FOREWORD

*B*ETWEEN the covers of this book are portrayed the important events of the last college year. It has been no small task to compile all of the accomplishments of our school and its students.

The staff will feel amply repaid for its efforts if, in later life when we turn the pages of this volume, it will serve in a small way to perpetuate the fond memories of our Alma Mater and help keep alive the old fighting spirit of O. A. C.

College Life

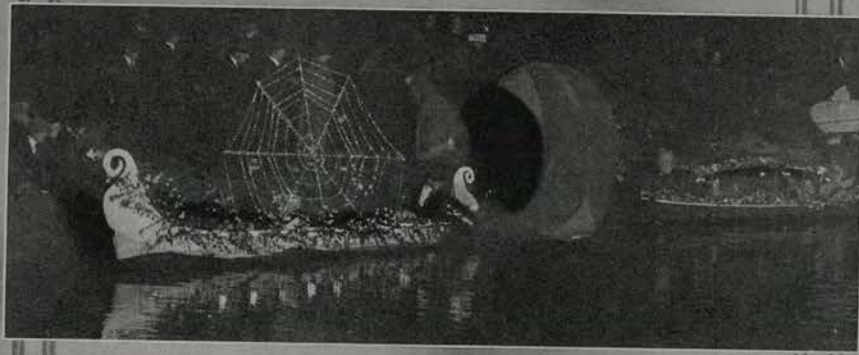

The Military Tournament with its spectacular and realistic sham battles held at night on the lower campus, street parades and regimental reviews is one of the first events of the spring. Soon afterward the Engineering Show is featured.

The Junior Prom and the Sophomore Cotillion are two of the outstanding social events of the year. The gymnasium is transformed for the occasions by extensive decorations; enchanting music and a waxed floor complete the setting.

Junior Week-End opens with the distribution of the Beaver Annual—a book for everyone. Junior breakfast away off on Mary's River proves a regular old fashioned picnic. Initiates to Sigma Delta Chi and Hammer and Coffin entertain with speeches and oratory.

Mary's River and a perfect harvest moon is a delightful setting for the annual canoe fete in which a long line of decorated crafts glide by in the path of flood lights. The freshmen at last become real "sophs" and burn their green attire.

The famous and long lost Lady of the Fountain, beloved to every Aggie student, is returned to the campus on the afternoon of the Junior Week-End Track Meet. Cheers greeted her return and later she was securely fastened on her former pedestal.

The Tug of War— Pull! Pull! Pull! The sophomore and freshmen shout encouragement to their straining teams. One inch more! The "sophs" have won and with one splash the whole rook "gang" swim through the cold waters of the mill race.

Open Air Convocation is a fitting close for a perfect week-end. Students, faculty and visitors assemble and pause for a time to consider the benefits and joys of life, the duties which living entails and the rewards of worthwhile years of existence.

Poor future rooks! A new bunch of "rough-neck" V. C.'s being put through a strenuous program of initiation to test whether or not they are hard boiled enough to manage the next bunch of "wee timorous cowerin'" freshmen.

1923 BEAVER
Allen Brown, Auctioneer Ed. Kimball, Clerk

When the 1923 Beaver Annual was completed the staff held an auction sale. At last the admiring damsel and retiring swain was given a chance to bid for a picture of his or her "secret sorrow." The proceeds of the sale were used toward financing the book.

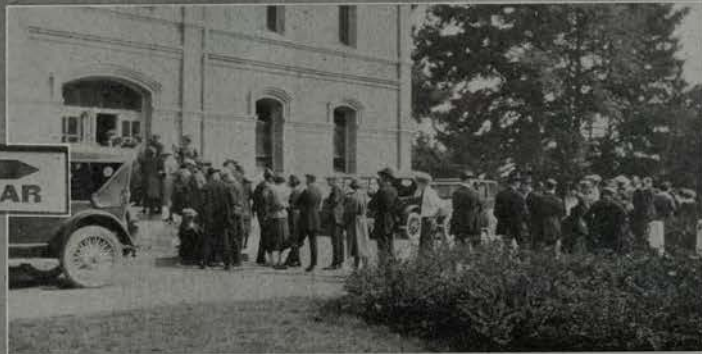

The handshaking is at last over, the hello spirit put on the shelf, and each politician holds his or her breath until the results of the student body election is known. A new feature in college and faculty life is the Gymkana, a riding tournament.

The fair co-eds at O. A. C. indulge in all forms of athletics. Splash! They hit the water. Ping! The ball flies back across the net. Whiz! And a flying dart shoots through the air. Whack! The ball hits home. These are true western girls.

Perhaps there is a no more auspicious occasion in the college year than graduation. Having completed four years of study within the halls of the institution, the seniors, garbed in caps and gowns, march to their last student body assembly to receive diplomas.

Vacation over! From all parts of the western coast Aggie students begin to arrive. Trainloads come in daily bringing a cargo of baggage and happy young men and women who soon gather on the campus to register for a year of work at the college.

The rooks get good training in housewifery by scrubbing their green class numerals from the campus walks. When convocation is over everyone hurries to class. V. C.'s and others of the masculine gender line up to see if the rooks have their bibles and incidentally watch the co-eds pass by.

Beaver Pep from start to finish, from the first boom of the cannon until the men were sent on their way to Washington University for one of the big games of the year. The entire student body turned out to send off the team.

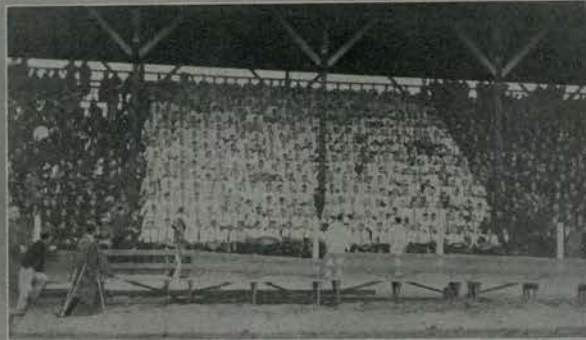

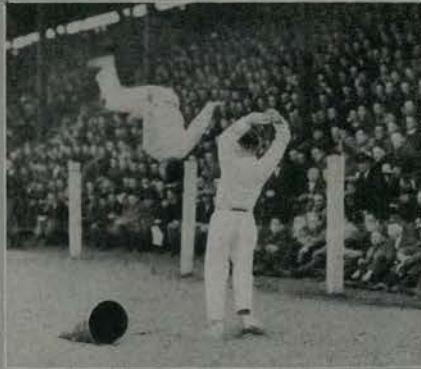

Crowds of loyal O. A. C. rooters journeyed to the University of Washington for the annual game and those who were left at home viewed the plays from the electric score board. After the game a student body dance was held.

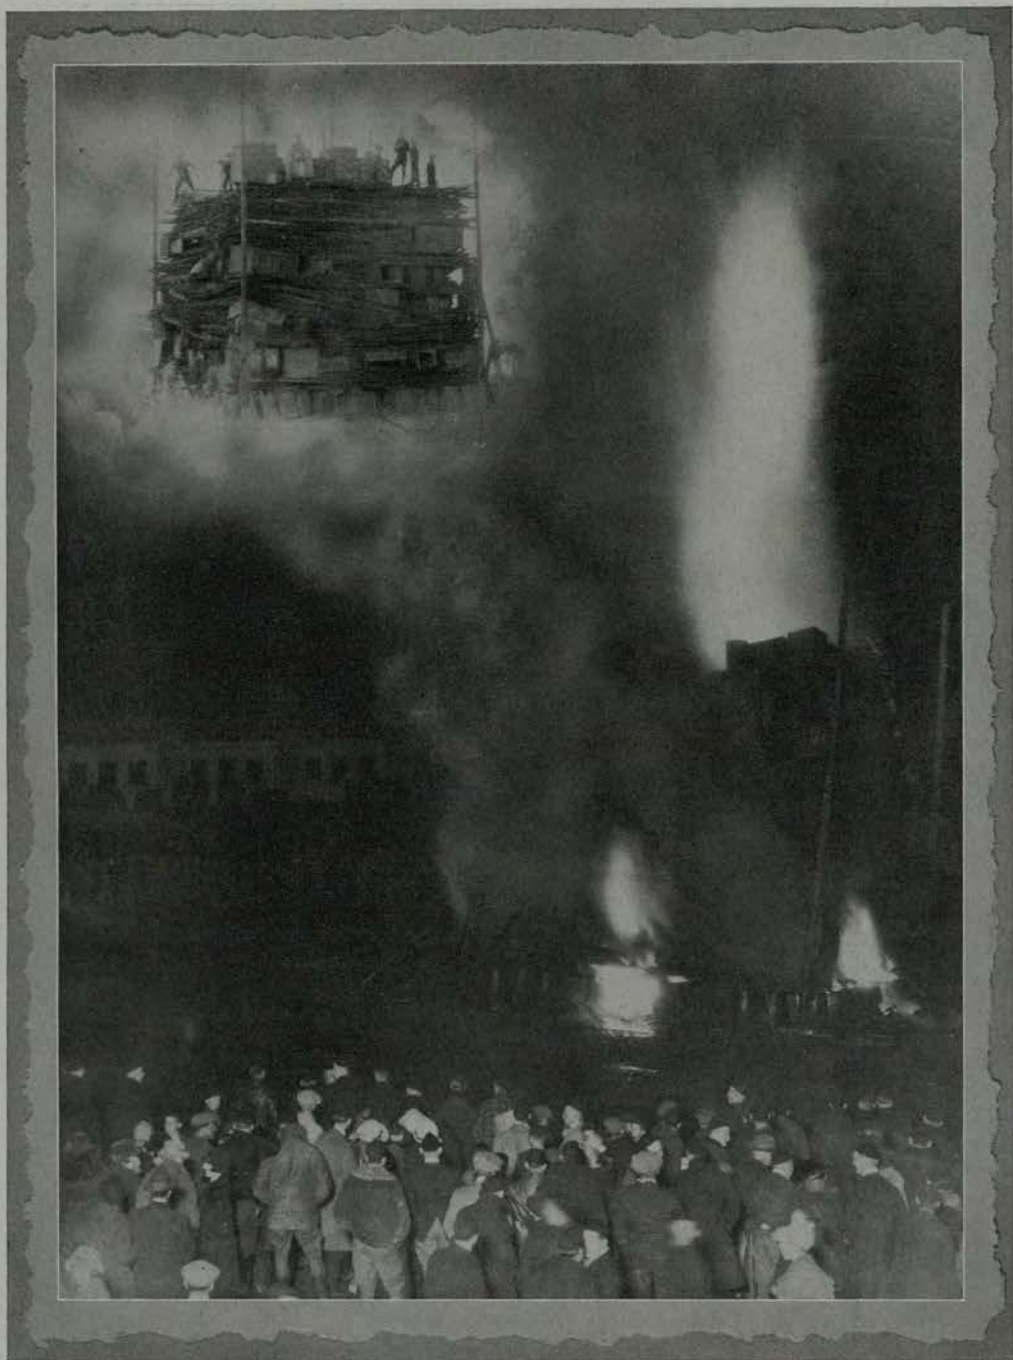

Andy Gump and his family, Min and little Chester, visit the O. A. C. campus and Gump, "who wears no man's collar," stirs the student body with his famous campaign speech. One means of getting acquainted is by student body dances held in the men's gym.

The horticultural show conducted by the horticultural department of the School of Agriculture draws many visitors from all over Oregon. Products raised on the college farm and in the greenhouses and orchards are exhibited.

Home Coming Week-End called many "old grads" back to the campus to see the annual O. A. C.-U. of O. football tilt. Acrobatic yell leading featured the rooting at the game. Preceding the game all the varsity men who were back for the week-end paraded to the new Beaver song—"Beaver Pep."

Rain, mud, work, work, work, for hours unceasingly was the duty of the rooks Home Coming Week-End. Then finally on the night before the Oregon-O. A. C. game the huge bon fire, Oregon's funeral pyre, was lighted and sent its blaze of fire into the darkness.

Athletes renew old acquaintances at the Home Coming Varsity Luncheon. The campus entrance near the Co-op store was brilliantly illuminated by an arch of welcome. The Home Coming Dance in the gymnasium ended a successful week-end.

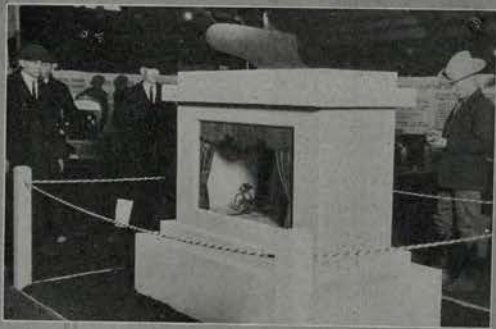

When the Ag Club entertained the Home Economics Club with a "hard times" dance everyone looked so "hard" it was hard to decide to whom should go the prizes. A jolly informal time was enjoyed by all members who attended.

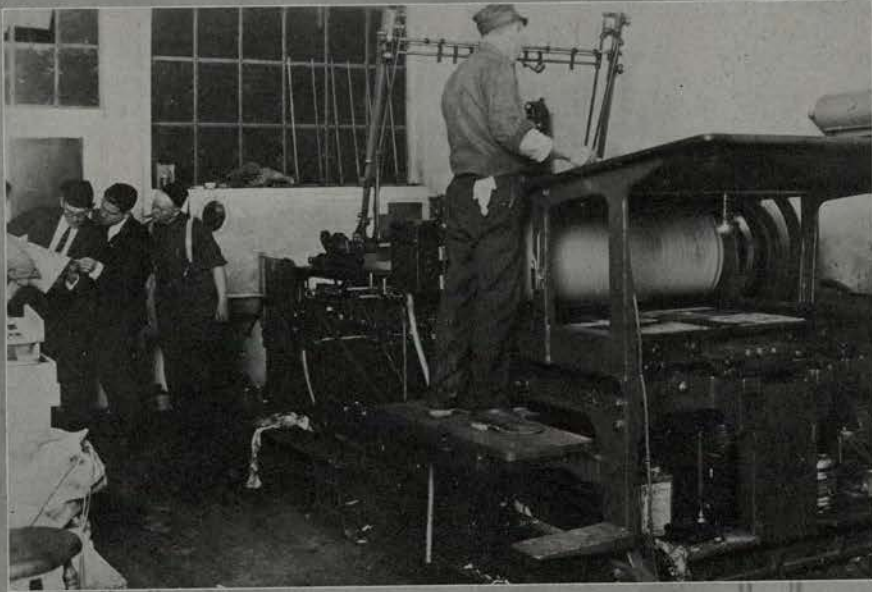

Boost Beavers, sell Beavers, dance, Beavers! Beaver enthusiasm for the sale of the annual was created by a Beaver dance in front of the library. Then to end the day right and duly celebrate the good results the Beaver staff had a feed at the college tea room.

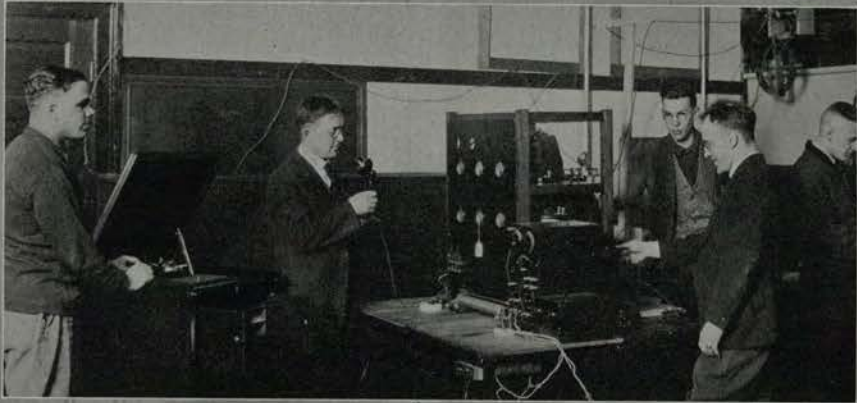

Contrary to usual campus custom the Junior Prom was given in February instead of during Junior Week-End. The men's gym was converted into a dazzling Arabian scene and with the famous Seven Serenaders to play, the evening was a huge success.

A fair, equal in many respects with exhibitions put on annually by county and state associations, was staged by the Agricultural School. Sideshows, demonstrations and exhibits were featured. A huge crowd of visitors from over the state attended.

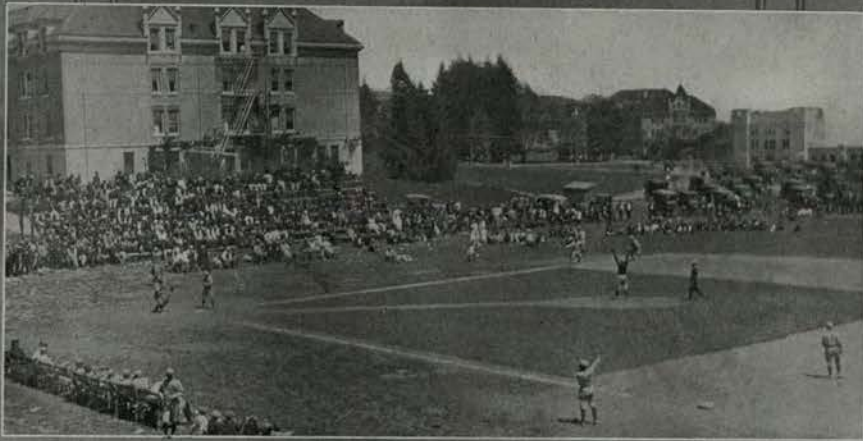

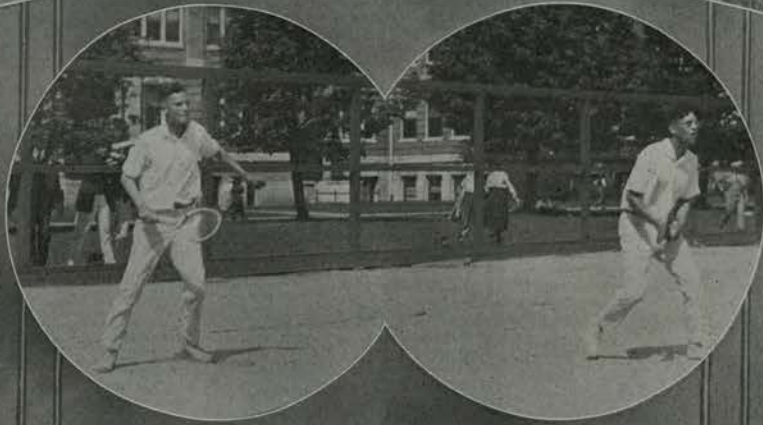

When the Barometer—the Oregon Aggie Daily—comes from press every morning it represents the work of sixty persons. From the youngest cub to the most seasoned editor all give their most concentrated effort to the editing of a peppy accurate sheet.

Orchestra concerts by radio is one of the methods by which O. A. C. is rapidly becoming known to everybody. The men taking the examination for the class in mine rescue work were required to perform difficult feats to secure their certificates.

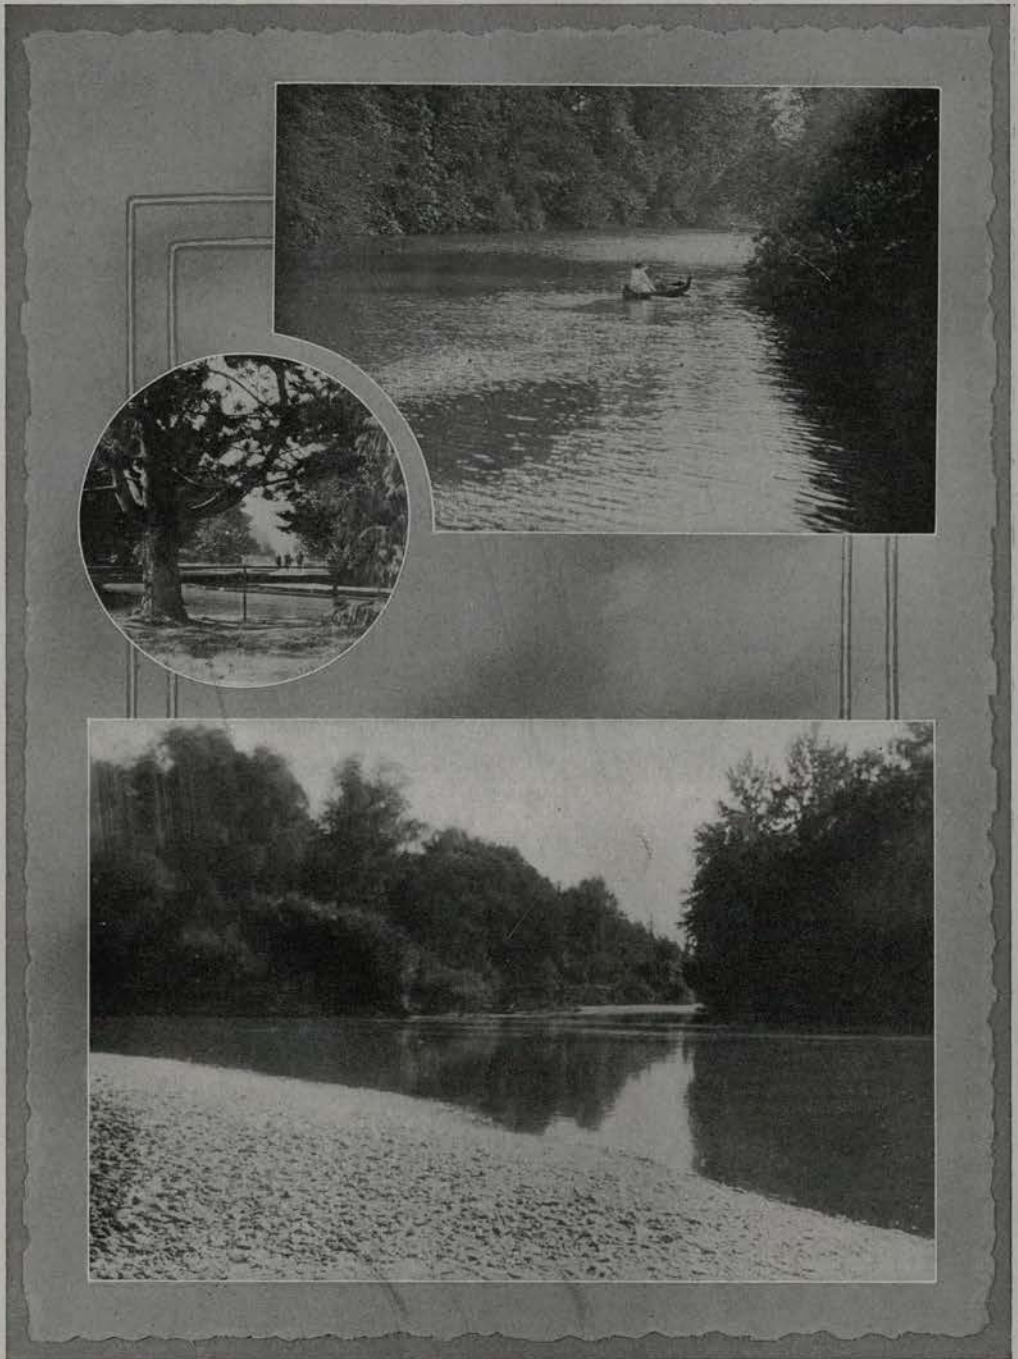

Clever stunts, snappy acrobats, and a general good time featured the first annual Women's Giocoso. The junior stunt representing Andy Gump and Katzenjammer Kids was awarded first place. Everyone attended in costume and were eligible to enter contests.

