Italian Teacher Plans OSC Lecture Series

Carlo Morozzo della Rocca, professor of philosophy and education in Rome, Italy, is visiting OSC and Corvallis from Feb. 22 to March 3. Rocca will be speaking to various classes and the public.

Rocca earned a diploma in Piano and Composition in 1920 and a Ph.D. in philosophy at the University of Rome in 1925. His language and literature, music, philosophy, education and psychology are the fields in which Rocca has become proficient. He has had a great deal of teaching experience which includes a lecturer in Italian studies at Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla.; Institute for Italian Studies, Bucharest and University of Brasov, Roumania; University

Europeans Win Skiing Titles

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—A German mailman, a Russian school teacher and a French hotel manager won gold medals in the Winter Olympics today while Carol Heiss of New York all but clinched the women's figure skating championship.

George Thoma, who practices while he works because he delivers mail on skis during the winter, won the Nordic combined skiing title: Klara Guseva won the ladies 1,000-meter speed skate to give Russia its second gold medal in that sport, and Jean Burrel, who runs a hotel in Turin, captured the men's glamour event, the downhill ski title.

Only Miss Heiss kept the day from being a complete European triumph. She had piled up such commanding lead at the finish of the five compulsory figures that she would have to fall down, perhaps several times, in Tuesday's free skating to lose out.

The pretty blonde is rated a better free skater than competitor.

K Sees Ancient Java Culture

SURABAYA, Indonesia (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev, a visitor from space-age Russia, got a glimpse today of medieval Indonesian culture in the picturesque central Java village of Borobudur.

The Russian Premier visited some of the ancient Buddhist temples at the famed religious center before flying to this east Java port city, one of Indonesia's Communist strongholds.

Borobudur is only a few miles from Madiun, where the Communist party failed in an attempt to establish a Soviet government about 11 years ago.

Carrying black umbrellas to protect themselves from the hot morning sun, Khrushchev and his host, President Sukarno, mounted the steep stairway to the second level of a huge, impressive Buddhist monument built perhaps 12 centuries ago.

The Soviet Premier, smiling and affable, appeared to be impressed by the beauty of the huge Borobudur monument.

Khrushchev and Sukarno both attended an informal reception after they toured the temple. Sukarno mingled with the crowd while Khrushchev stayed somewhat in the background, but his security guards let spectators get closer to him than at any previous time on his visit.

Khrushchev is flying here from Jogjakarta, where he was widely cheered Sunday night when he said socialist nations would produce more than half of the world's output by 1965. He also promised that Communism will not be forced on the world.

"You can take or leave Communism," Khrushchev told an audience at Gajah Mada University. "It will not be forced on you."

"Communism is an idea which cannot be forced into one's brain, yet cannot be barred from entering that brain either."

Paper Distribution Revised For Dorms

"Barometer distribution to the dormitories has been revised to provide more efficient service and distribution to dormitory students," announced Mickey Ranslam, Business Manager of the Barometer.

The new distribution will start Wednesday morning and affect Weatherford, Poling, Cauthorn and Hawley halls. The Barometer for these dorms will be left in the main lounges by the delivery men each morning. This will bring the distribution in line with those at Snell, Waldo and Sackett halls.

Each dormitory will now receive the following number of papers: Cauthorn 125, Hawley 150, Poling 150, Sackett A, B, C, D 50 per unit, Snell 200, Waldo 125 and Weatherford 125.

Distribution within each dormitory may be handled as the students may desire. The most equitable method would be placing the papers in each lounge of the dormitory.

WWS Carnival Set For Saturday Night

"Things are going along fine so far. We've had no definite problems," commented Sandy Grimm, general chairman for the Associated Women Students annual carnival.

"Dogpatch Daze," this year's theme, will be held after the OSC California game Saturday, Feb. 26, in the Memorial Union Ballroom. People will be admitted through the side doors leading from the Annex and the O Club. Tickets and script will be sold at each entrance.

Less Than 20 Beavers Remain

Fewer than 20 1960 Beavers remain on sale this week, according to Ron Perkins, Beaver book sales manager.

These remaining Beavers may be purchased in MU 209, in the afternoon from 3-5 p.m.

Recent word was received that the University of Oregon's yearbook The Oregonian is selling for $7.50 this year. The Beaver sells for $6.00.

Winter Holiday Deadline Fri.

Ticket sales for the annual Winter Carnival sponsored by Portland State College will close Friday. The cost is $5 and the tickets are being sold in the MU ticket window daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The carnival presents a weekend of ski races, dances and inter-school competition ruled over by the Winter Carnival Queen who will be crowned during the festivities. The OSC candidate for the honor is Bonnie Hayes '60, of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority.

