No Meeting

The AWS legislative council will NOT meet today as originally scheduled. Members will be notified of future meetings.

Speech Section Readies Production of 'Our Town'

Thornton Wilder, author of the play "Our Town," has given a simple dramatization of the essentials in lives of average people. In this story of one town and its citizens, Wilder has conveyed the thought of all towns, in all times and places. The play will be presented March 5, 6, and 7 by the speech department.

Stuart Beals, '56, the stage manager, will tell the story of "Our Town" which takes place in Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, and portrays the people who live there. The stage manager is in direct contact with the audience, watching with them the "wheel of daily doings" in the town.

U. of Munich German Students Observe OSC

Four German students and one faculty member from the University of Munich are on the Oregon State college campus observing some of the functions and operations of the college. The students are Peter Buchgraber, Peter Nischk, Dietrich van der Linden, Miss Ruth Spital, and Dr. Carola Seethaler. Accompanying the group was Miss Leona Saunders, associate director of students at the University of Washington.

Students Study at U. of W. They have been attending the University of Washington for the past two terms, and have been studying student personnel services, student self-government, and other aspects of higher education.

The group arrived Wednesday evening and were met by Austin F. Walter, foreign student counselor, and a group of OSC students which included Don Van Allsburg, ASOSC president, and Fred Kluth, a student from Germany studying at OSC. They met with A. L. Strand, president of OSC, yesterday morning, and with the student body officers in the afternoon. Fred M. Shideler, director of information, conducted a tour of the campus for the students following the afternoon meeting.

Group to Meet at Luther House Robert Koehler, director of dormitories, will meet with them this morning, and later the group will meet with the Campus Religious Council at Luther house. Included in the afternoon program is a meeting with the dean of men, the dean of women, and a tour of the library which will be conducted by William H. Carlson, director of the library.

Tonight they will attend the OSC-University of Oregon basketball game in the coliseum. Following the game they will be entertained at the Cosmopolitan club social hour.

Public Affairs Group Sponsor Salem Trip

A one-day visit to the state legislature in Salem Saturday is being sponsored by the Round Table public affairs committee, Dave Dickman, '55, chairman of the Round Table public affairs committee, said. Interested students may sign up in the Round Table office, Memorial Union 215. Deadline is set for today at 5 p.m.

Students participating will meet tomorrow morning at 7:30 in the Memorial Union lounge. They will attend a committee meeting in the state government immediately after the arrival in Salem, and a session of the state legislature from 10 a.m. to noon.

A discussion of the civil rights bill by Senator Philip S. Hitchcock will start after lunch at 1 p.m. A tour of the capitol building at 2 p.m. will conclude the program. Departure time will be approximately 3 p.m.

DZ's Initiate, Elect Recently initiated into Delta Zeta, national social sorority, were Patricia Ohlson, '54, Alice White, '55, and Marjorie Knapp, Shirley Shockley and Margaret Welch, all '56.

NW Conference On Roadbuilding Held on Campus

Highway System Still Below Safe Standard, According to Gleeson

More than two-thirds of our present street, road, and highway system is still below the standard required for safe driving, George W. Gleeson, dean of engineering, asserted yesterday morning in an address welcoming the Northwest conference on roadbuilding. The conference is to continue today in Memorial Union 105 with presentation of six technical papers and one motion picture.

33 Million Cars in U.S. Progress and standard of living depend largely on automobile transportation, said Gleeson. Today there are more than 33 million automobiles in this country. Experts estimate that there will be more than 80 million crowding the roads in 1975. More than 10 percent of the average family budget is spent for transportation, he reported, and the need for adequate highways is greater than ever.

Insurance premiums paid by car owners each year equal the amount spent annually for present road construction, improvement, and maintenance programs, Gleeson said. He emphasized that the road and highway situation is not only a problem of civil engineering but one of the three top problems of the whole nation, and probably the most important one.

Clayton, Shoemaker Speak Seven technical papers and a model demonstration were presented yesterday. Speakers from Oregon State college included L. A. Clayton, assistant professor of civil engineering, and R. H. Shoemaker, instructor in civil engineering.

Among the displays in the M.U. concourse are various types of road and street signs, street lighting equipment, and color slides describing different phases of roadbuilding projects. Shown outside the building is a civil defense rescue truck from the Oregon state civil defense agency in Salem.

Company F of Army ROTC Rates High

Company F, of the army ROTC department, had the highest score in the inter-company competition, according to Colonel Pickett, professor of military science and tactics. Winning score for the department, based upon squad, platoon and company drill tests, was 93.4 percent. Other company scores were as follows: company G, 92.9 percent; company E, 92.2 percent; company C, 90; company B, 88.7; and company A, 87.7.

Tests for the remainder of the term will be based upon attendance, promptness and inspection in ranks, according to Colonel Pickett.

Oregon's Civil Defense Agency Now Well-Equipped

Within the last few days Oregon's civil defense agency has become better equipped than ever before. An $8600-rescue truck with everything from sledge hammers and wrecking bars to gas masks and oxygen breathing equipment was purchased by the organization. Curious Staters wandering around the Memorial Union will have a chance to inspect the vehicle today. It was brought to the campus for the Northwest conference on roadbuilding.

Air Raid Use Important Purpose of the truck is to lend technical assistance for all sorts of disasters or catastrophes, said Oscar Cutler, deputy director of engineering and rescue from the civil defense agency in Salem yesterday. The vehicle is equipped for relief work in case of major floods, earthquakes, conflagration or explosions, he said. Its main purpose, however, is to operate during or after possible air raids or war actions.

The truck is planned for a crew of eight men. There are 109 different types of items, and many of them are eight-fold to provide

Home Ec Committee

BARBARA JONES, '56, a lower division student, investigates home economics with the help of Jo Taylor, '55, and Miss Marie Ledbetter, assistant professor of clothing, textile, and related arts.

