Ready for Festivities

PHIL HOFFMAN, '51, chairman of men's activities for Mothers weekend greets Marilyn Moser, '51, Paul Moser, '50, and Mrs. F. E. Moser, their mother, as the three enter the Memorial Union to attend Mothers weekend festivities in the building.

Men's Dorms To Honor Moms At Turkey Feed

Plaque Presentation To Reward Halls For Activity Work

One hundred mothers of men living in the three dormitories, Main, Central, and Hudson, will be honored tonight at 6:30 at a turkey banquet in the cafeteria behind Hudson.

The menu for the banquet will include turkey, cranberry juice, whipped potatoes, salad, and angel food cake.

The program, with Bob Balmer, '50, acting as toastmaster, will consist of the introduction of the three dormitory presidents, Sam Bess, '51, Bill Morris, '50, and Ken Harding, '52, of the main dormitory, Central and Hudson dormitories, respectively.

Mothers to Meet Prexy

Interdorm council's new president, Dale Aichele, '51, and outgoing president Willis Grafe, '50, will be presented to the mothers and sons. Balmer will also introduce Mrs. Adkins, president of the Mothers' club of Independent Men; Mrs. George Swire, campus hostess for the Mother's club, and other officers in attendance.

The evening will be climaxed with the presentation of plaque awards to the best halls, one from each dormitory, and to the best dormitory. Points for the plaques are earned for social, athletic, scholastic and individual activity standings of the members of each unit.

Brye Compositions Slated for Festival

Two choral works composed by Joseph Brye, assistant professor of music, will be sung by the choruses in Pacific University's "Music in May" festival this year, the Oregon State college music office announced yesterday.

The Forest Grove school annually sponsors the invitational meet for selected students from high schools in Washington and Oregon. The students will participate in chorus, orchestra, and band under outstanding conductors.

At the request of festival officials Professor Brye prepared a musical setting of Southey's poem "Night" for the unaccompanied mixed chorus. His arrangement of "Oh Dear, What Can the Matter Be?" will be used by the girls' chorus.

Library Opens Room For Mothers Today

The library's McDonald room will be open for visiting mothers in observance of Mothers' weekend. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Also in the library will be recreational reading, the extensive children's library, and exhibits. The periodical room will have available issues of a number of home town publications.

The McDonald room is one room devoted to classical and rare books by such writers as Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry Longfellow, Henry Thoreau, and Sir Walter Scott. The room is furnished with period furniture, soft carpeting, upholstered chairs, and reading lamps. Many of the books in the room are bound in ornate binding and printed on especially prepared paper to furnish both a beautiful book as well as a cultural volume.

Carlson Joins KRUL As News Announcer

Ted Carlson, Jr., sports announcer of basketball and football games, has joined the staff of radio station KRUL. Carlson, who had considerable radio experience with KWIL, Albany, and KGW in Portland, will head the continuity department of station KRUL.

Carlson's news programs may be heard at 9:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. each night. He will also announce special and sporting events.

Welcome Mothers

Members of Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternities for women and men respectively, wish to add their greetings to those extended by the rest of the student body. This issue of the Barometer is the traditional issue put out by members of these two societies in honor of the many mothers who are visiting our campus.

Economics Talk Attended by 60

A forum on "Our Public Debt," held in the Memorial Union tea room Thursday night, was attended by approximately 60 people.

The forum, sponsored by the economics department, was comprised of members of the economics staff headed by Dr. Milton N. Nelson, department head.