Lodging for the 36 persons who have signed up for the weekend will be provided by the Montclair Motel in Brightwood. All students who are staying there are asked to check at the ticket window of the MU for their room assignment. Transportation for participants to the carnival will also be arranged when the ticket is bought. A $2.50 ticket is also available which entitles the holder to the facilities on Sunday only.

The ticket entitles the owner to free use of all tows, non-ski equipment, admission to the lodge, sleigh rides both days and to the dance Saturday night.

Dance Ballou and the Castle Jazz Band and the Moonlighters will play for all the dances held. The Squires from OSC will also provide entertainment at the Saturday afternoon program which features a fashion show with the latest in ski wear modeled.

MU Plans Hop For Married Students

The Memorial Union Dance Committee in sponsoring a married students' dance to be held Feb. 26 from 9-12 p.m., in the MU Ballroom.

Dottie Hixson '62, chairman of the event, explained that the dance resulted from a need for more married-student activities on this campus.

Couples needing babysitters should call Janie Feller '63, at PL 2-9412. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided at the affair.

The theme is "Side by Side" with 50 cents admission price.

French Drama To Hit Campus In Three Runs

A modern adaption by Lewis Galantieri from the French play by Jean Anouilh of Sophocles' "Antigone" is planned for three performances March 3, 4 and 5.

The ancient Greek "Antigone" involves two sons and one daughter of Oedipus and his brother-in-law Creon, King of Thebes. The two brothers, Eteocles and Polyneices, have had a civil war and have killed each other. Creon decrees that one will be given a military burial and the other will be left unburied. Antigone, sister of the deceased brothers, defies the edict and buries the brother. She is caught by Creon and the question of state versus individual rights is brought to the surface.

Anouilh wrote his version in 1943 when the Germans occupied Paris. His problem was to symbolize the struggles of the French people and yet meet the approval of the German censor. He made his Antigone a martyr who refuses to obey Creon's decree and to accept the kind of life he offers her.

Antigone represents all Frenchmen and France rejecting the German "New Order" with its promise of prosperity and happiness, provided the French give up their spiritual independence.

Creon symbolizes a ruler that satisfies the Germans, while calling the Frenchmen to place their general interest higher than their separate private interests.

Antigone will be played by Jean Wood '61 and Creon by Sam Lee '67. D. R. Henry, assistant professor of speech, is directing the play. It will be presented at the College Playhouse.

Book Readings Planned Today

Selections from William Faulkner's "As I Lay Dying" will be read in the McDonald Room in the library today at 4 p.m.

Ed McClanahan, instructor in English, will read the fourth in the series of five of the world's great literary works sponsored by the English dept. McClanahan will read some selections and fill in with the rest by his explanation of the story. William Faulkner, considered by many as an excellent writer, is a Nobel Prize winner in literature for 1950.

McClanahan is in his second year of teaching here at OSC. He received his B.A. from Miami University and his M.A. from the University of Kentucky.

Bongos Get Cold Shoulder

ILL-FATED EFFORT by the members of Chi Phi, national social fraternity, was an attempted 108-hour bongo marathon. The stunt was cancelled after it became evident that the fraternity men had not received permission to stage it from Student Life Committee or the Dean of Men's office. (Gwill Evans Photo.)

Bongo Marathon Bashed; 108-hour Effort Squelched

A try for 108 consecutive hours of bongo drum beating by Chi Phi, national social fraternity, was squelched last yesterday by college authorities. The fraternity was attempting the five-day marathon to publicize a beatnik fire-side scheduled for Friday night.

The house was given from 5 to 6 p.m. yesterday to remove their enclosure from the center of the MU quadrangle.

The fraternity did not take up the proposed feat with the Student Life Committee nor the Dean of Men's office, it was revealed.

Chi Phi members decided last night to cancel their bongo marathon permanently rather than take the matter before campus authorities. When the decision was reached, the men removed their enclosure, which had sheltered the proposed 108 hours of bongo playing, from the MU quadrangle.

The men did, however, gain the sanction of the Campus Police.

A petition was being circulated last night by Chi Phi to the Dean of Men's office protesting the decision to remove the stunt. The fraternity had planned to take the matter before Student Life this afternoon.

If the plea to let the bongo playing is rejected by the committee, or if the hut is removed forcibly by the Campus Police, it will probably be moved to some other location on campus, according to Bob Moody '60, Chi Phi house president.

The fraternity men had planned to work in two-hour shifts, with individual members pounding a total of from six to 12 hours during the week. When the restraining order came, the men had 89 hours to go to reach their goal.

Book Reviewed Tonight In MU

"The Status Seekers," contemporary best-selling novel by Vance Packard, will be reviewed tonight at 8 p.m. in MU 105. Bernard McCarthy of the OSC sociology department and Dr. Lewis Krakauer, M.D., of Corvallis, will debate on the book.