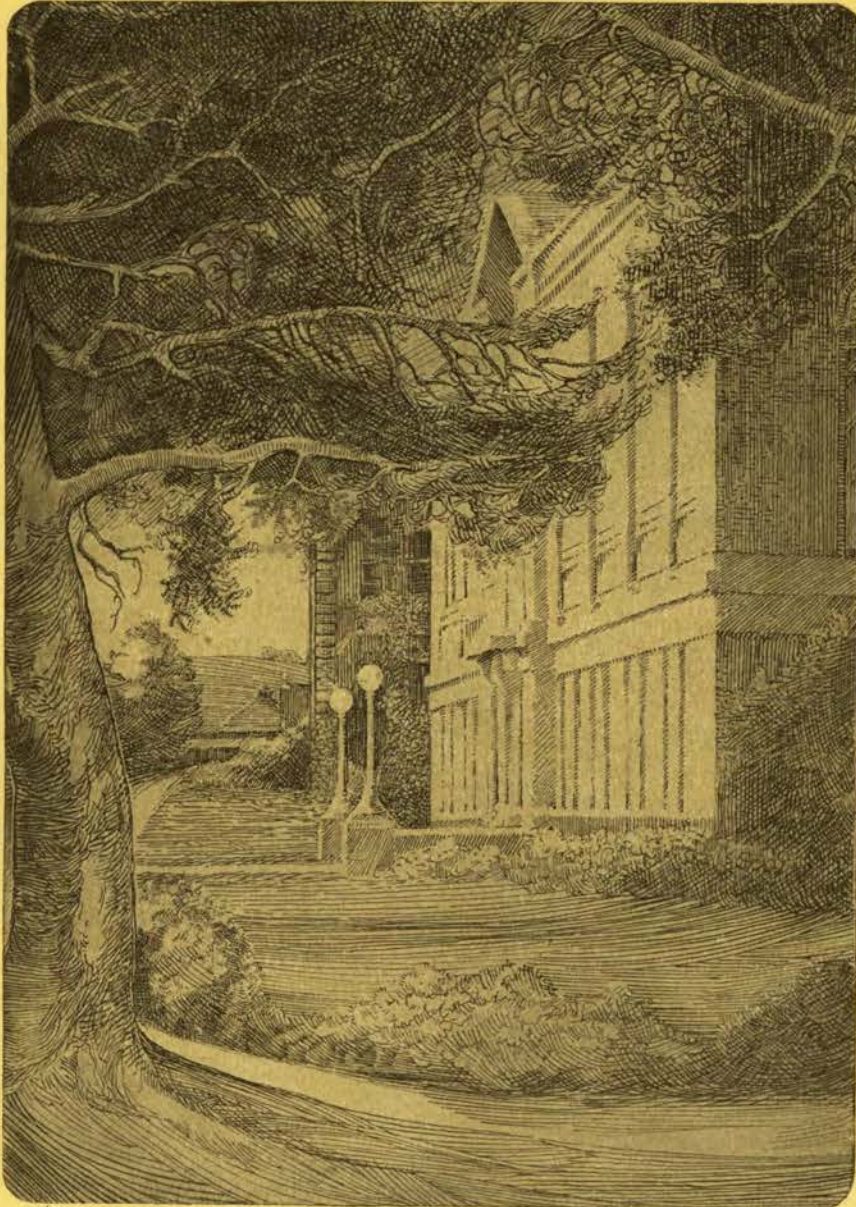

After classes are over and on week-ends the students are found participating in various sports. Every student in some form of athletics is being rapidly realized. Development of body as well as brain is a part of O. A. C. education.

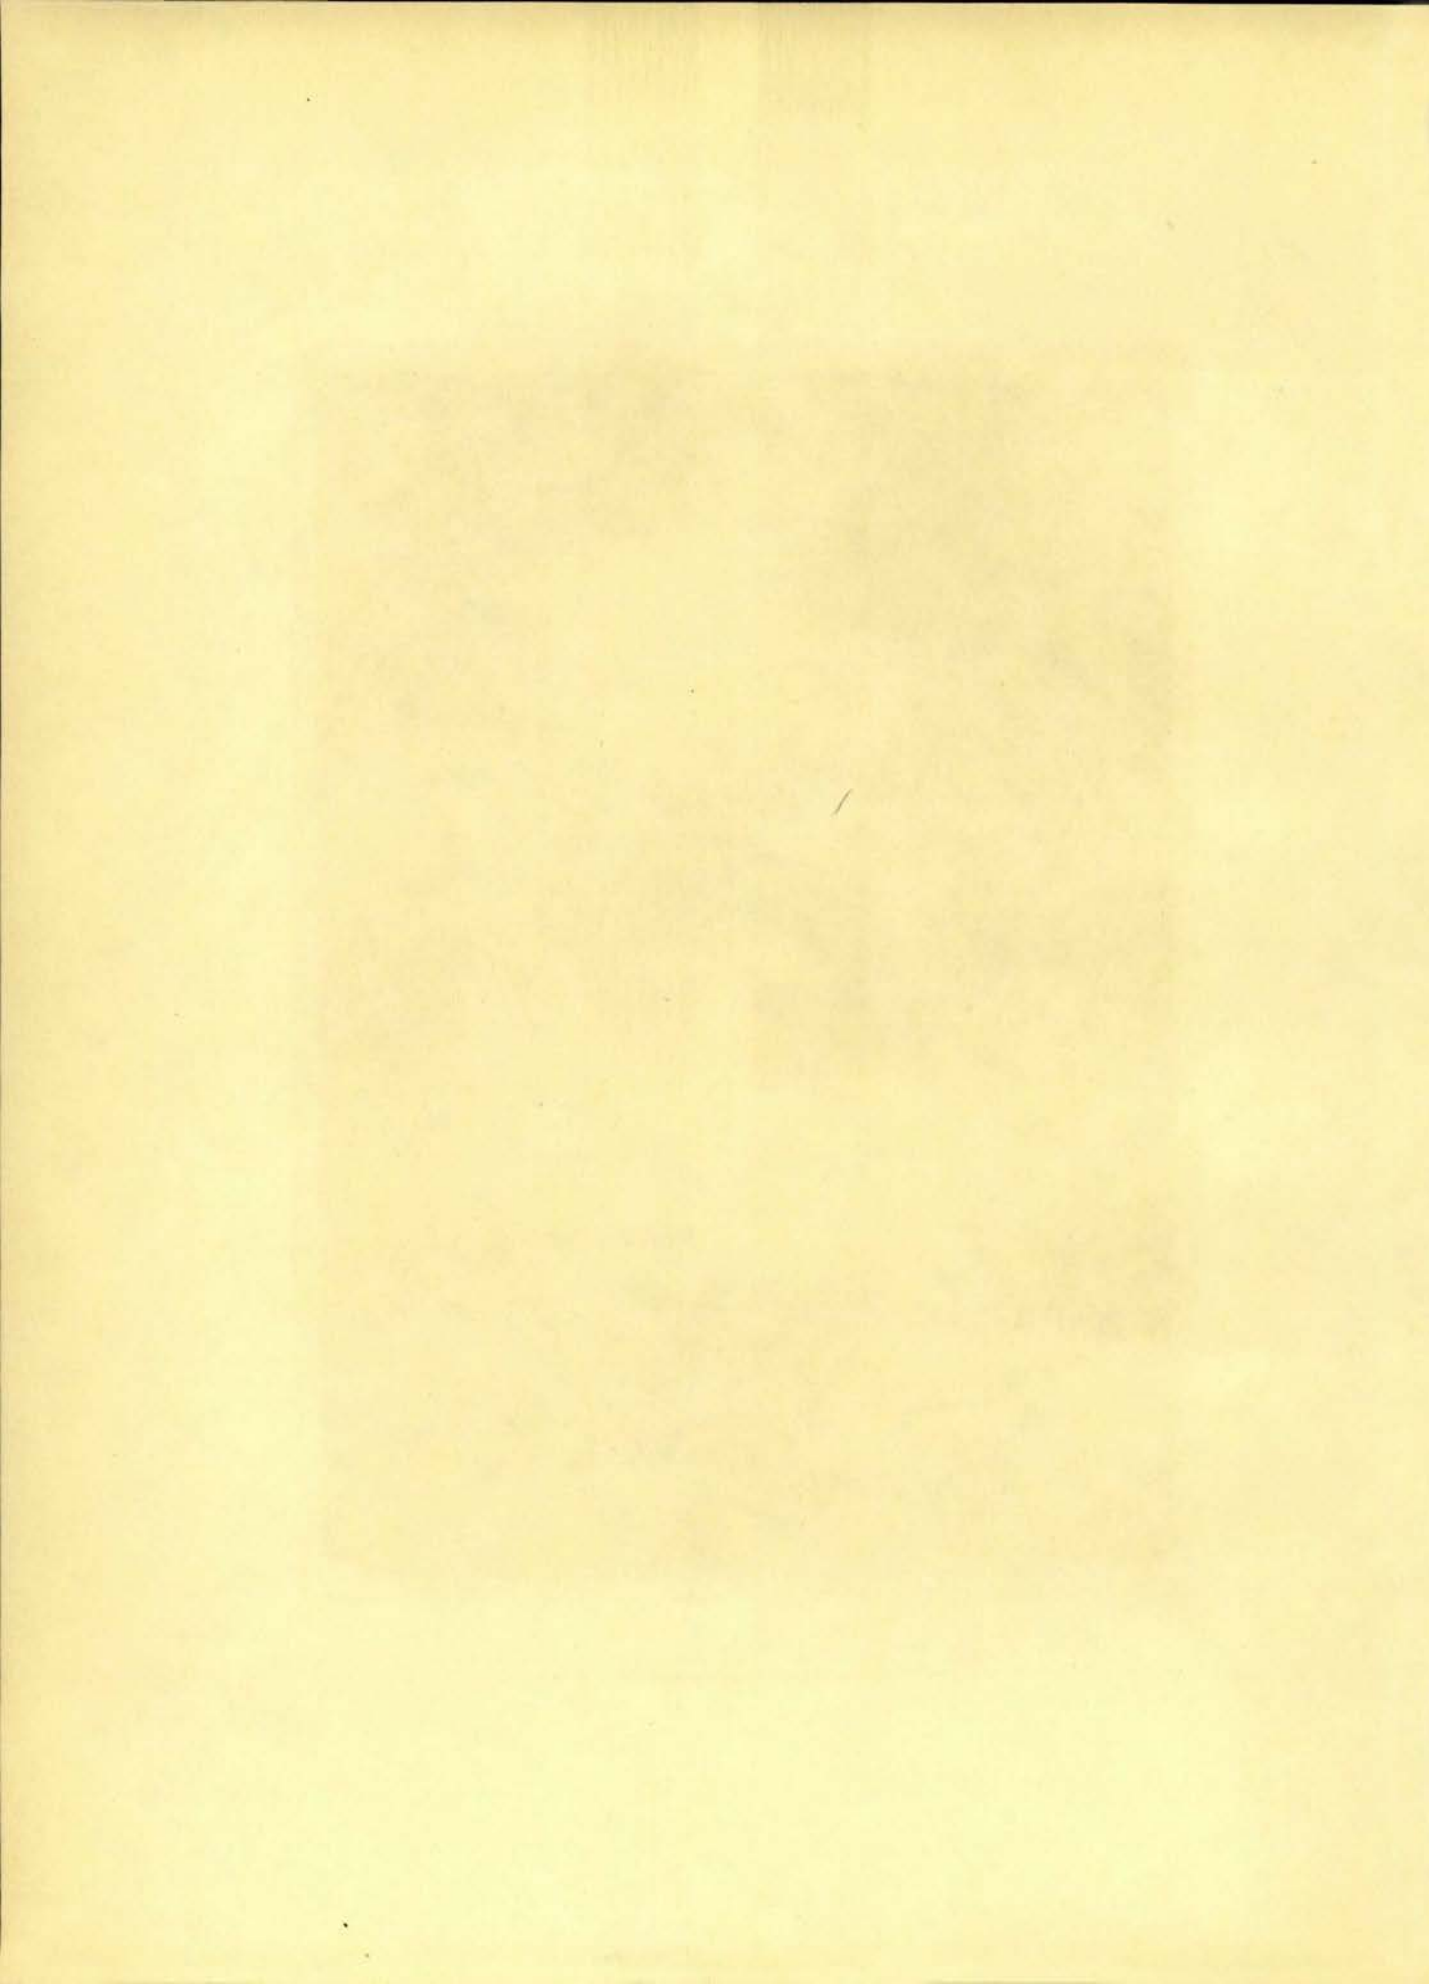

A Chinatown laundry, or "Tales of a Shirt;" Ignatz and Krazy Kat in company with the frost fairies; fair pirates bent on plundering for "Loot;" a bevy of Bluebeard's wives, were bits in the Woman's Stunt Show. This is the annual women's vaudeville.

At odd hours through the day students wander o'er campus walks, out by the river side, into the hills near by. Beauties of nature are not far away and strolls about and around the countryside reveal many scenic spots.

President WILLIAM JASPER KERR, D.Sc., LL.D.

THE PRESIDENT

Keen and clear the lustrous eye
That views the pageant passing by,
Evaluates our yesterdays
And through tomorrow's amber haze
Sees what shall build the better year,
Keen and clear.

Clean and sound the heart that thrills
To all our ecstasies and ills:
The life that pulses full and strong
To urge the right, avert the wrong,
And make true manliness abound,
Clean and sound.

Kind and wise the twinkling smile,
That cheers for us the second mile,
That shines, however grave the hour,
In quiet dignity and power,
And helps the broken hope arise
Kind and wise.

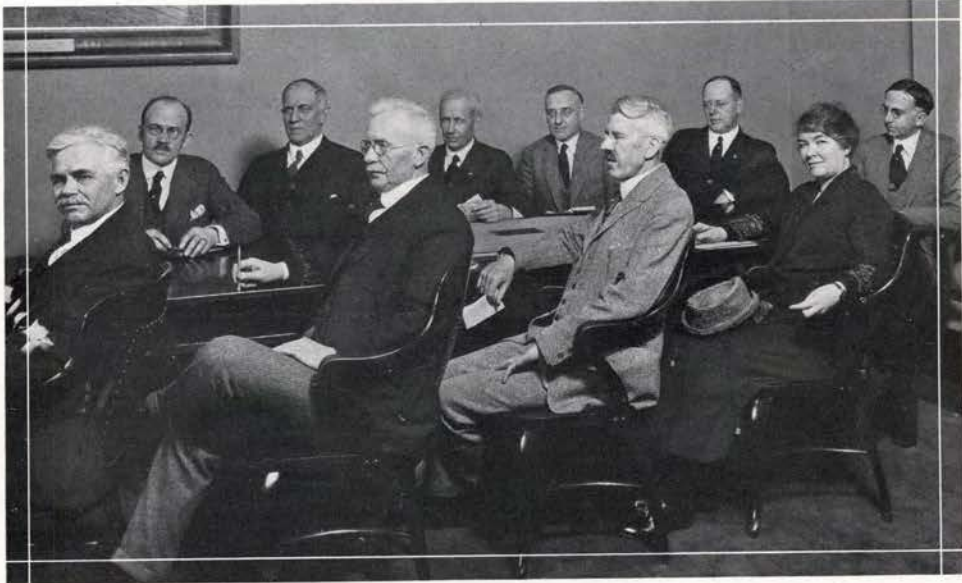

True and fine the soul that glows
Through days of tumult or repose,
Still staunchly ready to endure;
Serene and steady, sweet and sure,
A soul to fashion yours and mine
True and fine.

The Administrative Council considers and determines the larger questions of institutional policy and administration.

AGRICULTURE

SCHOOL of AGRICULTURE

The School of Agriculture trains young men to become successful farmers, dairymen, stockmen, poultrymen, and fruit growers. Students are trained to be investigators for Experiment Stations and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Many teachers of the Smith-Hughes work and of vocational agriculture for high schools are sent out each year. Many graduates become county agents and club leaders but ultimately most of them own farms of their own.

AGRICULTURE BUILDING

DEAN CORDLEY

SCHOOL of COMMERCE

The new Commerce Building, a commodious structure specially designed for the executive offices and for departments related to administration and commerce, offers superior facilities for instruction and administration. The building is equipped with the most modern office appliances, including calculating, manifold, and typing machines.

For administrative purposes, the School of Commerce is organized into four distinct departments: Business Administration, Economics and Sociology, Office Training and Stenography, and Political Science.

DEAN BEXELL

COMMERCE BUILDING

ENGINEERING

SCHOOL of ENGINEERING

The School of Engineering offers opportunity to young men to secure training which will enable them to participate in an active way in the development of the resources of the State.

In order to serve the industrial needs of the commonwealth the School of Engineering offers a four-year course leading to the B.S. degree in each of the following departments: Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Industrial Arts.

ENGINEERING LABORATORY

DEAN COVELL

HOME ECONOMICS

SCHOOL of HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics building is thoroughly equipped for work in Food and Nutrition, Clothing and Textiles, House Decoration, Child Care, Home Management, and Institutional Management.

Nearly six hundred women avail themselves of the splendid opportunities offered by this school of Home Economics which now ranks third in size in the United States.

The influence of this work extends into thousands of homes and betters hundreds of communities.

DEAN MILAM

HOME ECONOMICS BUILDING

FORESTRY

SCHOOL of FORESTRY

The School of Forestry trains men to be of service to the State and to the Nation in making effective a forestry program that will insure forest products for our people for all time to come.

The work of the School of Forestry is divided into two main branches, Technical Forestry and Logging Engineering, with a secondary department, Lumber Manufacture.

FORESTRY BUILDING

DEAN PEAVY

SCHOOL of MINES

The Oregon School of Mines aims to have its graduates so trained that they may enter and successfully carry on such work as is entrusted to young graduates in Mining Engineering. The three main branches of the work are Geology, Mining, and Metallurgy. Knowledge of geology enables one to economically search for and locate the world's mineral resources; knowledge of mining enables one to extract from the earth its ores and deliver them to the metallurgical plants; knowledge of metallurgy enables one to treat these ores so that their metallic contents may be recovered and fashioned into shape for commercial use.

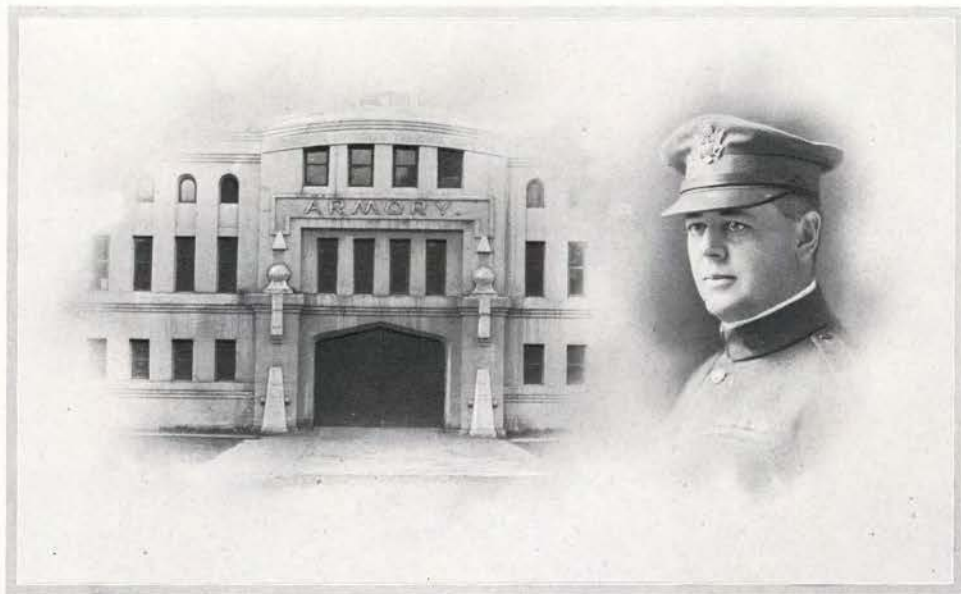

MINES BUILDING

DEAN NEWTON

MILITARY

MILITARY SCIENCE and TACTICS

The Federal government has established at O. A. C. one of the strongest military departments among the land-grant colleges. Here there is military equipment valued at three-quarters of a million dollars, and nearly one hundred officers and enlisted men, serving the college, whose salaries are paid entirely by the War Department. The instruction offered by the military department through its officers, supplemented by the work of the technical schools, has enabled the R. O. T. C. unit to win from the War Department for five years the rank of "distinguished institution" for the college.

WOMENS PHYSICAL EDUCATION

PHYSICAL EDUCATION for WOMEN

The department of Physical Education for Women strives to bring each student to her best possible physical condition. An effort is made to aid in the formation of habits of hygienic living. The students enjoy different sports, such as basket ball, volley ball, tennis, swimming, baseball and track.

Many of the students, wishing to major in Physical Education, register in the School of Vocational Education and in this way prepare themselves for teaching, playground work, social service work and many other lines of recreational activities.

WOMEN'S GYMNASIUM

MENS PHYSICAL EDUCATION

PHYSICAL EDUCATION for MEN

Physical health determines the capacity for efficiently carrying out the work which a student prepares for in college. For this reason Physical Education in modern educational institutions is being emphasized more and more every year.

Physical Education for men at O. A. C. includes the following subjects: Gymnastics—individual and class instruction; athletics—intercollegiate and intramural; physical examinations; corrective exercises; hygiene; physical training subjects not classified; teachers' courses in physical education.

MEN'S GYMNASIUM

LIBRARY

The College Library is the College laboratory. Virtually every school has its own department laboratories. In these the practical work of the department is performed. The library is the workshop of the entire student body.

The library has material concerning every type of work. It is arranged in large reading rooms, special reserves, reference and technical collections, all furnishing the equipment of the central workshop.

The library occupies a central position on the campus, and its rooms are also the meeting place of various student activities.

LIBRARY

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING

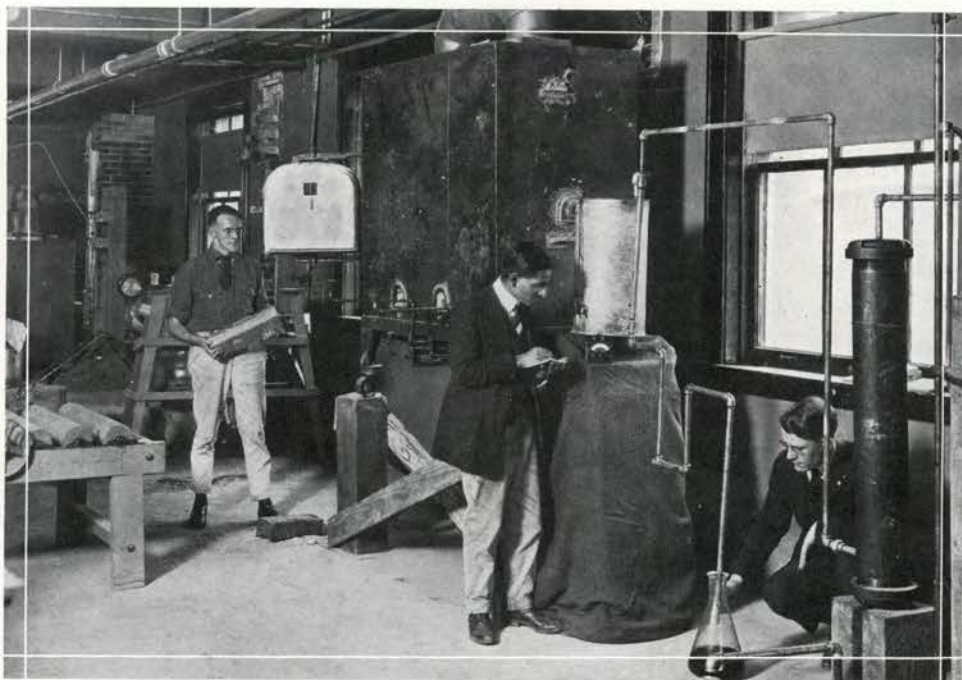

DEAN ROWLAND

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING

Chemical Engineering has become a necessary science in the economic management of many industries of our every day life. The present need in this country is to create new industries to supply products of manufacture formerly imported from abroad. This has emphasized the demands on chemistry and chemical engineering.

