American Colleges Give $500,000 to WSSF

Over $500,000 was donated to the World Student Service fund during the school year 1951-1952 from American colleges, according to reports received in the Round Table office at Oregon State college.

$200,000 of this amount gave 350 displaced students the opportunity to start a new life in this country. Four of these students came to Oregon State college.

Government, university, and local interest funds, in addition to

Religious Painter To Lecture Tonight

Rev. Bernard Geiser, noted painter of the Northwest, will give a lecture on religious paintings in Memorial Union 105 tonight at 7:30.

An Episcopal minister in Portland, Mr. Geiser is also chaplain at the Good Samaritan hospital there. Among his paintings are some large murals of the life of Christ, which he did for St. Marks Episcopal church in Portland.

Speech Department Honors Professors

Professor Paul X. Knoll, director of debate, and Professor D. Palmer Young, director of dramatics, were honored last night by Dr. Earl W. Wells, head of the speech department, and Mrs. Wells, at a dinner given at their home.

The occasion was the completion of 25 years of service by both Professor Knoll and Professor Young. Members of the speech department and their wives were present.

Debaters Announce National Question

Debate squad will meet Tuesday and Thursday each week at 7:30 p.m. in Shepard hall 210. National question for debate this year is "Resolved, That Congress Should Enact a Fair Employment Practices Law."

The squad is preparing for their first engagement at Portland university November 1, where they will meet with other Oregon schools, according to Thurston Doler, assistant forensics director.

Engineers to Meet

All seniors and graduates who will complete work for a degree in engineering this year or fall or winter term next year are asked to meet with Dean George W. Gleeson of the engineering school, and Professor M. R. Halth, personnel and placement officer, Wednesday, at 1 p.m. in Dearborn 301.

Groups Must Submit Living Entries Today

All living groups who wish to submit the name of a candidate for Homecoming queen are reminded that their entry must be postmarked not later than today and mailed to Buz Thomas, Alpha Tau Omega.

Following a new policy this year, both men's and women's living groups are eligible to nominate a candidate. She may be from any one of the four classes, Thomas said.

Flower Name Contest Winners Announced

Winners in the mum-naming contest at the fourth annual chrysanthemum show sponsored by Oregon State college and the Corvallis garden clubs have been announced. Winners were also chosen in the "most popular variety" competition held during the show two weeks ago.

"Apache," "Bright Star," and "Jewelton" were the prize-winning names for the three new chrysanthemum varieties to be shown this year, according to Dr. E. J. Kraus, visiting professor of horticulture at OSC.

Engineering Grads Are Award Winners

Two Oregon State college graduates in engineering, Walter S. Ahnert of Portland and Darrell W. Halligan of Bend, have been named award winners in a national engineering design contest. Both winners were in the class of '52.

Ahnert and Halligan were named fifth place winners in the annual contest sponsored by the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding foundation of Cleveland. They will receive $113 in prize money plus an engineering textbook apiece.

TKE's Top Hoppers; Theta's Top Choice

For the second year in a row, Tau Kappa Epsilon has won the Nickel Hops contest, Sara Archibald, '54, Nickel Hops chairman, announced yesterday.

The hops netted $383.29, an increase over last year's total of $376.70, according to Peggy Robb, '54, finance chairman. The contest, won by the TKE's, was based on the percentage of members of a men's living organization attending the most women's houses during the hops.

New OSC Bulletin Covers Home Lawns

A new bulletin, "Home Lawns For Oregon," has been released by the Oregon State college experiment station. The co-authors of the bulletin are H. L. Schudel and H. H. Rampton of the farm crops department.

This new publication contains a number of pictures and charts. Among these is a chart on recommended lawn grasses for different areas in Oregon under irrigated and non-irrigated conditions, and a chart on suggested fertilizer schedule for irrigated lawns.

Spencer to Speak

"Sowing and reaping in our day" will be the subject of Reverend Lester Spencer, American Sunday School Union missionary, at Inter-Varsity Christian fellowship today at 5 p.m. in M.U. 105.

The meeting is open to everyone.

