DEDICATION

The staff of the BEAVER, in a spirit of admiration and love, dedicates this twenty-first volume of the College annual to manager of the Memorial Union, secretary of the Alumni association, and internationally recognized hero of the World War. His record of achievement on this campus, both as a student and alumnus, is familiar to all, in spite of his inherent modesty. His record in the World War is authoritatively set forth in the following facsimile quotation from Vol. I of "THE GREAT EVENTS OF THE GREAT WAR."

MAJOR EDWARD CHRISTOPHER ALLWORTH, '16

WAR RECORD

Awards of medal of honor. II
Edward C. Allworth, captain, 60th Infantry. For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy at Clery-le-Petit, France, November 5, 1918. While his company was crossing the Meuse River and canal at a bridgehead opposite Clery-le-Petit, the bridge over the canal was destroyed by shell fire and Capt. Allworth's command became separated, part of it being on the east bank of the canal and the remainder on the west bank. Seeing his advance units making slow headway up the steep slope ahead, this officer mounted the canal bank and called for his men to follow. Plunging in, he swam across the canal under fire from the enemy, followed by his men. Inspiring his men by his example of gallantry, he led them up the slope, joining his hard-pressed platoons in front. By his personal leadership he forced the enemy back for more than a kilometer, overcoming machine-gun nests and capturing a hundred prisoners, whose number exceeded that of the men in his command. The exceptional courage and leadership displayed by Capt. Allworth made possible the re-establishment of a bridgehead over the canal and the successful advance of other troops.

FOREWORD

Like a mighty river, the life at O. A. C. flows continuously on—preparatory schools its source, the world its sea. To record soundings of that river as it flowed between the banks of 1926 and 1927 has been the purpose of this book

General interests of women on the campus, including health and social events, are centered chiefly in the women's building and in the halls of residence, which afford rich opportunities for individual and group expression.

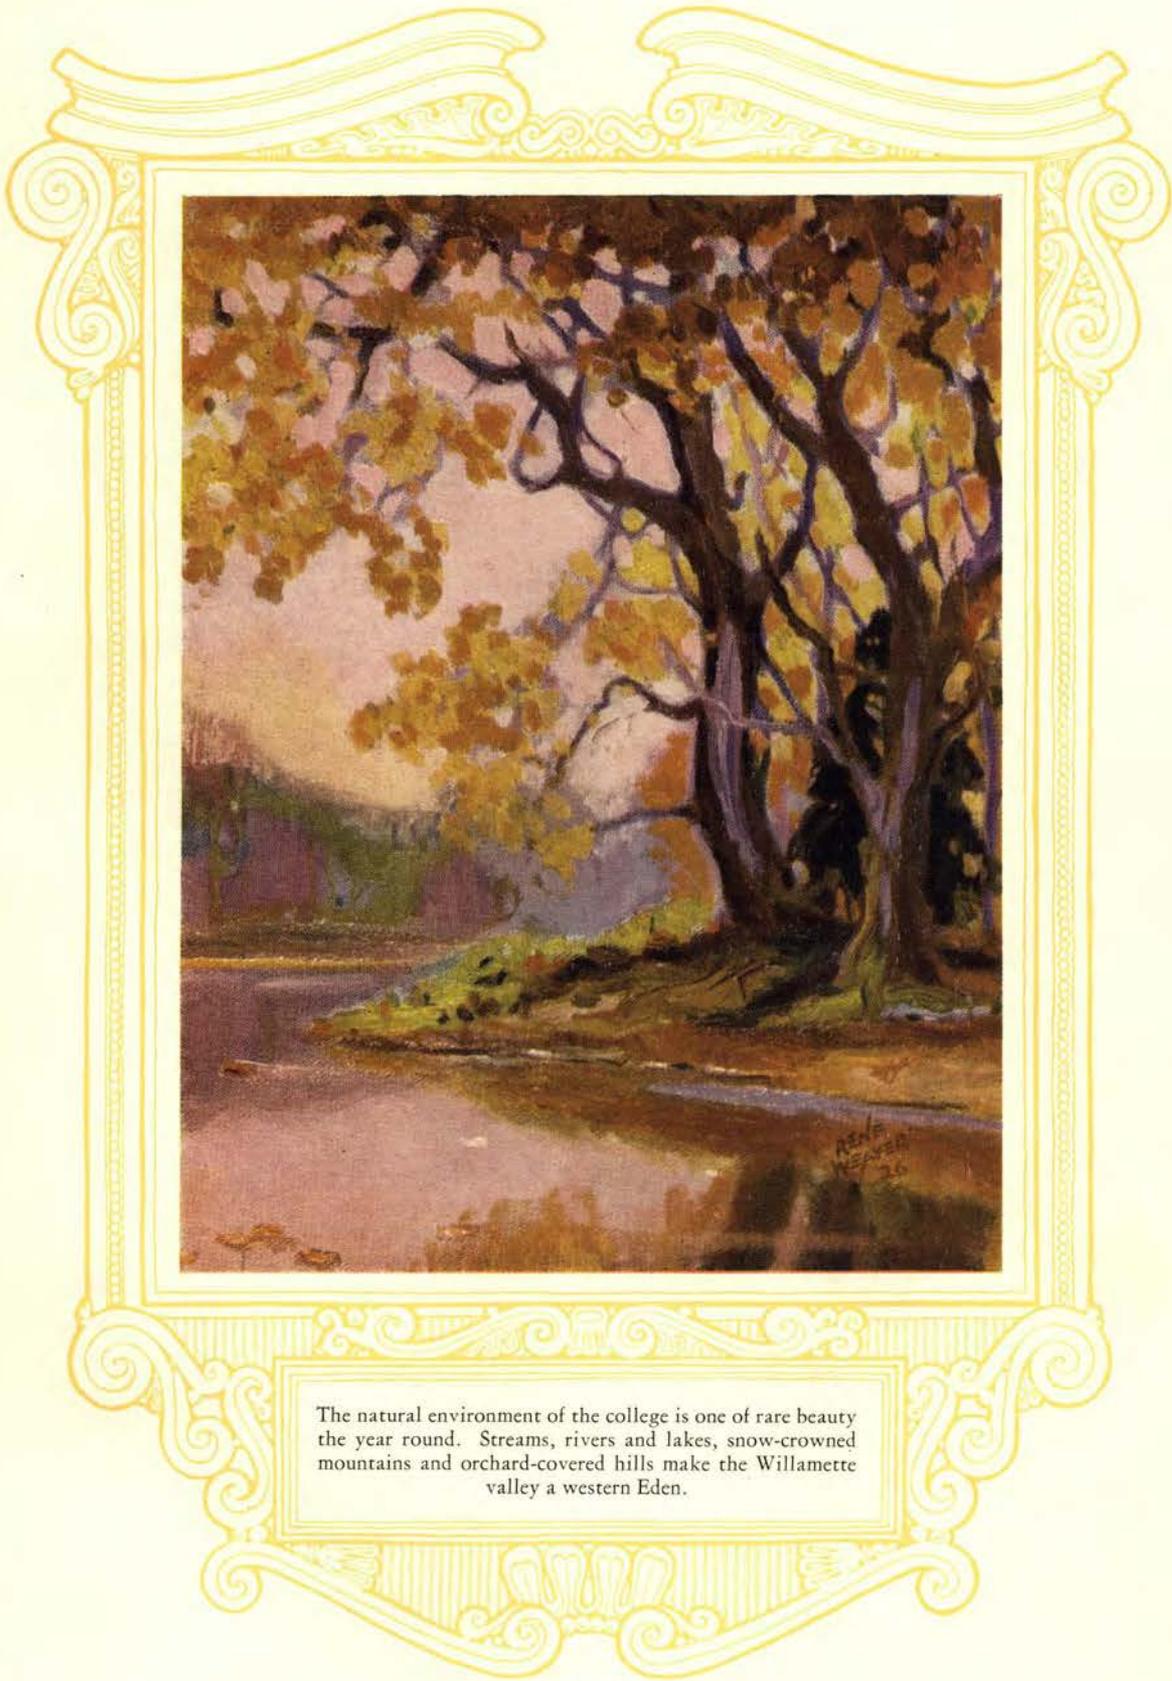

Scientific and technical training for the leading vocations and professions of life is the mission of O. A. C. as the land-grant college of Oregon. Its curricula cover a broad field and its standards of scholarship are high.

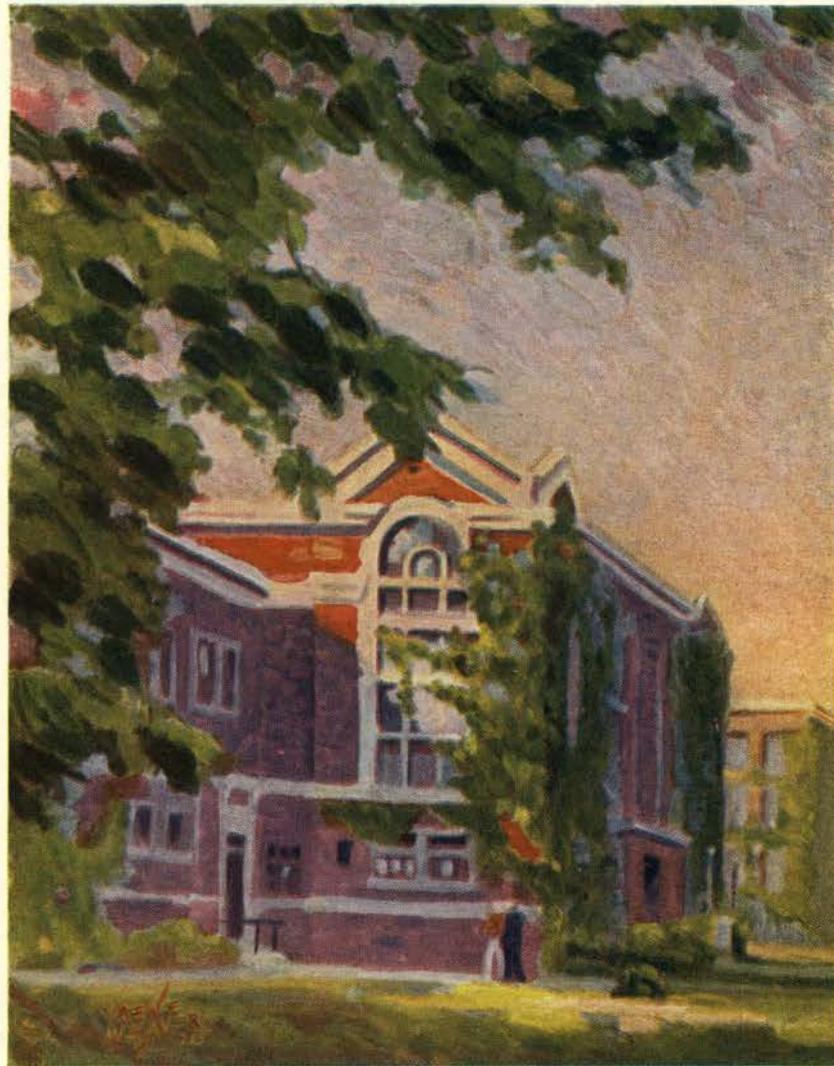

Specialization at O. A. C. is based on a broad foundation of arts and sciences, supplemented by the principle that every vocation has its business side. The school of commerce functions in both phases of this comprehensive program.

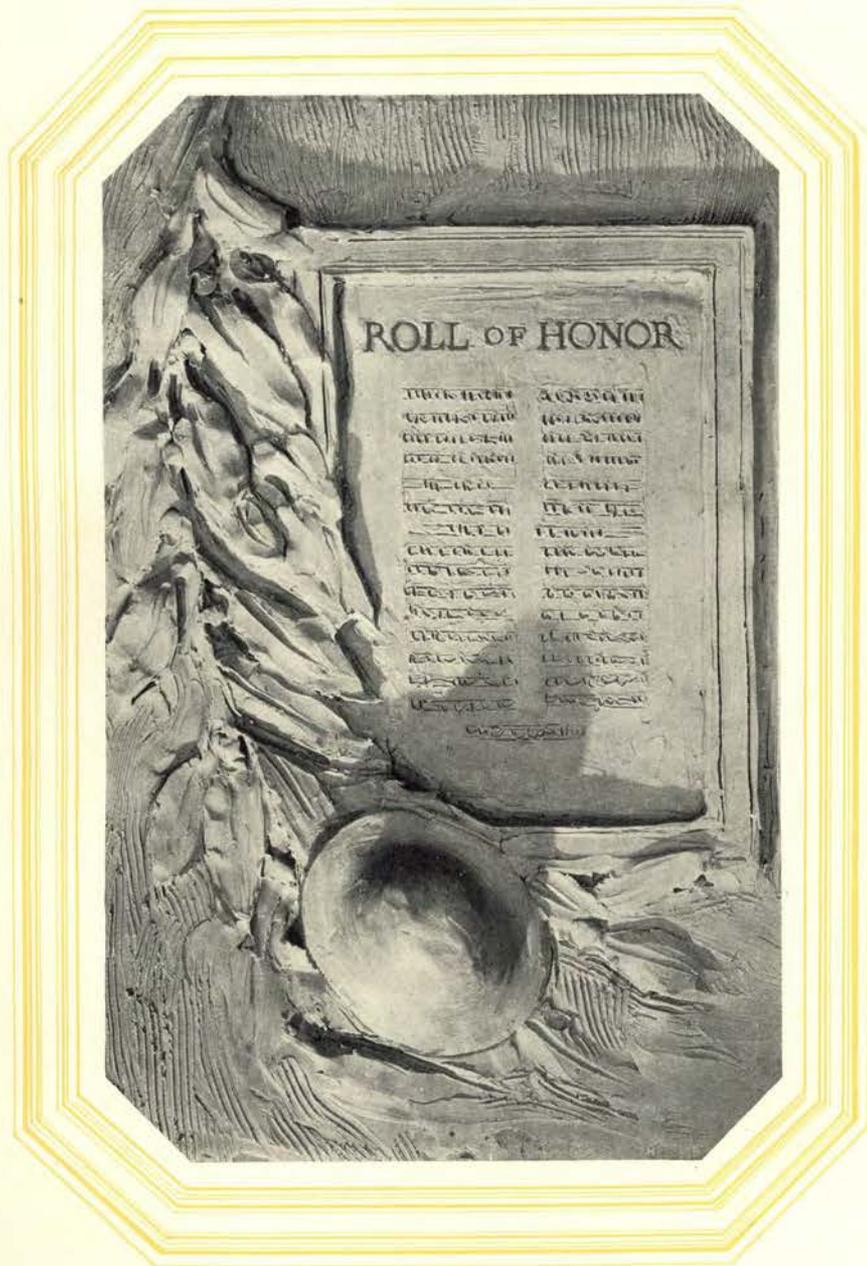

The college campus, in spite of its comparative youth and its rapid development, is rich in tradition and in the associations that endear it to successive generations of students.

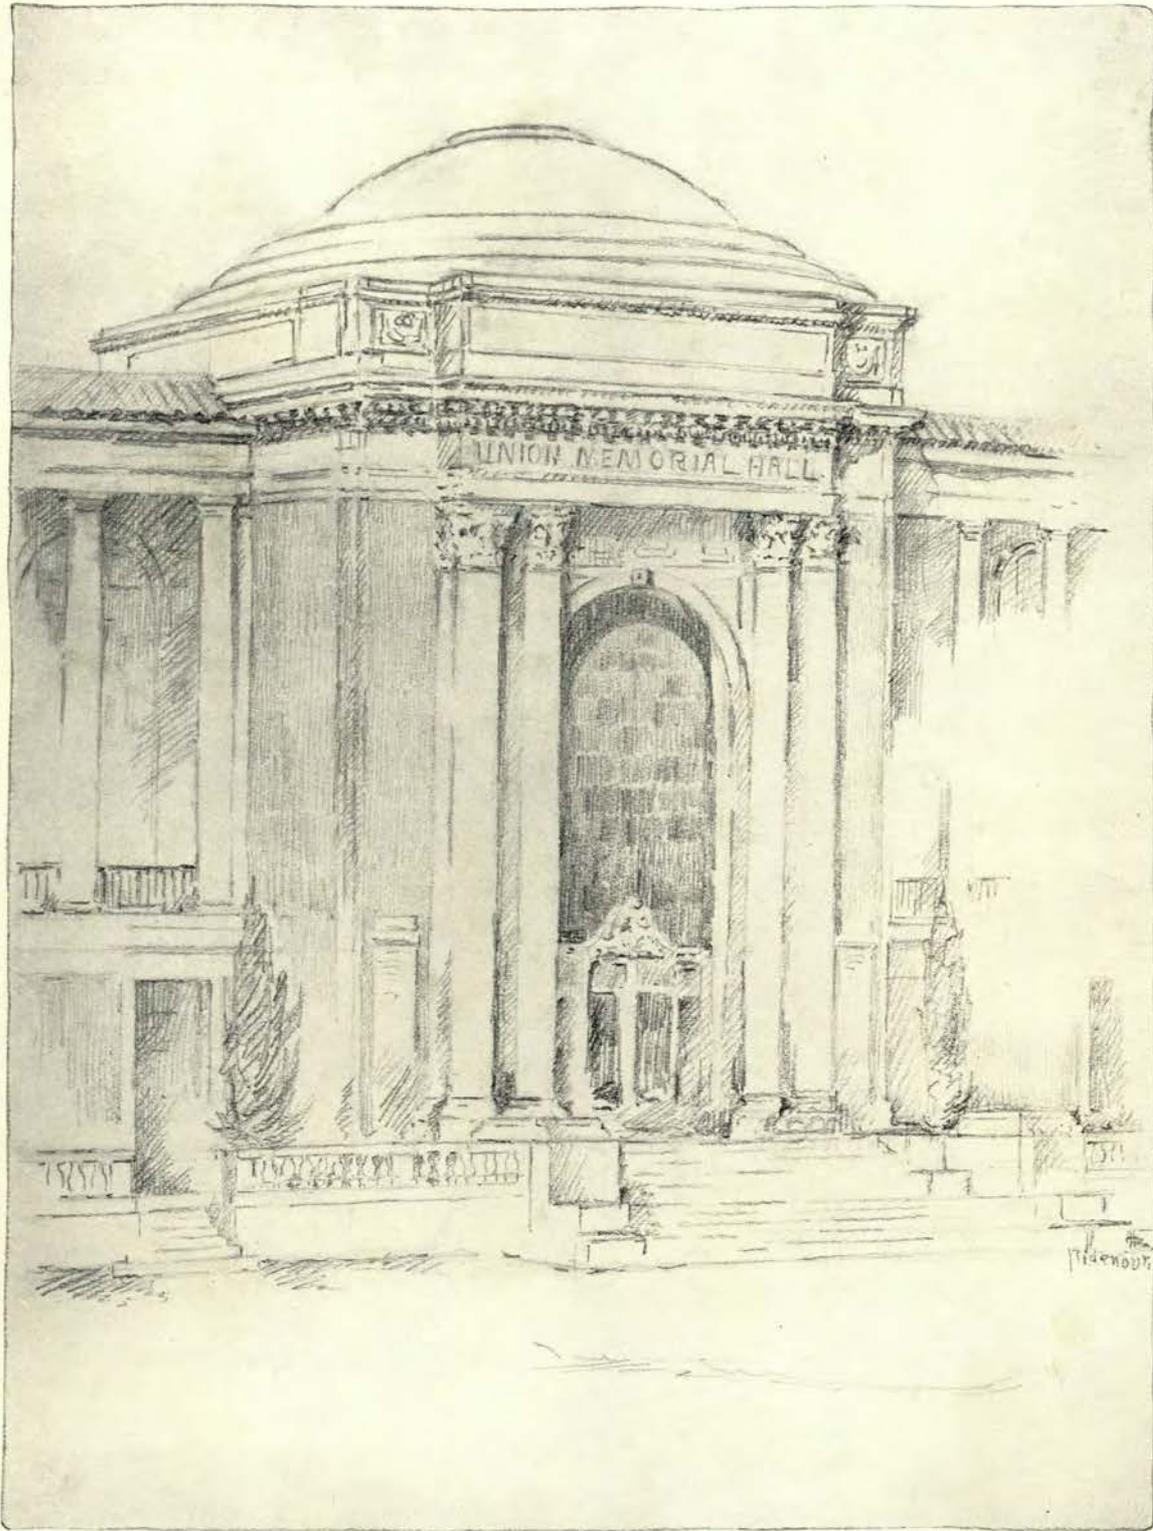

The natural environment of the college is one of rare beauty the year round. Streams, rivers and lakes, snow-crowned mountains and orchard-covered hills make the Willamette valley a western Eden.

Intramural sports and intercollegiate athletics enlist the active interest of over ninety per cent of the men of O. A. C., who enjoy excellent modern facilities and the leadership of expert trainers.

"THE PERFECT TRIBUTE"
MEMORIAL UNION

Memorial Union

EDWARD C. ALLWORTH
Manager of Memorial Union

THE MEMORIAL UNION idea had its inception back in 1919-20 in the minds of certain members of "Gauntlet and Visor," a self-appointed honor society organized by ex-service men to promote the larger interests of the campus and student body. The organization was short lived, but lived long enough to initiate several projects for student body action, the most important of which was the idea of a student social center in commemoration of their comrades who had lost their lives during the World war.

The idea in its final form, as proposed to the student body in the fall of 1920, was gradually developed from a sense of the social needs of the campus entertained in the minds of Warren Daigh and A. G. "Tony" Schille. These men, among others, lamented the lack of facilities for holding large social functions, such as student body gatherings and dances, on the campus. They reported to "Gauntlet and Visor" their convictions that a voluntary movement should be launched by that organization as a nucleus for building a social center on the campus.

During the Christmas holidays of the year 1919-20, while this initial movement was taking form, Warren Daigh made a trip to Ann Arbor as a delegate to a national convention of his fraternity, and became acquainted with Michigan's magnificent Student Union building. He came back enthusiastic over the possibility of a student union building on this campus. Together with Tony Schille he wrote to over fifty colleges and universities inquiring about such buildings. Replies showed that some of the student union buildings were being erected as memorials of the students and alumni who lost their lives in the World war.

Thus by the fall of 1920, sentiment was rapidly crystallizing in favor of uniting the memorial idea with the student union building. The matter was presented to the student body, and a committee composed of R. S. "Spec" Keene, student body president, Wm. "Bill" Heiss, Tony Schille and Warren Daigh, was appointed to work out ways and means. The committee consulted an architect, college executives and far-sighted business men; and, realizing that the first step necessary to enlist general interest was to secure concrete action by the students themselves, recommended the student tax of three dollars a term, or nine dollars a year.

This plan, approved by President Kerr, was promptly adopted by a great mass meeting of the students and then put up to the Board of Regents for ratification. The Regents considered the plan in the fall of 1921, a committee comprising Harold Readen, new student body president, Earl Price, first vice-president, Claude Palmer, editor of the Barometer, Tony Schille and Warren Daigh, outlining the whole project and standing cross examination on it. As a result, the plan was approved and went into effect for the first time with the beginning of the second quarter of the college year 1921-22.

The building is outlined by students

Checking campaign results

The fee decided upon then has been continued up to the present time. The Union was incorporated January 10, 1924. A board of governors was appointed June 7, 1924, when the first meeting was held. A constitution was drawn up and plans made for a definite procedure to be followed. On July 9, 1924, a joint meeting was held of the Memorial Union board, Alumni board and the Campaign committee, at which ways and means for raising the necessary funds were determined upon.

The first intensive campaign on the campus was put over in January, 1925. A letter by President Kerr, ill at his home, outlining the essentials of the project and earnestly endorsing the idea was given general circulation. On January 20, a thrilling convocation, at which Regent B. F. Irvine was the principal speaker, launched the campus drive that resulted in a magnificent response by students and faculty, who exceeded their quota by a large margin.

On May 1, 1925, preliminary to the sweeping campaign over the state and northwest, E. C. Allworth, '16, who had been closely identified with the initial campaign, was elected manager of the Memorial Union, and Wm. E. North, '24, was selected as temporary field man. A vigorous and searching campaign among the alumni, carried on over a period of a year or more, raised the fund to a considerably larger figure.

Dances enlivened the campaign

The second intensive campaign, which took place in March, 1926, brought the net fund of the Memorial Union close up to the present total, which is $520,000, of which $175,000 is in cash.

A careful study of all the student unions in the country has been made and a great amount of time and deliberation has been given to working out a successful set of plans, the result of which is the Memorial Union—ground for which is being broken in May. In the course of another two years this magnificent structure will be a massive reality on the campus, a beautiful embodiment of a lofty ideal.

*Within a vale of western mountains,
There's a college we hold dear.
Her shady slopes and fountains
Oft to me appear.
I love to wander on the pathway
Down to the trysting tree,
For there again I see in fancy,
Old friends dear to me.*

*Carry me back to O. A. C.
Back to her vine-clad halls;
Thus fondly ever in my mem'ry

The President's Message

THE MEMORIAL UNION is the answer to a double need on the college campus—the urge to provide a fitting memorial to the men of O. A. C. who died in the wars of their country, and the need to establish here an all-college center for the perpetuation of those ideals of unity, democracy and service which they so nobly sustained.

The college that these men knew had a unity and comradeship that belonged to the compact campus of other days, with its relatively smaller area and smaller student body. There comes a time, however, in the life of every large educational institution when its plant becomes so wide, and its divisions of work and activities become so diverse and specialized, that it needs the unifying force of a great social center to maintain its solidarity. That time has come in the history of O. A. C.

The simplicity of organization inherent in its life as a small college, developing year by year under pioneering conditions, could not persist under the complex conditions of today. The modern world demands of a state institution of higher learning specialized scientific service. As the college has expanded to render this service, with increasing enrollment of students aggregating 4000 to 5000 a year, it cannot maintain the old unconscious unity that sprang from immediate contacts. It needs a new unity built on conscious organization and effort. To obtain this it needs a unifying and democratizing center.

The Memorial Union provides such a center. Built on the initiative of the students, with the help of faculty, alumni and friends, it will be an enduring hearthstone for O. A. C. It will be a place, centrally located and adequately equipped, for the socialization of the student body in a dignified and wholesome environment; for the accomplishment of large undertakings that concern the entire college community—students, alumni, faculty and friends; for the proper housing of alumni and student body organizations; and for intensifying college loyalty, not only throughout the campus and the state, but wherever graduates and former students may be, binding them all together in "the bond of Beaver brotherhood."

The Dean of Men

ULYSSES GRANT DUBACH, PH.D.
Dean of Men

THE MEMORIAL UNION building will be a union indeed in affording a common meeting ground for the many and varied elements of the big O. A. C. family. Today, if a student committee desires a meeting which represents various divisions of the campus, whether it be in the interest of athletics, social life, or a professional fraternity, the first question raised is, "Where shall we meet?" Tomorrow the Union building will be the answer.

Today our faculty counts well into the hundreds and with the constant institutional growth the number will increase. The size of the institution means a natural separation of the faculty units, both in location and interest. Today there is no club house where the different groups may meet for common committee studies. There is no eating place where the faculty members may come for their meals with the resultant talk fest. There is no common meeting place for games and recreation; neither are there facilities for entertaining visitors or student friends. Tomorrow the Union will provide all these facilities commonly afforded by a faculty club house.

The third member of the O. A. C. family, the alumni, will likewise realize that a long-felt need has been satisfied. From the nature of the case, the memorial feature will attract the alumni. There they will meet their friends of the past, whether they be fellow alumni or faculty, and there they will meet the present student body to live over the past experiences and talk over the problems and hopes of a greater O. A. C.

And now by our own efforts we are about to realize our ambition. How great will be the convenience and joy of all the members of this big O. A. C. family when this hope in the Memorial Union building has matured, and as a whole family we can plan and play together.

U G Dubach

The Dean of Women

WHEN MEN reach the stage in life in which they face the realization that they will soon join that "innumerable caravan," they think of the disposal of their worldly goods. It often happens that they bequeath all they have toward that thing which was denied them in their lives. Thus men who are successful in business but have been denied the privileges of a college education frequently leave their fortunes to educational institutions.

On the other hand the living often erect memorials to their honored and beloved dead. Not infrequently does it happen that these memorials later serve rather to satisfy the pride of the living than the honor of the dead.

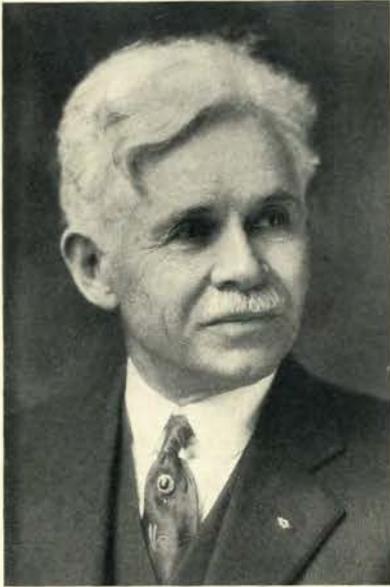

The Memorial Union building will be an expression of the love and respect of Oregon State college students for those of their colleagues who made the great sacrifice for their country during the World war. It is a memorial of which all may be proud. At the same time it is well to remember that we are honoring youth. These men, at the time of their death, were in the full bloom of young manhood and filled with all the hopes and desires characteristic of youth. As one of the outstanding hungers of these years is that of social intercourse, it is quite fitting and just that provision should be made in this building for the social life of the students of the college. Surely the young men in whose name the building is erected would rejoice to know that others are enjoying what was dear to them.

On the other hand, if we who are in the full power of life and its joys keep before us the purpose of the building, we shall never commit the sacrilege of abusing the privileges thus granted us. It is my hope that the Memorial Union building will be a center for the social life of the college and that such social life will be in accordance with the dignity of the school on whose campus it is standing and in harmony with the purposes for which it was erected.

ARTHUR BURTON CORDLEY, D.Sc.
Dean of the School of Agriculture

School of Agriculture

DEAN CORDLEY has long been a recognized authority in the scientific world. Magnetic in personality, of abounding ability, he is keenly interested in the affairs of his school and of the campus.

JOHN ANDREW BEXELL, M.A.
Dean of the School of Commerce

School of Commerce

THE ASSOCIATION of Dean Bexell's name with the school of commerce is perfectly natural as its work has developed to important proportions under his supervision. The school is now one of the largest and most important on the campus and, with the steady hand of Dean Bexell guiding its executive course, it continues to progress in power and usefulness.

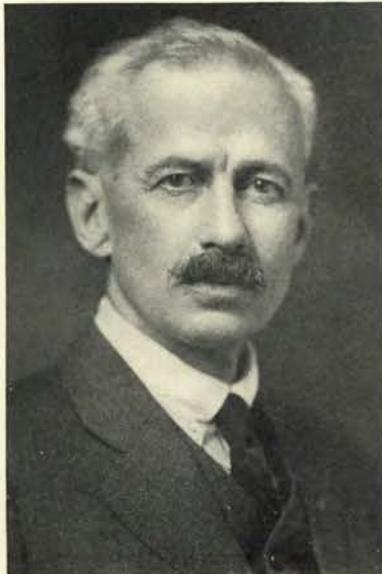

School of Engineering

THE SCHOOL of engineering is one of the most popular of all the schools of the college. Civil engineering, mechanical engineering, electrical engineering and other courses are offered in the school, which is headed by Dean Covell. Since its beginning he has been an active factor in the constructive development of this great school.

GEORGE WILCOX PEAVY, M.S.F.
Dean of the School of Forestry

School of Forestry

ONE OF THE most vital personages of the faculty is Dean Peavy. He is a "pal" to every one of his students, full of life and vigor and wit, radiating personality and friendliness. His work in the school of forestry has made it one of the most proficient of the college curricula.

School of Pharmacy

PROBABLY no man has contributed more to the progress of pharmacy in Oregon than Dean Ziefle. Coming to O. A. C. in 1914, he has consistently developed the school of pharmacy until it stands among the best in the United States.

AVA BERTHA MILAM, PH.B., A.M.
Dean of the School of Home Economics

School of Home Economics

DEAN MILAM has developed the work in home economics so as to combine scientific soundness with the broad outlook and cultivated discrimination essential to true womanhood. Selection of Dean Milam to plan and organize a home economics college in China came in recognition of her outstanding qualities as an educator.

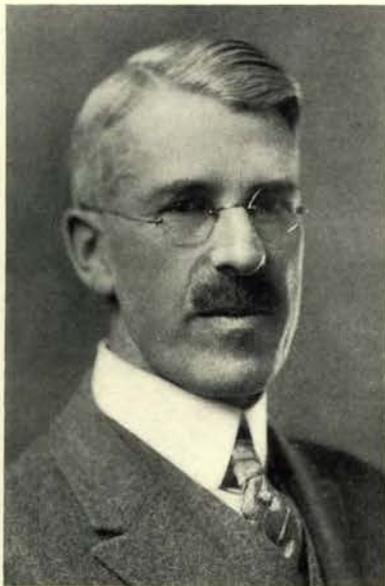

School of Mines

THE CORRELATION of theory and practice is the accomplished aim of the school of mines under the dynamic direction of Dean C. E. Newton. The school is fulfilling this ideal not only in the training of skilled graduates but in varied services to the state.

Dean of the School of Vocational Education

School of Vocational Education

DEAN E. D. RESSLER served O. A. C. for seventeen fruitful years. Taking the initiative in developing vocational education at the college, he rendered pioneer service to all Oregon. His kindly but dignified personality, his rich cultural influence and his fine qualities of manhood are sadly missed and mourned by all who knew him.

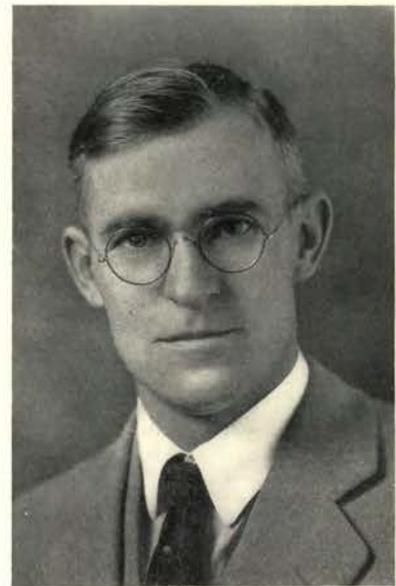

M. ELLWOOD SMITH, PH.D.
Dean of the School of Basic Arts and Sciences

School of Basic Arts and Sciences

DEAN SMITH has helped to strengthen the basic curricula and to advance the standards of scholarship and culture throughout the entire institution. By this means he has aided the college to secure recognition from all the leading college-rating organizations of the country.

Extension Service

THROUGH consistent and organized efforts, Director Maris has built up the extension service. He has been a successful pioneer in promoting new problems and projects, the best known, being the agricultural economic conferences.

STUDENT
ADMINISTRATION

Associated Students

R. BERT FEHREN
President of Associated Students

AN ORGANIZATION of the entire student body working under a constitution and by-laws approved by the faculty and having general authority over all student body enterprises—this is the technical description of the Associated Students of O. A. C. A clearer conception may be had through a knowledge of the organization's activities and accomplishments.

Headed by the executive committee, composed of the president of the student body, the first vice-president, second vice-president, third vice-president and secretary, the student body has weathered its seasons with increasing success and added efficiency. Each succeeding year brings an increasing number of student problems to the student administration of the college; problems peculiar to college life, but of no little consequence to the smooth running of the institution.

A review of achievements may prove that the year just passed has been no exception to the success of the years previous. The ever-present routine problems have come up and have been taken care of. Then there were matters of student responsibility, student participation, student contacts with the public, faculty administration and the like. In addition, several changes in the constitution brought about by the influence of the committee will have far-reaching effect on the efficiency of the student government.