The work at O. A. C. is mainly laboratory work, although the basic principles are studied to give the student the necessary foundation for experimental progress.

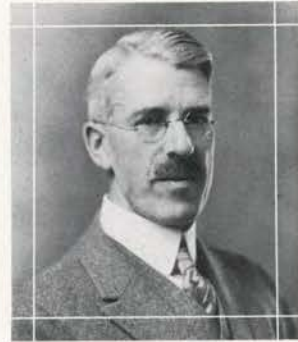

DESTRUCTIVE DISTILLATION OF WOOD

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Students preparing to teach agriculture, commerce, home economics and industrial arts receive their pedagogical training in the school of Vocational Education. They are registered in the technical schools of the College, in which they receive their technical training and degrees. General guidance in training, placement, contact after graduation and supervision of professional growth and advancement constitute a further responsibility of the school of Vocational Education.

DEAN RESSLER

PRACTICE HOUSE

PHARMACY

DEAN ZIEFLE

PHARMACY

The School of Pharmacy has consistently grown, and now is the largest in the Pacific Northwest.

Two degree courses are offered: a four-year course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science, and a three-year course leading to the degree of Pharmaceutical chemist. In addition, the School of Pharmacy offers a pre-medical course and a pre-dental course. It is possible for students to elect a combined pharmacy and pre-medical course.

PHARMACY LABORATORY

BASIC ARTS

BASIC ARTS and SCIENCES

The School of Basic Arts and Sciences is an administrative unit of twelve departments. Work is offered in fundamental science, language, and art. These are the indispensable courses which must be included in the technical courses of the institution. Students register and take their degrees from the technical schools; they take their non-technical work primarily in this division.

DEAN SMITH

MUSIC

SCHOOL of MUSIC

The School of Music, a self-supporting school, has been steadily growing since 1908, when it was established. The students receive excellent training and attain scholarship equal to the best in the East.

At the annual commencement a diploma is awarded to each student who satisfactorily completes the major courses in harmony, theory, voice culture, singing, violin, pianoforte, or band instruments.

PROFESSOR GASKINS

INDUSTRIAL JOURNALISM

PROFESSOR SNOW

DEPARTMENT of INDUSTRIAL JOURNALISM

The department of Industrial Journalism, this year in new quarters in the commerce building, has been growing steadily since established in 1918. The class and laboratory rooms constitute a center of activity for preparation of copy for campus, state, and national publications. Special stress is placed on writing on subjects of a more or less technical nature in popular form. The students major in other subjects.

EXTENSION SERVICE

DIRECTOR MARIS

EXTENSION SERVICE

The Extension Service includes the instructional work given outside the institution. In addition to lecture work, the instruction and methods used are unique in education and consist of highly developed plans of field, farm and home demonstrations.

Specialists in leading phases of Agriculture and Home Economics are employed to develop state programs of work with county agents.

EXPERIMENT STATION

EXPERIMENT STATION

The Oregon Agricultural College Experiment Station was established over thirty years after the college was founded. Since then branch stations have been located throughout the State for experimental work to supplement the central stations at Corvallis in solving the problems of these localities and the state.

If a new type of smut, rust or crop pest is destroying the wheat in Eastern Oregon; or if some kind of fruit is not producing as it should or is self sterile, the experiment station takes steps to solve the problem.

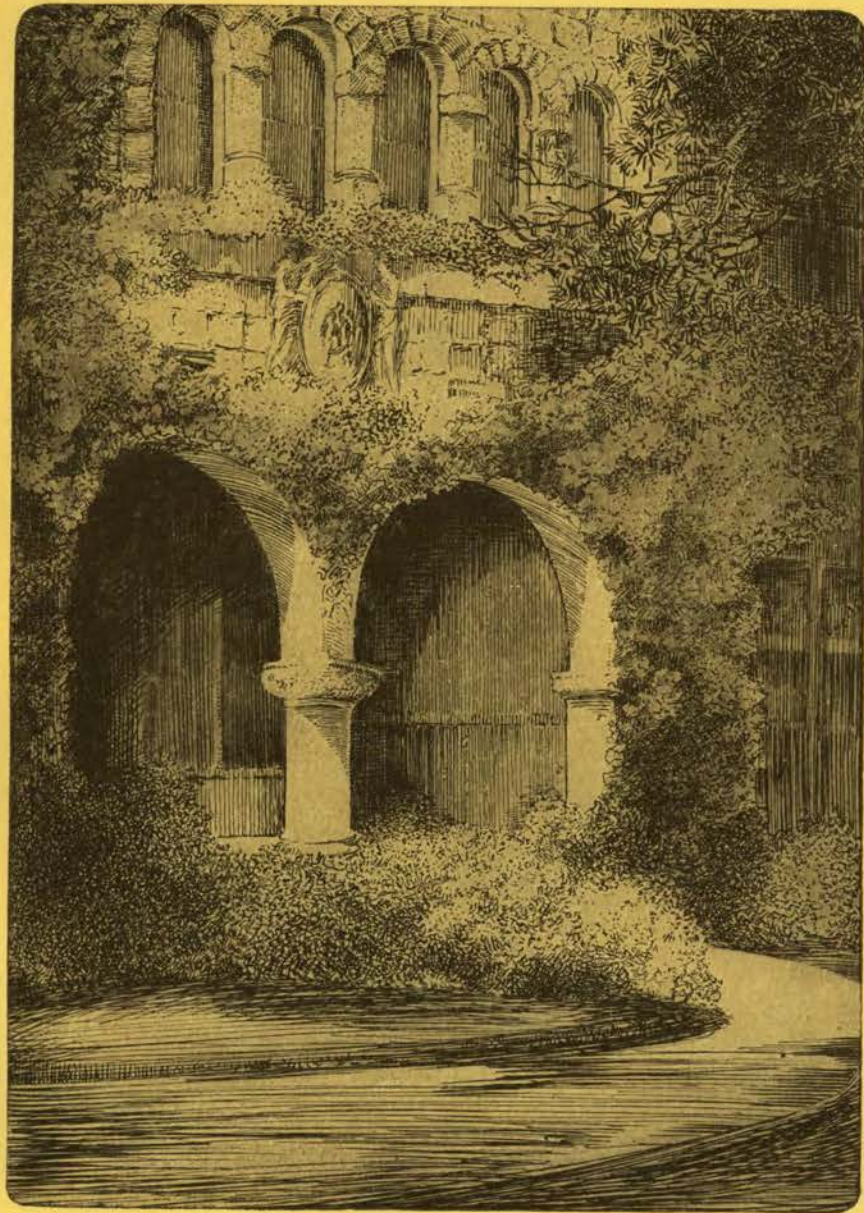

DIRECTOR JARDINE

SUMMER SCHOOL

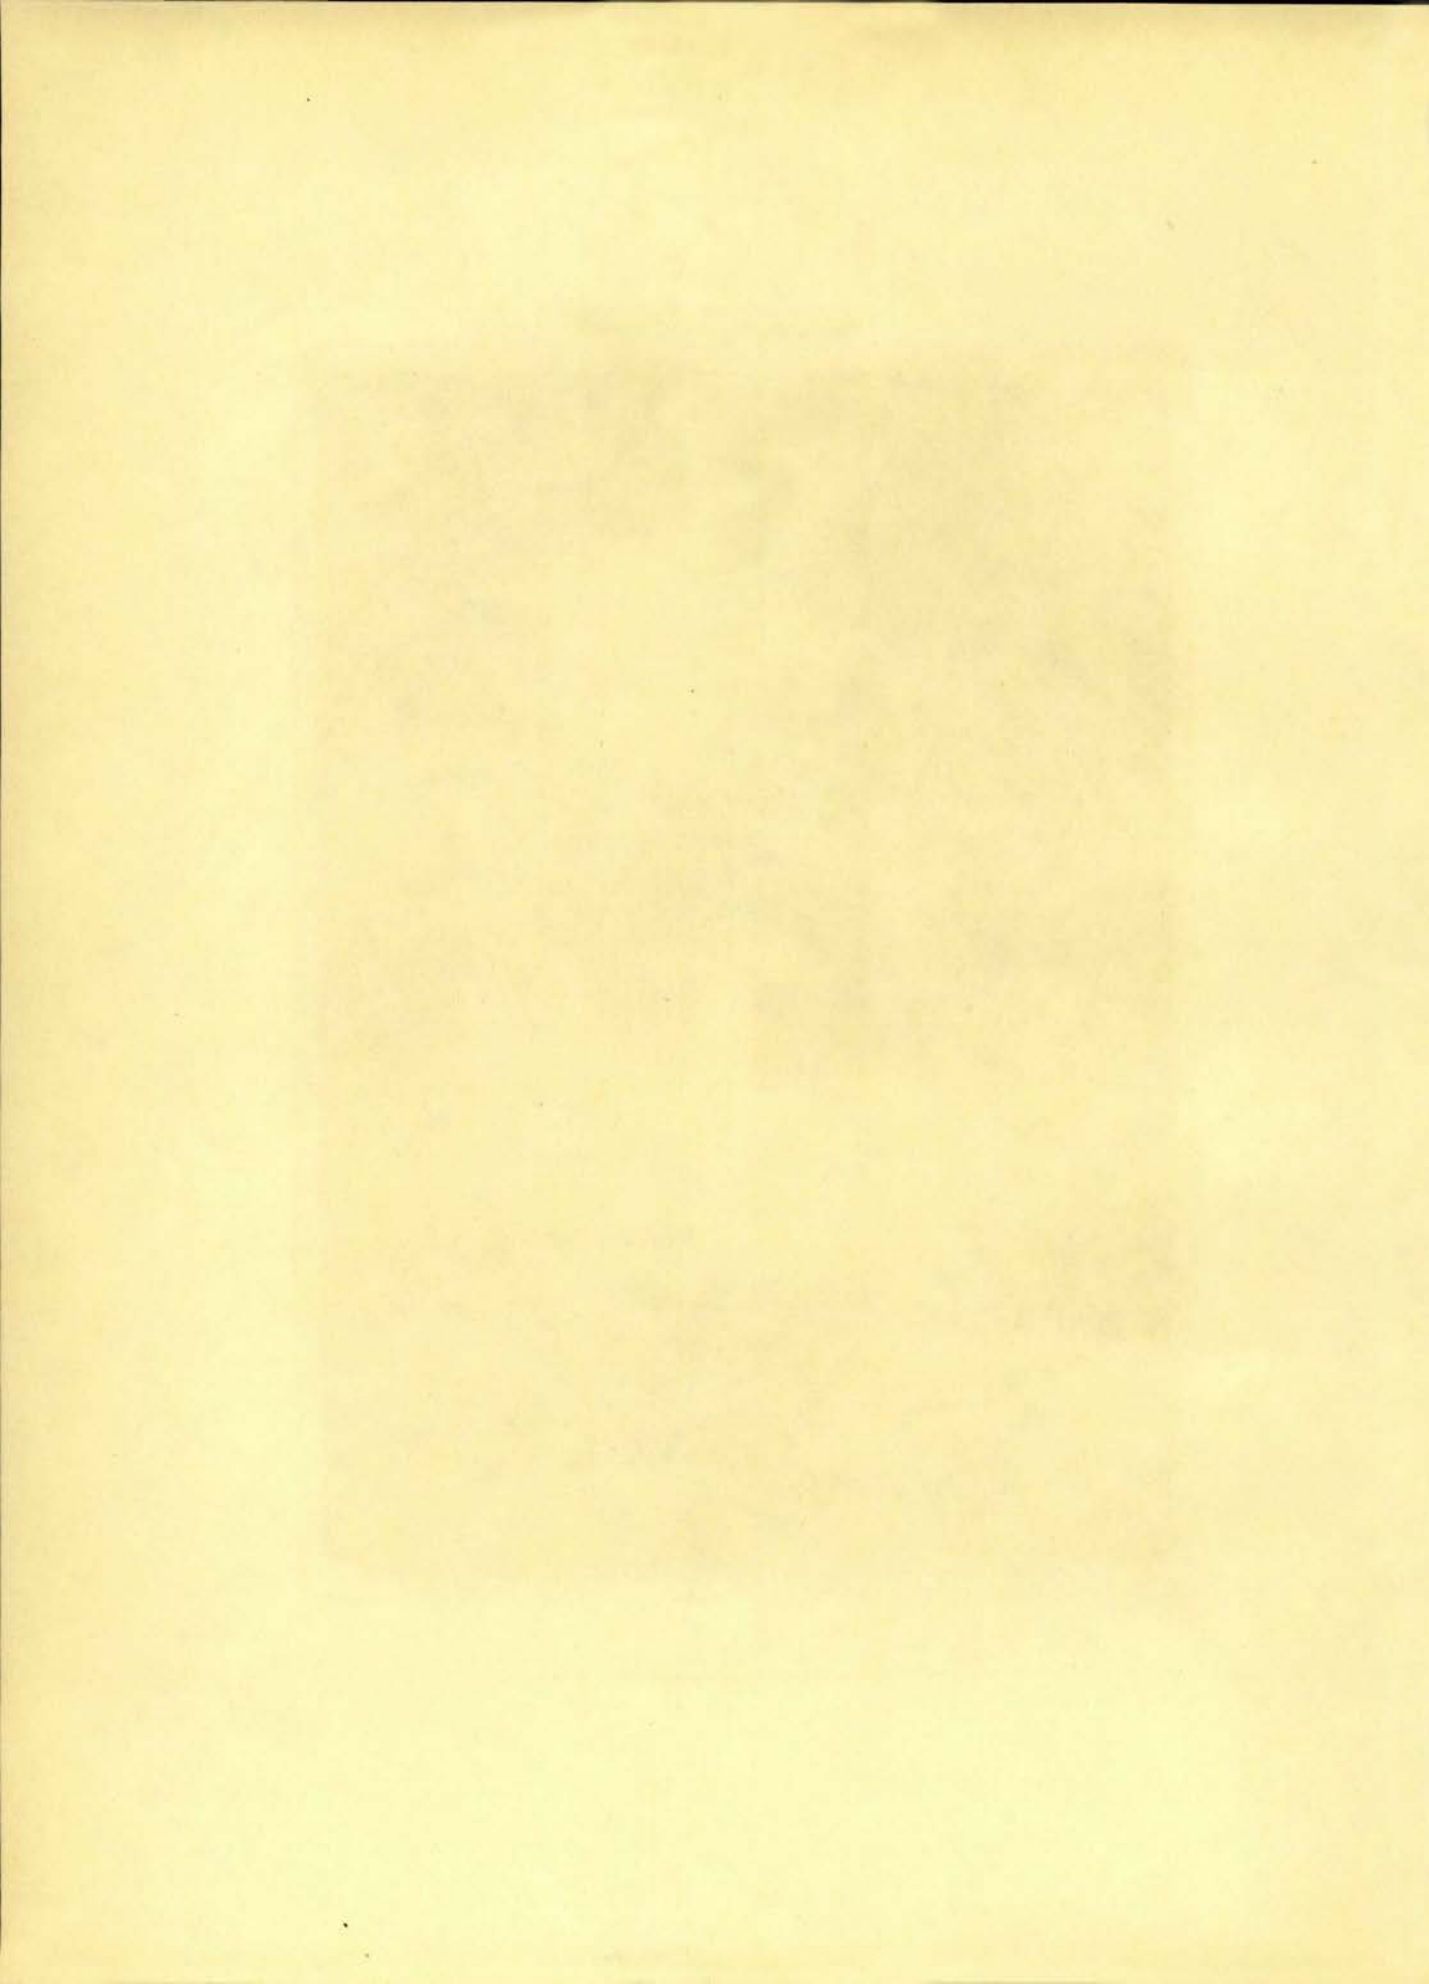

THE SUMMER SESSION

The Summer Session is of increasing importance to undergraduate O. A. C. students. The standards of the courses are the same as those in the winter, but the choice is free. Out of six hundred and eighty-one regular Summer Session students, one hundred and seventy-eight O. A. C. undergraduates took work last summer and more than eleven hundred took advantage of the courses.

The aim of the Summer Session is to do earnest work in a recreational atmosphere. This aim is achieved.

ARCHITECT'S DESIGN FOR STUDENT UNION BUILDING

STUDENT UNION BUILDING

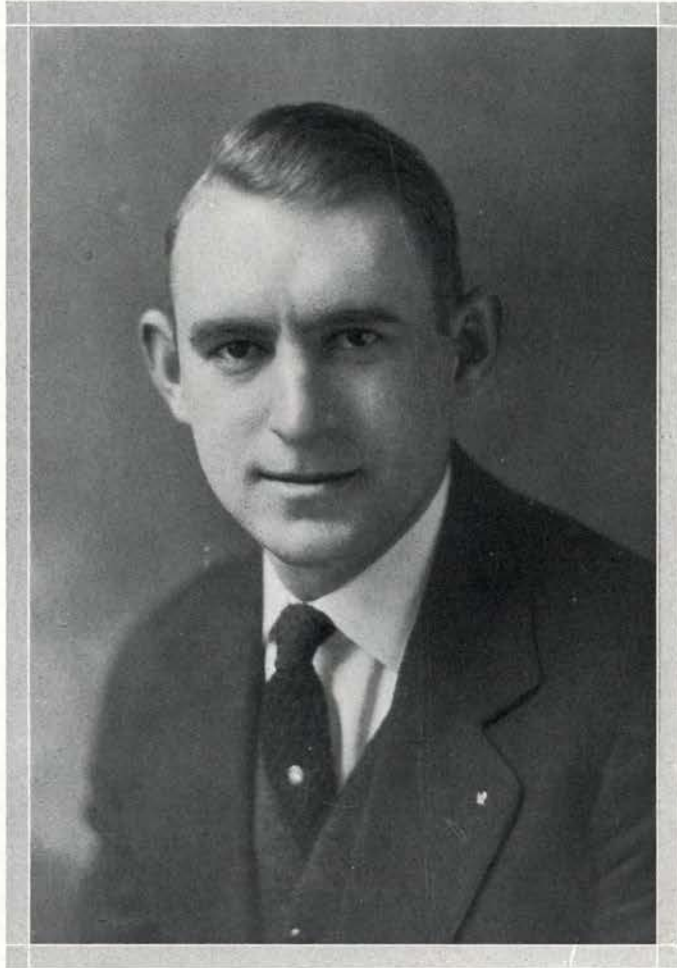

Former students of O. A. C. who conceived the idea of a building on the campus devoted entirely to the interests and welfare of the student assembly are now able to feel that the realization of their efforts is near at hand.

The plans under consideration are merely tentative. But they are suggestive of a building which would meet the requirements of an active student body.

All student organizations will have their offices and rooms there. A large auditorium as this building could accommodate would be available and highly desirable to the Student Assembly for both business and social gatherings.

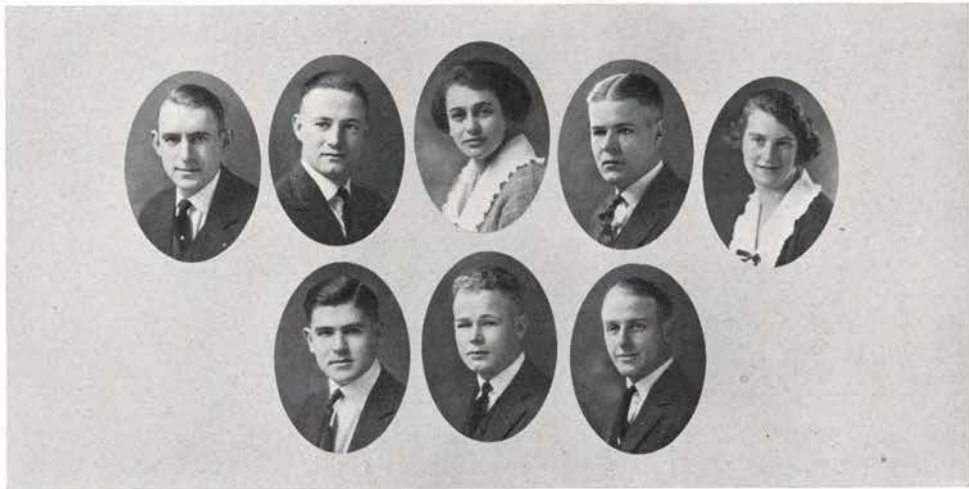

Funds for the promotion of these plans are gradually being acquired. Every active student is doing his part each registration when a part of his fees are set aside for this purpose. Generous gifts from classes have helped to enlarge the fund.

The need for such a building is more evident each year because of the increase in student membership and activities.

BOARD OF CONTROL

The Board of Control consists of nine members, three of whom are appointed from the faculty by the president of the college, one an alumni member elected by the alumni, and the president, secretary, and three vice-presidents of the Student Assembly.

The major functions of the Board are the approval of schedules and budgets of Student Body activities and the apportioning of Student Body fees.

GREATER O. A. C. COMMITTEE

The Greater O. A. C. Executive Committee, composed of three students elected by the Student Assembly, has complete charge of all publicity to interest students of secondary schools in this institution. This year, especially, the committee has been of value to the college in that it took charge of "Homecoming," the formation of the "Advertising Council of the College," put on the three days' program in Portland during spring vacation, besides sponsoring numerous other social functions throughout the state.

The Alumni Association, an organization to knit closer together the ties of alumni and to promote all the interests of the Oregon State Agricultural College, is composed of the 3,567 graduates of this college.

The officers of the association consist of a board of five directors, who choose a general secretary from outside their own number.