Trials Start Today For Pershing Rifles

All AFROTIC freshmen and sophomores wishing to try out for the Pershing Rifle drill team are asked to report in front of the armory at 12:50 p.m. today, tomorrow and Thursday.

Prospective pledges for the organization are to be in uniform and must attend two out of the three drill tryouts in order to be considered. The drill team will be chosen from approximately 35 pledges.

Sigma Delta Psi On Wednesday

Action in Sigma Delta Psi swings into its second round Wednesday, October 15, at 4 p.m. In last week's initial start, the low hurdles, baseball throw and high jump made up the events and a record number participated, according to the intramural office.

This week's action will consist of the 100-yard dash and the broad jump. Qualifying time for the dash is :11.6 and the distance required for the broad jump is 17 feet. Both the events will be held on Bell field.

Hunters Await Duck Season Start Soon

Oregon's migratory waterfowl hunting starts at noon October 24 and will run for a straight 70 day period, closing New Year's day, 1953.

Federal regulations covering Oregon's section of the Pacific flyway were concurred in by the Oregon game commission at a meeting of the Pacific flyway council in Klamath Falls last August where Oregon and California game commissioners agreed on a uniform opening date for both states.

Committee to Show OSC Football Movies

First in the fall series of Oregon State college football movies will go on the screen tonight at 7:30 in the Memorial Union ballroom, according to Larry Downes, '54, head of the movie committee.

The film will show the OSC-Utah game. These movies will enable all students who did not get to see the game and who are interested in watching good football movies to see some real action, according to Larry.

Outclassed all the way, the Oregon State Rooks were humbled, 31 to 0, by a talent-filled University of Oregon Duckling grid squad at Eugene Friday afternoon.

Sturdy defensive work by Rook tackle Andy Skief and guard Eckert Mahl prevented the final score from being even larger than it was.

The Ducklings, led by quarterback John Keller and halfbacks Dick Pavlet and Mal Buchanan, drove their way to a pair of first-half touchdowns and added three more in the final stanza. Mel McCain, Rook quarterback, tried to get his team's offensive clicking, but the Ducklings' large line kept smushing through to drop his repeatedly for large losses.

The big Oregon line held the Rooks to a minus 13 yards rushing and only 19 yards gained passing. The Rooks could only muster two prolonged drives, the deepest going to the Ducklings' 33-yard line.

Duck tackle Harry Johnson, guard Troy Bellah and end Ted Overton led the Duckling defensive unit which repeatedly pushed the Beavers back into their own territory. Oregon's attack was centered around a 292 yard rushing total.

The OSC club will have a chance to square matters with the two teams met at Corvallis on November 7. The teams will play on Bell field.

Stanford's Indians Beat Orangemen

Fumbles Big Factor During Fast, High Scoring Game

PALO ALTO, Calif. (Special)—Although out-played in the final quarter, Stanford and the clock defeated Oregon State college 41 to 28 here Saturday before an estimated 28,000 fans.

Bad breaks for the Orange in the opening minutes of play gave the Cardinals an early lead in the contest. The first one happened like this: Oregon State kicked off to the Red to open the game. After being held for three plays the Cardinals punted to the OSC 30 where halfback Marv Ussery fumbled and the Cards recovered. On the next play quarterback Bob Garrett passed to Sam Morley for the first of Stanford's six touchdowns.

The next break for the Indians came a few plays later when one of quarterback Jimmy Withrow's passes was intercepted on the OSC 48. Four plays later the Cards scored on a 30-yard jaunt by halfback Ron Cook.

Stanford scored once more in the first quarter, and this touchdown jaunt put a record into the Stanford all-time book. The Beavers had worked their way to the Stanford six-inch line and for four plays the Reds' terrific defensive line scored three touchdowns. The first came after end Bob Hartman recovered a Stanford fumble on the Stanford 15. After working their way down to within the Stanford three-yard line, Withrow passed to end Jack Gotta from the one-yard line for the score.