Society is heading into two classes, according to the author: one group composed of persons who have attended college and the other group made up of those who have no college education.

People in America today are being increasingly deceived by cynical manipulators of status symbols, or are judging people on their status in the society instead of what they really are, the author contends.

This review is one of a series of liberal arts lectures committee presentations throughout the year.

Health Educators Sponsor Forum

A Health Careers Forum with a team of speakers from the University of Oregon Medical School, Dental School, and School of Nursing, all in Portland, will be held at OSC Feb. 24 at 1 p.m. in Physics-Chem 151.

A group of representatives of the various fields will be available in separate rooms, at the MU from 2 to 5 p.m. Detailed advice, counsel, and planning information for interested students will be provided in the individual conferences after the preliminary meeting.

Orientation of health careers educational opportunities in the Oregon State System of Higher Education will be followed by counseling in the specific areas of careers, including medicine, dentistry, basic medical sciences, X-ray, nursing, dietetics, dental hygiene, medical technology and medical psychology.

Dr. Graydon Crews, adviser for science students at OSC, is in charge of the local arrangements for the forum.

Team members are Dr. Joseph B. Tenner, associate professor of medicine and physiology; Dr. Ernest Hurley, assistant to the dean and registrar, Dental School; Dr. Arnel Neely, clinical associate in dentistry; Dr. Robert Bacon, associate professor of anatomy; Dr. David L. Gunberg, assistant professor of anatomy; Dr. Cecil Claycomb, associate professor of chemistry; Mrs. Hilda Drum, instructor and chief X-ray technician, and Miss Jean Boyle, director of the School of Nursing.

Others are Miss Ruth Mercer, director of dietetics; Mrs. Shirley Silke, instructor in dental hygiene; Miss Mary Baptist, instructor in

Two Students Enter Contest

Two Oregon State students will go to the University of Oregon to participate in the annual Peace Oratorical and Experimental contests.

The Peace Oratorical Contest, sponsored by the Inter-collegiate Forensic Association of Oregon, will be entered by Beverly Burge '60. Her speech is "Our Blind Spot in the Search for Peace."

This contest is the next to the oldest in the state. It was held for the first time in 1914 and has been entered by OSC every year.

Other schools participating in the contest are the U. of O., Willamette, Lincoln, Portland State College, Lewis and Clark, Northwest Christian and George Fox College and the University of Oregon.

OSC has received more first place awards in this contest than any of the other schools.

A copy and recording of the speeches of the first, second and third place winners of the state contests are sent to the Intercollegiate Peace Association, a national organization. The speeches are then judged and prizes are awarded.

The Experimental Contest will be in the form of a book review. A prepared speech on the "Status Seekers" by Vance Packard will be delivered. The contestant will then be asked one question, previously prepared, about the book. This event will be entered by Tom Schooley '61.

Only one student from each school can enter the events in this contest.

Dr. Earl W. Wells, director of oratory and Dr. Ralph W. Peterson, director of extempore speaking will attend the contest and act as judges. Thurston E. Doler, assistant professor of speech and executive secretary of the IFAO will also accompany the group.

Avery Park Doe Killed, Stolen

A thief broke into the deer pen at Avery park, clubbed a young doe to death, and stole the carcass, Park Foreman Olin Phipps reported today.

Phipps said the theft apparently occurred Thursday night. State police were called in to investigate.

The thief, in attempting to get one of the deer, crippled another doe, Phipps said.

The thief or thieves apparently cut through the wire fence to gain entrance to the large enclosure. The doe, which had been there about two years and weighed 125 pounds, was backed into a corner and clubbed. The carcass then was thrown over the fence and apparently put in a car.

Phipps said he only recently had cut the deer population in the park to five. The theft left the park with only two does and two bucks.

A similar incident occurred two or three years ago, Phipps recalled. No one was ever caught.

Pharmacy Seminar Planned in Eugene

The second in a series of refresher sessions for pharmacists is scheduled for the Lane County Registered Pharmacists' Assn., in Eugene, Wednesday March 16. Two identical sessions, 9 a.m. to noon and 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. are planned so that all of the pharmacists of Lane County may attend.

The seminar is offered co-operatively through the Oregon State Pharmaceutical Assn., the Oregon State College School of Pharmacy and the General Extension division of the Oregon State System of Higher Education.

The program for the seminar will be similar to that presented to the Polk and Marion County pharmacists in Salem on Feb. 11. The Salem refresher session proved to be a most successful persons, according to Dr. Leo A. Sciuchetti, OSC associate professor of pharmacognosy.

Prof. Heman C. Forslund of the OSC pharmacy school is director of the extension program.

Interim Committee To Tour Facilities

The Legislative Interim Committee on Agriculture will tour the facilities of the central experiment station of Oregon State College at Corvallis, Feb. 26 and 27, according to Senator Francis Ziegler, Corvallis, chairman.

