State proved only three points weaker than the Sundodgers and the Blue and Gold defeated Washington State by 61 points but a little closer attention will show that these figures are misleading in the extreme.

Hickey, J. Davis and Durrwachter came to Berkeley injured as a result of the University of Washington game the previous week, while McKay, all-Coast guard, and Crow, center did not even accompany the team because of injuries.

DRAPES AND FRAMEWORK REPLACE PAINTED SCENES

Art and Home Economics Departments Working Out Stage Effects for Mask and Dagger Play

New ideas in stage effects and furnishings are being worked out for "Adam and Eva," the play to be produced by Mask and Dagger in December. The old time painted scenes will be replaced by New York's latest ideas of drapes and frameworks. The art and home economics departments are working out the stage effects for the play and it is believed that some artistic settings will be produced.

Second Cast to Give Play

The second cast for "Adam and Eva," under the direction of Miss Alice Feike, consisting of understudies of the first cast in planning to give at least one public performance of the play.

The cast of understudies at present includes Norris Sewell, Adam; Dorothy Hubbs, Eva; Lloyd Reynolds, Mr. King; wealthy father of Eva; Frankie Holm, Julie, and Stafford Sadler, Clinton, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. King; Glenn Burright, Uncle Horace, brother-in-law of Mr. King who came to spend the week-end and stayed 15 years; Harold McAndie, Lord Andrew and Julian Miley, Dr. Delmater, both suitors of Eva's; Marjorie Niles, Corintha; and Kathleen Bitney, Abbie, the maid.

New Furnishings Planned

New furnishings for the Mask and Dagger room in Shepard hall were planned Thursday night at a meeting of the club. The furnishings will include rugs and drapes for the rooms.

INDUSTRIAL CLUB MEMBERSHIP HIGH

9298 OREGON YOUNG PEOPLE ENROLL IN 961 GROUPS

Two Girls Make Perfect Project Score; Attractive Exhibits Shown at Various Fairs

Oregon youths enrolled in the industrial club work of the Oregon Agricultural college this year number 9298. This number were organized into 961 clubs with as many leaders. Exhibits of these clubs were shown at 220 community fairs, 27 county fairs, at the Oregon state fair, and at two other interstate fairs.

The exhibits were not passive. They spoke and attracted attention. Adults were outdone in many of their projects. Two championship prizes, 17 firsts, 18 seconds, and 19 other places were awarded the youngsters in open competition.

Two girls made perfect scores in their projects. Helen Heisey of Gresham who took home-making and Marjorie Stark of Portland who took canning, tied for the cup offered to the high point girl by the Oregon Farmer. A second cup was contributed by J. D. Farrell of Portland, so that neither girl will be disappointed.

Lester Barrows of Shaw, Marion county, was awarded the Oregon Farmer cup for the high point boy. He won a championship prize in open competition, seven firsts, and two seconds. Homer Bray of Salem, a five year veteran in club work scored high. To him were given three firsts, five second, and five other prizes in open competition, the sum of his prizes amounting to $193 this year alone.

Club workers are active in the Pacific International Livestock exposition in Portland and those who prove successful there will carry their work still further.

MACPHERSON IN PORTLAND

Attends Meeting of Farm Bureau and Cooperative Council

Hector Macpherson, professor of economics and sociology and director of the bureau of organization and markets, was in Portland last week attending meetings of the Oregon cooperative council and of the Oregon state farm bureau federation.

Professor Macpherson is working with the executive committee of the Oregon state farm bureau federation to get out a plan for incorporating the state farm bureau.

Donald J. Sanford of Montesano, Wash., who is a sophomore in the school of commerce has recently been pledged to Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

What Ho! Ex-Cowboy in Our Midst!

Director Jardine Threw a Mean Lasso Back in the Days When He Was a Shepherd

An educated cowboy and grizzly bear hunter is a member of the faculty. Who is he?

None other than James T. Jardine, head of the experiment station. "To be sure he doesn't wear "chaps" and carry a revolver now, but he used to.