Beavers Recover
Another fumble cost the Indians a touchdown. After recovering the fumble on the Stanford 30, Withrow passed to Taylor who was run out of bounds on the Stanford one-yard line. Baker tried to crack center on the next play but failed. Withrow again passed to Gotta for the score.

	Stanford	O S C

kept the Orangemen from scoring. On the first play after the home team took over on downs, right half Bill Rogers cut through left guard and skipped 97 yards down the sidelines for the score.

Oregon State came back after a scoreless second quarter and with only three minutes gone in the second half scored the first of four OSC touchdowns. To open the half Stanford's Bob Mathias, Olympic Decathlon champ, kicked off to the Beavers' Sam Baker. Baker ran back the kickoff 39 yards to the OSC 43. Six plays later halfback Wally Jackson went through right tackle, but back and went 38 yards for the score.

Cardinals Score

The Cardinals turned on the steam to score their three final touchdowns in the third quarter. First it was Mathias who broke loose for 61 yards; then Rogers took a five-yard pass from Garrett. The final Stanford score came when Joe St. Geme intercepted a Kaye Booth pass and rambled 60 yards for the score.

The Beavers came back like wild fire in the final frame and

ON THE GO - Stanford Fullback Bob Mathias (49) picks up 13 yards and first down against Oregon State at Palo Alto during first quarter action. Oregon State's defensive halfback Bill West (40) grabs at Mathias as tackle John Witte (95) comes in to make final stop. Stanford won, 41-28.

Fishing For Facts

By JIM FISHER
Barometer Sports Editor

Statistics don't count a bit when it comes to deciding the final score of a game, but nevertheless they can be interesting. For instance, the Oregon State Beavers last Saturday at Palo Alto had more first downs, 15 to 12, completed more passes, 14 to 3, and made more yardage from passes than Stanford. The Orange also had a better punt average, 49 to 32, and a better kickoff yardage, 49 to 44.

But bad breaks for the Orange early in the game probably spelled the difference. Before the Beavers could catch their breath the Cardinals were boasting a 21 point lead.

What happened... it started with a punt fumble which Stanford recovered on the OSC 30. One pass play later the Indians had scored. After that a pass interception set up another.

One that can't be denied the Cardinals, however, is the 97 yard run that Halfback Bill Rogers ran for a touchdown in the first quarter. However, it might have never happened if the Beavers could have pushed across the Stanford goal, instead of giving the Indians the ball on downs.

In the fourth quarter the Beavers soon learned to pass for the T.D. instead of trying to crack the vaunted Stanford defensive line. Twice when within the two-yard area Quarterback Jim Withrow heaved little one-yard passes to End Jack Gotta for scores. Gotta would just run a few steps across the goal, turn around and haul the aerial in.

Here's an interesting item—the Cal Bulletin picked Stanford over OSC on a slightly different method than most prognosticators use. They measure the team man for man at each position. The Bulletin gave Stanford a 6 to 5 edge both offensively and defensively. "Offensively, Stanford looms stronger at both ends, at left tackle and at all the backfield positions EXCEPT FULLBACK," the paper stated.

That means almost the unbelievable—a California paper thinks OSC's fullback, Sam Baker, is better than Stanford's Bob Mathias. Baker is the only natural fullback on the Coast, and besides being a great runner, he can punt well over a 40 yard average, play safety, and block.

At Palo Alto Sam was definitely one of the game's outstanding players, even though he could pick up only 36 yards rushing. Line Coach Len Younce was only sorry that the Beaver team couldn't give Sam better blocking and bigger holes than it did Saturday.

Cliff Crandall, ex-OSC basketball all-American and recently captain of the Phillips Oilers, AAU national champions in '51, is not playing basketball, but he isn't completely away from the game. He has the job of running the public address system at San Francisco's Cow Palace this year.

He will be manning the mike when the Beaver maple crew ventures into the southland this December. Coach Slat's team meets Stanford at the Cow Palace.

The Beavers didn't play as good a game against Stanford as they did against MSC a week ago. It's early in the week to be predicting winners but we're confident that the Orange will be ready mentally for USC this weekend in Portland.