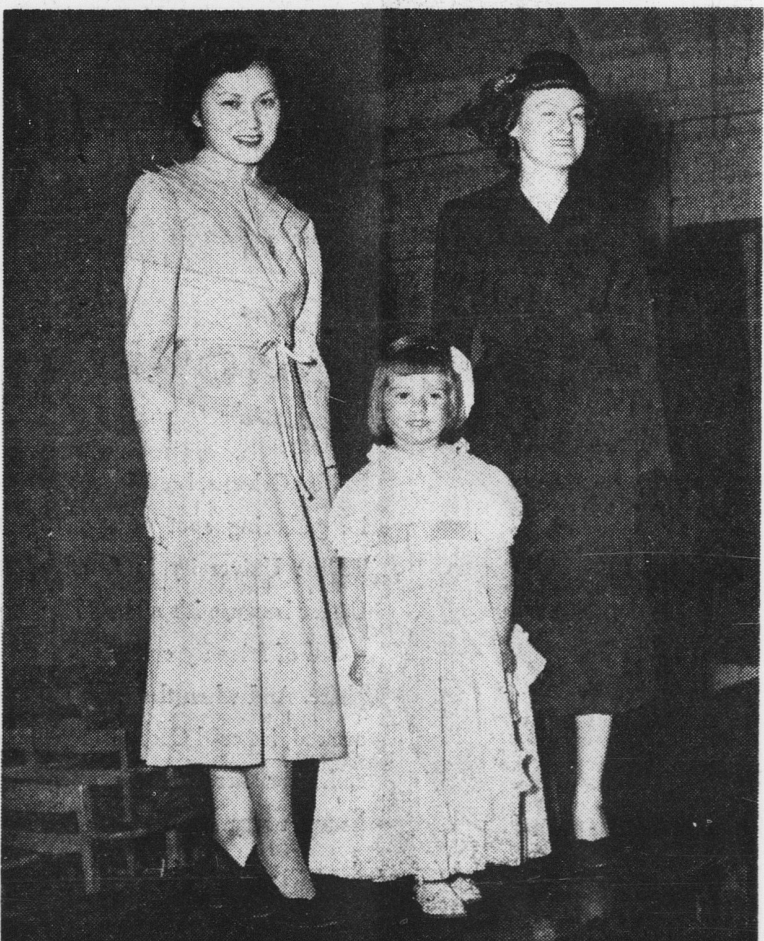

Among the questions discussed were "Do we owe the public debt to ourselves?" "Is the debt likely to get larger?" "Should we attempt to retire the public debt?" "How burdensome is the public debt?"

A proposal was offered by Harold G. Vatter, associate professor in economics, to pay off a portion of the debt. His plan is to have the government obtain credit from the Federal Reserve Bank, and pay off about 150 billion dollars of the debt held by the public. The interest paid on the debt would thereby be reduced by about four billion dollars a year, since the government would get the interest back as a dividend from the Federal Reserve Bank.

Kappas Initiate Three

Kappa Kappa Gamma, national social sorority, recently initiated Rita Adams, '52, and Sally Foster, '53.

Fashions on Parade

ALBERTA TWEEDT, '50, Shiel Spurgon, nursery school student, and Grace Kitagawa, '52, model three costumes to be shown in the fashion preview, "Around the Clock with Fashion," today at 10:30 a.m. in the home economics auditorium. Men's, women's and children's garments constructed in various clothing classes will be modeled by college students and children from the nursery school.

Open House Planned; Moms Club to Convene Business Meet Set for 1 P. M. To Give Awards

The fifth annual meeting of the Oregon State College Mothers club will be held at 1 p.m. in the Memorial Union ballroom.

The program will include greetings from Dr. A. L. Strand, president of the college, Mary I. Bash, dean of women, and Dan Poling, dean of men; musical numbers; and a short business meeting.

Mrs. Paulson to Preside

Presiding at the meeting will be Mrs. Oscar I. Paulson, Salem, president. Included in the business meeting will be election of the nominating committee and presentation of scholarships.

The officers of the club are elected for a two-year term at the annual meeting during Mothers weekend. The present officers, who will serve until May, 1951, are Mrs. Paulson, president; Mrs. Dale Miller, Portland, vice president; Mrs. T. J. Starker, Corvallis, recording secretary; Mrs. J. W. Jarvis, Astoria, treasurer; and Mrs. George Rhoten, Salem, corresponding secretary. Mrs. H. A. Schoth, Corvallis, is general chairman of the annual meetings.

Club Gives Scholarships

Each year, with the help of membership dues and contributions from local units, the state organization gives funds for scholarships to worthy men and women students of OSC. The club also provides an emergency fund which is available through the offices of the dean of women and dean of men.

The purpose of the Mothers club is to further the interests and welfare of the students of OSC, stated Mrs. Austin H. Wilson, state publicity chairman. The dues of $1 entitle a mother to life membership in the club.

According to Mrs. Dale Miller, state membership chairman, there are now 3542 members in the organization. "Once an OSC mother, always an OSC mother" is their slogan.

Campus FTO Prexy To Attend Institute

James D. McMullen, '51, recently chosen president of the campus Future Teachers of Oregon, has received notice that he will attend the Institute of Organization Leadership at Washington, D.C., on July 24 as president of all the Oregon FTO chapters.

The institute, which will be held on the American university campus in Washington, will last for one week. Attending the institute will be 100 delegates from student FTO chapters from all over the nation.

McMullen is a charter member of the Oregon State college chapter. He is majoring in industrial arts and is a member of Epsilon Pi Tau, industrial arts honor fraternity.

United States Code Volumes on Display

Two volumes of the United States Code are among the 130 new books on display on the library's new book table in the reference room.