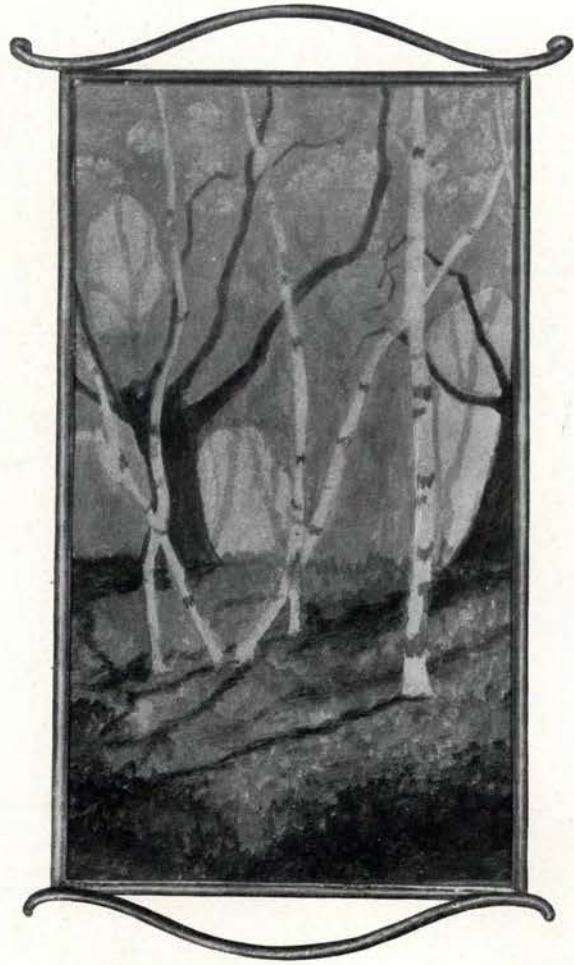

STUDENT BODY MEETING

THE STUDENT ASSEMBLY

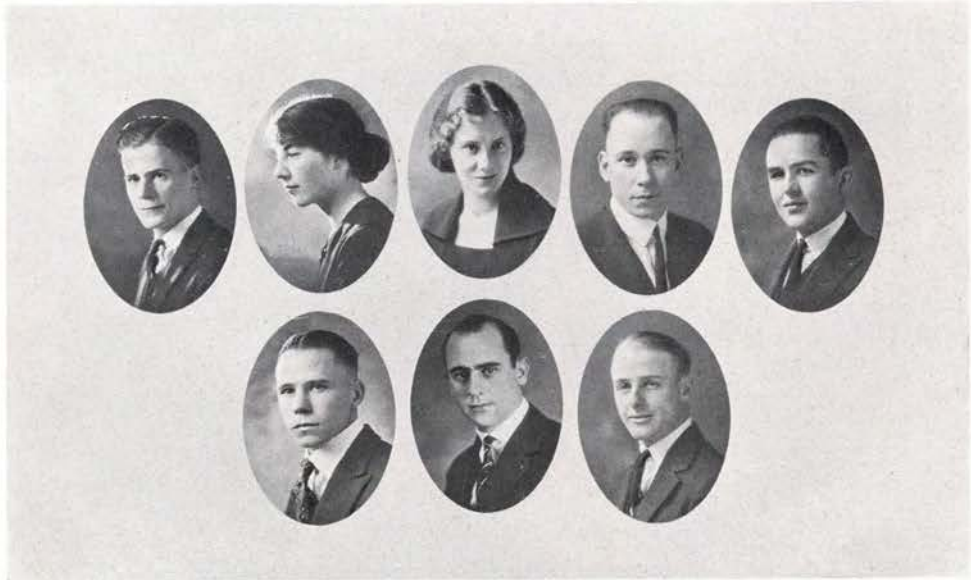

Regular meetings of the Associated Student Body of O. A. C. are held every other week during an hour on Wednesday given over for that purpose. These meetings are presided over by the Student Body President who is elected in the spring of each year from the Junior class. At this same time other student officers are elected by the student body.

These assemblies afford a place where all matters, having a direct bearing upon the activities of the student body can be discussed and provided for. Traditional O. A. C. spirit is manifested as a group and by each class. During athletic seasons pep rallies are frequently held and heartily supported by the Student Body. Worthy movements are encouraged and carried on under the direction of this organization. Among them have been the Near East Relief and Student Friendship Fund Drives.

This self-governing group holds an important place on the campus as it is composed of every student, each of whom contributes to its advancement.

COACH R. B. RUTHERFORD

R. B. Rutherford, director of athletics, has established one of the best balanced coaching staffs on the coast. There is a balance to his corps of coaches that well characterizes most of the Aggie teams, and all down the line of men of ability in this list of true "Fighting Aggie" coaches. He stands for the best there is in true athletic sportsmanship. While at the college he has created a fighting spirit in his athletic teams worthy of the name "Fighting Aggies," and the student body are behind him win or lose. During Rutherford's college days at Nebraska he was picked for Walter Camp's All-American football team, and was also on the varsity basketball, wrestling, and baseball teams.

R. B. RUTHERFORD
Head Coach

MICHAEL BUTLER
Trainer

G. L. RATHBUN
Assistant Coach

LOCEY, Tackle
Captain and Captain-elect

Bart Spellman, line coach of the University of Oregon, says of Locey:
"This fellow Locey is my ideal of a tackle. He is one of the very best I ever saw, and I have seen some good ones. I have yet to see him make a poor play, and as for consistently making yardage through him, it can't be done."
Locey will again captain the team, a signal honor.

McKENNA, Quarter

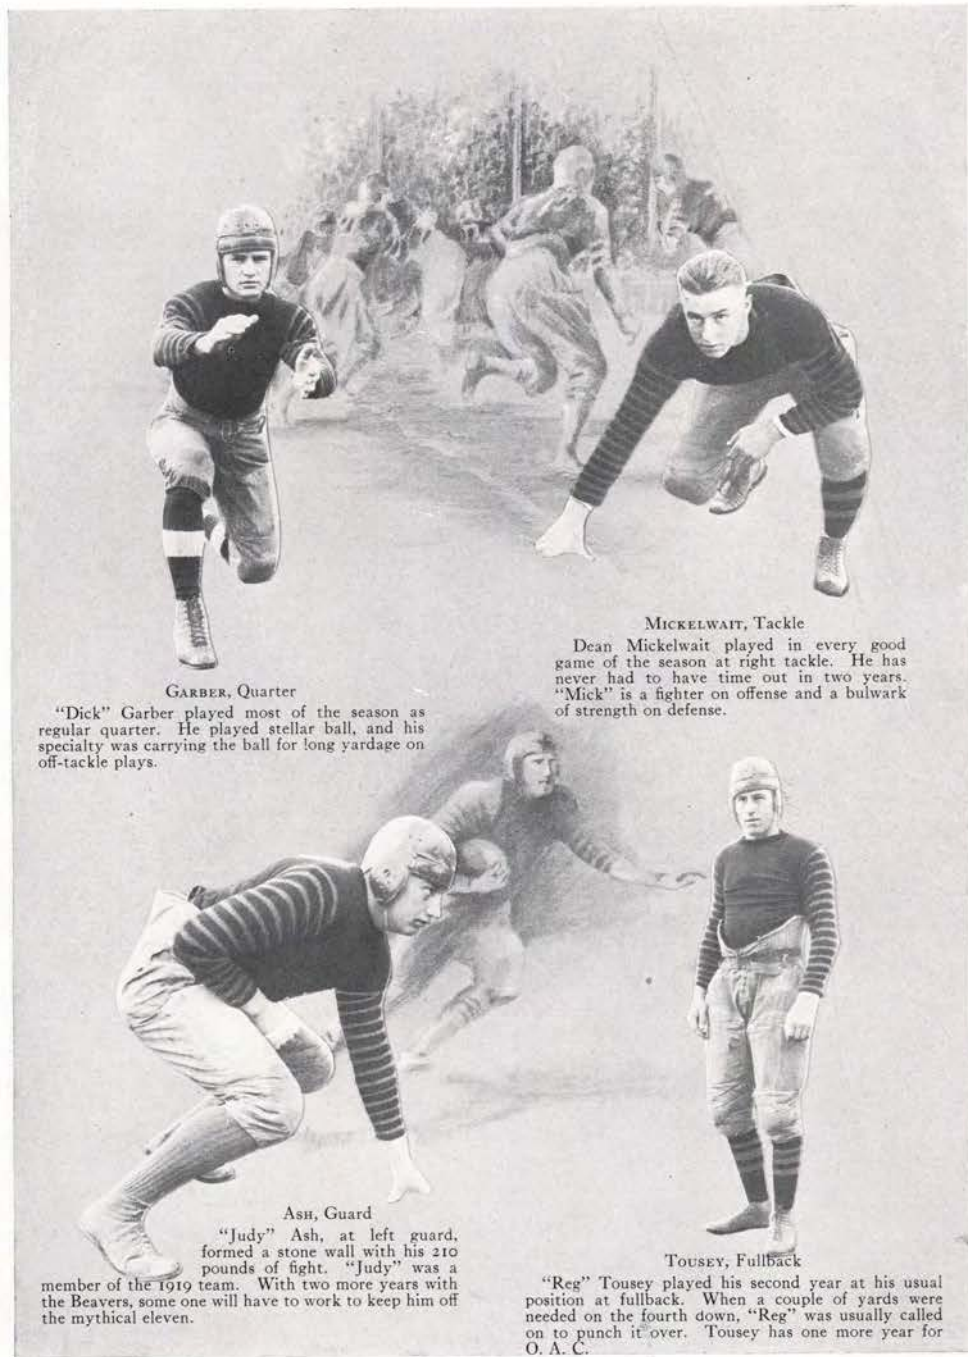

"Husky" McKenna, past Aggie field general, proved his ability as a brainy quarter and a marvel at open field running in the last game of the season with W. S. C. For three years "Husky" has fought, and his loss will be keenly felt.

MILLER, Half

"Ev" Miller, the fleet half from California, is one of the neatest backfield men on the "Aggie" squad. His flawless defense and punting ability should make him a candidate for mythical honors next year.

McFADDEN, End

"Mac" McFadden for three years has held down his regular position at left end. "Mac" is one of the most aggressive offensive players on the team, being unexcelled in his ability for nailing forward passes. "Mac" is going to leave a big gap to fill by his graduation.

GARBER, Quarter

"Dick" Garber played most of the season as regular quarter. He played stellar ball, and his specialty was carrying the ball for long yardage on off-tackle plays.

MICKELWAIT, Tackle

Dean Mickelwait played in every good game of the season at right tackle. He has never had to have time out in two years. "Mick" is a fighter on offense and a bulwark of strength on defense.

ASH, Guard

"Judy" Ash, at left guard, formed a stone wall with his 210 pounds of fight. "Judy" was a member of the 1919 team. With two more years with the Beavers, some one will have to work to keep him off the mythical eleven.

TOUSEY, Fullback

"Reg" Tousey played his second year at his usual position at fullback. When a couple of yards were needed on the fourth down, "Reg" was usually called on to punch it over. Tousey has one more year for O. A. C.

SCOTT, End

"Scottie" Scott was out of the lineup last year because of illness, but he came back this year and proved himself a real veteran at end. Scott was a sure tackle and got down on his share of punts. "Scottie" will be a valuable man on the team next year.

RICH

"Herb" Rich made a name for himself during his first year of varsity football by his accurate passing and speed on offense. He raises the beam at about 185 pounds. Herb is a comer for next year.

GILL, Half

"Luke" Gill played his usual style of vicious football for the second season with the "Fighting Aggies." "Luke" is a triple threat man, as he is an accurate punter, passer, and consistent yardage gainer. He is especially dangerous in open field running.

CLARK, Guard

"Ed" Clark is another third year man on the team. When the opponents wanted to make yardage, for some reason they evaded "Ed's" guard position. Although "Ed" balanced the scales near the two hundred pound mark, he was the fastest man on the team.

LYMAN, Guard

"Mose" Lyman didn't get into the regular lineup until late in the season, but a good man can't be kept out all of the time, and "Mose" fills a wide hole at guard.

WINNE, Substitute

Bert Winne is considered the fight'nest backfield man on the "Aggie" squad. Always eager to be in the game, a stone-wall in backing up the line, Winne should be a big factor in a strong team next year.

HJELTE, Center

Marshall "Mush" Hjelte, playing his first year of football, alternated with Rich at center. His height and long arms made him a wicked man on defense. He will not be back next year, but while here he filled his position well.

TEBB, Substitute

"Fritz" Tebb introduced himself to the conference this year as a substitute end. With two more years on the varsity, one of the end positions will be well taken care of.

THE 1924 BEAVERS

Ben Carpenter is one of the husky recruits from last year's rook team. Substituting a while at fullback and then at end, Ben lacked only a few minutes of winning the coveted Varsity "O" sweater.

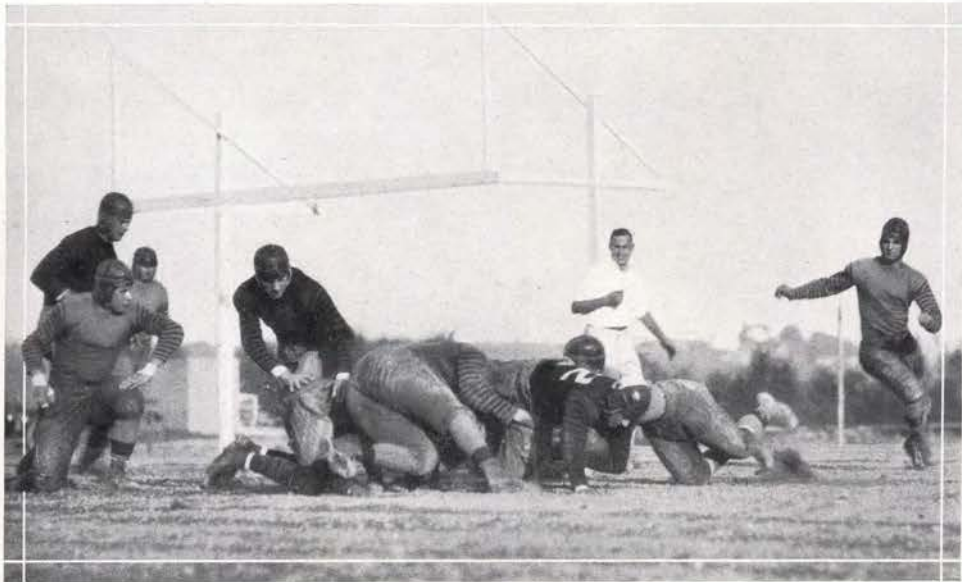

CARPENTER, Substitute

"Lead" Day did not get quite enough time in for his letter but was a big help as substitute fullback. Day captained the rook team last year. Good men cannot be kept off the varsity every year, so look out for him in the future.

MCCARTY, Substitute

"Truck" McCarty upheld the family gridiron name which was started by his brother "Babe." This is his first season in conference competition. His punting ability and consistent yardage gaining will be a valuable asset for the Beavers.

O. A. C. GOES THROUGH WASHINGTON LINE. WASHINGTON GAME

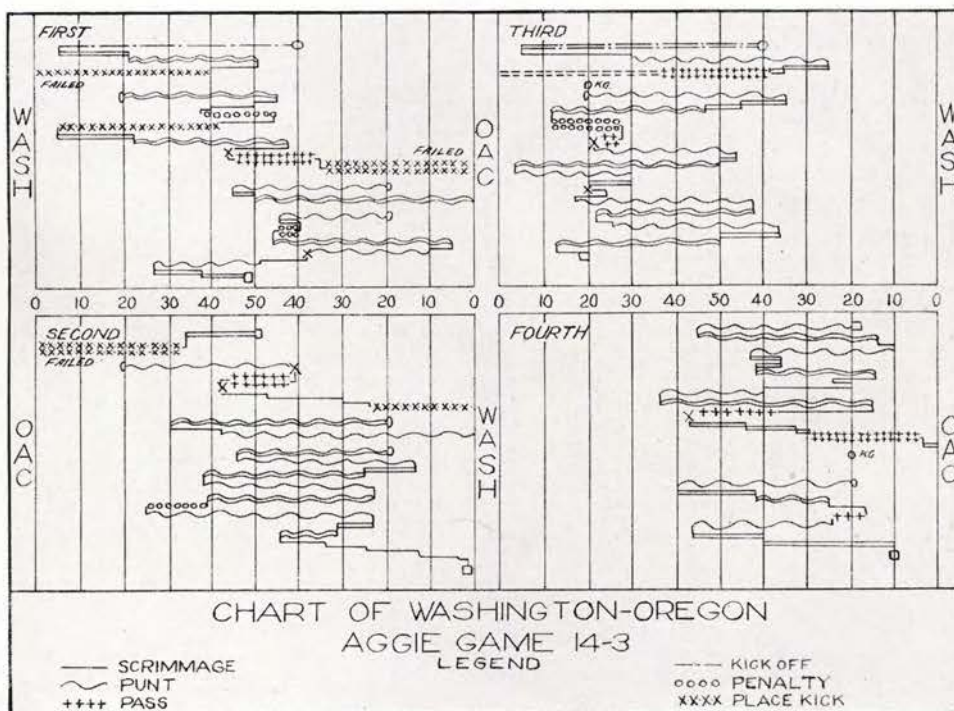

O. A. C. LINES UP. STANFORD GAME.

REVIEW of FOOTBALL SEASON of 1922

After battling against adversity, misfortune and injuries, the "Fighting Aggies" finished their third season under Coach Rutherford by handing the W. S. C. aggregation a 16 to 0 trimming on the Multnomah field in Portland. The victory was all the more glorious since W. S. C. was doped to win handily.

The season started on the Bell field against the light, fast machine from Pacific University. The Orange and Black came out with the long end of a 3 to 0 score after 60 minutes of indifferent playing. The score was no indication of the strength of the Varsity since the first string did not enter the game until shortly before the final whistle.

After a monster parade and pep rally ending at the S. P. depot, the team took the train for Seattle to meet the strong Washington aggregation. More than 400 rabid rooters followed in cars, trains, and "on the rods." Arriving in Seattle they paralyzed the business district by parading around the main streets for an hour or more. Shortly after the game started, Garber, the Aggie field general, kicked a field goal, putting O. A. C. in the lead 3 to 0. Washington retaliated by making a touchdown, which made the score read 7 to 3. In the second half after fighting gamely, the Aggie line was crossed for another touchdown. Defeated but not discouraged, the "Fighting Aggies" returned home with the short end of a 14 to 3 score.

Stanford was the next opponent of the Aggies. The teams were evenly matched. A break in the game decided the final outcome. "Truck" McCart, the O. A. C. punter in place of Gill, kicked out from under his own goal, but instead of the ball going straight down the field it went out of bounds a scant 10 yards from the line of scrimmage. This gave Stanford an advantage which was too much to overcome. A few minutes later the score read Stanford 6, O. A. C. 0. The rest of the game was a see saw affair with neither team having much advantage. "Ev" Miller, the fleet Orange and Black halfback, brought the crowd to their feet late in the second half with a long end run that netted 30 yards and put the Stanford goal in danger. Stanford rallied, however, and O. A. C. was unable to score. The "Fighting Aggies" were handicapped by the absence of "Hard Luke" Gill, the regular punter and halfback, who made such a name for himself in the Washington game.

O. A. C. HOLDS 'EM. OREGON GAME.

REVIEW of FOOTBALL SEASON of 1922

On November 4, Portland's followers of the gridiron, were treated to a rare exhibition between the Multnomah Club and the Orange and Black aggregations. Before the game the Portland papers could not concede O. A. C. even a fighting chance. The teams battled evenly and but for a blocked kick and a recovery behind the line the game would have been scoreless. One thing was clearly evident during the whole 60 minutes, and that was the fact that O. A. C. had a line of which to be proud. "Fritz" Tebb took McFadden's place at end and performed in a creditable manner.

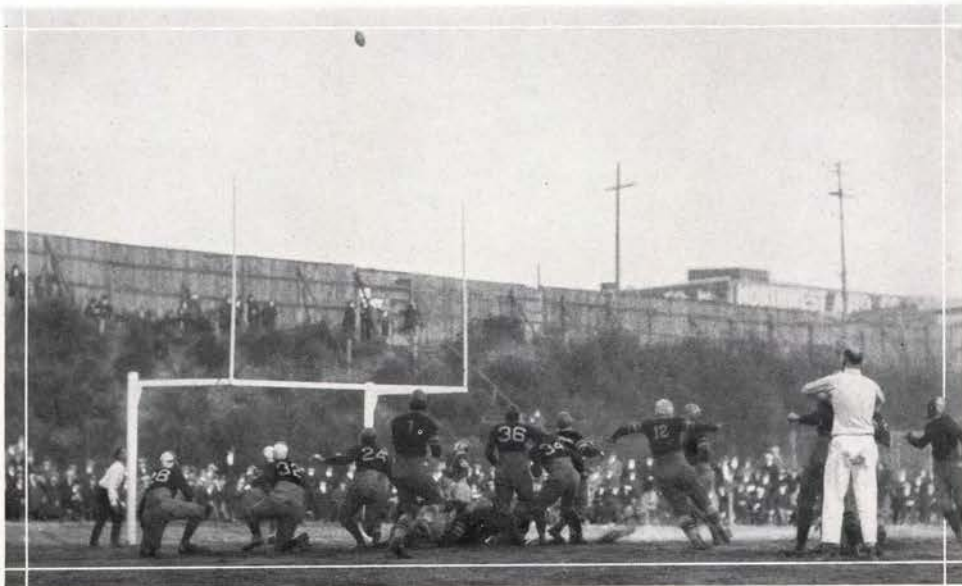

The evening of November 17 looms large in the memories of Corvallis residents. It marked the greatest pep rally ever staged at O. A. C., and the eve of the annual struggle with Oregon. Every conceivable way of making noise was used, from a steam roller to circular saws. The parade was formed on the campus and the "angry mob" marched through town and back to the Armory. There pep speeches were given, the tumbling team performed, the yell leader "did his stuff," and finally the new song, "Beaver Fight," was sung, first by the Men's Glee Club accompanied by the band, and then by the great crowd.

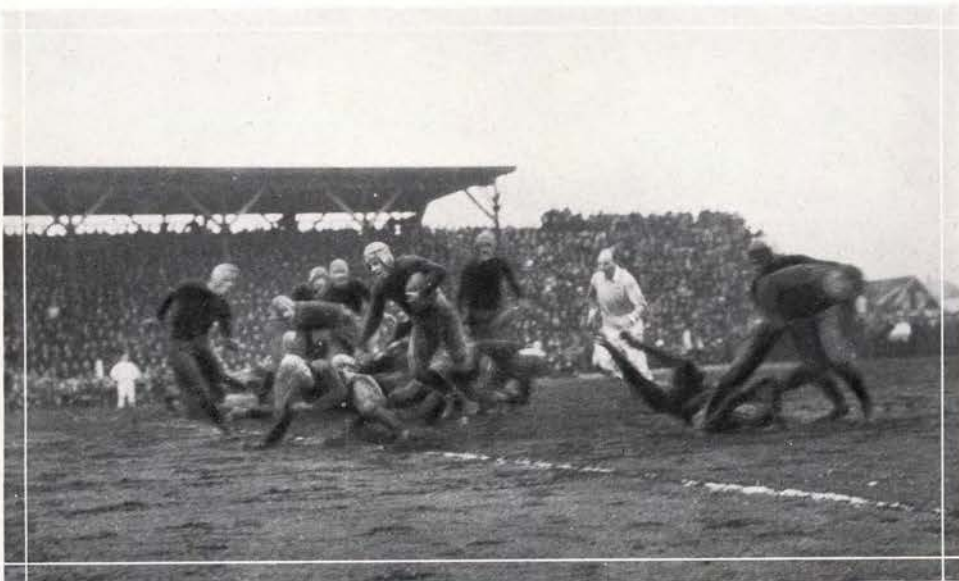

REVIEW of FOOTBALL SEASON of 1922

November 18 was the fateful day, another game with Oregon went into history. Probably the largest crowd that ever witnessed a football game in the state of Oregon was on hand at the kickoff. Scarcely three minutes after the start of the game, Chapman, the Oregon field general, kicked the ball squarely between the goal posts for the first score Oregon had made against O. A. C. in three years! A few minutes later an O. A. C. punt was blocked and recovered behind the line by the lemon-yellow center. After goal was kicked the score read Oregon 10, O. A. C. 0—and before the game had more than well begun. The rest was simply two evenly matched teams fighting on the gridiron with neither apparently having the advantage. There was no further scoring. Beaten but not discouraged the "Fighting Aggies" showed their true worth against W. S. C. the next week-end at Portland.