The committee has been conducting a series of such visits to branches of the experiment station to observe first-hand the work of the station. The experiment station, whose function is to do research on agricultural problems, receives most of its funds from state appropriations.

Thirteen branch stations are located throughout Oregon and all of their work is coordinated by the central station. The central station itself does about four-fifths of the research of the entire station.

Members of the interim committee in addition to Ziegler are Senators Robert W. Straub and Loyd M. Key, and Representatives Don McKinnis, Joe Rogers, Roy Fitzwater and Arthur P. Ireland.

Rally King Position Open

Applications are now available in MU East Bay for Rally King for 1960-61. Applicants must have at least a 2.3 all-school g.p.a. Two to five candidates will be selected before the last Senate meeting of winter term by Rally Committee. Those candidates will then be submitted to Senate for approval in running for Rally King in all-school elections spring term.

Free Public Lecture Scheduled Sunday

Under the auspices of Baha'is of Corvallis, Mrs. Kay Chambliss of Salem will speak at a free public lecture on the subject "The Baha'i Faith — A Challenge to America" in room 207 of the MU Sunday afternoon, Feb. 28 at 2:30.

Seahorses Practice Routines for April Show

THE SEAHORSES, synchronized swimming group at Oregon State College, are deep in rehearsals, preparing for their annual water pageant to be held April 7, 8, 9, in the Women's building swimming pool.

Miss Phyllis Ocker, advisor for the group commented, "There will be a preliminary dress rehearsal prior to closed weekend. We hope it will be sometime next week. Plans are for the show to be well under way by closed weekend, so that during the first two weeks after spring vacation, we can be adequately prepared to put on for the students, and faculty of OSC, and townspeople the very best show that has been presented."

The routines are varied in water ballet stunts, and the costumes are going to be very different, according to Miss Ann Richards, co-chairman for this year's show.

A Master of Ceremonies is now in the process of being chosen. Members were asked to submit names of persons they thought right for the performance. The choice will be decided soon, and announced in a future issue of the Barometer.

The water pageant will be presented three nights this year, with performances being held Friday, April 8, from 7 to 9 p.m., and Saturday, April 9, at 8 p.m. Thursday night's performance, April 7th, will be for high school Girls' Athletic Assn., only.

Freedom of speech seems to be an issue in the pacifists' campaign. Letters in FENCING, pamphlets circulating on campus and notices pinned on bulletin boards are letting these pacifists be heard.

Since other parts of the Barometer are concerning themselves with the merits of FOR, it seems logical that Campus Circuit should also take a look at the organization. FENCING

To the Editor: After reading the article in Friday's paper concerning the hanging in effigy of the Director of Dormitories and the Manager of Food Service, Women's Dormitories - not the head dietician as was stated in the article - I was very disgusted and chagrined.

In my opinion the reporter's article presented a biased and inaccurate picture of the dormitory food situation. At the present time I am an employee of one of the dormitory dining halls and I feel that the best effort possible is being made in the preparation of meals.

It appears that the method which was used by a few students to give vent to their displeasure not only shows the immaturity of the instigators, but also shows a lack of respect for the feelings of others that is vicious and completely unjustified.

Many Fields Open In Medical Study

The health career fields discussed in this article, third and last in a series, will be among the topics at a Health Careers Forum to be presented Feb. 24 by a team of speakers from the University of Oregon Medical School, Dental School and School of Nursing at Oregon State College. Preparation and training for all of these careers and many others are offered by the Medical School, Dental School and School of Nursing at Portland.

Acute shortages in many of the health professions today limit the amount of medical knowledge to be passed on to new entrants. As our population grows, these limitations will become more acute. It is necessary to have more well-qualified health-care workers.

Research Provides Tools
Other members of the health team would have new tools with which to work were it not for the discoveries, improved techniques and new concepts that are the fruit of basic science research.

Disciplines to choose from in basic science research may include, under biology, the study of living things; anatomy, the structure of plants and animals; and physiology, functions and vital processes of plants and animals.

Professional standing and advancement demand a master's degree and usually a Ph.D., requiring three to five years of study after college graduation. Graduate degrees are offered at the University of Oregon Medical School, University of Oregon, Oregon State College, University of Portland and Reed College.

OSC Couple Cut Record; Receive Billboard Praise

By BARBARA WALLACE Barometer Reporter
"A Journey with the Travelers," a long-play record by two former Oregon State students and a Stanford graduate, is now in Corvallis record stores.

Byron Walls, Barbara Cannon and Vic Chung, the three travelers, started singing just for fun, gaining as much pleasure from it as their many audiences at beach and garden parties. Their fun of playing extended their stay at San Francisco's Purple Onion Club from two weeks to three months, and almost before they knew it, they were entertaining at other clubs in San Francisco and at hotels in Reno and Las Vegas.