"The Standard Book of Hunting and Shooting," edited by Robert B. Stringfellow, and "The Pacific Coast Ranges" by Roderick Peattie are new additions on display for the outdoorsman.

Two of the many new historical volumes are "I Was There" by Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, and Winston Churchill's "The Grand Alliance." The books will be on display until Thursday, but reservations may be placed for them at the reference desk.

Movie to Illustrate Interior Finishes

A representative from the Armstrong Linoleum company will show and discuss a film on Armstrong interior finishes to the architecture and construction classes Monday at 2, 3, and 4 p.m. in agricultural engineering 208, Herbert R. Sinnard, head of the architecture department, announced yesterday.

Persons interested in this subject are invited to the 4 p.m. showing, said Sinnard.

Weekend Chairman

Joan Aune

Chem Students Awarded Prizes

Thirteen chemistry students in the class of '50 have been awarded fellowships and positions, as announced by Dr. E. C. Gilbert, professor of chemistry.

Those accepting fellowships at Oregon State college are Donald R. Ruhler, Richard C. Thomas, Kenneth D. Baber, Dean M. Robertson, Robert S. Shoemaker and Wayne P. Van Meter.

Robert E. Minturn will be an assistant at Iowa State college in the Institute of Atomic Research. Rex Freeman has received a position at the Zehring Chemical company of Portland. George F. Jubber will hold a fellowship at the University of California at Berkeley.

Four other seniors will work as chemists at the General Electric Laboratory at Richland, Washington. They include Kenneth W. White, Helen Jones Ossiander, C. Ray Miller and Dennis C. Bixby.

Blue Key Names Gray To Presidential Job

Jim Gray, '51, was elected president of Blue Key, national senior service honor fraternity, at a chapter meeting Thursday night.

Other officers elected were Dick Hafenrichter, vice president; Jack Carlson, secretary-treasurer; and John Heskeith, corresponding secretary.

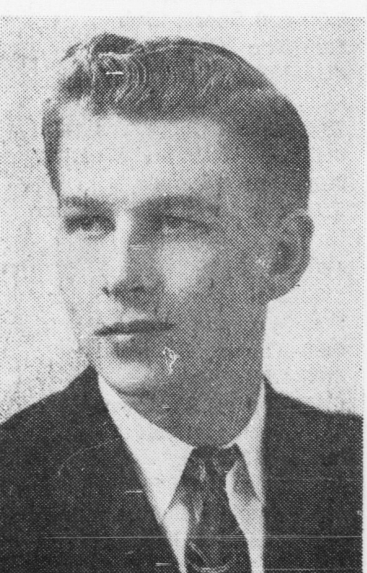

Gray, who is current president of the Memorial Union, succeeds Jack Slater, '50. Other outgoing officers include Bob Dunn, vice president; Donald Clark, secretary-treasurer, and John Shupe, corresponding secretary.

Dale Aichele Elected Inter-Dorm President

Dale Aichele, '51, was elected president of the Inter-dormitory council at its regular business meeting Wednesday, according to Willis Grafe, '50, retiring president. Other officers elected were Howard Neal, '53, vice president and treasurer; and Bob Geaney, '53, secretary.

As president of the council, Aichele will represent the 1100 men of the 15 halls in Central, Hudson, and the Main dormitory in relations with the offices of Robert Koehler, director of dormitories, and Lawrence Darlington, assistant dean of men.

Aichele recently completed a year's term of office as president of Hawley hall, one of the five halls in the Main dormitory.

Dale Aichele

Campus Edifices To Give Tours, Display Work

All campus buildings will be open to students' mothers for tours of class rooms and special exhibits today from 9 to 12 a.m., according to Doris Norton, '51, chairman of open house committee for Mothers weekend.

Kidder hall will feature art and architecture displays. Adorning the walls of the main entrance of Kidder hall will be the paintings of E. Nelson Sandgren and Paul J. Gunn, instructors in art. Student work in basic design, water and oil colors, sketch work, fashion illustration, and jewelry will be displayed in the class rooms. Pottery, created in the crafts-design class, will be on sale.

Students Exhibit Art

A special feature of the Memorial Union open house will be the student art exhibit in rooms 207 and 208. Coffee will be served to the visitors during the morning. The entire M.U. will be open for inspection.

The women's building has a special attraction the swimming pool and modern dance studio.

Museum Being Moved

The Horner Museum of the Oregon country will not be open this weekend as it is being moved into new quarters in the Coliseum.

Mothers are especially invited to visit Dearborn hall, one of Oregon State's new buildings. Dearborn is located across from the library and is devoted primarily to electrical engineering.