As a small boy on a farm and cattle ranch in southern Idaho Jimmy rode bucking broncos and swung a lasso in a way that would do credit to Buffalo Bill. He herded sheep on the range while still young, and served his time in the night herd gang. The open plains, the trample of hundreds of hoofs, the wailing of the coyote, and at night a single blanket by a tiny fire—this was the atmosphere in which he grew up.

Took Part in Opera

Ambition and an overwhelming curiosity led him to give up this carefree existence, and at the age of 18 he left the ranch and started to college. He attended the Agricultural college, where he was prominent in all activities from rooting to opera. He played football four years, took part in college operas, and was class president two years. He also attended the University of Chicago.

His work after finishing college was to work out methods of herding sheep in the Blue mountains of Oregon without injury to the flocks.

Many thrilling experiences are connected with these years, for wild animals abounded, and it was a free, outdoor life.

Director Jardine tells hunting stories that would make Teddy Roosevelt green with envy, and lead the hearer to wonder if he might not be a fisherman as well as hunter judging from their well-known characteristics of that type of sportsman.

Many Bear Bagged

Eighteen bear, including five grizzlies, were killed near the flocks he was watching, as well as numerous wild cats and other animals.

"No, it was perfectly safe," said he, when asked if he were ever inclined to climb a tree. "So long as the wind blows from the man to the bear he will not harm, for they are afraid of men."

Managed Big Ranch

For years Director Jardine had charge of all the ranch investigation work of the forest service. Among his minor duties were the management of a 200,000 acre livestock ranch in New Mexico, and another of 50,000 in Arizona.

His work took him around the United States at least twice a year, he was in intimate contact with agricultural

ARCH PRESERVER SHOE

Save Your Feet—

Trouble waits for no one, especially foot trouble. It is upon you without warning and remains a long time. Guard against foot troubles NOW, then you are spared long years of suffering and annoyance.

ARCH PRESERVER SHOES are built with one specific purpose in mind—to save feet. And the saved foot means a comfortable foot. This shoe protects the foot where protection is needed—from beneath.

Its broad, long, built-in bridge gently yet firmly supports the arch, evenly distributes the weight and enables the wearer to walk with an erect, graceful carriage.

Engineering for the Buyer

It is not enough that electrical apparatus should be carefully conceived, skillfully designed, and exactly manufactured.

Engineering, to fulfill all its functions, must go beyond these necessary steps and do a still more enlightened service. It must apply the apparatus to its uses, so that not only in design and construction but in service as well, all the conditions that must be reckoned with are fully satisfied.

This function of Westinghouse application engineering covers many fields, and charges itself with many responsibilities. It is engineering that concerns itself with almost every aspect of business, central station, transportation, industrial, mining, electro-chemical, etc. It has the buyer's interest constantly at heart.

Westinghouse Application Engineering works with salesmen, with buyers, with consulting engineers, with contractors, and with service and repair men; it finds and investigates new fields; it checks the behavior of apparatus, old and new; it is a bridge over which information passes freely in both directions between Westinghouse and its thousands of clients and friends.

Be glad that you are to live and work in times when the spirit of service dominates commercial operations. The greatest change that has occurred in business in the last few decades has been in the minds of men. No longer need the buyer beware for it is now known that the seller's obligation reaches beyond the completion of the sale; and that it is both wise and right that every reasonable effort be made to give the buyer full value in both product and satisfaction. The practise of this policy requires engineering of the highest type in research, design, manufacturing and every other phase of Westinghouse operations, but nowhere to greater degree than in the field of application engineering, which is essentially engineering for the buyer.

ACHIEVEMENT & OPPORTUNITY

LOCAL MERCHANTS FOSTER FESTIVITY

City Chamber of Commerce to Secure Decorations for Corvallis Shops

The homecoming spirit is spreading! More contagious than the measles, it has swept the campus with its fever, has infected 5000 alumni and former students, and has now spread to Corvallis and claimed the Chamber of Commerce among its victims.