A four week engagement contract at the Hungry i in San Francisco has recently been signed by The Travelers, starting March 15 with a four week option. Kay Ballard, a comedienne who has appeared in the Jack Parr Show, will be on the bill with the trio.

Walls, ex-'59 and now at San Francisco State College as a music major, was on the OSC campus from '55 to '57. He was active in drama and music organizations, being a member of Masque and Dagger and Choralaires. He played violin in the Speech and Music departments' production, "Oklahoma." He was also on the Barometer staff, MU Council, a member of The Three Spades—a campus trio—and Phi Gamma Delta, national social fraternity.

Barbara (Bogue) Cannon '58, was in the School of Education. She was also active in drama and music on the campus being a member of Masque and Dagger and Choralaires. She is remembered on campus as a fine comedienne and for her participation and direction of a student variety show, Kappa Alpha Theta was her sorority.

Chung is a graduate of Stanford University. "Originality is the keynote of their every song, which is put across with the sort of winning enthusiasm that will delight the most critical listener and, armed with only two guitars, The Travelers are hailed by folk singing circles for their exceptional vocal flexibility and unusual harmonies," according to literature on the back of the record jacket. Five Persons Killed In State Accidents

By United Press International
At least five persons met accidental death in Oregon during the weekend, three in traffic, one in a fire and one by drowning.

A car plunged over a 500-foot cliff near Boiler Bay on the Oregon coast early Saturday, carrying two young men to their deaths. The victims were Gerald Kettner and James R. Nash, both 22 from Toledo.

Police said their car missed a curve, went down a bank onto a road and then hurtled end-over-end, coming to rest near the edge of the surf.

Joseph Huber, 38, Hood River, was killed Saturday night when struck by a car while crossing Highway 99W near Six Corners.

Frank Gunn, 16, died in an apartment house fire in Coos Bay Saturday. Firemen said the blaze apparently broke out in the room where the youth was sleeping. Firemen kept the blaze confined to the top story of the three-story apartment building. Damage was estimated at $10,000.

Paul Miller, 15, Troutdale, drowned Sunday while skin diving in the lake at Benson state park near Multnomah Falls. He was about 50 feet from shore when he lost his mouthpiece.

Thirty Students To Be Admitted In Scholarship

Brown University, Providence, R. I., has announced $300,000 in fellowships for 1960-1961 leading to a degree in Master of Arts in Teaching and a teaching certificate.

The Brown Plan of Teacher Education offers a program, supported by a grant from the Ford Foundation that is designed to prepare college graduates who wish to teach such subjects as English, social studies, mathematics, science or foreign languages in public and independent secondary schools.

The curriculum extends through one calendar year. It includes courses in professional education during the summer, study in the student's academic major and a paid teaching internship in cooperation with public schools. The degree of Master of Arts in Teaching is awarded in June. Placement service is made available to successful candidates.

Each student will be paid not less than $1200 for one semester of full-time teaching. Each will also receive a fellowship of $1,000 toward the $1,250 tuition for the program. Approximately 30 students will be admitted this year, to begin work in June, 1960.

European Cookies For Promenaders

Andy Booth, acting president of Promenaders, a folk and square dance group at Oregon State College, said today, "Everyone should remember and attend the Promenaders Alpine Party tonight in the Women's building from 7-8:30 p.m." Refreshments will consist of European cookies. All students attending are asked to wear folk dance costumes.

"The night of dancing ought to be a great amount of fun," commented Booth, "because demonstrations and exhibitions from various rhythmic, folk and square dance classes will be presented." Along with this will be dancing of all folk dances, like Hauf Brau Leander, Man in the Hay, and others.

Both said this is a very special occasion during the year for Promenaders and it is hoped that all students interested in any kind of dancing will attend.

President Asserts U.S. Military Power Ample

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has told the nation that the United States has "indestructible, incalculable" military power ample for the present and future to meet the needs of the future.

The President replied to Democratic critics of his defense program in a nationwide radio-TV speech Sunday night on his two-week tour of South America. He leaves today on the 15,000-mile trip.

Reaction to the address was divided. A leading Democratic critic, Sen. Henry M. Jackson (Wash.), said the President had failed to come to grips with the real defense policy issues. He said Eisenhower failed to mention Soviet progress on missiles.

Future Concerns Johnson
Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said he agreed that the United States has a powerful defense force. But he said he would press Senate missile investigations because the real issue is "whether our plans are adequate for our needs in the foreseeable future."

Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) of the House Space Committee said he was disappointed that the President did not mention U. S. defense against intercontinental ballistic missiles or compare U. S.-Soviet missile strength.

Eisenhower got Republican support. Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) said the Chief Executive had "stated the whole case in a nutshell." He said the speech would go far to "dispel the confusion" over the defense program.