Greenhouses Open

The greenhouses, located west of the formal gardens, are open today and tomorrow. Three types of orchids, a gardenia, hibiscus, pineapple, banana, guava, papaya, and citron plants are in the conservatory. In the "carnation house" next to the conservatory are carnations, sweet peas, snapdragons, stock and Transvaal daisies.

An Easter lily experiment is being conducted by the agricultural experiment station in the third house. Many of the plants in the last house are seedlings, and young potted plants. Blooming now are begonias, gloxinias, fuchsias, geraniums, hydrangeas and salvia.

Sackett Invites Mothers

Another new building on the campus is Sackett hall, women's dormitory. One of the finest equipped dormitories in the northwest, it was opened for the first time last year. Mothers of all students are especially invited to visit this building.

In the agriculture building are numerous showcases exhibiting Oregon wild life. These are displayed on the third floor.

KOAC Radio Station Open

KOAC, Oregon's public-owned radio station of which the state board of higher education is the managing agency, is located in the physics building and is open for inspection.

On display in the Natural History museum is the Bryal Ornithological collection consisting of thousands of mounts, skins, and the most complete assemblage of bird eggs in the northwest.

Numerous other displays will be featured in the various buildings on campus. The morning program has been arranged so that the mothers may have an opportunity to visit these different buildings.

Cosmos to Retreat To Camp We-Ne-Ma

Cosmopolitan club members planning to go to Camp Wi-Ne-Ma on the retreat today will meet in the Memorial Union lounge at 10 a.m. if they have no classes, and at 12 noon if they have classes.

Private cars will transport them to the camp for a weekend of swimming, canoeing, rock climbing, dancing, and other activities. Club members plan to return to Corvallis late Sunday afternoon, according to Bev Becker, '52, retreat chairman.

The Weather

WESTERN OREGON: Partly sunny with variable cloudiness and a few showers Saturday. Generally fair Saturday night and Sunday. Warmer afternoon. High Saturday 50-60. High Sunday 55-65. Low Saturday night 32-42. Winds off the coast northwesterly 12-22 miles per hour.

Deans Greet Mothers

Dear Mothers:

Mothers' Weekend is one of the outstanding occasions of the college year—one of its most beloved high spots. It is a great joy to all of us to have you spend these precious hours on the campus to renew your children's ties to the home base, to sample something of their life here, and to give us opportunity to become acquainted with you.

MARY I. BASH
Dean of Women

Dear Mothers:

We hope you are enjoying a happy visit with your sons, daughters, and friends. Be assured we, as well as they, are enjoying your presence here. We are glad to have you see how the Oregon State family lives on and off the campus.

L. E. DARLINGTON
Assistant Dean of Men

Congratulations to the Memorial Union Camera club for its outstanding pictorial display which is now set up in the Memorial Union main corridor. During the past few days, hundreds of people have stopped for a casual glance, and then stayed for several minutes as they became more and more interested. So it was with us.

Because of this annual spring photo salon, many OSC students have been able to find an out for their photographic efforts and the chosen few have been rewarded with prizes. Keep it up, Camera club, you are doing a fine service.

Opening of Loyalty Files

President Truman, after much coercion, has finally submitted to the demands of the Senate Investigating committee, and has opened the loyalty files to inspection.

To many it may seem a reasonable procedure. But FBI director J. Edgar Hoover sees the matter differently.

First, opening the files would gravely damage the bureau's future efforts in obtaining confidential information by disclosing the names of informants. And moreover, criminals and subversives would be forwarded and would conduct themselves accordingly.

Second, opening the files could do the most serious and unwarranted injustice to individuals. The files contain complaints and allegations—not only facts—which may or may not be true.

Opening these files could very well both endanger the national security and commit profound injustices on good citizens. (D.G.C.)

Rumor has it that the Naval R.O.T.C. department has finally "changed cadence," and has quit rocking the college boat. They have decided to allow their sophomore cadets to grow beards, after all. (D.G.C.)

Bulletin Board

Present Thanes are requested to be at the men's gym convocation tomorrow by 2:15 p.m. and to wear their sweaters.

Members of Alpha Lambda Delta are requested to meet in the Memorial Union main hall this afternoon following the musicale matinee to assist in serving at the tea. Wear heels.

OSC Hill club is sponsoring a joint OSC-U of O picnic, to be held Sunday, May 7. Participants will please meet for transportation on the steps of the Co-op Book Store, east side of the Memorial Union building, at 11:45 a.m. The picnic will be at Benton-Lane park, between Corvallis and Eugene, unless heavy dew requires that it be held indoors at the Memorial Union.