Flags, bunting, and signs will decorate the city for three festive days as a result of action taken by the local organization of business men. With N. R. Moore, mayor of the city, starting them off with a pledge of $25.00, this body is donating $85.00 to purchase of the services and "trimmings" of a Portland firm who specializes in decorations of city streets and shops.

Town Will Decorate

The business portion of Corvallis, and Monroe, Madison, and Jefferson streets will all be bedecked in the Aggie orange and black and with slogans adjuring the team to fight, and welcoming "old grads" and visitors to the city. Campus decorations are under charge of the rooks, with the exception of Bell field and the stadium which the engineers have offered to embellish.

The maze of bunting which will be draped at the entrance of the campus will be stretched along each side of the path leading to the administration building. Signs along this trail over which "old grads" have loitered in their undergraduate days will direct them to the commerce building, where a huge sign will decorate the business bastille as "Homecoming Headquarters."

Alumni Secretary Moves

The office of Zelta Feike, alumni secretary, has been moved to the first floor of this building. Here preparations are being made that every convenience may be offered the returning alumni and that they will put into practice the slogan, "Meet that old grad date at the alumni headquarters."

Palms and low chairs will convert the hall into a reception lobby. Rest rooms are being equipped to accommodate the overflow of alumni who are expected to throng the office of their alumni secretary obtaining their badges of recognition, and the tickets to the alumni banquet to be held in the tea room at noon.

NOTICES

Notice is hereby given that in the second term the course designated at present as English 201, Advanced English Composition, will be offered in two sections. One section, to be known as English 201c, Advanced English Composition, will study and practice business writing; the other, to be known as English 201n, Advanced English Composition, will study and practice narrative writing. The syllabus of each division contemplates three recitations in each week and three credits accruing from the course completed.

Women in the sophomore year of the courses in home economics, and others, in case they are planning to register in English 213 (Short-Story) in the third term, would find the course in English 201n especially beneficial as a preliminary training for the course in English 213.

Students interested in the course in English 201n and in English 213 should consult posters soon to appear on the bulletin boards in the Home Economics Building.

Sport Whispers

This fellow King, who backs up the line for Oregon and plays halfback on offense, is one wonderful football player. He is never down until both teams are piled up on top of him. When some man pokes his head through the line with the ball King hits him like a battering ram.

—Smear Oregon—
Hunk Latham, the elongated backfield man fell over the line several times for substantial gains. All Hunk has to do is to straighten out his huge carcass and the yardage is made.

—Smear Oregon—
Chapman, Oregon quarterback, is fast developing into a swell little field general and can pass a football better than most men can throw a baseball.

—Smear Oregon—
This fellow Spears that plays on one of the ends is said to have a knockout punch in either hand and uses it to good advantage on every down.

—Smear Oregon—
Of course O. A. C. has a few men who have played some football but this wonder team of Oregon's has got them all guessing. It is even considered possible for Oregon to beat the California team.

—Smear Oregon—
It would be a shame if Oregon was not allowed to play the annual east-west classic on New Years day. O. A. C. would like to play it but next to her playing she would like to see Oregon play in order to keep it in this grand old state of ours.

—Smear Oregon—
Of course Oregon has all of the best of it so far as the dope is concerned but on various occasions the dope on the O. A. C. vs. Oregon game has been upset and spilled all over the lot.

—Smear Oregon—
A lot of local fans say they would rather lose than have another tie game. They say that a tie game does not decide anything. It does determine, however, that one is not any better than the other.

—Smear Oregon—
Victory is what everyone should want and if they pull hard enough and back their team to the last ditch there is no reason in the world why the Aggies cannot come out on top.

—Smear Oregon—
The professors that are having their classes answer roll call with a "Smear Oregon" have got it on a lot of the students when it comes to a real live interest in the team. Everyone should consider it a disgrace to have some other person beat him in the fight he displays for O. A. C.

—Smear Oregon—
"Smear Oregon?" of course we will smear Oregon. Just because she won a game last week is no sign she can win when she bucks up against the Beavers. "Let's go out and get 'em."