The President did not refer to any of his defense critics by name, but he said that unbiased observers recognized and respected this country's massive deterrent strength.

Missile Supply Increasing
"We have forged a trustworthy shield of peace — an indestructible force in incalculable power, ample for today and constantly developing to meet the needs of tomorrow," he said.

"Today, in the presence of continuing threats, all of us can stand resolute and unafraid, confident in America's might as an anchor of free world security."

Eisenhower said the United States maintains hundreds of bombers throughout the world and they are far superior to the air fleet of any other country. He also cited U. S. aircraft carriers and what he called the steadily increasing supply of U. S. missiles.

Beavers Drop Saturday Night Game to Washington 62-52

SPORT SPURTS

By ED DEYO

Had quite a chat with referee Al Lightner after Saturday's game and you can squelch any rumors that he'll retire after this season. Lightner made an off-the-cuff statement, at the Spokane sports writer's weekly banquet, that he might retire in the near-distant-future (however long that is).

Lightner commented Saturday he wished he hadn't mentioned it to anyone. It seems that every time he makes a call, that doesn't agree with the fans, they hint that maybe he should have quit last year and so on. His partner John Kolb also gets ribbed about the idea.

Kolb commented that at Oregon Friday night he called one that the fans didn't like and they asked if maybe he wouldn't join Lightner.

Lightner Best On Coast

We were certainly glad to hear that he doesn't plan to hang up the whistle, as he is the best on the coast, in our book. Many of the coaches have commented that he is the best and most impartial official on the coast. He officiates so the game progresses in good form and doesn't get rough. Saturday's game was a good example of letting play continue.

Lightner commented after the game, "if we had called every foul as they should have been called, strictly by the book, or when the fans wanted one called, we would be up there right now." This was about one hour after the game. We agree with him wholeheartedly. There's nothing more disgusting than to go to a game and have the refs blowing their whistles right from the start and not "letting them play ball."

Oregon State's poor showing at the foul line last weekend sure disturbed us. We haven't seen them this poor for quite some time; in fact we can remember a weekend like this in five years that we have followed them.

OSC Slumps From Free Throw Line

Friday OSC shot 14-24 and on Saturday they shot 10 for 26. For the weekend this is 24-50, a .480 average. On the season they have shot 326 for 538, a .606 average.

We don't know why or what caused the slump but it seems funny that they would hit such a low point when they shoot 50 foul shots a night during practice. Sure hope this doesn't happen again, as it leaves one cold and lonesome to see this shot missed, when they mean so much. Especially when the other team is popping them in as USC and Washington did.

This weekend USC hit 24-31 and Washington hit 24 of 35. This totals 48 for 66 and a 72 percent. When one figures this out the opponents picked up 24 points over us strictly at the foul line. This is quite a deficit to make up in the field. Hope this picks up as it has been one of OSC's strong points over the years.

Aero Club Sinks Mermen 58-36; Pool Record Is Set

Aero club of Portland won a decisive victory over the Oregon State swimmers in a meet held Saturday afternoon in the Men's pool. The final score was 58-36. Gary Samuel and Bill Preston were the top performers for OSC. Samuel established a new meet mark in the 100-yard freestyle by churning the event in :56.2. Preston easily won the diving event, scoring 207.75 points.

Other first place winners for the Orangermen were Ned Kiser in the 50-yard freestyle and Lee Powell in the 44-yard freestyle. Ron Bohlmann was Aero club's outstanding swimmer. Bohlmann set a new meet and pool record by swimming the 200-yard butterfly in 2:29.5.

Meet summary:
400-yard Medley — Aero club (Chisholm, Wickwire, Cox, Slawson). Time 4:13.6.
200-yard Freestyle — Swanson. Aero: Powell, OSC; McKean. OSC. Time 2:22.6.

Horn Places Fifth In Garden Contest

Competing in the National AAU indoor championships at Madison Square Garden, Oregon State's Darrell Horn, ended up in fifth place in the broad jump. Horn's best jump of 23 feet 10 inches was third in the qualifying rounds. The broad jump was won with a record performance by Bo Roberson whose jump of 25 feet 9 1/2 inches, eclipsed Jesse Owen's 25 year old indoor mark by 1/2 inch. Steve Pauly, also competing in the same meet, failed to qualify for the finals of the 60 yard high hurdles. Pauly finished third in the fourth qualifying heat, two feet back of the winner.

Saturday night climaxed what should be considered a fine showing for Oregon State in the indoor track circles. A first place for Darrell Horn in the hop, step and jump, February 13 at the Philadelphia Inquirer Games, and a fifth place in the broad jump at Madison Square Garden. Pauly, only a freshman, gained much needed experience that will be of benefit to him in his track performance during the next four years. Oregon State opens its home track schedule with an all-comers meet on March 5.