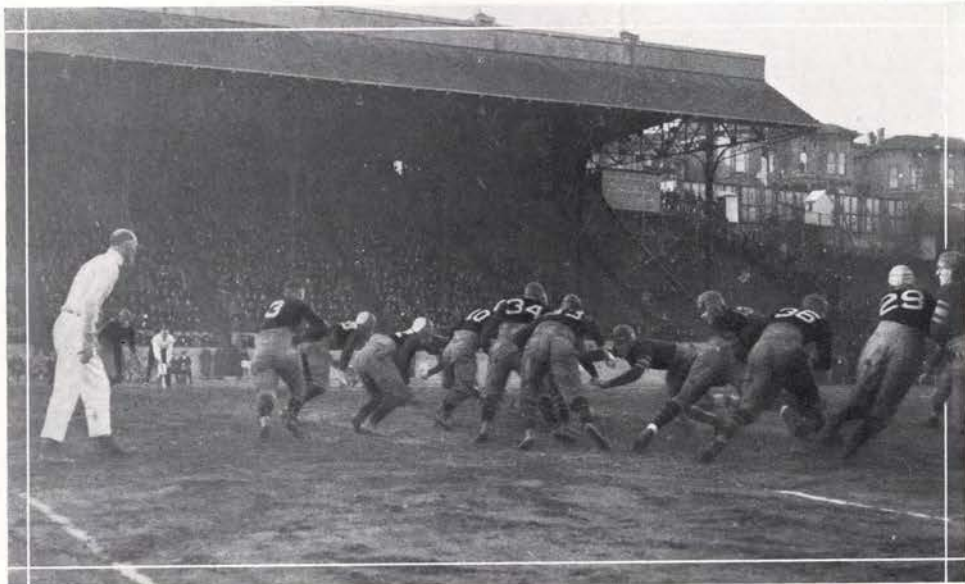

This year has seen a big change in the attitude toward football. It is a known fact that the spirit has been better than ever before. The student body is behind Coach Rutherford and his Orange and Black warriors to a man. A consistently winning team is not turned out in a year. With only three veterans missing and Captain Locey again to lead the gridsters, the prospects are brighter than ever for O. A. C.

TRAINING TABLE

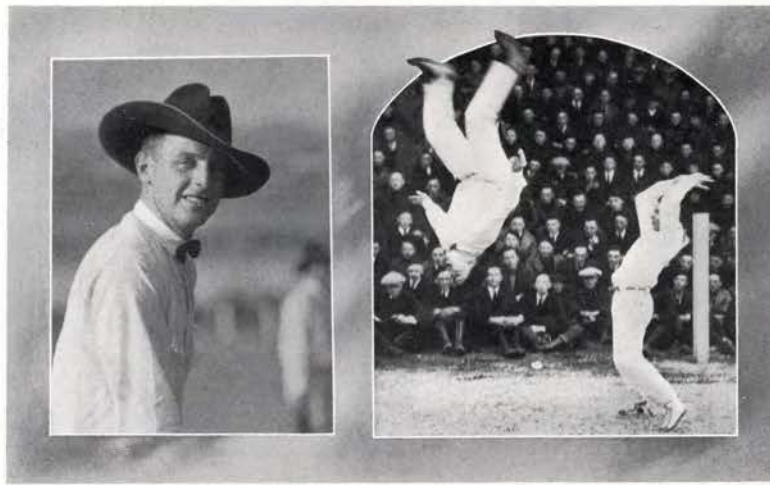

TRAINING TABLE

Three ordinary squares a day will merely keep a gridiron squad from starving. The secret of the good condition of O. A. C. football teams is the training table in the Home Economics tea room. The meals served by the tea room dieticians are planned for the development of sturdy athletes. Big juicy steaks cooked rare, toast crisp through and through, big baked potatoes that rival the prizes of the Pullman diner—all topped off with ice-cream, that has really passed through the rich cream channels of a dairy barn. This is the fare the Aggie gridsters live on during the season.

VIEW OF FIELD, OREGON GAME

YELL LEADERS

Two things make a rally successful—a good live pep-crowd and two acrobatic O. A. C. yell leaders. The rallies of this year were successful. Our yell leaders have made national names for themselves. They delighted the crowds with their antics and lead them in mighty cheers. The untiring efforts of this acrobatic, yell leading duet have contributed more than their allotted share to the success of the Orange and Black athletic teams.

GRANDSTAND DURING OREGON GAME

R. H. "Bob" HAGER, Coach

Coach Hager or "Bob," as he is better known by all those who have worked with him, came to the Aggie camp in 1920 from the Y. M. C. A. of Oakland, Calif. His college days were spent with the "Cornhuskers" of Nebraska. Since "Bob" has been here on the campus, he has coached winning freshmen football and basketball teams. This year he coached the varsity basketball team to third place in the coast conference.

HJELTE, Center, Captain

"Mush" Hjelte, the elongated Aggie center who captained the team, played his second year with the Beavers and was high point man on the team. He always got the tip off and was a powerful factor in the offensive. Graduation and Mrs. "Mush" will keep him away from us next year.

GILL, Forward, Captain-elect
"Slats" Gill, the flashy forward, was probably the most guarded man in the conference. Last year he was selected as an all-conference guard, and with "Slats" at the helm, next year's prospects look bright.

STEELE, Guard
Carlos Steele was another recruit from last year's rook team. He played a spectacular game at guard during the whole season. When dope advertised the most dangerous man on the opposing teams the situation was solved by turning Steele on him.

"Red" Ridings played his first year on the team this year at forward. "Red" was in every play every minute which made him a good running mate for Gill. With this years' experience, he will give some one a hard run for conference honors.

RIDINGS, Forward

"Johnnie" Johnson played his first varsity basketball this year as substitute guard and forward. Though not a winner of a letter this year he hopes to capture one in the future, as he has two more years to go.

JOHNSON, Substitute

McMULLEN, Guard

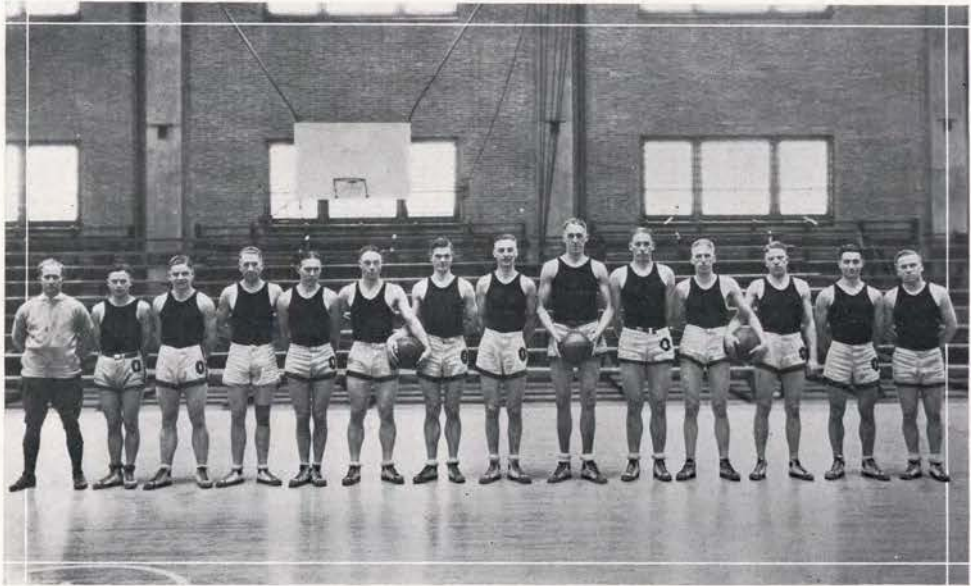

Tom McMullen, a first year man, started the season at substitute forward but was switched to guard. Tom was a close checker, smooth passer and usually could be counted on for a goodly number of points.

PERRY, Substitute

Glen Perry played some fast games as reserve guard and won himself a place in the hearts of basketball fans whenever he played. Perry has another year ahead of him and is expected to show up strong.

LYMAN, Substitute

"Mose" Lyman was substituting for the center position. He is a valuable man on the squad, with his height and smooth floor work. "Mose" is expected to be in the winning "Aggie" five next year.

BASKETBALL TEAM

BASKETBALL SEASON of 1923

The O. A. C. basketeers, playing their first season under Coach "Bob" Hager, fought their way against keen competition to third place in the Pacific Coast Conference. Starting on the home floor after a hard barnstorming trip in which eleven games were played, the Aggies took Willamette into camp to the tune of 38 to 19. Whitman was the next victim, losing 19 to 28. Here Dame Fortune deserted the Aggie camp. The night before the Idaho game, Captain "Pug" Ross was declared ineligible, having played a few games for Willamette when the Idaho coach was there three years ago. This left the Aggies with only one guard, "Sunshine" Richards not having returned to school, and "Luke" Gill with an injured shoulder from football. The game the following night was a thriller from start to finish. Both teams fought desperately with Idaho in the lead until a few minutes before the final whistle when O. A. C. tied the score. In a desperate attempt to prevent Fox, the Idaho captain, from scoring, "Slats" Gill fouled, as the final whistle blew. The Vandal captain missed the first shot but got the second one giving Idaho the game 22 to 23.

Washington invaded the Aggie camp with a strong team fully confident of taking the game, but at the end of two torrid halves the score read Washington 28, O. A. C. 35. The Oregon game was a thriller but the Aggie basketeers demonstrated their superiority in every part of the game, the score ending 42 to 33 with Oregon on the short end.

THE AGGIES PRACTICE

BASKETBALL SEASON of 1923

The W. S. C. game was a superb demonstration of two strong teams both using the five man defense system in a furious contest. The checking of the Cougar team was flawless but the accuracy of the Aggies on long shots was the deciding factor of the game, the final score reading 24 to 15.

In the return game with Oregon at Eugene, O. A. C. lost the first basketball game to the lemon and yellow in three years. The score was 31 to 24 in favor of Oregon. A few days later the team went to Salem and came back with the Bearcat scalp dangling at their belts with a 39 to 13 victory.

The northern trip resulted in losing two and winning two, the team dropping games to W. S. C. and Idaho and winning from Washington and Whitman. This gave us third place in the Pacific Coast Conference and tied for second with Washington in the Northwest Conference. The last game played was with the Multnomah Club team at Portland which the Aggies won 37 to 29.

The basketball season was highly satisfactory, although the Aggies did not win the championship they gave the winners a hard race. This year proved to the followers of the Orange and Black that the coach is a master of basketball and above all a thorough sportsman. Next year the same team will be back with the exception of "Mush" Hjelte, who has deserted the Aggies for the fields of matrimony. Even without him the prospects of another consistently winning team are bright.

GUY L. RATHBUN, Coach

Coach Guy L. Rathbun came to O. A. C. from Indiana University in 1920. Since that time he has been a valuable asset to the Aggie athletic department. Rathbun coached the wrestling and baseball teams this year and is assistant football coach. He has turned out a championship team in wrestling each year and has never lost a varsity contest with Oregon in wrestling or baseball.

Fish, Captain
 "Bud" Fish has been one of the most reliable wrestlers O. A. C. has had. Speed, aggressiveness, and science combined, make "Bud" one of the classiest products of the 145 pound division ever turned out at O. A. C.

"Bob" Fulton, 125 and 135 pounds, did splendid work for O. A. C. this season. This is Bob's third year, and he will receive his third letter and a blanket. Bob has been a consistent winner, and will be missed next year.

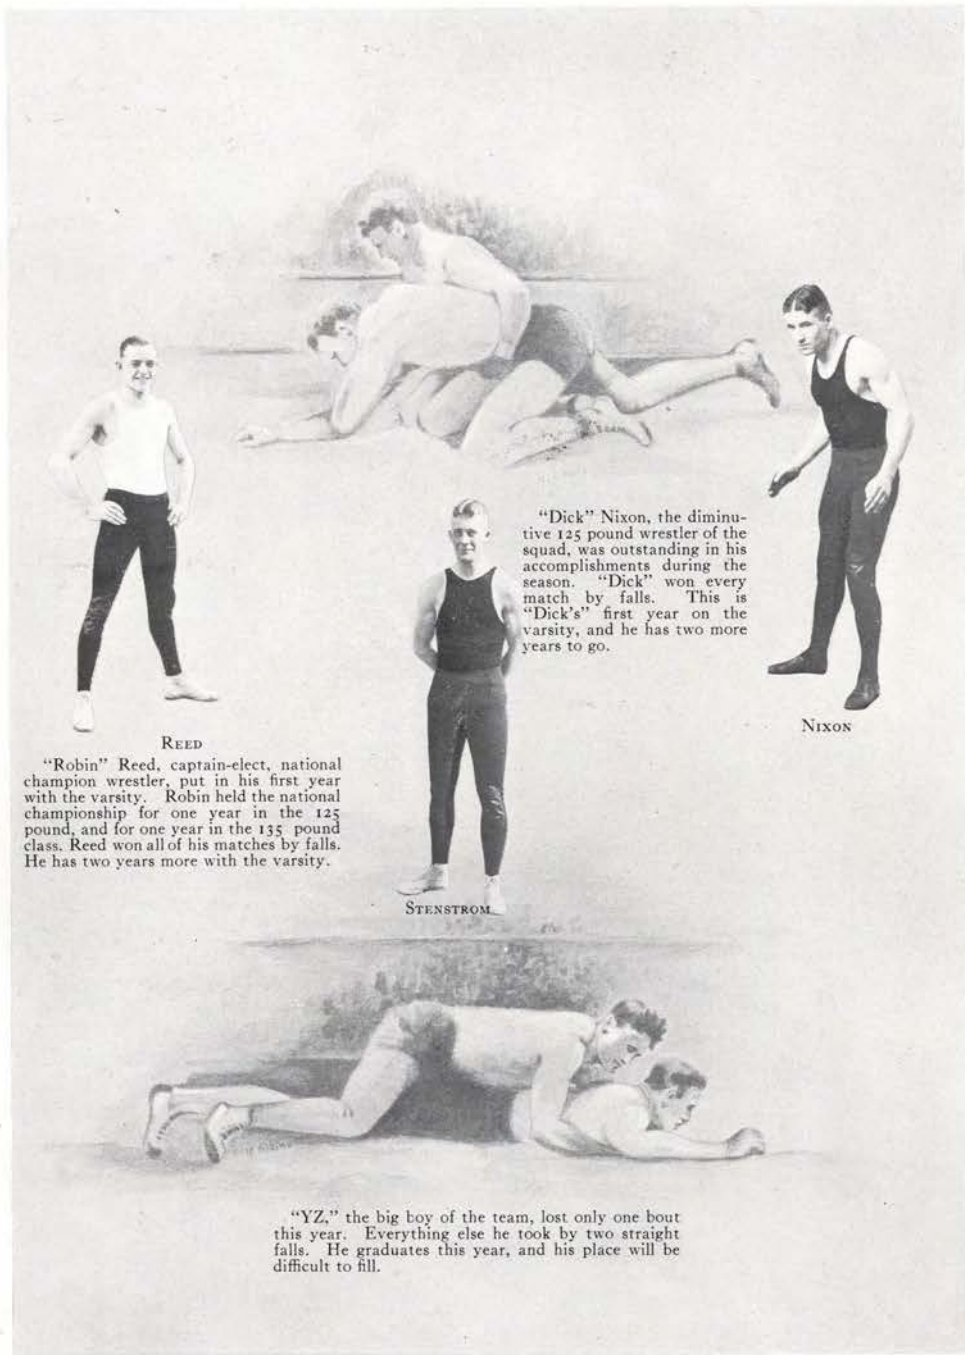

FULTON

COYNER

"Puss" Coyner, Northwest champion, 158 pounds, has never lost a bout in three years of conference wrestling. He is a winner of the coveted blanket, and will be hard to replace next year.

REED

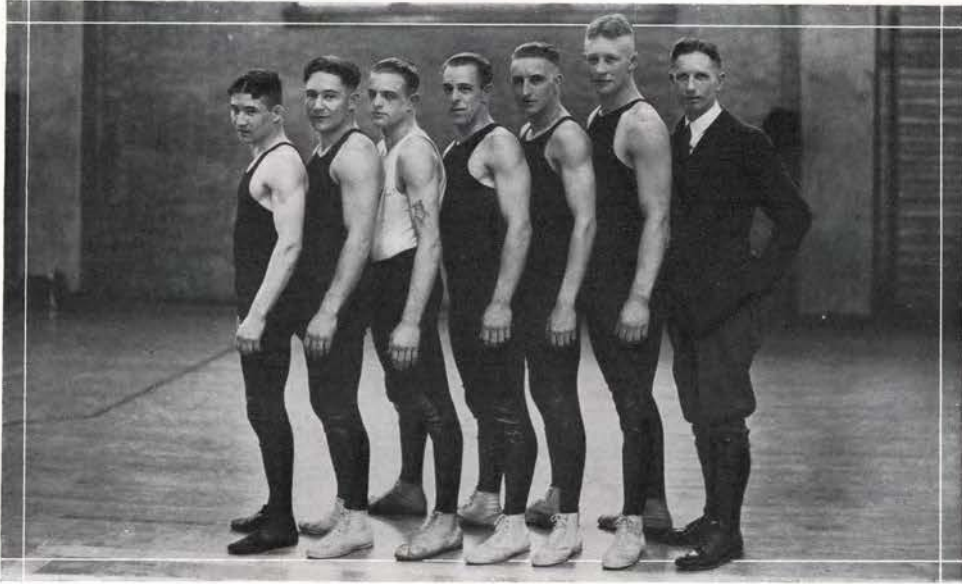

"Robin" Reed, captain-elect, national champion wrestler, put in his first year with the varsity. Robin held the national championship for one year in the 125 pound, and for one year in the 135 pound class. Reed won all of his matches by falls. He has two years more with the varsity.

"Dick" Nixon, the diminutive 125 pound wrestler of the squad, was outstanding in his accomplishments during the season. "Dick" won every match by falls. This is "Dick's" first year on the varsity, and he has two more years to go.

NIXON

STENSTROM

"YZ," the big boy of the team, lost only one bout this year. Everything else he took by two straight falls. He graduates this year, and his place will be difficult to fill.

WRESTLING TEAM

WRESTLING

Coach Guy L. Rathbun's wrestlers lived up to all previous expectations this year. After defeating the Oregon wrestlers 38 to 0 and 40 to 0 our grapplers invaded the University of Washington camp and won a hard contest from a strong aggregation by the score of 24 to 12. W. S. C. met our men at Corvallis for the last meet in which Captain Fish, Fulton, Coyner and Stenstrom showed the "Beaver Fight" for the last time. After losing 38 to 0, the W. S. C. coach congratulated Coach Rathbun as having the best balanced amateur wrestling team he had ever seen.

Since our team only lost two bouts during the entire season, the Aggie fans wanted a match with the California colleges. Satisfactory negotiations could not be made so the Aggie rooters had to forego the pleasure of seeing their wrestlers in action again.

G. L. RATHBUN, Coach

Coach Guy L. Rathbun's motto is, "It is not what you have done, but what you are going to do now that counts." His knowledge of baseball and his method of coaching enabled the team to play a clean, hard game, a standard for which O. A. C. strives.

BABB, Captain

Bert Babb was one of the best captains that O. A. C. has ever been able to claim on a baseball team. Bert was also one of our most consistent winners on the mound. This was Bert's third year on the varsity, and he will be decidedly missed next season.

McKENNA

"Husky" McKenna, captain-elect, was back on the job for his second year. The shortstop district is always safe with Husky drifting around over it, and his excellent batting will again be available for the Aggies.

SUMMERS

"Stan" Summers won his third letter this season in the outfield. He caused many fielders worry and brought grief to many pitchers when he smashed out his long hits. The Beavers will miss "Stan" next season.

BOOTH

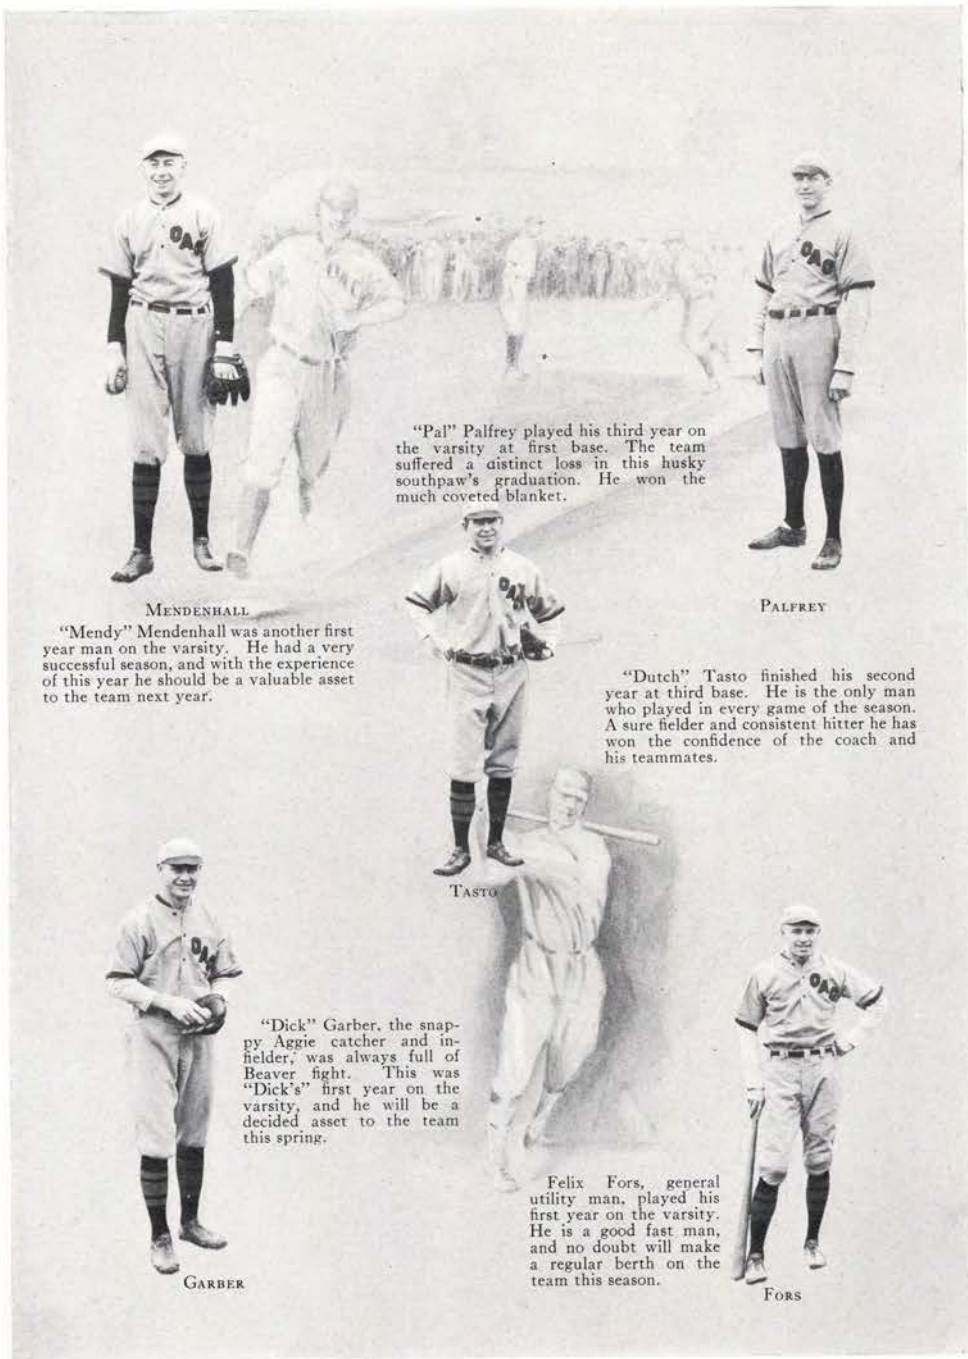

Claude Booth, outfielder, played his second year with the varsity. He is usually banked on for a pinch hitter and rarely fails. Twice he has won the game from W. S. C. by connecting with the pill in a pinch.