Home Ec Club Sponsors Tea

A tea to introduce women registered in lower division to the school of home economics will be held in the home economics suite today from 2:30 to 5 p.m. The tea is sponsored by the Home Economics club and faculty members.

"Investigating Home Economics" is the theme of the tea. Lower division women will have an opportunity to tour the home economics building. They will be able to discuss the offerings of the departments in the school of home economics with faculty members from these departments.

All lower division women are invited to attend the tea whether they are interested in home economics or not, according to Jo Taylor, '55, general chairman. Home economics students are also invited.

Lower Division Sophs Advised

Lower division sophomores who plan to register on March 7 are expected to see their advisers before that date in order to get their spring term programs approved, according to Dr. Frank L. Parks, head counselor for the division. Freshmen should see their advisers not later than the week beginning March 9.

The importance of getting programs arranged and approved early is stressed by Dr. Parks. He pointed out that students save themselves much time by doing this before registration day. In addition, their own advisers have access to their records and can help them avoid mistakes in registration and assure completion of required sequence courses.

Dean Ralph Colby of lower division has sent a letter to each lower division student with the student's adviser's name and campus office address. Any student who has mislaid this information may call at the dean's office, social science 205.

'Circus Daze' Theme Of U of O Carnival

The annual WRA carnival at the University of Oregon will be held this Saturday night. The carnival's theme this year will be "Circus Daze." This will be an all-school function and Oregon State students attending the game in Eugene are invited. The carnival will last from 9 to 12 p.m.

Rook Ag Major Will Get Trip

The outstanding freshman male student majoring in agriculture at Oregon State college will be eligible for a scholarship granting an expense paid two weeks stay, August 17-30, at the American Youth Leadership Training camp located on the shores of Lake Michigan.

Forty-nine scholarships have been provided for by the Danforth Foundation to be awarded to the most outstanding agriculture freshman at each of the 48 state universities and one Canadian university.

The American Youth Foundation Leadership Training camp places a great deal of emphasis on personal development of the individual through religion and mental and physical training. During the two week period the persons attending have a chance to learn more about themselves and also a great many other young people with somewhat similar interests, according to Earl A. Sinden, executive member of the Danforth Foundation.

Any freshman who is interested in details of the summer camp is invited to contact W. M. Langan, agriculture student adviser, in agriculture 132.

ATO's Elect Officers Alpha Tau Omega, national social fraternity, elected new officers for the coming year.

Those elected are Bob McPherson, president; Paul Massee, vice president; Herbert Massinger, house manager; Arthur Avrit, keeper of annals; Blair Finlay, social chairman, all '54; and Gordon Aune, secretary; Jack Sageser, assistant house manager, both '55.

Canterbury Club International Newspaper Set

Local Club to Publish Paper for U.S., Five Foreign Countries

At the request of the National Canterbury association, composed of all Episcopal student groups in the United States, the Canterbury group at Oregon State college is publishing "The National Canterbury," a newspaper which goes to over 100 students and Canterbury clubs in the U.S., Hawaii, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Alaska, and Canada.

Edited by Sam Houston, '53, who is assisted by members of the local group, the paper features articles by students, chaplains and clergymen on news of national interest; it includes a column of program activities from local groups and organizations. The current issue, the second to be published, contains articles on faculty activities, graduate study groups, the United Student Christian Council Study Conference held at Stanford, and other news and editorials of national interest.

Financed by the National Canterbury association, the paper is edited, published, and mailed by the local Canterbury group from the Episcopal church in Corvallis. This paper serves a real purpose in "informing and inspiring individuals and clubs with the association's purpose and actions through articles on projects and committee actions, and by human interest stories of the leaders of NCA and the Division of College Work of the National Council of the Episcopal Church."

Christian House To Present Play

"Release," a one-act play, will be presented by Christian house at the Corvallis Christian church, February 29, at 8 p.m. It is the story of a robber in Bible times and how this man found spiritual and physical release through the death of Christ.

The characters are Bar Abbas, Claude Weikel, '56; Dymas, Marion Brooks, '56; Sothmes, Jim Mawhirter, '54; Mara, Pat Swango, '54; Tamah, Louise Saylor, '56; Dural, Dick Lauer, '54; Centurian, Leroy Peterson, '53; and Soldier, Gene Jackson, '55.

Costumes will be managed by Celia Weaver, '55; properties by Betty Anderson, '55; makeup by Joan Price, '56; and Carol Fallert, '56, is director.

A worship service at the opening of the play will include scripture reading, poems, and hymns. These will be led by Jim Robinson, Beverly Thies, and Carolyn Youngstrom, all '56. Jeannine O'Reilly will play the organ and Larry Bails will sing a solo.

Peggy Robb Elected President of AWS

Misses Paine, Skinner, Cotton, Luebe Chosen to Represent Women in 1953-54

Peggy Robb, '54, was elected president of Associated Women Students in the annual AWS election Wednesday. She will officially take office at the beginning of spring term. Other AWS leaders elected were Joan Paine, '55, vice president; Janet Skinner, '56, secretary; Glenda Cotton, '54, treasurer; and Barbara Luebe, '55, sergeant-at-arms.

Miss Robb, the third of the five presidential candidates to speak at the AWS pre-election convocation, said the previous speakers had thoroughly covered the requirements and objectives she felt were vital to the office. Instead, she related a story emphasizing one requirement . . . be prepared.

The newly elected officers were announced at the annual Gracias party Wednesday night.