Associated Student Officers

Associated Students

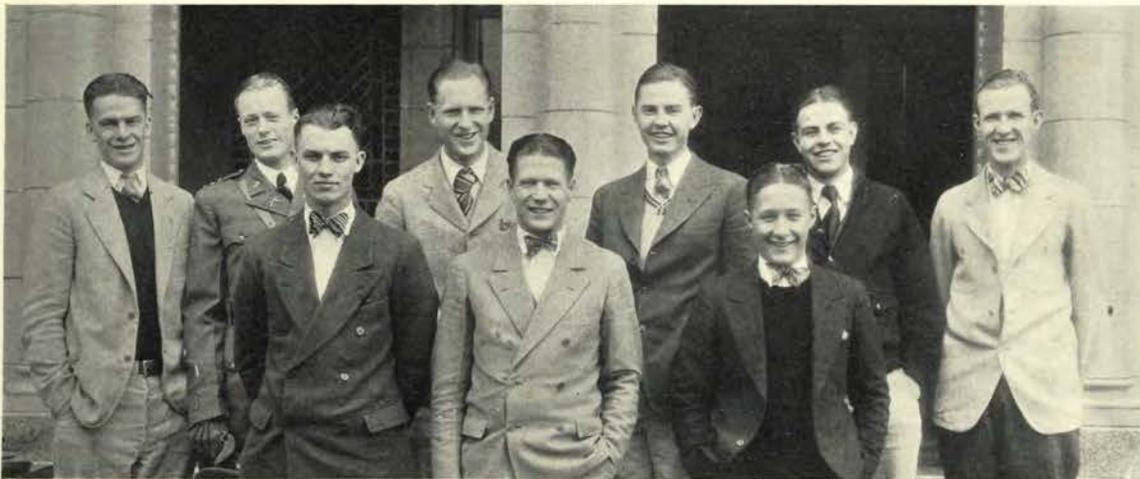

COOPERATION of the students, the intelligent work of truly interested student leaders and the work of the student counselors themselves are the three principal reasons that insure the continued success of student government here at Oregon State college.

The efficiency of the rest of the personnel of the student officers, namely the chairman of the honor council, yell leader, editor of the Daily Barometer, three members of the Greater O. A. C. council, and the junior and senior members of the board of control, is another determinant factor.

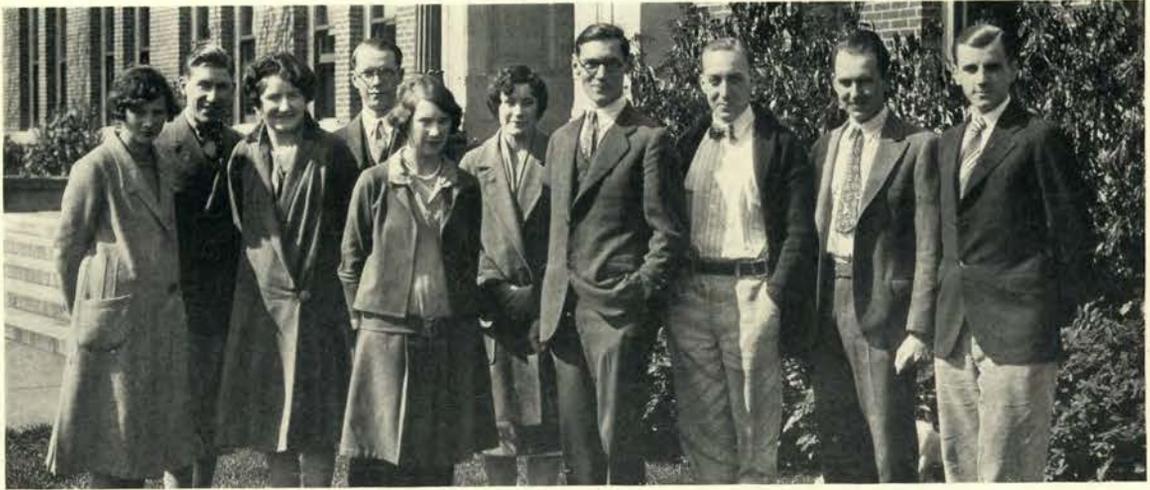

Through the cooperation of each of these representatives of the various activities and interests of the college, each matter that comes up for consideration has been well investigated and passed on. The committee merely acts as the final check for the entire student body. This group considers all problems in a general light and is able to give attention to varied matters. It is its duty to require all officers to comply with the provisions of the constitution and to have charge of all elections, seeing that all candidates are qualified. Officers are elected annually, nominations and elections being conducted in a manner similar to that of the state electorate. The president and the secretary are chosen from the senior class and the three vice-presidents are selected from the three upper classes.

MARGARET WATT
Secretary of Associated Students

Student Council

Honor Council

THE FOSTERING and maintaining of a high standard of honor among students of the college is the purpose and very life of the honor council. The nine members composing the council are vested with complete executive and judicial powers for the administration of the honor system. The success of the committee in maintaining the honor spirit and its competent handling of all cases appearing before it each year has commanded the respect of the campus. All the various complaints have been heard, witnesses examined and decisions rendered only after careful consideration.

Student Interest Committee

THE STUDENT interest committee is composed of the president of the Associated Students, editor of the Barometer, presidents of the Independent student council, the Interfraternity council, Pan-hellenic council, Associated Women students, dean of men, dean of women, and the chairmen of the scholarship and housing committees.

Board of Control

THE SUPERVISION of all student body funds is the function of the board of control, consisting of nine members. There are three faculty members appointed by the president of the college, one alumnus chosen by the alumni association, and five students, the president, first vice-president, secretary, and a junior and senior member of the student body. A general manager, appointed by the board of control, has immediate supervision over these matters, the function of the board consisting in the approving of budgets and schedules of the various student activities and organizations.

O.A.C.Co-Op Board

THE CO-OP board of directors manages all business pertaining to the co-op book store maintained by the students. Faculty and students may become members by the payment of a fee of 50 cents, which entitles them to dividends on purchases. This dividend is declared at the end of each school year by the board of directors and in the past has averaged eleven per cent.

Greater O. A. C. Committee

THE GREATER O. A. C. committee is devoted to the development of a greater student body. Its object is to promote higher education and, in conjunction with its committee workers, to reach every portion of the state. Every person eligible for entrance to the college is shown the advantage of a college education and—equally as important—an education at O. A. C. The committee publishes pamphlets, model courses and other literature which may be helpful to prospective students.

Homecoming Committee

THE ALUMNI will tell you that undergraduate life—"coming to college" is only half of it—the thrill of coming back, of homecoming, is almost the better half. Every year the homecoming weekend brings thousands of alumni back to their campus once more. Special events are scheduled to make the occasion a happy memory. A great conference football game, an alumni banquet, a freshman bonfire, and pep rallies, parades, and contests make up a thrilling program. "Hello, Grads," can be heard far and near.

Associated Women Students

THE ASSOCIATED Women students form an all-inclusive women's organization on the campus. Upon enrollment in the college a girl automatically becomes a member of this organization. The object is to further the educational, social and cultural aims of all women of the college and to create a spirit of cooperation among the women students. Officers are Hazel Hopkins, president; Velma Morgan, vice-president; Evelyn Jacobs, secretary; Mildred Nye, treasurer; and Elizabeth Currie, sergeant-at-arms.

Educational Exposition Committee

ENTIRE CHARGE of the exhibits of the various schools is vested in this organized corps of students. The exposition, held annually in February, gives an insight into the college work to several hundred high school students of the state. The contact thus afforded shows the spirit that animates the purposeful college student.

Beaver Knights

THE BEAVER KNIGHTS chapter of the National Order of Intercollegiate Knights is an underclassmen's honorary organization which acts as a "pep and tradition" committee for the college. The order is authorized by the constitution of the Associated Students and sanctioned by the administration, to both of whom it is responsible for its actions.

The object of the organization is to instruct the freshmen in the songs, yells and traditions of the college; to instill in them that real "Beaver pep;" and to bring a closer union between the freshmen and sophomore classes. Beaver Knights receive and entertain visiting teams and function at any and all college activities, such as athletic contests, convocations and the like.

Freshmen must carry at all times a "Rook bible," a small book giving information of interest and value to the newcomer at the college. The book is composed of articles concerning traditions, class gifts, names of deans, names of Associated Student officers, honorary organizations, publications, and songs and yells to be memorized. Messages from important faculty and student leaders to the incoming freshmen are also included.

Spurs

SPURS is an honorary fraternity for sophomore women, organized for the purpose of initiating and maintaining proper college spirit and enthusiasm among women students, particularly freshmen co-eds. The local chapter has but recently been granted, the seventh chapter of the national organization.

Active membership in the organization lasts for one year, only sophomores being eligible. Members are chosen by certain standards from among freshmen women in the spring and are initiated soon after school begins the following fall.

The work of Spurs consists of ushering at athletic contests, selling tags, giving rally dances, assisting any college groups who ask aid and cooperating with the college authorities in general.

White sweaters and skirts with the Spur emblem in the college colors are the official uniform of the organization.

Rain

*The rain beats, unrelenting—
Making a maddening tumult in my mind.
It drops like leaden tears, streaming
Forever between me and the sky.
Brightness is hidden, gutted
By a jealous grayness that persists.
A brave wind is struggling vainly
Against this sodden sheet of clammy wet.*

J. DOUGLAS MCKAY
President of the Alumni Association

FROM arctic Alaska to southern Argentina, and from tumultuous China to the sturdy British Isles, placid Norway and sunny India, extends the spirit of Oregon State through her graduates and former students. Truly the sun never sets on these vanguards of western civilization and teaching, who live and lead in the advancement of their respective localities.

Official and unofficial groups of Beavers throughout the length and breadth of this land come together constantly, seeking always mutual helpfulness, the advancement of their alma mater, the state and nation. These clubs become more and more numerous and influential as the years go by. Official groups in the United States now number thirty-three and there is an organization in Honolulu.

Uniting these groups and their memberships as well as all the other thousands of graduates and former students who have gone out from Oregon State is the Alumni association with its headquarters at Corvallis. Organized in 1875, five years after the first class was graduated, the association has advanced steadily to its present position of unquestioned value and accomplishment until, in fact, it has become one of the real, potent factors in the educational circles of Oregon and the world.

James Douglas McKay, student body president of 1917, now serves as the association's fifty-first president.

Back Again

DIRECTING the affairs of the Alumni association is the Alumni Board of five members, each of whom holds office for five years, one being elected annually by the entire association. The present membership includes, besides President McKay, Charles F. McKnight, '98, vice-president; Cyril G. Brownell, '07, treasurer; Claude Buchanan, '03; and Mark D. McCallister, '05.

Edward C. Allworth, '16, selected by the board, is the chief executive, whose duty it is to supervise and direct the varied program of the association. Of fundamental importance is his task of maintaining permanent records and up-to-date addresses of the fifty-five hundred graduates and fifteen thousand ex-students of Oregon State. Wherever and whenever possible the alumni secretary encourages and promotes the formation of alumni clubs and class organizations, activity in the latter showing up particularly at reunions, the big event of commencement time. Homecoming is another occasion to which the alumni secretary contributes largely.

Cooperation with the eighty largest and most prominent universities and colleges in the United States in the establishment of Intercollegiate Alumni hotels is another phase of the association work. This country-wide chain of designated hotels provides a series of homes for traveling alumni and a genuine headquarters, with lists of graduates, college publications, and special accommodations for alumni.

Alumni headquarters in room 112, commerce building, are maintained, above all things, as a campus home for alumni.

The Alumnus

ZELTA F. RODENWOLD
Editor of the Alumnus

THE O. A. C. Alumnus is the official organ of the Alumni association, carrying to its thousands of readers something of the college life that they have left behind and giving them interesting items concerning their former college mates, as well as informing them of the plans and projects of their alma mater and offering them an opportunity for exchange of thought and comment so necessary to mutual understanding and unified action.

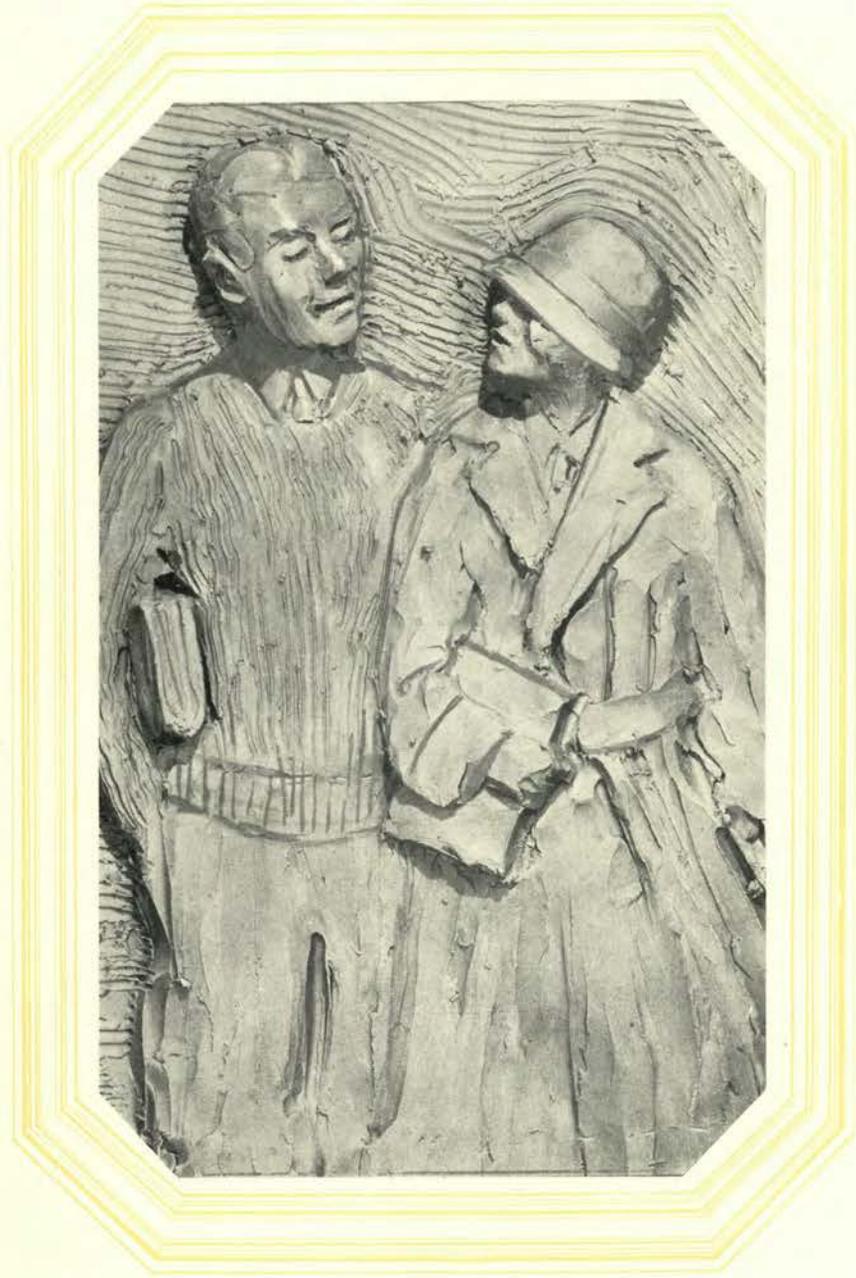

This magazine is a thirty-two page periodical of standard size which appears regularly each month from October to July, inclusive. It is illustrated, contains such special departments as athletics, forensics, notes from the campus colleges and vital alumni statistics. It is of sufficient quality to be rated in class "A" by the Alumni Magazines Association, of which it is a member. The Alumnus has reached its present status only after a struggle of years. The forerunner of the magazine was a press bulletin, published in 1915, by a committee of alumni. Shortly after, the first O. A. C. Alumnus was issued and its publication continued spasmodically with the gratuitous services of a part time editor, until in 1921 it became a monthly.

An Alumni Directory has been issued twice in the past five years, appearing as a monthly issue of the magazine in 1922 and again in 1925. The latter publication contained the names of eight thousand, two hundred and fifty-three Beavers listed alphabetically, by classes and geographically.

Zelta Feike, '19, (now Mrs. B. W. Rodenwold), has been the editor of the O. A. C. Alumnus since 1921.

Senior Class

THE SENIOR CLASS has completed four successful years. It has numbered among its members more athletic stars in varsity football and track and more all-around athletes than any previous class.

In interclass sports it won the basketball tournament in the sophomore year by decisively defeating all opponents. The class football squad won the cup in the junior year. This year crew was added to the interclass sports and will play an important part in the future.

The winning team in freshman intercollegiate debate belonged to the class of '27 and the interclass debate contest was added to the class laurels in the junior year.

The class had distinctive sweaters as insignia during its sophomore year. The women wore scarfs of the same color scheme. This same year the Memorial Union building campaign was launched to embody a memorial to our war heroes. The class won the contest for the largest number of subscriptions pledged.

The all-college major dances given by the class were very unusual. The Cotillion portrayed a prison scene with large stone walls, the orchestra dressed as convicts, and the programs represented a ball and chain. An ocean scene provided the setting for the Junior Prom with marine animals and foliage for decorations.

Our last year brought many social functions. The Artists' ball in the fall furnished the feature dance of the year. The artists were varied in their makeup from football players and bricklayers to sculptors and painters. The Senior Formal and more skating and theater "busts" were scheduled. The last college affair of the class was the annual Newport trip when the seniors froliced and reveled in beach sports just before they were graduated in the spring.

EACH GRADUATING CLASS keeps the old-time tradition of giving some lasting gift to the college. The memorial gift committee aids in the selection of this gift. The senior formal, which is for seniors only, is arranged by the formal committee. A purchasing committee, which cooperates with the Oregon Manufacturers' association in buying Oregon made goods, makes all class purchases. The insignia committee chooses appropriate clothing to set seniors apart from other students. The table top committee selects a table top and design to represent the things the class stands for. Graduating members have their announcements chosen by the announcement committee.

Junior Class

*In the mighty state of Oregon,
In the history of the college,
Is the class of eight and twenty,
Juniors now of eight and twenty.*

*When we first as freshmen started
In this role of our career,
We chose Duffield as our chieftain;
Great and mighty was our chieftain.*

*At the time of the Homecoming,
The eve of an impending game,
High and proudly stood our bonfire;
Work of freshmen was this bonfire.*

*Ere upon our year as sophomores
When we chose a chief again,
Whipps was 'pointed as our leader;
Strong and sincere was this leader.*

*In Olympics with the freshmen,
In a battle tug-of-war,
We as sophomores were victorious;
O'er the freshmen were victorious.*

*For our social recreation
And our love for Indian lore,
We staged the Sophomore Cotillion;
Danced we long at the Cotillion.*

*Then as juniors, led by Johnson,
Great and sturdy is our class;
Gave the Prom, 'mong other dances;
Best of all the formal dances.*

*For the college entertainment
'Mong the campus week-end pleasures,
The third year students gave a vaudeville;
Full of comic was the vaudeville.*

*When this class as mighty seniors
Leaves the fold of O. A. C.—
On its portals will be written Deeds for Alma Mater written.*

GREATER SPIRIT, activity and cooperation was displayed by this year's junior class than has been shown in the past. The cooperation of the class was shown by the splendid work of the various committees. The prom committee produced the biggest and best prom in many years. This was the most outstanding social function of the college year. The class insignia chosen by the insignia committee was orange and black sweat shirts. Juniors were kept well posted on all class events and meetings by the work of the publicity committee. The several "busts" and "cord dances," which were enjoyed by many juniors, were sponsored by the social committee.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS met for the first time as a group on September 21, 1925. Shortly afterwards the class was called together to elect its officers, choosing George Lauder as president; Clara Park, vice-president; Evelyn Jacobs, secretary; and Henry DeBoest, treasurer.

A series of successful competitive events then followed for the class. The annual rook-sophomore Olympics were won and the class was well represented in other sports. The debate squad came through the season undefeated; the building of the homecoming bonfire set a record for size, and it, as well as the rest of the campus, was carefully guarded.

The social functions of the class took the form of dances which were "hail-fellow-well-met" affairs, with vocal selections by several well-known sophomores as the features of the evenings.

After the men of the class made their traditional swim in the mill race, ribbons and "lids" were tossed into the fire and the class became officially known as sophomore.

The officers elected to carry on the work of the class of '29 through its second year were Bergan Belleville, president; Helen Wells, vice-president; Ruth Morrison, secretary; William Kirk, treasurer; Harry Crawford, sergeant-at-arms; and Fred McKeen, yell leader.

The sophomores, champions of the underclasses, and the juniors, champions of the upperclasses, fought on the football field in an over-time battle to a tie for interclass honors. Later, the representatives of the respective classes battled it out by matching coins, and from this hard-fought struggle the sophomores emerged victorious.

The Sophomore Cotillion was the first major function of the year. The decoration scheme used gave the interior of the men's gymnasium an atmosphere of mid-winter.

THE COTILLION COMMITTEE of the sophomore class committees is considered the most important. It is the function of this committee to make all arrangements for the Sophomore Cotillion, the first major social function of the college year. The social committee has general charge of all the various social activities of the class. The traditional sophomore sweater is selected from several recommended to the class by the sweater committee. Under the leadership of the bag rush committee, sophomore men are prepared for several struggles with the freshmen. The vaudeville committee has charge of the act given by the class in the annual junior vaudeville held in the spring term.

Freshman Class

THE CLASS OF 1930 was organized September 25, 1926, at which time it chose the following officers: president, Ezra Webb; vice-president, Irene Blaesing; secretary, Leta Kent; treasurer, Ransom Meinke; and yell leader, Warren Coffeen.

The first event in which the class took part was the rook-sophomore Olympics during the first of the fall term. Although it was their first attempt at interclass affairs, the freshmen were victorious in all four contests—the boxing match, the horse and rider event, the relay race, the tie-up and flag rush. The one to whom the honor is given for the organization of these winning teams is Andrew Cook, chairman of the committee.

The two events taking place during Homecoming were the pushball and bag rush contests, which resulted in favor of the rooks, and the rook bonfire—a “roaring” success. The building of the bonfire was the first opportunity the class had to show its cooperative ability. It was the largest bonfire ever built at O. A. C., being 40 feet square and 45 feet high. It was completed in four hours, one-half hour less than the former record. Garlen Simpson acted as chairman of the pushball and bag rush contests and Howard Williams as chairman of the bonfire.

The class staged two dances during the year. The first, scheduled for the fall term but postponed on account of conflicting holidays, was given the first of the second term. The second was given the first of the spring term. Both of these dances were made successful by the efforts of the social committee with Irene Blaesing as chairman. Although the freshman year has been an exceedingly successful and happy one, the class feels that the best is yet to come if all the years are as successful as the first.

ROOK PARTICIPATION in contests between sophomores and the first-year men during the fall term is in charge of the Olympics committee. During the college year, a social committee with a chairman, four sub-chairmen and twenty members handles all details in connection with these class dances. The bag rush and push ball committees have a chairman and two assistants. They superintend the rooks in their practice for the contest with the sophomores and make all necessary arrangements for the events. The tug-of-war committee is the most important one of the spring term. This annual contest, an event of campus week end, is held with the sophomores.

Memory

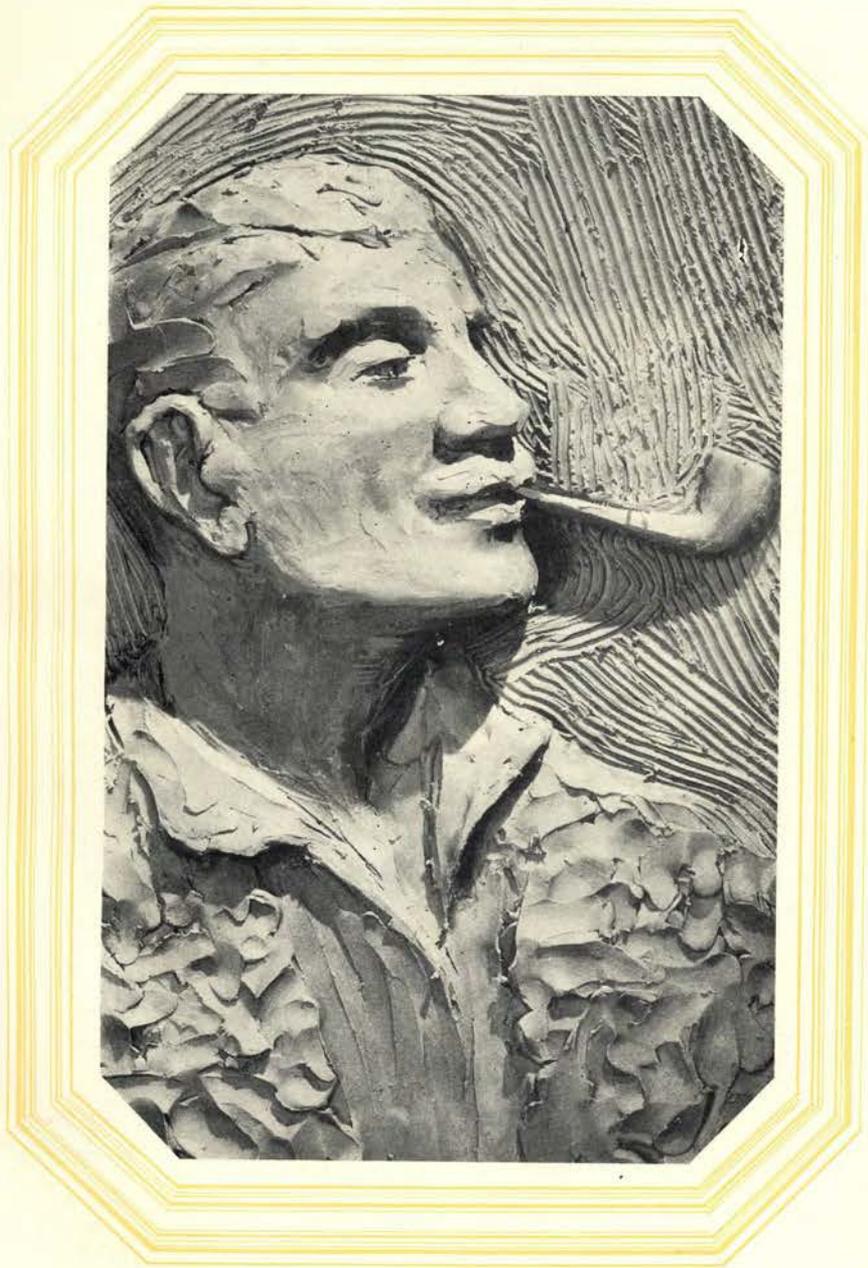

*Memory is an old grey woman
Who sits at the heart's gateway;
Knitting, endlessly knitting
Her garment of grey, dull grey.*

*Her skirts sweep back till the fringe is lost
On the edge of the world's first day;
But it falls from her band in a sullen stream
Of grey, monotonous grey.*

*There where Memory's dress is lost
On the morning's gold-white rim,
Are all the suns of the youth of us,
And the things that are old and dim.*

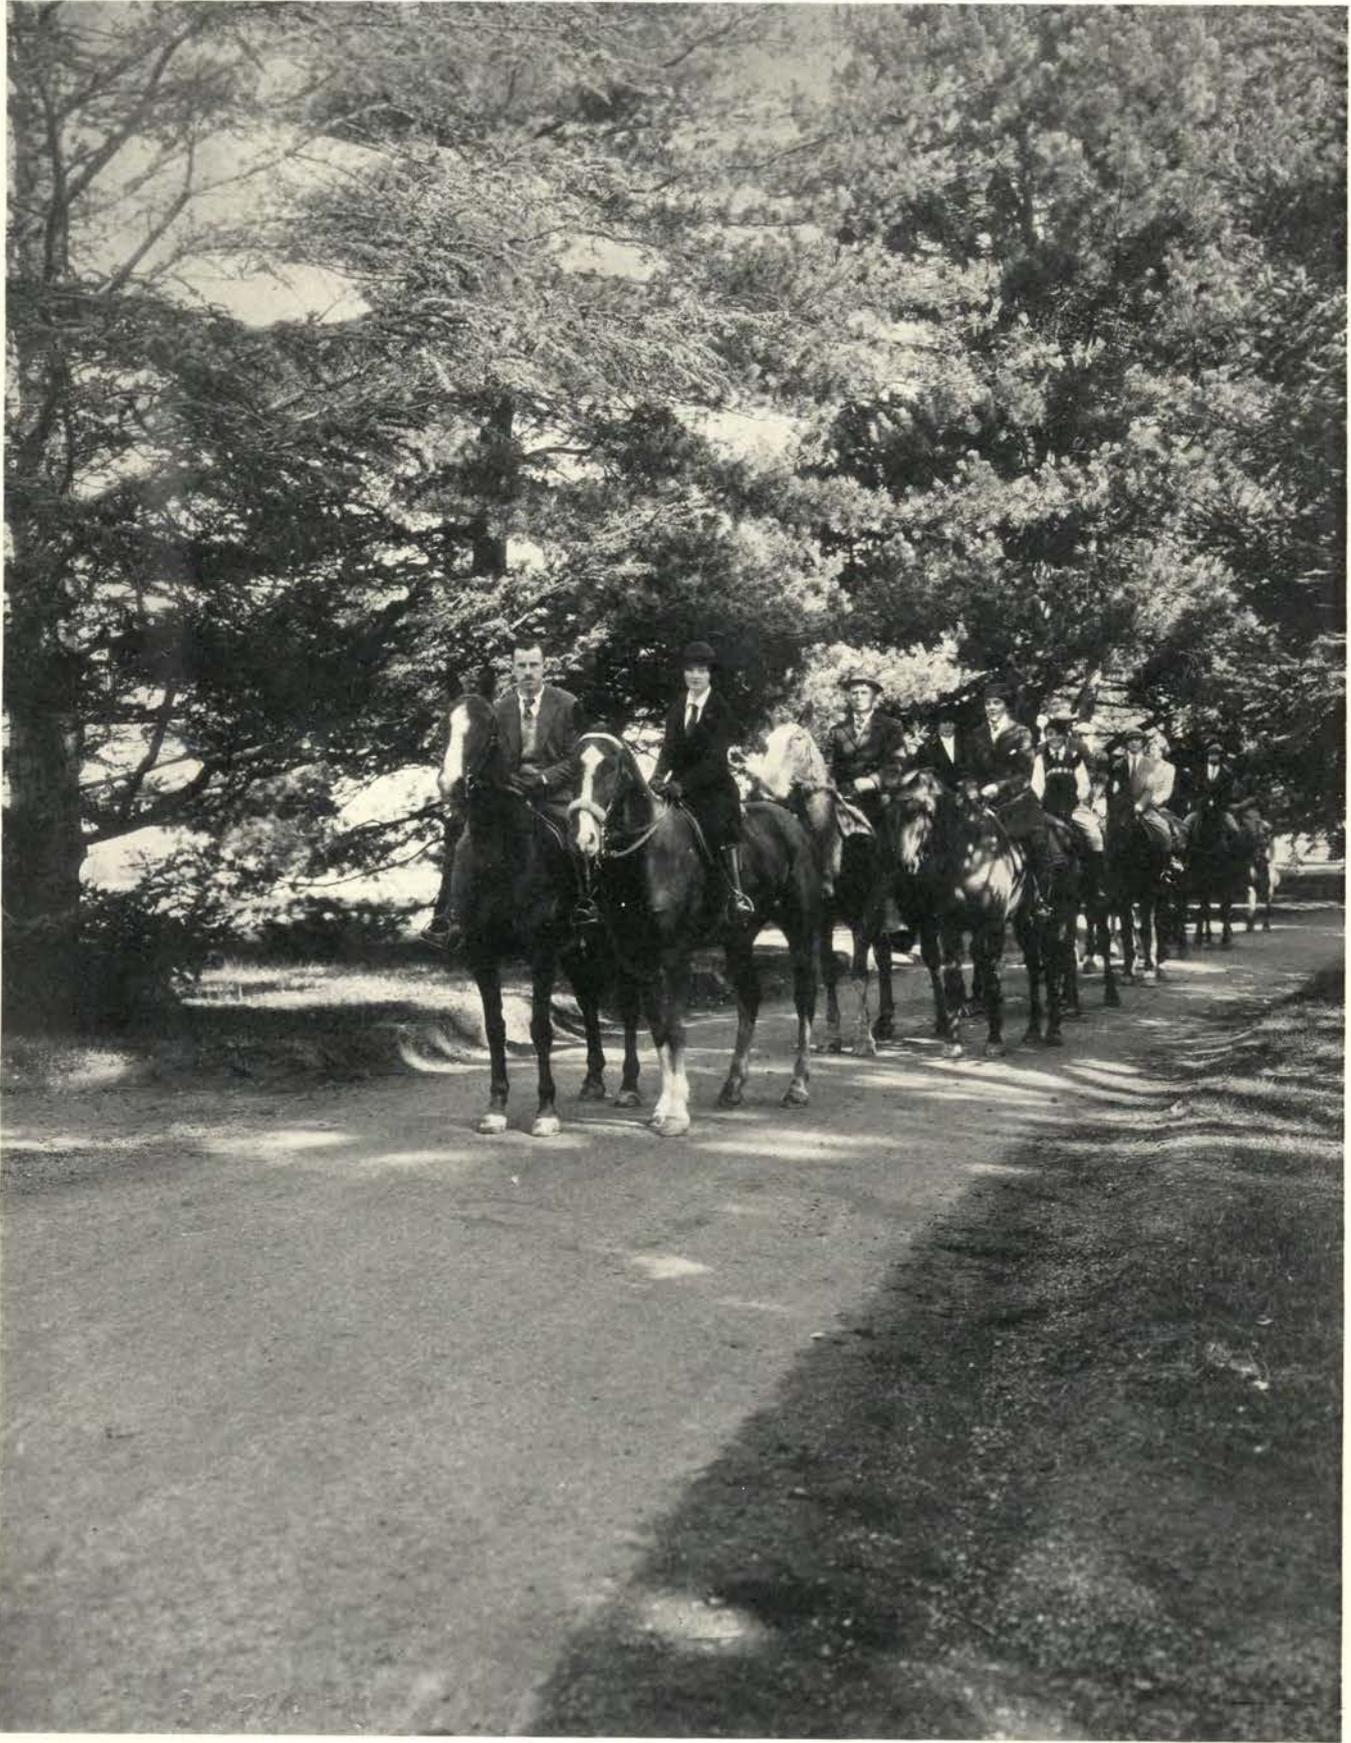

*On the fringe of the dress are the butterflies;
Bright gossamer playthings of old;
The dress is no longer grey, dull grey,
But azure, and crimson, and gold.*

*The farthest folds of her long, long dress
Are lambent colors that leap and play;
But we do not look at her hands where she knits,
For there it is grey, dull grey.*