Play Ball to Be Heard With Baseball Near

As the cry of "Play Ball" rings across the baseball diamonds, it will mark the beginning of Coach Ralph Coleman's 29th year of baseball action at OSC. Coleman, recently elected to the Helms Foundation Hall of Fame for College Baseball Coaches, became head baseball coach here in 1924. He coached until 1931 and then, following a leave of absence until 1938, has been the head baseball mentor since.

Coleman has guided Oregon State to Northern Division titles in 1940, 1951, 1952, and 1958 with co-division honors in 1938 and 1943. In 1952 Oregon State won the Coast Conference championship and the Western Regional NCAA title. His overall record at OSC is 308 victories compared to only 226 losses for a .537 percentage.

The OSC baseball team has been working out daily in the Army but will practice on Coleman field when the weather is better. The infielders and outfielders have had a week of drilling, but the pitchers and catchers have been working out for three weeks.

According to Coleman, OSC has a baseball team of championship potential. This is evident from the hustle and work the players have been exerting in Army practice. One of the strong points of the 1960 team is the experienced pitching staff. There are five returning lettermen and several fine prospects from the Rook team.

Moore Returns to Pitching Staff
Included among the pitchers is senior lefthander Gary Moore, workhorse of the 1959 team, who made the Northern Division All Star pitching staff in 1958 and was on the second team last year, worked 85 innings in 1959. His two year won-loss record has been an impressive 13-5, a 722 percentage. Gary is big and strong and possesses a fine fastball and curve. One of the factors for his success is pinpoint control, having yielded only 56 bases on balls in two years compared to 109 strikeouts. In 153 innings he has given up 132 hits and only 45 earned runs. His overall earned run average per game is a low 2.65.

Another two year senior lefthander is Ray Lunde, also a southpaw. Lunde, along with Moore, has carried the burden of OSC's pitching load the last two years. Ray was hampered by injuries and sickness last year but still managed to pitch 65 innings and compile a 4-2 record. Lunde developed a sore shoulder early this season but is well on the road to recovery. Control plus a good fast ball and curve are Lunde's strong points. His two year record includes 8 wins and 4 losses. In 119 innings he has yielded 95 hits and 33 earned runs, walked only 47, and struck out 62. His earned run average per game has been a measly 2.65.

Rook Tankers Place Second At Longview

Oregon State's Rook swimming team placed second Saturday afternoon in a triangular swimming meet held at the Mark Morris High School pool of Longview, Wash. The final score was R. A. Long High School 57, OSC Rooks 51 1/2, and Mark Morris 38 1/2.

Lack of depth hurt the Rook team badly. Four men could not make the trip — Jim Eckerman, Dick Girton, Eric Lindaus, and Tommy Keecart. The Beaver squad did not have entries in three of the ten events.

Bill Barnett was a double winner for the Rooks. Barnett won the 50 and 100-yard freestyle. Other winners for the Rooks were Klaus Schenk in the 100-yard breaststroke, Robin Harrison in the 100-backstroke, and the medley relay team of Harrison, Schenk, Mike Langsdorf, and Bill Glenn.

Meet summary:
Rooks: Sommers, RAL; Dutton, MM. Time 2:53.
100-yard Butterfly — Jensen, RAL; Bergman, MM; Brackett, RAL. Time 1:15.6.
200-yard Freestyle — Tward, RAL; Janssen, Rooks; Hansen, Rooks. Time 2:28.2.
100-yard Backstroke — Harrison, Rooks; Koepper, RAL; Johnson, RAL. Time 1:09.3.
100-yard Breaststroke — Schenk, Rooks; Langsdorf, Rooks; Witten, RAL. Time 1:10.4.
100-yard Freestyle — Barnett, Rooks; Pitham, RAL; Maas, MM. Time :57.2.
Diving — Oldani, RAL; Nosler, Rooks; Lambert, MM. Points 138.70.

OSC Wrestling Team Romps Over Cal Poly

The Oregon State Beaver wrestling team ran their win streak to 12 in one of their best weekends of the year. The Beaver matmen have only one more dual meet this year, a tough contest scheduled at Washington State next Saturday.

In boasting the win streak to 12 the Beavers accomplished several other treats. 1. They kept intact their record of never having lost to a coast college team. 2. They beat the team that had earlier beaten them to a 30 match streak. 3. They avenged the defeat of the only coast team to beat them, and 4. They dumped the 1958 coast champions Cal Poly, holding the California team to only one decision.

A crowd of nearly 200 saw the Beaver grapplers turn it on against Cal Poly Saturday afternoon as they while washed their opponents 29-3. The only Cal Poly win came in the heavyweight class where 1958 coast champion Paul Lovell defeated Beaver Darrel Kaufman 4 to 3 in a crowd pleasing thriller. Tied at two points a piece late in the second round Lovell countered the Beaver heavy and won a take down. Kaufman escaped with only seven seconds remaining but was unable to gain the deciding points.