Other candidates on the slate of 25 were Sara Archibald, Ruth Cereghino, Barbara Lindfors and Ethel Doyle, all '54, for president; Donna Barton, Jo Ford, Rosalie Hanson and Marilyn Wilson, all '55, for vice president; Carol Aho, Sue Erlenbaugh, Jeannette Elle and Marilyn Miller, all '56, secretary; Virginia Jones, '55, Martha Miller, '54, Virginia Willey, '54, and Ann Williamson, '55, treasurer; and Pat Hickert, '54, Creagh Brennan, '55, Kay Johnson, '54, and Kathleen Taylor, '54, sergeant-at-arms.

Insurance Plan Being Studied

The associated students' welfare committee met yesterday afternoon to discuss an all-student insurance proposal to go into possible effect on a voluntary enrollment basis during spring term. The committee had previously requested and received bids from several interested insurance companies, and had settled on a proposal from a major company which was selected on the basis of low premium payment and minimum participation requirements.

Several factors in the policy disagreeable to the committee were discovered during today's talks with the local agent, however, and final decision of the committee was postponed until objectionable portions were eliminated. Don Van Allsburg, ASOSC president, reported last night. If such provisions, including lack of coverage when students were not actually at school or school-sponsored activities, cannot be changed by the company, other bids may be reconsidered, Van Allsburg added.

The next meeting of the student welfare committee will be held Tuesday at 4 p.m. in commerce hall 113. Students are welcome to attend ASOSC committee and senate meetings, Van Allsburg emphasized.

Applicants for Editor Of 1954 Beaver Due

Applications for the position of editor of the 1954 edition of the Beaver, student yearbook, are due Friday, March 6, at 5:30 p.m. in the journalism department, ad annex 2, according to Nancy Halladay, '53, present Beaver editor.

The editor is being selected this term in order to give him experience in working with this year's staff and to assure continuity in the spring activity section, which will be included in next year's book, Miss Halladay said.

Applicants should possess experience in yearbook preparation, preferably received in previous work with the Beaver. Miss Halladay stated she would be pleased to discuss responsibilities and special requirements for the position with prospective applicants. Her office is in Memorial Union 203.

Chi Omega Elects

New officers of Chi Omega, national social society, were elected at a meeting Monday night.

Elected are Ruth Cereghino, '54, president; Alaila Ostrum, '54, vice president; Carol Kooman, '54, secretary; Mary Hillberry, '55, treasurer; Terry Lou Webster, '55, treasurer; Kay Johnson, '54, pledge trainer; Pat Thorne, '55, house manager; Sally Austin, '56, herald; and Sally Schneider, '56, chapter correspondent.

Delts Hold Elections

Delta Tau Delta, national social fraternity, recently elected Ed Hagemann, president; Jim Fisher, vice president; and Don Guinn, manager, all '54. Bob Hermsen, '56, was elected recording secretary.

Radio Pamphlet Issued by Tucker To High Schools

An eighty-six page pamphlet entitled "Radio for Children" was released this week by radio station KOAC. Author of the booklet is Duane Tucker, assistant professor of radio education at KOAC. A practical guide to mock broadcasting, the pamphlet will be used by grade and high school teachers to assist students in putting on mock broadcasts.

Tucker stressed the importance of mock broadcasting because it instills in students motivation for doing their regular course work as well as improving their language scale.

The text will be used this spring term at Oregon State in a radio education course to be held on Tuesday evenings at the KOAC studios.

Copies of the pamphlet will soon be sent to teachers throughout the state of Oregon. KOAC will do this as a service to the teachers of the state. The only cost to the teachers will be those of labor and price of the paper.

WRA Elections To Be Held Soon

Elections for the Women's Recreational association council will be held Wednesday and Thursday in the women's building. Candidates for WRA president are Elsie Laughlin and Joy Fielder, both '54.

Running for vice-president are Winnie Johnson, Janice Riches and Joan Paine, all '56. Donna Sparling and Helen Rickey, both '54, are on the slate for treasurer, and Kajia Lietuviets, '55, and Janet Skinner, '56, and Marion Riglesworth, '56, have been nominated for the secretarial post.

Jody Davis, '55, is the sole nominee for the job of intramural manager, but three freshman women are on the ballot for assistant intramural manager: Cynthia Crouch, Doreen Gates, and Diana Stevens.

Subject of Interview To Be Food Freezing

Lois Sather, home economist for the food technology department, will interview Mrs. Tracy Johnson, program consultant for the Memorial Union and a homemaker, on the KOAC farm hour Friday at 7:45 p.m. Mrs. Johnson will talk about freezing foods at home.

The program includes a discussion of the packaging methods and materials Mrs. Johnson uses for meat, poultry, fish and game products, how she uses her home freezer, and what foods she puts into it. Mrs. Sather will tell about the information available on freezing meat, poultry, fish, seafoods and game in the new bulletin No. 732 published by the food technology department. This bulletin is available through the clerical exchange.

Both women have homemaking as well as professional careers where frozen foods save hours of preparation time, according to Mrs. Sather.

The Weather

Western Oregon: Partly cloudy Friday with patches of early morning valley fog. Cloudy over the north half Friday afternoon. Some light rain Friday evening. Partly cloudy Saturday. High Friday 52-65. High Saturday 52-65. Low Friday night 30-40. Winds off coast, mostly northwesterly 15-25 MPH.

UMOC - No Less

Eeeeeiiiiiii!!! As we sit up in the Barometer office peacefully contemplating what in the world we can think about to write up so that the editorial page will come within a semblance of being filled up, this earth-shaking and ear-splitting scream comes racing through the air. Its deafening characteristics seemed ubiquitous.

Shaken out of our lethargy and somewhat incensed at having been so rudely awakened from a deep slumber, we sauntered down two flights of stairs to get at the root of the trouble. Perhaps here was a story. Perhaps here was what we needed to fill the editorial page.