DUFFY

"Mike" Duffy performed behind the bat in great form in his second season. "Mike" had several home runs to his credit during the year, and his encouragement and chatter during the game helped greatly to bolster the morale.

KASBERGER

Joe Kasberger spent the best part of the season in the pitcher's box, but occasionally worked at third. This was Joe's last year on the varsity. His fighting spirit and excellent playing will be keenly missed.

MENDENHALL

"Mendy" Mendenhall was another first year man on the varsity. He had a very successful season, and with the experience of this year he should be a valuable asset to the team next year.

PALFREY

"Pal" Palfrey played his third year on the varsity at first base. The team suffered a distinct loss in this husky southpaw's graduation. He won the much coveted blanket.

TASTO

"Dutch" Tasto finished his second year at third base. He is the only man who played in every game of the season. A sure fielder and consistent hitter he has won the confidence of the coach and his teammates.

GARBER

"Dick" Garber, the snappy Aggie catcher and infielder, was always full of Beaver fight. This was "Dick's" first year on the varsity, and he will be a decided asset to the team this spring.

Felix Fors, general utility man, played his first year on the varsity. He is a good fast man, and no doubt will make a regular berth on the team this season.

FORS

"Tom" Rippey was a recruit from last year's rook team, but won himself a regular berth in the outfield. He has the reputation of being a sure hitter, and his batting average was close to the top.

SHADE
"Jack" Shade won his first letter during his senior year because of his bee line hits and sure fielding. "Jack" usually delivered the goods when he was sent in as a pinch hitter.

PERRY
Glen Perry, the new first baseman, proved his steadiness both in the field and at the batter's box. We are counting on Perry to be a great aid in grabbing the pennant this spring.

TAGGART
"Okie" Taggart spent his first year on the diamond, performing on the mound. He throws a characteristic hook which causes many a wasted swing for opposing batters. "Okie" has two more years to fool 'em.

RIPPEY
"Dewey" Holmquist, another recruit, was one of the regular outfielders of the season. "Dewey" was under every fly ball in his territory. He will be with us two more seasons.

BASEBALL BLEACHERS

BASEBALL SEASON of 1922

The first few days of the season were welcomed by warm, sunny days. When the sore arm stage was over, the weather man decided we needed more rain. Most all of the preliminary games had to be called off, and as a result a smooth combination could not be selected before the conference games began.

The first of the conference found the Aggies in foreign territory crossing bats with the University of Washington, Washington State College, Gonzaga, and Whitman College. Three out of the seven games were won on this trip. Return games were played on the home field with these teams later in the season.

Many different combinations were used during the season. The battery men were: Duffy and Garber, catchers; Captain "Bert" Babb, Taggert, Mendenhall, and Boone, twirlers; Palfrey and Perry played first base; "Huskie" McKenna and Fors second base; Joe Kasberger, shortstop; Tasto, third base; Shade, Booth, Holmquist, Rippey, Summers, in the outer gardens.

PRAYING AGGIES

MICHAEL H. "Dad" BUTLER, Aggie track coach and trainer of all athletic teams, has been with the Aggies for four years. His track teams have been a superbly balanced outfit. Butler is considered one of the greatest living trainers produced in America. With a smile for everyone, a kind word of encouragement or advice, "Dad" has won a place in the heart of every student.

BUTLER, Coach

"Mac" Snook excells in the sprints and broad jump. He proved himself a century king in the meets despite 10 flat competition. Snook was a first place man in three events in the W. S. C. meet making him high point man. This is "Mac's" third year on the varsity and his place will be hard to fill.

SNOOK, Captain

HOLLINGER, Captain-elect
 Captain-elect "Mert" Hollinger ranked high in quarter mile circles and won most of his races during the year. His consistent speed made him one of Butler's most dependable relay men. Great things are expected of "Mert" during his last year.

SWAN
 "Doc" Swan proved himself the best on the coast, making a coast record in the mile, and was never defeated in this event. The conference opponents are happy to think that they will not have to compete against him again.

DRAPER
 "Slats" Draper always took his share of the points in every track meet. The team will miss Draper in the high and low sticks and the high jump next year.

DODGE
 This is Ray's first year on the varsity but his powerful legs netted him the Pacific Coast championship in the half-mile. We expect Ray in his two remaining years to beat his own record.

MILLER

Everett "Ev" Miller, besides being a football man, is one of the fastest 440 men at O. A. C. "Ev" won his letter on the relay team. Matrimonial reasons kept him from returning this season.

TAYLOR

"Chuck" Taylor answered "Dad's" call for heavy weight men and made good. The graduation of "Chuck" leaves a pair of shoes which will be difficult to fill on the varsity.

CONNET

Darwin Connet, one of the speedy men of the Aggie track team, made his letter this year in the conference meet at Seattle. Connet will be eligible for track again this season, and is expected to do excellent work.

STONE

Harold Stone won first place in the 440 against W. S. C. He ran on the two-mile relay team that established a carnival record of 8 minutes 0½ seconds at U. of W. Stone will be with us again next year.

"Curley" Dolton won the javelin throw in the conference mix against W. S. C. and Oregon. In the Oregon relays he also won the cup for first place in the pentathlon. Dolton will be a valuable man on the team next year.

DOLTON

"Art" Walker ran on the relay team and also showed his spikes to all opponents in the two mile run. "Art" has two more years with the "Fighting Aggies."

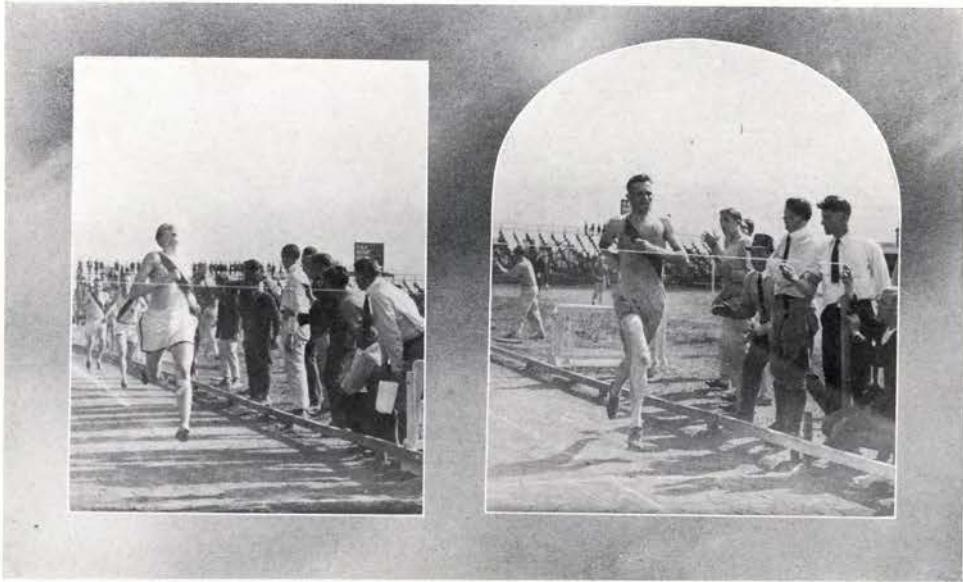

WALKER

Fred Osborn vaulted into conference competition for his first year, winning in his event from W. S. C. by flying over the pole at the twelve-foot level. The pole is waiting for "Os's" company one more year.

OSBORN

"Hank" Gerhart, proved himself a point getter in the high and low hurdles and the sprints. "Hank" won the 220 low hurdles against Oregon and W. S. C. and the high hurdles against W. S. C.

TRACK SEASON of 1922

During the 1922 track season coach "Dad" Butler's cinder artists won three firsts and two seconds out of five meets entered. The first meet, the Oregon relays at Eugene, was won by a score of 53 to 47.

FINISH OF 220 AT W. S. C.

STOCKMAN

The next meet was the Washington relay at Seattle. The meet was close from the beginning, with O. A. C. and U. of W. fighting for first place, Washington finally winning by one and one-half points, the score being 25 to 23½.

Junior week-end the Beavers met their old rivals, University of Oregon, on Bell field. The Aggies won this meet, 71 to 60.

The next meet was held with W. S. C. at Pullman. The Aggies won the meet by a score of 71½ points to 49½ for W. S. C.

The last meet of the season was the conference meet at Seattle. Washington finally won, having 56 2-3 points to 49 1-3 for the Aggies.

COACH SIMMS

REVIEW of TENNIS SEASON of 1922

Bennett T. Simms, varsity tennis coach, has had charge of tennis since it was made a minor sport two years ago. Last year, the second year of O. A. C.'s tennis history, Coach B. T. Simms developed a team which suffered but one defeat during the entire year. This year Coach Simms has a world of material and promises a team that will take the championship of the Northwest.

Joy, Captain

"Ken" Joy, first man on the team, did a great deal toward placing the Aggies in second place in the conference. "Ken" was A. E. F. champion during the war, and his playing will be missed next season.

MABERLY

"Tom" Maberly, the southpaw of the team, was one of the steadiest racquet wielders on the court. This was Tom's last year, and he will be greatly missed this spring.

KINCAID, Captain-elect

"Pink" Kincaid played third man on the team last season, and went through the season without a defeat. "Pink" is expected to pilot the team to a conference championship this year.

JOHNSON

"R. G." Johnson, the elevated slicker for the Aggies, played his first year for the college. He was fifth man on the team and played in the second doubles. "R. G." will probably be one of the best men on the team this season.

PARNIN

"Parnie" Parnin held down fourth place on the varsity last season. "Parnie" plays a driving game that is hard to beat. "Parnie" will be a valuable asset to the team next season.

COACH RUTHERFORD

SWIMMING

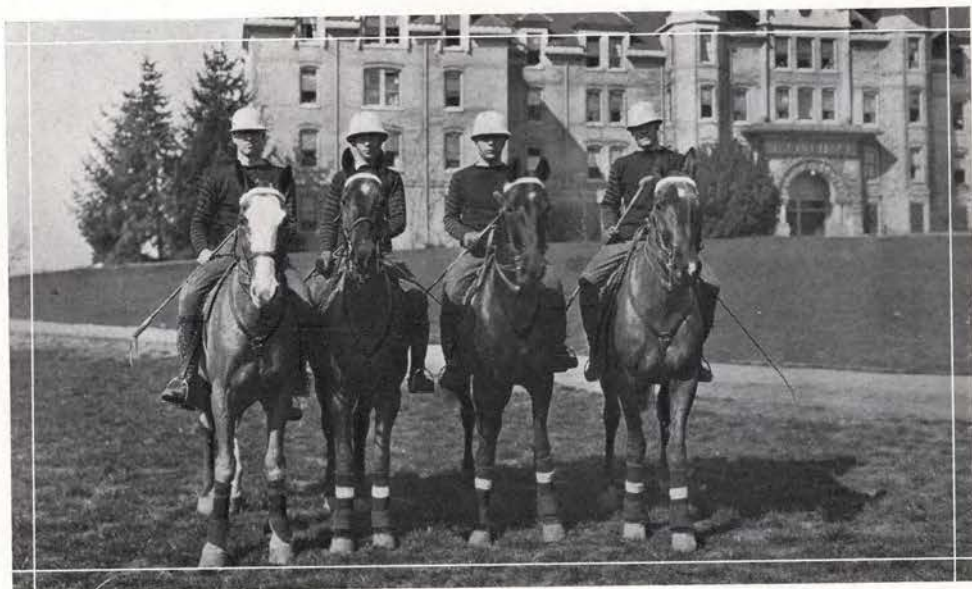

In the first intercollegiate swimming meet in the new tank the Aggie swimmers outplashed the Oregon contingent to the tune of 49 to 19. — Baxter and Carpenter were the two swimming stars of the event. "Max" Turner broke the college record with a plunge of 63 feet 11 inches. Julian Burroughs, the diminutive tow-headed Aggie diver, made 102.3 in competitive diving and the best Oregon could muster was 64.8.

SWIMMING TEAM

On account of the success of the soccer team last year, the North Pacific Dental College was the only school that would risk games with the Aggies this year. Men who participated in this sport included Borgeson, Poole, Sweeney, Rippey, Merryfield, Sigle, Snook, Cummins, Baxter, and Porterfield.

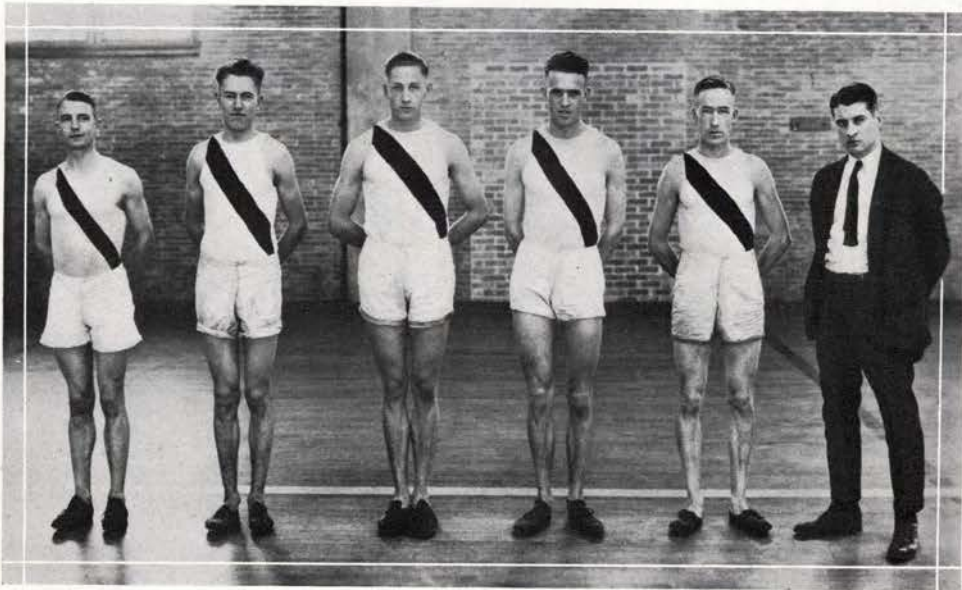

This is the first year O. A. C. has ever had a polo team in competition. Three games were played with the Vancouver Barracks team, the veterans finally winning from the Aggies. The student team was composed of Dickerson, Pentzer, Modesti, and Burrell. The faculty team was made up of Capt. Paulin, Sgt. Bunyon, Lieut. Scott, and Capt. Finley.

Lambda Chi Alpha won the national fraternity basketball championship and later the school championship by defeating the winners of the local fraternity and independent leagues.

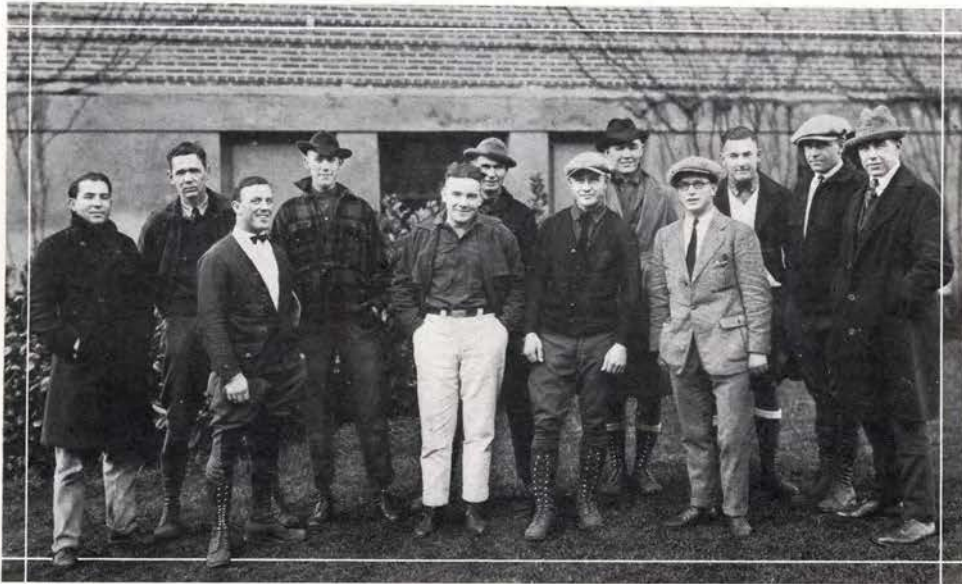

Kai Tal won the school championship in swimming by defeating the Sigma Chi team, winner of the national fraternity league, and the Delta Kappa team, which won the local fraternity championship.

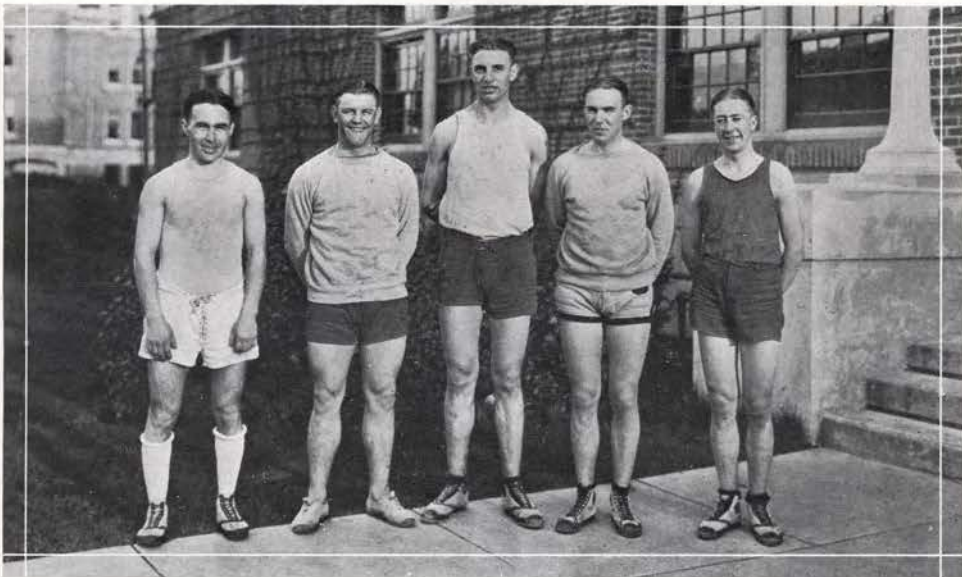

DELTA UPSILON

TAU SIGMA PHI

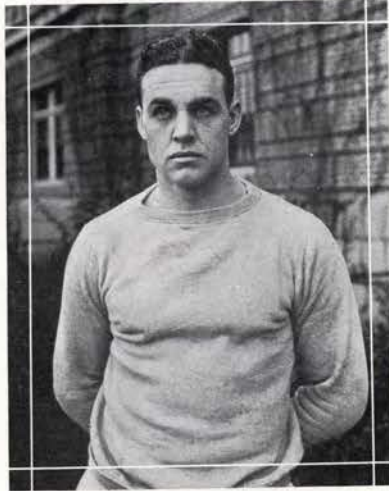

Delta Upsilon won the school championship in handball for the second consecutive season. Tau Sigma Phi was the runner-up.

The Juniors won the interclass football championship by defeating the freshman team. Numerals were awarded to Scott, Heston, Johnson, Kenyon, North, Dixon, Keyes, Montgomery, Mueller, Rosenstiel, Blaesing, and Forbes.

The Sophomores won the interclass basketball series by defeating the Juniors in the final game.

COACHING STAFF

CHARLES BUREN MITCHELL	Varsity Debate Coach
PERCIS L. EDWARDS	Oratory Coach
EARL W. WELLS	Class and Intramural Debate Coach

Since Professor Mitchell started coaching the Varsity Debate teams in 1920, O. A. C. has won nearly all of her contests. This remarkable record has been held against such schools as the University of Oregon, University of Washington, University of California, and Penn State. Everyone interested in O. A. C. and her victories gives Coach Mitchell their highest respect and admiration.

This is Mr. Edwards' first year on the campus, but he has endeared himself in the heart of every student. Not only as a remarkable oratory coach, but as a "pep talker" beyond comparison.

Mr. Wells has entirely revolutionized class debate. These events are now excellent contests between well trained and enthusiastic teams.

MARJORIE STONE	Women's Assistant Manager

O. A. C. owes a great debt of gratitude to Merrill Good, who for two years has handled men's debate and oratory in a manner unusual among student managers. On the behalf of forensics, he has expended much time and thought; and no doubt, the success that has attended O. A. C. in these last two years has been due, in part at least, to his able and untiring efforts.

Women's debate is managed by Evelyn Clark and Marjorie Stone, both experienced varsity debaters.

Mask and Dagger was organized in 1895. It stands for all that is worth while in dramatics, including the advancement of the Little Theater movement and the furthering of Community Drama. It supplies coaches with authoritative information on dramatics. Plays and entertainments have been taken into several communities during the year. The organization has permanent club rooms and owns a large assortment of stage equipment.

MISS ELIZABETH BARNES

COMMUNITY DRAMA

How to direct and produce amateur theatricals in one's home town, in a village, a country neighborhood, or other place where cast and facilities are limited, is taught in the course in Community Drama. The aim of the course is to train leaders in this work, not to develop actors. Lighting, make-up, settings, and stage management are all studied in the workshop, where students learn to make everything necessary for their productions.

CLASS IN SCENE BUILDING AND PAINTING AT WORK

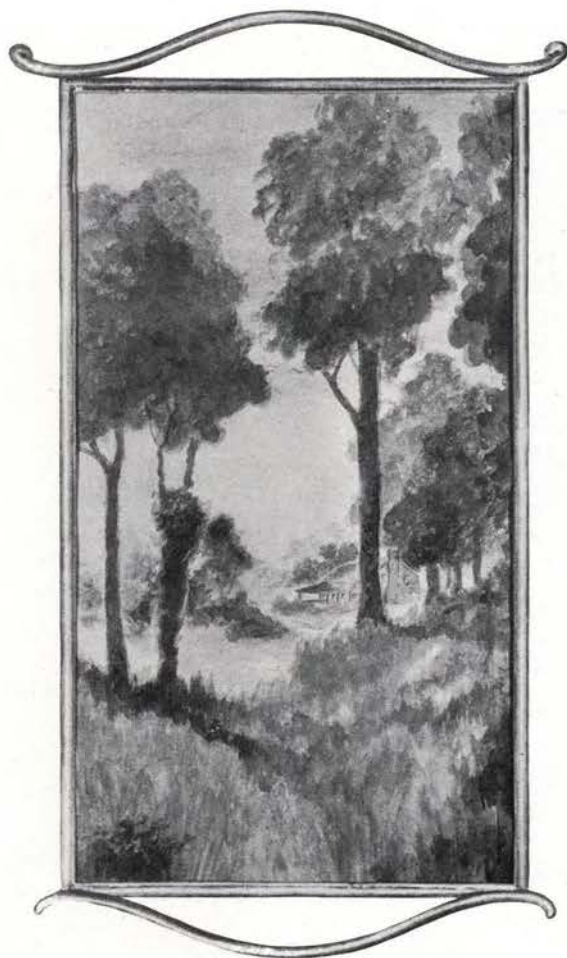

REHEARSAL IN PROGRESS

Community Drama was introduced on the campus by Professor C. B. Mitchell. Miss Norma Olson was in charge of the work during the first year, and Miss Elizabeth Barnes has continued it this year. A practical stage has recently been secured, with specially constructed footlights, a complete set of drapes, and other equipment made by the students in the workshop. This workshop theater is expected to pay for itself through the small admissions charged for plays presented by the class.