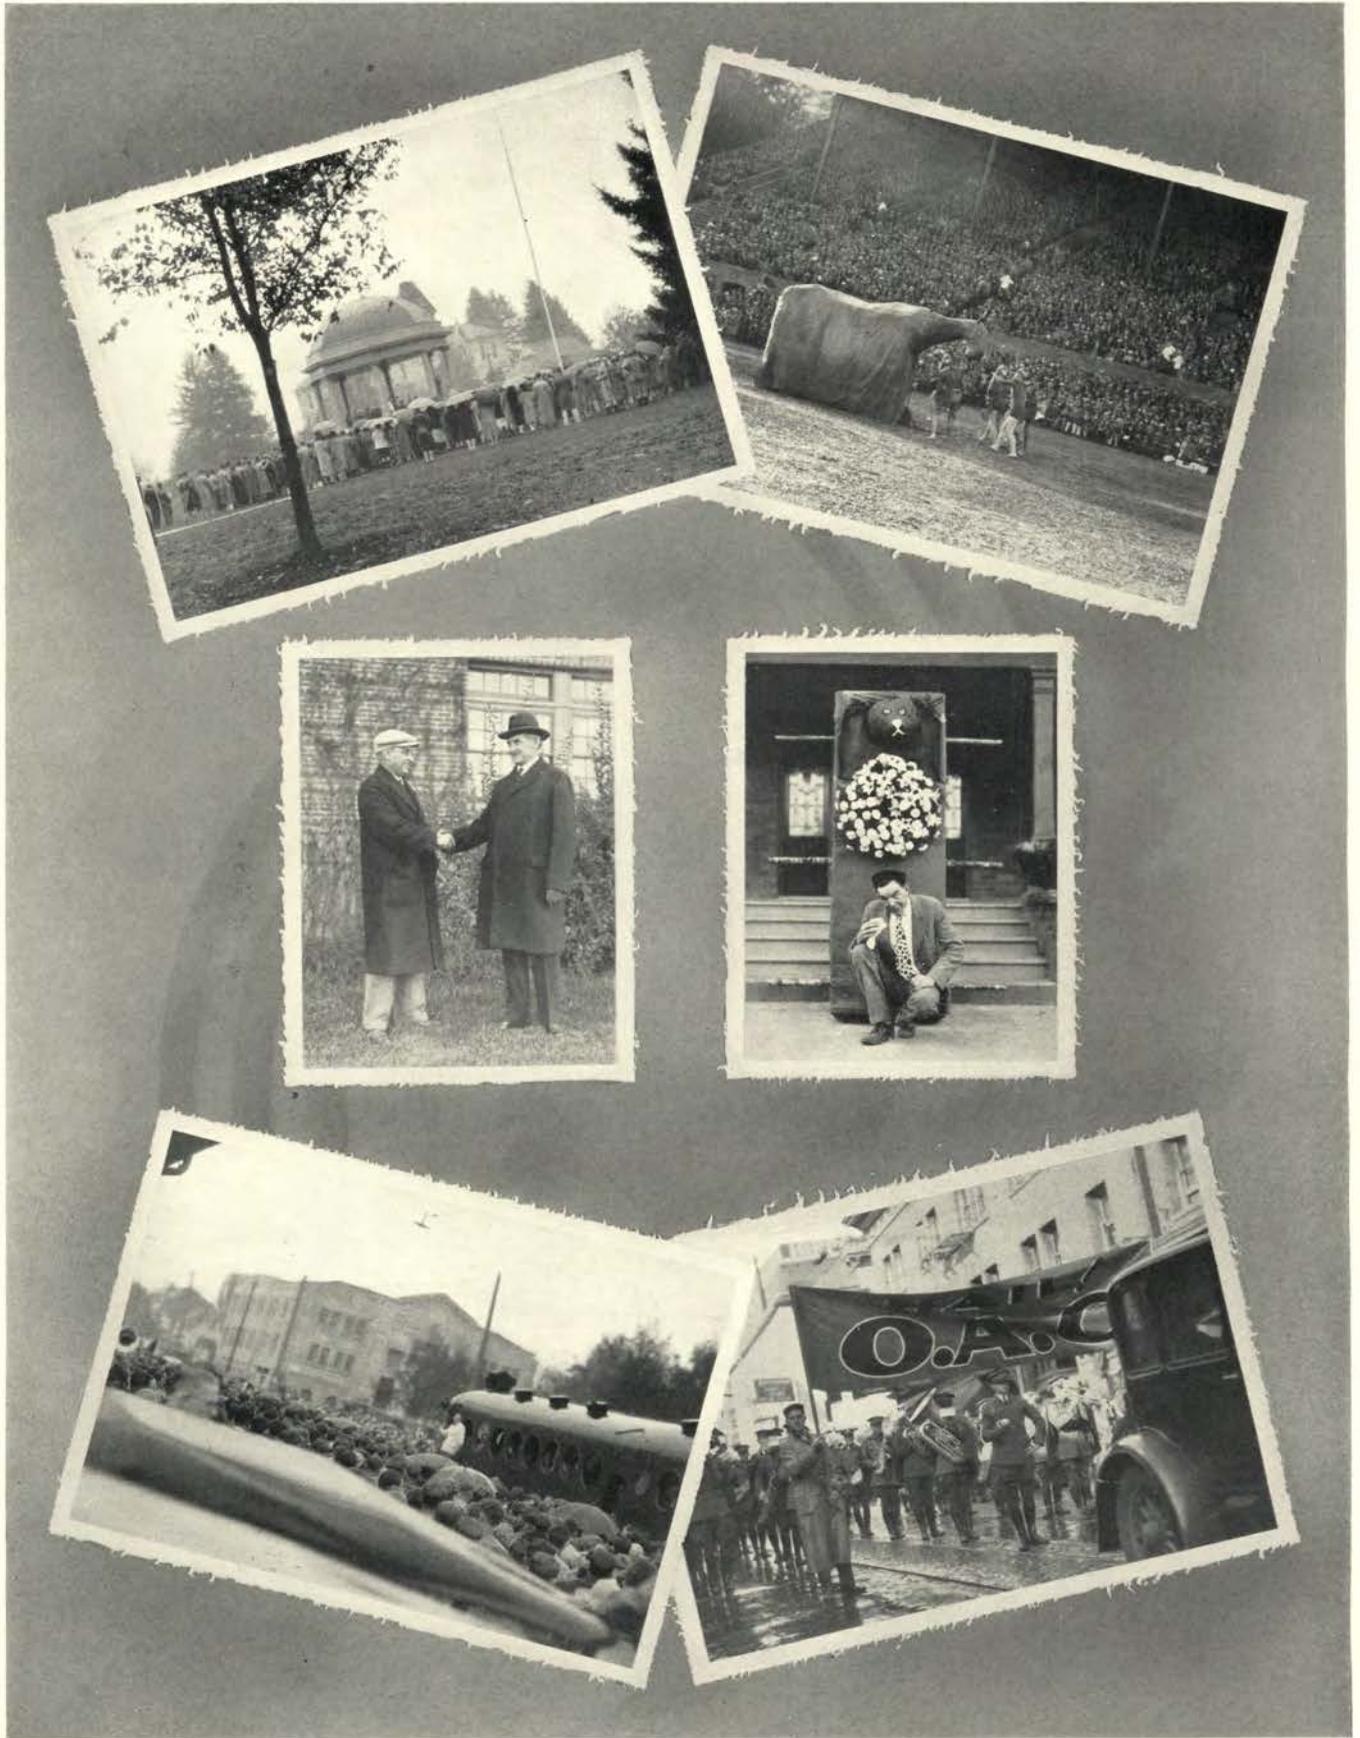

MEMORIES

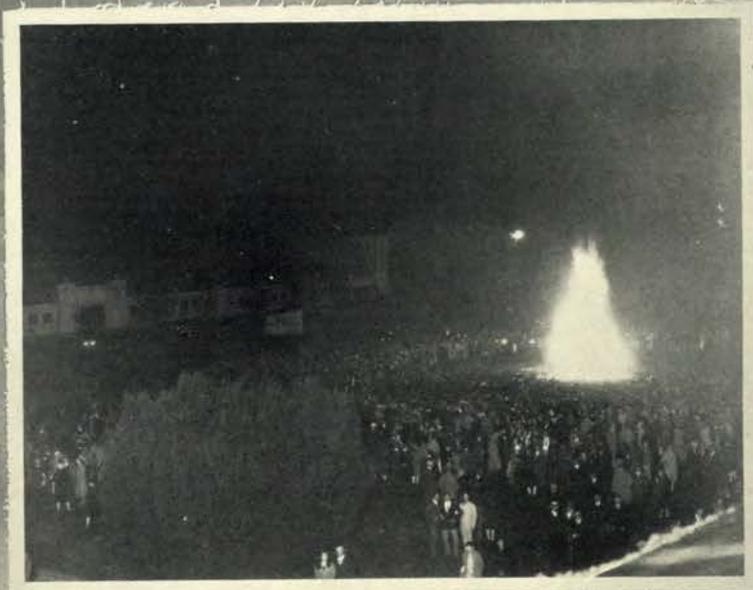

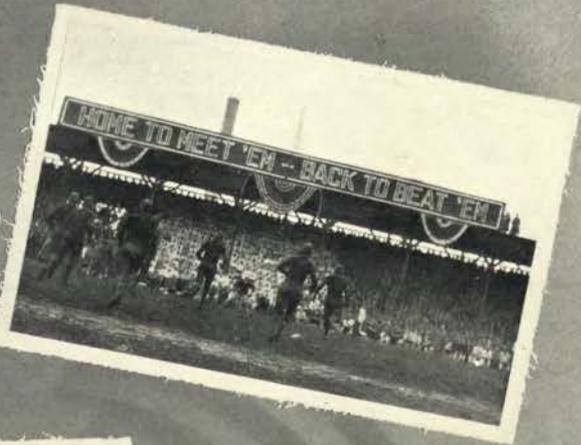

Bridle paths, overhung with luxuriant evergreen growth and splashed with long slanting rays of the morning sun, form entrancing settings for the riding club, composed of student and faculty members. The campus is generously supplied with such gifts of nature.

A little thing like rain doesn't keep the gang away from rallies at the bandstand and depot nor from the parades. The old wooden horse of Troy came to life on Multnomah field. "Prexy" congratulates Coach Schissler on the wonderful team of this year while Gordon mourns the poor old Golden Bear.

Once a year the campus puts on new finery—once a year the "old grad" comes back to reign supreme and talk over the "big game"—Homecoming. Bonfire, signs, everything was right. The game itself was designated the Walter Camp memorial for this section.

Freak outfits and duties characterize the initiation procedures of various groups. The Beaver Knight neophytes in masquerade entertain the basketball fans and serve as bootblacks, "white wings" and entomologists. The amateur journalists of Sigma Delta Chi in soup 'n fish torture everyone on the campus for interviews. Hammer and Coffin initiates belie their humoristic tendencies.

President Kerr shakes hands with Dr. A. B. Hall, president of University of Oregon. Convocation speakers shown are Dr. C. C. Little, president of University of Michigan; Dr. J. D. Spaeth, Princeton university; Dr. W. Grenfell of Labrador, lecturer; and Dr. Paul Harvey, international economist. Ex-governor W. M. Pierce and J. C. Othus, college instructor and proposed crew coach, are shown.

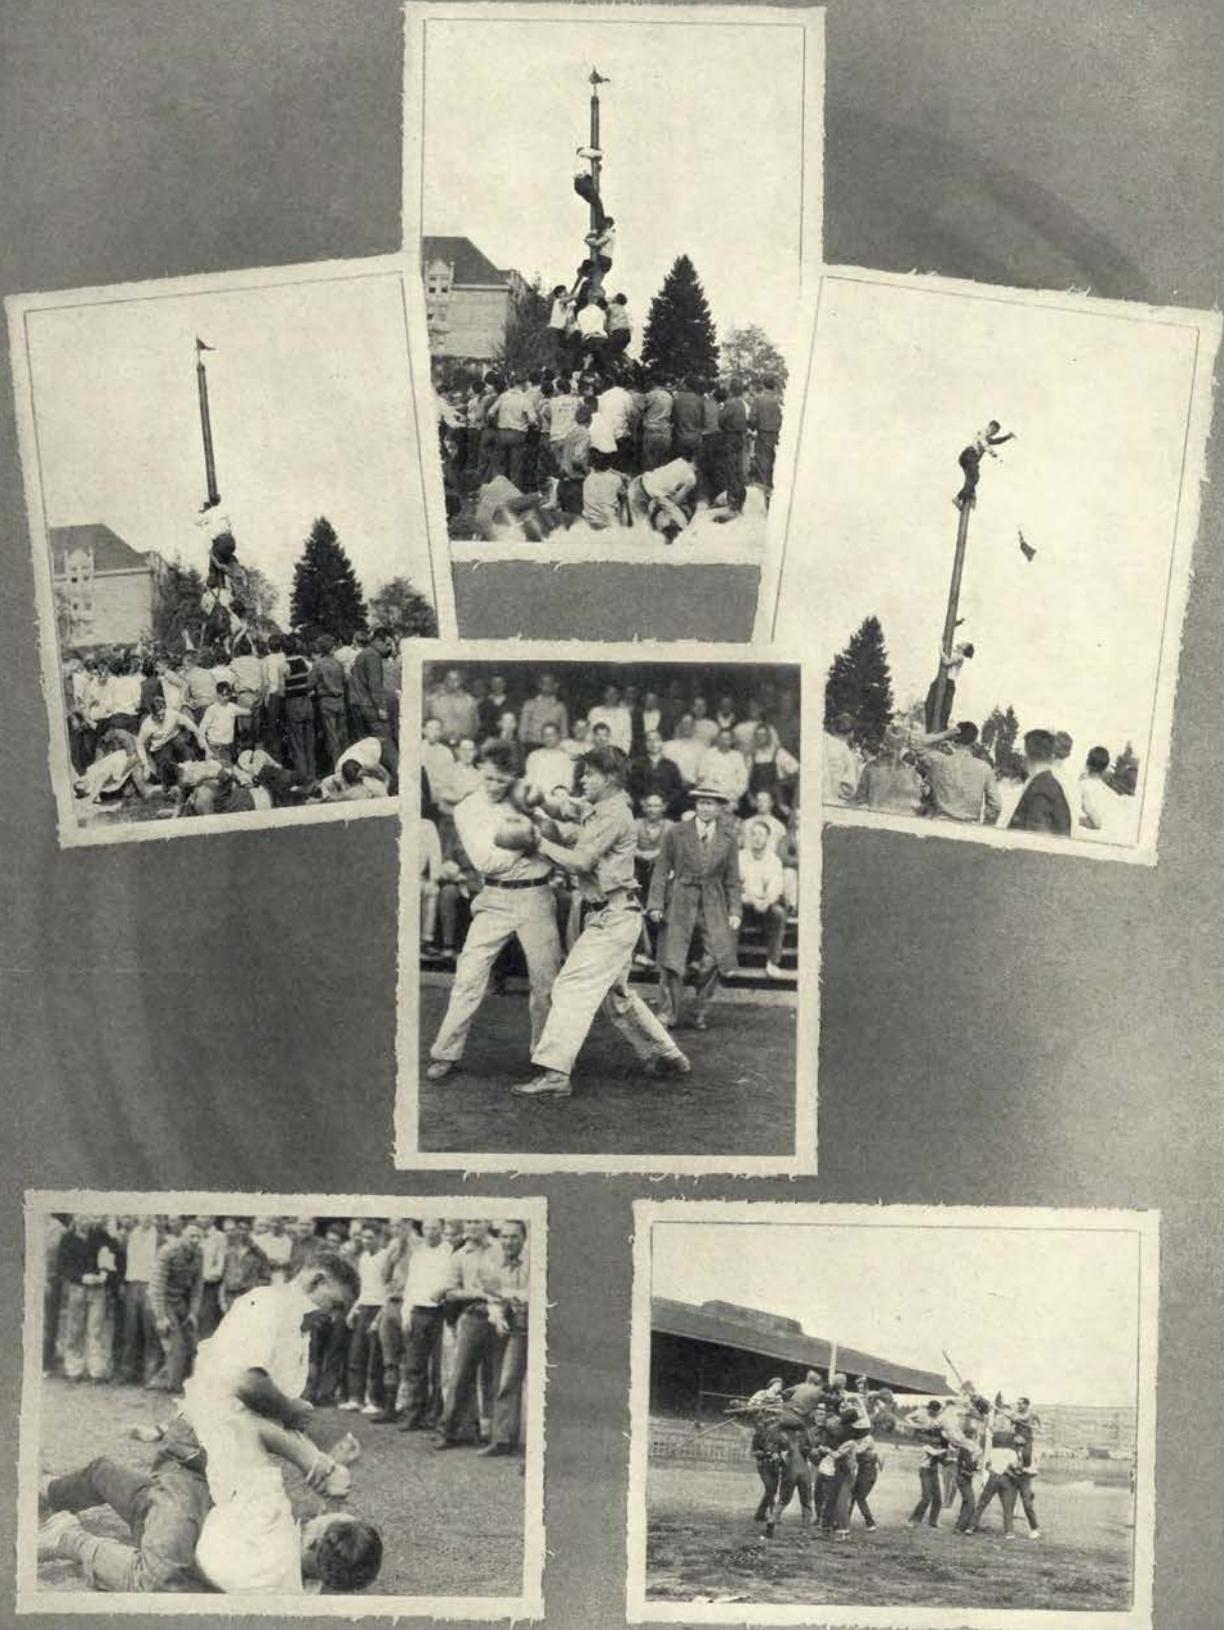

College is not all book and classes—there are some Fords, although they are supposed to keep off the grass, too. The juniors “bust” every now and then and litter the theater with peanuts. A little “mental race-track.” The trains ran on pontoons in those days. The “fire department” lost his hat at this blaze. The freshman reception.

The co-eds assume masculine attire at such occasions as the annual Co-ed Ball, the Giocosso and the Junior Vaudeville. Nothing like a ride on the bounding main at Newport with the seniors to complete the year. The S. P. E. scoreboard showed the Sigma Kappas' to be winner by a large score at pledging.

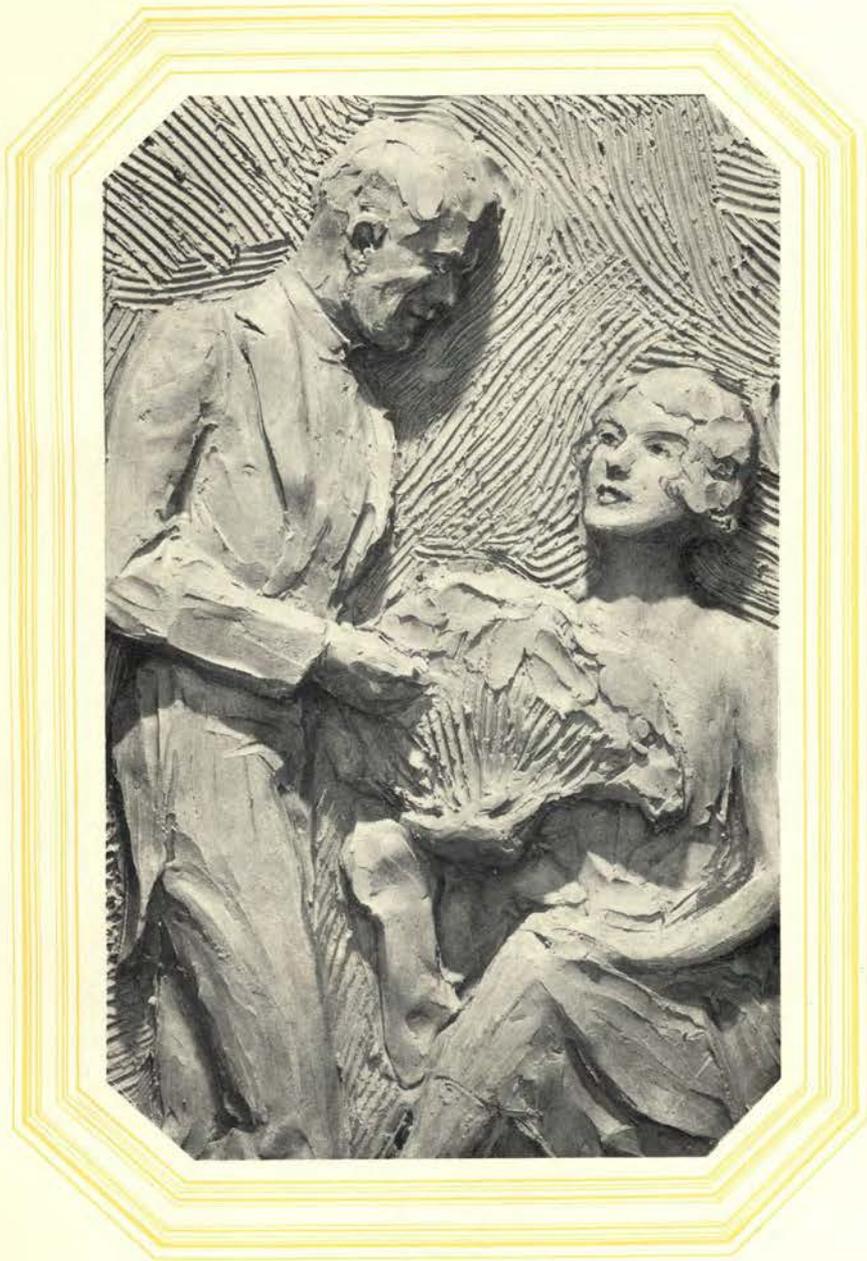

My! How they must hate cold water to pull so hard.—Splash! Must have lost! But then it's a grand and glorious feeling to know that the first year is over. Food and the Orange Owl divide attention at the campus luncheon.

The freshmen decisively showed their supremacy by capturing the sophomore flag at the Olympics. Knights and pugilists jostled for supremacy in the annual clash of the sophomores and rooks. Each year the competition for class supremacy becomes keener and this year was no exception.

As commencement day dawns, the seniors don the traditional garb of the student and parade to the exercises and the winning of the sheepskin. Father Time presided at the last open air convocation in honor of the seniors and Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Kerr received the class.

STUDENT

O. A. C. Barometer

A. LOWELL McMILLAN
Editor

THE BAROMETER is the official organ of the student body and is published daily, except Sunday and Monday, during the college year by the Associated Students of O. A. C. It is a seven-column four-page paper with a circulation of more than 4000 copies daily, being read by college students, faculty members, alumni, and high school students.

The paper is a reflector of campus activities and keeps the students, alumni and others informed about college life. It is edited and managed by a staff of more than 85 students interested in journalism who gain practical knowledge from running this daily. News of interest to the student is the primary interest of the Barometer. As a member of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press, a service is maintained under which exchanges are kept up with the other colleges who are members of the organization.

Special editions have been run off and delivered to the campus but a few minutes after the time of an important event. Several special six- and eight-page editions are published each year. The Barometer is considered one of the largest of all student enterprises, the editor being elected by the students and ranking along with the president of the student body in occupying one of the highest offices in college.

The paper is strictly a student enterprise, all work with the exception of the actual printing being done by the staff which includes the editor, associate editor, executive news editor, assistant editors, proofreaders, copyreaders, department editors, and reporters.

Beats are assigned each term to those students taking courses in journalism. This prevents the possible overlooking of a minor news story as the reporters cover their beats three times a week. Important stories are assigned to special reporters by the assignment editor whose job it is to see that no news of importance on the campus is overlooked.

The Barometer is recognized by newspaper authorities as one of the outstanding college papers on the Pacific coast. Its makeup conforms with that of leading metropolitan newspapers in the northwest and its freedom from errors is notable. Heads used are distinctive and fit the importance of the stories, thereby giving the pages a pleasing appearance.

Students wishing positions on the staff place their applications with the editor at the beginning of each term. The applicants who show the greatest interest and ability in journalistic work are appointed at the end of the term. The Barometer staff is representative of the college as its staff members are registered in every school on the campus.

Each issue of the paper for the week is edited by a different combination of day and night editors and their assistants. Department editors have charge of their special fields. Copy readers, proofreaders and reporters are required to work at least six hours each week.

A manager for the paper is selected by the Board of Control. The manager chooses his business staff which includes advertising, circulation and national advertising managers and their assistants. Members of the Barometer staff get together socially twice a year at a "bust." Although this is in the nature of a reward, their real reward is the experience obtained and the friendships made.

The Barometer has its offices, both editorial and managerial, in the basement of the commerce building. Editing work done on the paper during the day is carried on in these rooms. Final work on the issue is completed in special offices provided for the Barometer in the new Gazette-Times building. The paper goes to press after midnight and is delivered in the early morning to all living groups having ten or more students. Other students procure their paper from a stack left in the college library.

An editorial page is maintained by the editor and editorial writers which serves as a means of molding student opinion. Special feature columns add interest to the paper, the best known being "Smudge From the Pot," a column containing live poems, jokes, and original stories. Other columns are "Pithy Paragraphs," "Announcements," "College World," "Theater Briefs" and "Alumni Notes."

The paper is supported by a portion of student fees, subscriptions and advertisements. Important stories, such as major athletic games, convocations and events of major importance, are reported by experienced writers whose names are printed in a byline at the head of the story. This insures accuracy and interest in important stories.

The Beaver

URSEL C. NARVER
Editor

BEAVER VOLUME XXI represents more than a year and a half of planning, organizing and studying by the editor and his staff for best effects in an original manner. An annual different from preceding Beavers, yet comprehensive and within the means available, was the aim of the editorial workers.

Early selection of staff members by the editor, Ursel Narver, resulted in formation of the motif and determination of new features before the summer time came. Constant work on the book has been the program for the past year.

After careful consideration, the Memorial Union, with all of its sentiment and beauty, was selected as a central theme for the motif. With actual breaking of ground for the Memorial Union building coming at the same time the book came off press, the two events were logically connected. It seemed also fitting to dedicate Beaver Volume XXI to Edward C. Allworth, graduate of '17, prominent in college activities and an internationally recognized hero of the World war. A facsimile of his official war record appears in the opening section.

In honor of those who aided our country in the recent conflict, for whom the Memorial Union building will be a monument, illustrations of military design have been worked into the motif. A corner view of the approved Memorial Union building is shown on the cover and drawings are in the special Memorial Union section, the leading feature of the book.

Other features of this volume include a general and a personal index. Sections displayed in the Beaver for the first time are Memorial Union, Alumni, Summer Session and Dances. The set of oil paintings of well known campus scenes, all borders and decorations, and the section heads, made from modeled clay and heretofore never used for a similar purpose by any large American college or university, are the work of Rene Weaver, one of the leading artists of the Pacific coast.

The standard size of 9 x 12 inches is used for this Beaver. This size has enabled the editor and manager to publish more material and increase the value of the book to the possessor. The Beaver has swung into line with other large college annuals by adopting these dimensions, rapidly becoming the standard for annuals throughout the United States.

Heavy ivory tinted paper gives the book a luxurious page appearance unobtainable on white paper. This paper is used in the Beaver this year for the first time. A change has also been made in the printing type as to size and kind, believing the written matter will present a more inviting appearance through this change. The cover is the final selection from the many art sketches submitted.

A diligent attempt was made this year to obtain the highest degree of accuracy possible in all parts of the book. Each bit of copy has been carefully checked by organization heads and the Beaver staff. The college editor and his office force aided materially in getting a high degree of accuracy.

It is almost impossible to expect pictures of every college event to be published in the annual, but photographs have been taken of the most outstanding events, in this way recalling interesting happenings to the minds of the readers. Each picture is an index of the many things that took place while the student was in college.

Last in the book comes the humor section. This department contains some of the best college wit, quips and student art of the year. Take-offs and the oddities of those on the campus are shown in a clever manner.

A noticeable feature of the present annual is the completeness in handling college activities. The volume contains the college administration, fraternities, sororities, independent organizations, honor societies, athletics, clubs, publications, military, dramatics, college year, forensics, alumni, dances, class sections and the humor section.

The managerial staff of this year was responsible for the financial side of the publication. Revenue for financing the Beaver was obtained from sale of space to organizations, sale of books and from advertisers.

The manager plays an important part in the production of an annual of high quality. No editor can produce a luxurious book without financial backing. Gardner Knapp, manager, realized the situation and worked diligently toward making the book a financial success. Through the use of a budget system, approximately $20,000 was expended on this volume, the greatest sum ever spent in the publication of an O. A. C. annual.

Although the editor for this volume was elected by the junior class, a student body constitutional amendment passed last year provided for the publication of the Beaver under the control of the Associated Students. It also provided that the editors were to be elected from the entire student body. This allows, but does not make mandatory, the election of a senior for Beaver editorship.

In keeping with the amendment, the editor chose his staff from all four classes and the manager handled all of his finances through the office of the general manager of student affairs. The manager is selected by the Board of Control.

The Beaver records all of the important events of the year. It is a book that will increase in value to its owner as the years roll by. Memories of "the happiest moments of my life," will be recalled when the student becomes an "old grad." Remembrance of the old pathways of the campus, the association with old friends, the sorrows, the enjoyment of the college days are once more before him in his Beaver. Like a magician's lamp, is this book, for it will light up the past with but a glance into its contents.

The editor's acknowledgement will be found on the last page of the Beaver.

Orange Owl

THE ORANGE OWL is the campus comic magazine published five times a year by Hammer and Coffin, national honorary humor society. It is a 32-page magazine with a circulation of more than 3000 copies. Its purpose is to show the expression of and to promote creative talent among the students of the college along lines of wit, humor, cartoon, pen sketch and literary work.

Material is reprinted by College Humor and well-known college comic magazines throughout the country. The Orange Owl is rated as one of the best comic magazines in the west. It contains poems, jokes, short humorous stories, plays and limericks. Besides printing original contributions, it prints exchanges from other college comic magazines printed by Hammer and Coffin, thus procuring the best of college wit.

An issue, known as the Adam's Rib number, was published this year exclusively by co-eds, thus giving the supposedly weaker sex an opportunity to show its ability along humorous lines. All work connected with putting out the magazine, including editing and managing, was done by co-eds. The issue met with approval by readers and proved to the campus males that the fair sex has a well-developed sense of humor.

The magazine not only affords an opportunity to develop the humorous talents of individuals but also offers a means to print for budding young artists who lack experience. A number of members of the staff have entered the field of professional art after their graduation.

More than 40 students contribute material for each issue and more than 35 work on the managerial and circulation staffs. Appointments to the staff are not confined to one school as is the case of many campus publications, for nearly every school is represented.

W. A. DAHLBERG
Varsity Debate Coach

The Coaches

PROFESSOR C. B. MITCHELL, after building up forensics at O. A. C., directed his attention to intramural debating and community drama and turned the active work of coaching varsity debate over to W. A. Dahlberg, a graduate of the University of Michigan. Mr. Dahlberg, while engaged in intercollegiate debating, won 15 of 16 contests he engaged in. His success as coach has begun with the record made this year.

Oratory, under L. M. Ross, has continued the success which started last year. His orators are noted for the clearness, conviction and vitality of their messages.

A. W. Shepherd, freshman coach, drilled his men in fundamental principles in preparation for varsity work.

L. A. Mallory, speech clinic director, left O. A. C. after one year and one term, to take charge of speech correction in an eastern college. E. W. Wells, assistant professor, spent the year on leave of absence at Wisconsin where he worked for his master's and J. D. degrees. He will be at O. A. C. next year.

The Squad and Managers

STUDENT MANAGERS work with the coaches and squads. It is their duty to take charge of debates and oratorical contests, to arrange for judges, draw up contracts and schedule debates.

The men who received recognition by being allowed to take part in debates are not the only ones responsible for victories. They are encouraged by other members of the squad who give competition for places. The squad had two or three meetings weekly for two terms, working on the Chinese question.

The Pacific Coast Forensic League, started a few years ago, gives promise of eventually placing debate and oratory on an organized basis. This year Professor Wells was president and the annual convention met at O. A. C. April 7, 8 and 9. The members of the league include Washington State college, Whitman, Willamette, Oregon, Oregon State college, Stanford and the University of Southern California.

The Season

THE DEBATE with the University of Southern California was the opening event of the Pacific Coast Forensic League convention. The debate, held before a student convocation April 6, was on the Chinese question, "Resolved, that foreign powers should immediately relinquish all governmental control in China except those controls usually exercised by consulates and legations." Roger Ball and Howard Philbrick were the winning speakers for O. A. C.

The same team won the affirmative side of the Chinese question in a contest with the University of Arizona, later in the year. On March 31, these two men also met the Willamette university representatives on the same question.

The same question was debated with Washington State college and Whitman college by the O. A. C. affirmative team, Jack West and Roger Ball. This team defeated Whitman but lost to Washington State.

While the affirmative speakers were making the trip to Pullman, the O. A. C. negative team, Mark Evans and Clarence Bitts, met and defeated the Washington State affirmative team.

The Chinese question was used in a pre-season barnstorming debate trip. Four institutions were met.

Howard Philbrick and Harold Ballf met Pacific university in a no-decision debate. The O. A. C. team lost to Linfield college by a 2 to 1 vote.

Thomas Childs and Clarence Bitts won a student vote of 450 to 200 at the Oregon Normal school. Grant McMillan and Clarence Bitts met Reed college later in the season on a no-decision basis.

Debating at O. A. C. is patterned closely along the lines followed in athletics. At the beginning of the season, approximately 40 men were present at the tryouts. From this number 16 were chosen to form the squad. This group immediately set to work on the season question. By competition among themselves, the college representatives were chosen.

Sweaters with distinctive monograms were awarded to those debaters who represent the college in at least one debate. For each successive year of participation a new sweater with an added strip around the sleeve is given.

The debate seminar room is the scene of intense activity

Women debaters

Women's Debate

THE WOMEN'S SQUAD is organized similarly to the men's. The women meet on alternate nights with the men enabling the coach to attend all meetings. Although the squad began work late in the term it was able by intensive work to be prepared for the debates. The questions used by the women were: "Resolved, that a national board of censorship be established by Congress to control the release and exhibition of all motion pictures," and "Resolved, that the modern tendency for married women to follow gainful occupations outside the home is objectionable."

During the second week of October, active measures were taken to select the prospective women debaters for the year. A tryout was held at which approximately thirty women competed for places in varsity debate. Those chosen as active members of the varsity squad were Dorothy Williams, Idamae Schloth, Erna Starr, Fay Clark, Ruth Bennett, Dorothy Cheney, Ione Harriman, Verna Martin, Effie Wagner, Gretchen Hodges, Helen Cranny, Martha Fisher, Susan Kuney, Frances Tomlinson, Dorothy Farley and Mrs. Mabel Winston.

From the time of the tryout until February, the squad met regularly for study and work on the questions. In February the final elimination was made and those who were to represent the school in active intercollegiate debate were selected.

The first debate was with Willamette university at Salem in which the affirmative side of the question of moving picture censorship was upheld by Mrs. Mabel Winston and Gretchen Hodges. As this was a dual debate, Effie Wagner and Frances Tomlinson took the negative side of the question on the home floor. This was the first venture in varsity debate by any of the four.

O. A. C. was represented by Helen Woodward and Dorothy Williams who upheld the negative side of the movie censorship question at Pullman. Mrs. Mabel Winston and Gretchen Hodges took the affirmative side of the same question at home. Each college won one and lost one decision.

Through the efforts of the women's forensic manager, Dorothy Williams, debates were scheduled with the University of Wyoming and the University of Utah. In these contests the question concerned the employment of married women in gainful occupations. Fay Clark and Ruth Bennett, the college representatives, upholding the negative side of the question, won the debate with Utah and lost that with Wyoming.

Manager and Coach

When it is considered that Miss Williams was the only one of the eight women debaters that had participated in varsity debate previously, the work of the squad will be seen to be highly successful and commendable.

Professor Dahlberg, women's debate coach, expects big things from the squad next year as he believes that this year's experience in debate has been invaluable to the squad. An extensive trip for women debaters is being planned for the coming year.

Freshman Debate

THE FRESHMAN debate teams this year made a perfect score against the first-year student representatives of Linfield college. The question, "Resolved, that the separate states of the United States adopt a uniform criminal code and system of court procedure," was upheld on the O. A. C. campus by the affirmative team, composed of Frederick Greer and Herbert Ewing. The negative team, Raymond Carskadon and Barnard Joy, met the Linfield freshmen at McMinnville. Both rook teams defeated their opponents by 3 to 0 decisions.

Keen analysis of the question by the freshmen, coupled with their ability to speak extemporaneously and make personal contact with their audiences were given as the reason for their victory. A. W. Shepherd was freshman coach.