Being a true reporter, our detective-like instincts led us from one place to another until we rounded the corner and started to enter the "O" club.

It was here that what breath we had left after our stair-climbing effort was rudely and involuntarily pumped from us. Face to face we stood within 15 or 20 feet of the most ghastly faces we have ever seen. Being unprepared for such an occurrence, and being definitely not used to such happenings, we weren't sure whether to run, stand frozen with fright and hope they didn't see us, or stand our ground and prepare to fight for our lives. We tried the first and that didn't work.

Seniors are reminded that Sunday, March first, is the deadline for paying senior class dues. Seniors who haven't paid their class dues are not eligible to get their pictures in this year's Beavers. A word to the wise... (particularly those with tooth paste smiles).

Cheers 'n Jeers

Note to letter writers: All letters must be signed with the student's signature. Letters are considered necessary for the Barometer and other students to know what campus opinion is and all letters are welcomed from anyone on any subject. Requests that names be withheld or initials only be used will be carefully considered and the editor's decision will be final.

A Justifiable Gripe TO THE EDITOR:

Having existed on what the administration hopefully calls food, and having the services of two clean towels, one clean sheet, and a clean pillowcase a week, leaves nothing to be desired on this campus.

So often letters to the editor are complaints, but this time I would like to throw a rose and hope that the persons responsible can smell it. At the nominal sum of one hundred and ninety dollars, I can live for eleven weeks in approved college housing. I like living under these Democratic conditions so well that I will overlook the fact that room and board might cost me at least fifty dollars a term less if I were able to live off campus with one or two other girls. Also, I appreciate the fact that as an undergraduate student I am being well taken care of, which is the function of an institution as defined by Webster.

To the persons responsible for the high prices, rice, potatoes, spaghetti, bread, pineapple, and the laundry service—thank you. If it weren't for an institution such as this, we college students would have financial difficulties would hardly be able to attend college without having to work for seventy-five cents an hour.

Sincerely, J. S.

P.S. The question of the week—"Will the Barometer dare to publish this letter or in a Democratic institution such as this, will the administration again have its way?"

AWS Petitions For Chairman Positions Open

Petitions from women interested in chairmanships of the committees of activity board, publicity, radio, volunteer services and scholarship are now being accepted by Associated Women Students. Petition blanks are available in the AWS office, M.U. 213, and must be filled out and turned in by 4 p.m., Tuesday, March 3.

Duties of the activity board are to revise the activity evaluation system and to maintain a system whereby control may be kept over the activities under the system. The publicity chairman makes known to the student body the AWS proceedings which are of general interest. She is a member of the executive council.

It is the duty of the radio chairman to inform radio listeners throughout the state of activities on the Oregon State college campus and of the activities of AWS. The volunteer services chairman makes known to women the activities and classes sponsored by the American Red Cross and AWS and makes arrangements for and coordinates these activities and classes. The scholarship chairman coordinates AWS scholastic activities on the campus.

Delt Delegates Begin to Arrive

Delegates to the 55th Western division conference of Delta Tau Delta, national social fraternity, started arriving on the Oregon State campus yesterday. OSC's Delt chapter is host to the conference to be held today and tomorrow in the Memorial Union and at the Benton hotel.

First to arrive of the expected 150 fraternity members were two delegates from UCLA.

The two-day affair will come to a close after the Founders' day dinner and informal dance to be held at the Benton hotel tomorrow night.

Delt dignitaries in Corvallis for the event include Bob Gilley, Portland attorney and president of the Western division; Martin B. Dickson, national president; and Hugh Shields, national executive vice president.

These warm afternoons make for thoughts of beach trips, Colorado lake, and beer busts. It also makes going to afternoon classes difficult. The only trouble with going to class on time is that there is seldom anyone there to appreciate it.

What is even more difficult is staying awake once in class. It's not so bad to sleep through all your classes, but when you start to wake up automatically every 50 minutes during the night, you've had it.

515 Men Attend I.F. Banquet

The inter-fraternity banquet, held in the ballroom of the Memorial Union last Wednesday night, was attended by 515 men, according to Dan Eastman, '53, general chairman. Professor Frank Hamack, national president of Sigma Phi Epsilon, gave a speech on fraternalism. Dan Poling, dean of men, introduced Professor Hamack.

A history of the inter-fraternity banquet was given by Glenn Richardson, '53, and the fraternities in attendance sang several informal songs. Professor Hamack was given a set of cuff links and a tie clasp, and Dan Poling was presented an engraved cigarette lighter.

A welcoming address was given by Dr. A. L. Strand, president of Oregon State college.

Nelson to Speak On Modern Grammar

Herbert B. Nelson, English department head, will give a speech on the "Modern View of Grammar and Linguistics" in Portland, March 16, it was announced by his office yesterday. A convention of the Oregon Educational Association will be the scene of the speech. Nelson will address the language arts section of the group.

Henry Weatherspoon, general chairman of the language arts section, in a letter to Nelson last week, announced the other speakers of the convention. They are Wilma Spentz, superintendent of language arts of Albany; Doctor Miner Patton, chairman of the Oregon Educational Association television committee; Ada Ross, Salem; and Stewart Chase, well-known writer and authority on semantics.

Veterans' Essay Contest For Korean Vets Opens

All United States veterans and servicemen of the Korean conflict are invited to enter an essay contest conducted by the American Veterans committee, according to a letter received by the dean of men's office from Charles H. Slayman, Jr., national executive director of AVC, Inc. The title is "What the United States Should Do About the Korean Conflict."

"The subject is perplexing everyone today, to a greater or lesser degree, and we are of the opinion that our essay contest may uncover some sound suggestions which may be given serious consideration by the public and officials alike," Slayman said.