Music

Beaver Mem'rys

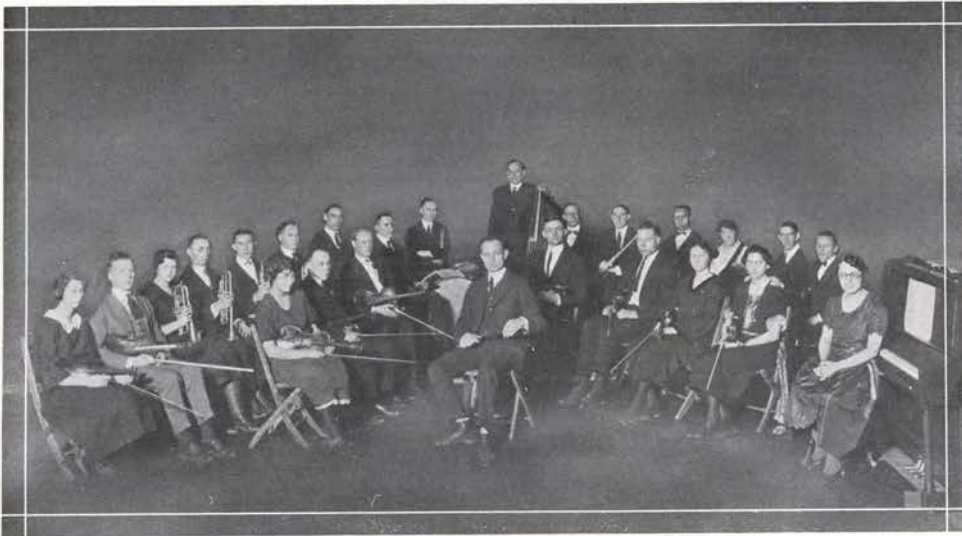

By ARTHUR KIRKHAM

Gather tonight 'round the fireside bright
And we'll sing of the games we have won,
Of our dear Alma Mater that's nestled away
In the hills that reach up to the sun.

Of the friends we have made, of the friends that will stay
Staunch and faithful all the years through,
Of the fellowship grand in that great Beaver land
And the love of all things good and true.

Chorus:

Of old O. A. C., of the old trysting tree,
Of her fountains and vine-covered halls,
And our hearts ever sing of the joy that they bring;
Beaver mem'rys—the best of all.

WILLIAM FREDERIC GASKINS, Director

The O. A. C. Chorus, embracing some 200 voices, is the largest musical organization on the campus. From it are selected the members of the Glee and Madrigal Clubs.

This organization affords an opportunity to those who are possessed of musical ability, but who are not able to participate in either the Glee or Madrigal Clubs because of their limited membership. Although new, the O. A. C. Chorus promises much in furthering musical interests among the students.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

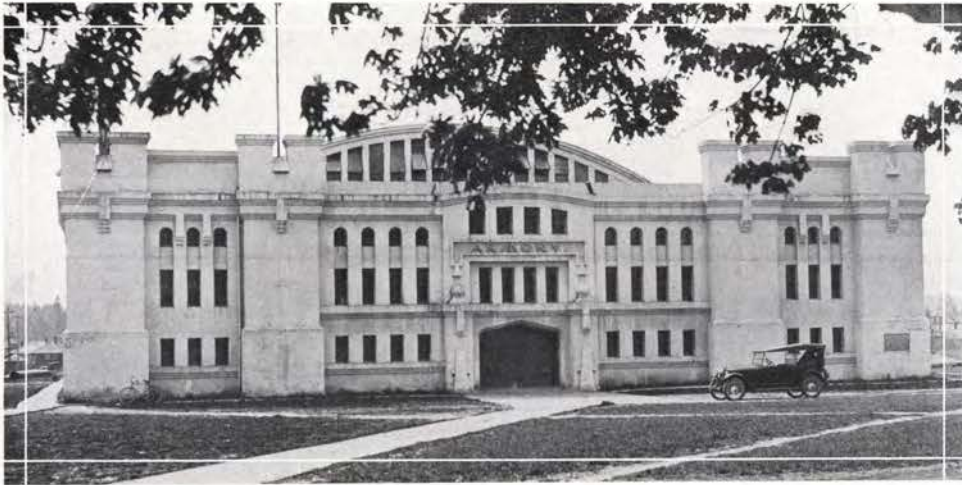

Oregon Agricultural College is proud of having the most completely equipped R. O. T. C. center west of the Mississippi River. It has been very aptly termed the "West Point of the West." Students may choose either the infantry, field artillery, cavalry, engineer, or motor transport unit in which to gain their necessary two years of military service required in a land grant college. A degree curriculum in Military Science and Tactics, completed in four years, is now being given to those students who care to prepare themselves for military life upon graduation. Attesting to the high quality of military training achieved by the United States officers stationed at this college, the Distinguished Service Star has been awarded to the institution for the years, 1917-19-20-21-22.

SANDERS, Lieut. A. N. CALDWELL, Lieut. L. L. PARTLOW, Lieut. W. C. SCOTT, Lieut. P. H. TANSEY, Lieut. J. G. CHRISTIANSON, Capt. H. G. PAULIN.

O. A. C. can attribute a large measure of the credit for the success of her R. O. T. C. to the enlisted men in charge of the instruction at the college. Many of the officers are over-seas veterans, and this actual wartime experience gives them the ability to portray the rigors of war in a realistic light. This gives the students a broader vision of their task should they someday be called to the defense of the colors.

BATTALION, ATTENTION!!

INFANTRY

The Infantry Unit, which has the largest enrollment of the units represented at O. A. C., is the proud possessor of the Partello Cup won last year in competition with the other units in the annual Military Tournament. This branch of the R. O. T. C. gives a complete course in drill from the "awkward squad" to the battalion formations. Tactics, hygiene, and military law are taught in the classroom while mapping, use of the bayonet, machine gun and automatic rifle are the subjects handled in the field.

TARGET PRACTICE ON THE PISTOL RANGE

ARTILLERY

Students enrolled in the Field Artillery Unit on finishing the prescribed courses have a very complete knowledge of artillery—from the big 155 mm. howitzer to the smaller 3 inch light field pieces. Instruction in mounted and dismounted battery formations and range finding, as well as those subjects of a more or less theoretical nature, insure a future source of competent officers in this branch of the service.

FORWARD HO-OO!!

CAVALRY

From the mysteries of tying a hitch with the cinch strap to the proper way of conducting a horse over the jump, is but a small part of the instruction given by the Cavalry Unit. The theoretical is well apportioned with the practical phases necessary to turn out efficient Cavalry officers. This unit made a very good showing last summer at camp by winning two silver loving cups in competition with the other colleges attending camp.

BUILDING A PONTOON BRIDGE AT SUMMER CAMP

ENGINEERS

Construction of pontoon bridges, queen trusses, and field fortifications as well as making topographical maps are a few of the subjects by which students gain a knowledge of the intricacies of a military engineer's duties. Summer camp gives students plenty of practical experience, making them fit for any future call to the service.

MOTOR TRANSPORT TRUCKS ENROUTE TO SUMMER CAMP

MOTOR TRANSPORT UNIT

The ability to drive huge army trucks and a complete working knowledge of the internal mechanisms of various types of motors is quickly achieved by those taking instruction in the Motor Transport Unit. Along with this is also given various technical studies and a foundation in military drill. Summer trips through national parks to and from summer camp give the students a very practical application of the subjects taught during the school year.

SHAM BATTLE THE NIGHT OF THE TOURNAMENT

MILITARY TOURNAMENT

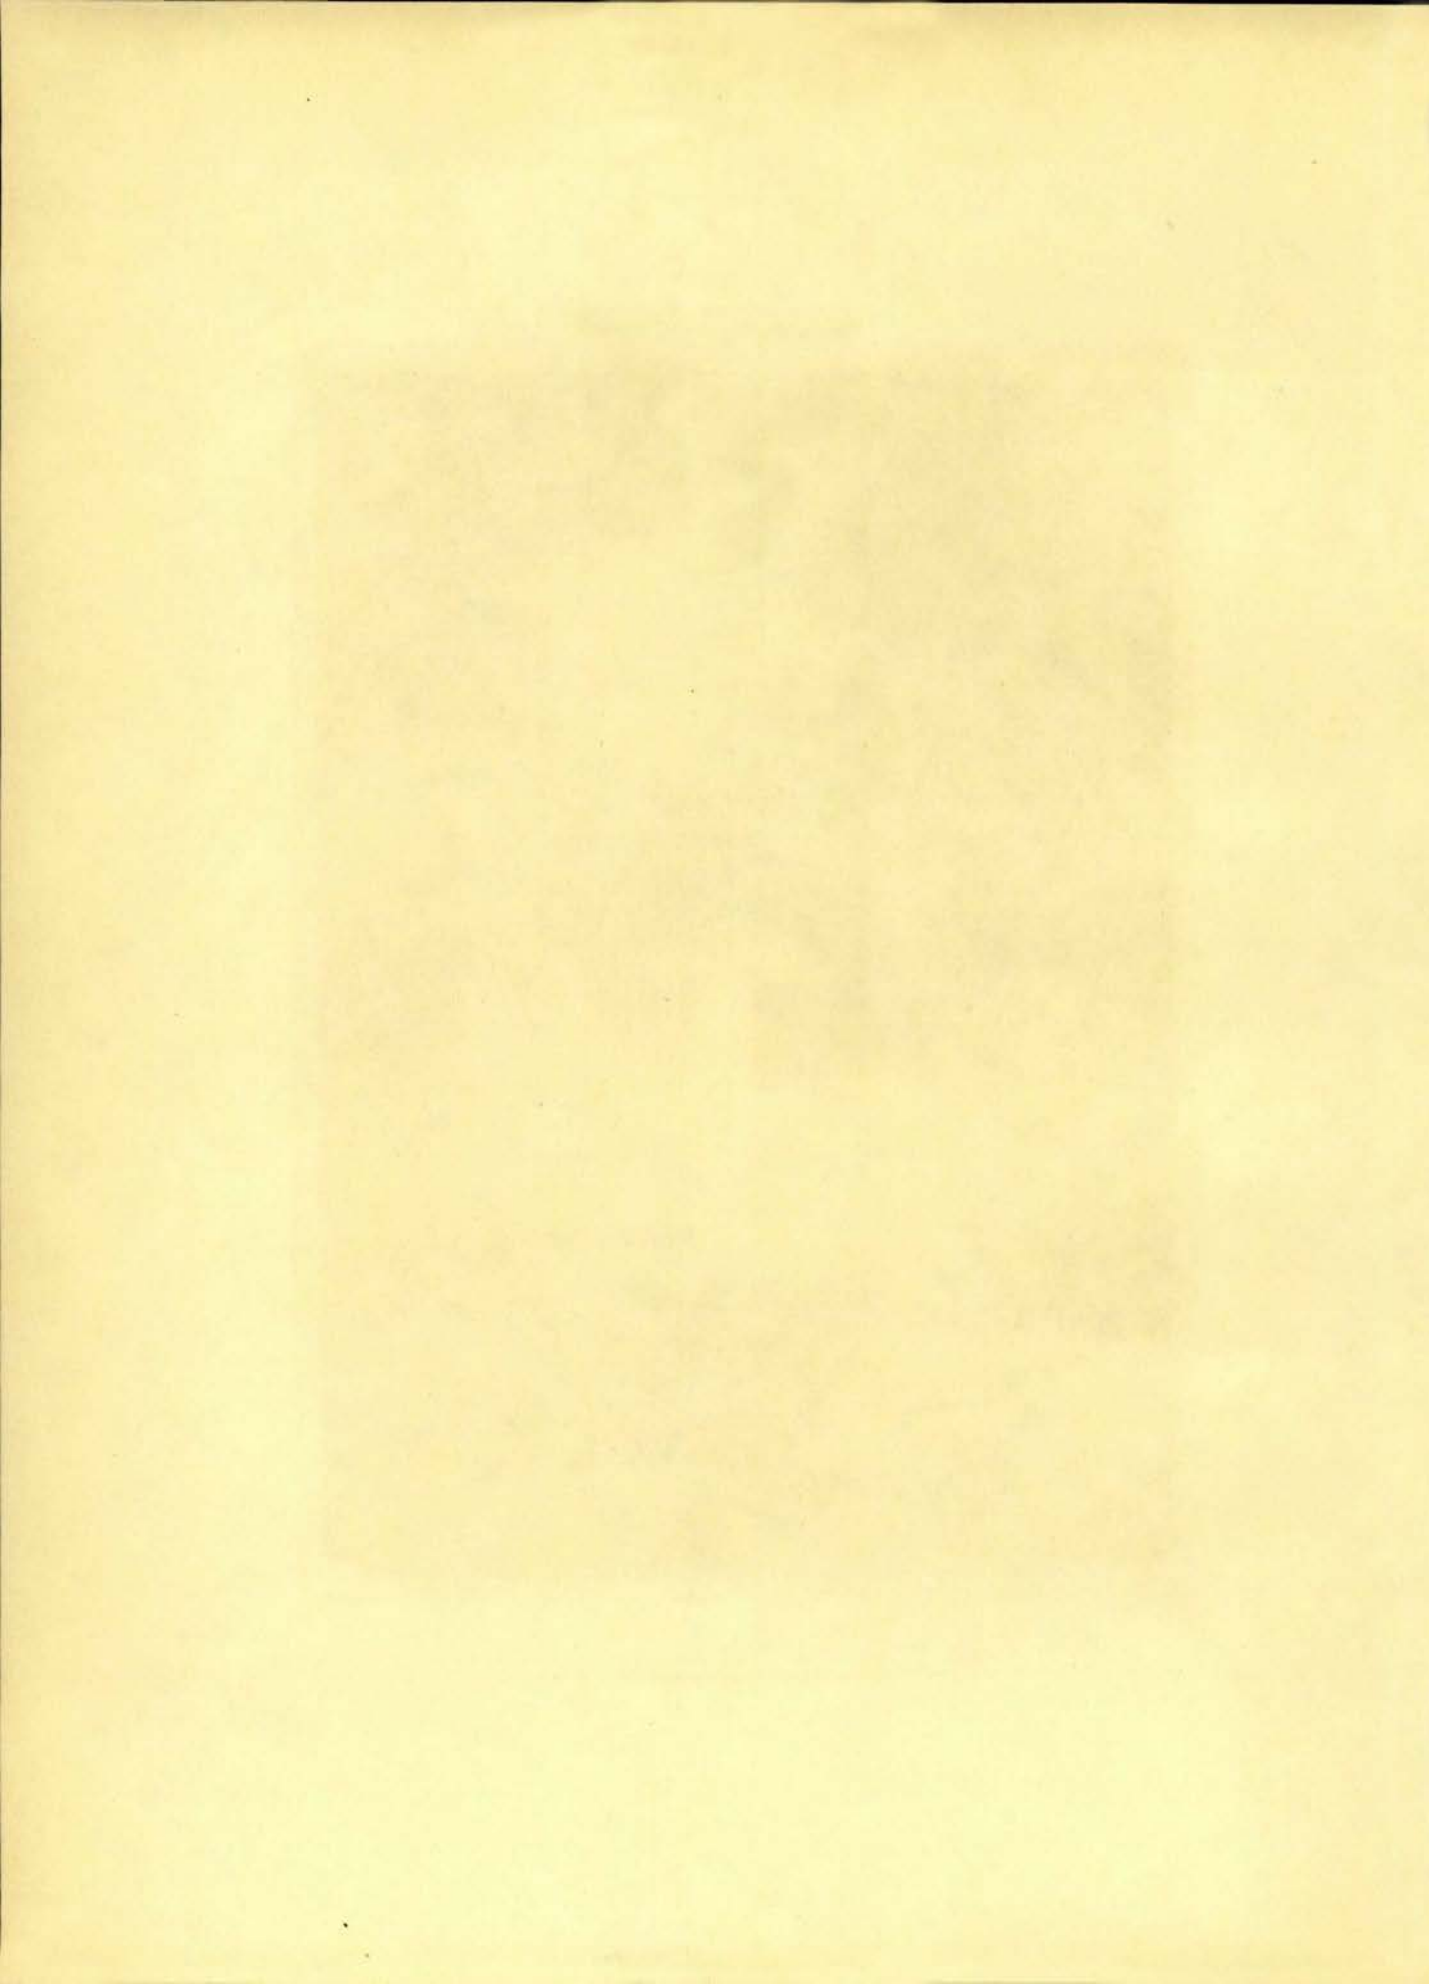

A Military Tournament is held each Spring in which all five branches of the R. O. T. C. participate. A regimental parade in the morning followed in the afternoon by field manouvers and practical class-room work give the inspecting officers adequate opportunity each year to judge whether this institution shall be awarded the Distinguished Service Star.

Dedication

Abraham Lincoln, who will be remembered as having once been a prominent resident of Washington, D. C., said that among other things "all men are created equal." He might have gone a little further, however, and pointed out that although all men are created equal, it is a wise "fusser" who can match wits with the gentleman depicted above and come out on top.

Who is he, you ask? Ah, it is he who guideth our footsteps along the paths of righteousness. It is he who beateth the brush and chaseth out the evildoer. It is he who guardeth the grandstand and turneth out those who would love not wisely but too well. Yea verily he is a man among men—and women if the case need be. He is a man of versatility for he cooleth the Ardor of Love and lighteth the Fires of Hatred with one fell stroke.

The management takes genuine pleasure, this evening in dedicating this, the Satire section of the Beaver annual, to Mr. John D. Wells. I thank you.

DAVID R. YOUNG

DAVID R. YOUNG, president; S. O. L. degree, School of Fishes; B. S. degree, Hearst College; 3rd degree from Dean Peavy. The institution is indeed fortunate in having for a leader the Duke, as he is affectionately called by his followers. Always a stickler for the best in men's haberdashery, Duke is here seen in the height of his sartorial elegance.

Being what the underclassmen might call "a hound for work," Dr. Young elected to remain at the institution during the spring vacation that he might complete a paper anent "The Lives of Great Men," in collaboration with his colleague Dean George Wilcox Peavey.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

SAM SCHOLIBO ALLEN, executive secretary, S. R. O., Majestic Theatre; Lbs., Eaton; T. B., Arizona. Professor Allen carries a lot of weight on the O. A. C. campus as well as elsewhere. Besides occupying the position of secretary, he holds the distinctive office of Professor of Pneumatics.

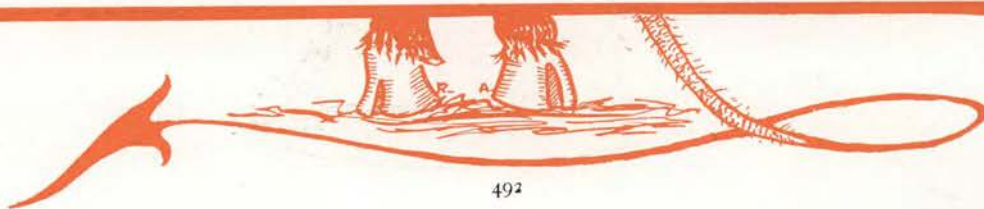

SAM ALLEN

CHARLES R. LOW

PRESIDENT BOARD of REGENTS

CHARLES R. LOW, President of Board of Regents, C. C. degree, Watkin's Medical College; D. D. (drink deep) degree, University of Cork; K. P. degree, Army Cook's School. "Honest Chuck" made a valiant effort to win laurels in last spring's election, but like other good men he had to be content with being listed as among those present! Although defeated at the polls, "Chuck" won undying fame as an upholder of "honest politics."

Faculty

JESSE FRANKLIN BRUMBAUGH, professor of psychology, is herewith presented. He is a real he-man and admits that he can lick any man in his classes or maybe he means class. His lectures, always fairly reeking with spicy humor, even so far as to border upon the risqué, are exceptionally well attended especially among members of the opposite sex. He also can tell what everybody else is thinking about. It must be great to be a psychologist. Think of the possibilities of quenching a thirst in a strange town.

Strange as it may seem, the artless looking person on our right is none other than FREDERICK HENRY BERNS, instructor in art, or "Bobby," as he is affectionately called by the rest of the girls. Bobby is very particular about the haberdashery which adorns his dogs. It is said that after he has carefully washed and ironed his stockings he places them in little cubby-holes, one labeled for every day in the week, so that he will never make the mistake of wearing the same pair two days in succession,—mercy, that would be terrible.

Bobby just simply adores "blue" and can be seen most any day in his studio, wearing a most becoming baby blue smock. But "pink"! Good gracious no. "Pink" is just simply dreadful, Bobby says.

FRANCES LAWRENCE SNOW, Q. E. D., professor of industrious journalism. "Popper," as he he is called by the local news-hounds, used to be a big game hunter in Africa before being brought to this country at great expense, etc. Well, he is still game. When he migrated from the Dark Continent, he brought along several shiploads of costly bracelets taken from the tombs of that country. These he gives as prizes to those who excel in writing. Judging from the number he has given out, the death rate among the dark-skinned beauties must be rather high.

Many and thrilling are the African anecdotes spun by Frank and personally the most inspiring episode in the writer's life was when Popper gave the imitation of the African oxen driver goading his team to a faster pace. Besides being a polished raconteur, the professor sometimes dabbles in teaching journalism.

College Life

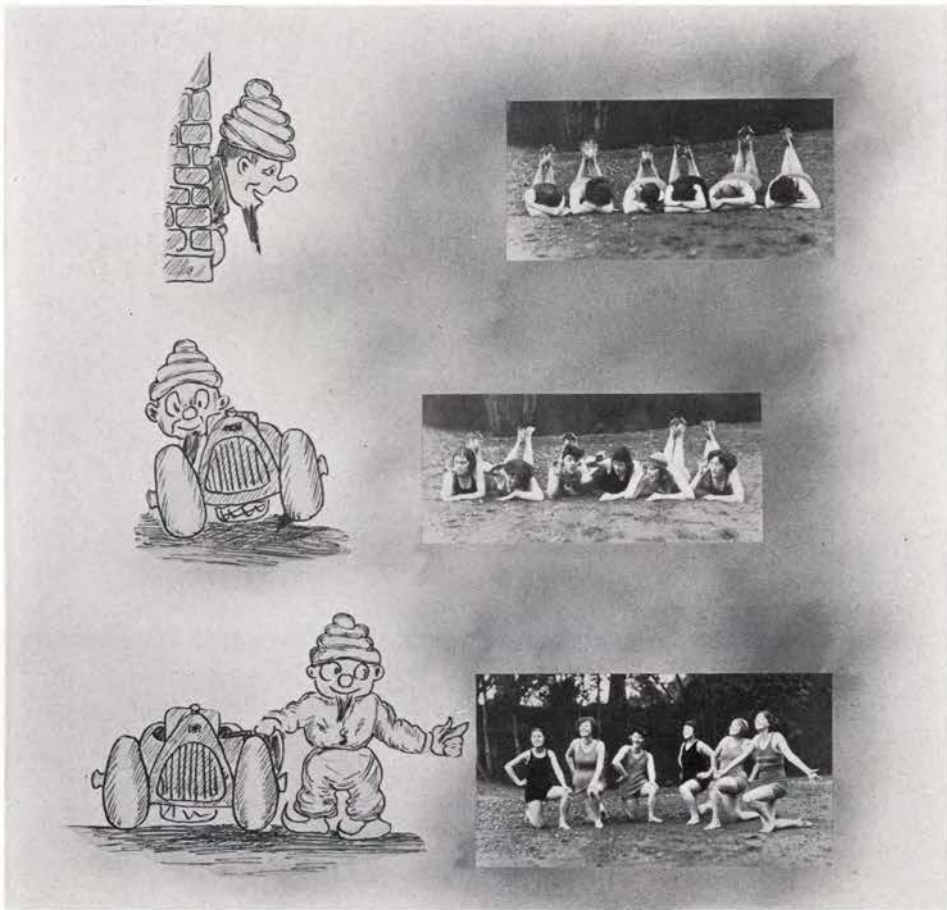

Above is a reproduction of what our staff photographer happened onto one night while returning from some place or going some place, he didn't say which. The pair of love birds depicted in this scene must be "A" students if they give their studies the same attention which they are giving to the business at hand. So engrossed were they that they didn't even know the picture was taken.