Extemporaneous Speaking
Extemporaneous Speaking Contest

THE CORVALLIS Lions club each term sponsors an extemporaneous speaking contest for the winners of the individual elementary public speaking classes. To win one of these contests means being selected as the most polished and effective speaker among approximately 300 students enrolled in public speaking. The Lions club gives gold monogram rings to the winners. Barnard Joy won the contest for the fall term and George Griffis was chosen best speaker for the second term.

HOWARD R. PHILBRICK

Extemporaneous Speaking Contest

PRESENTING a special phase of the general subject chosen for the extemporaneous contest at Pacific University, April 9, Howard Philbrick ably represented the college in competition with speakers from the leading colleges and universities of Oregon. While this is the first contest of this type Philbrick has participated in, his work as a varsity debater has been of high quality during the past two years. The general topic of the extemporaneous contest was the foreign policy of the United States in reference to the affairs of West Indian and Central American republics. Thirty minutes before the contest, speakers were assigned special phases of the general topic for 10-minute talks.

ROBERT S. GRIFFIN

Oratory

"The Strange Drama"

"BOB" GRIFFIN, last year's Pacific coast champion orator, with his oration "The Strange Drama," won first place and the state championship in oratory by his victory in the Old Line contest at Salem, March 11. The oration dealt with crime and its causes. Although Griffin does not pretend to have found "the" cause and "the" cure, he does believe that the romancing of criminals and of crime is largely responsible for youths' part in the current increases in law violation. "A strange play we are acting, and a strange cast, is it not—with our heroic crime and our villainous law!" Griffin is the first person to have had the distinction of being both state and Pacific coast champion in two successive years.

"They Satisfy"

VIRGIL E. WOODCOCK, senior in electrical engineering, represented O. A. C. in the Pacific coast contest won by Griffin last year. The oration prepared by Woodcock takes up the influence of modern moving pictures on public attitudes. "They Satisfy" is an arraignment of present types of pictures as propaganda which subtly informs the world that our social institutions are useless and that sexual looseness is the most satisfactory mode of living. These ideas were ably presented in the contest at Salem, held as a part of the Pacific Coast Forensic League program for the year. Woodcock's rapid development into an effective and polished speaker was evidenced by the high rating accorded him by the judges.

VIRGIL E. WOODCOCK

Oratory

Pacific Coast Extempore Speaking Contest

THE BEAVER representative in the Constitutional contest this year is a man whose ideas are expressed with such force and conviction that his audiences sit spell-bound from the first word until the last note of his compelling voice dies away. In his oration he condemns with all his might the propaganda being used to make inarticulate the voice of the people. Reimann, who was also the O. A. C. speaker in the extempore contest held in Corvallis as a part of the Pacific Coast Forensic League conference, won first place in the state peace contest last year by the same qualities which made him successful in his contests this year. Blair Stewart, '26, won second place last year in the national constitutional contest.

ALFRED E. REIMANN

State Peace Contest

FORRESTWOODS, O. A. C. representative in the state Peace contest, creditably filled the place of Alfred Reimann, who won first last year. His oration, prepared after a careful survey of opinions and attitudes of other nations, brought forth the contention that the United States, with its economic imperialism, is the greatest existing menace to the peace of the world. Woods' showing in this contest is considered excellent, especially since this was his first intercollegiate contest.

FORREST M. WOODS

At Rendezvous

*Here I am, sitting at the long counter
In an all-night restaurant,
Or climbing the stairs to my bed—
It makes no difference where I am,
I am at rendezvous with my thoughts.*

*I have been here before,
Under the magic spell
Of life—night life—
Reeking of women.
My heart tousled,
Like my hair.*

*Tonight I am trying to forget
Fawn-eyes that hurt
Of too much desire—
Fawn-eyes that were sad
With half-forgotten dreams.
I am at rendezvous with my thoughts.*

DRAMATICS

MISS ELIZABETH BARNES
Coach of Dramatics

Dramatics

COMMUNITY drama courses are offered each term by the public speaking department under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Barnes, assistant professor of public speaking, for the purpose of meeting the needs of community leaders. The summer courses, which are offered in community drama, are directed by Miss Barnes and C. B. Mitchell, professor of public speaking.

The students enrolled in these courses are given laboratory work in stage craft, which includes the construction of simple and practical scenery for the model stage; make-up, lighting, costuming, stage managing and directing, as well as acting. In these courses students learn how to stage plays with little cost and yet with the most pleasing results. They study to find out what plays are suitable to a community and how to produce them. For this purpose one-act plays are given. Each year the more advanced students are presented in a long play.

The short plays given during the last year were "The Singing Soul" and "Three Souls in Search of a Dramatist" presented in May and "The Will o' the Wisp," "Ever Young" and "The Wonder Hat" given during the summer session. The long play presented in February this year was "Captain Applejack."

Aside from these plays, which are all produced in the Workshop theater, field trips are made to outlying towns and community centers. There has been an increasing demand for these trips as they are popular not only with the students in the department, but with the people in the towns visited as well.

An active moment in the rehearsal of "Captain Applejack," with Miss Barnes directing OREGON State chapter of National Collegiate Players was installed October 31, 1923. It is a national dramatic honorary with a purpose to affiliate closely the college groups which are working for the betterment of the drama in their own institutions and in America. It stands as a national college unit in all nation-wide dramatic movements and endeavors to raise dramatic standards and achievement through encouraging the best individual and group efforts in play writing, acting, costuming, directing, stage designing and research in dramatic technique and literature.

Under the direction of Louis Mallory, instructor in public speaking, the Players staged a fun review, using the title the "Players' Frolic." The program included one-act plays, songs, dances, skits, monologues and burlesque-melodrama, all united on a central theme that kept the audience in high humor from beginning to end. Something doing every minute was the motto in working out the production. The Frolic was not the usual sort of vaudeville performance, as a general plot was worked out to unite the various skits and acts.

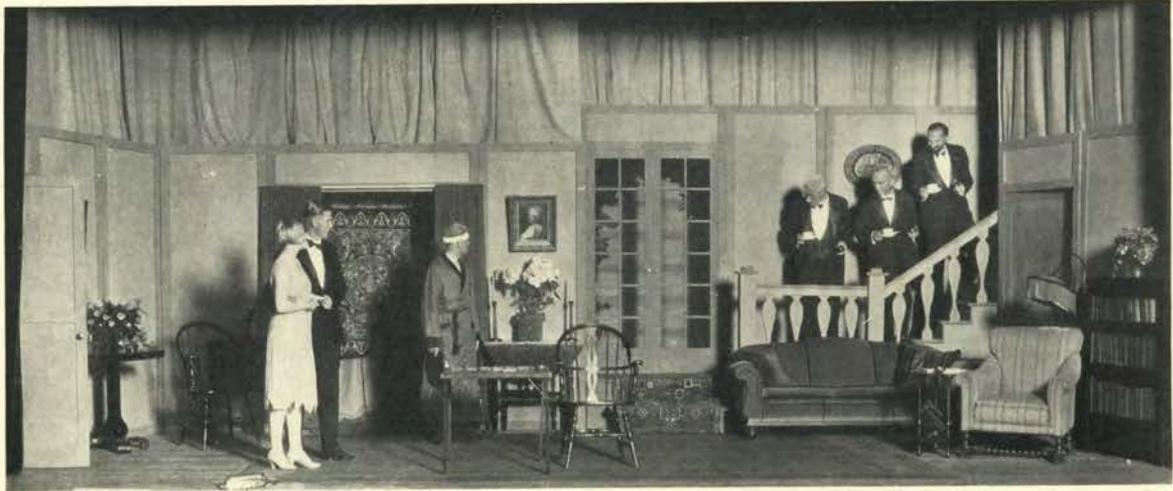

Every year the organization takes a play on a tour of northwestern communities. This year, December 20 to 24, "Mr. Pim Passes By," a comedy by A. A. Milne, was taken on one of the most extensive road trips ever made by this chapter. At all places the play met with a fine reception. It is felt by members of the organization, that by taking the best of their plays on these trips, they are promoting the aim of the organization: namely, the betterment of the drama.

"Three Wise Fools"

AS A PART of the Alumni Reunion week end, the Oregon State chapter of National Collegiate Players presented "Three Wise Fools" by Austin Strong, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Barnes. The type of setting used in this play was different from any which had been used before. Many irregular screen lines were used, and a unique stairway was built for the play. Alumni class groups attended the Saturday matinee in a body and were all agreed that the production of this play had more of a professional touch than anything ever produced on the local stage.

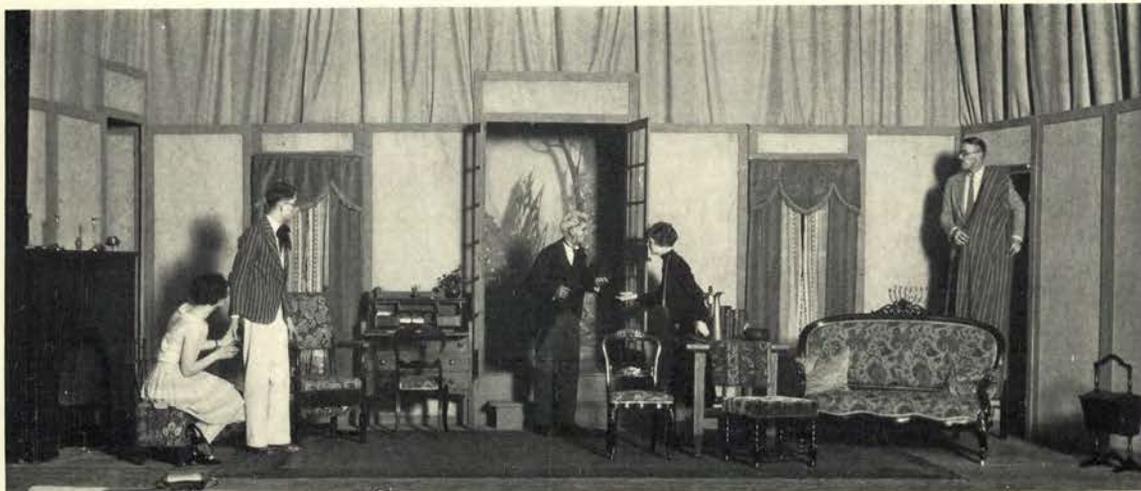

The plot, which savored of mystery though warmly human, meandered through the opening of the play, then suddenly found itself and hurried on gathering momentum to the end.

"Mr. Pim Passes By"

"MR. PIM PASSES BY," a comedy by A. A. Milne, is a royalty play which was presented in Corvallis December 3 and 4, by special arrangement with Samuel French and company. This play was given in the Majestic theater by the Oregon State chapter of National Collegiate Players, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Barnes.

During the Christmas vacation, from December 20 to 24, these players presented the play to the people of Aberdeen, Hoquiam, and Longview, Washington. Although it snowed and stormed, the players traveled by automobile and carried with them all of their equipment and most of the stage properties in three cars and a truck. The cast of characters given below was accompanied by Merrill Pimentel, the publicity manager, and Miss Elizabeth Barnes, their director. All along the way the troupe was well received.

THE BEAVER

"The Singing Soul"

"THE SINGING SOUL" and "Three Souls in Search of a Dramatist" were the two plays produced May 20, 1926. "Three Souls in Search of a Dramatist" was written by Esther Dresden Schwartz, the wife of an O. A. C. faculty member. Vivian Tohl was the student director for this play, and Vernon Owens was student director for "The Singing Soul," a Chinese fantasy.

The three plays produced during the summer, "Will o' the Wisp," "Ever Young" and "The Wonder Hat" were under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Barnes with Caroline Kosydan, Delight Ingold and Afton Newell acting as student directors. The scenery for "The Wonder Hat" was worked out by the class in community drama under the direction of C. B. Mitchell, professor of public speaking.

MUSIC

Conservatory of Music

PAUL PETRI
Director of Conservatory of Music

THE CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC, under the direction of Paul Petri, offers extensive training for students interested in voice, piano, organ, stringed instruments and horns. The equipment and resources of the department have been improved and enlarged this year, making it possible for a greater number of students to be accommodated.

The courses are varied and comprehensive and are open to students registered in other schools of the college. Each branch is organized to meet the individual student's needs, whether he is studying for his vocation or for the satisfaction of his taste for music. He is offered true musical training of a highly intellectual, scientific and spiritual nature.

This department not only meets the needs of the individual student but also sponsors many organizations of importance on the campus. Many programs are presented by members and faculty of the conservatory of music.

Radio programs are arranged with the assistance of this department, giving a chance for the work of the college to reach those outside.

Under the skilled management of Professor Petri, the conservatory of music has developed from an insignificant department of the college to one of the most popular and highly respected on the campus. The work is being extended each year.

"The Mikado"

THE "MIKADO," a Japanese operetta by Sir Arthur Sullivan, was produced by members selected from the Glee and Madrigal clubs with the assistance of members of the College Orchestra.

The operetta, one of the most popular ever written, has had more performances than any other.

It is a classic, a colorful costume play with musical numbers bordering on grand opera and some light comedy.

The musical director, Paul Petri, director of the conservatory of music, and the stage director, Mrs. E. L. Potter, together with Lyle Riggs, stage manager, Ernest Miller, in charge of costumes, and John Duffield, general manager, deserve much credit for the success of the production.

Considerable opportunity was given for individual development as in the characters of the comedians, Ko-Ko and Poo-Bah, played by Marion Weatherford and John Spainhower, and three little maids, Yum-Yum, Pitti-Sing, and Peep-Bo, played by Evelyn Quine, Melba Hartzell, and Dorothy Hamilton. Don Harris and Earl Riggs, baritones, as the Mikado and Pish-Tush, James Jenks, tenor, as Nanki-Poo, and Doris Zimmerman, contralto, as Katisha, successfully played leading parts.

Choruses, composed of 24 members, adequately enriched the striking general effect, and played well in conjunction with the major parts.

The operetta was given in Corvallis March 11 and 12, with a special matinee on the 12th to entertain the Conference of Older Girls, meeting at that time.

During the spring vacation it was taken on a tour of the state, the first attempt of a tour in which the choruses were so extensive, and properties and equipments were transported by the clubs.

Glee Club

THE GLEE CLUB serves a three-fold purpose. It promotes interest in and greater appreciation of music on the campus, it gives musical training for individuals in the organization and it aids the college in bringing the institution before the state.

Under the leadership of Paul Petri, director, the club has risen from mediocrity to enviable rating among similar clubs of other institutions on the coast. The club takes an active part in campus activities and has won the high esteem of the college.

A successful year was enjoyed by the club through its many appearances throughout the state including a three-day concert tour in Portland, several appearances on the campus and, in conjunction with Madrigal club, the production of the operetta "The Mikado." The operetta was presented in Roseburg, The Dalles, Klamath Falls, Bend, Prineville and Portland.

THE MADRIGAL CLUB is an organization of college women interested in group singing. Admittance to the club is judged by Director Paul Petri who personally examines each prospective member.

The club offers extensive training in group singing as well as in individual development. It also offers opportunities of observation and judgment of well organized and directed leadership of choral singing.

Under the direction of Professor Petri, the club has gained favorable recognition on the campus and is exceedingly helpful in bringing the cultural work of the college before the state. It also has a recognized part in campus activities.

This year the annual tour of the club was a three-day concert tour of Portland. In connection with the Glee club, the Madrigal club presented the operetta "Mikado" in several towns of the state.

THE COLLEGE ORCHESTRA has done much to promote the interest in good music on the campus by its annual series of six free afternoon concerts. Opportunity is given outstanding students of violin, voice and piano to appear as soloists with the orchestra at these concerts.

The pre-requisite for becoming a member of the orchestra is previous orchestral experience, qualification being judged by the conductor, Mrs. Marguerite MacManus.

Five concerts were spread throughout the year at intervals, ending with a 60-minute commencement concert in June. A joint concert with the University of Oregon orchestra was played in March, honoring the centenary of Beethoven.

His duties involved the planning for and management of all programs and productions of the clubs, as well as taking care of the welfare of the members of the clubs on all such occasions.

He is not only responsible to the clubs, but to the college for the best judgment in making it possible for the entire state to derive the utmost value from the work of the college.

Mandolin and Guitar Club

THE MANDOLIN AND GUITAR CLUB, under the direction of Miss Florence Bowden, gives opportunity for students interested in stringed instruments to participate in group work. Members enjoy individual as well as group work, and are given a chance to study works of noted composers.

Several of the members are foreign students who are unusually proficient in playing stringed instruments. Filipino students play almost every type of stringed instrument. They have a Filipino orchestra which is called on to play at social functions of the Cosmopolitan club and other organizations. As musicians and entertainers the foreign students make a valuable contribution to the college.

SUMMER SESSION

Summer Session

DR. M. ELLWOOD SMITH
Director of Summer Session

O. A. C. is never pleasanter than during the cool clear days of the summer session, from the spacious reading room of the library to the big pools in the men's gymnasium and the new women's building. Summer on the campus means study, recreation and good fellowship.

The laboratories are uncrowded, the classrooms airy, and for the week-ends are the mountains and the coast.

Students of the regular session find the summer a time to work in subjects crowded out during the year, some English, or history, or music. They plan to shorten their course by using the summer or to get ahead toward a master's degree. Most of all, they get work with distinguished instructors from other institutions who could be reached in the regular session only by distant travel or at great expense.

For instance, this coming summer Dr. E. V. McCollum of Johns Hopkins, Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, Professor Cora M. Winchell of Teachers' college, Columbia, and Miss Florence Jackson of Wellesley are among the visiting instructors. The evening program of plays, readings, lectures, and dances replace the organized social activities of the winter terms. Each year more and more students find they cannot afford to suspend their preparation for life for the whole of the summer, particularly when that is the best time of the year and unusual opportunities are offered. The summer sessions are growing all over the country.

In athletics Knute Rockne, P. J. Schissler, R. H. Hager and R. O. Coleman, all under the management of Director "Bud" Kearns, will make things interesting for the men, while Director Ruth Glassow will preside in the new women's building. A regular paper issued by the students keeps the campus informed on events. The community drama class contributes to the evening programs with the production of a play.

In various phases of vocational education, basic or specialized, in home economics, commerce, industrial education, physical education for men and for women, and in art, chemistry, English, history, public speaking, dramatics and zoology, courses are offered by regular and visiting instructors. Director Paul Petri and his staff will make their customary splendid contribution, both in the matter of courses offered and in musical programs during the session.

Vocational guidance for women discussing problems of "What Shall We Do?" as they affect the college girl, will come in in a course to be taught by Miss Florence Jackson of Wellesley, a nationally known authority in this field. The work for advisors or deans of high school girls is a valuable second field for those planning to teach.

All the different departments of commerce will be giving work, as will home economics. Dr. E. V. McCollum's lectures on nutrition are important for teachers generally. The school of home economics draws students in the summer from all over the country. The second year of the nursery school will begin with the summer session.

Mary's peak and the coast are playgrounds for students over the week-ends and the Fourth of July. The hills and streams afford places for picnics and fishing trips.

The college lawns and the Corvallis Country club offer places for practice and games.

MILITARY

Military Science and Tactics

COLONEL GEORGE WILLIAMS MOSES
Dean of Military Science and Tactics

THE DEPARTMENT of military science and tactics is rated as one of the best in the west. Since 1916 the college has been classified as a "Distinguished College" eight times. Each year an inspection is held, and a board of inspectors representing the War department inspects and reviews all the units. If the work is superior, the college is rated as a "Distinguished College." Since few colleges attain this distinction, O. A. C. is proud of the record of the military department. This record is due to the excellence of the instructional staff of officers and non-commissioned officers serving under Colonel G. W. Moses, dean. Through the leadership of the latter and the contagion of his enthusiasm the students' work is unusually good.

The military department is organized primarily to train officers for the reserve corps of the national army. Anyone satisfactorily completing the four-year course and attending a six-week summer camp is given a commission as second lieutenant in the reserve corps. Incidentally, training as an officer benefits the men by developing leadership, self-reliance and the ability to give and obey commands.

Military science was first taught in the year 1872-3. At that time there were fewer than 20 cadets. In the faculty list of that year the following remark appears: "Captain D. B. Boswell has kindly aided the military department, for which we return sincere thanks. We hope to procure his services in the future as a regular officer of the college."

In 1915, the military band won fame for itself, when, under the direction of Captain H. L. Beard, the sixty-piece organization went to the Panama-Pacific International exposition where it was on duty for a month as the representative band of the state of Oregon.

Instructional Staff of Commissioned Officers

Until 1916-17 there was no commission given for military work, but in that year Congress passed an act by which the Reserve Officers Training Corps with basic and advanced courses in infantry was established. In October, 1917, the S. A. T. C. was established at O. A. C. This corps, distinct from the R. O. T. C., was instituted to train officers for the regular army, then struggling in the World war. The students in the S. A. T. C., numbering more than 3000, carried 14 hours of college work each week in addition to their military subjects. The signing of the Armistice, November 11, 1918, eliminated the necessity for the S. A. T. C., and the R. O. T. C. was re-established, January 1, 1919.

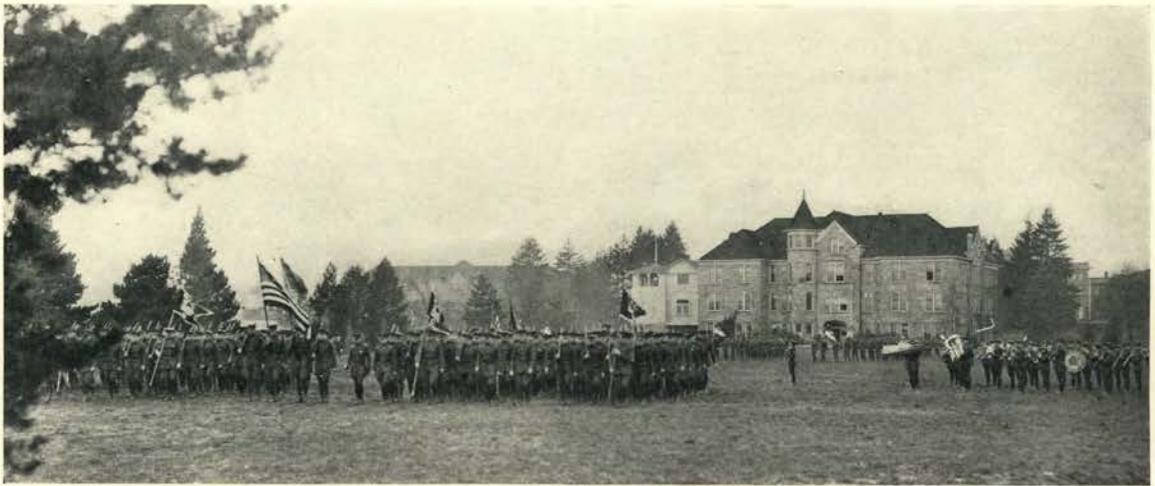

The year 1919-20 marks the biggest change in military instruction that has been made. Up to this time the infantry was the only unit, but in this year the war department established in the college the field artillery, engineers, motor transport and the cavalry units, making five major departments of military instruction. The motor transport unit has since been discontinued. At the present time there are 1260 cadets taking military training, of whom 178 are cadet officers taking the advanced courses. The department is divided into four units, infantry, cavalry, engineers and field artillery, with a military band of 50 pieces. The cadet officers and non-commissioned officers are selected at the beginning of each college year by the commandant with the approval of the president of the college. Cadet commissioned officers are selected from the senior class, sergeants and higher non-commissioned officers from the junior class, and corporals from the sophomore class. The traditions of the college have made it a high honor to stand well in the military department and the student commanders of the different R. O. T. C. units have invariably been men of superior attainments and character.

Infantry Unit

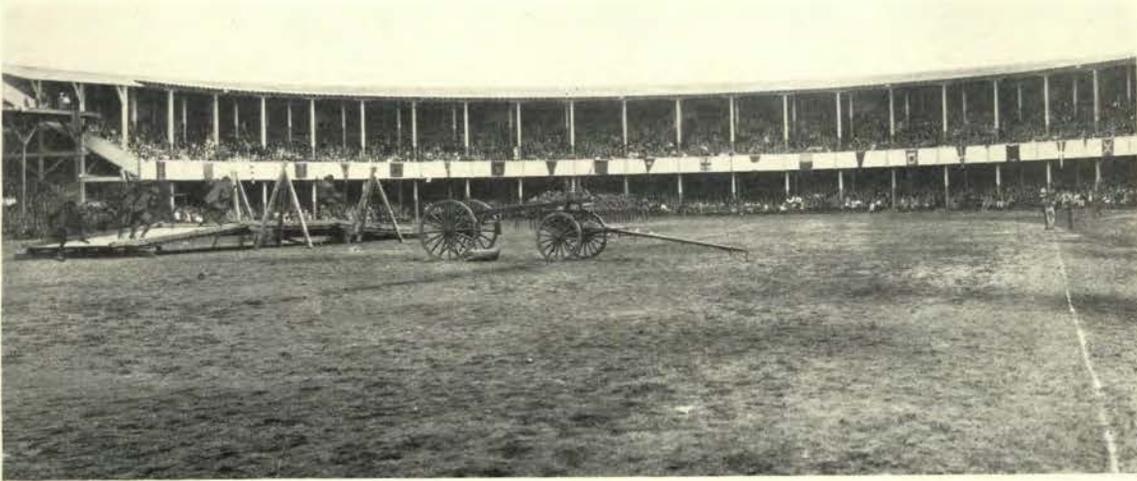

THE INFANTRY UNIT, made up of approximately 35 per cent of the entire R. O. T. C., prides itself upon the snap, precision and exactness of its maneuvers. The precision of the drill indicates the rigid discipline and the personal leadership that is maintained in the unit.

LESTER F. NIELSEN
Cadet Major

Practical and theoretical instruction in infantry drill, machine gun and rifle marksmanship, hygiene, map reading, sketching and scouting and patrolling are given. Rifle practice is facilitated by modern rifle ranges, both indoor and out. The course is completed by extensive training in field fortifications, military history and military law. Leadership and executive ability are stressed.

The entire unit comprises two war strength companies, of three platoons each and is fitted with complete infantry equipment.

Bridge Building

Engineer Unit

IF ACTION is needed the engineer unit responds. Military engineering involves a multiplicity of duties which require scientific instruction and a knowledge of basic principles. Class work is given in the field where the construction of pontoon bridges, barbed wire entanglements, and the study of demolitions provide actual wartime conditions for the students.

The course of study also includes more peaceful theory, such as surveying and map making. Standard equipment is used and, where the principles are complicated, models of the projects are provided. From the office of the chief of engineers is obtained a complete projection service which shows the latest methods of construction and the use of special devices such as sound ranging sets. The engineer unit always manages to provide a thrill to the audience of the military tournament with its spectacular stunt.

RICHARD EARNHEART

In Action

Artillery Unit

WHEN THE ROAR of the cannon resounds on the campus, the artillery is in action. The field artillery has the finest equipment of any unit, valued into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. A complete four-section battery of French 75's is used in ordinary drill and several larger guns are used for theory and parades. Interest is never lagging in actual operation of the guns as speed and accuracy are demanded along with considerable knowledge of theory. At the end of each year contests are held and the most proficient gunners are awarded medals by the government. Besides the guns every device developed and furnished to the field artillery during the World war is used to aid in teaching the theory of fire.

HENRY E. KIRKLAND

Cavalry Unit

THE R. O. T. C. includes a well equipped cavalry unit consisting of a squadron of three troops. Practical and theoretical instruction is given in physical training, horsemanship, cavalry drill, pistol and rifle marksmanship, hygiene, sanitation and the employment of the cavalry in the field. Leadership and executive ability are stressed in training.

The unit is provided with complete cavalry equipment and, with the field artillery unit, has the use of 90 horses furnished by the government. Practical instruction is given in the armory and on the drill grounds near the college. The unit also has a private reserve on which the troops are drilled in jumping, fancy riding and troop maneuvers.

Cadet Band

UNDER THE DIRECTION of Captain H. L. Beard, the O. A. C. military band has won the name of being the best college band on the Pacific coast. The strength and reputation of the organization has grown until it is able to take extensive trips that play a large part in demonstrating the high quality of musical instruction at the college. An emblem is awarded to the members each year and some are taken into Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity.

Students playing in the band substitute this for their regular military instruction. Advanced standing in the band is counted as elective credits.

Ninth Corps Area Champions

Pistol and Rifle Teams

THE PISTOL AND RIFLE teams of the Reserve Officers Training Corps are unusually successful. Last year the three teams in the ninth army corps area competition won first, third, and thirteenth places of the total of 24 places. The winning teams from this match are chosen to compete in telegraphic matches with R. O. T. C. teams from all parts of the United States.

Each year those men who are the most proficient and consistent in the use of the pistol and fire in all the matches are awarded sweaters. Captain M. A. Gillis, rifle coach, has been a leading factor of the team's victories.

EACH SPRING the entire four units of the R. O. T. C. participate in a military tournament consisting of spectacular stunts, speed contests between crack squads and an exhibition of the work accomplished during the preceding year.

going into action. The infantry performs with West Point exactness. The cavalry charges down the field. The engineers close the tournament with the reproduction of an actual battle scene. Color is added to the event by a riding exhibition of the co-eds dressed in beautiful costumes. Competition is always keen in the machine gun contest between the Oregon National Guard gun crew and the O. A. C. infantry gun crew.

The annual inspection is in the spring quarter and is the climax of the term's work. The students and the community join in watching the review and all the units are inspected by national military officers.

"Down on the Farm"

Ag-Home Ec Ball and Rally Dances

BALES OF HAY, fences and other rural effects gave the men's gymnasium a real oldfashioned, country atmosphere for the "Ag-Home Ec" ball. Every conceivable kind of costume was represented and the most unusual and original won a prize.

Beaver pep was the feature of each scoreboard dance enjoyed by the less fortunate members of the student body who could not attend the football games off the campus. The gridgraph furnished all the thrill of the game, and dancing before, between halves, and after the game gave an outlet for the excitement of the contest.

Class Dances

THE SENIOR CLASS DANCES bring together many who may never meet again in the spirit of camaraderie that is a part of college life. "For we are jolly juniors" may well be the slogan of the junior class dances as the third year of college life is said to be the happiest and most hilarious. The "serious sophomores" are dignified and uplifted by their metamorphosis from freshmen to sophomores but a spirit of informality characterizes their "hops." The rook dances are a valuable means of getting the freshmen acquainted. They instill the democratic and fraternal spirit that is the heart of O. A. C.

Group Dances

Other dances which are of the campus but not strictly campus dances are those given by sororities and fraternities, halls and clubs. These are regulated by the college. Their purpose is primarily to promote a friendly spirit between members of these organizations. They give students a chance to relax from the strenuous duties of college life and to form friendships which might not be made otherwise. The social life of college is very important to the student for in it he makes contacts which enable him to choose life-long friends.

ATHLETICS

Intercollegiate Athletics

W. A. "BUD" KEARNS, the man behind the gun that directs the athletic program of O. A. C., has built up a physical education curricula equal to that of any similar institution in the country. With the coming of W. A. Kearns in 1924 there came to O. A. C. a new athletic spirit, characterized by the slogan—"every man in athletics at O. A. C."

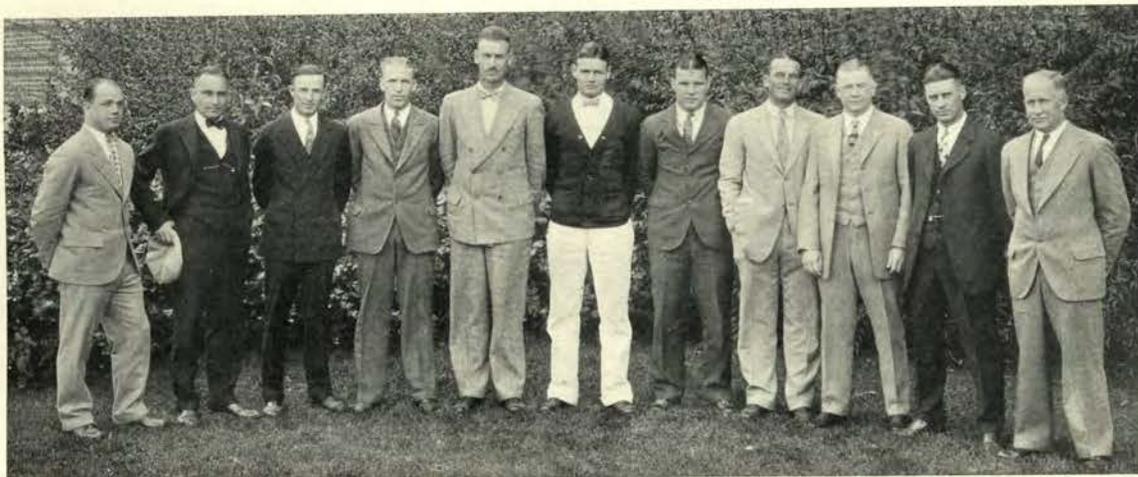

W. A. "BUD" KEARNS
Director of Physical Education and
Intercollegiate Athletics

Realizing the importance of physical education in the operation of any institution, Kearns has developed a system enabling the college to give every man the athletic exercise necessary to successfully carry on his major work. An able coaching staff working with Kearns has made possible the execution of his program.

Last fall Paul J. Schissler, football coach, turned out the best football team in the history of the college and last spring M. H. "Dad" Butler, track coach and trainer, produced the best four-mile relay team in the United States. Ralph O. "Coley" Coleman, baseball coach, and Robert H. "Bob" Hager, basketball mentor, consistently turns out high-ranking teams.

Largely through the work of Ralph Coleman the intramural feature of athletics has developed at O. A. C. He has worked out a program including basketball, handball, swimming, track, baseball, tennis and horse shoes, affording competition for some 2000 men.

Other men on the staff are Cecil King, Richard Newman, Clifford Stetson and George Plumb, football; Harold Carlile, wrestling; Amory Gill, basketball; Grant Swan, track; Louis Kuehn, swimming; and B. T. Simms, tennis.

Managerial System

TO CARL A. LODELL, general manager, falls the task of supervising finances, without which there would be no athletic program. Lodell, since taking up this work, has shown himself a worthy man. He is always on deck arranging for games, working out particulars for ticket sales, and attending to numerous other minor details.

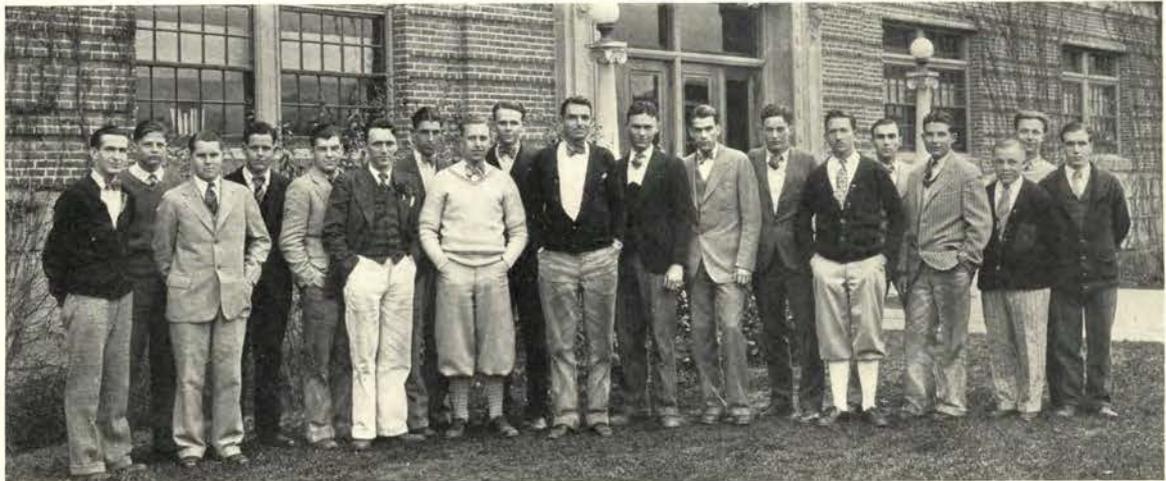

Student managers, appointed for each sport, work with Lodell, taking care of the bulk of the work directly concerning their sports. Under this system the head manager, usually a senior, appoints assistants from each of the other classes and they in turn become head managers.