The essays will be judged for sincerity and clarity of thought showing evidence of consideration of all the factors involved, and constructiveness of suggestions. The winning essayist will receive $250 and the essay will be published. Second place will receive $100, and third place $50. One hundred dollars will be given to a Congressional Medal of Honor recipient if the judges make such a selection. Winners will be announced prior to the end of April, 1953.

Essayists must be citizens of the United States who are currently on active duty in the armed forces of the United States in Korea or adjacent waters or who have performed with the armed forces in that geographical area since June 27, 1950. The essays should not be over 2500 words and must be received by the national office before midnight (EST) April 7, 1953.

Members of AVC's national planning committee are the judges. They are Charles Bolte, first national chairman of AVC; William Pfaff, associate editor of Commonweal; and Bill Mauldin, famous G.I. cartoonist and creator of "Willie and Joe."

All entries must be submitted with the following information: full name, branch, serial number, dates of duty in Korea or adjacent waters, permanent home address and complete present address. The following statement must also be submitted and signed: "I certify that this essay was prepared by me for this contest and has not been published heretofore." Entries must be addressed to Essay Contest, American Veterans Committee, 1751 New Hampshire avenue N.W., Washington 9, D.C.

Additional information may be received by contacting the dean of men's office in commerce 111.

Senator Bilbo, D.U. Mascot, Retires; Lady Dogs Mourn

Senator Bilbo, prominent campus figure and Delta Upsilon mascot dog, recently went into retirement at his country home run by Bill Johnson, '54. Bilbo has received many honors at Oregon State, including a bid from Masque and Dagger, national drama society.

Bilbo made his debut on the stage in Oregon State college's speech club play, "Storm Over Patsy," in November, 1950. Fortunately for the very masculine Bilbo's dignity, he played a female. During the rehearsal of the play the director, E. S. Cortright, associate professor of speech, commented, "Bilbo takes direction very well, doesn't steal too many scenes, and will not speak unless spoken to. An ideal actor!"

Bilbo's origin is unknown. One day he strolled into the DU house and created such an impression that he remained there for five years. Bilbo is known and loved by students and faculty alike. He has made many lady acquaintances during his stay at Oregon State!

Filcich to Teach Slavian Dances

John Filcich, authority on Yugoslavian dance and music from Oakland, California, will teach three sessions of kolas, a line dance where partners are not required, and other Yugoslavian dances on Saturday in women's building 116. The Promenaders from Oregon State college are sponsoring Mr. Filcich.

"Those who are experiencing Yugoslavian dances for the first time will have an authentic and inspirational introduction to this type in learning them with Mr. Filcich," said Mrs. Virginia Larson, pianist for women's physical education.

The following sessions will be held in the women's building: 9 a.m. to noon, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., and 8 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. The fees are $1 for the complete series or 50 cents for one session.

Filcich was chairman of a two-day Kolo Festival in San Francisco, California, last November. He is teaching in Portland, Eugene and Seattle. A group of Yugoslavian folk-dancers use the typical tamburitza orchestra to accompany the dancers in Seattle.

Folk dancers will be interested in knowing that he is bringing his traveling exhibit which consists of native costumes, handicraft and many costume pictures.

Resource Men to Meet

Natural resource majors of freshman, sophomore, and junior standing will meet at the home of Dr. J. G. Jensen, department of natural resources chairman, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 4. There will be an informal refreshment period and discussion of plans for a spring banquet. Students interested in natural resources as a major are welcome to attend.

Student Body Primaries, M.U. Elections to Be Held

Student body primary and Memorial Union elections will be held on the campus April 15, two weeks after the beginning of spring term. The deadline for submitting petitions to the ASOSC office for student body offices is 5 p.m. on April 9. The petitions must bear the signatures and student body card numbers of 90 members of the student body.

Class elections will also be held at this time with petitions requiring the signatures and student body card numbers of 90 members of the petitioner's class. The petitions are also to be filed in the ASOSC office by 5 p.m., April 9.

Party Organization Due
Now is the time, emphasized John Hensala, '54, chairman of the ASOSC election committee, to organize parties and circulate petitions for the coming elections. The final student body elections will be held April 22.

M.U. Post Needs Plurality
Memorial Union posts will be filled by a plurality vote April 15. M.U. presidential candidates are primarily those approved by the M.U. board of directors from names submitted by the nominating committee. However, any student body member may, by filing a properly signed petition with the student body secretary four days prior to elections, nominate a candidate qualifying for the presidency. These petitions must have signatures and student body card numbers of 200 students.

Applications from the presidential aspirants are being accepted now by the nominating committee in the M.U. east bay.

March 5 Deadline For Senior Dues

Senior dues, which are $1.50, must be paid by Thursday, March 5, in order to get a picture in the senior section of the Beaver.

Dues may be paid at the educational activities office or paid directly to Kal LeMaster, class treasurer. Living group senior representatives have due cards for sale which should be turned in by March 4.

Phi Sig Candidate Leads Tight Race For "Ugliest Man"

Phi Sigma Kappa is leading the "Ugliest Man on Campus" contest with 868 votes as the final balloting of the contest approaches. Balloting has been steady, and the race has been close to this point. The balloting booths will be moved to the coliseum tonight so you may get your last vote there.

The girls' living group, Alpha Phi, is running a close second with 848 votes, Acacia is third with 833 votes, Hawley fourth with 793 votes, and Phi Delta Theta with 758 votes. Twenty-two living groups have entered the contest.

Dean Poling said that the students and contestants are to be commended on their participation in such a contest for the project is for a most worthy cause. He also said that last year's project, erecting directional signs, will be a good contribution to the campus, and that it is very much needed.