Dr. John B. Houser from Lebanon is speaking at the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship meeting Monday at 5 p.m. in Memorial Union 105. Dr. Houser taught at Northwestern Bible school in Minneapolis for eight years and has been teaching at the Salem Academy and College in Salem for the past four years. He has spoken to several local Inter-Varsity groups.

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship is having a reception for mothers in the Varsity O room in Memorial Union today from 8 to 10 p.m. A program will be given followed by get-acquainted activities. Refreshments will be served.

A meeting is to be held for all students interested in working on posters for the Mayhem poster committee, Tuesday at 1 p.m. in Memorial Union 218.

"Are you troubled with improper thoughts?"
"No, I rather enjoy them."

CHEERS and JEERS

'Clause' Windmills
TO THE EDITOR:

I have just finished perusing a pair of editorials in the Barometer concerning the proposed racial legislation before the ASOSC student senate. I was especially interested in Bob Young's pro offering. In it he referred to the Greeks as swinging at windmills when they arched their backs in staunch opposition to the plan.

It strikes me that Young was himself tilting at windmills, if I may borrow that same Quixotean phrase, when he supports such a plan. Tilting at windmills has become a standard phrase when referring to foolish pursuits indulged in without careful thought or consideration.

I speak of Young as tilting at windmills when he supports the plan which would force the fraternities on this campus to remove the restrictive clauses from their constitutions because such a plan was evidently conceived without careful thought or consideration.

Intrinsically such a plan is admirable. Practically such a plan is impossible.

A quick rundown of the history of the fraternity system will show that the majority of the fraternities were founded south of the Mason-Dixon line. The large share of the chapters still center in that area. Since changes in the fraternities' constitutions must come from a majority vote of the chapters such a change could never come about.

I hope that the ASOSC senate will come to the realization that the practicality of legislation should be considered before the intrinsic worth of the legislation. Bill Neland.

The Pesky Flying Saucers Cause Eyebrows to Raise

By DAVE CROMWELL

Those amazing "flying saucers" which have been observed during the last two years or so have been variously described as figments of excited imagination, as an ominous new Russian weapon, and as space ships carrying observers from another planet which may be centuries ahead of the earth scientifically. Also, according to some, the saucers are manned by living pilots, and they are a revolutionary United States development in aircraft.

Nonsecret data from "re-sponsible sources" has been briefed, including a group of scientists who were able to track a saucer for several minutes with advanced measuring instruments. And here is what they believe to be the true story:

The first successful saucer was built in 1942 and made more than 100 test flights. Current advanced models are circular, 105 feet in diameter, and about ten feet thick. They have no protruding surface of any kind. They are powered by jet engines using a secret fuel. The power is exerted through a series of jet nozzles around the saucer's rim.

Their performance is termed unbelievable. They can stand still in the air, like a helicopter, and rise almost vertically. Their cruising speed may be as high as 600 miles an hour. Due to the helicopter feature, they do not need conventional airfields for landing or take-off—a very small space is adequate. Control is achieved by tilting the jet nozzles to desired angles, and by turning certain nozzles off and on. Maximum forward speed is attained by turning the nozzles to the rear and applying full power.

Some scientists claim that the principles on which the saucers are built are known, are sound, and are accepted by the top aeronautical engineers.

Who, then, is building and operating the saucers. Many seem to think it is likely that the Navy, in spite of its denials, is the agency. The Navy has been given twice as large a guided-missile research budget as the Air Force and no public accounting is made of how the money is spent. And these saucers could be flown from any combat ship, not just the carriers.

The possible significance of the saucers is tremendous. In war, the combination of helicopter and fast jet plane will easily outfly any present types of military aircraft. In peacetime, the safety of a nearly crash-proof aircraft may be expected to revolutionize civil air transport. It all points to a big advance in the science of flying.

From this Corner

By Jim Clabby

Barometer Managing Editor

May, it is the merry month of May, time for Mothers' weekend, and it looks like rain. . .

Mom and the kids, strolling campus thoroughfares, getting fine feathers dampened in the downpour. . . (Hasn't happened yet, but who trusts the weatherman? . . .)

A night at the ballet. . . modern dancers trying out their "Study in Falls" on the shiny maple of Gill coliseum. . . conspicuously missing is the routine done for three years to the music of Coates' "London Again" music, but most of the rest stays in the pattern. . . (Of course I want to see it again. . . they've been improving every year so far. . .)

Four weeks' coatings of dust chased out of the stray corners. Rooms cleaned and desks straightened for the first time since last final week. . . ("So this is where you live? How do you keep it so neat?") If she only knew. . .