Nathan Morse managed the 1926 football squad in a manner comparable to the way in which it was coached. It was "Nate" who saw that the team found a way to get to California and Milwaukee and it was "Nate" who made arrangements whereby team members could enjoy food and lodging. He had a big job and he performed it well.

Nathan Sikes, small in stature yet enormous in managerial ability, answered to the call of basketball manager. He was always on hand at practice and at the games.

Track was managed for the second year by Lewis West. West never missed a practice and never failed to have things ready for a meet. While Coach Butler was on relay trips, he could depend on West to keep practice in full swing.

John Young managed the diamond sport. John was a player as well as manager and often went in to relieve Faurie or Lursen at catcher.

FOOTBALL

The Coaches

PAUL J. SCHISLER
Head Football Coach

THREE YEARS AGO students of O. A. C. were promised a winning football team for 1926. They had a winning team in 1926. Why? Because Paul J. Schissler said so? No, not altogether. Rather because he was out on Bell field day after day, rain or shine, telling and showing his men how to win the next game.

Schissler came to the O. A. C. campus when Aggie football teams were consistently winning the cellar position. After three short years, conditions seemed to say that "those days are gone forever." Schissler's team in 1925 brought home the northwest championship, an achievement accomplished by few Beaver teams in recent years.

The record of last year's team is the most brilliant of any Aggie team. Only the powerful Trojan team of the University of Southern California, led by the all-American Morton Kaer, was able to down Schissler's men. The Aggies' 29 to 0 victory over the Marquette university squad at Milwaukee brings to mind memories of the famous Beaver team that walked over the Michigan Aggies in 1915.

Schissler's team ranked tenth among the high scoring teams of the nation and topped the same ten by having fewer points scored against it. This marks the 1926 O. A. C. team as the best defensive team in the United States.

Helping Coach Schissler in producing this wonderful team was Cecil "Rip" King, Richard Newman, Clifford Stetson and George Plumb.

The Team

TO THE PLAYERS themselves much of the credit for the great accomplishments of 1926 is due, and first of all on the list comes "Jim" Dixon, all-coast tackle for two years and this year a choice on the second all-American team. "Jim" was voted by sports writers and coaches of the coast as the most outstanding tackle and was almost unanimously placed on every all-coast selection. Blocking punts was "Jim's" specialty. He has been proclaimed one of the best defensive linemen seen in action for several years.

JAMES V. "JIM" DIXON
All-American Tackle

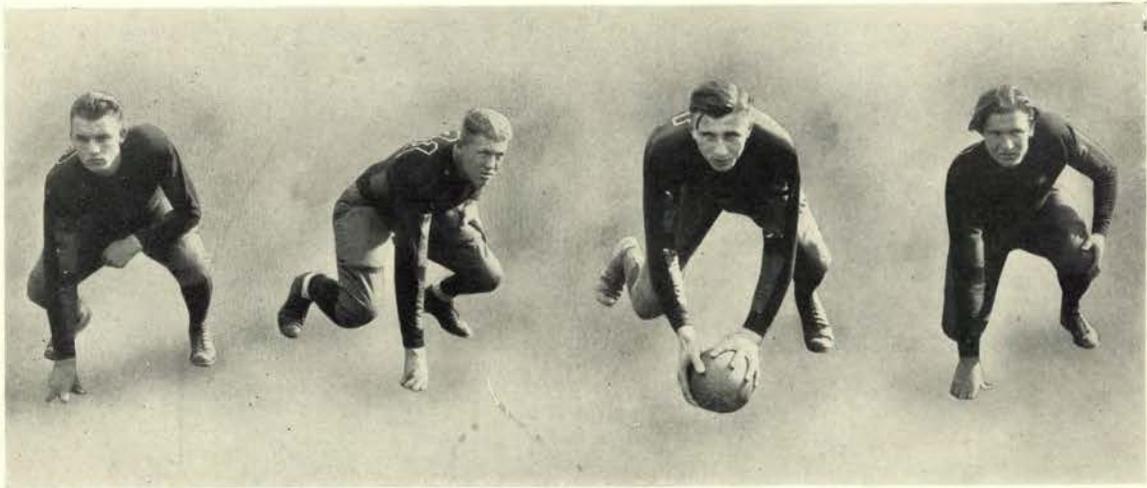

Working with "Jim" in the line was "Hippo" Dickerson, the other all-coast tackle—a rock on which many opposing teams were wrecked. Then there was "Slim" Balcom, the tall center who twice saved the day for the Beavers against Idaho and California. "Slim" made second all-coast team. Another lineman to make the second team was "Dal" Ward, end and pass-receiving artist.

In the backfield was Wesley "Ironhorse" Schulmerich, second all-coast fullback. "Wes" was said to be the best defensive back on the coast and was without doubt the best place kicker seen here in years. Maple, also a second all-coast selection, stands out as the trickiest back on the Aggie squad. His sensational 75-yard runs were features of several games. Maple alternated at quarter and half.

Luby, Maple's running mate at half; Jarvis and Denman, halves; and Edwards, quarter, also played a big part in the 1926 football record of O. A. C.

Review of Season

"THE BEST TEAM seen in this section in years," the comment passed by fans who saw the Oregon Aggie squad trot off the field at Milwaukee, Wis., after handing Marquette university a 29 to 0 defeat,—the worst ever given that team—expresses well the feeling held for the team by all Beaver fans. The Orangemen deserve great credit for having won seven out of eight games and their goal line was crossed only four times. The Aggies shut out Multnomah club, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Marquette.

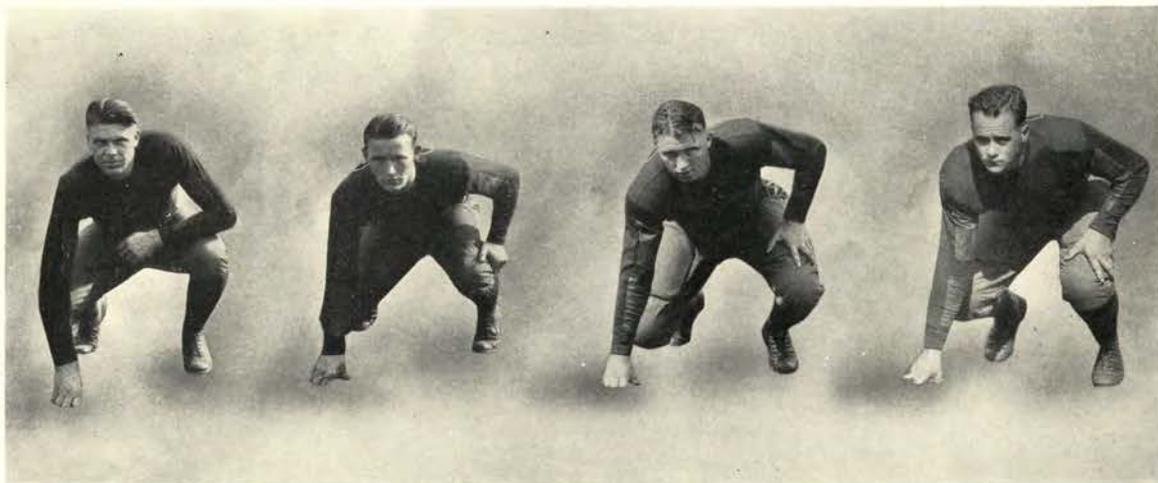

The Orange machine started the season on Bell field September 25 with a 67 to 0 win over Multnomah club. Schissler's second team played most of the game.

The next week at Missoula, Mont., the Beavers were hailed as playing the greatest game of football ever seen at the northern institution. Their 49 to 0 win over the Grizzlies brought forth this comment. "Wild Bill" Kelley of national fame and his mates were helpless against the mighty drive launched by the Schulmerich-Luby-Edwards-Jarvis backfield combination supported by a hard-driving, fast-charging line.

Too much "Ironhorse" Schulmerich was the instrument that wrote defeat on the Gonzaga football record. This unstoppable Aggie fullback plunged, charged and tore through the powerful Gonzaga line to figure in 17 of the 23 points scored against the Bulldogs.

What Schulmerich was in the backfield, "Jim" Dixon was in the line. He broke through the Irish line almost at will to make a tackle or to block a punt. It was in this game that he began to loom as all-coast material.

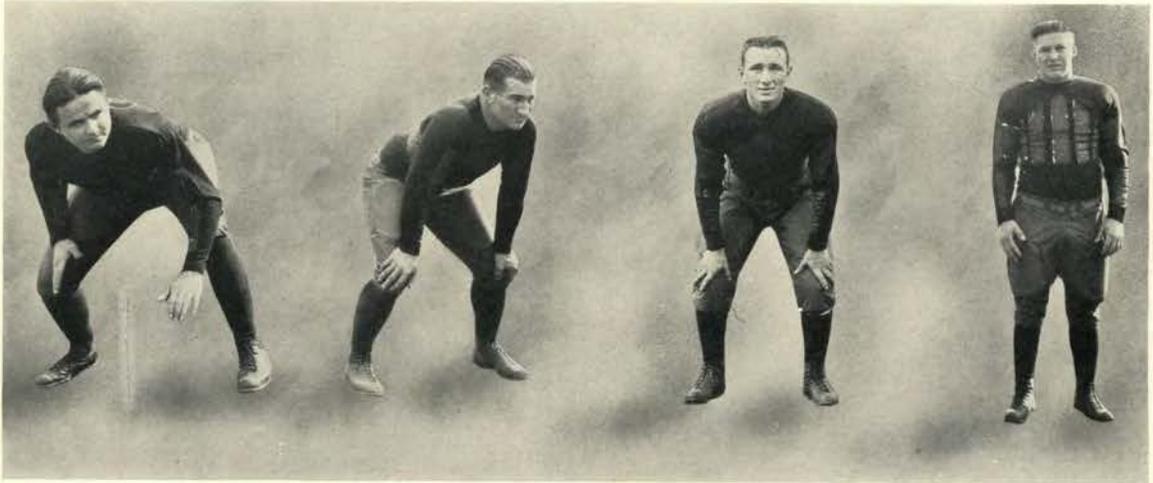

A long pass, Schulmerich to Ward, gave the Orangemen their first score. In the third quarter Schulmerich pushed over a touchdown and converted. Maple next pulled his scoring play by a plunge through center for a touchdown. Schulmerich converted and a few minutes later kicked goal for three points, bringing the score to 23.

where the Oregon Staters registered a 27 to 7 victory. The Beavers administered the worst beating given the Bears in many years.

Lloyd Balcom, tall Aggie center, was acclaimed the hero when he turned defeat into victory by dashing down the turf to overtake and down a California man ready to cross the Aggie goal line for the second touchdown within 8 minutes of play. Jarvis, halfback and acting captain, displayed real football generalship. Luby, the other elusive half, entered the limelight when he ran through the Bruin line for 30 yards and the Aggies' first score. Maple, quarter, pulled the most spectacular play of the day when he squirmed and twisted his way through the entire California team for 70 yards and a touchdown.

The Aggies met a tough outfit when they tackled the Idaho Vandals at Portland, October 30. The Gem-staters held Schissler's team to a lone goal kick. Maple paved the way for the only Aggie score by intercepting a pass and running 58 yards to Idaho's 13-yard mark. After three unsuccessful tries against the Vandal line, Schulmerich booted over a placement.

In midfield the Vandals seemed to outclass the Oregon Staters but as the ball neared the Aggie goal Schissler's team became invincible. The Vandals had their chance but failed when Balcom rushed through to block a placement from the 15-yard line.

The only thing to mar the 1926 Aggie football record occurred at Portland Armistice day when Howard Jones' thundering herd trampled the Beavers under a 16 to 6 score. The Orangemen, playing for the highest stakes in the conference, seemed nervous and over-eager.

Morton Kaer, all-American back, was the big factor in deciding this contest, for it was he that out-generaled and out-played the Aggies. Schulmerich, the Aggie fullback, is said to have played the greatest defensive game in his career. Glenn Olmsted, playing his last year at guard for the Beavers, finished his career in a blaze of glory by scooping up a punt blocked by Dixon and racing to a touchdown just one minute before the final gun.

The homecoming game, a 16 to 0 victory over the Oregon Webfoots, topped off the Aggie conference schedule. This battle, staged in a sea of mud, was characteristic of games between these two institutions—a real 60-minute fight. The score at half time was 0 to 0. Even at the end of the third quarter the outcome was far from decided, the score being 3 to 0 for the Aggies.

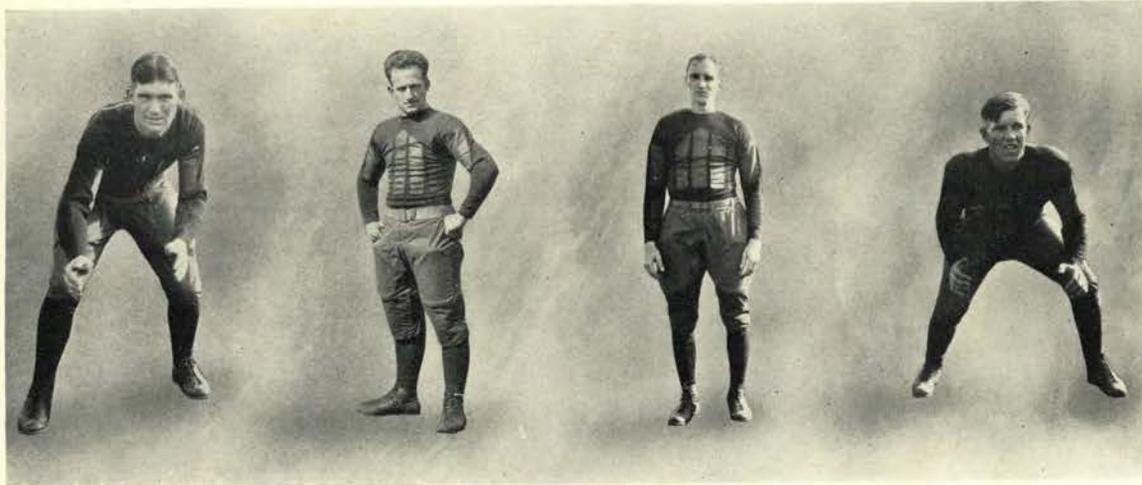

The fourth quarter was the big one for the Beavers. Dixon blocked an Oregon punt in midfield and Jarvis scooped it up and ran to the Oregon two-yard line before being downed. A small gain by Schulmerich and a dash around end by Maple did the work. A few minutes before the final gun, Maple intercepted a pass from Wetzell and raced 75 yards to the second touchdown. Schulmerich converted and raised the final count to 16.

Immediately after the homecoming victory the Beaver team boarded the train for Milwaukee, Wis., the scene of their decisive victory over Marquette university. After 7 minutes of actual play a kick by the much-lauded Leary of Marquette was blocked by Dixon and the way was paved for the initial score, a place kick by Schulmerich.

The famous passing attack of the Marquette Golden Avalanche failed against Schissler's men. It was the Aggie passing attack, on the contrary, that did wonders. Ward and Luby received passes and turned them into scores after sensational runs. In the fourth period the Beavers made two other touchdowns, one on a lineback by Jarvis and another by "Mix" Grider.

In the Marquette game 14 Aggies fought under the Orange and Black for the last time. These men were "Jim" Dixon, "Wes" Schulmerich, "Slim" Balcom, "Hippo" Dickerson, "Web" Edwards, "Red" Denman, "Ev" Jarvis, Claire Badley, Harvey Hale, "Dal" Ward, "Hal" Liebe, Glenn Olmsted, "Mix" Grider and "Swede" Wernmark.

Other men playing regularly were Luby, Maple, George Scott, Avrit, Robbins, Eilers, "Marv" Dixon, Logan, Luce, Carlson and Whitlock.

BASKETBALL

R. H. "BOB" HAGER
Head Basketball Coach

The Coach

COACH R. H. "BOB" HAGER'S basketball team did not capture any championships this year but it developed from a green outfit into a team that worried all comers. One of the main causes for this development is "Bob" Hager, the cool-headed Aggie mentor.

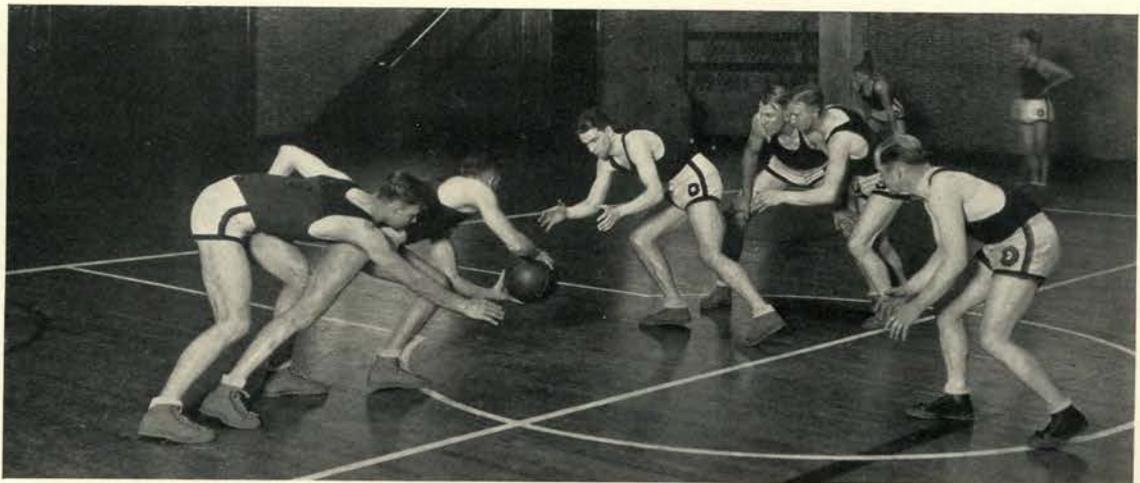

Hager has had 16 years' experience in physical education work. For six years he was a member of the Nebraska all-star team, an independent squad, and managed it through two successful seasons. In 1917 he went to his own high school at Lincoln, Neb., and coached basketball, swimming and track. His teams won state titles in all these sports. His basketball team established a defense record no other team has ever equalled. Out of all teams met in a championship tournament where 162 competed only two were able to score a single field basket against Hager's outfit.

Hager next coached the Oakland, Cal., Golds to a P. A. A. title. This team established as outstanding an offensive record as his Lincoln high team had in defense. In 37 games it averaged 56 points.

In 1920 Hager came to O. A. C. as rook coach and in 1923 became varsity mentor, the position he has since held. Since Hager came, O. A. C. has been in fourth place once, third place once, second place once, northwest conference champions twice and once champions of the Pacific coast conference, northern division.

Hager's teams have used the percentage system of ball that he himself originated. In the last few years he has developed a number of special threats in this system that has marked him as one of the leading scientific basketball coaches of the country.

Perfecting percentage basketball

The Team

CAPTAIN RAY GRAAP, all-coast guard, is another big factor in the development of the 1927 team. For three years Graap has played with the Aggie varsity and each year has been a strong cog in both offense and defense. He is considered the strongest defensive guard in the conference. The best offensive man in the conference always had an off night when pitted against Graap.

"Bill" Burr, captain-elect, was the Aggies' big scoring threat. He made 42 field baskets, the equal of the record of Okerberger of Oregon, high point man of the conference. Burr made 92 points in all while Okerberger made more than a hundred, fouls included.

"Jack" Savory, big Aggie center, was in the game from start to finish fighting his hardest. He usually got the tip off and was especially adept at getting the ball from under the opponents' basket. Savory was strong on-defense and also looped a basket when opportunity presented itself.

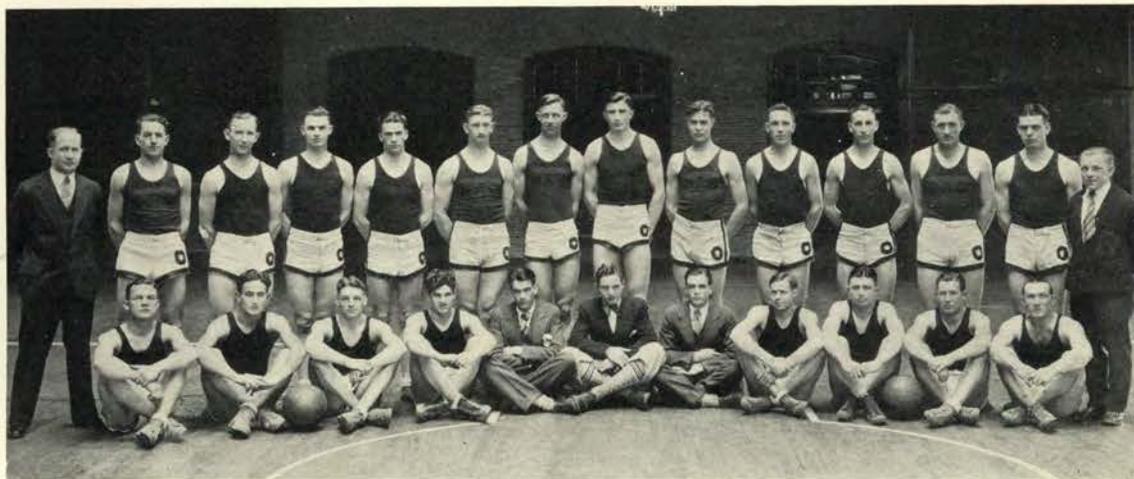

Don Hartung, forward, was one of the fastest men on the floor being used much in Hager's new middle threat. Although offense was his big asset he gave other forwards a tough time.

Hubert Mathews, pivot man, was a clever floor man and a typical player of Hager's system. He always rolled in a basket or two and was "right there" at defense.

Frank Patterson, also a pivot man, was one of the Aggies' best shots and was outstanding in his ability to handle the ball. Oramel Shreeve who alternated with Hartung was a clever dribbler and an accurate shot from short range. Others doing good work were Aase, Ward, Butler, Butts and Wilson.

Review of Season

WHILE THE 1927 Aggie hoop record is not the usual long list of O. A. C. victories, it tells a story. That story is how Coach Hager developed from a squad with only two veterans a team capable of knocking over one of the two championship contenders. The season was hectic in that seven games ended with one point differences in scores. Two of these were Aggie victories and five were defeats.

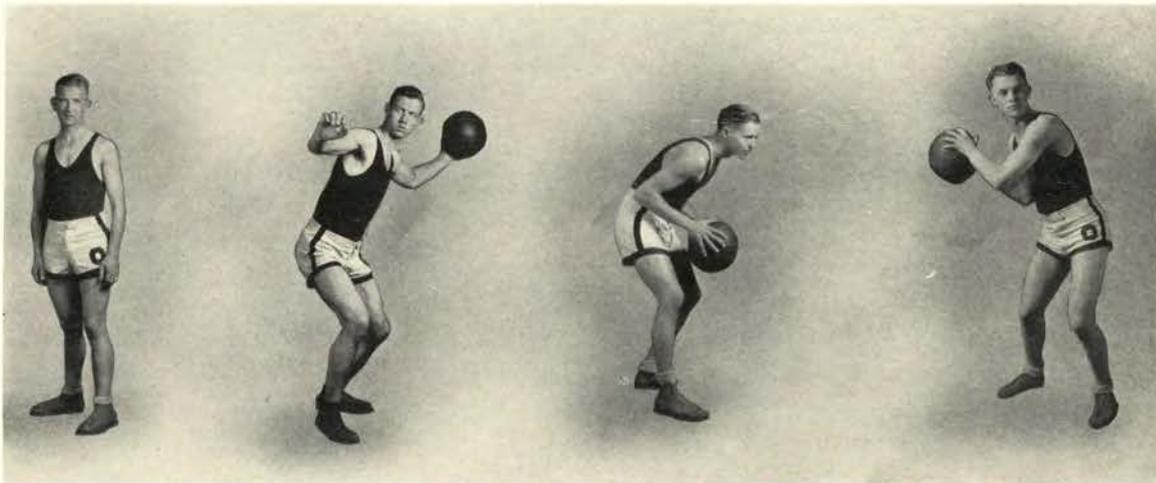

The barnstorming trip was a heart-breaking affair. While the Beavers won five of the contests by safe margins they lost four others by only one point. After two more warm-up games, victories over Willamette and Multnomah, the Beavers defeated Gonzaga 36 to 24 in the final pre-conference game.

Idaho came here doped to win and did win by one point only after a mighty rally in the last few minutes. The Vandals trailed throughout but went wild and did the seemingly impossible in the last three minutes. After victories over the City of Portland team and the Salem Black Cats, the Aggies took on Montana.

Burr dashed his way in and out among the Grizzlies to score 26 points and put the Aggies well on the way to a 48 to 35 victory. The Beavers continued their winning streak in the W. S. C. game here by downing the Cougars 30 to 19.

The conference-leading Webfoots next handed the Aggies a 28 to 12 defeat. Hager's men had an off night in shooting, counting only 5 of 43 chances at the hoop. The Idaho Vandals made their characteristic last three-minute-rally to break a 16-16 tie and win 24 to 17 from the Aggies at Moscow.

The Orangemen next went to Pullman where they handed the Cougars a second defeat, this time by the score of 22 to 21. Montana then had its day when it toppled over Hager's team at Missoula by the count of 38 to 25.

A flashy Husky attack at Seattle snowed the Aggies under a 41 to 27 score. The second game with the Webfoots looked much like an O. A. C. victory until an Oregon rally in the last 5 minutes put them in the lead 34 to 25. The Orangemen came into their own in the final game when they downed the Huskies 31 to 27 and automatically presented Oregon with the championship.

TRACK

"Dad" Butler

M. H. "DAD" BUTLER
Head Track Coach

"DAD" BUTLER, molder of athletes and builder of men, took the colors of O. A. C. into the east in 1926 and once again showed eastern coaches that his Oregon "sons" could hold their own on the cinderpath with the best distance men of the country.

A runner himself when young, "Dad" learned the track game from A to Z and then took up boxing. After learning the fisticuff art, he started a career as a trainer of boxers that proved nothing short of sensational. He had developed his first world's champion when but 26 years of age. Today he has 14 world's champions or former world's title-holders to his credit—more boxing and track champions than any other coach in the world.

"Dad" was director of athletics at Chicago Athletic club where he established himself as one of the greatest coaches and trainers. While at the club he turned out such men as Ralph Rose, world record-holder in the 16-pound shot; James Lightbody, the only man in the world to win the half-mile, mile, and two-mile in the Olympic games; and Sausee, the first polevaulter to clear 12 feet. Pat Page, former Butler college coach, and Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, were among his pupils.

The Oregon Aggie four-mile relay teams are concrete examples of Coach Butler's work. In the 1926 season this team took third in the Kansas relays, with one sick man in the lineup. At Drake the Aggies turned in the feature race of the day, winning from the best in the land. At Seattle they won in the fastest time recorded in the United States in 1926, thus making them national champions and pennant winners in the Washington carnival for seven consecutive years.

Not only in distance men have "Dad's" track teams been strongly fortified, but in hurdles, sprints and field events as well. In Captain Harry Baker, Butler had a hurdler who seldom failed to show his back to opponents. Baker's specialty was high hurdling. As a team leader Captain Baker had the welfare of the Orange tracksters always at heart—a quality that enabled him to win a permanent place in the affections of the students.

"Dad" checks runners' time

Captain-elect Royse Clayton made himself nationally famous by his sensational finish in the four-mile relays at Drake and Seattle. After trailing behind in the anchor lap, Royse stepped out on the home stretch to win a race said to have been the most sensational seen in the middle-west.

Dixon, the "Big Jim" in football, was also the "Big Jim" in track. He was high point man of the season, always good for a first or second place in the shot and discus. He is credited with four first honors, three second honors, and fourth place in the discus in the Pacific coast meet.

Bayard Sisson was the most versatile runner on the Aggie squad. He was a member of the relay team and was also an entry in the quarter-mile, half-mile, mile relay and broad jump events in dual meets.

"Ted" Butts came into his own in 1926 when he consistently ran the mile in better than 4:30. He was a member of the four-mile relay team and was second high point scorer for the Aggies, taking three first places, one second place and one third place in the mile and two-mile races.

Percy Bell, auburn-haired distance man, was rushed to Des Moines to save the day for "Dad" Butler's four-mile team, and save the day he did for without his steady work at the start, the Aggie team might have failed to bring the silver cup to O. A. C. Harlan Striff, sprinter and broad jumper from the 1925 rook team, took wings when the Aggies met the Huskies and jumped 23 feet and ½ inch to set a new O.A.C. record.

The mile relay team composed of William Joos, Robert Stone, Richard Earnheart and Bayard Sisson turned in a quartet of fast laps to win in 3:24.8—a new O. A. C. record. A third new O. A. C. record was made in the Oregon meet when "Jim" Dixon put the shot 45 feet 5 inches.

Other promising members of the 1926 squad were Fehren, high hurdles; Timm, mile; Messing and Fleetwood, sprints; Laird, two-mile; Knifton, 880-yard run; Robertson, low hurdles; Dickerson and Miller, shot put; Liebe and Label, discus; Sheythe, broad jump; Masher, pole vault; Hansen, high jump; and Jarvis and Grossmayer, javelin.

Review of Season

THE 1926 VARSITY TRACK season was like that of the previous season in that it was not a season of team victories, although it was a victorious season from the standpoint of individual performances. Many outstanding stars were included in the Aggie lineup and Coach Butler's men were a constant worry to all opponents, but lack of second and third place strength proved the downfall of the Orangemen.

After an early-season warm-up meet with Multnomah, the Aggie relay team made its eastern invasion. A third place in the Kansas relays and a first in the Drake relays were won, after which the Orange team traveled to Seattle where it was met by seven other team members. A first and three seconds were won in the relay carnival there in competition with Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Montana.

Next came Washington State college with 10 men doped as sure first place winners. After a terrific battle the Cougar tracksters were able to nose ahead by $2\frac{3}{4}$ points, the final score being $66\frac{1}{4}$ to $63\frac{1}{2}$.

The Pacific coast conference meet at Stanford a week later found nine Aggies entered. A second in the mile won by Clayton, a third in the two-mile won by Bell and a fourth in the discus won by Dixon was the Beavers' contribution.

The following Saturday the Aggies were in Seattle to meet the Huskies in a dual meet. Although six first places were taken by the Orangemen, they wound up on the short end of a 77 to 54 score.

In the final meet of the season the Aggies met the Webfoots on Bell field in an attempt to settle the question of cinderpath superiority brought about by a Lemon-Yellow victory in 1925 and an Aggie victory in the conference meet earlier in the season.

First places were won by Butts, Dixon, Earnheart, Baker, Sisson, Hansen and the mile-relay team composed of Stone, Joos, Earnheart and Sisson. Two first places were won by Dixon and Butts and Captain Baker turned in the feature performance when he won the high hurdle event from two Oregon rivals of long standing. The Webfoots came through with a win in the javelin throw to give them a one-point victory. The final score was 66 to 65.

EDITOR'S NOTE—

WHEN "DAD" BUTLER took his four-mile relay team, composed of Clayton, Butts, Knifton and Sisson, east to the Kansas and Drake relay meets last spring, Knifton became ill just before the Kansas meet. Despite his handicap, Knifton ran, but the O. A. C. team was defeated. "Dad" immediately wired for Bell, another star Aggie miler, before going to the Drake relays. Reinforced by Bell, the team won the national four-mile championship by defeating the best teams in the United States. Willard Wattles, associate professor of English and well-known poet, dramatically pictured the scene in a poem which is reproduced here.

For O. A. C.

*Clayton and Butts and Knifton
And Sisson were the four,
Hardy as mountain cougars,
Firm-fibred to the core;
Swift as the deer that courses
Where snow-capped Mary's Peak
Looks out to the blue Pacific
From the eagle's eyrie bleak.*

*Hark, from the Kansas prairies
Over the Great Divide
Through Colorado's mountains
A voice from the other side,
A shout from a soul undaunted
That no distress can tire,
"Knifton is sick. Send Percy Bell."
Over the silver wire.*

*There in the golden valley
Of the history-haunted Kaw
Where the stadium roared with thunder
The watching thousands saw
A battle of desperation. . .
Knifton's face was drawn,
But Clayton and Butts and Sisson
Sped the swifter—for Oregon!*

*Over the Father of Waters
That rolls by Omaha,
And Council Bluffs where Wyandotte chiefs
The prairie eagle saw.
So sped the flaming arrow,
Launched from Willamette's bar,
And Percy Bell has joined the team. . .*

"All set, get ready, go!"—WILLARD WATTLES

*Like stallions loose on the mountain,
Over the four-mile course
The runners circled the cinder track.
Many a throat was hoarse
As Michigan forged slowly
Past staunch Dad Butler's boys,
And only one man went past them,
One man—and Illinois.*

*Then from the blue Pacific
A red sky-rocket shot
Past Portland and Multnomah,
The Dalles—and the rails were hot.
Mount Hood gave a whoop to hearten
And brandished a hemlock-branch
As six-foot two of lightning
Swept by like an avalanche.*

*Then on past Pocatello,
Granger and Cheyenne,
Down the valley of the Platte
The unchained comet ran;
Nebraska heard the rumble
And saw the crimson glow
As if a prairie fire were close
On a herd of buffalo.*

BASEBALL

RALPH O. COLEMAN
Head Baseball Coach

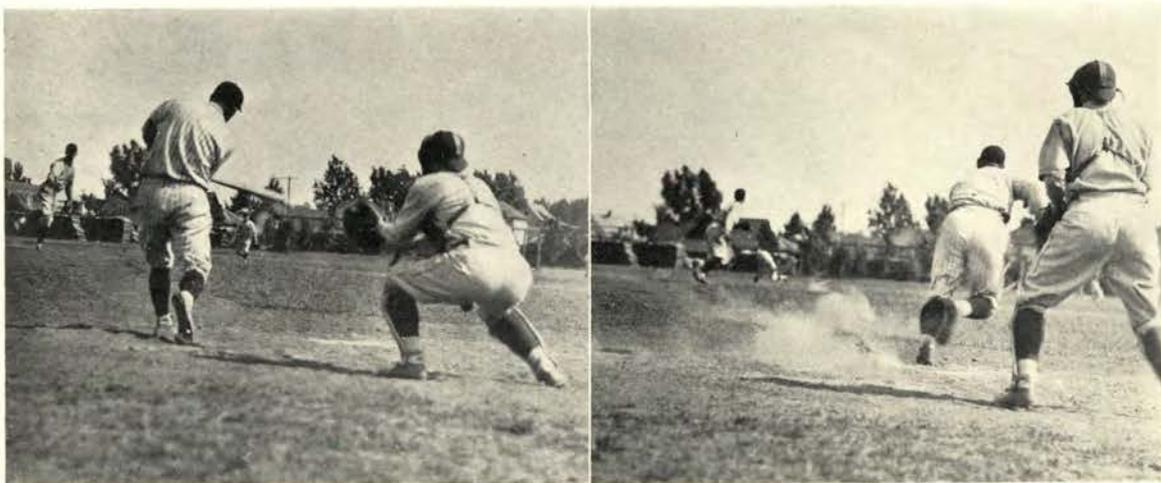

The Coach

RALPH "COLEY" COLEMAN embarked on his third year of baseball coaching at O. A. C. under one of the greatest handicaps that ever confronted a coach of the diamond sport. Handicap or no handicap, "Coley" kept on the job, and, while he did not turn out the second consecutive north-west champions, he produced a team capable of winning 50 per cent of its games.