Votes Tabulated at Game
The votes will be tabulated tonight after the third quarter of the Oregon-Oregon State basketball game, so get your votes in before then. Presentation of the prize will be announced at the Lemon-Orange Squeeze after the game, and not at the half-time ceremonies of the game as was previously announced.

The silver key with the picture of the ugly man upon it will be awarded at the dance so prospective winners should be at the dance.

A rotating plaque won last year by Phi Kappa Psi will be presented to the living group who wins. The plaque will be kept by the living group until next year's contest.

Money to Go For Project
Money from the project will go for a campus service project as was done last year. The project was to put up directional signs on campus so newcomers and people unfamiliar with the campus could find their way around. The signs have met approval by the college administration, and now await the approval of Dr. Strand.

The "Ugliest Man on Campus" contest is a national fund raising project of Alpha Phi Omega, national boy scout fraternity. This is the second year that the contest has been held here.

Gilkey, Sandgren Art Exhibited in Seattle

Professor Gordon W. Gilkey, head of the Oregon State college art department, and Professor Nelson E. Sandgren, assistant professor in art from OSC, have prints represented in the Northwest Print Makers show at the Henery gallery in Seattle, Washington.

Professor Gilkey has two etchings and Professor Sandgren has two lithographs in the show. There are only four Oregonians represented in the show. The Northwest Print Makers show is an annual regional show, held in the Henery gallery each year.

Outdoor Angles

This weekend promises to hold the best fishing conditions yet—at least for the fisherman. The water is low and clean and the weather should be clear, so even if the fish aren't cooperative, the fishing will be good. Maybe that March run of fish will show up early, who knows?

Rumors have been passing about concerning bass fishing here in the valley. I've heard of a few fish being taken by deep-running plugs and bait in the last week, caught in a pond which never flooded this winter. Maybe it is worth a try in an afternoon.

Another future possibility is steelhead on the Santiam river. Last year the fish were there in quantity in early April, and could have been there earlier. The salmon did not appear until later, however.

Last week my eyes were opened concerning a relatively untouched field of fishing. On the coast and in the bays there lies a tremendous potential for sportsmen. Crabs, clams, bay fish, and coastal rock fish are there for the taking. Last Sunday a couple of us tried spinning with small lures from the rocks between Waldport and Newport, and were rewarded with several nice perch—in spite of fishing on the wrong tide. It looks like we could better spend time here on the coast rather than on one of the crowded coastal streams when trout season opens.

Just as something to think about, consider for a minute steelhead derbies. An article published in one of the outdoor magazines a while back criticized derbies because they encouraged taking fish which were already on the decline. I didn't agree at the time, but maybe I was too hasty. It just could be that fish which might have been released or never caught at all are being brought home to enter in the salmon and steelhead derbies. What do you think?

NROTC Riflers Beat Midwestern Teams

The Oregon State college naval ROTC rifle team added two more victories to their string by defeating both University of Minnesota and Miami University. This makes 21 wins against two losses for the naval team this season.

The naval team scored a decisive victory by making 939 points against 906 for University of Minnesota, and 894 for Miami University. Members of the rifle team and their scores are Haril Newton, 198; James Rice, 189; Richard McCulloch, 186; Thomas Ebner, 186; and Ronald Lethin, 184.

Revenge Sought By Valentines In Frosh Clash

By BILL STRADER
Rook-Sports Driter

Tonight at Gill coliseum, the chance for revenge against the University of Oregon Frosh will be given to the Rooks of Oregon State. The yearlings from the south have been the only team able to humble the Valentines in two years. Their one win came earlier in the season, after the Rooks had already beaten the Frosh by wide margins in two contests. Overconfidence and McArthur court were two major factors in the defeat. As usual, the traditional rivalry between the two schools will highlight the evening.

An important item concerning the game is an excerpt from the won and lost column. The Rooks have beaten Everybody's Drug, one of the top AAU teams in Oregon, in two games this year. This same Drug team, from Eugene, has defeated the Frosh in three successive contests. If anything can be based upon previous games, this definitely shows a great potential displayed by the Rooks. At any rate, there is not an easy win in store for the Frosh.

Always dangerous to any team will be Wade "Swede" Halbrook. He will face Max Anderson, ex-Jefferson high great, and now top scorer for the Frosh. With Halbrook will be Dick Wilson and Larry Paulus at forwards, and Dick Moya and Jerry Crimins at guards. This yearling tilt will be a preliminary to the Oregon State-University of Oregon conference game. Game time will be 6 p.m.

Intramurals

Four A league intramural basketball teams managed to keep their perfect records intact Tuesday night after their fourth and fifth games of competition in the men's gym. Ten other teams also sparred for higher standings in their leagues.

Phi Kappa Tau captured its fifth straight victory in league A-D by downing Phi Kappa Psi 37 to 23. Pete Marvin led the scoring with 9 points for Phi Tau.

TKE's in Second Place
Tau Kappa Epsilon in the same league jumped to second place after eking out a 32-to-20 win from Acacia. Acacia led at the half by one point, but could not hold its margin against the pace set by the TKE's in the second half.

Sigma Pi was given its second victory by a forfeit from Pi Kappa Phi.

Cauthorn Takes Lead
In league A-F, Cauthorn hall capped the league lead by winning its fifth straight game. Its fifth victory was over Buxton hall with a lopsided 38-to-7 score. Bill Schoen of Cauthorn led in the scoring column with 16 points.

Also in league A-F, Ballard hall in league B-IV, Phi Kappa Psi dumped Phi Kappa Tau 26 to 12, and Acacia kept its perfect record by winning a forfeit from Tau Kappa Epsilon. Phi Kappa Psi and Acacia are now tied for the first spot in league B-IV.