Tour the classrooms. . . maybe make gags about the pillows furnished for eight o'clocks, then twice around the quad and once through the campus nerve center (M.U. to you).

Busy weekend for the music department. . . band and choir doing triple duty. . . two nights doing background for the modern dance "Salute" . . . working again Saturday afternoon, aided by the college orchestra, winning choirs from the Interfraternity sing, and assorted soloists in the afternoon performance on lower campus. . . (Worth the time to see. . . their music's as good as their claim).

Then to the play Saturday eve, if you're lucky. . . Anyway, the Marx Bros. still here tonight. . . three choices downtown. . . see one, see 'em all.

And afterward, if the jalop's still running, on a spin past the tennis courts, down to the bridge, or even out toward the hill. . . surprising view of the valley and Corvallis' lights from the hill by the cemetery. . . (See it yourself for the first time, maybe. . .)

Sunday brings the close. "Wonderful weekend," says Mom, and away she rides, back to the homeland, maybe feeling like walking's worn six inches off her ankles. . .

And you. . . out of the suit and back into levis for the first time in three days. Try cracking a few books. . . see if you can miss the dean's list for another term. . .

So long, Mom. See you again in about four weeks.

Fifteen years ago there was only one Sherlock Holmes society in the United States—the Baker Street Irregulars, and it languished for several years. Now almost every city in the land has a scion society. A number produce yearly books of Sherlock Holmes essays.

Alumni to Start Drive for Fund

A three-year Memorial stadium drive will be launched soon by Oregon State college alumni. An OSC Memorial stadium project has been organized and an executive committee has been named, announced Lloyd Carter, alumni association president, at a recent board of directors meeting.

In an organizational meeting in Corvallis, April 25, Carter stated that the state-wide stadium committee is perfecting its organization, and that gifts for the project have already been received from alumni. He emphasized that small donations may be made each year of the drive.

Members of the nine-man executive committee for the Memorial stadium project are Lynn Sabin, past president of the alumni association; Charles Parker, chairman of the athletics committee; and Carter, all of Portland. Representing the rest of the state are Charles Reynolds, La Grande; Joe Dyer, Astoria; Glenn Holcomb, Corvallis; James Jenks, Albany; Fred Hills, Springfield; and Robert Thompson, Klamath Falls.

The state board of higher education earlier appropriated $300,000 for land south of Gill coliseum for the site of the Memorial stadium and for parking areas, part of which is across the Philomath road and part east of the coliseum.

Fanciful, Graceful Patterns Develop As 'Salute to Rhythm' Dancers Perform

FORMING PATTERNS in the "Salute to Rhythm" modern dance recital tonight at 8:30 p.m. in Gill coliseum are Orchesis members Jean Wagner, Phyllis Brown, Jeanette Holroyd, and Agnes Moll (back row).

SUMMER DRESS CARNIVAL

Over 2000 students and mothers are expected to attend "Salute to Rhythm 1950" tonight in Gill coliseum. Sixty-six dancers will express themselves in rhythmic movements under the direction of Miss Betty Lynd Thompson, associate professor women's physical education. Orchesis, modern dance honorary, will perform in group and in solo numbers.

A Cappella choir under the direction of Professor R. B. Walls, head of the music department, will accompany the dance group with specially adapted selections. Ted Mesang, director of the concert band, will provide the musical background. Miss Helen Poling will accompany at the piano.

Miss Thompson Composes
All dances are composed by students except Miss Thompson's solo number of her own creation.

The varied types of dances as performed last night, offer entertainment both gay and serious. Rooms in the new coliseum provide abundant space for behind-the-curtain scurry. Heavily made-up faces and darkened eyes are necessary to withstand the multi-colored lights focused on the lithe dancers.

Undersized elephants scamper about the floor to exhibit "Nonsense in Pink" by Miss Poling, pianist. Traditional "Screams in the Night" to the haunting music of Miklos Rozsa's score for the movie, "The Red House," is truly a vivid expression of the weird dread of a nightmare.

Tenor Williams Accompanies
Ave Maria expresses a reverence and trust in the purity of motion. Three girls, clad in white, jump, twirl, and glide across the floor while Richard Williams, tenor, accompanies.

"Clippings from a Special Edition" by members of Orchesis presents televised "news scoops" varying from flying saucers to a vacation in Hawaii. Narration is done by each girl as she performs her dance.

The grand finale is "Ode to Freedom" by Grofe. The sixty-six dancers come on the floor in colorful costumes to climax the yearly production of clever interpretation, graceful movement, and synchronized motions.