"Produced" is the word when speaking of this team, for "Coley" really made the team. When he issued the first call for baseball not one experienced pitcher and only two regular infielders reported. In the outfield "Coley" had veterans in Captain Arthur Escallier, John Sigrist and Wesley Schulmerich. In the process of moulding a new team, however, this combination was broken up, Sigrist being shifted to first base where he did stellar work.

With these few veterans and a host of green sophomores and reserves from former teams, Coach Coleman had to produce a team to represent the Orange and Black. After several weeks' training, "Coley's" team took on a veteran aspect, being able to hand the conference-leading Washington Huskies a 6 to 2 defeat on their own diamond.

Another hit for the Beavers

The Team

MUCH OF THE SUCCESS of the baseball team is attributive to a small but mighty captain and center fielder, Arthur Escallier. "Escy," playing his last year under Coleman's tutelage, was leadoff man and the cleverest base runner seen on the O. A. C. diamond in years. Just when opponents would think they had a game on ice, "Escy" would come forth with some trick or perhaps one of his many home runs and send the opponents back with the short end of the score again.

To aid Captain Escallier in this work Coach Coleman had several reliable men. Pete Faurie, a three-year catcher, was one of the headiest receivers in the conference. John Sigrist, playing first, after two years' experience in the outfield, was always on deck with a good hit.

Loris Baker, shortstop, was easily the best infielder seen in action last year, being able to hit as well as field. Wes Schulmerich, a two-year outfielder, could be depended upon to get everything in reach as well as pole out his share of hits. Glen Winters and "Dick" Ford, sophomores, developed into good pitchers, able to hold their own against the best batters in the conference.

Review of Season

THE AGGIES opened the season by splitting a two-game pre-season series here with the Kelso Timber Wolves.

The Orangemen next downed the Multnomah club team 6 to 5 on the O. A. C. diamond. Pacific university was next to fall, 13 to 2. Ford pitched this contest. The next game, an Aggie batting melee, was a 17 to 5 win over the St. Johns Bears of Portland. In the first game with Oregon, the Aggies were defeated 7 to 3.

The next competition was with the Huskies who took two games here, 3 to 2 and 14 to 9. At Seattle the Aggies turned the tables, downing the Huskies 6 to 2 in the first game. The Huskies retaliated, however, and won 8 to 2 in the second game.

Oregon again took the measure of the Beavers in a loosely played game at Eugene, the score being 16 to 6. Oregon took the third game 4 to 2 but was forced to be content with the short end of a 6 to 4 score in the final game.

Circle "O" Association

TO FOSTER INTEREST in college athletics other than the recognized major sports, the Circle "O" association was organized. Membership in this group is acquired through participation in conference games in minor sports as prescribed by the student body. Tennis, swimming, cross-country and soccer are the recognized minor sports. Members are awarded a small orange block "O" circumscribed by an orange circle.

WHILE the Aggie teams were on the field or floor fighting for O. A. C., the student body was in the bleachers or along the side-lines fighting for O. A. C., too. As the teams must have a captain, so must the student body.

"Al" Serpa, yell king, was the student body captain during 1926-27. He always led his outfit to victory, regardless of readings on the score board. Assisting "Al" in the yell leading were Warren Rolph, Gordon Kershaw and Tom Stead.

In accordance with a plan started at O. A. C. this year a yell leading school is being conducted. Such a school will be conducted every year in the future, assuring the Beavers of efficient yell kings. Serpa conducted the school this year as will all future yell leaders.

Pep Committee

THE PEP COMMITTEE was one of the most active organizations on the campus this year. It was the committee that arranged for rallies before football games and the reception of the returning team. Under its direction a huge Beaver mascot was constructed and the Beaver Guardsmen were organized to guard the Beaver.

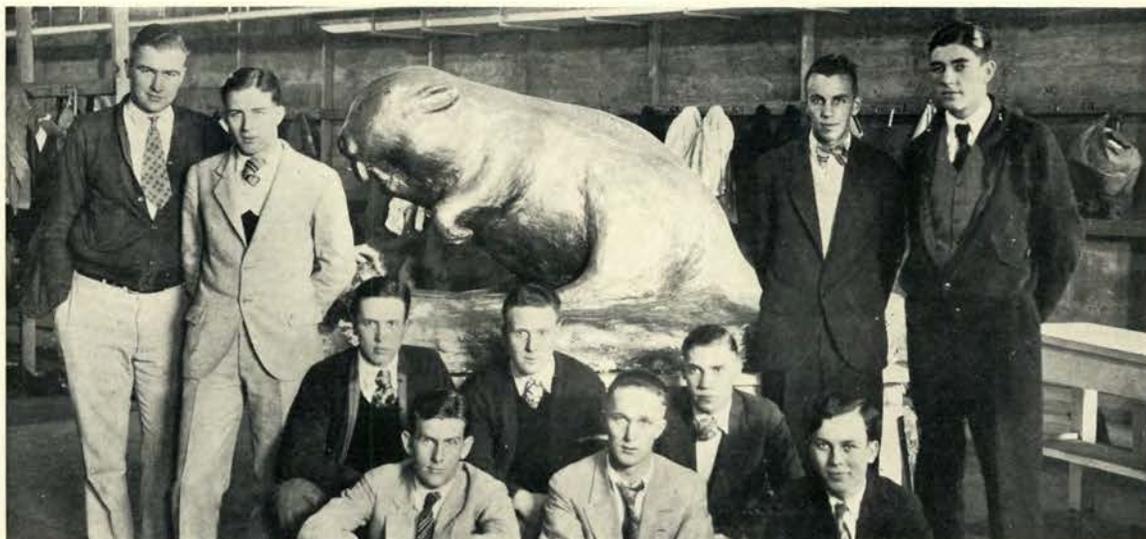

As football games drew near the committee became active, putting on special features. Before the Idaho game it staged a theater rally in Portland and before the U. S. C. game it presented a midnight matinee at the Liberty theater. At the U. S. C. game a large wooden horse was brought on the field and the old story of the fall of Troy was enacted, the Greeks coming from inside the horse to defeat the Trojans.

TO START the basketball season off with enthusiasm the Pep committee sponsored the Cageman's ball, a basketball rally dance in the men's gymnasium. At conference games the committee provided entertaining stunts between halves. Score cards with a message from Coach Hager were given out at each conference game.

The Pep committee is appointed by the president of the student body. This year the members were Thelma Lampkin, Irene Hazlett, "Jim" Goss, chairman, Warren Rolph, Gordon Kershaw, Townley Bale, Morris Hoven, Stewart Hardie, Kenneth Martin, Irving Kline, Morris Sharp, George Howie and Jack Bowman.

MINOR
SPORTS

HAROLD P. CARLILE
Student Coach

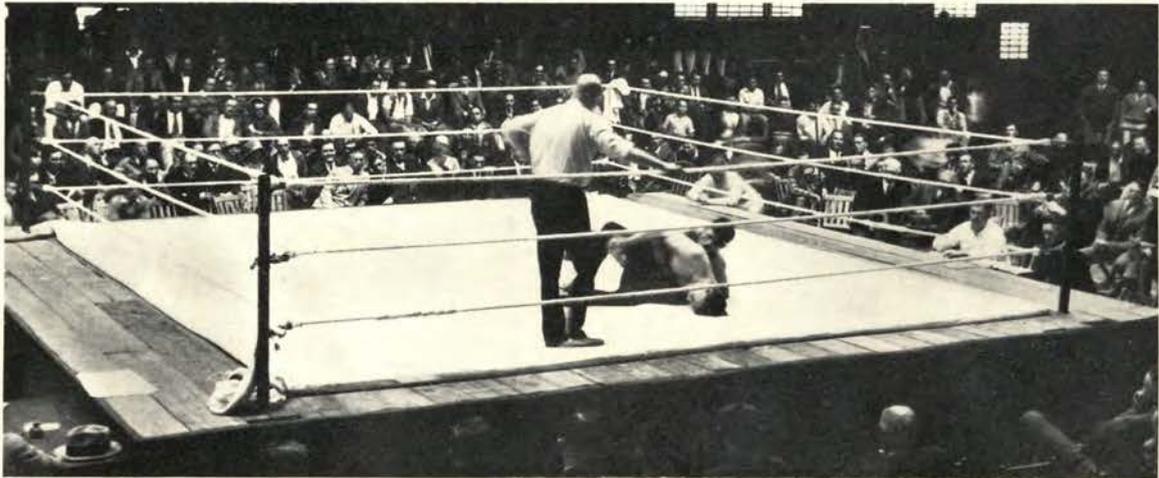

Wrestling

TO HAROLD P. CARLILE, graduate of Robin Reed's style of wrestling, fell the task of directing the grappling program at O. A. C. for the 1926 season. Although the sport has been temporarily removed from the list of major sports on the coast, interest at O. A. C. has not subsided. Carlile, a two-year varsity man, through his love for the sport has done much to keep alive this spirit.

While wrestling was at its height at O. A. C. Carlile wore the Orange and Black colors in meets against the best wrestlers in the northwest. While grappling for the Aggies he lost only one match and that to the world's amateur champion 145-pounder, from Cornell college. Although he lost, Carlile showed that he was among the country's best for he lost only by a decision.

Carlile assisted Robin Reed in developing the team that won the national amateur championship here last year. In this tournament the Aggies took seven of the 24 medals offered, more than twice as many as any other two teams. Among the Beavers to win honors was Frank Bryan who captured a gold medal and the national title in the 175-pound class and a bronze medal for third place in the 160-pound weight.

Walter Powell, another Aggie grappler developed at O. A. C., won two medals—one for second place in the heavyweight class and one for third place in the 175-pound class. Reggie Russell, scrappy 145-pounder, took second place only to "Bob" Meyers, now a main drawing card in the professional ranks. Otis Beckham captured third place in the 135-pound class and Ben Pubols took a bronze medal in the heavyweight class.

Grappling for national honors

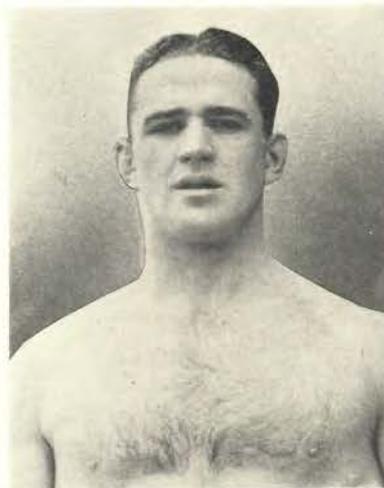

FRANK BRYAN and Robin Reed, student and former coach, are thought of in the same breath by wrestling fans and rightfully so for are not they the two best amateurs produced on the coast in many a year? Last year in the national amateur tournament, Bryan, already a P. N. A. champion in the 160-pound class, went out of his weight to beat the nation's best in the 175-pound class.

Not content with the title of national 175-pound champion, he proceeded to win third place in the 160-pound division. In winning these medals Bryan entered six bouts in one day, four of which were within two hours. This year Bryan went to Ames, Iowa, to uphold his title in the 175-pound class at the national tournament there.

Another outstanding Aggie matman is Chester Newton, second only to Reed in the 1924 Olympics and one of the outstanding 135-pounders of today. Newton was unable to enter the nationals here last year but entered with Bryan at Ames.

Other Beaver bonecrushers of outstanding ability are P. Newton and Meyers, 125 pounds; Blake, 135 pounds; Petellin, Haddox and Osburn, 145 pounds; Woodhead and A. Bryan, 158 pounds; and Gayer, 175 pounds. Promising rooks are Schurter, E. Newton and Britt.

Interclass meets afforded the only wrestling competition this year. The sophomores won for the second time by downing the rooks and juniors. Meyers, Blake, Osburn, Woodhead, Gayer and A. Bryan were members of the winning team.

B. T. SIMMS
Tennis Coach

Tennis

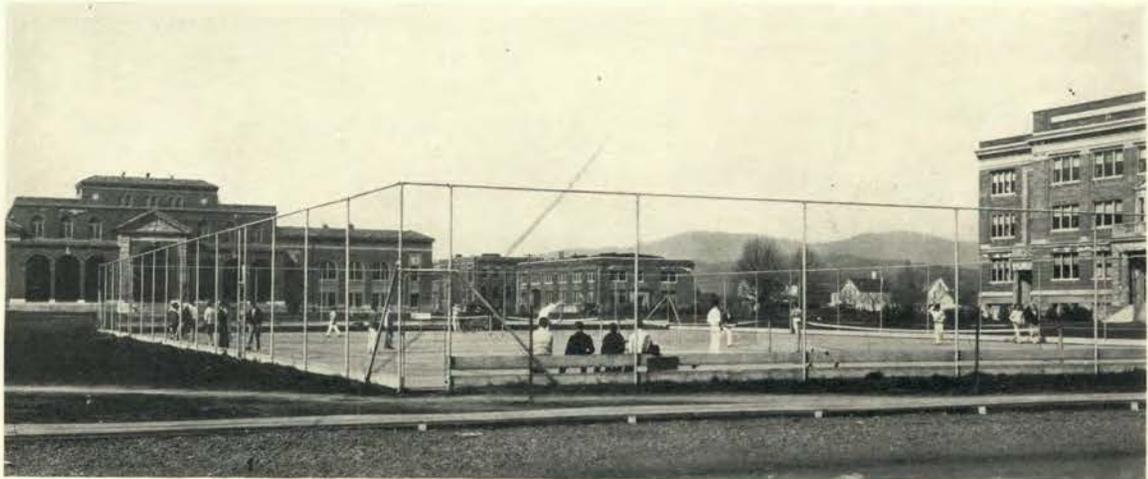

B. T. SIMMS, for eight years head of tennis on the O. A. C. campus, has developed the sport from an occasional student pastime to one of the most popular athletic activities at the college. This sport reached its zenith in 1926 when Coach Simm's call for varsity men and women was rewarded with the largest turnout in the history of the game at O. A. C.

The rapid development of tennis is directly attributed to the enthusiasm and interest with which Coach Simms carries on his practices. Hard-working captains such as Hyde, Joy, Kincaid, Johnson, Ekern and Harris are big factors in tennis development. In 1922 tennis had developed to the stage where it was recognized as a minor sport for which a Circle "O" is awarded. Lack of sufficient courts and equipment has lessened the opportunities for tennis at O. A. C.

as only a limited amount of practice can be obtained. Despite this disadvantage, the sport has continually shown improvement and increased popularity. It is through the careful adherence to Coach Simms' training rules and the faithful participation in practice that this development has manifested itself here.

The Season

The varsity racquet wielders took part in four meets last year, two of them being conference tilts against Reed college and Willamette university. The rook team played two meets with the University of Oregon frosh, losing the first to the Webfoot babes at Eugene 7 to 0. The second meet here was a 4 to 3 rook victory.

Tennis fans flock to courts

MILTON HARRIS, playing his last year under the orange and black colors, captained the 1926 Aggie tennis team. Although somewhat handicapped by a sprained ankle, he played a fast consistent game and directed the team in great style. He played number one position in most of the meets. With his graduation Coach Simms loses one of the Aggies' best performers and a captain that will be hard to replace.

Kenneth Atkinson, playing in number two berth most of the time, also played an excellent brand of tennis, always doing his share in putting the Aggies on top. He occasionally took number one berth for Harris. He is expected to be the mainstay in the 1927 varsity.

Other tennis performers to receive Circle "O" letters were Jack Grossmayer, Arlin Blain, Nathan Morse and Harold Ellis.

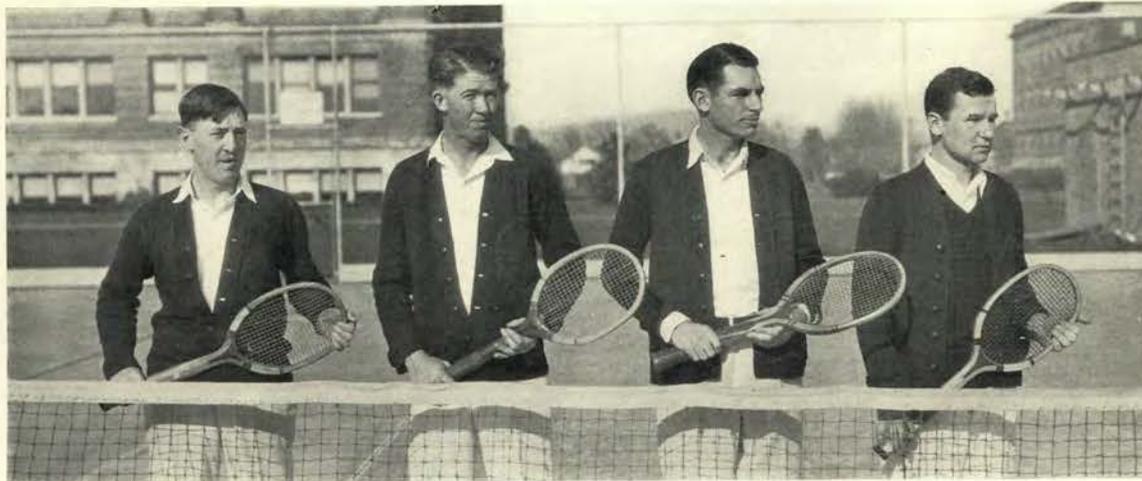

The 1926 season opened here April 24 against the Reed college cement court team. The Aggies won four of the singles and one of the doubles to take the meet 5 to 2.

The first conference meet was against the University of Oregon at Eugene May 8. Although the Orangemen won two of the singles, Oregon took the meet 5 to 2. Oregon also took the return meet here May 8 by a 6 to 1 score. The only win for O. A. C. in this encounter was Grossmayer's defeat of Mead of Oregon. The Aggies took four singles and one double event to win from Willamette university at Salem May 11.

Rooks winning numerals were Ed Capen, Hugh Benton, John Forbes, Sidney Klahn and Kenneth Cousins. These men are expected considerably to strengthen the 1927 varsity.

Cross Country

R. O. COLEMAN
Cross-Country Coach

INTERCOLLEGIATE cross country was revived here last fall when Ralph O. "Coley" Coleman, cross country coach, negotiated for a dual meet with the cinder men from the University of Oregon. "Coley," himself one of the greatest distance men ever produced at O. A. C., has been intensely interested in cross country and has done much to get it on an intercollegiate basis.

In 1923 the Aggie cross-country team met and defeated Oregon for the first time. In 1924 and 1925 conditions were such that no meet could be arranged. Last fall Coach Coleman scheduled a meet with the university and promises a similar meet for each year in the future.

Coleman, as director of intramural athletics, each year provides practice for his cross-country men in the form of a six-week intramural run in which all college organizations take part. More than 500 men enter this competition so Coleman has a large squad from which to select his varsity team.

The annual turkey run, open to all college men, the closing event of the intramural cross-country season, is the elimination race that decides who shall meet Oregon. The 20 men placing first in this run compose the varsity team.

Cross-country is a recognized minor sport for which a black sweater with an orange circle "O" is awarded. "Ted" Butts, veteran varsity miler developed in cross-country competition, is the only cross-country letterman on the campus. Bell, Kuni, Powell, Wolfe and Cummings will get letters this year.

Along the way in the Oregon run

Percy Bell, one of the Aggie star four-mile relay men and a consistent winner in the two-mile run, was the greatest cross-country performer in 1926. It was this tall red-headed Aggie that led the pack of 40 Aggies and Webfoots in the dual meet here with Oregon at Homecoming. Bell made the 2¼-mile loop in 10:28 and won easily.

Lee Powell, another Aggie runner developed in cross-country, crossed the tape in fifth place a few feet behind three Oregon men who finished second, third and fourth. Powell is a steady runner and gives promise of doing a lot in future varsity competition.

Lloyd Kuni, who came in a few feet behind Powell, has been a star cross-country performer for three years and last year made the fastest time recorded. He will be on deck this spring for a varsity distance berth. Wolfe and Cummings, two other Aggie runners, finished seventh and eighth respectively. Oregon had men to finish in second, third, fourth, ninth, eleventh, seventeenth and twenty-third places. The twentieth Aggie man crossed the tape in twenty-seventh place so only seven Webfooters finished ahead of the last Aggie. This marks the Aggies as distinctly superior runners.

PERCY BELL

Aggies Show Strength

In scoring for this meet the men were credited with points as they finished, the first man getting 1 point, the second 2, etc. On this scoring basis O. A. C. made 283 points to 458 made by Oregon. This showed the Aggie team almost twice as strong as the Webfoot squad.

Swimming

LOUIS "HAP" KUEHN
Swimming Coach

LOUIS "HAP" KUEHN, a champion in the aquatic world, since taking up the coaching reins at O. A. C. has instilled championship spirits in his swimmers. "Hap" is an O. A. C. graduate and takes pride in developing swimmers for his alma mater.

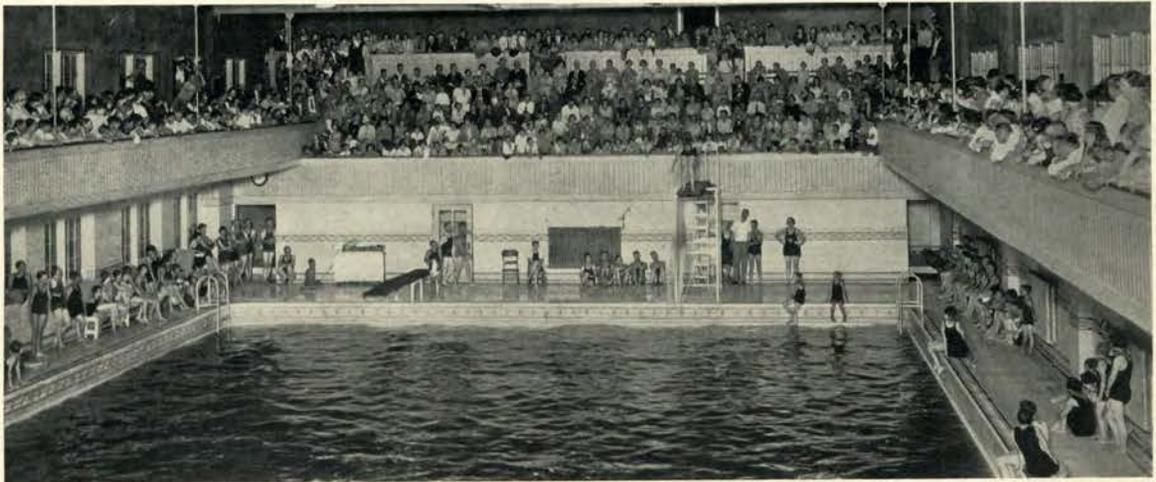

While swimming under the Orange and Black colors, "Hap" was always a first-place man, taking the diving contest with ease. He is said to be the most graceful diver developed on the coast. His record in the 1924 Olympics substantiates this statement for he outclassed the world's best divers to win the amateur title of the world.

His record as swimming coach has been no less outstanding. In three years of coaching his teams have won every intercollegiate match. The Multnomah club outfit, ranking among the best in the country, has been the only squad to defeat "Hap's" teams.

Kuehn has done much to put the name O. A. C. on swimming records of this section of the country. He helped to develop Julian Burroughs into one of the outstanding divers of the country at the present time. While simming for Kuehn, Orville Peterson came to the front as a coming sprint star.

"Bill" Becker, another of Kuhen's pupils, is a champion. In the last two years there has been no one able to beat him to the tape in the 200-yard breast stroke. All these men hold state, northwest and Canadian records and look good for the 1928 Olympics.

All set for the dives

"Jack" Savory, the big Aggie basketball center, is no less a star in swimming. "Jack" swimming his last year for the Aggies was chosen to captain them. Conflicting dates with basketball games kept Savory out of some of the meets this year but when he could get in, opponents knew he was there.

"Pete" Jourdan, spring board artist for last season, was a consistent performer. He took first place in every meet except in the state tournament. Like his coach, Jourdan was acclaimed an unusually clever performer.

Orville Peterson, the tall curly-headed sprinter, doesn't know what defeat means. He always wins the 50 and 100-yard dashes and does it easily. Last season he would break one state or northwest record only to re-break it again in the next meet. Other Aggies doing wood work were Markuson, Porter, Wernmark, Goodwin, Hover, Foyle, Shelk, Radke, Smith, Flood and Moses.

"JACK" SAVORY
Captain

The 1927 season started with a 41 to 27 win over the Webfoot natators. The Aggies took five first places. Peterson established a new 100-yard dash record of 57:3. The Multnomah mermen outclassed the Aggies in two meets, winning 46 to 22 and 28 to 30.

The Beavers came into their own again at Eugene where they took a second meet from the Oregonians. The score was 35 to 33. The relay decided the contest. Peterson lowered his own northwest record in the 100-yard event from 57:3 to 57 flat. In the state tournament Sheehan, Markuson, Jourdan and Hover were scorers. Peterson, a sure-winner, did not enter as he had withdrawn from school.

Polo

LIEUTENANT M. W. DANIELS
Polo Coach

WITH the recognition of polo as a special military sport, by the board of control, came a great impetus to the activity on the O. A. C. campus. Letters, a large block "O" with a polo mallet intersecting the "O," were awarded for the first time last fall. Lettermen are Kenny, Beckley, Henderson, Bacher, Nolte, Sugnet and Huffman. Polo is now under the supervision of Lieutenant M. W. Daniels, a man with much experience and training in polo and horsemanship in general.

Lieutenant Daniels is a graduate of the University of Louisville, Ky., from where he went to the United States military academy at West Point. In 1920 he was graduated from the army school and went to the field artillery school at Camp Knox, Ky., where he received much of his polo training. He worked under Major William Rucker, a star on many army polo teams in his time. Daniels played with the tenth field artillery at the Washington camp in 1922 and 1923. After Camp Lewis came the Hawaiian Islands where Daniels was stationed until his transfer to O. A. C. last fall.

Since coming to this campus he has done much to get the sport firmly established. In carrying out the program already started by Lieutenant Woodward, his predecessor, he has put the sport on a self-supporting basis. With revenues from the horse show in Albany, the state fair in Salem and Canby, a practice cage has been constructed. To Major Donald A. Robinson, polo director, and Lieutenant Woodward is also due much of the credit for the success of polo.

Mallet wielders in action

John Kenny, two-year letterman, is the field general for the Aggie poloists. Kenny has had much experience in equestrian activities and knows how to captain a polo team. For three years he has been a big cog in the Aggie game and this season is expected to lead his team to the top of the column again. He played number 2 position on the team that won the Pacific coast title last year.

Leo Beckley, another letterman in number 4 position, is going great for the Beavers again this year. Beckley, always playing a consistent game, is a "heap" of strength in the Aggie lineup. John Henderson, also a letterman in number 3 position, furnishes plenty of trouble for all comers. Another man of the quartet is Frank Huffman, a first class horseman. Other outstanding men on the squad are Lawrence Nolte, letterman, John Hardie and William McGinnis.

The Beaver pony-riders were coast champions last year and succeeded in taking one out of three games against the nationally known mallet wielders of the University of Arizona. This year the Stanford Cardinals were able to nose out on the Aggies in two contests at Palo Alto Christmas vacation.

The big meet of the season will be the coast conference tournament on Middlekauff field campus week end. At this time the Aggies will compete with Stanford and the University of Washington poloists and possibly others. Games may be arranged with the Portland Hunt club, seventh infantry of Vancouver barracks and Camp Lewis for this spring.

R. A. "DICK" NEWMAN
Rook Football Coach

Rook Football

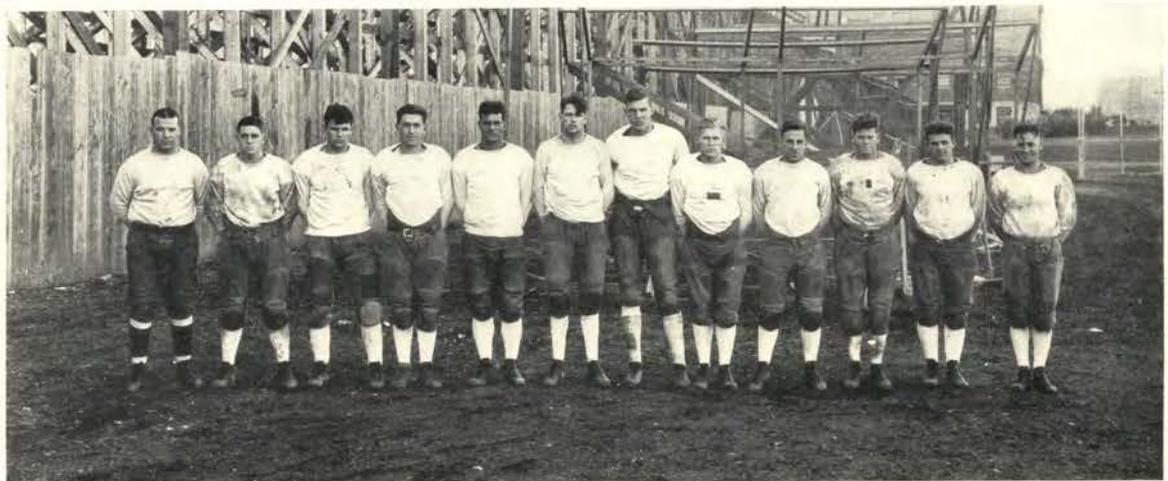

RUNNING up 133 points to their opponents' 26 was the record of the rook football team last fall. The first year men won four games and lost one—that to the Oregon frosh.

The Orange babes were coached by Richard A. "Dick" Newman, three-year letterman and quarterback on the University of Nebraska eleven several years ago. Newman is well acquainted with the coaching methods in vogue at O. A. C. for he worked with Paul J. Schissler, varsity coach, when he was freshman coach at Nebraska. Clifford Stetson, all-Illinois state tackle at Lombard college, assisted Newman.

A practice game, a 7 to 0 victory over Corvallis high school, was the first opposition for the yearlings. Albany college was humbled 31 to 0 in the second fray. The following Saturday the Chemawa Indians invaded the O. A. C. campus to receive a 45 to 0 defeat. The rooks next downed the Columbia University eleven 50 to 12. The "Cliffdwellers'" defense was powerless against the rooks' smashing attack.

In the annual "little big game" the rooks were beaten by the Oregon frosh 14 to 0 at Eugene. The line plays and off-tackle bucks of Robinson, frosh halfback, proved the downfall of the Orange babes.

Forty-two numerals were awarded for participation in games. They went to Kent, Stovall, Caldwell, Hammer, Brost, Buerke, Dyer, Drynan, Ebersole, Geddes, Gronquist, Gulick, Nicholson, Nosler, Park, Schell, Sloan, Spellman, C. Stout, Main, Gordon, Cochran, Striff, Wilson, Wissig, Wood, Drager, Bates, Hart, Towne, Ranes, Wing, Koberg, Disbrow, Mohr, Southard, Thurston, M. Stout, Shane, Phillips, Yuille and Shepard.

Rook Team

Rook Basketball

UNDER the coaching of Amory T. "Slats" Gill, freshman hoop mentor, the Beaver babes ended one of the most successful seasons in rook basketball history. The 1930 Orangemen won 16 of 19 games, trimming the Oregon frosh, traditional rivals, in four consecutive contests. The only set-backs were at the hands of the University of Washington yearlings, Southern Oregon Normal school and the three-time state championship Salem high team.

Gill was forward on the O. A. C. varsity in '22, '23 and '24. He was named on the Pacific coast all-star selection in '22 as guard and in '24 was picked all-coast forward. Gill is familiar with "Bob" Hager's style of play, having been the first pivot man to work with the varsity coach in the percentage system.

The rooks started the season with a 62 to 15 win over Albany high school and then took a 21 to 18 victory from the Southern Oregon Normal team. Next to fall were Franklin high, Columbia university and the Eugene Grey Hounds, the scores being 52 to 20, 30 to 24 and 62 to 25.

Columbia university lost again 33 to 24 and Corvallis high was beaten 26 to 22. Franklin high took a 54 to 15 beating and then the rooks lost to Salem high 32 to 18. Southern Oregon Normal won 29 to 19. The freshmen then won from Medford, St. Martins college, Napavine high and the Wheeler Aces by good scores and lost to the Washington frosh 34 to 26. The Oregon frosh scores were 23 to 11, 26 to 16, 23 to 21 and 27 to 22, all rook victories.

Numerals were awarded to Mills, O'Bryan, Tippery, Johnson, Hart, Torson, Cordy, Scott, Benson, Price and Drager.

ROY S. KEENE
Rook Baseball Coach

THE ROOK baseball team, under the supervision of Coach Roy "Spec" Keene, had one of the most successful seasons in history, making a perfect record of wins.

The Beaver babes made a clean sweep of the contests with the Oregon frosh. While the rooks earned a total of 49 runs the frosh gathered only 14. The stellar playing of Owen, Bouton, Maple, Cloyes and Cloninger indicates that these men will make strong bids for positions on the varsity this season.

The Chemawa Indian team opposed the rooks in the first tilt of the season. While the Indians were better able to hit and handle the ball without error, the first-year men made good every advantage and won, 6 to 4.

Sixteen safe hits turned into 16 runs gave the rooks a win over Albany college nine in the second game. Owen and Hudson, rook moundmen, pitched most of the game and allowed no hits.

Columbia university invaded the campus next only to return home on the short end of a 11 to 7 score. The game was won in the sixth inning when four runs were made out of five hits. Woodburn high was next to fall under a 7 to 1 score.

The Oregon frosh games were practice tilts for the rooks, for they won handily in every start, 19 to 7; 12 to 5 and 18 to 2. Numerals were awarded to Owen, Aase, Maple, Ellis, Burk, Woods, Cabbage, Telonicher, McHaley, Owings, Lovelace, Cloyes, Cloninger, Johnson, Bouton, Quayle, West, Marett, Bauer, Pflaum, Belleville, Perry, McDaniel and Galloway, manager.

Rook infield of 1926 season

Rook Track

COACH "BOB" HAGER'S freshman track team of 1926—a collection of former star high school performers—took to the track in February and in the latter part of May rounded out its schedule with a clean slate by handing the Oregon frosh a 66 to 55 defeat. The rooks won every meet on their none-too-easy schedule by decisive scores, giving varsity prospects for the 1927 season a brilliant aspect.

Corvallis high was the first victim. The rooks captured every first place, nine second places and eight third places in 14 events to swamp the local preppers under a 105 to 17 score.

The rooks donned their battle spikes again May 14 when the Oregon frosh came to Corvallis to settle the matter of relay supremacy. The Beaver babes settled the matter by winning the three-mile, mile, half-mile and quarter-mile relay events, giving them a 4 to 1 win over the Lemon-Yellow ducklings. Gaining momentum with the passing of the season, the freshmen rolled over the Jefferson high school tracksters, undisputed kings of the Portland league for several years.

The freshmen went to Eugene for the final meet where they found going much rougher than on home soil. They downed the frosh, however, 66 to 55.

Men awarded numerals were Whitlock, Twitchell, Oglesby, Ritter, Douglas, McKinney, Lawrence, Darlington, Holdridge, MacMahon, Brown, Hahn, Davies, Black, Blinkhorn, Smith, Morris, Fain, Bradshaw, Riebe, Crosby, Scott, Manville, Christensen, Wolf, Gilmore, Luce and Ebert.

LOUIS "HAP" KUEHN
Rook Swimming Coach

Rook Swimming

COACH "HAP" KUEHN'S freshmen swimmers, while not a championship outfit, did some good work. Kuehn, realizing that the 1927 season ended the swimming career of several of his varsity stars including Peterson, Jourdan, Savory, Wernmark and Foyle, spent much time on the first-year men.

Laying the foundation for the 1928 and 1929 teams was his motive. While there are no Petersons and Burroughs on the rook squad, continued practice may develop men of this type, believes Coach Kuehn. In Sheehan, 50- and 100-yard dash man, Kuehn has a valuable sprint prospect.