Lambda Chi Alpha downed Alpha Gamma Rho in league B-III 31 to 19. In league B-V, Cauthorn hall won its game from Buxton hall 38 to 29, while Ballard hall gave up its game to Gatch hall by forfeit.

The only C league game played resulted in a 21-to-16 victory in league C-Z for Peavy hall over Cauthorn hall.

Lockwood hall and The Fernhoppers still maintained their unbeaten records after the intramural court action in the men's gym Monday night. Lockwood hall forced McNary hall, last year's A league champion, to its first defeat, and The Fernhoppers won its fifth victory by forfeit from Hillel club.

In league A-H, Lockwood hall, determined to retain its perfect season record, downed McNary hall 27 to 20. Gary Vincent, high point man in the game, scored 12 points for Lockwood.

Also in the same league, The Desert club squeezed past Davenport house to win 19 to 17, and Sack-

Centers Dominate N.D. Scoring Race, Houbregs Leads

LOS ANGELES, February 26—Three rangy centers, all seniors and playing their final Northern Division series this weekend, had a stranglehold on statistics released today by the Pacific Coast conference commissioner's office.

Washington's Bob (Hooks) Houbregs, who cracked the old Northern Division scoring record in his 10th game of the 16-game schedule, leads the way with an average of 26.4 points a game (138 field goals and 98 free throws for 370 points in 14 games.) The 6-foot 7-inch Houbregs also has secured up honors as the top marksman with a record of 54.6% on field goals.

Noe Leads Rebounders
Chet Noe, also six-foot-seven, of Oregon, ranks second with an 18.6 average and is the division's No. 1 rebounder with 187 in 14 games for a 13.3 average. Hartley Kruger, Idaho, 6 feet 7½ inches, is third in scoring with a 17.7 average. Both Noe and Kruger are near-cinches this weekend to join Houbregs in cracking the old season scoring record of 265 points.

Charlie Koon, Washington guard, leads the free throwers with a phenomenal mark of 93.6% on only one miss in 27 attempts. He's followed by teammate Joe Cipriano with 81%. Washington's Huskies, as a team, have practically rewritten the record book in every department except one . . . rebounds, where Oregon has a slight edge.

Huskies to Enter NCAA
This weekend Washington is at Idaho for a final series while Oregon and Oregon State conclude their seasons against each other, tonight at Corvallis and Saturday night at Eugene.

Washington, which clinched its third straight Northern Division championship last Friday night, will host the Pacific Coast conference playoffs, meeting the Southern Division representative in a best two out of three game series in Edmundson pavilion March 6, 7, and, if necessary, 8. The winner of this series will proceed to the NCAA regional playoffs at Corvallis, Oregon, on March 13.

Phi Kappa Tau captured its fifth straight victory in league A-D by downing Phi Kappa Psi 37 to 23. Pete Marvin led the scoring with 9 points for Phi Tau.

TKE's in Second Place
Tau Kappa Epsilon in the same league jumped to second place after eking out a 32-to-20 win from Acacia. Acacia led at the half by one point, but could not hold its margin against the pace set by the TKE's in the second half.

As the SPORTS PAGE Goes to Press

By JACK SALING
Barometer Sports Writer

With the selection of players for the East-West Shrine basketball game by the opposing coaches just barely underway, the northern division is faring quite well in the early picks.

So far only three men have been selected by Coach Branch McCracken for the West squad, and of these three, two are from the northern division.

McCracken, one of the outstanding coaches in the nation, is currently leading the University of Indiana to its number one rating in the nation on the last two or three United Press polls.

The selection of the players is left up to the coaches of both squads. The three men that McCracken has picked to date are Bob Houbregs, outstanding center and all-American from the University of Washington; Chet Noe, second highest scorer in the northern division behind Houbregs and probably the best defensive center in the league from the University of Oregon; and Joe Richey of Brigham Young university.

Basketball fans will probably remember Richey from pre-season when the Beavers played the Cougars on the Gill coliseum floor. Richey was far and away the best player on the BYU team.

Coaches Rely on Others for Help
The selection of players is not done entirely by the coaches of the East and West teams, however, for they are unable to see all the players that they pick in action. Therefore they rely a great deal upon the recommendation of other coaches throughout the country who have had an opportunity to see most of the teams play.

And one of the coaches called by McCracken was our own Slat's Gill, in whose judgment McCracken quite evidently puts a great deal of faith. For it wasn't long ago that Slat's received a long-distance phone call from Branch, who had heard about Noe and wanted to know what Slat's thought about him.

Without the slightest trace of bias or prejudice which might be expected from one coach against a bitter rival for 25 years, Slat's immediately praised Noe very highly, saying he was very good on offense, as well as being the best defensive big man in the league.

Noe's Ability, Slat's Support Gains Position
True, it was Noe's ability that brought his playing to the attention of McCracken in the first place, but equally true, it was Slat's who gave him the final push which put him in the East-West classic. Had Gill have turned thumbs down on Noe, he would undoubtedly never have been chosen for the game; but his support gained Noe a bid.

We hope that Mr. Noe is aware of this fact and appreciates it. We think it is a fine example of Gill's love of basketball, his sportsmanship and his fairness in dealing with a player whether his own or an opponent.

James Barratt, intercollegiate athletic business manager, said yesterday that Oregon State came within a whisper of getting James Melton, noted metropolitan opera star, to sing the Star Spangled Banner before the game between Oregon and Oregon State in the coliseum tonight.

It was reported that Melton, a member of Delta Tau Delta, was coming to the OSC campus to the western regional convention being held by the Delts here this weekend. So Barratt immediately got on the phone and called Seattle, where Melton is at the present time, in an effort to get him down for the game.

Melton reported that he had no previous engagements Friday night, and would love to come down and sing the national anthem Friday except for the fact he is currently afflicted with a case of laryngitis and is under doctor's orders, and therefore wouldn't be able to make it.