ROTC Awards Medals

Junior ROTC students who were judged outstanding received medals May 2. The medals are awarded annually to outstanding juniors. The Field Artillery Achievement medal, presented to the outstanding junior in Field Artillery by the 35th F. A. battalion (ORC), was won by Cadet Master Sergeant Roger Gohrband. The Engineer association medal went to Cadet Sergeant John M. Mosby.

'Phantom Ship' Will Sail Men, Dates to Formal

Rain, rain, stay away 'Til some time past The thirteenth of May.

With flighty spring still showing some signs of winter, men of the main dormitory's five halls are hoping their "Phantom Ship," theme for the eighteenth annual archway dance, won't be swept away in a spring shower.

The formal dance, spring term's big social event for men of Buxton, Cauthorn, Hawley, Poling, and Weatherford halls, is scheduled for the night of May 13, according to Phil Crary, '51, dance general chairman.

Records show that for the past 17 years, no archway dance has been rained out, or rained in as the case may be, Crary said. The traditional dance is held under the open arch of the main dorm, the reason for all the concern about the weather.

Decorations for the dance will have the archway disguised as a phantom ship, complete to galley and crew's nest. Music for dancing will be provided by George Timmons and his band broadcasting from the bridge of the ship, according to Bob Ware, '52, decorations chairman.

Skippers to keep an eye on members of the crew will be Mrs. Anna Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Wadsworth.

Fraternity 'Rose' To Rule Over Ball; Compete in Contest

The familiar saying, "a rose by any other name," will not apply to the co-ed who will be crowned Rose of the annual Pi Kappa Phi Rose ball, scheduled for Saturday, May 20, at the chapter house.

The five finalists, whose identities have just been revealed by the Rose selection committee, were chosen from candidates representing all the living organizations on the campus. Pictures were submitted to the committee and of those, twenty were interviewed. The five finalists, who were picked from the remaining twenty are A. D. E. Jenne, '53, Chi Omega; Nancy Hess, '52, Alpha Gamma Delta; Jeanne Webb, '53, Waldo Hall; Janice Van Cleef and Donna Huggins, both '52, from Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The Rose will not be made known until the crowning ceremony the night of the dance. The girl who is selected will represent the Oregon State college chapter in the national Rose contest to be held in connection with the national Pi Kappa Phi convention in Portland in August. Over 30 chapters will submit candidates to the contest.

The Rose ball, which is held each year, will carry out a theme of springtime and flowers, with floral arrangements, trellises, and black lighting effects. Music will be furnished by the Schmidt-Johnson combo, a campus orchestra.

General chairman for the ball is Matt Mimms, '50.

Straight Down the Line

By ANN LIENKAEMPER

People are avoiding me... Or else nothing ever happens any more.

I did hear that Dick Bramen got a little mixed up Saturday night and almost planted his pin on the wrong girl, but everything was righted Monday night when Cheri Knox accepted his maltese cross.

Octave Levenspie was almost outdone by eight women of the Mountain club this weekend. The Mount Hood climbers, with blisters to prove it, were rather surprised at Octave, who can do almost anything, when they had to all but carry him up the slope.

I overheard this in a booth at the Beaver. It seems several Betas were holding a reunion to celebrate their date. At dessert time Larry Brown was served a disguised lizard by some practical joker waiting on the table. Needless to say, the guests from Willamette gave up their appetites to suspicion.

I heard Bob DeYoung luring people down to Eugene last Friday to hear Lena Horne. Turned out that instead Hazel Scott was scheduled but that she'd cancelled her concert. But nobody, especially Bob, was disappointed.

What is your reply when a boy asks, "If I told you you had a good figure, would you hold it against me?"

'A Great Partnership' Theme Of Mothers Banquet Address

PARTICIPATING IN THE ALL-SCHOOL banquet program tonight in the Memorial Union will be Mary Adams, '52, and Bill Maxwell, '51. Miss Adams will provide background music during dinner. Maxwell will be guest speaker at the banquet. His topic will be "A Great Partnership."

Bill Maxwell, '51, winner of the State Peace Oratorical contest, will be guest speaker at the Mothers' weekend all-school banquet, tonight at 6 p.m. in the Memorial Union ballroom. Association of the family and the College in building men and women will be the theme of Maxwell's talk entitled "A Great Partnership."

Organ music will be provided during the dinner by Mary Adams, '52. Other musical entertainment will be furnished by the Lambda Chi Moan 'n' Glories instead of the Agony Four as was previously announced. The quartet consists of Cal Cox, Dell Kirk, Dallas Banks, and Blaine Mack, all '50.

Pansies and other colorful flowers will brighten the tables while gay yellow programs with pansy covers will further carry out the spring theme.