Sheehan was the outstanding rook performer, always getting more than his share of the points. In the state meet he took second only to Thomas of Multnomah club who equalled the northwest record of 25 seconds in the 50-yard dash. In this same meet Sheehan captured third place in the 100-yard event, losing to Thomas of Multnomah and Anderson of Oregon, who ran a dead heat. Anderson is considered a coming champion along with Peterson. Other performers on the rook squad were Harvey, Corry, George, Jubetz, Sherman, Martin, Newton, Ray and Covington.

The Beaver babes lost two dual meets to the Oregon frosh. Sheehan was the only rook to take first place in these meets. He won the 50-yard dash and placed in the 220. The rooks gathered several second and third places but could not get enough to down the frosh. In the first meet the frosh won the relay by only one foot.

The men's pool, one of the finest on the coast, is a white-tiled tank 50 by 100 feet with a surrounding gallery capable of seating 1500 spectators. Modern diving boards, electric lights for the bottom of the pool and refiltration and ultraviolet ray process for keeping the water sterile are part of the equipment. This provides an ideal setting for holding northwest and state meets and for attracting nationally reputed aquatic stars to O. A. C.

Track Relays

THE PHI DELTA THETA half-mile relay team made the circuit in the exceptional time of 1:35 and captured the all-college championship. Theta Nu Phi won the championship in the local fraternity group and Willamette club took home the plaque offered to the independent winner. The relays last year were among the most interesting types of intramural athletics with more than 40 teams competing for the coveted trophy.

PHI DELTA THETA
Relay Champions

Turkey Run

Theta Nu Phi won high honors in the annual Thanksgiving week turkey run by taking 439 points. Sigma Pi with 377 points took the national title and Western club with 333 took the independent laurels. Turkeys, ducks and chickens offered by various business men of Corvallis were given as prizes.

Swimming Relays

Beta Theta Pi turned in the record time of 1:50 in the 200-yard swimming relay to win over 40 other competing teams. The Betas took the all-college title and the national plaque. Sigma Gamma captured the local fraternity championship and Achean club the independent title.

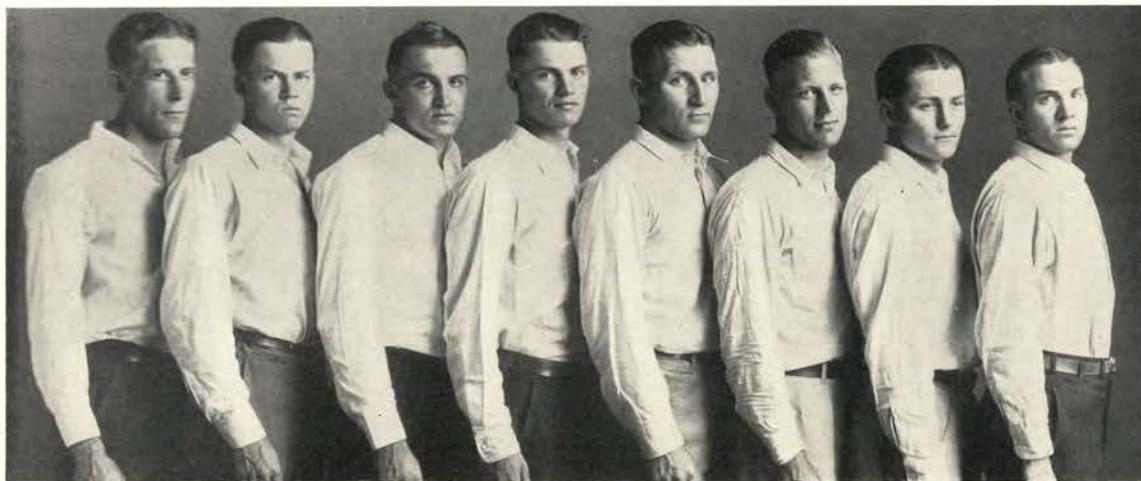

Track

With a well-balanced all-around team, the Phi Delta Theta track squad took honors in the all-college meet. They won with 43½ points.

Whitlock of Lambda Chi Alpha broke two records by hurling the javelin 188 feet 3 inches and throwing the discus 128 feet. Luce of Kappa Sigma shattered the 1921 record in the shot put by tossing the ball 39 feet 8 inches.

Horseshoes

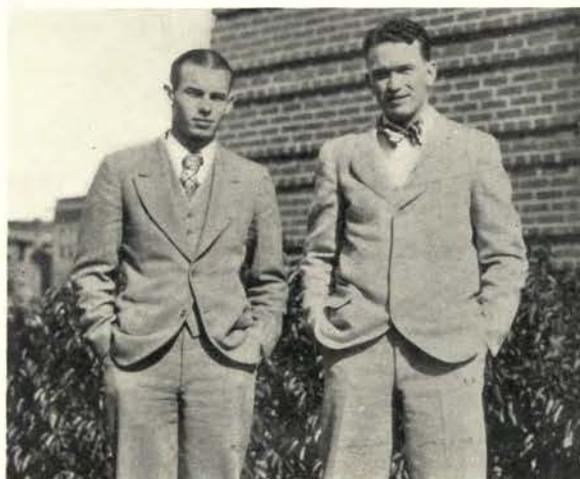

Pi Kappa Alpha, fraternity champions, defeated Orion club, independent winners, for the intramural horseshoe championship. Mercer and Dowsett, throwing for the winners, tossed seven ringers each.

Handball

Orion club came through with a clean slate in intramural handball, winning the title over 45 other teams. Phi Sigma Kappa won the national honor and Theta Nu Phi the local championship.

Baseball

Alpha Pi Delta baseball team, winner of the local fraternity title, came through the season with five wins and no defeats and the all-college title. It won the title in a hard-fought game with Beta Theta Pi, national champions, after downing Orion, the independent title-holder.

Baseball

Intramural baseball is a popular college sport, affording athletic activity for almost every man in college. Last spring 45 teams played at least five games each.

Swimming

Sigma Chi won the national swimming meet by taking 19 points. Tau Delta took the local title and Achaean club the independent title. In the all-college meet Beta Theta Pi and Tau Delta tied with 15 points. The time in every event was the fastest for the season.

Tennis

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the intramural tennis title and the national plaque. In the finals the S. A. E.'s downed Theta Delta Nu, local champions and Miami, independent plaque winners.

Sigma Chi, winners of national fraternity meet

Sigma Pi cross country winners

Cross Country

Sigma Pi won the all-college cross country championship with 353 points in the annual run. Theta Nu Phi, local league champions and Sigma Phi Epsilon pressed the leaders throughout, tying for second honors with 349 points. Western club took the independent plaque. This sport afforded competition for more than 500 men, many of whom are expected to develop into varsity distance men.

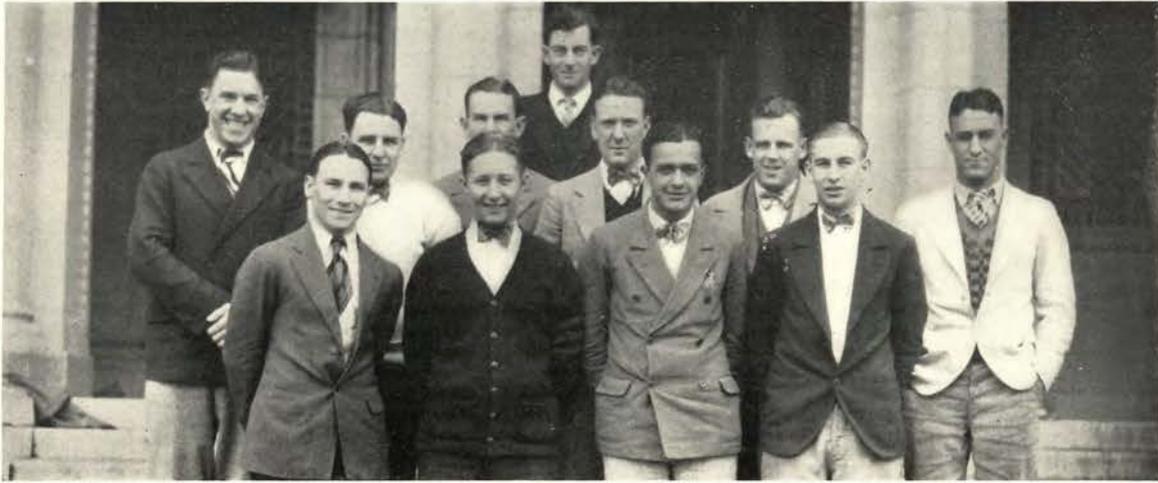

Basketball

Teamwork, speed and cleverness without any individual stars won the all-college intramural basketball title for Sigma Chi. The Sigma Chi team won over Omega Upsilon, local league champions. Achaean club was the winner in the independent league.

In deciding the championship team 136 games were played. Three games were played at a time on the courts in the men's gymnasium, thus allowing time for 45 teams to compete each week. More than 400 men competed in the tourney.

Interclass Sports

THE CLASS OF 1929 made a clean sweep in interclass sports this year, winning both the football and basketball championships. In football the sophomores first downed the freshmen 7 to 0 and then played the juniors, who had beaten the seniors 8 to 6, to a 7 to 7 tie. After an overtime period failed to decide the contest, a coin was flipped and the sophomores won.

Oglesby, star sprinter, was the main cog in the sophomore offense. Bergan Belleville, playing quarterback for the second year men, handled the team in great style and also made his share of the yardage. Others showing good work were Bashor, Hukill, Petellin, Crawford, Koontz, Kruse, Ritter, Fitzgerald, Smith and Houghton.

In the basketball series the second year men outplayed all other teams, decisively establishing themselves champions. They first downed the rooks 29 to 16 and then handed the seniors a 34 to 24 defeat. Men winning numerals were Duncan, McDaniels, Bashor, Beckley, Hobson, Hukill, Gist, Whitlock, Belleville, Duke, McKeene, Arnberg and Olson.

WOMEN'S

MISS RUTH B. GLASSOW
Director of Physical Education for Women

Women's Physical Education

THE POSSESSION of a "fine mind, splendid professional spirit, high standards, and a marked ability for organization" characterizes Miss Ruth B. Glassow, the new director of women's physical education. Miss Glassow comes from the University of Illinois where she took graduate work and served as an instructor. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and received her master's degree from Columbia in 1924. Of medium stature, pleasing personality and charming ways, Miss Glassow has permeated the department with that "belonging feeling" which makes the co-eds feel that she has been there always instead of one short year.

Assisting Miss Glassow in the department as instructors are Ruth Thayer, Natalie Reichart, Madge Burt, Helen Burtis, Laura McAllister, Elsie Jacobsen and Josephine Garvin, the latter having charge of the practice teaching.

In cooperation with the department is the Women's Athletic association. This organization is composed of women who have earned 50 points in competition in any of the sports. W. A. A. has charge of all the sports authorized by the department, appointing managers from among its members for each sport.

Officers of the organization are Wilma Leach, president; Louise Ketel, vice-president; Clarabelle Mintonye, secretary; Betty Currie, treasurer; and Katherine Murphy, custodian. Sports managers are Camilla Freel, basketball; Maxine Gentry, hockey; Eudora Mitchell, swimming; Margaret Watt, track; Anona Joos, volleyball; Carol Chapman, hiking; Alice Joy, tennis; and Lida Jarmon, rifle.

Women's Building

BASED on the Italian Renaissance style of architecture, the new women's building is truly a "thing of beauty and a joy forever." Composed of Monroe ruffled brick, trimmed in terra-cotta and with a varigated tile roof, it harmonizes beautifully with the surroundings.

The beauty of the spacious lobby with its wainscoting of black walnut, high beamed ceiling, hardwood floor and Cretan fireplace, momentarily halts the visitor to grasp the details. The stairway with its elliptical groined ceiling leads to the lobby, the main gymnasium floors and the swimming pool balcony.

The main gymnasium room is 72 by 108 feet with a balcony on three sides. It is beautifully lighted, airy and cheerful. The games room adjoins it and is finished in brick paneling to a height of eight feet. The interpretative dancing room is especially designed. Low hung mirrors line three sides.

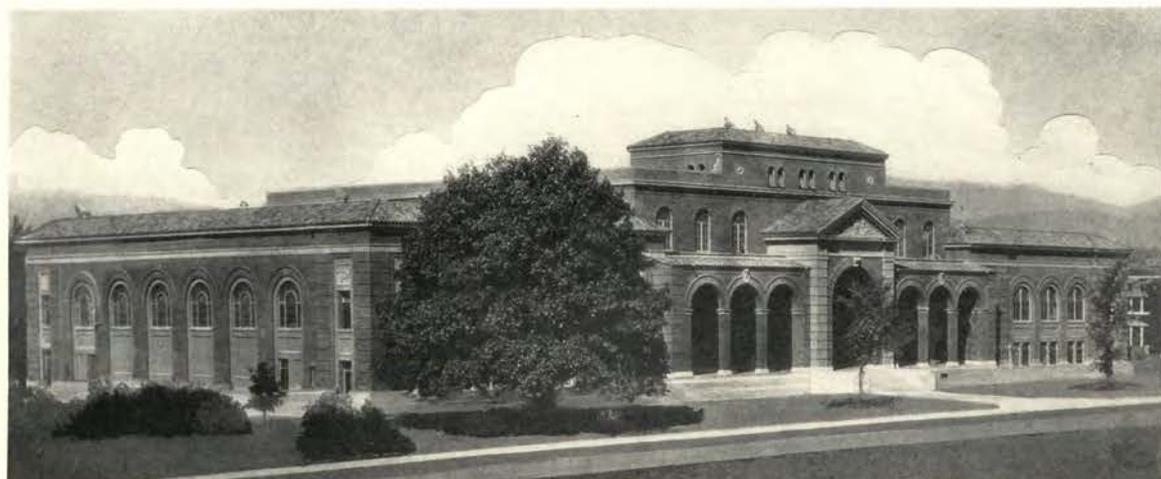

The swimming pool room, exclusive of the balcony, is 48 by 97 feet. The tank itself is of white tile, trimmed in orange and black. It is 35 by 70 feet and fully equipped with diving boards.

Three club rooms which may be thrown together for social purposes are at the disposal of the various women's organizations on the campus. A kitchenette, equipped for light cooking, is included where refreshments may be prepared.

Rest rooms, first-aid rooms, locker rooms and shower rooms are modern in equipment and located with respect to convenience and facility of approach.

Co-eds mix in hockey games

Women's Athletics Hockey

THE SENIOR hockey team won the championship this year in the interclass contests. The juniors tied with the seniors for first place and in the deciding game they were defeated by a score of 2 to 1. The game was a whirl of excitement, with first one team in the lead and then the other forging to the front.

Hockey is one of the major sports of women's athletics. A team is composed of 11 players whose positions correspond somewhat to those on a football team.

Basketball

The class of '27 was also victorious in basketball this year. The juniors were running the seniors a close race in the series and the championship game was closely contested. Just as the junior forward had the ball headed for the basket the whistle blew, giving the seniors the game with a score of 19 to 18.

Basketball attracts many college women

Women enjoy diamond sport

More women turned out for basketball this year than ever before. Each class had enough players for second teams and exciting games were played off between them.

Baseball

Diamond-shaped numerals were awarded for the second time to the class of '28, winners of the interclass baseball series. The second year co-eds won every game. The other three classes, each having won one game in the round-robin series, tied for second honors. One hundred points toward Orange "O" sweaters were earned by each of forty girls playing on class first teams.

Volleyball

After playing off a tie with the senior co-eds for interclass championship in volleyball, the rookies, captained by Henrietta Brabaw, were awarded high honors. Six co-eds on the first team—Henrietta Brabaw, Alta DeShazer, Bernadine Faller, Zell McReynolds, Martha Pocklington and Lucile Snook—received the '30 numeral, significant of the winning team. One hundred points toward the Orange "O" sweater were awarded to more than twenty-five women for having played in more than half of the games.

Women's volleyball popular sport

Rifle

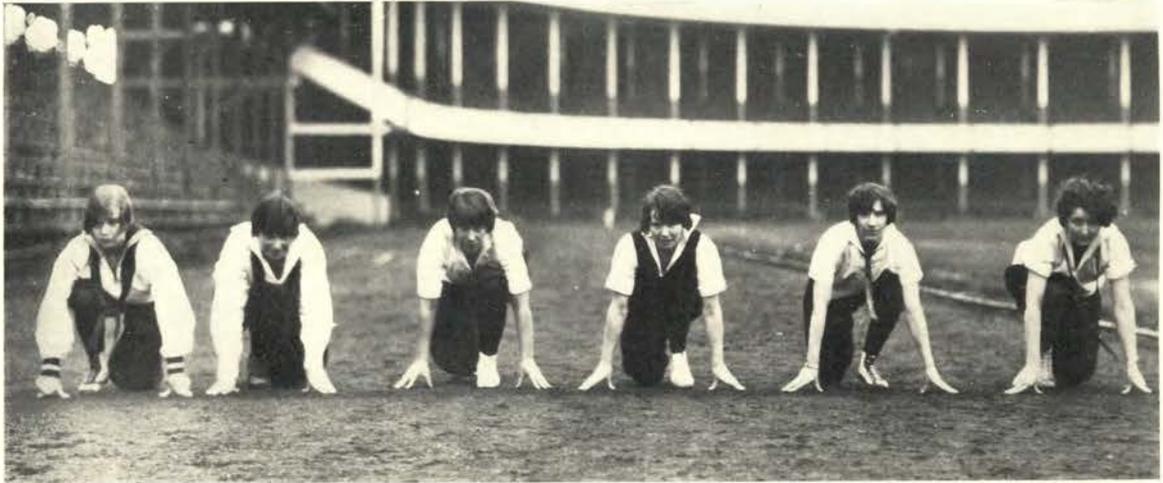

Under the instruction of Captain M. A. Gillis, assistant professor of military science and tactics, and Miss Madge Burt, instructor in physical education, more than 80 co-eds were taught the rudiments of marksmanship this year. Intercollegiate matches are fired with many of the leading colleges and universities in the United States in positions of prone, kneeling, sitting and standing.

Swimming

Swimming stock took an appreciable impetus after the building of the new white tiled 35 by 70 foot pool. Eudora Mitchell, swimming sports manager, has outlined the program for this year's interclass meet to include a plunge for distance, one-length free-style dash, two-length free-style dash, back stroke, a relay race and a diving contest.

All set for the dash

Track

The co-ed track meet, won by the class of '28 for the second time, was an outstanding event on the athletic program of Women's week-end. Eudora Mitchell, '28, broke the O. A. C. discus record with an 87-foot throw. Track is sponsored by the Women's Athletic association, points toward Orange "O" sweaters being awarded first, second and third places as well as to members of the winning relay team. The relay, won by the class of '28, was considered the most interesting event on the program.

Tennis

A round-robin tournament in tennis designated Alice Joy, Ednah Lawrence, Lois Campbell and Laurel Gillette as the outstanding performers. Miss Joy, '28, won the singles championship. Miss Lawrence and Gladys Munson, placed the class of '27 at the top of the doubles column. Miss Joy and Miss Lawrence were chosen to take part in the contest with the Oregon co-eds Play day at the University.

SUCH FUNCTIONS as the Giocoso—women's fun fest—teas for women specializing in physical education, and a trip to Mary's Peak are sponsored annually by the Physical Education club, an organization of women specializing in the study of physical education. Programs at meetings of the group are devoted principally to the field of professional work in physical education, resumes of magazine articles and talks by members of the club and by the faculty.

THE PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL, composed of two representatives from each sorority, solves sorority problems and creates friendship among all college women. It cooperates with other organizations in furthering scholarship, in maintaining fine social standards and in supporting campus activities. The greatest aim is to train for good college citizenship as a preparation for good citizenship in the larger world of alumnae days.

THE INDEPENDENT Student council serves as a medium through which the interests of O. A. C. may be better served by working out solutions to problems concerning the independent student and the various clubs. Membership consists of the presidents of the clubs and representatives from every independent organization on the campus. Beneficial programs are outlined for the clubs with a view to bringing the faculty to the students and to give opportunity for the development of leadership.

SEVERAL YEARS AGO the leaders of the independent organizations on this campus conceived the idea of an intercollegiate organization which would serve to promote the general welfare of the independent students.

It was believed that a great deal of good would result from the formation of such an organization in that it would serve to establish a bond of fellowship between the non-fraternity students of the various colleges. It was also thought that it would be of great benefit to the individuals by providing a means of exchanging ideas between colleges and universities.

Last year these dreams came true when the Independent Intercollegiate Students' association was formed. Other schools have joined the movement and an ambitious program for the formation of a strong national organization is being followed.

The organization functions through various clubs of both women and men on the different campuses. These clubs are bound together in a central council, the president of which automatically becomes a member of the executive council of the national organization.

The national executive council is composed of a president, secretary, treasurer, and the presidents of the respective member organizations.

Robert Griffin of O. A. C. is president; Herbert Gordon of O. A. C. is secretary; and Virgil Woodcock is member of the executive council.

Independent Men's Association

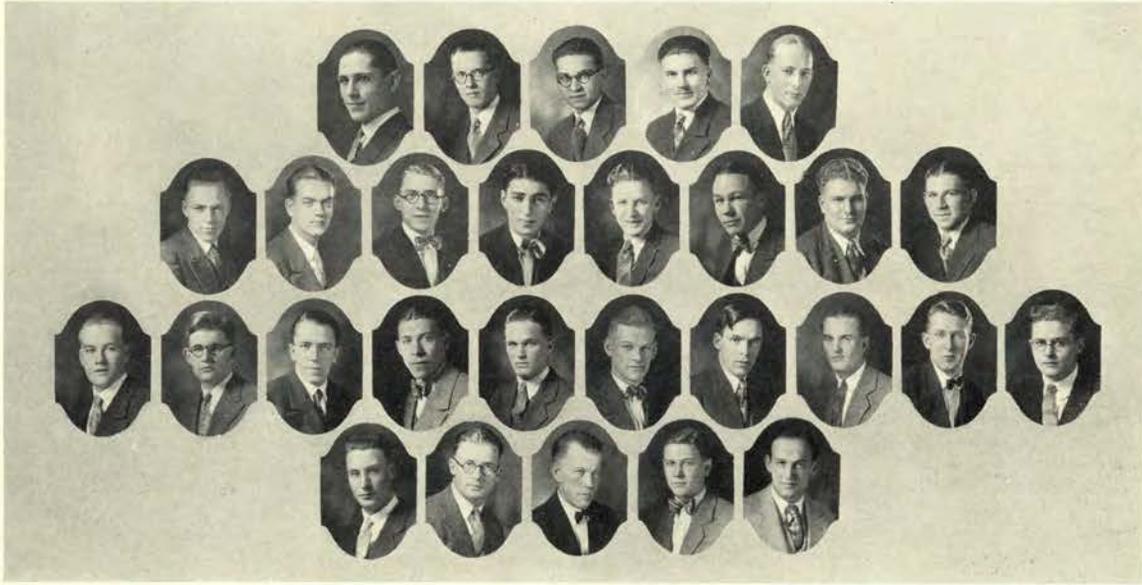

THE INDEPENDENT Men's association is an organization the purpose of which is to bring together independent men so that they may become better acquainted and may co-operate in athletics, social, and other college events. The association aids, assists, and provides an incentive for personal improvement through events of the individual clubs. The membership consists of full-fledged pin members, affiliated members, and unaffiliated members totaling over 800 men. These are men that are not pledges to a fraternity or do not live in halls of residence.

The association is divided into four clubs, namely Orion, Tri-V, Hesperion, and Alphee. Each club represents a section of the city. This year a movement has been in progress in which house clubs are being formed within clubs to give more and more men an opportunity to receive benefits of the organization. The Prokyon club as a part of the Orion club is an example.

The clubs elect their own officers and meet approximately every two weeks. They sponsor social functions such as dances, parties, picnics, and banquets. Each club also organizes teams for competition in intramural sports and have turned out strong teams in every field of athletics. The association supplements these by a major social event and a meeting each term for all the men.

The president, social manager, and athletic manager of each club with a duly elected councilman and the officers of the association form an executive council. This council meets regularly and is the governing body of the entire organization. Here all problems of the clubs and association are discussed, and the general policies outlined. This independent organization is linked together with all other independent organizations on the campus through the Independent Students' council.

SELF-GOVERNMENT is the outstanding feature of Poling hall. The hall is divided into five clubs, all being under the supervision of the central council, a committee composed of officers of the various clubs. Since no faculty members reside at the dormitory, all problems are brought before the central council, where definite decisions are made. Students are placed on their honor in complying with the self-made rules and an excellent spirit of co-operation has been the result. Each club has a definite organization, making it possible to compete in athletics and to schedule dances, banquets and other social functions.

Snell Hall

MARGARET SNELL HALL, the newest dormitory on the campus, was originally built to house upperclass girls, but it is now the residence of about 140 girls from all classes. Mrs. Katherine B. Haight is preceptress. The girls are organized into the Margaret Snell Hall club, the officers of which form a council that has complete charge of student regulations and discipline. The officers are president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, independent student representative, and freshman representative.

One formal and two informal dances are given by the club each year. Fireside, chafing-dish and "midnight" parties are greatly enjoyed by the girls. Each month a birthday dinner party is given to which all girls whose birthdays occur are invited. Faculty dinners furnish a means whereby the girls may come in social contact with their instructors.

Waldo Hall

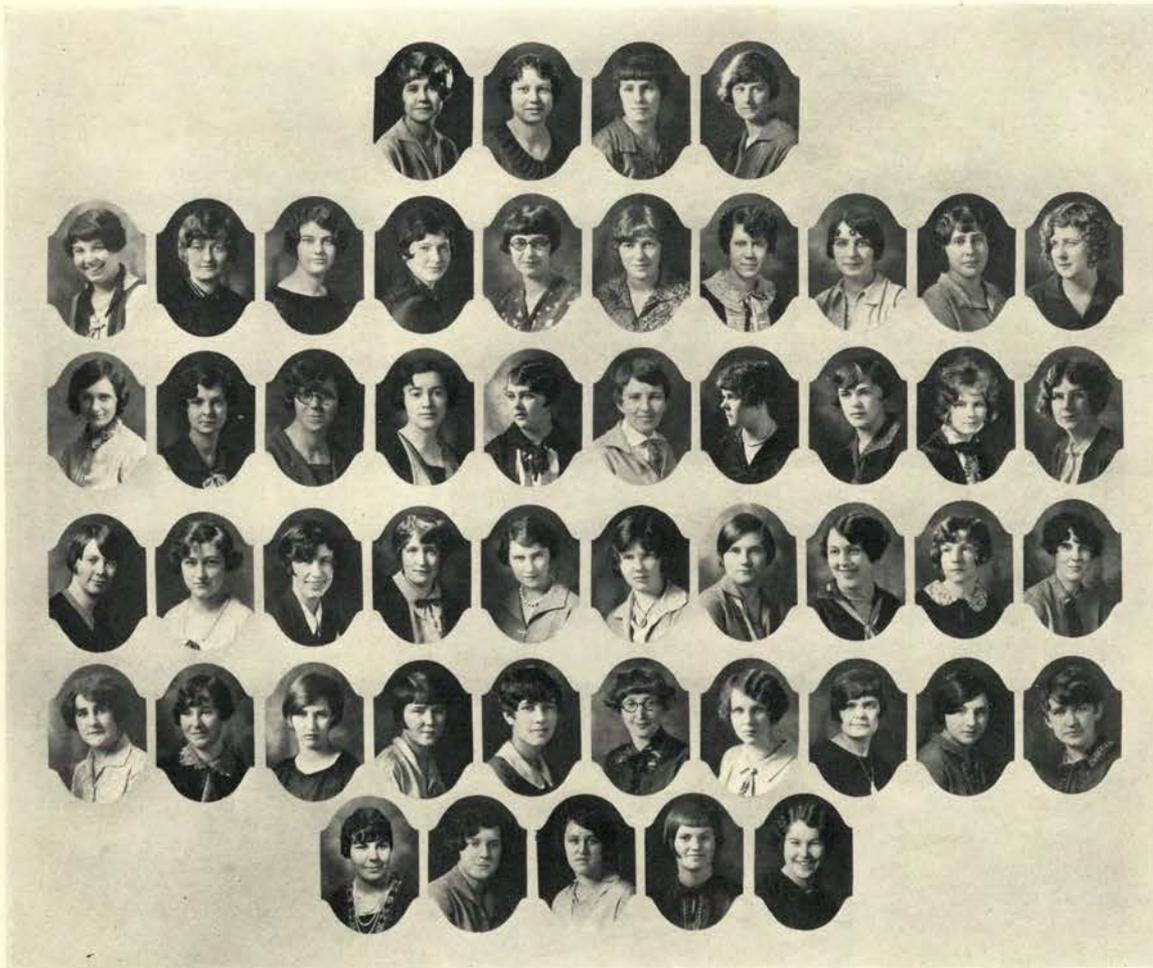

WALDO HALL is the home of 250, the largest group of girls living on the campus. The girls living on each floor are organized into a club: Phillion, Xantippe, and Winema. These smaller groups elect their own officers, give parties and dances independently.

The council, composed of all the hall officers, is at the head of student government, which was adopted in the spring of 1926. The girls assume complete charge of disciplinary matters. Mrs. Nellie Leyman is preceptress and is assisted by Miss Helen Moor.

Due in no small part to the management of Miss Melissa Hunter, director of dormitories, the girls have the privilege of entertaining their friends and relatives at teas and dinners. Each month a birthday dinner is given for every girl whose birthday is in that particular month.

Each year a formal dance is given which is the largest social function of the year, and includes every girl in the hall. An annual Christmas party, sponsored by the freshman girls, is given just before the Christmas vacation and informal dances and parties add to the social life.

Cauthorn Hall

CAUTHORN HALL is the oldest dormitory on the campus. It was formerly occupied by men, but now, each year, it is "home" to approximately 100 women students. Mrs. J. M. Brewer, the preceptress, is friend as well as guardian to her women charges.

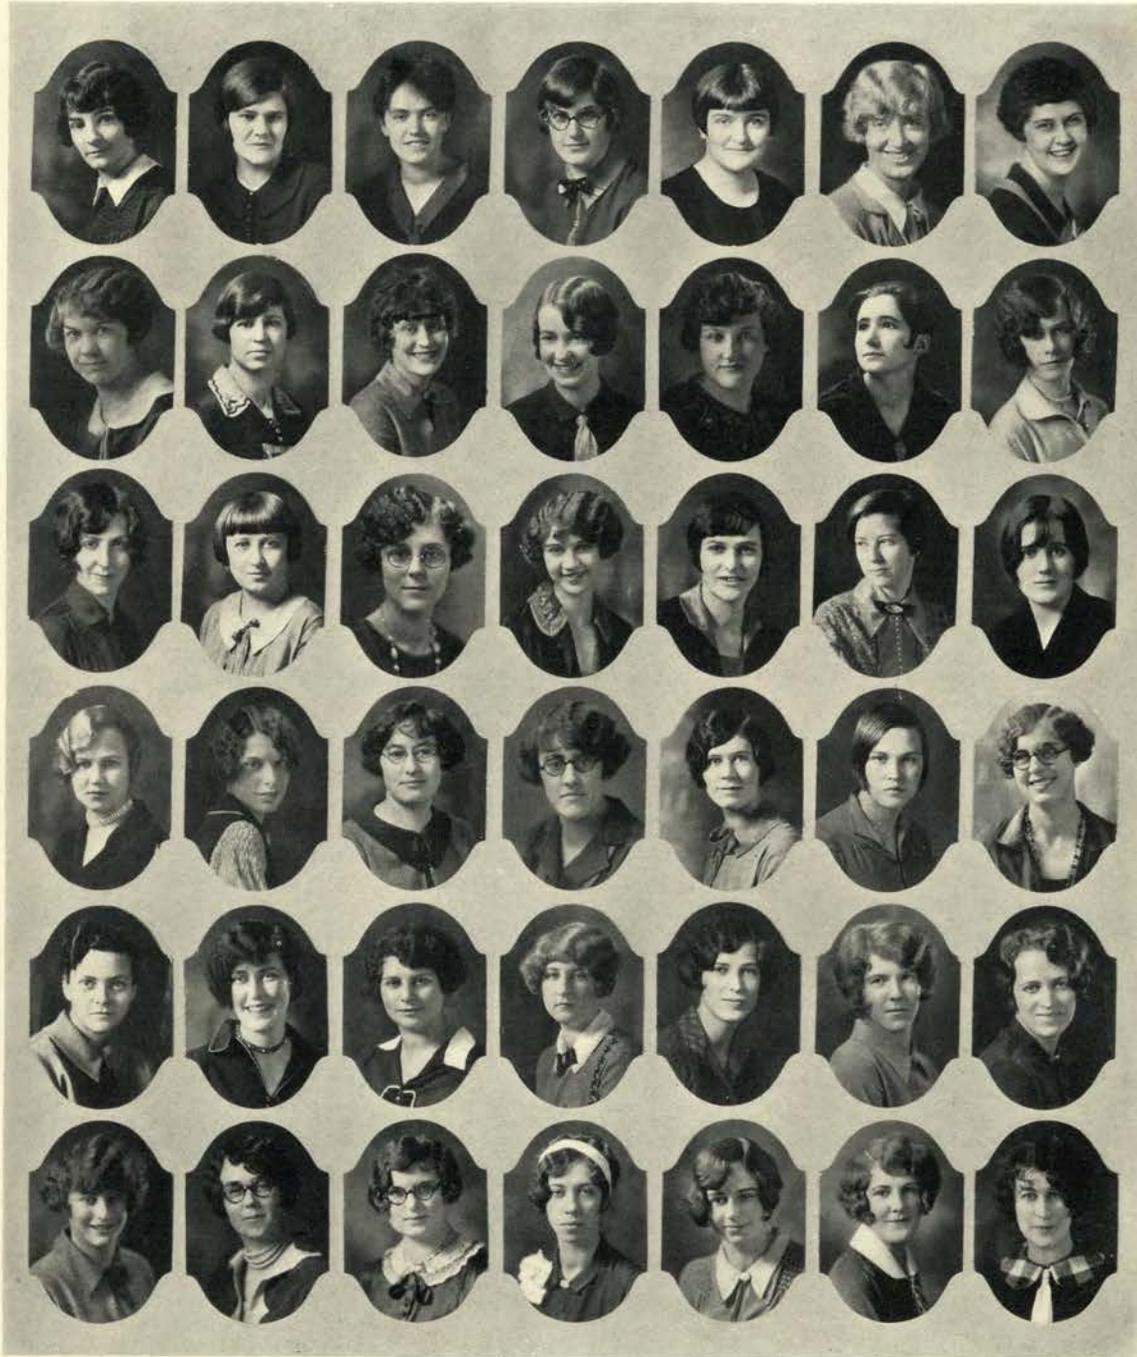

Each woman living in the hall automatically becomes a member of the Cauthorn Hall club which is governed solely by student officers. The hall council, composed of the club officers—the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer—in cooperation with two citation members enforces study hour rules, social regulations, and Cauthorn hall traditions, and acts, also, as a disciplinary body.

In order to reveal the high and low spots in Cauthorn hall life and to suggest ways of improving conditions and conduct within the club, the "Cauthorn Hall Rooter," published by an anonymous writer, appears mysteriously every three weeks. The pungent comments of the small publication are appreciated by the readers and the desired results are soon noted among its constituency.

The social affairs of the club are various. One formal and two informal dances are given each school year. Faculty dinners to which the women invite instructors and professors, to further acquaintances, are annual affairs.

Besides social affairs for the women and their friends there are others just for themselves. New students are entertained in the first week of school with a get-together party. Later in the fall term the freshmen are guests of the upperclassmen at a "Jolly-Up." The Christmas party, an annual affair, occurs the last Sunday evening in the fall term. Midnight "feeds," though unscheduled, become major parts of each woman's social program.