USC beat San Diego Navy last Saturday and by the score it looked like they didn't have any trouble. But statistically the Navy boys outplayed them in every department. Didn't mean much to the scoreboard, however. USC won 20 to 6.

The Trojans have a terrific defensive club, but offensively they lack. Their scores against SDN came on such things as pass interceptions and fumble recoveries. If the Orange are "up" for the game, which the team as a whole should be, look for an OSC victory. The Beavers almost upset Michigan State; they certainly should be able to set the Trojans down.

Bud to Hula Bowl

Bud Wilkinson, head football coach, University of Oklahoma, has accepted the invitation of Paul Stupin, general manager of the College All-Star squad, to coach the collegians in the 7th annual Hula Bowl games played in Hawaii.

The games will be played on the 4th and 11th of January, 1953. The famed Sooner mentor, Coach of the Year in 1949 and 1950, will present his split-T-formation for the first time, to Hawaii's football public.

The Hula Bowl games are always played after the New Year's Day Bowl games. This enables the stars of the bowl games to make the annual trip to the Paradise of the Pacific.

Waldorf Still Cries; Defense No Good, No Passing Attack

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13. (UP)—Pessimistic Pappy Waldorf, who coaches the California football team that has averaged 38 points per game and is undefeated in its first four tilts, opined today that his defensive unit "needs some work."

"Our pass defense isn't exactly good," he pointed out to the Northern California football writers today. "The Oregon quarterback, George Shaw, completed 23 passes against us. That was good for 244 yards—so you can see we need to do some work there."

But Waldorf agreed that the ground defense was doing better. "We held Oregon to 30 yards in 30 plays on the ground," he said.

So far this season, California hasn't had much of a passing attack—mainly because the crunching ground game has been so powerful that the Bears haven't needed to take to the air.

MSC, Maryland, Bears on Top Rungs of Gridiron Ladder

NEW YORK (UP)—Four weeks

of tough competition now are complete and three mighty gridiron machines stand out Monday as possibly the "super teams" of the 1952 football season—Michigan State, California, and Maryland.

There are plenty of others bidding for those honors, such as Duke, Georgia Tech, Southern California, Penn, Purdue, and Oklahoma, and some of these may be eventually recognized as great.

But at this early stage, the three standouts are Michigan State, which racked up its 18th straight win by 48-6 over the Texas Aggies last Saturday; Maryland, which won No. 16 in a row by a thumping 37-0 over Georgia; and California, riding a more modest seven-game streak with a 41-7 rout of Oregon.

Michigan State did its stuff before a national television audience Saturday and gave the folks a real show. The nation's No. 1 ranked team rolled to an amazing 30 first downs as it uncorked dazzling plays from just about every formation known in football.

California, ranked second nationally, found itself held to a 7-7 tie by Oregon, but then blasted loose with five touchdowns, two by Johnny Olszewski, to prove its class. Maryland, ranked fourth last week by the United Press Board of Coaches, showed a terrific defense that stopped dead a Georgia offense that only a week earlier had rolled over North Carolina State, 49-0.

All three teams will be heavy favorites this week, too, with Maryland drawing the toughest assignment against Navy. Michigan State meets Syracuse and California meets Santa Clara.

While these teams kept rolling, the biggest winning streak came to an end Saturday when Pennsylvania downed Princeton, 13-7. The Tigers had won 24 straight since 1949, but couldn't break through the Quaker defense in the second half.

The Michigan State - Syracuse game heads the intersectional card this week. Another headliner is the Ohio State-Washington State fray, eighth meeting this year between a Big Ten and PCC team, with the score 5-2 for the PCC. Other intersectionals coming up: Boston University-William & Mary, Indiana - Temple, Marquette-Arizona, and Penn State-Nebraska.

Other top games this week include: Boston College - Villanova and Miami (Fla.)-Richmond (both Friday), Army - Pitt, Dartmouth-Rutgers, Fordham-Quantico Marines, Harvard - Colgate, Holy Cross-Brown, Kansas State-Tulsa, Oklahoma Aggies-Missouri, Texas Tech-Baylor, Virginia - VMI, and Princeton-Lafayette.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