Co-chairmen for the function are Mary O'Brien, '51, and Don Forbes, '51. In charge of necessary committee details are Dick Carter, '51, ticket sales; Helen Findley, '51, publicity; Pat Geaney, '51, banquet arrangements; and Marjorie Daum, '51, decorations. Bob Barnett, '51, will be master of ceremonies.

Tickets will be on sale this morning to enable students who have not yet bought them to do so. The price is $1.25.

All-Student Musical To Entertain Mothers

An all-student musical talent show will entertain Mothers at 2:30 today in the men's gym, according to Bev Waverly, '51, and Dick Howell, '50, co-chairmen.

The Phil Small Thane trophy will be awarded during the program to the men's living organization with the most outstanding freshman class. Ralph Moll, '52, Thane president, will make the presentation. New Talons and Thanes, sophomore service honoraries, will also be introduced.

Fraternity Finalists to Sing

Included in the program will be the interfraternity sing finalists. The Phi Kappa Tau winners will be directed by Gery Hubbe, '51, and the second place winners, Beta Theta Pi, will be led by Conrad Holstege, graduate.

The Oregon State college band, directed by Theodore Mesang, will play "Emblem of Unity," "Exultation," and "El Cabellero."

Sextet to Perform

Donald P. Sites, assistant professor of music, will conduct the Madrigal women's glee club in singing "Invocation to St. Cecilia," "Children of Heavenly Father," "Dreaming," "Hi-Ho Sing Gaily," and "Let My Song Fill Your Hearts."

A women's sextet will sing "Robin in the Rain" and "When Day Is Done." Members of the sextet include Jackie Hall, Joan Rutter, Nita Ovist, Donna Logue, Mary McKinney, Adele Ure, and Joanne Dwyer, accompanist, all '53. Janet Brande, '52, is leader for the group.

Quartet to Entertain

The Phi Tau Ramblers quartet, consisting of Bob Haydock, '52, Dick Spees, '51, Gery Hubbe, '51, and Wayne Hamilton, '50, will entertain with an appropriate medley of Mothers' day songs.

An afternoon tea will be held in the Memorial Union following the musical matinee in the men's gym this afternoon. The Corvallis unit of the Oregon State Mothers' club are sponsors of the tea.

Members of Alpha Lambda Delta, national scholastic fraternity for freshman women, will assist in serving at the tea.

Informal Firesides To Show College Life

Mothers of Oregon State students will be entertained in the living organizations tonight with firesides and parties in their honor.

Following the "Salute to Rhythm" and "Hay Fever," the living groups will welcome the mothers to informal social gatherings. Many of the groups have planned special entertainment and refreshments for the mothers at the firesides.

One of the dorms is planning a program in the form of a radio show which will have humorous interviews, skits, and monologues, given with the mothers. An old-fashioned community sing will also be a part of many firesides. In addition to the students' entertainment, special programs will be given by the mothers in some living organizations.

The informal get-togethers will give students and mothers the opportunity to relax and become acquainted with other persons in the dorms and houses.

Calendar Proclaims "Spring Is Here;" Romance Blossoms

Welcoming Mothers to the campus are many smiling Oregon Staters who will be showing their parents newly acquired bits of jewelry.

Among the new jewels are two new rings at the Sigma Kappa house. One is being worn by IDA FREDDELL from SAM DIETZ and the other is MARG SCOTT's from DAN MCCALL, SAE. While still on the subject of the Sigma Kappas a new pin is also in evidence at their domicile, the wearer, CHERI KNOX, the donor, DICK BRAMEN, Alpha Tau.

"PINKY" MEANS is wearing DAVE HOUCK'S SAE badge, LOU COOK, Gamma Phi, is proudly displaying a Lambda Chi pin from MURRAY DORSEY.

It's been reported that FRANK NICHOLS' Phi Kappa Sigma pin has left the state... to be found at the University of California, being worn by BARBARA ROUNTREE, PIFI.

From the Alpha Xi Delta house comes the announcement of MARIE BJORQUIST'S engagement to HERB ALLEN, Phi Kappa Psi. CARMEN ELDER, Delta Gamma, is the new owner of STAN WILKS' Sigma Pi pin.

TEE GEORGE, Theta Chi, has hung his pin on BERNICE WILSON, Portland, JACKIE BRINDEL, Chi O, is wearing an AGR pin from VERN WEISS.

From the Kappa house the secret is out of ANN CARTER's new Beta pin, given by JOHN SHEARER.

To wind up this week's whirl is the Beta pin that JOYCE NONKEN, Chi O, accepted from JIM DUNN.