The Orange men racked up four pins in the afternoon as Tobe Zwegyardt disposed of Romeo Rivera in 3:28, Ron Finley dumped Ken Gardner in 5:54. OSC's national champion Fritz Fivian took care of Ben Paz in 1:45 and Don Conway, Beaver 177 pounder flattened Dave Dixon in 1:23.

Friday's match against Multnomah Athletic Club gave the Beavers a victory from an earlier win. MAC without the services of ex-Oregon Stater John Dustin was not at full strength for the bout but the Beavers left to question as to the outcome in their easy win. The match was wrestled under free style rules rather than college point scoring.

OSC Regional Playoff Hopes Are Damaged

Expectations of an NCAA basketball playoff berth became very dim as the Oregon State Beavers fell to the University of Southern California and the University of Washington in two Dads Weekend games Friday and Saturday night at Gill Coliseum. The Beavers in third place among their coast competitors going into the two games now find themselves in fifth place behind California, who leads, Oregon, USC, and UCLA.

In action against U of W Saturday night the Beavers found difficulty getting through a tough Husky defense, being forced to shoot from outside the key. The Orangermen working the ball well against USC, Friday night had trouble hitting the long shot from out front, against the Huskies.

Coach John Grayson's Huskies jumped into an early 7-1 lead in the first three minutes of play. The Beavers caught napping in the first three minutes scored only one, giving the Huskies a lead which was never threatened. The slow moving first half saw the Beavers, with clutch shooting by Jay Carty, move within five points of the Huskies as the half ended 25-20. Leading the Huskies in the first half of play were forwards Al Murphy and Roger Niva.

In the first half the Beavers shot a meager 7 for 25 (.280) while U of W hit 9 for 22 a good (.409).
Huskies Up Second Half Lead
The OSC second half opened with things turning even gloomier. The Huskies increased their lead to 8 points early and moved 13 points ahead with 7:30 left, behind the shooting of Clint Names. Names rained the Beaver chances as he scored on three successive baskets and foul shot midway in the second period.

Feature of the second half was a heated dispute, not between teams, but between referees, one calling a charging foul on Bill Wold the other citing Roger Niva as the perpetrator. The referees deciding on a compromise had both men fouls and called a jump ball at the center line. While Names led the Huskies the Beavers were trying to come from behind on the second half shooting of big Karl Anderson. Anderson scored 8 of his 10 points in the second period. Anderson along with Jay Carty led the Beavers defensively by holding the men Bill Hanson and Niva to 12 and 12 points respectively.

Valenti Clears Bench
In the later stages of the game, Coach Paul Valenti cleared the Beaver bench in an attempt to find the right scoring combination. U of W Coach Grayson also relied on a bench reserve as Lyle Baker, John Douglas, and Murphy hit the ball game via the back route.

Shooting better in the second half (400) the Orangermen however, could not overtake the not shooting Huskies (455). OSC hurt by their foul line shooting against USC Friday night, hitting only 14 of 24, found their way worse against the Huskies as they hit only 10 out of 26 free throws. The Beaver squad topped U of W in field goals 21-19, but the Huskies tanked 24 of 35 free throws.

On hand for the game was the largest crowd of the year in Northwest basketball, 7,346, including a large number of Dads, enjoying the game as well as the perpetrator. The referees

Crown Prince Bears Child

TOKYO (UPI) — Crown Prince Michiko today gave birth to a boy who may one day ascend the chrysanthemum throne as emperor of Japan.

The "Cinderella" princess, a year old commoner who won the heart of Crown Prince Akihito in a romance that began on the tennis courts at Karuzawa, gave birth to her first child nine days before the imperial doctors had predicted.

Michiko suffered "severe labor pains" for several hours prior to the birth. She had a "spontaneous natural delivery" 23 minutes after entering the delivery room.

Imperial Household officials said the baby weighed 2.54 kilograms (5 pounds, 9 ounces) and was 47 centimeters (18 1/2 inches) long.

Both the Emperor (Hirohito) and Empress (Nagako) as well as Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko are happy a child was born. We are all praying for the good health of the princess and her mother and child.

All of Japan joined in those sentiments. The national radio network proudly began playing selections by the imperial court musicians. All streetcars in Tokyo reported rising sun flags.

Large crowds began gathering in the great plaza in front of the imperial palace and the shouts of "banzai" for the boy who is destined to sit on the imperial throne were repeated thousands of times.

The tiny baby will be presented a sacred sword of protection in accordance with imperial tradition. Seven days after his birth he will be named and his name will be reported to the three sacred shrines on the palace grounds.