Had Melton been able to sing, it would certainly have been a feather in Oregon State's cap.

Phi Kappa Psi won the league C-Z for Peavy hall over Cauthorn hall.

Lockwood hall and The Fernhoppers still maintained their unbeaten records after the intramural court action in the men's gym Monday night. Lockwood hall forced McNary hall, last year's A league champion, to its first defeat, and The Fernhoppers won its fifth victory by forfeit from Hillel club.

In league A-H, Lockwood hall, determined to retain its perfect season record, downed McNary hall 27 to 20. Gary Vincent, high point man in the game, scored 12 points for Lockwood.

Also in the same league, The Desert club squeezed past Davenport house to win 19 to 17, and Sackett hall won by forfeit from the Half Shots. Beaver lodge boomed to a 26-to-23 victory over Weatherford hall in league A-G. The scoring was led by Vern Steward of Weatherford with 15 points.

Campus club, in the same league, blasted its way to victory over Hawley hall. Campus club led all the way and never had its lead threatened.

In league A-J, NROTC powered over The Phytoregologists to the final score of 32 to 9. This win placed NROTC with one defeat, solidly in second place behind the undefeated Fernhoppers. The Fernhoppers won their fifth consecutive victory by gaining a forfeit game from Hillel club.

Beaver Grapplers Lose to San Jose

San Jose State wrestling team spoiled the Beaver's last home appearance of the season in the men's gym, last night, by defeating Jim Dixon's grapplers, 17 to 11.

In compiling the winning margin, the Spartans won five of the eight bouts, four in the heavier weights.

There were two pins recorded in the match, one by each team. Joe Tiago, SJS, pinned Dale Cooley in 2:35 of the first round, in the 130 pound class. Jim Sease, OSC, evened the score in the next match, by pinning Jack Cassidy with 1:47 gone in the second round.

OSC won two matches on decisions. Gary McClain decided Joe Ross in the 123 pound class. Bill Tubbs garnered OSC's last win by deciding Pete Herder in the 145 pound class.

Other results:
157 pounds—Leslie, SJS, out-pointed Geister.
167 pounds—Thornley, SJS, decided Becker.
177 pounds—Francis, SJS, decided Harsey.
Heavyweight—Roebuck, SJS, decided Williams.

Ping-Pong Winners Decided in Play

Winners in five of the six leagues in the intramural table tennis tournament were determined in Wednesday's contests. The six leaders will be matched in final playoffs next week to decide the all-school team championship.

Saints, an independent team, bowled over Hawthorne hall, 21-18, 21-9, to win league A with three wins and no defeats. Campus club is leading B league with two wins after beating a good Jefferson hall team 21-18, 21-18. Jefferson bounced right back and snowed under Poling hall 21-10, 21-17.

Delta Tau Delta also ended up with a perfect score to take league C after beating Sigma Alpha Epsilon 21-4, 21-13.

The closest match of the day saw Phi Delta Theta sneak by Alpha Psi Omega, 21-14, 22-24, 21-14, and grab the D league title.

Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Phi Epsilon came through their leagues with 3-0 records to gain berths in the finals.

Tourney Wins Posted By Hawthorne, Saints

Hawthorne Manor and the Saints continued to roll over all opposition in league A action of the intramural table tennis tournament as Hawthorne squeezed by Hawley hall 21-17, 21-17 and the Saints trounced Weatherford hall 21-1, 21-6 in second round play to lead the league with two wins and no defeats.

Campus club leads the pack with two wins after defeating a good Jefferson hall team 21-18, 21-19 in the B league. Jefferson bounced right back, however, and toppled Poling hall 21-10, 21-17 in third round action yesterday.

In league C, Delta Tau Delta won its second straight with a 21-4, 21-3 runaway over Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Phi Kappa Psi won the league E

Three OSC Seniors To Play Last Game

Back Injury to Keep Tony on Bench; Edwards Scheduled for Center Duties

By WALT VOCKERT
Barometer Sports Editor

Three seniors will play their last game at Gill coliseum under Oregon State's colors tonight as the Beavers tangle with the University of Oregon in the third game of their four game series. Danny Johnston, Jim Sugrue, and Bob Edwards will finish their eligibility at the end of the season and this will end up their basketball playing days in Corvallis. Game time for the varsity tussle will be 8 p.m.

Saturday night the Orange shift to Eugene for the final encounter at McArthur court with the Ducks with the tilt starting at the same time.

Vlastelica Out of Game
From the loks of the Beaver camp, it is gloomier each day. Word from the coliseum indicates that Tony Vlastelica, big center from Aberdeen, is definitely out of the game. The tumble, which caused the injury, was not thought to be serious at the time, but took a turn for the worse in the Washington State series and caused the pivot man to sit out the second game. After x-rays were taken this week, results showed the injury would probably cause Vlastelica to be on the sidelines this weekend.

Possible lineup for the fighting Beavers will be Jim Sugrue and Tex Whiteman, forwards; Bob Edwards, center; and Ron Robins and Bill Toole, guards.

Just what the Orangemen will do against the resurgent Ducks who are firmly entrenched in second place, will not be revealed until game time tonight. Whether the Beavers will throw a running offense against the arch rivals, or play ball control in an attempt to stop the speedy attack of the Oregon squad can only wait until tonight to see.

To date the Beavers and the Ducks are even in northern division games at one each, but the Corvallis quintet won a pre-season thriller against the emerald and gold in Portland, to give the home forces a one game edge.

Coach Bill Borchert hasn't dis-crown by sweeping by Phi Kappa 21-6, 21-13 for their third win. Sigma Phi Epsilon got into the two-win column in league F by smothering Phi Sigma Kappa 21-15, 21-13.