WYTOMACHEE CLUB is an organization of independent women not living in the halls of residence. It was organized five years ago as the Down-Town Girls' club with the purpose of promoting closer friendships among women living off the campus. In the spring of 1926 the name was changed to Wytomachee, an Indian word meaning "friendship." A new constitution was drawn up to meet the needs of the growing organization. Wytomachee club is now an active member of the Independent Students' association. A spacious room in the basement of Shepard hall is used for the club's semi-monthly meeting.

THE YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN association is an interdenominational organization which stands for development and expression of Christian living on the campus. Through study, discussion, and fellowship, women students have the opportunity of development and service. Organized to help the freshmen girls make their adjustments to college life more easily, the Big Sister movement has been especially emphasized this year. Other activities included the International banquet, waffle breakfast, after-dinner discussions and spring forums.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN association of O. A. C. is a campus movement of students and faculty, and is of interdenominational character. The purpose is to promote a positive fellowship of service and good will on the campus. It acts as a challenge to students to devote themselves in united effort to make Christianity effective in human society. Besides these things it acts as an employment bureau for students on the campus.

THE O. A. C. ADVERTISING CLUB was organized during the spring of 1926 by the H. T. Vance chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional fraternity in advertising, which now acts as a board of governors. The club serves to fill the need for students interested in advertising who want actual experience. It has handled all publicity and advertising for such groups as National Collegiate Players, Band, Glee and Madrigal clubs, and the Beaver, Orange Owl and Directory. Membership is not limited to any particular school. The members are afforded every opportunity through associate memberships which they hold in the Portland Advertising club.

| WILFRED COOPER | President |
| ERNEST HAUSER | Secretary |
| ESTON AHLSTROM | Treasurer |
| FRANK LOUGHARY | Exposition Manager |

THE DAIRY CLUB was organized in 1921 for the purpose of increasing the interest of the students registered in the school of dairy husbandry in their work and to promote and increase dairy science as a whole. Each spring the club sells ice cream bars, profits of which go toward defraying the expenses of sending dairy judging teams to the national dairy show each year and to intercollegiate judging contests in the judging of dairy cattle and dairy products. The club has been granted a chapter of the American Dairy Science association, thus making it more able to carry out its work.

OFFICERS

|---------------|-----------------------|
| DAVID ROGERS | President |
| JOHN PAYTON | Vice-President |
| MARTIN HENKLE | Secretary |
| CARL BLACK | Treasurer |

THE WITHYCOMBE CLUB, named in honor of Dr. James Withycombe, was organized for the purpose of promoting interest in animal husbandry. Membership in the club is limited to juniors and seniors majoring in animal husbandry. The club conducts a stock judging contest for freshmen each year to give them an opportunity to learn the fundamentals of stock judging. Judging teams sent to various sections of the country have made good records. The organization sponsors a horse show during each annual Educational exposition.

Miners' Club

|-----------------|------------------|
| ARTHUR WIGHT | President |
| ALLEN LOOK | Secretary |
| MARION HARTZELL | Treasurer |

THE MINERS' CLUB is an affiliated undergraduate branch of the national organization. Students registered in the school of mines and persons interested in the work may be admitted to membership. This year the club has had the use of the latest type of rescue apparatus for mine work. It has carried on extensive tests in gas and fire resuscitation.

Forestry Club

|---------------|-----------------------|
| JOE LIBBY | President |
| MAX ENGLAND | Vice-President |
| SHELBY BAILEY | Secretary |
| GEORGE FRY | Treasurer |

THE FORESTRY CLUB, organized in 1926, aims to promote a spirit of good fellowship, to provide discussions on professional subjects in the field of forestry, and to aid in practical work in the conservation of the national reserves. The publication of the Annual Cruise is one of the important functions of the organization. During the spring quarter the members take a two-week trip into the timbered regions and study conditions of logging and conservation.

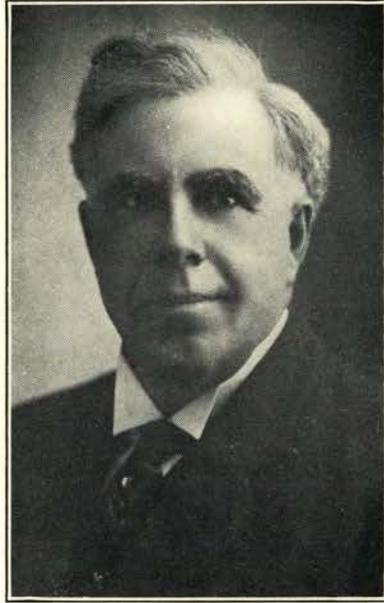

Horticultural Club

|-----------------|----------------------------|
| EDWARD ATKINSON | President |

THE 4-H CLUB was organized in the fall of 1918 for the purpose of bringing together former members of Boys' and Girls' clubs on the campus to assist in the promotion of club work throughout the state. It is the only organization of its kind in the United States and has aroused much interest among national and state leaders throughout the country. Any student who is a former 4-H club member or any one officially connected with club work is eligible to membership.

Charles Eliot Club

|--------------|-------------------------------|
| MAX WALLISER | Moderator |
| NELLE TOBIAS | Recorder and Treasurer |

THE CHARLES ELIOT CLUB, organized November, 1925, is named after Charles Eliot, distinguished landscape architect and son of the late President Emeritus, Charles Eliot of Harvard university. The purpose of the club is to promote fellowship and professional interest in landscape architecture. Members are elected to the club from students who have completed four terms of required landscape subjects. Besides holding regular monthly business meetings, special meetings are held for the purpose of hearing lecturers and reviewing exhibits. At the annual Educational exposition the club contributes a model of residential development of some nature.

| FREDERICK CROWTHER | President |
| VENE RINEHART | Vice-President |
| NELSON MEKEEL | Publicity |
| F. O. McMILLAN | Faculty Advisor |

THE AMERICAN Institute of Electrical Engineering is a national organization representing the electrical engineering profession. The objects of the society include advancement in the theory and practice of electrical engineering, the maintenance of professional standing of its members and the development of the individual engineer. The local branch is a student chapter of the national organization and was installed in 1908. Membership is open to all students enrolled in electrical engineering.

American Society of Mechanical Engineers

|-----------------|------------------|
| KENNETH BUCKLEY | President |
| ERNEST WEBB | Secretary |
| GRATTAN KEERINS | Treasurer |

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS is an organization composed of the leading engineers throughout the United States. The O. A. C. branch of the organization works in conjunction with the Portland branch which is the headquarters for the organization in the state. The primary object of the society is to build up a strong feeling of friendship between those actively engaged in mechanical engineering work.

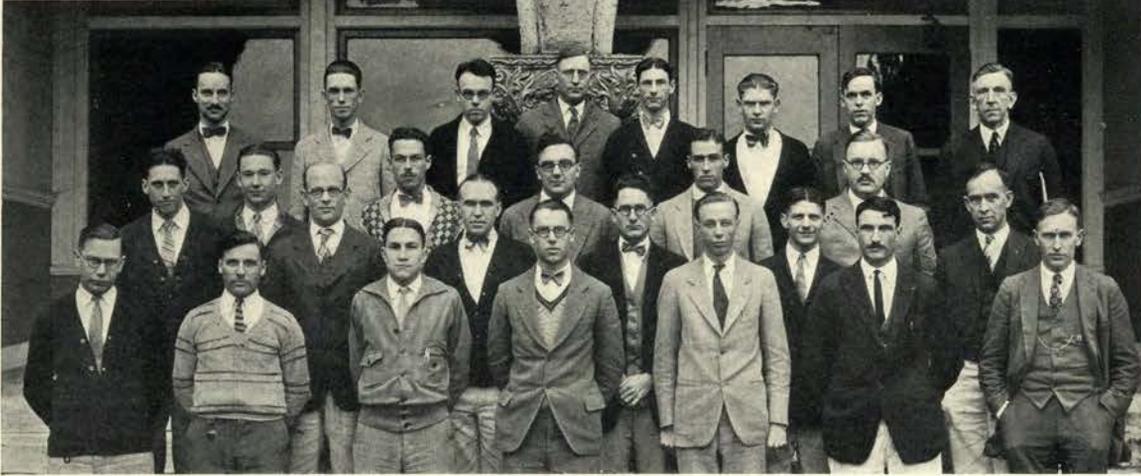

Chemical Engineering Association

|-------------|----------------------------|
| LESLIE ROLL | President |
| ELMER LANE | Vice-President |
| PAUL HOWARD | Secretary-Treasurer |

THE CHEMICAL ENGINEERING ASSOCIATION was founded in 1917 to form a closer contact between faculty and students registered in this particular school. Under the auspices of the organization prominent men are brought to the campus to speak on chemical engineering subjects of value and interest to the students.

American Society of Civil Engineers

|--------------|----------------------------|
| BUELL WILCOX | President |
| THOMAS IVES | Vice-President |
| PAUL YAEGER | Secretary-Treasurer |

THE O. A. C. CHAPTER of the American Society of Civil Engineers was organized in 1921 and is affiliated with the national organization. Membership in this organization is open to all students registered in civil engineering. The local branch is one of the most active technical organizations on the campus and is instrumental in promoting the best interests of the students registered in engineering courses.

Associated Engineers

|----------------|----------------------------|
| HARRY HART | President |
| FRED CROWTHER | Vice-President |
| PRESTON DREW | Secretary-Treasurer |
| C. A. MOCKMORE | Faculty Advisor |

THE ASSOCIATED ENGINEERS was organized for the purpose of directing the engineering phase of the Educational exposition, construction of the homecoming arches, and promoting the spirit of engineering. The order is an outgrowth of the Federated Engineers of former years. It sponsors the Oregon State Technical Record, a magazine publishing the records of scientific work done by the students at O. A. C. and any other matter of special technical and scientific interest to chemical, civil, mining, mechanical and electrical engineers.

Polo Club

OFFICERS

THE COLLEGE HEALTH SERVICE, established in 1916, has grown until it employs two full-time physicians and four trained nurses. Students are entitled to medical advice at the clinic as often as needed and are allowed 10 days' care at the college hospital during the college year. This is made possible by use of a part of the five dollar incidental fee paid at registration.

THE BEAVER

*They were sitting by the garden gate—
The lover and the maid;
“The moon tonight’s not half so bright
As you, my dear,” he said.
The maiden drew a gentle sigh
And sadly shook her head;
“The moon above’s not half so full
As you, my dear,” she said.*

HUMOR

Diary of a Lady of Fashion 1926-27

Monday, September 28,—Wow! Some of these rooks are so dumb they ache and the way they wear their clothes is a credit to Shears and Saw-buck! They simply don't know what it's all about.

Anyway I'm not going to waste any more time and effort on rooks—me for the big boys! I'm all for seeing if these frats are as bad as they are painted—gin in the cellar and Jill in the attic!

Wednesday, October 4—One of the girls at the hall gave me a tip that the best place to meet the really nice fellows is the library. Sure enough, tonight one of the most influential men in school, Gordon Hertz, brought me home. Gordon not only belongs to Sigma Phi Epsilon—a Mr. Do—something's favorite fraternity—but he is a member of the chamber of commerce, an officer in Y. M. C. A., and an R. O. T. C. corporal. It seems that he is a prominent editor although it is practically unknown, because just for fun they are keeping it a secret that they put this certain paper out and it seems that I'm not to tell a soul that he even mentioned it because lots of men are jealous of him and they might ruin him politically. Gordon knows all the sorority girls and he is going to tell them about me, and when he makes Phi Kappa Phi he will put in a good word for me too!

"He is chairman of some committee"

"He is an R. O. T. C. Corporal"

Friday, October 20—Jimmie Goss took me to the student body dance tonight. People nearly died when they saw a Beta come in. He is chairman of some committee—I thought they said "Pep" committee but I guess that couldn't have been it. He is a nice boy but you don't have to come to college to find that kind.

I saw my ideal tonight—those eyes—so sincere—with just a little bit of naughtiness. Oh, if I ever rate a date with Whitey Mills I'll die of sheer happiness!

Saturday, October 28 — Some South Sea islander asked me to go to his house dance several weeks ago. I told him I didn't have time to go to dances of local fraternities and he said Fee Gee was international. I know all about these cosmopolitan and international clubs and besides I never could understand the men at fruit stands, but I told him I'd go.

Tonight was the night! I almost broke my neck climbing on top of the furniture in the dressing room to read the romantic inscriptions to "Dear Charlie—My Red-headed One" on a score or more of a certain actress's pictures taken more or less in the altogether.

Guess they couldn't afford the same kind of punch for themselves as we girls had because they kept going out in the kitchen for theirs. I will say one thing for the Fee Gees, they certainly think a lot of their cook.

"One of the fellows moves as if he were partly paralyzed"

All of the brothers are not foreigners though, because one of the fellows is red-headed and seems perfectly all right except that he moves as if he were partly paralyzed.

Famous Last Words: "Well if you won't kiss—get out and walk!"

Did I walk?———No! *!?

Friday, November 12—Didn't have a thing to do this evening so I went to a Tau Delt dance with some poor Weed—and he was plenty rank. Warren Rolph seemed to be the only one in the house who could dance and I was perfectly willing to stand back with the rest of them and marvel. It was a prize boner for them to let their only hope get sewed up.

The Tau Delt fellows say that when they see two lights on the front porch they go in the front door—when they see four they deem it safer to use the back door. Well I don't know, but I think it would be more fitting if they used the tradesmen's entrance all the time.

November 26, Friday—Stayed here over vacation for lack of any better place to go. Not especially exciting but at least there weren't so many people around to see which road you took. Went to the Beta brawl tonight with Nate Morse. From what the girls say I expected a pretty good time but I don't think he's so much. After Charlie last night, he was plenty cool. Most of the men that they hide during rushing they seem to release during vacation—or maybe that's simply Beta style.

I danced with one man who looks as if he had been picked too green—I think his name is Philbrick, and somebody let it out that he was president.

At last I met "Pi" Lyons and it didn't take me long to discover the reason for his nickname. Ye Gods! He simply reeked of cardiman seeds! All the patented deodorants on the market couldn't conceal what he is.

Dr. Arnesen was there. He wore a very superior air all evening and wasn't at all his modern self. Maybe it was because his wife was along this time.

Anyway, it certainly is too bad that there aren't enough cars to go around so that each of the boys can have one—maybe that is what cramps their style.

Famous Last Words: "Oh yes, I just brought this little cream colored car up to run around in." (All hail King Luby's Bathtub!)

January 18, Friday—Kneut Wernmark and I double dated with Johnnie James and another one of God's mistakes tonight. Kneut and Johnnie must be getting along in years because young men could never have accumulated so much conceit.

February 3, Friday—Went to an S. A. E. informal tonight with Charlie Morse who takes orders for the whisk brooms. He came for me in his cute little runabout—it runs about a block and then stops. We went 'way out in the country. I thought I had got started on a rough party by mistake. Pretty soon we stopped and I asked what we were doing out in the country. What a break! It was the S. A. E. house.

"I danced with one man who looks as though he had been picked too green"

A lot of the fellows don't live in the house but since they got that big dog they can afford to let some of the members go. The dog's eyes are awfully red but then I suppose they share everything with him. Maybe they are not always that way.

To watch the brothers dance you'd have known it was not merely out on the farm but a real barn affair. One of them thought he was starting something terribly new when he exemplified a chicken scratch version of the black bottom. Maybe he called it black bottom!

Guy Craig featured with one of his usual mouth-full-of-mush songs.

Too bad we girls at the bovine institution aren't good enough for His Honor Bert Fehren. But then to judge from the sophomore cotillion all of the S. A. E.'s like imported dates—

February 7, Tuesday—Last quarter when I saw Crandall and Gordon Kershaw I thought the K. D. S. gang was keeping a menagerie. But now they've released Gordon, so I guess it was merely a temporary confinement. Perhaps they are running in competition to the Betas.

February 10, Friday—Went out with the tall yellow-haired politician who wears a blue felt hat—"Vic" Johnson—tonight. He said we were going to a fraternity dance—my error—I thought it was the Ag ball.

Famous Last Words: "Won't you have another glass of milk?"

"We went 'way out in the country—"

"—Danced with a once famous member of the Past Heroes' Union"

February 25, Saturday—When I told Pat Patterson, the school clown, I'd go to his house dance that was one thing, but when he told me that it was going to be a characteristic Phi Delt "hick" dance—well that was different!

Not one of them failed to enumerate the house athletic conquests. People say that every time the Phi Delt's pledge a man the college can count on one more assistant athletic coach. Well all I have to say is that if Phi Delta Theta is an athletic association, why do they try to put on social functions?

Danced with a once famous member of the Past Heroes' Union—Web Edwards. They are awfully proud of him yet—sort of a relic of better days—guess they haven't been able to get any since.

Too bad Jimmie Bird won't pledge. He would mean a lot to them. Anyway the Phi Delt's aren't bad, but I surely hope they get their national pretty soon because that always helps a fraternity so much.

March 3, Friday—Night of Nights! Made another conquest and oh, man—has he got lovin' ways? The rook who took me to the Kappa Sig dance lost all of his glory when I cast mine optics on their prey—Bob Lursen. He's mean or I don't know my men.

"Danced with Mr. Moss who, I thought, was a nice old gentleman probably chaperoning"

His nickname is Brigham Young. I don't know why they call him that unless Mr. Young was a famous statesman or something. Anyway it seems to be quite a joke so I always laugh.

The Kappa Sigs had the best apple cider I ever tasted. My date said they are famous for it.

I guess the dance was a success—they seemed to think so. Personally, I've never seen anything worse than a Kappa Sig dance unless it was an S. A. E. affair.

March 4, Saturday—Went to a dance at the hotel tonight with Bob Donovan, the Sigma Chi sleep walker. I'd reached the point where I thought I never would dance with a Sigma Chi—they seem opposed to the idea of giving house dances. Bob explained that they can't give dances as they are on probation. Now personally I can't see why on earth the Sigma Chi's should be on probation when they have a corner on all the exam papers as soon as they are off the press.

Was glad to get the dance with George Damon over early in the evening. He is supposed to be a fairly good dancer and he surely should be, he has practised long enough on that one step.

Most of the brothers lined up and did the black bottom in a row. They had to make themselves conspicuous or no one would have known they were there.

The girls say that last year the one good thing about the Sigma Chi's was their music—too bad Earl left.

March 17, Friday—Gee, I'm getting popular. Gardner Knapp called me up for a date. It may be wonderful to step out with all the big lights on the campus but it has its drawbacks. Anyway I found out how Gardner came by his last name. You would have thought he was impersonating the Venus de Milo.

March 25, Saturday—Well it was the Lambda Chi formal for me tonight. I went with Clair Peppered and in view of his name he was a great disappointment. I consoled myself all evening with the thought that all things must end. Danced with Mr. Moss, who I thought was a nice old gentleman, probably chaperoning, but he turned out to be only a sophomore.

April 2, Friday—Dreams come true! That charming gentleman, Delos Mills, called me at 7:30 tonight and I broke a date with Arlin Blain and went to a Sigma Nu dance. We went with his dearest friend, Jack Foyle. The conversation was so very cultured and elevating that I realized I was on a much lower level.

The Sigma Nu's have the sweetest and most sincere group of boys on the campus. One can just tell they've never been away from home before.

April 3, Saturday—The most collegiate man—Ted Norton—thrills and palpitations—but oh, what a flop—he took me to the D. U. dance tonight.

"His nickname is Brigham Young"

Gus, the D. U. mongrel, met us with a joyful woof. He seems to have a strange liking for Ted—opposites do attract—and Gus-Boy shows traces of character.

The dance was a wow—no wonder they won the noise parade. I certainly think the California outcasts pulled a prize faux pas when they pledged Fred Gates and left Dinty Moore out in the cold.

May 4, Saturday—A wonderful day for the A. T. O. picnic! After borrowing clothes from all over the hall, I was the sixth one to pile into a Ford roadster with "Eskey" as my private support.

The picnic was torrid but there seemed to be no one there most of the time. The A. T. O. blankets were conspicuous but not by their absence.

P.S.

"Gus, the D. U. mongrel, met us at the door"

"One of the rooks blinked off the lights"

I didn't mind being with one of the All Tired Out boys on a picnic because nobody saw me—at least I hope not.

May 11, Saturday—Well, that's over! Those Specs called that dance a brawl. Rightly named, I claim. I noticed that the orchestra was a home-grown product and plenty home-grown, too.

One of the rooks, who is rather sentimental, got especially rash and playful and blinked off the lights for a second. Heavens! What went on while it was dark—well, I'm not saying!

I must say they have a pretty nice shack though.

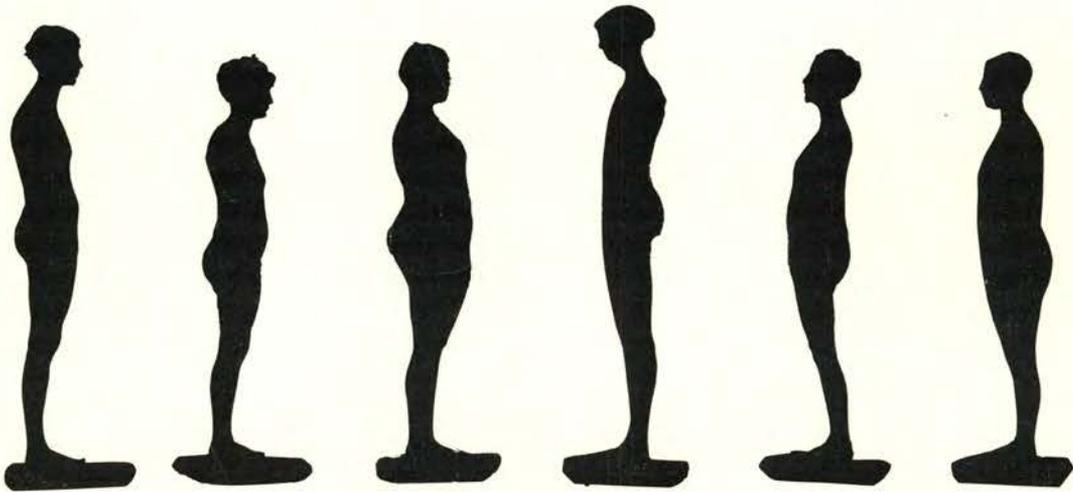

Those lads are Surely Perfectly Enticing.

Famous Last Words: "Good night—I hope you won't think we Sig Eps are always so rough, but it is fun to let loose once in a while."

"May I have the last dance with you?"
 "You've just had it."

1. Because, although bearing the self-imposed cognomen of Joe College, she was successful (very) in her attempt to keep out of the collegiate contest; because her carriage bespeaks breeding and poise; because she is charming without being correspondingly dumb; and finally, because perhaps it is comedones.

2. Because she has succeeded in maintaining a spotless reputation, even though a Gamma Phi; because even gentlemen prefer them; because she takes a good picture; and finally because she is a damned good Scroller.

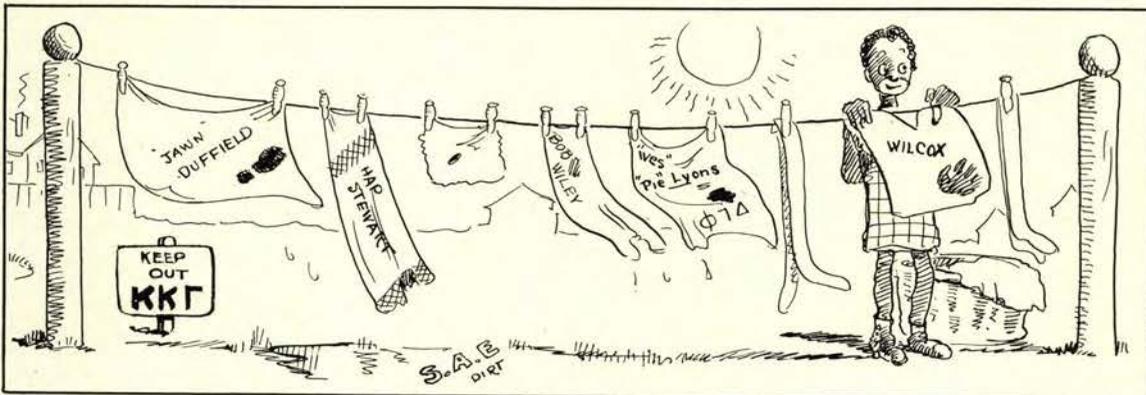

3. Because in waxing enthusiastic over her fiance, she managed to make a mountain out of a mole hill; because she was fortunate enough to attend a school at which she was not very well known; and finally because she has been able to remain retiring and unassuming in her maidenly modesty without actually remaining in the background.

4. Because, firstly, she has shown conclusively that a person can do a whole lot with little material; secondly, because she has a charming brother who doesn't look at all like her; thirdly because she won the Collegiate contest without calling on the aid of her personality; and lastly, because she is a good girl.

5. Because she picks on the big, strong (if not silent) men with open spaces; because she seems to like him, and finally because the affection is apparently reciprocated.

6. Because she is one person who can see the good side, if any, of our great hero and basketball player; because she has been known to make grades without sitting on the front row, if arranged alphabetically; because she is one girl who has never really been proved to have called up Al Sirpo for a date; because Jonny Wells doesn't have her on his Under Suspicion list; and because her parents must have liked children.

Travelogue

A brief geographical review of famous personages encountered on a world tour by "Popper" Snow, well-known traveler and temperance lecturer.

BENTON COUNTY—Fred Gates

The Hermit of Kiger Island, who is writing his book, "Up from Slavery, or the D. U. Summer Boarder." A man who has his reputation to look after. One of the really new students in the field of modern art. A wonderful and resourceful decorator of sorority davenport.

SCANDINAVIA—Ted Anderson

A man who thinks all Swedes were Vikings. Al Sirpo's very worthy successor, even though a true blonde. Sirpo's sheik crown will be presented to him on commencement day as a record of past achievement and future aspirations. The Sigma Phi Sigma trap artist has a subtlety of expression peculiar to the experienced.

CENTRAL AFRICA—Leslie Oliver

The Hairy Ape, with his Jacob's ladder haircut, is the editor of "The Manuscript." Basking in the sunshine radiated and reflected from and by his little yes-girl, his criticisms are as final as they are comprehensive.

MERRIE ENGLAND—Jimmie Fisk

He "kisses divinely" and stars generally as a light petter, although not on the gridiron. Football is too rough for a refined person anyway. He is listed on the Chi O balance sheet as a fixed asset, but we can guess who is chief accountant.

LABRADOR—Frank Patterson

The man who put Hot Shot in electric lights. He still mourns his lost love, becoming less and less sure it was love and more and more certain it was lost. Not lost to his house however. After the big crash, he had enough hardware and kitchen utensils in stock to supply the whole Phi Delt hotel.

Why Elephants Leave Home

Corvallis, Oregon, March, 1927—(By our special co-respondent)—Nature works wonders and is capable of producing remarkable results, as evidenced by the photograph. Each gentleman displays pardonable pride in the bone held in his hand.

The picture tells the story. The truth of the situation is that these men are on an elephant hunt. Strange, they are both sober, but they are on an elephant hunt nevertheless. Won't they be surprised when they find the elephant is dead? It died a long time before either of these nice men was born.

To aid in the hunting of the elephant the most scientific instruments were used, for the hunters were intent on their prey and were after all manner of wild things besides elephants. (It was a good thing that Fred Gates wasn't running loose in the woods that day; at least it was a good thing for Mr. Gates.) Among the equipment were seven cameras, three improved elephant calls, one decoy, and a brace of the most modern Browning Goose Quill automatic big game guns.

At the time the photograph was taken the hardy hunters had followed tracks for three hours in the broiling sun when they found an elephant's bone. They could tell it must have been an elephant's bone, because it was so big. The hunters decided that the hotly pursued animal had discarded the wighty bone in the chase, and were about to move on when they had an opportunity to have their pictures taken, not only with each other, but with themselves. By the time they struck a seeming pose the sun hung low in the heavens and the hunt was discontinued for the day.

In Days of Old When Red Was Bold

"KENNIE" DENMAN, Phi Delt "Angel Boy," at an early age with his first love, "Bumps" Elgin,—a careful observer will note that even in early infancy the Denman prodigy wore a determined look of moral integrity.

Undoubtedly he had already made his famous vow that he would neither (1) break the Sabbath Day; (2) smoke the deadly nicotine; (3) drink any of the "Three Star" brand; (4) touch the lips of any other than this mother; or (5) indulge in tiddle-de-winks, horseshoes, or bridge.

We wonder if the upright young "Kennie" carefully measured the distance between himself and the winsome Miss Elgin or if such precautions were necessary before he had his precious Phi Delt pin to guard.

P. S.—"All is not gold that glitters" and according to reports from phone 474 even "Angel Boys" wander from the straight and narrow path.

Mr. Beaver Editor:

We, the undersigned, have been on this campus for four long years and considering, our social and intellectual station, we have been grossly neglected in the matter of publicity. We have reached the point where we are desperate--we must have publicity.

If you value your present prestige you cannot afford indifference to our wishes. We will leave it to your discretion as to the manner of exploiting our achievements.

We warn you to consider this communication as strictly confidential.

Yours truly,

Robert Wiley

EDITOR'S NOTE—

Notoriety is publicity, but in a bad sense, and I am sure five such honorable seniors as yourselves would not stoop so low (after four years of uplifting study) as to wish notoriety.

I am painfully obliged to inform you that due to previously arranged contracts with the Listerine people and Lydia Pinkham we cannot foster your worthy cause.

If you will accept a suggestion, why not send your pictures to the Celluloid Collar Co., or to some matrimonial agency? Both are equally good.

Yours for bigger and better funny-papers.

"On a Sea of Printing"

The modern world does float or sail "on a sea of printing." And it is a vital contribution to the business and progress of the Corvallis world which the presses of the Gazette-Times make,—daily news and advertising messages through the evening Gazette-Times and the O.A.C. Barometer, and the various products of commercial printing: office forms, circulars, social stationery, reports, annuals, etc., etc.

Since 1862 the imprint of the "Gazette-Times Press" has been a hallmark of quality printing at fair prices.

NORTH PACIFIC COLLEGE OF OREGON

SCHOOLS OF DENTISTRY AND PHARMACY P O R T L A N D , O R E G O N

DENTISTRY: A four-year course of training is given to students bringing 34 semester hours of college credits in selected subjects. Students not having credits in such subjects will be required to take the Pre-dental Year. Students bringing sufficient credits in the required subjects may obtain the degree of Bachelor of Science (B.S.) at the end of the Junior Year, and Doctor of Dental Medicine (D.M.D.) upon completion of the dental course.

PHARMACY: The courses in pharmacy are three and four years, leading to the degrees of Pharmaceutical Chemist (Ph.C.) and Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in pharmacy.

DENTAL ASSISTANTS AND ORAL HYGIENE: The course of training for Dental Assistants includes one session of eight months. The course for Dental Hygienists covers a period of two years.

THE ANNUAL SESSION BEGINS SEPTEMBER 27, 1927

Much of the Attractiveness of a girl's appearance is due to the silken
sheen of her stockings!
In this respect, *Maid-
Tuware* are supreme!

YOU MAY CALL THIS YOUR BANK

If you will

THERE is a big difference between the old-fashioned bank and a great modern banking institution.

The one was primarily an establishment for the custody, loan, exchange or issue of money. The other is all of that but much more.

It endeavors to be a "BANK-HOME" to its customers and new friends, offering them every possible help and facility in the interest of mutual success and prosperity.

Here are two banks, jointly owned and operated, with that exact aim in view. They bid you welcome.

Editor's Appreciation

THE TASK of editing this volume of the BEAVER has been long and arduous. Storms, cross-currents and adverse tides have made the trip a constant problem, tedious at times but not without many pleasures. The ship has been manned by a crew of more than a hundred conscientious, efficient workers, headed by an appreciative skipper.

At this point, the man at the wheel gazes over the bow and sees the port just ahead—the near realization of a year and a half of dreaming and planning of the book. As the editor is drawn nearer his goal, he is filled with a sense of indebtedness to those who have aided him in the production of what he hopes will be a creditable Beaver.

First comes the staff. The editor is grateful for the untiring aid given by Ridgway "Jack" Foley, Marian Van Scoyoc and Velma Morgan, of the immediate editorial staff. He wishes to thank the department editors—Betty MacMillan, Gertrude Skow, Joe Misovetz, Florence Kruse, William Ketchum, Al Trimble, Alvin Cheney, Delbert Snider, Charles Savage, Marian Hoskins, Inez Plumb and Edwin Johnson. His sincere appreciation is extended to all the rest of his editorial staff, especially to Leonard Moss, student photographer, and to Kathryn Brock, appointment secretary, for their energetic work.

Gardner Knapp, manager, aided by an efficient organization of staff members, handled the business end of the $20,000 project in a very commendable manner. The editor wishes to show his high regard for Knapp's ability, perseverance and loyalty in managing the BEAVER, an undertaking that would tax the resourcefulness of any business man.

The editor wishes here to extend his appreciation to the commercial concerns that have shaped ideas into physical actuality.

A hearty "Thank You" is given the West Coast Engraving company of Portland who handled all engraving and art work. He particularly wishes to express his appreciation to Harold Robinson and Rene Weaver for their close interest and enthusiasm in the book. Robinson aided the editor greatly in the formulation of ideas and Weaver, artist, suggested improvements and ideas for the betterment of the book in addition to doing all the art work excepting two pieces, credit for which is given elsewhere. Harry Hale and Carl Freilinger also cooperated heartily with the editor.

The Ball Studio of Corvallis handled the photography in a very satisfactory manner. The editor extends his appreciation to W. M. Ball who was found always willing to cooperate. Claude Palmer of the Photo-Art company, Portland, former Beaver editor, photographed the clay-modeled section heads made by Weaver.

The printing was handled by James, Kerns and Abbott company, Portland, in its usual thorough manner of turning out high-class jobs. The editor wishes to thank J. D. Abbott, W. J. Maguire, and J. A. MacKinnon for their generous expenditure of time and talent in the production of the book.

The heavy ivory tinted paper, used for the first time in a Beaver, was purchased from the Zellerback Paper company. Complete satisfaction has been had in dealing with this firm. The editor wishes to thank A. J. Lamport for his aid in the selection of the paper.

The covers were made by the David J. Molloy company, Chicago.

Special appreciation is extended to the A. J. Spalding company, Portland, for the use of athletic equipment as section head properties, and to the Oregonian Screen Review for the athletic action pictures given the BEAVER. Although none of these properties were used, the spirit of their being placed at the editor's disposal is gratifying.

The editor wishes to extend his appreciation to E. T. Reed, college editor, and his office force for the hearty manner in which they cooperated with him. The same spirit of cooperation was found in working with W. A. Jensen of the executive office.

Edward C. Allworth, alumni secretary and World war hero, to whom this book is dedicated, constantly encouraged the editor in his efforts to produce a creditable annual. He and Zelta Feike Rodenwold, editor of the Alumnus, have aided greatly in the formation of two of the new sections, memorial union and alumni.

Elinor Ridenour generously made two drawings of the Memorial Union building for the BEAVER.

The editor appreciates the aid given by Professor C. J. McIntosh of the journalism department in the selection and arrangement of type. He also wishes to extend his thanks to John C. Burtner of the journalism department and Arthur Taaffe of the general manager's office for the assistance given in obtaining photographs.

Carl Lodell, general manager, has aided the editor in the solution of many perplexing problems. The editor also offers his sincere appreciation of the work done by Merle Wells in the selection of literary copy.

Additional pictures of athletic contests have been made possible through the cooperation of the editors of other college and university annuals. An appreciation is extended to the editor of the University of California "Blue and Gold" and to the editor of the Marquette university annual.