When it was learned that we had such a picture, not less than forty of the local campus sheiks called upon us individually and intimated that it would benefit us financially if we would accidentally "lose" it. We did lose it several times but every time another fellow turned up with a tempting offer we had to lose it over again and finally it must have got lost among the rest of the copy for this section because here it is, isn't it?

Armour & Co. offered us a substantial sum for this picture, saying they wanted it to advertise their "concentrated beef" but we prefer to publish it here as an argument against Sunday evening movies. Notice how much more profitably the students occupy their evenings when they can't go to those dreadfully degrading movie shows.

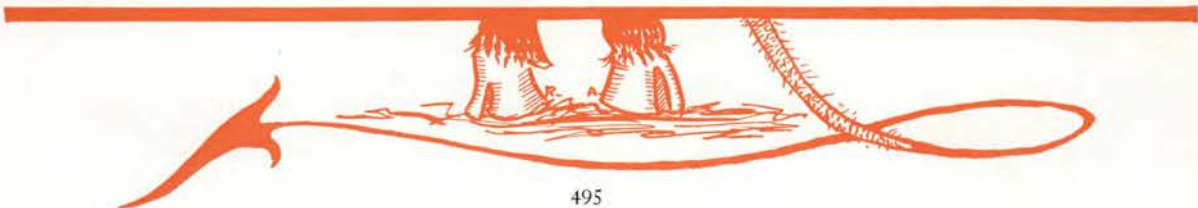

THE AWAKENING

Dreaming when Dawn's Left Hand was in the Sky
 I heard a voice from the Ad building cry,
 "Awake, my Little ones, and snap it up
 "Before some slicker in his 'Hup' drives by."

And, as a horn blew, those who lay beside
 The Roadway shouted—"Open then the Door!
 "You know how little while we have to play,
 "And if we're late, we'll make Miss Hadwen sore."

Well, let him take us! We'll tell the World we're through
 With Home Ec teachers and their Books of Blue.
 Let Barnes and Horner bluster as they will,
 From Brumbaugh down to Tucker—drat that crew!

—Apologies to Omar Khayyam.

THE DEAN AT PLAY

In Memoriam

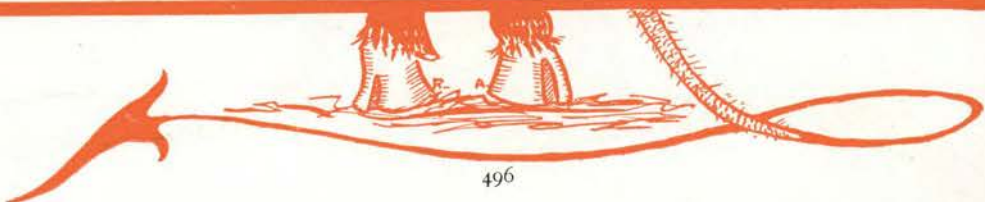

Sad-eyed and somber-faced, the students go about the campus. The cheery hello seems gone forever from our midst. No longer do happy groups congregate in the college halls.

Mary A. Rolfe, you have gone from our life, and, oh, the aching void you have left. Our halls of Terpsichore no longer resound to your dancing feet.

The college men are destined to go through life without etiquette, since that melancholy day when you left for greener fields.

Our gain is the Red Cross' loss.

"And she passed over and the trumpets sounded for her on the other side."

COLLEGE LIFE

A crash, a bang, and Chicago-Chicago, rent itself on the Spring air. The hair on the librarian's head fairly stood on end as they watched each student catch the swing of the tantalizing music and begin to sway back and forth in their seats. What was up? The Co-ed Owl was being sold and to create a little excitement some music had been obtained for the affair—not scheduled you understand! A council of war and then the brave Miss Lewis descended the stairs and asked that this disturbance cease! Her eloquence seemed not to carry weight but the following was sufficient:

I understand that the library is being disturbed by much noise in front. No permission has been granted to move pianos from Library 100 and surely no permission to disturb has been granted.
C. Livingston.

COLLEGE LIFE

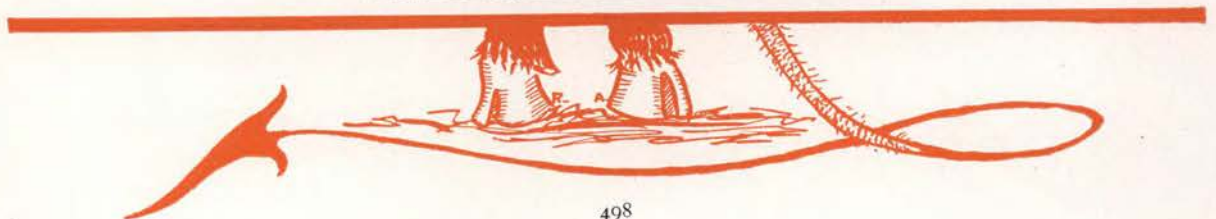

The map above is of a narrow strip of land (and cement walk), bounded on the southwest by the Commerce building, on the northwest by the historic remains of Alpha Hall and on the northeast by the Sigma Chi golf links.

Here the boys congregate to tell how far they would have to walk to smoke a Camel if this place wasn't so convenient. It is true that the question has been raised as to whether this corner is on the campus and signs are posted around which say "Please Don't Smoke Here," but the boys come back with that old wheeze about not being superstitious and not believing in signs.

SENIORS

Viewing this from a British standpoint, it certainly looks as though Elmer had pulled a “bloomer.” We never thought this of a member of Forum. But then he must be “for’em” or he wouldn’t lay out nigh on to thirty-three berries for something he’ll never see—well, he isn’t supposed to at least. At first we were very reluctant to publish this, seeing as how friend Elmer was always considered such an upstanding pillar of righteousness, and we only consented when it was pointed out what a great boon the price list would be to others who might need this information.

We draw a conclusion to this sad incident, you can draw your own.

HOMER'S ODYSSEY

OR

A PAGE FROM THE EDITOR'S DATE BOOK.

Well, well, comrades, what have we here? A notebook page you say? Yes, yes, but what kind of a notebook? A date book? Yes, that is better. But whose datebook? Ah, you can never guess, can you? Mr. Lemon's? Oh, no, no. Secretary Jensen's? Oh, my no, no. This page was given to us by Editor Roberts of the Barometer, who insisted that we give it space in our great publication owing to the fact that he thought it would receive greater publicity than if published in his own sheet.

We do not definitely understand Homer's method of bookkeeping but it would appear that the left hand column represents those whom he sought and that the right hand column contains the names of those who succumbed to his telephonic pleadings, thereby demonstrating the effectiveness of that ancient proverb, "Let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth."

Apparently he isn't letting his left hand know what the right one is doing here, either.

Old Mary's river is the scene
 Of many days of bliss,
 And many, many college cut-ups
 Start in their dates like this.

But now and then the cosmic urge
 Appears to hold and bind them
 And so in closer juxtaposition
 We, in this tintype, find them.

She wouldn't let him do his stuff
 Or practice osculation
 But he insisted; hence this scene
 Depicting gravitation.

Military

COLONEL MOSES

Witness the astute physiognomy and imperious mien of ye right honorable Colonel George Williams Moses, professor of Military Science and Tactics at ye Oregon Agricultural College and Commandant of Cadets at the aforementioned Bovine Institute.

To be perfectly frank, Colonel Georgie rather favors himself. Rather! He naively admits that he is the government, the supreme military authority at the "institootion," and the royal wassendopip in chief. And he isn't a bit hesitant about telling the gallant laddies of the R. O. T. C. about it. He shouts it from the barricaded windows of the armory.—Fortunate that they are barricaded, what?

When in the bullrushes, the esteemed Colonel could get away with his little autocracy—it's easy in the army. But here things are a bit different. The old hokum is a bit strained when viewed through the colored lenses of a college environment. But why chortle further—

"I AM THE GOVERNMENT—."

George's army has suffered more casualties from polo than from war—but think of the dentist's increase in business!

Music

They say that practice makes perfect and we suppose that it holds true in music also. Now, for instance, take that dear old time-worn ballad called "The Sheik." Eddie Somebody started the song, BUT SAY—could you in your wildest night-after-a-full-dinner-of-pork-chops, ever conceive of anyone more qualified to sing that little old hate-myself ballad than "Pash" McKinney? Why, he has a body-guard of especially trained rooks to keep the loving ladies off.

Then too, folkses, do you remember some time ago that Boom,—Boom,—Boom,—bump; boom,—boom,—boom,—bump piece called "The Sneak?" Gosh! Didn't that have a way of creeping into the recesses and giving your old spinal column a double-hogtie twist. And just when you thought you had safely stowed it away in the bottom of the pile, some fool did something to cause it to be drug out again. Again I ask you, Friend, who can better sing that old nervemangler than Prexy's own private sic-em cat, Sec'y W. A. Jensen.

But say, folkses, there's a brand new knock-em-deader'n-the-last-one. It sure took a lot of cash and perserverance on the part of the entire staff to get it. It is one of the familiar ear-crackling, soothing melodies so well known here during our games. As you know, I know, and everybody else knows who has the misfortune to have been within a mile of him, that "Ly" Cooley is the singer for that piece. He universally is conceded to rate the barbed wire gym suit and chest protector for having the longest, loudest, doggondest, screechingest whopp and holler in this or any other of these 48 United States.

Forensics

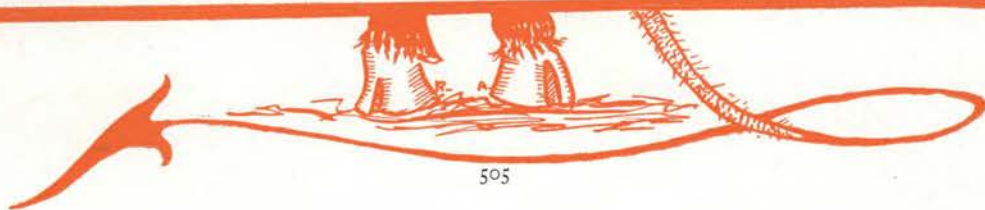

Forensics is defined in Somebody's Handbook of the Art of Acquiring English Manners as the prolific exercise of the vocal organs used in public speaking.

Now I don't know if Cec Fuller, Bill North, or wee Monty Monroe have any medals, wood, leather, gold, or otherwise, for orating, but as public shouters they are real world-beaters. As politicians they should excell, and would, but they all belong to different parties.

Take Cec, for instance,—that boy sure is an orating fool when he gets on his haunches and tells the world, here and there, of his ideas.

And then old chubby, cherub-faced Bill. Is there anyone who does not know Bill's politically booming HELLO and his back-breaking slap on the back?

Wee Monty Monroe is small but he should have been Junior yell-leader. He would have had it too, if the printer had put his name on the ballot. Monty is the original hot-air kid. He peddles so much of it that its drying action is utilized by his brothers in drying socks.

GREEK FLOP-HOUSES

BEEZLE COMMENTS ON SMOKER

Dear freinds:—Ever since that memrable night of feb. 7, when the Affiliated Society of Greek Flop-houses give thier famous party at the Majestic theater, I has been besieged by ever gal what seen me to give her the low-down of what was pulled off that night, and although I is busier than a fly-swatter in a greek restaurant, I'll explain ever thing here so I won't be harped at no more.

Well, 1st, the boys throwed a act about a police court what was highly intellectual but as the writer didn't see the 1st. 2 acts, you probably know as much about it as I does. Act No. 2 came 2nd. but I just got there as they was getting dragged off the stage.

Act 3 was a take-off on a 20th century wedding. This interpratation seemed to get across big. The bride didn't have no trouble blushing. True, they was some thing lacking about the bridegroom but his discomfiture only throwed the audience into gales of laughter.

Act No. 4, Harem routine. This no. was largely educational, showing the ever day routine in the life of a Oriental potentate. The scenic affects was well carried out and sure got a rise out of the boys.

The 5th no. was a recitation rendered by a well known elecutionest of the campus, and it sure brought tears to the eyes of them which is acquainted with good poetry.

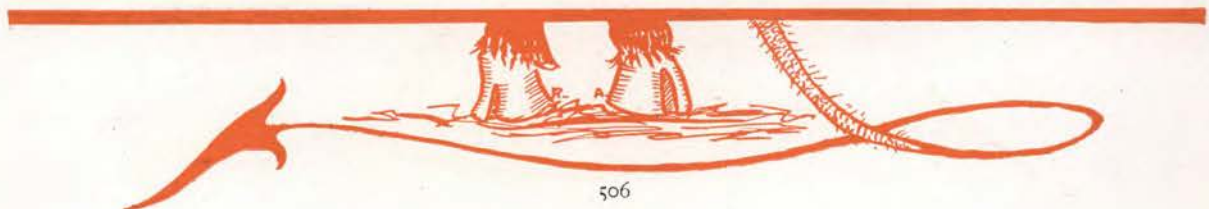

The 6th interpratation was dubbed "Judgment Day" and it was appreciated by nearly ever body present except 1 guy and he wanted to raise Kain.

Well, freinds, I might go on indefinitely and tell about the different gags which was pulled off but I really ain't got time now. The 8th act may be should have been called "Too many Pantomines" instead of what it was called and the 10th would have been better if a little young blood had been sprinkled among the cast. 1 of the actors in this act was at least 80 yrs. old, gosh darn it. The last no. featured a recitation of a athletic contest which threatened to eclipse the well known "Casey At The Bat."

That's about all they was to it, folks, except that Dean Peavy wasn't satisfied with the prizes which was gave out and he announced later that he would select some more suitable awards so that ever body would win some thing, and at this writing all the thespians is waiting to see what the good old Dean will give them.

Yours truly,

BEEZLE

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Say daddy but ain't this some shack? It would have been fine if they hadn't of stacked the thing up in the wrong part of the country,—it's nearer Portland than Corvallis. It's the palatial, suburban, winter and summer stack of lumber and shingles belonging to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon laddies. We are sure that they will all be farmers due to their place of residence and then, notice the hick looking arrangement of implements and lumber scraps in their due rear yard. We hope they don't get interested in skunks anyhow.

SIGMA NU

The dangerous Sigma Nu—I sure believe he was if ever in his dear young life he rode in that heap of junk strewn so fondly in their back yard. The neighbors say the boys are fearfully rough in many ways, especially in regards to jaw-breaking profanity. And, after shocking them for a while, they invite them over to a fish-dinner and endeavor to prove that cuss-words are not really cuss-words when made long enough and loud enough. Also we certainly miss the boy's bootlegging operations this year.

DELTA UPSILON

The D. U. chappies are sure the kind to pattern after. They certainly believe that if you don't at first succeed, try, try again. They had a fair chicken yard started and we did our best to get a picture of it but failed miserably. I suppose that their $100 donation to the Student Loan Fund made the chicken business either unbearable or nonpayable, anyhow the chicken yard was out of sight when we needed it most. Take some advice from one who knows, "Never borrow a neighbor's chicken even for a little minute and take it home. Johnny can follow you too well and easy. Besides it don't pay well, not very anyhow, even if donations ARE thankfully received and Johnny does love his job."

LAMBDA CHI

Good gosh, take a slant at those garbage cans. No wonder people in Russia are dying from all kinds of diseases; there should be enough germs around those cans to kill and ruin any nation,—and it's a nice new shack too. The nice thing about this gang is that they are too slick for everyone, we couldn't find any evidence of their private still. Maybe Mac brought the evidence back on each trip.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

It does look a whole lot like the back door of a church except that it isn't quite as clean, nope not quite. It might just as well be though. The boys don't smoke, swear, nor nothing but say—here's a secret—somebody found a whole cigarette stub and a cigar wrapper down below their sleeping porch. If you do bad things in the dark, the goblins will get you,—so be careful boys. Also we heard that an S. P. E. wrote the Harem Routine. No wonder they wouldn't play with their rough friends.

PHI DELTA THETA

Isn't this a beautiful, healthy, nondesirable view? Their wash-room is not heavily laden with washed clothes, but possibly they don't need clean clothes like the rest of us do. They're a dandy big-hearted bunch of fellows though,—they made donations to every house on the campus one evening. It was a good way of advertising to be sure.

Isn't this a cold, bleak looking place? Even the vines seem to have died a horrible death by freezing. It must be possible that a Theta's cold attitude can wither even a poor inoffensive vine.

GAMMA PHI BETA

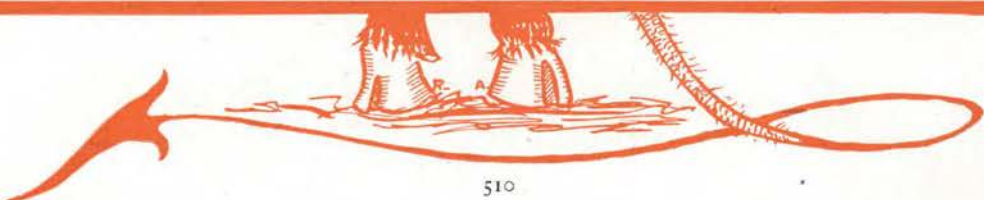

Liabilities . . . Margaret Harding, Nona Becker Hubbard.

Assets Dorothy Dunne, Mary Robinson, Allegra McGreal.

AUTOMOBILE—Bauer.

Battle Cry . . . "Quantity, not quality."

These late dates are not half bad when one has the accommodation this house has, even the upper window open. No wonder there is a quantity of dates.

POPULARITY CONTEST

Well ladies and gents, here we have the likenesses of THE three people of our institution. Eddie Kimball got the best backing from home as far as we could find out. Just peruse the lines from Eddie's home town sheet and then judge for yourself the truth of the government by the people and for the people. Also you will notice that Mickey comes in for her own sweet share of the limelight!

You folks just can't imagine how beautiful she is, honest. Why, once in a while (that was before the contest) she used to condescend to meet me, and Say, Boy!——oh well, I suppose that a broken heart hadn't ought to affect me, but honest, folks, some things can't be helped.

Now the other man, the one with the hat (I suppose it's a hat) on. He is no less a person than old Percy Locey himself. Gosh—that name rates him the position of the most popular man, easy. Also, take a check on that "I-don't give-a——" look on his face. WHO SAYS POLITICS DON'T PAY.

Here we have as the central figure, the nice corpulent one, none other than Willard T. L. Gooch. There are those among the uninitiated who may wonder why Willard T. L. Gooch should grace these pages. The reason is that the Beaver is used as an advertising medium throughout the state and the lad that was raised among the walnuts of Whittier, California, has an appeal that is famous among campus women.

Some of the catty ones say that it is his Detroit chariot that binds the frail femmes to him, but it is not so, it is his cave-man tactics. His country's colors are black and blue, and its war cry, "My strength is the strength of ten, because my heart is pure."

GREEK APPLICATION BLANK

Please excuse this apparent lacking sense of uprightiness (ours—not the house owning the application) but our dear Editor wouldn't allow us enough space.

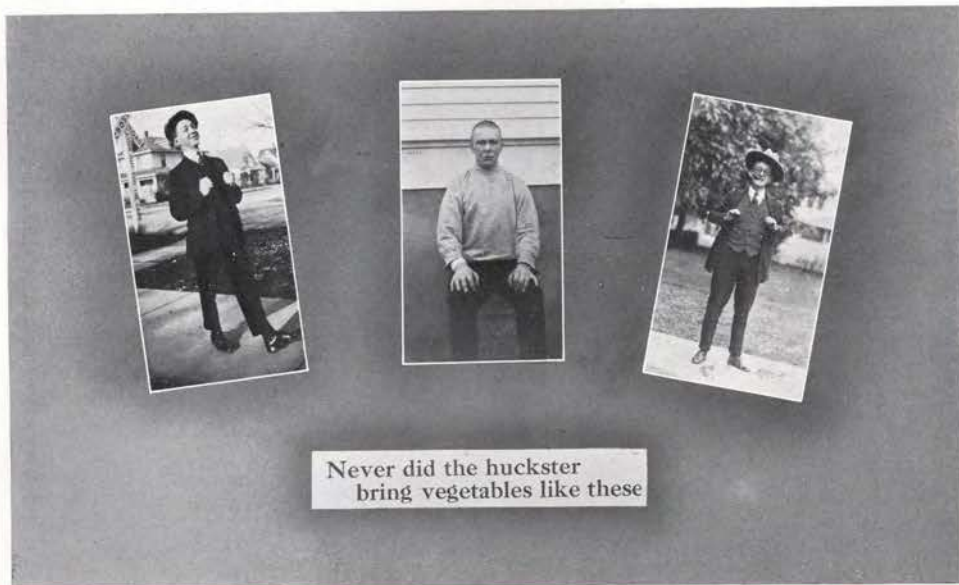

Advertising Section

This is the beginning of our own private little advertising section. All ads here are paid except this "SITUATION WANTED." As it was not paid for, we had to cut the copy. We will give our recommendation though. He sure is a whizz-bang of an advertiser if you care for that kind of advertising. He has just ONE outstanding fault and that is, he has just oodles of fun (at a smoker for instance) until he happens to get referred to,—then the fun is all off.

HELP WANTED

The handsome young man to your left, popularly (?) known as Wayne Kain Davis, is looking for a job. He appealed for help through these columns, and after some wrangling over the price, we consented.

We will start by giving his qualifications which any future employer should know and his past ones know too well. He had a very successful career at O. A. C., succeeding in having his finger in most of the pies on the campus, but we might add that the finger was as far as he got. He is susceptible to sudden lapses of memory such as running off to school without his collar on and going to Senior dances only half clad. He is a member of Forum, Againstum, and Withum and always took part in all the dirty politics of the school. All the men he supported would have won if there hadn't been any votes against them.

We can safely recommend him for a job of telling other people what to do. He is safest in that capacity because if you go just opposite to what he advises you are sure to be right.

The initials of a friend

You will find these letters on many tools by which electricity works. They are on great generators used by electric light and power companies; and on lamps that light millions of homes.

They are on big motors that pull railway trains; and on tiny motors that make hard housework easy.

By such tools electricity dispels the dark and lifts heavy burdens from human shoulders. Hence the letters G-E are more than a trademark. They are an emblem of service—the initials of a friend.

Wise Sayings of Great Men—

“Lives of Great Men all remind us,
We can make our own worth while,
If we leave the past behind us,
And begin to save our pile.”

After—Longfellow

George Washington said:

“Savings accounts are admittedly the great benefactors for the years to come.”

Abraham Lincoln said:

“It is within the power of any person who earns to have financial independence—in time.”

Theodore Roosevelt said:

“If you would be sure you are beginning right, begin to save.”

These famous characters in American history practiced their own precepts and they became great men by doing so.

This bank offers its efficient organization to every student, faculty member, fraternity, sorority and college club, for the safe and convenient transaction of their banking business. It invites their deposits, either for regular checking accounts, or in the savings department and assures its patrons personal service and courteous attention.

GOOD PRINTING

Combines these three attributes: a splendid idea; an artistic conception; a skillful production. This concern enjoys a well-earned reputation for producing good printing. Our organization is alert, active in your behalf, seeking at all times to develop your ideas and mould them into an attractive readable form.

The O.A.C. Daily Barometer, the Orange Owl, the Student Engineer, numerous petitions, house letters, dance programs, die-stamped stationery, all these and more are the products of our ever-busy presses. We delight in serving you.
